Unions Support Teacher Strike

MONTREAL, Jan. 15—(CP)—French-speaking Roman Catholic school teachers in Montreal today went ahead with plans for their strike Monday, backed up by support from the country's two major labor unions who announced their members would be urged to "keep their children at home."

In a joint statement Friday night the district representatives of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations said that "notwithstanding the fact the Teachers' Alliance is not affiliated with our unions, we are dutybound in principle to express our whole-hearted sympathy with the teachers . . . and we will accord them every support."

The strike, called to enforce demands for higher pay, will affect about 1,500 lay teachers who are members of the Alliance des Professeurs Catholiques de Montreal. A walkout will leave some 50,000 pupils without teachers. Another 50,000 whose teachers are members of religious orders will not be affected.

Cut Firemen's Pay To Pre-Raise Levels

KINGSTON, Jan. 15 —(CP)— When Kingston firemen received their first 1949 pay cheques Friday, they discovered that they were being paid the same salaries as they had before an arbitration board last June increased their pay by $600 for 1948.

Capt. H. Lillis, chairman of the Firemen's negotiating committee, said nothing in the board's award mentioned wages for 1949 but all the firemen expected the 1948 salary schedule would be continued.

City officials said the board award stated that the $600 increase was for 1948 only. They said a new wage contract for 1949 will be discussed next week.

OTTAWA — Top-level government officers saw little harm to Canadian trade in the five-year Anglo-Polish $1,000,000,000 trade pact signed in Warsaw. One agricultural economist said there was no indication that Communist-controlled countries by making trade pacts with Britain were actually taking over Canadian trade markets.

ISLE OF PINES, Cuba — The Cuban government sent 40 soldiers by plane to this tiny island, south of western Cuba, to aid in the search for two bank robbers who escaped from the model prison here. The pair were under sentences of 10 years each for the daylight holdup Aug. 11 of the Havana branch of the Royal Bank of Canada from which $576,727 was stolen.

WASHINGTON—The Egyptian ambassador, Kamil Abdul Rhimbey, described as "completely untrue" a report that Britain has released 6,000 German war prisoners to fight for Egypt against Israel. The report was given to the United Nations at Lake Success by Freda Kirchwey, president of the Nation Associates. She described it as a French intelligence document dated Dec. 8, 1948.

TOKYO — British Commonwealth forces have given up all their occupation territory except for one small district in southwestern Japan. That district embraces the prefecture of Hiroshima, in which the British authorities maintained headquarters at Kure, and Iwakuni, where they have an airfield. Iwakuni is 20 miles west of Kure.

LONDON—Britain and France have agreed to extend their "close co-operation" in European affairs to other parts of the world. The official statement on a two-day conference between British Foreign Secretary Bevin and France's Foreign Minister Robert Schuman revealed no concrete decisions. Their meetings were held in strict secrecy.

Crown To Appeal Light Sentence

TORONTO, Jan. 15 (CP)—Notice of appeal against an eight-day sentence on a charge of breaking and entering has been filed by the attorney-general's department against Harvey Cooper, of Brockville.

Cooper was charged with attempting to break into the Roxy Theatre, at nearby Brampton, last December. The eight-day term was imposed to allow Cooper his liberty before Christmas.

W. B. Common, director of criminal prosecutions, said the crown appeal asks for a reformatory sentence.

Barbara Ann's Pro Show Over

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—(CP)—Barbara Ann Scott's first professional engagement comes to an end Monday.

The pretty, 20-year-old world champion figure skater, making her debut as a professional entertainer, will have completed four weeks of personal appearances at the Roxy Theatre Monday night. Plans for the future, however, still are indefinite, she said in an interview.

"My agents, Music Corporation of America, still haven't told me what they have lined up for me next," she said. "As soon as they do, they'll have me sign the contracts and that'll be the first I'll know of it."

This last week Barbara Ann has only been called on to do three shows a day—one less than the theatre's normal routine and two less than the five-a-day grind of the holiday season. The shortened schedule is caused by late morning rehearsals on stage by the new show due to open next Tuesday.

"I don't like the idea of only three shows a day," she said. "I much prefer working four or five times. But everybody else in the theatre says I'll grow out of th soon enough."

The scheme, he said, will be administered by the Canadian Red Cross under a joint three-way co-operation plan including the provincial governments, the Red Cross Association and the hundreds of hospitals across Canada.

COUNTY FARM NOTES

By HARRY THEOBALD

Crop Improvement Association To Discuss Grassland Day Tuesday, Following the Noon Luncheon Of The Federation Of Agriculture . . . Farm Forum Groups Want Floor Prices.

Floor prices will be the main topic of discussion at the annual meeting of te Canadian Federation of Agriculture in Saskatoon during the week of Jan. 24. It will be introduced in an address by Dr. E. C. Hope, Federational economist.

This is the 10th convention of the national farm organization of which Herb H. Hannam has been president nine years. He succeeded J. H. Wesson, head of the Saskatchewan wheat pool, who was the first president at the organization of the Federation in the fall of 1935, remaining in office four years.

Delegates will be present from all provinces. Two public sessions will be held Jan. 25-26. The national farm radio forum program for that week will be broadcast from the convention Monday evening Jan. 24.

The national Federation has been gradually growing in the numbers and unity of its members, in their development of a sense of confidence among themselves and in their joint actions and in asserting their ideas and influence at home and abroad. Obviously it has been given energetic and prudent leadership in those years of seeding time and sprouting, and that leadership has been manifested and applied not only in the national board but also in its provincial sections. Its strength is finally based on its local branches and their membership. The farm men and women who have done the spade work in the local organizations may take to themselves much of the credit for their contribution to the soundness of their institution which in its vigor and in its place in the nation has been fulfilling the needs and hopes of farmers of the last fifty years.

At the recent meeting of the Ontario Federation Mr. Hannam said that international Commodity agreements were the answer to the problem of embarrassing surplus of food products in producing countries and disastrous shortage of food in others.

That, he said, was the unanimous report which an 18-nation commission brought back to the Food and Agriculture organization of the United Nations. The reports was endorsed by 57 nations, and the setting up of commodity agreements between the nations was now a main feature of FAO's program.

"The Canadian Federation of Agriculture has been on record in favor of such a program since it was organized 13 years ago," Mr. Hannam said. "The international Federation of Agriculture has endorsed the program unanimously at each of its annual conferences."

The Federation's support came through its advocacy of an international wheat agreement, as the first step in international commodity agreement, and for nearly 20 years the government of Canada has participated in efforts to achieve such an agreement. It suffered several discouraging setbacks in 1948, but Mr. Hannam said there was now some hope of going forward again at the third conference to be held in Washington Jan. 25.

Objectives of international commodity agreements were: orderly sharing of the international market; faciliating equitable distribution of food throughout the world; stabilizing prices in the interests of both producer and consumer, and, in so doing, eliminating unnecessary price fluctuations and often harmful manipulation of the market.

Referring to objections that are raised against an international food program, Mr. Hannam said there was today scarcely such a thing as open market; that most international trade was "state trading or state controlled trading".

Opposition by those who want to retain price fluctuations and speculation, said Mr. Hannam, was one of the best arguments for the need of international commodity agreement. Orderly sharing of a market could assure expanding production when the operations of a so-called free market would cause stagnation and compel producers to restrict production.

"Now is the time to try this program before a crisis arises. We look to the forthcoming wheat conference to translate five years of theorizing about a new kind of world program, based on international understanding, goodwill and co-operation, into effective action in respect to one commodity, as the first logical step towards implementing a program fundamental to the whole conception of the United Nations."

"IN TIME OF NEED"

Social security and the Canadian farmer is the general theme of the Farm Radio Forum broadcast Mon. Jan. 17. It will embrace such topics as family allowances, unemployment insurance, workmen's compensation, health insurance and old age pensions.

The Unemployment Insurance Act of 1941 does not apply to workers in agriculture, lumbering, forestry and fishing. The Forum Guide says: "For farmers the counterpart of unemployment insurance would be assurance of a steady market, floor prices and insurance against crop failure".

Workmen's Compensation is available to farm workers in Ontario if their employers apply for it.

According to available records and statistics there were 37,200 accidents on Canadian farms between June 1946 and June 1947. One-third of them caused layoffs of from one to three weeks, and 45% caused absences of from 3 to 10 weeks.

Some advocay of farm interest in workmen's compensation has been heard in the last year, especially in Federation of Agriculture circles, but it has not been generally adopted. Farmers are becoming widely interested in health insurance.

One of the questions relating to old age pensions is the means test which in many instances causes embarrassement and often prevents people from applying for old age pensions when they really need it, leaving them dependent on their families.

FLOOR PRICES

Recent rural opinion on both sides of the international border reflect the hope and desire of farmers for floor prices. This measure of protection has been advocated by the three strongest farm organizations in the United States who are expecting some form of sympathetic actions from President Truman.

Sentiment of Ontario farmers on this economic expedient was indicated in many of the Forum group comments on the broadcast: "A cushion for disaster".

Melancthon No. 1, Dufferin, wrote in their summary to headquarters: "If prices were sabilized and a floor price established, farmers could carry their own risk." German School in Brant: "Our forum is of the opinion that drastic changes in prices for farm produce bring on greater hardship to the farmer. Floor prices would be a great help."

Some of the groups, including O. A. C. short course forum, "that market fluctuations cause national disaster and should be guarded against more fervently than was done prior to the "hungry thirties."

The reference to the grim thirties recalls those lean and weary years when many farmers were forced to keep themselves on the money they should have been spending on the necessary improvement of their land, their livestock, their buildings and machinery.

That experience has shaped the pattern of rural economic thinking down to the present.

Attitudes in that time of deprivation were formed and set. They have been shuffled into the background through the few years of comparative improvement, but they are still there in rural thought.

Consumer demands for cheap food and every new attack on prices of farm products and on farm income, linked with the high level of farm wages, cost of implements, feeds and the other requisites of production, soon reach through to those attitudes and convictions. From those experiences of the thirties comes the hope for floor prices.

Floor prices broadly contemplate sufficient returns to maintain the physical assets of agriculture, plus a reasonable revenue of farm investment and work.

Fertility of the land, efficient machinery, an ample resource of well fed livestock, buildings house herds and flocks and forage, those are the essential assets. They are the equipment with which the farmer does his job, and that job is the production of nutritious food,—not just cheap food.

FEDERATION LUNCHEON

The dinner meeting of the Federation of Agriculture Tuesday Jan. 18 at noon at the Empress is the second of the winter series planned by the directors. Mr. G. L. Woodruff of the Normal School will be the speaker. His several local engagements during the last year or so highly recommended him.

Peterborough county council begin their January sessions Tuesday, and the Crop Improvement. Association is holding its annual meeting at the office of F. C. Paterson, after the dinner. Members of both are expected to attend the Federation luncheon.

GRASSLAND DAY

Peterborough farmers are being reminded that the Grassland Day for Central Ontario has been allotted to Peterborough county this year.

W. W. Dawson, president of the crop improvement association, is stressing the potential importance of this project. The grassland day at Woodstock last summer was a big success. Three of them are being held regionally this year, in western, central and eastern Ontario, and Peterborough drew the location for the group of counties in this area.

"The groundwork should be started at our meeting Tuesday afternoon," Mr. Dawson said yesterday, "and for that reason I am hoping for a large attendance. We would like to see a good turnout of our farmers who are interested in new pasture programs and all that is implied in the Grassland Day. They could come for the luncheon and stay for the Crop Improvement meeting. This is not something for our own executive. We need the support of our farmers as a whole, and we should make an early start."

A HUSBAND'S TRIBUTE

A farmer's appreciation of his wife's help was publicly and gracefully expressed by Arthur Budarick, winner of the nominal title of World Potato King at the Royal Winter Fair, at the dinner in his honor at Renfrew this week.

Winner of a gold watch, he requested that it be of woman's size and design because he wished to give it to his wife.

"Without my wife I don't think I would have won the award," Mr. Budarick said. It was given by the American Potash Institute, "and when he received it, he handed it to his smiling wife." The presentation was made by E. K. Hampson, Canadian manager of the Potash Institute and J. A. Northey, president of the Royal Winter Fair.

F. Q. Dench, agricultural representative, congratulated Renfrew farmers on their achievement at the Royal last November. They captured four championships, three reserve championships, eight firsts, three seconds, four thirds and 27 other prizes in exhibits ranging from potatoes to soy beans.

BUTTER QUALITY HIGH

The quality of Ontario butter last year was the best on record, the dairy branch of the Ontraio Department of Agriculture, reports.

Creamery instructors in the Kingston - Brancroft - Cobourg group have found creamery operators concerned about their position now that manufacture and sale of butter substitutes has been made legal.

"This is particularly true of those with storage stocks of creamery and whey butter. They are attempting to unload their whey butter stocks as quickly as possible, as they feel that the demand for this type of butter may not be so great. Production in December has been running ahead of last year.

In the Peterborough-Toronto-Sutton district production of creamery butter is reported lower than for many years. Some creameries have a limited supply of butter which is now being used for the print trade. There is a good supply of feed, but demand for fluid milk is a constant drain on cream for buttermaking. Many of the best cows in this area are also being sold outside the province.

Brampton- Orangeville- Kitchener area reports production holding its own with last year at this time. Buter is in short supply and in some plants is being rationed at one pound per customer. This is partly due to the cleo scare, the report says.

RIOTS BREAK OUT AT MONTREAL SCHOOLS

A MASS CIVILIAN-MILITARY VARMINT HUNT, possibly the first of its kind ever staged in the Dominion, was held Saturday in Otonabee-Douro townships. One hundred and fifty members of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association under President Campbell Rowatt and A and T officer, Capt. Phil Sargent, 50 HAA Regiment, Prince of Wales Rangers, combed the area with military precision and planning. After the shooting was over the bag was six red foxes, two brush wolves and one wounded wolf which escaped. Shown above at the nerve centre of the hunt atop a mobile truck are, Left to Right, N. H. Bradley and Mr. Rowatt, vice-president and president, respectively of the Peterborough FGPA; Sgt. J. Brown with walkie-talkie, and Capt. Sargent, both of 50th HAA Regiment, Prince of Wales Rangers. Report 1,700 Teachers In Walkout

Duplessis Warns Strike Illegal; Set Poor Example

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—(CP).—Disturbances among students broke out at half a dozen strike-bound Roman Catholic schools in Montreal today as English and French-speaking teachers embarked on the first teachers' strike in the city's history.

As the 1,700-odd teachers attended a strike meeting instead of turning up for classes, police were called to one school where one group of students fought with another group who tried to prevent them from entering the building.

Meanwhile, at a meeting in Public Alliance Hall, spokesmen for the French-speaking Alliance des Professors Catholic and the English-speaking Federation of Catholic Teachers, claimed the strike was 90 per cent effective.

70,000 Pupils Affected

More than 70,000 pupils were affected by the strike which the teachers called to enforce demands for wage increases. With basic salaries for women at $1,000, the teachers are seeking minimums of $1,300 for women and $1,700 for men.

It was estimated that 25 Catholic schools were closed tight while others were affected to some degree. Principals were not affected by the strike and about 50,000 pupils were under members of religious orders, who also were not affected.

Even in the religious schools, however, attendance was down from normal days.

Go To Meeting

The teachers were to turn up for classes at 8.45 a.m. but instead assembled at a meeting addressed by Leo Guindon, Alliance president.

"Things are not so bad," he told them, "many were surprised this morning as they were convinced the teachers would as usual be patient and wait for another offer. Many were convinced the Roman Catholic teachers were too timid, too afraid to strike."

There were turbulent scenes in front of several schools.

Police were called first to Breboeuf school at Rosemount in the northeast section of the city where students parading with banners pledging suport for the teachers got out of hand.

Calls were received from half a dozen other schools in rapid succession as students demonstrated.

Lock Doors

Probably the biggest demonstration occurred in front of the Montreal Roman Catholic School Commission offices where high-school students paraded with placards. Eugene Simard, Commission chairman, locked the office doors but no attempt was made to enter the building and the students dispersed.

There were conflicting reports about pickets. Mr. Guindon said

Peiping Sends Delegation To Ask Peace

PEIPING, Jan. 17 —(AP)—A delegation of prominent Chinese prepared to leave this besieged ancient capital today to talk peace with the Communists. This may be the climax of the civil war in North China.

The delegation's mission to Communist lines—with transportation provided by the government's North China commander—was marred by Communist shellfire, however.

Two shells struck the home of former Mayor Ho Sze-Yuan, who was to have been a member of the 11-member peace delegation. One of his two daughters was killed. Ho was sent to hospital for shock treatment.

The delegation's move, with Gen. Futso-Yi providing vehicles and escort to the Nationalist perimeter, indicated that the Communists have set a deadline for Peiping's surrender.

There is no reason to believe that the Communists will be satisfied with anything short of unconditional surrender of Peiping, the largest city in North China remaining in Nationalist hands.

Hopeless Effort

NANKING, Jan 17 — (AP).—The Chinese Government to-day massed about 150,000 troops on a 300-mile front in what neutral military observers describe as a hopeless effort to defend Nanking.

Communist armies with a total strength of more than 300,000 troops already are poised north of the Hwai River, 105 miles to the north-west, for a descent to the Yangtze River valley.

The Government's final abandonment of Pengpu and evacuation of towns on Pengpu's flanks have yielded to the Communists' necessary river crossing areas. Pengpu, anchor of the erstwhile Hwai River defence line, has been outflanked by the Communists for a month.

20 U.S. Servicemen Killed As Superfort Crashes In Scottish Mountains

Plane Crashes In Dense Mist 3,000 Ft. Up
Rescue Party Finds Only Pile Of Burned-Out Metal In Glen

LOCH GOILHEAD, Argyllshire, Scotland, Jan. 17—(CP).—Twenty United States servicemen were killed, police said, when a United States Superfortress crashed in dense mist 3,000 feet up a lonely mountainside near here. There were no survivors. "The moment the alarm was given, a rescue party set out," police said. "They came across the tangled wreckage in Succoch Glen, between the mountains around the districts of Loch Goilhead and Strachur.

"There was just a pile of burned-out metal in the glen.

"Nothing remained to be done except to search for bodies."

Fortress carrying 20 American airmen home to the States crashed in desolate Succoth Glen today, killing at least six of those aboard.

The plane was en route from Britain to Iceland. It was carrying 17 crew members and nine ground crew on their way back to the United States.

In London, United States Third Air Division headquarters, which controls 90 Superfortresses based in England, confirmed the identity of the crashed ship.

Conflicting Reports

Earlier reports on the casualties conflicted. Two members of a rescue party said no survivors were found but another said some injured were being brought down from the uninhabited hills.

The Press Association said the bodies of six American fliers were found beside the twisted and burned wreckage of the plane between 3,000-foot peaks.

Hugh Campbell, who accompanied a rescue party, said "mutilated bodies were strewn among the wreckage on the hillside, and we searched about to see if there were any survivors, but found none."

Campbell told Press Association the wreckage still was burning when he and two others reached the scene.

Belgium Seeks Deportation Of War Hero

TORONTO, Jan. 17 (CP) — The Evening Telegram reported today in a copyright story that the Belgian government is seeking the extradition of a tobacco farm worker from Strafford-ville, 25 miles east of St. Thomas, to face a charge of murder.

The paper said a secret hearing in the case was held in Toronto last Thursday and proceedings were adjourned to Thursday, Jan. 20.

The accused is Arthur Matthys, 28, said to have been arrested on orders from authorities at Ottawa, he is held in jail pending the hearing. He is wanted in Belgium to stand trial on a charge of murder in the slaying of Armand Devos in September, 1944.

The Telegram says that Belgian authorities charge that Matthys was a member of a group who killed Devos in the town of Halltert, Brussels. It said Matthys maintains his innocence and says he never met Devos whom he claims to have been a German spy.

V. H. Tillson, Matthys' counsel, is opposing the deportation order on the grounds that the case is of a political nature and that a person cannot be extradited for a political offence.

Mrs. Matthys, pretty brunette wife of the accused man, said her husband was an underground hero during the war and that the Nazis had offered 50,000 marks for his capture. He was captured once but escaped.

Matthys was arrested last Thursday by RCMP on the tobacco farm of Odiel Veryser and is being held on a provisional warrant. Veryser said he and his neighbors intend to fight for Matthys' release.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthys and their daughter, Illona, now four, came to Canada in 1947. They have lived in the Straffordville district ever since.

Tweed Couple Save 4 Children As House Burns

TWEED, Jan. 17 (CP)—Awakened by the crackling of flames in their frame dwelling Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Scott of Tweed, with their four small children, were forced to flee in their night clothes at 5.30 a.m. Saturday in below zero temperatures.

The house was completely destroyed by the fire which is presumed to have started from an overheated stove, while all household contents and clothing owned by the family were also destroyed.

With the temperature well below zero Mrs. Scott is reported to have got up about 4.30 to replenish the fire so the house would be warm when the children got up. She went back to bed and awoke an hour later to find the house afire.

Groping their way upstairs through the dense smoke to where their children were sleeping, Mr. and Mrs. Scott were successful in getting them to safety. In doing so they both suffered burns about the hands and faces. Members of the family were sheltered at a neighbor's house.

The Tweed fire department answered the alarm and there was no chance to save the Scott dwelling. The firemen prevented the flames from spreading to a nearby house. Owner of the burned house is Ezra Emigh.

Can Find No Traces Of U.S. Bank Robbers

TORONTO, Jan. 17 — (CP).—After almost two days of concentration on the Southern Ontario highways, Provincial Police headquarters officials said to-day officers had not sighted four United States bank robbers who were believed to have entered Canada Saturday.

Police said there had been rumors that the quartette—including a notorious American gunman—crossed the border at Niagara Falls and that their automobile had been seen in Canada. There was no confirmation of such rumors, but police kept a close watch on the highways and bank managers were warned.

One alarm received by police was that the group were "about ready" to "crack" a bank in the Brockville area. Police in the London area were also on the alert when it was reported that the bandits, dressed in army uniforms, might be in that district.

Wounded Wolf Fights Back In First Mammoth Fox Hunt

Two brush wolves and six foxes in Douro township won't harass farmers' flocks any more. They were killed Saturday in a mammoth fox hunt organized by the Peterborough Fish and Game Association, with 125 sportsmen, and 25 members of the 50th Heavy AA Regiment (RCA) Prince of Wales Rangers taking part.

Organized as a military operation, the hunt was a complete success, and one unusual feature of the undertaking was that 150 men hunted in a small area and not one accident took place. The event was staged between the fourth and sixth lines in Otonabee and Douro townships with the CPR tracks as the southern starting point, and the Warsaw road, the finish line. The area was swept from south to north in three separate drives.

One of the hunters, Murray Thomas, along with a colleague, learned that a wounded brush wolf is a dangerous animal. Thomas wounded the wolf first, then his companion got in a telling shot. With that, the wolf, a 60-pound male, spun on its haunches, bared its teeth and started toward Thomas. The latter coolly dropped to one knee and finished off the wolf with a charge of No. 4 shot in the face and head.

These wolves were shot within seven miles of the city and two others escaped. One was wounded by Ed Grose, but the hunters were slow in throwing a cordon around the swamp and the animal escaped. One other wolf whipped through the line of flankers, within 50 feet of two hunters. One marksman was so excited he didn't even raise his gun and the other pumped four shots at the animal but missed. It is estimated, although reports are contradictory, that four foxes scurried through the ring of hunters and escaped.

Allies Establish Security Police

BERLIN, Jan. 17. — (AP). — Creation of a permanent police force to see that Germany remains disnarmed was announced today by Great Britain, the United States and France.

The tri-power force, called a military security board, is designed to take over the demilitarization functions of the inoperative Allied Control Council, which the Russian wrecked by withdrawal.

It comprises inspectors and enforcement boards which will see to it that Germany does not rearm in the military, industrial or scientific fields.

The board's creation was ordered by the six-country London conference and its details worked out by the three military governors. The six countries are: Britain, the United States, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Bandits Flee After Alarm At Orono Bank

ORONO, Jan. 17 (CP)—Would-be robbers who broke into the branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in this Durham County village, about 50 miles northeast of Toronto, fled from the scene early Sunday when they accidentally cut a burglar alarm wire with an acetylene torch. They also left a stolen automobile.

The burglar alarm touched off a siren on the outside of the building which awakened this entire village, 12 miles northeast of Bowmanville, at 4.10 a.m.

The bandits are believed to have made their getaway in a truck stolen from the farm of Everett Cain, about two miles north of Orono. The abandoned truck was found at noon in Oshawa.

William Stainton, the caretaker, was asleep in his house, just behind the bank. When he heard the alarm he noticed a 1948 Buick sedan, bearing a British Columbia license, parked near by. He notified John Blue, the manager, and the police, but by the time any one got to the bank the bandits had fled.

Provincial Constable Russell Pollard, stationed in Orono, immediately alerted all provincial cruisers throughout the area.

Gaining entrance through a coal chute at the rear of the building, which was unoccupied at the time, the bandits left in such haste that one of them dropped a peaked cap and a lighted flashlight in the coal pile.

The OPP immediately established road blocks on all surrounding roads. The sedan abandoned on a side street behind the bank, was stolen during the night from the Mills Motor Sales Co. in Oshawa, as were the acetylene torches. The torches were found in a hedge near the building.

Reds, Poland Agree Boost Trade Third

MOSCOW, Jan. 17 — (AP) — Russia and Poland have agreed to increase their already heavy trade by more than one-third.

A communique published in the Soviet press today said the two countries have decided to boost by 35 per cent this year trade under the five-year $1,000,000,000 trade pact signed last January.

The new agreement would raise this year's trade between Russia and Poland to about $260,000,000.

Pleads Guilty In Treason Case

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 —(AP)—Martin Monti, a 27-year-old former United States air force lieutenant, today pleaded guilty to treason charges and was sentenced to 25 years imprisonment. Monti also was fined $10,000. He could have been sentenced to death on the charges.

The Florissant, Mo., resident was indicted last Oct. 14 on charges he gave himself and his plane up to the Germans in Italy between Oct. 13, 1944 and May 8, 1946 after going A.W.L. in Karachi, India.

The indictment alleged Monti volunteered his services to the Germans, was released as a prisoner of war and broadcast for the Nazis from Berlin as Martin Weithaupt. Subsequently, the indictment charges, Monti became an officer of the S.S. (Elite Guard).

After the Nazi capitulation, it was charged, Monti made his way to Italy and joined the United States Fifth Army.

Mild Weather Clears Ice From Highways

TORONTO, Jan. 17 (CP)—Mild weather Sunday melted ice and snow left on highways by Saturday's sleet storm. But water remained on the roads in many sections and highway department men said an expected temperature drop overnight might result in more ice.

The temperature Sunday reached 55 degrees at Windsor, 52 in Toronto, 51 in London.

Provincial police said most motorists apparently heeded warnings late Saturday to stay off icy highways.

The Owen Sound district reports its worst storm "in years." Traffic between Owen Sound and London was paralyzed and the highway department reported every road in the Stratford area "like a skating rink."

By Sunday night, however, conditions in the Stratford area had improved so much that roads were said to be in "perfect" shape.

Rita Hayworth To Wed Aly Khan

CANNES, France, Jan. 17—(AP)—Rita Hayworth and Aly Khan announced today they will be married as soon as he is divorced from his present wife.

The Aly Khan received newspaper men at his chateau near here and handed them typewritten statements from himself and Miss Hayworth.

He said "I am going to marry Miss Hayworth as soon as I am free to do so."

Miss Hayworth declared she is "in full agreement" with the statement made by the son of the fabulously wealthy Aga Khan.

Million Dollar Fire Razes Church, Hotel, 6 Buildings

COATICOOK, Que., Jan. 17—(CP)—Damage was estimated at from $750,000 to $1,000,000 in a fire that destroyed five stores, a hotel, a Roman Catholic church and a private residence in this eastern township town of 5,000.

Starting at 8 a.m. Sunday, the blaze gutted eight buildings before being brought under control later in the day. There was no loss of life.

Firemen from Magog and Sherbrooke, 30 and 20 miles away helped fight the fire which started in the hotel and spread to the Regent variety store on one side of the hotel and to two hardware stores, a pharmacy and restaurant on the other. There were tenants above all the stores.

Fanned by a stiff breeze, the flames swept to the St. John the Evangelist Roman Catholic church on a hill behind the burning block. The church and a two-family house beside it were a complete loss.

Some 800 parishioners were attending mass when the church, a brick and stone structure built in 1914 caught fire, one hour after the hotel burst into flames. The parishioners promply evacuated the building after being told by the parish priest, Rev. J. H. Lemay that it was on fire.

The hotel owner, Charles Garceau, said the blaze apparently originated in the tavern. Other reports said the blaze began in a mattress in one of the rooms.

Told Thames Radio-Active Londoners Remain Calm

LONDON, Jan. 17—(Reuters)—Londoners turned on their water faucets during the week-end and watched the gushing water with and experimental and somewhat uneasy eye.

Just what they expected to see was by no means as crystal clear as the water itself, but, in the minds of the more sensitive, horrible visions of Hiroshina and Nagasaki loomed.

On the whole the City, which stayed calm through wartime bombing, admirably maintained its reputation for coolness in the face of a rather frightening announcement that radio-active waste was being discharged into the Thames from the government atomic research station at Harwell.

Atom scientists had stressed there was no danger to be feared from radio-activity in the river. Just why it is safe is a bit too technical for most laymen. But since the atom-age man either trusts his scientists or accepts them fatalistically there was no panic.

One atomic expert said:

"Nobody need worry. Unless a gross blunder is made, which is highly improbable, the Thames water is not dangerous, either for drinking or for swimming."

If there was a serious overdose of radio-active matter dumped into the Thames, he added, drinking a cupful of river water would have drastic effects.

But, he commented, "We can dismiss this possibility."

Lone Gunman Takes $1,500 From Bank

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—(CP).—A lone gunman, who scorned small bills and demanded "the big stuff,' escaped with $1,500 in cash from a busy uptown branch of the Royal Bank of Canada today.

Teller M. G. Craig said the bandit thrust a gun through the wicked and said "make it snappy, I mean business."

Craig tried to stall by passing him small bills but the holdup man threatened him again and told him, "cut out the fooling. Give me the big stuff—the 50's and 100's."

Bloody Zulu Race Rioting Continues To Spread Durban Now Under Control

Latest Flareup Reported In Johannesburg Troops, Police Standing By; 25,000 Indians Have Fled From Homes

DURBAN, South Africa, Jan. 17—(AP). — South Africa's bloody racial warfare today showed signs of spreading even as Government leaders set up machinery to control the wild Zulu-Indian rioting. The air still rang with shots in Durban where police fired on native looters last night but police said later the murderous feud was under control here.

More than 100 persons were reported killed here in the street fighting that began last Thursday after a native boy was injured in a fight with an Indian peddler.

The ugly warfare has spread to other towns and rural areas, however, and 25,000 Indians have fled from their homes.

The latest flareup was reported in Johannesburg, largest city in South Africa, 310 miles northwest of Durban.

Troops Stand By

Troops and police stood by to quell any violence after a bomb was hurled from a passing car at an Indian shop. Windows were smashed, but no one was hurt.

An emergency meeting of high officials took place in Durban. It was attended by Mayor L. L. Boyd, Justice Minister C. R. Swart and Defence Minister F. C. Erasmus.

Boyd assured citizens after the meeting that reinforcements of 2,000 troops would remain as long as necessary to restore order. They have been given wide powers.

Stories of the rape and mutilation of Indian women by frenzied mobs chanting ancient Zulu battle cries have spread widely. Murder, arson and looting also have been included in the wild orgy.

Ignore Zulu King

Zulu King Cyprian called on his people to stop the killing and return to their homes.

But his words went unheeded in many parts of Natal, the province in which Zululand is situated.

Troops fired on natives with machine-guns in New Germany, 17 miles from here yesterday, killing four.

Europeans barricaded themselves in their homes and hotels in Pinesville, also 17 miles away, when the Zulus went on the rampage.

The fighting between Indians and Zulus spread to Pietermaritzburg, Natal's capital.

These riots, the worst in South Africa's history, mark the first time Indians and Zulus have been pitted against each other in an orgy of killing.

Economic dissatisfaction has been blamed for the native unrest. The main foodstuffs of the natives have been scarce and they have claimed Indian merchants were gouging and forcing tie-in deals on them.

The natives say they are forced to buy goods they don't want at triple prices in order to get necessities.

50 Cars Pile Up On Aurora Hill

AURORA, Jan 17.—More than 50 cars, one of them rushing a child with pneumonia to Newmarket Hospital, piled up along the ice-covered 4th concession highway east of here Saturday in a freak accident that came within an ace of tragedy.

The chain-reaction multiple smash occurred at the foot of a steep hill just south of Vandorf. It started when the brakes on a car driven by Charles Turner, 332 O'Connor Dr., Toronto, failed to hold on the ice going down the hill. His car slid partly off the road and was stopped by a bank of snow.

Moments later, a second auto driven by Ronald Craymer, 190 St. George St., Toronto, came over the crest of the hill, skidded crazily and slid into the rear of the Turner car. That started it. The damage toll mounted as other cars skimmed over the top of the hill in procession, their drivers seeing too late the crash ahead.

Car passengers, some stranded for four hours, and several drivers narrowly escaped serious injury in the succession of smashes. Some jumped clear seconds before the collision.

The auto carrying the pneumonia patient to hospital was freed after being in the jam three hours. The child was admitted apparently none the worse for the experience.

A 1949 model sedan was almost a complete wreck after it was struck by four different vehicles When the fourth car hit, tearing away a shiny fender, the owner standing at the roadside, threw up his hands in disgust.

"Let 'em all come," he cracked. "The more the merrier." Another hit a moment later.

The trial was postponed last November because Foster, 67, was suffering a heart ailment.

was in that section. Counting the two that were shot, the two that escaped, and one other wolf that was shot, a mile east of the area Saturday afternoon by Eldon Kimball, Lansdowne St., the pack is accounted for, only one escaping unhurt.

The wolf that escaped was hiding in a log building on a farm just north of the tracks, and 20 of the hunters passed the building without thinking to look into it. When they had passed the wolf slipped out and raced to the south. One hunter saw it and shot, but missed.

The hunters met at the C.N.R. freight sheds in the city at 7 Saturday morning. After receiving instructions from Capt. Phil Sargent, A and T officer of the regiment, the convoy of about 40 vehicles proceeded east, travelling at 30 miles an hour. At the 6th line and highway 7 intersection, watches were checked, and times arranged, and the parties set out for the starting point. At a specified time, when the flankers and sharpshooters at the top of the boxed area were in position, everything was checked by wireless and walkie-talkie. Then the wave of men moved forward, barking like dogs.

In the first sector only the three wolves were flushed, two being killed and no foxes seen. That carried the hunters to the boundary between Otonabee and Douro. Here they reformed and headed north in the second hunt. This was ideal fox country and it was in this area that five foxes were killed. This hunt ended at the road leading from the Warsaw road to Douro church and the men stopped for coffee. After taking positions again, they swept are area to the Warsaw road, an irregular shaped sector. One fox and one wounded wolf was the count.

Kept Informed

Capt. Phil Sargent, Norman Bradley, and Campbell Rowatt were at a command post on the left flank, and one walkie-talkie was with the beaters. The other walkie-talkie was on the east flank and a wireless set at the finish line. By means of these instruments hunters were kept informed on the location of the foxes and wolves.

When an animal was spotted on the east flank, the walkie-talkie operator flashed the news to the command post telling the direction taken. Two soldiers in a jeep carried the word along the west flank and hollered the message to the man on the extreme west end of the beater's line. He passed the word along as the hunter's were not more than 50 feet apart going through the woods. At the same time, those at the top of the box were warned if anything was heading their way.

It was a perfect set-up, and the only flaws in the arrangement were caused by flankers who did not stay in position but who moved into the area ahead of the beaters. Two hunters broke rules and shot rabbits. It was decided that hunters who violate these rules in future will be fined two dollars for each rabbit during an organized fox hunt. Anyone not wishing to abide by this will be invited to leave, escorted by the game overseer.

The presence of at least ten foxes and four wolves in an area, about three quarters of a mile wide, and less than two miles in depth is ample evidence that the predators are too numerous for the comfort of the farmers. It is likely that more such hunts will be held in the near future.

The hunters had strict instructions to respect farm property and not damage fences, and about 40 veteran deer hunters who took part in the hunt saw that these were obeyed. It was agreed that the presence of so many experienced hunters was probably the main reason, the event was carried on so successfully.

Father Charges Underage Son Was Served Beer

Evidence in the first case in the city of a hotel beverage room employee knowingly selling liquor to a minor was heard in police court today. Gordon Scott, cashier at the McGillis Hotel, is charged with selling beer to 20-year-old Alvin Murduff on the night of Nov. 3, 1948. Pleading not guilty to the charge, he is represented by W. B. Gordon. Magistrate Philp, KC, reserved his judgment in the case to Jan. 24.

James Murduff, 211 Prince St., father of the youth named in the charge, testified that he had gone to the McGillis and other hotels of the city in July of last year. He said he told Scott that his son Alvin was under age and warned him not to sell him beer.

He admitted that he had difficulty in making his son obey him in this regard.

"When he's married, I can't tell him where to go and where not to go," the witness said.

Alvin Murduff testified that on the night mentioned in the charge he entered the McGillis beverage room, ordered and received a pint of beer. While drinking this, he said that Scott approached him, told him he was under age, to finish his beer and leave.

After this, he said, a waiter put another pint of beer in front of him—a pint he had not ordered, he said. As he was pouring this into the glass, he said the PC Claire McGillen of the city police arrived and took him to the police station. He said that Scott watched him being served the second bottle.

At the police station, he said PC McGillen warned him to stay out of beverage rooms and that he had left "to go home." Later the same night, the police again picked him up in another beverage room and arrested him for consuming while under age. He was convicted on that count.

The witness admitted that he had disobeyed his father's orders to stay away from beverage rooms and that he still got beer at points in the city.

To Mr. Gordon, he said that he had told Scott at the time that he was 22 years old.

PC McGillen testified that the call to pick up young Murduff had come from Donald McGillis, owner of the hotel, who had complained about underage youth being in the beverage room.

In his own evidence, the accused said that he had approached Murduff as soon as he was advised that the youth was drinking in the room and told him to leave When he noticed him still sitting there a few minutes later, he said he phoned McGillis who summoned the police.

In his argument, Mr. Gordon commented that Mr. McGillis was "particularly noted for having underage drinkers removed from the beverage rooms." He contended that the accused had taken every reasonable step to have the youth taken away and that Murduff had not been served "knowingly" to the accused. The second pint of beer, not ordered by Murduff, had probably been intended for someone else at the table.

Hit Bad Weather

The civil aviation ministry said the missing B-29 left Scampton, Lincolnshire—one of the RAF bases assigned the superforts—this morning, in company with another superfort en route to Reykjavik, Iceland.

"Bad weather developed," a ministry spokesman said, "and one of the superfortresses returned to the Scampton base."

"At 1000 (10 a.m.) hours GMT admiralty watcher stationed at Loch Goilhead in Scotland (near the area where the superfort is reported to have crashed) reported that at 0940 (9:40 a.m. hours he had heard overhead a plane and then he heard an explosion.

"Royal Air Force search and rescue teams went to the area immediately."

The ministry said radio communication with the missing plane ceased at 9:40 a.m.

Warned To Return

The commission chairman warned demonstrating high-school students to return to their class rooms wherever teachers were on duty or he would close the high schools.

"The commission is not compelled to educate high-school students," he said.

Art Glashan, a member of the strike executive of the English-speaking Federation of Catholic Teachers, said 333 of the 351 teachers in his organization had joined the walkout.

Members of the Montreal Catholic School Commission could not be reached immediately for comment but a quick check indicated that few children turned up for classes.

The walkout did not affect another 50,000 pupils under teachers who are members of religious orders.

Members of the Alliance Des Professeurs Catholiques de Montreal last night re-affirmed their previous decision to strike and were joined by about 250 English-speaking teachers.

The French-speaking teachers turned down a motion which would have postponed wage negotiations for another month. The motion was defeated in a secret ballot after a six-hour discussion.

Priests in some churches yesterday morning told parishioners to send their children to school regardless of the decision. The Montreal Catholic School Commission has stated it will try to fill in the teaching staffs with replacements.

Prohibited By Law

QUEBEC, Jan. 17 — (CP). — Premier Duplessis said to-day teachers' strikes in Quebec Province are prohibited by law, and his government will not fail to "assure respect of law and authority."

The Union Nationale Government Leader made the statement to newspaper men in connection with the strike of the Catholic teachers in Montreal.

Premier Duplessis said the principal victims of a teachers' strike are school children who "have the right to benefit from good example."

He said he felt the majority of Montreal teachers would want to continue to respect the law rather than carry out an "act of sabotage particularly grave and serious."

Premier Duplessis took issue with a reported statement by Michael Collins, president of the Federation of English-speaking Catholic teachers which is supporting striking French-speaking colleagues, that strikes are not morally wrong.

The Premier described the reported statement as "exceedingly regrettable."

"A law passed by the Legislature of the province several years ago and conforming with its rights and powers, forbids male and female teachers to go on strike," said Premier Duplessis.

"It is a law not only obligatory for everyone but conforming with natural law. Educators, due to the nature of their functions, must not only abide by the law, but they cannot decently give to their puppils a bad example in contempt of laws and of constituted authority."

BuncheLaunches Peace Offensive In Middle East

RHODES, Jan. 17 (AP) — A United Nations spokesman says Dr. Ralph Bunche has launched a general peace offensive in the Middle East.

The spokesman for the Acting UN mediator added, however, that other Arab states will not be invited to take part in talks now progressing here between Israelis and Egyptians.

Dr. Walter Eytan, head of the Israeli delegation, said in an interview today that Israel wants an armistice throughout the Middle East, but does not want any other Arab states to join in the Rhodes talks.

(A reliable source in Tel Aviv said Israel, which has been discussing Armistice talks with Lebanon, as well as Egypt, now has begun similar talks with Trans-Jordan.)

The UN spokesman said last night the Israelis and Egyptians reached an agreement on one of the most controversial points in their current armistice negotiations.

He said a full meeting with both the Israel and Egyptian delegations present would not be called until agreement is reached on these issues.

Commenting on the peace offensive, the UN spkesman said Constantine Stavropolous, legal adviser to Bunche had been sent as a special emissary to Beyrouth, Damascus and Amman to follow up the mediator's armistice overtures of last December. He returned to Rhodes last night.

Students Learn How To Use Village Library

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 17—(ENS)—Special library facilities extended to high school students during the past year enabled many young people to read more than had been possible before. Mrs. J. W. Redpath, Librarian, reported at the annual meeting of the Library Board on Friday. High school children travelling to school by bus had previously been unable to attend the library on Tuesday afternoons but under the new arrangment, the library was also open on Thursdays.

From the public school, Principal E. Sloan's and Mrs. M. Martin's classes had been shown how to select books. Books had been donated to the library by the I.O.D.E., Mrs. Hubert Eisdell, Miss Derry Moher, Col. A. T. Lefavre and Ron Kingdon.

Mr. Graff and his staff of the Peterborough library had taken an interest in the village library and sent current copies of Biography and The Book Review Digest.

To create more interest in the library, letters were sent to three local community organizations asking for donations which would entitle the donors to the same privileges as village members. They would also be invited to suggest books they would like the library to stock.

Two boxes of books had been received from the Travelling Library of the Department of Education. There had been 307 books added to the library during the year.

At present there were 340 readers, 120 adults, and 220 boys and girls. During the year 154 new members joined.

Total circulation for the year was 8246 books of which 4243 were read by boys and girls and 4003 by adults.

The financial report was as follows:

Winnipeg Stops Land Racket

WINNIPEG, Jan. 17 (CP)—A racket in the buying and selling of city-owned property has been thwarted, it was reported today.

City council's finance committee set up an effective block to the operation by ordering stoppage of any further sales of city-owned properties. This move followed charges by Ald. C. E. Simonite that the city had suffered a loss of thousands of dollars which had been funnelled into the pockets of "unscrupulous buyers."

Finance committee also has instructed the property sub-committee to increase property prices so that they stand at 100 per cent of their assessment value. The "landlegging" had been engaged in by operators who took advantage, Ald. Simonite claimed, of a policy instituted in 1939 where land could be bought at lower than the assessed price.

2 Men Save Lives Of Invalid, Wife

TORONTO, Jan. 17 (CP)—An off-duty fireman and a young neighbor saved the lives of Dan Parker, 74-year-old invalid, and Parker's wife, trapped in a room early Sunday by flames which swept through their home.

Fire dispatcher Jim Porter and Bob Fallis climbed a homemade ladder to the Parkers' bedroom and carried them onto a balcony outside their window. Firemen, who arrived shortly afterwards with regular fire ladders, assisted the couple to the street.

The fire, blamed on an overheated furnace, caused damage estimated at $1,700.

Campbellford Car Used By Robbers

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 17. — (ENS). — Chief Constable G. H. Hardy received a call at 5.45 Sunday morning from E. B. McNeill, district inspector of Ontario Provincial Police, Peterborough, regarding a Buick car, carrying British Columbia markers, which had been used in an attempted bank robbery Saturday night at Orono.

Chief Hardy informed the inspector the car belonged to Fred McArthur, Campbellford, and had been in an Oshawa garage for repairs.

Inspector McNeill contacted Oshawa and learned that a garage had been broken into and that McArthur's car and an acetylene outfit had been stolen.

The car was found abandoned near Orono.

Dutch Bride Describes Life In Holland

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 17—(ENS)—Dinner was served to 90 members and friends of the Bemersyde Chapter, I.O.D.E., by the ladies of the Parish Guild at the annual meeting on Thursday night.

Mrs. Jay Anderson, a Dutch war bride, was the guest speaker. She told about the geography, history and customs of her country and reminded her audience that although Holland was a very small country it had a population of nine million, making it one of the very thickly populated lands.

She stated that throughout its history the Netherlands had always fought against the approachment of the sea. About 500 A. D. a great storm had transformed an inland lake into the Zuider Zee which covered many acres of rich farmlands. These lands had been reclaimed in later years only to be flooded by the Gremans in the last war. Since then they had been drained and hundreds of villages rebuilt.

She described the characteristics of the people in the different provinces and their native costumes. She said that the network of canals made skating a national winter pastime and that it was possible to go for a hundred mile jaunt on skates which made the Dutch specialists in long distance and speed skating.

She said that after the war Holland had shown her appreciation of those countries who had helped her by sending abroad millions of gift tulip bulbs. She stated that Canada had received large numbers for her unselfish part in her country's struggle. She thanked Bemersyde Chapter for gifts sent to her native land immediately after the war.

The program numbers consisted of two choral selections by Mrs. Allan Watson and her choralians; two piano duets by Mrs. George Nicholls and Mrs. H. R. Hendershot; and a vocal duet by Mrs. James Benor and Mrs. Frank DeCarrol.

Mrs. Fox expressed the chapter's appreciation of the dinner and Mrs. H. T. Scott introduced the speaker. Mrs. A. D. Bennett on behalf of the chapter thanked Mrs. Jack Cowell for her faithful work as Regent during the past year. Mrs. Ross Douglas presented her with a gift.

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 17. — (ENS).—Members and adherents of St. John's United Church saw their new minister, the Rev. D M. Smith, inducted on Friday night.

Mr. A. Martin, chairman of the Presbytery, presided, and the moderator, the Rev. J. E. Anderson of Brighton, was in charge of the induction ceremony. He was assisted by the Rev. P. J. Lambert of Seymour. The new minister was addressed by the Rev. A. E. Griffith of Castleton and the Rev. W. G. Fletcher of Wooler addressed the congregation.

A quartette, Mrs. A. G. Watson, Mrs. T. Wallace, Mrs. C. Howey and Mrs. H. R. Hendershot, with Mr. C. Howey at the organ, also took part.

The Rev. J. O. Ralston of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church; the Rev. W. J. Lennox, Christ Church, and Captain Viola Hurst and Lieutenant M. Holden of the Salvation Army were present to welcome Mr. Smith.

Following the service a reception was held in the church basement where lunch was served by the ladies of the congregation.

Plane Forced Down

LINDSAY, Jan. 17—Weaver Watson of Detroit, his wife and 9-year-old son, David, made a forced landing on a farm a mile south of here Saturday when their plane ran short of fuel. The plane got off course as they were travelling from Detroit to Buffalo. The propeller splintered as the ship plowed into a snowdrift when they attempted to take-off after refueling and another had to be brought from Toronto.

Education Expert Speaks At Hastings

HASTINGS, Jan. 17.—(ENS).—Hastings and district residents heard Mr. G. R. Duffin of the Department of Education, Toronto, tell the history of schols and describe the educational and financial advantages of high schools at the town hall on Thursday.

A high school should have at least 300 pupils from a radius of not more than 20 miles, Mr. Duffin thought and there should be accommodation for the children's lunch, preferably on the cafeteria style. He also mentioned grants being given by the Legislature for the building of high schools.

Mr. Duffin was thanked on behalf of the meeting by Mr. A. Orr.

Walks 20 Miles To Deliver Mail

ROSENEATH, Jan. 17 (ENS)—Icy roads mean nothing to Leslie Sherwin, rural mail courier on R.R. 1. When icy hills proved too great an obstacle for his car the courier abandoned it and, with his roll of mail, tramped the round trip of 20 miles. Mr. Sherwin serves the mail boxes from Roseneath to the mail centre at Dartford, picks up the mail there and serves the boxes on a different 10 mile route which brings him back to his starting point at Roseneath. Mr. Sherwin made the trip on foot on two consecutive days.

Molotov Discusses China

NANKING, Jan. 17 ((Reuters)—Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia has discussed the China situation with Fu Ping-Chang, Chinese Ambassador in Moscow, usually reliable source here said today. The report strengthened the belief in some Kuomintang (government party) circles favoring peace, that the Soviet Union might be willing to lend its good offices if the government made another more Liberal peace offer in answer to the eight-point terms offered by Mao Tse-Tung, the Communist leader.

Halt Food Shipments

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—The economic co-operation administration has cut off flour and wheat shipments to China. Announcing this last night, the relief agency said it has become "physically impossible" to unload supplies at Taku Bar, the major port serving Tientsin and Peiping. Ports to the south were described as clogged or oversupplied.

Train Hits Car 2 Youths Die

BRAMPTON, Jan. 17. — Two Toronto youths were killed and a third seriously injured when their car was struck by a CPR passenger train at a level crossing on No. 7 Highway, two miles west of here on Saturday night.

Dead are Kenneth Bowers 18, of 126 Eglinton Avenue West, and Warren Cook 17, of 61 St. Clements Avenue. Seriously injured in Peel Memorial Hospital here is the driver of the car, Albert Dale 18, of 20 Wiltshire Avenue. He is suffering internal and back injuries and severe lacerations.

The tragedy broke up a trio of pals who have chummed together since early school days. So inseparable were they that Warren Cook's mother named them "The Three Musketeers," a name which stuck to them.

The three were on their way to a dance in Guelph when the accident occurred.

According to police, the engine of the fast-moving south-bound train caught the rear of the car when it was nearly across the tracks, hurling it 45 feet into the ditch on the west side of the highway.

The car crashed against a railroad warning post and snapped off a hydro pole before it landed in the ditch. Wreckage was strewn up the track for 200 feet, with the trunk of the car found 180 feet from the crossing.

Veteran Baptist Minister Rev. A. J. Vining Dies At 86

TORONTO, Jan. 17—(CP)—One of Canada's best known Baptist ministers, Rev. A. J. Vining died here Sunday, aged 86.

His death came after an illness of several months.

A forthright and persuasive 1862, he came by his ministerial career when he was ordained in 1890. He preached his last sermon 58 years later—at Kincardine, Ont. last Sept. 5.

He was well known in Peterborough where he had been a guest preacher many times at Murray St. and Park St. Baptist Churches.

Born at Thorndale, Ont., in 1862, hec ame by his ministerial talents naturally. His grandfather, elder Samuel Vining, settled in Ontario in 1820 and was famous as a pioneer preacher, travelling on horseback through western Ontario to preach in the 1830's and 1840's.

Most of his pastorates were in Ontario. His first was at Wallaceburg and later he served at Windsor, Aylmer, London and Toronto where he was pastor of College St. Baptist for 12 years. In 1896-97 he served in Winnipeg.

He was eastern representative from 1903 to 1907 and spent three years in the British Isles raising funds and encouraging emigration to Canada.

From 1910 to 1913 he was financial secretary of the Baptist World Alliance and campaigned in the United States for funds to established a European Baptist College in Russia. He served overseas in 1917 and 1918 as a YMCA chaplain during the First World Convention President

The Worriers And Mr. Acheson

A considerable section of United States political observers and of the press of that country are worrying about the possibility that the appointment of Mr. Dean Acheson to the post of Secretary of State may mean a "softer" United States policy toward Russia. Since any shift in that policy will affect almost all nations, including Canada, it may interest our readers to know that the official view in Washington is that he will closely follow the policy line drawn by his predecessor, General George Marshall.

* * *

Those who fear a modification of the Marshall policies point to Mr. Acheson's record as Undersecretary of State in the Roosevelt Government, during which his attitude was that friendship with Russia was possible. Mr. Acheson himself, however, has denied that he ever favoured appeasing Russia, although he admittedly shared the late President Roosevelt's belief that it was possible to do business with Josef Stalin. He learned that he was wrong, and he learned the hard way. Today a conservative and authoritative news agency in Washington expresses the opinion that no American is more thoroughly anti-Communist than Mr. Acheson.

* * *

Mr. Acheson's resignation in 1947 as Undersecretary of State was not the result of any clash of political opinion, as some United States critics have hinted. He resigned over a question of finance. He has the reputation of having a sound knowledge of finance, and was once Undersecretary of the U.S. Treasury. He was unable to accept Mr. Roosevelt's monetary policies in full and therefore resigned from the Treasury Department. And it is said that the real reason behind his later resignation from the State Department was dissatisfaction with its financial structure.

* * *

The fundamentals of United States foreign policy at this time may be briefly described. They are: (1) Continuance of the Marshall Plan; (2) acceptance of the proposed North Atlantic Pact, to be followed by a mutual-aid program under which the United States will help in the rearmament of Western Europe; (3) continued aid to Greece and Turkey. These are the sections of United States foreign policy of greatest importance to the other nations of the west, and since Mr. Acheson, when in the State Department before, had a great deal to do with formulating the program briefly outlined above, it seems reasonable to conclude that there will be no radical change of policy in these respects while he is in office.

Civic Ottawa Faint-Hearted About Federal Ottawa

Final details of the National Capital Plan are now being settled. According to the plan, designed chiefly by M. Jacques Greber, special adviser to the Federal Government and France's foremost town-planner, Ottawa will become the hub of a capital area embracing 900 square miles in Ontario and Quebec. This will give and preserve a parkland setting for the Canadian capital. The city itself will be made more beautiful and convenient by removing stations and tracks and unsightly buildings, creating a "green belt", and developing vistas and open places for air and new federal buildings.

Plans have long been under study: from the time of Todd Report (1903) and the Holt Report (1915) to the proposals of Loulan Cauchon in 1923 and Mr. Greber and his Canadian associates in the last two years.

It is fitting that Ottawa, our capital, should have beauty and dignity. Much has been done to improve it in the last twenty years, because of the interest of Mr. Mackenzie King and thousands of other Canadians. The citizens of Ottawa —who have not even provided themselves with a City Hall—take pride in the place and relish the fact that it is the capital city. But they do not seem anxious to put their shoulders to the wheel and help forward the plans. It is not that some of them want to keep Ottawa provincial; the trouble is that they do not want to foot any of the bills.

Last January 1st the city was expected to annex 13,000 acres of Nepean township. For one reason and another, this step toward the enlargement and beautifying of the city was not taken. Controller Grenville Goodwin, a chief proponent of the Federal Plan, was defeated in his candidature for mayor a month ago. The new Mayor, E. A. Bourque, is known to favour the capital's development, but believes that the Federal Government should finance it. The Government should bear a large part of the cost, but we think that the citizens of Ottawa should also put up some money. They live there. It is not germane to the argument that Ottawa would not need to have its boundaries expanded if Government agencies and officials had not multiplied. Other Canadian cities have grown out of their boots because industry has expanded. But these industries have not paid for municipal improvements and expansion. We think that the Federal Government should bear the whole cost of the Federal Plan only if Ottawa and environs became a Federal District like the District of Columbia, if the city itself were administered by the Government, and its citiens were disfranchised.

Tito's Independence

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia seems to be a rebel in the Soviet camp and to have made his country an off-colour splash in the uniform red east of the Iron Curtain. To what extent is this true? Is there any possibility of Yugoslavia throwing in its lot with the western democracies? Is Marshal Tito merely trying to pull the wool over the eyes of the Marshall Aid countries?

These are difficult questions which can have no certain answers before time has given final ones. It seems true that a rent does exist in the Iron Curtain (though it is in the nature of things to expect rents in such a big curtain). Other communist countries have imposed certain economic sanctions against Yugoslavia. Tito has been denounced by the Cominform. Trade with Russia seems to have been sharply curtailed, and Tito wants compensatory trade agreements with western countries.

Against these omens favourable to the West are certain facts. The Government of Yugoslavia is not democratic in any western sense. It is communistic and Tito is a communist. He professes allegiance to the principles of Marx and Lenin and personal regard for Stalin. The economy of the country is dependent to a large extent on the Soviet Union and other eastern European countries now in the Soviet hegemony.

The best that can be hoped from Yugoslavia is that it might become a "fellow-traveller" and not an absolute Soviet Union satellite. Since it is bounded on two sides by Italy and Austria, there is a geographical possibility of closer political relations with the west. Although Tito received part of his communistic training in Russia, the Yugoslav resistance movement during the war, headed by Tito, was the only one in eastern Europe which was indigenous and not Russian-led. It was a successful movement, and subsequent events have demonstrated that Tito is no stool-pigeon. It is as unreal to say, as some Canadian papers are saying, that he is "the creature of Stalin" as that Prime Minister Mackenzie King was the creature of Roosevelt—though Mr. King received part of his education in the United States. On the other hand it is almost as futile to expect that Yugoslavia could become a capitalistic "western" democracy despite Russia as that Canada could become communistic and retain its American trade and friendship.

"West Shackles German War Potential, Perhaps Forever", reads a headline. Considering what happened last time we think that the use of that large word "forever" is a little rash.

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

AN unusual experience involving false passports is related by Hugh Wilson, an American diplomat.

The Chief of Passport Bureau came to his office one day and announced, "I have a fellow in my room applying for a visa to France. His credentials are in perfect order, so is his passport. He is an American by his talk and a correspondent of the New York Herald by the name of Cyril Brown. The only thing I don't like about him is that he doesn't talk like a newspaperman and I know a lot of them."

"Send him up," said Wilson, who knew Cyril Brown well, as they both had been assigned to Berlin at the same time. "I know Cyril Brown and would like to greet him and talk to him. I think you must be mistaken about there being anything fishy about him, but in any case don't tell him I know Cyril Brown."

Wilson had to struggle hard to control his excitement when the man came up and turned out to be a total stranger. He was informed that it would require a couple of days to arrange for a visa to France, and instructed to leave his passport and return in two days. On his departure the passport was examined carefully and it appeared to be in perfect order. One little detail aroused the curiosity of Wilson—the seal varied from an original by a fraction of an inch in diameter. It was a forgery—an almost perfect one—as a wire to the Legation at Copenhagen, where the real Cyril Brown actually was, proved conclusively. When the impostor returned he was handed a visa and departed for France. At Pontarlier, the French control officers, who had been appraised by Wilson of his arrival, took him from the train and he spent the rest of the war in a French prison.

❖ ❖ ❖

"IT must be noted in England," declares American born Curtis Brown in Contacts—a good title for his reminiscences—"that Americans newly abroad, and often a little self-conscious and therefore a bit shy or else over-assertive—two halves of the same thing—are different indeed from the same Americans on their own soil. I remember one good soul, connected with Literature, who sallied about in London referring to her intimate acquaintance with 'Jack Galsworthy' and 'Madge Kennedy', and the like. Jack Galsworthy! It makes one squirm uncomfortably when one thinks of it. And how furious Margaret Kennedy was when she heard of that 'Madge'!! Yet the good American lady was not only harmless but really helpful on her own ground in promoting interest in America in present-day English and Continental fiction. (I never heard her refer to Somerset Maugham as 'Willy,' or Clemence Dane—Winnifred Ashton—as 'Winny', but strongly suspect that she did. And she undoubtedly spoke of Wells as 'H.G.', although that wasn't so bad, for all of us called him that.)

"WHICH reminds me of my first contact with 'H.G.' (he continues) who has been an intermittent good friend for over a third of a century. It was in 1899 that I arrived in England with an offer from Scribner's Magazine, then almost at the height of its glory, for a serial from him, although he was then just emerging from his fantastic 'Men in the Moon' stage into his later realistic 'Love and Mr. Lewisham' stage, to which the public had not yet taken so kindly.

"I wrote to him at Hythe asking for an appointment. He had just suffered from a lady interviewer from a New York paper, who had been admitted to his house for a week-end, and instead of writing about him in serious vein as a philosopher, had told in a full-page what he and his family had for breakfast, and how they amused themselves with a garden game that he had invented and later developed in different form in 'Mr. Britling Sees It Through'.

"It was all personal, flippant and unreserved, and 'H.G.' was indignant. My letter came, apparently just as he had received 'clippings' of that interview (according to American usage, or 'cuttings,' according to English usage). So I got in reply to my letter the following in his own precise little handwriting:

" 'I have now made it a rule to receive no Americans who are not vouched for by someone with whom I am acquainted.'

"I replied with hot wrath that I failed to see why a large offer from one of the most important American magazines, which I had hoped to have the honour to convey, should be treated so discourteously.

"A few days afterwards, his agent called, affable and conciliatory—and what, please, was the offer? 'You know,' he said, 'Mr. Wells is rather impulsive, and it is a matter of regret that he should have written to you like that.' I told him I had forwarded to the editor of Scribner's Magazine a copy of 'H.G.'s' letter to me, and that it was rather doubtful if, in the circumstances, they would wish to continue negotiations; but that he was quite free to go ahead with them, and leave me out of it. And that was the last of that. Scribner's had no desire for further communication."

LORD Darling penned the following lines when he left the bench in 1923 basing the rhythm on a fine old English hymn:

November, 1923.

Long worn, now cast aside: red robe, lie there—
Not, when the organ throbs the nave along,
By chests of kingly dust,
And chantries old,

Shall I, with measured step and quickening heart,
Pass to the Judge's place; and, bowed, implore
Myself be not condemned
Nor less than right decree.

Not with resounding trumpets, may I come
To sit in judgement on the regal bench;
Dividing false from true,
With sword and even scale.

Mantle and stole laid by, and cap of doom;
Bereft, alone, I wear no ermine more;
Nor judge—yet one Assize
I, fearful, must attend.

TO MY SUCCESSOR I BEQUEATH—

BARBER SHOP RULES

Sir: The ruling on children's haircuts is as follows. All children in the barber's chair before 5 p.m. the minimum price is 35c, however there is no ceiling on the price of haircuts, and I think the Peterborough barbers have been very fair in controlling this price at this level in view of the fact that most other commodities have risen in some cases to 500 per cent.

The hours of work were recommended to us by the Department of Labour which if you will recall a couple of years ago put in a 48 hour week. This was also a welcome move which favoured all barbers as previously to that the week was a 54 hour week with no pay for overtime. The barber shop owners all across Ontario were losing barbers because of the higher pay in factories and the shorter hours plus time and a half for overtime.

In the case of the nine-year-old boy living only a stone's throw from the barber shop mentioned, it would indicate the fact that the boy instead of going directly to the barber shop as soon as possible stopped off to play, or that the mother lacked complete faith in her boy in not allowing him to carry the money either in his pocket of a suitable purse to protect him from a possible loss. I might add that a stone's throw is only a short distance and a young active boy should be able to get there in very short time.

A hairdresser working on the appointment system can regulate her day's work to suit the requirements of the hairdresser of the shop, and an allowance can be made for the odd late arrival. However, the barber working on a first come first served basis has to regulate his business in relation to his rush hours.

In Peterborough we have no Barbers' Union but an association made up of local barbers which changes hands every year to prevent any dictatorial policies any unscrupulous barber might have. Probably if we were affiliated with an organized union by this time we would have finished a couple of contracts and the union would be seeking an increase which might put it in the $1.00 bracket. This is the usual procedure. However, we are inclined to believe that the majority of people understand that we are trying to hold our prices at a decent level in view of the ever rising cost of living.

There is always someone who is always complaining about everything. For those people I would like to give a few statistics that was gathered for our last convention. This survey covered 4,500 barbers in Ontario, the results are as follows: The average overall wage for 4,500 barbers was $35.00 per week. It is true some made more but they made up for those who made less. There is also an average of 10 per cent. leaving the trade every year for other employment. The survey also showed that the average shop done 50 to 100 haircuts per week, depending on the location. Assuming that they were all adult at 60c, the gross income would be $60 per week, less rent, supplies, repairs, heat, light and water, which is contrary to those who believe that a barber can do four haircuts per hour so many hours per day and so much per week. In the lean years most barbers that have previouusly left the trade usually come back as there are always a number of vacant stores available which the landlords are quite willing to rent out at a very low figure rather than let it stay idle. Whereas today there are barbers paying in Peterborough up to $110.00 per month and by looking around there are very few straight barbershops left. Most of them unite different types of business with them in order to meet the rent required. So you see the barbers position is not always rosy.

The boy who stays out to play until 5 o'clock and expects a 35c haircut is stopping some person who works till 5 p.m. from getting a haircut T.he average man after working all day takes a dim view of entering a barbershop and finding it full of children who could have been there earlier, and thus goes elsewhere. And the parent who expects a 35c haircut is asking the barber to take a 40 per cent. wage cut in his rush hour.

ARTHUR REYNOLDS, Pres.,
The Peterborough Barbers' Association.

TAXPAYERS LAID OFF?

Sir: Much has been said about fairness to the taxpayer in recent issues of your paper.

Now, I ask you, is it an act of fairness to lay off men, who are such, and hire D.P.'s in the immediate future to fill jobs these ex-employees vacated?

Such was the case at the new Civic Hospital project. On Friday, Jan. 7, six men, of several months standing, were "laid off". On Monday, Jan. 10, four or five D.P.'s were hired to work in identical jobs.

Some fellow taxpayers might be interested in knowing why some of their fellow citizens of Peterborough and surrounding districts suddenly lose their jobs and consequently, in many cases, their only source of livelihood.

We are wondering who will be next.

Thank you for the opportunity to express my views on this subject.

AN EMPLOYEE.

HOME OWNERS NOT ENCOURAGED

Sir: I am in complete agreement with "Tenant Buyer" (whose letter appeared in your column Wed. Jan. 12) in regard to taxes on small homes.

Whereas "Tenant Buyer's" house is frame, 4 rooms, no cellar, no garage, no sidewalks, no paved roads, no bus service, and pays over $85 taxes; we have a frame, 5 roomed house with cellar but no garage, no sidewalks, no paved roads, no street lights and worse still no sewer. Our taxes were over $93 for 1948 and I am afraid to think of 1949 taxes with the new mill rate plus an additional $200 in our assessment plus the new Civic Hospital debentures to be paid.

I am a small home owner, trying to pay off a mortgage loan as so many others are trying to do, and with taxes and monthly mortgage payments, my "rent" is all I can handle without an increase. People who own their homes take a keener interest in the community but the high taxes on small homes are no inducement for people to struggle to own their homes or take an interest in civic affairs.

A FED-UP TAXPAYER.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God afar off? Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the Lord. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the Lord. I have heard what the prophets said, that prophecy lies in my name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed.

How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets that prophesy lies? yea, they are prophets of the deceit of their own heart; which think to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour, as their fathers have forgotten my name for Baal.

The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the chaff to the wheat? saith the Lord.... Behold, I am against them that prophesy false dreams, saith the Lord, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their lightness; yet I sent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they shall not profit this people at all, saith the Lord. (Jer. 23: 23-28, 32.)

A faithful witness will not lie; but a false witness will utter lies....Do they not err that devise evil? but mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good. (Prov. 14: 5, 22.)

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever. (Ps. 23: 6.)

❖ ❖ ❖

And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son...

May Use Hanky To Replace 'Horn On Play'

By H. DENT HODGSON

OTTAWA, Jan. 17 (CP) —If a move sponsored by the Interprovincial Rugby Union is adopted, next year may see an end to "the horn on the play" which signals something wrong with a gridiron move and often causes the players to ease up on a run or tackle.

Instead of the traditional wail of the horn, the signal for a faulty play will be an official dashing to the scene of the misdemeanor and dropping a handkerchief.

Such was the substance of a resolution approved by the Big Four executive at its annual meeting here Saturday. The recommendation will be forwarded to the Canadian Rugby Union at its annual meeting in Toronto February 26.

IRFU moguls also decided to allow each of the Big Four clubs the use of seven United States imports in league play next season. Last year Montreal Alouettes were allowed seven and the other clubs six.

All clubs are limited to five players in games sponsored by the CRU—the Eastern final and the Grey Cup classic.

Montreal Satisfied

Montreal representatives expressed satisfaction over the assurance given them at the meeting that they will be allotted four Sunday games next season.

Hamilton will play two of the Sunday fixtures and Ottawa Rough Riders the other two, with Toronto Argonauts as usual declining to play on Sunday.

New president of the Big Four is Dr. J. J. O'Connor of Toronto Argonauts. D. Wes Brown of Ottawa was re-elected secretary-treasurer for a third consecutive terms.

The executive took no official stand on the question of a reported merger between Hamilton Wildcats and Hamilton Tigers of the Ontario Union, pending a definite decision on the matter by the clubs concerned. There were no Tiger representatives at the meeting.

AT THE LEFT IS THE BOMBER HIMELF —Charlie Conacher has not changed much since his playing days, even if he now has the worries of a coach to contend with. At the moment his Hawks are in a pretty good playoff spot. Next is Jim Conacher, spike-haired sniper, well up among the leading scorers in the league. At the right is 32-year-old Roy Conacher, who has developed into a smart two-way player. Roy is Charlie's brother, but Jim is no relation.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press

Chicago Black Hawks could only collect two goals in their two week-end games, but Doug Bentley and Roy Conacher had a hand in both. Each garnered a goal and assist to remain deadlocked for the scoring leadership in the National League with 43 points apiece. Billy Reay of Montreal helped himself to a pair of goals and one assist to vault into third spot with 33 points.

New York Gets Second Chance To See Barbara Ann Scott Skate

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (CP) — Hundreds of thousands of New Yorkers who watched Barbara Ann Scott skate during the last four weeks will have another opportunity to see her within the coming year.

Her current engagement at the Roxy Theatre covered only half of the eight weeks called for in the contract she signed with the theatre last year. Sometime during 1949 she has to come back to the Roxy to do four more weeks of personal appearances.

"It's really wonderful," she said yesterday as she sadly looked forward to closing night. "I've really enjoyed skating for New Yorkers."

After today's three shows, she packs her belongings from the comfortable two-room dressing-room she occupies on the second floor of the huge theatre. Then after a day to clear up odds and ends, she's off to London, Ont., for a well-earned holiday—albeit a brief one.

Whatcomes next is still indefinite, she said. But there'll probably be several appearances at ice carnivals. More than 75 cities and skating clubs have asked her to appear in their annual ice revues, among them Boston, Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto.

The cities named are probably the ones at which she'll appear, though several other skating clubs may be honored—if her agents so decide.

"It all hinges on what they say, now," she said. "Before, Mommy and I would decide where we would go—and we tried to go wherever we were asked. Now Music Corporation of America gets all the bids and they make all the decisions."

"I'll sure be glad to come back to the Roxy. Everyone in New York has just been wonderful to me."

LINDSAY, Jan. 17—(CP)—The undefeated North Toronto Lions kept in pace with the league-leading Oshawa Bees, by coming from behind to defeat Lindsay Mustangs 7-5 in an OHA Junior B contest Saturday night. Alex Hunter paced the winners with four goals while Don Barfield tallied twice and Jack Lawrence once. Arn Karrys, Bob Lewis, Bill Parker, Frank McPhee and Ron Richards were the Lindsay marksmen.

Conservative Dies

CARDIFF, Jan. 17—(Reuters)—Str Gwilyn Rowlands, 70, "most prominent working man" in Britain's Conservative party, died at his home Sunday at Penycraig in the Rhondda Valley. He went to work in coal mines when he was 16. In 1929 he became chairman of the general council of the Conservative party, succeeding Colonel Gretton, a millionaire.

British Parliament Faces More Criticism

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(Reuters).—Parliament reassembles tomorrow for its last year before the 1950 general election, mindful of the mounting criticism by many members over the government's handling of the Palestine situation.

A government statement is expected, and an early debate possible. Foreign Secretary Bevin may be the target of critical questions. He also may be pressed for explanations at a meeting of the Labor party caucus Wednesday.

The government is looking to prepare the groundwork for the Labor party platform in 1950. Tentative proposals to nationalize the chemical, water-supply, shipbuilding, coal distribution and agricultural produce distribution industries are being discussed in labor and trade union quarters. It is too early to say whether any of the projects will be adopted for the government's election program.

Parliamentary Labor party members will supply the proposals privately this week, and there may be sectional demands for a "brake" on nationalization.

A Protest In TVL

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 17 —(ENS).—The local hockey executive protested the game with Norwood on Friday night, claiming that Hamilton, a Norwood alternate, had become disqualified as a player in the TVL by playing the opening game with Trenton in the OHA. The TVL executive meeting at Frankford on Sunday decided to ask the president of the OHA for a ruling on the master.

Windsor Downs Flyers In 8-4 Battle

By The Canadian Press

Coach Jimmy Skinner's Windsor Spitfires look like a cinch to win both the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A title and the individual scoring race—if you go by the "sure thing" prophets.

The Spitfires have chalked up an impressive record during the current season, and during the week-end showed they could take care of the second-place Barrie Flyers when they deefated them 8-4 in Windsor. But anything can happen in the playoffs.

While the Spitfires ran their total to 47 points—consisting of 23 wins, 11 losses and one tie—big Bert Giesebrecht scored two goals and an assist to remain atop the individual scoring race.

Bert's 71 points gives him a two-point edge over brother Bruce and a 14-point margin over Barrie's Paul Meger, in third place.

The Flyers weren't the only powerful club to suffer defeat this week-end. St. Catharines Teepees deadlocked with Barrie, were dumped 7-2 by the fourth-place Oshawa Generals. In other Junior A games the sixth-place Guelph Biltmores downed the eighth-place Galt Rockets 6-2 and Toronto Marboros beat Toronto St. Michael's College Majors 4-2.

Takes Lead

Windsor moved into a 3-1 lead in the first period, maintained a 5-3 margin at the end of the second and then outscored Barrie 3-1 in the third period.

Penalties, 18 of them, played a big part in the early stages as Spitfires scored four times when holding the edge in manpower. Other Windsor scorers were Jimmy Maxwell with two and Bruce Giesebrecht and Marcel Pronovost with one each. Paul Meger tallied twice for the losers. Gord Pennell and Bill Burcham got the others.

Despite a sensational display of goaltending by Porky Douglas, the Generals held a 1-0 edge at the end of the first period, made it 5-0 by the end of the second and split two goals in the last period.

Dick Gamble and Gerry Scott each got two goals for the winners. Others went to Dusty Blair, Ted O'Connor and Don Hall. Red Sullivan and Fred Hildebrand tallied for St. Catharines.

Guelph got 14 of 24 penalties handed out as they took a 2-1 lead in the first period, made it 5-1 by the end of the second and scored twice in the last period. Twelve penalties came in the last period, including four majors. They went to Don Overholtzer and Don Bellringer of Guelph and Ron Bell and Schwartz of Galt.

Ferguson led Guelph marksmen with two goals, while singletons went to Bellringer, Joe Shaw, Palmer and Bill Mouncey. George Ford and Joe Kilbey tallied for the Rockets.

RAF Hockey Team Unbeaten To Date

UXBRIDGE, MIDDLESEX, England, Jan. 17 —(CP)—The RAF.'s first hockey team, composed of 11 ex-R.C.A.F. fliers and two British airmen, has been making history on British rinks since it was formed here last October.

Unbeaten so far this season, the new team has tussled with eight leading teams, beaten seven of them and drawn with the famous Streatham Royals.

They have also beaten Wembley All Stars, Oxford University, Earls Court Rangers, Wembley Fliers Wembley Terriers and Richmond All Stars.

Flt. Lt. D. G. Evans, 27, Toronto, Captain and manager of the R. A. F. team is also its instigator. An R. C. A. F. pilot during the war, he has been with the R. A. F. as a jet test pilot ever since.

All of the team's equipment sent from Canada as a gift from the R. C. A. F., but so far, Evans said, they have received little in the way of food parcels from Canada.

Springfield Edges Buffalo Bisons 2-0

By The Canadian Press

Don O'Hearn, netminder for the Springfield Indians, turned in a brilliant display to allow his team-mates to coast home with a 2-0 victory against the Buffalo Bisons in an American Hockey League game Sunday night.

O'Hearn's performance, plus the two goals netted by Ott Schmidt and Mike McMahon, stopped the Bison's current winning streak at eight games and strengthened Springfield's hold on third place in the eastern division.

Springfield defeated Washington Lions 10-5 on Saturday night, with Doug McMurdy leading the assault with three goals. Harry Forst, former Springfield player now with the Indians, also tallied three times for the losers.

In New Haven, the Ramblers were downed 3-1 by the Pittsburgh Hornets in a rough-and-Tough game which saw 14 penalties handed out.

Hogan Bounces Back

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Jan. 17 —(AP)—Ben Hogan, the golfer they always have to beat for the big money, was back in the winner's circle again today. And with $2,500 more to show for it. Stopped cold in his first tournament of the year last week at Los Angeles, Hogan bounced back yesterday to bag the Bing Crosby invitational with an eight-under-par 208. More than 10,000 fans saw the windup.

Goalies Deserve Wider Crease Says Writer

MONTREAL, Jan. 17 (CP). — There is sympathy around and about for the netminders of hockey and Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson looks on Frankie Boucher's suggestion for widening the goal crease as a nice, fine gesture.

Elmer terms the goalie the "submerged sixth."

"They have been under more sustained and nerve-wracking pressure, the last half-dozen seasons, than any other of hockey's personalities, even including the coaches," writes Elmer. "Every new rule devised has been calculated to throw extra weight on the goalers by making more easy the scoring of goals.

"So in the interests of humanity and a hoist for occupants of the submerged sixth, it is nice to see a suggestion that will make the life of the netminder less complicated and enable him to retain his sanity."

Fergie remarks that the only players he has known to suffer breakdowns have been goalers, and if others survive without becoming hysterical, then it is a tribute to their moral fibre.

Boucher's suggestion was that the crease, now extending three feet in front of the goal, should be four feet away.

American Home Brews

Elmer does not figure he will be around when and if an American team in the NHL comes up with a strictly home-brew team, but should such come to pass, his thought is that it will be the work of Chicago Black Hawks. Owner Bill Tobin was in Montreal and here is what he passed along:

"Black Hawks will deserve some credit for long-range sight if we ever develop some United States hockey talent. The late Major McLaughlan, pioneer of the Hawks, if not the first to envisage an all-American-manned NHL club, at least was the first who had the audacity to endeavor to fill Hawk shirts with the home-breds."

Ethel Marshall of Buffalo won the ladies' singles title at the Strathgowan International Invitation Badminton Tournament Sunday. Miss Marshall teamed up with Edith Massman of Buffalo to win the ladies' doubles championship. Carl Loveday of Montclair, N.J., took the men's single title. Jeane Mathews of Vancouver Saturday night won her second successive Western Canada figure skating championship. Roger Wickson of Vancouver retained his senior men's title in the competition at Trail, B.C.

Calgary Stampeders' cut of the Grey Cup gate at Toronto in the Dominion football final last fall was $3,800, club president Tom Brook of Calgary said Sunday night.

Commenting on a Toronto suggestion that Stampeders must have "fed their players on quail" to lose money on their successful eastern invasion, Mr. Brooks said Stampeders got about $7,800 to make the trip. The Toronto report estimated Stampeders obtained $10,300 for the Grey Cup jaunt.

Germany's heavyweight boxing champion, Hein Ten Hoff, left for the United States Sunday in quest of gold and glory. Ten Hoff is under a six month contract with Lew Burston of New York's Twentieth Century Club with a promise of a longer stay if he shows up well against American boxers.

PCVS Cagers Take Win In Pickering

PCVS basketball teams salvaged one win in three games in week-end play. Friday, at the school gym, the Junior Executives from Toronto Eatons pulled out a 43-34 win from the PCVS Juveniles. It the second half of that doubleheader Outboard Marines "A" team won as it pleased from the school seniors 41-25. Saturday the PCVS seniors travelled to Newmarket to engage the Pickering College seniors in an exhibition game. The Peterborough boys found the win column by defeating the home team 39-30.

Friday's games were held up more than an hour by the late arrival of the Toronto team. Seventeen players were in the Junior Executive lineup when the game finally got under way. PCVS quickly broke on top on first quarter hoops by Griffin and Thompson to lead 13-6 at the first rest. However the Toronto team with representatives from practically all Toronto and district high schools, found the scoring range and led by Crary of East York Collegiate reduced Peterborough's lead ta a narrow 19-17 margin at the half.

PCVS pulled away again at the beginning of the third quarter as Northcott put in two quick ones. However at the three quarter mark Eatons had gone ahead to stay 31-30, as Crang continued his second quarter scoring spree. Karabin, Western Tech star and one of Toronto's best high school players finally found the score sheet to make a PCVS defeat a certainty. Crang had 15 points and Karabin 11 to count most of the visitors points. Don Griffin actually led the scorers with 16, but the best his teammates could do was 7 each for Northcott and Thompson.

Too Strong

Outboard Marines "A" team was much the better in the second game and led by Joe Stewart and Bill Edger quickly pulled away from the promising PCVS squad playing its first game in its 1949 unit. A 15-4 1st quarter lead, featuring Joe Stewart's 7 points and Ed Nichols' 4, was reduced by only one point at the half 23-13, as the school team began to find its bearings. The margin was narrowed by one more at the three-quarters, 29-20, before the Marines opened up once more on the tiring students to wrap up the victory 41-25. Joe Stewart had 13 points, Bill Edger 9 and Ed Nicholls 6 for the winners. Six of the Juvenile team from the first game returned to the floor for the senior game to form a 13-man squad and once again Don Griffin's led his team's scorers, this time with 6 points. Hugh Dibben had 4 as did Neil Thompson.

An 11-man squad made the trip to Newmarket, Saturday to return the visit the Pickering College rugby team made to Peterborough during the fall. Showing improvement over the Friday games the PCVS team was always in the lead, 9-3 at the quarter and 22-8 at the half. The homesters found difficulty in penetrating the Peterborough zone defense. However, Pickering came out fighting in the second half and made a rousing battle for the college supporters before losing 39-30. It was only Dave Dibben's three quick hoops near the games end that made victory sure for PCVS, as the 14 point first half margin had melted to a mere 5 during the last quarter. Dave Dibben had eight points and Don Griffin seven, to lead a scoring attack which was spread over the entire squad. However, Reynolds of Pickering, featuring an accurate left hand, led all scorers with 14 points, while Ron Umphrey, formerly of the good Oshawa CVI teams had 5.

The teams:

The merry mayhem men of the mat are back at the Brock Arena on Wednesday night with a three-bout card. The headliner has Fred Atkins, Australian heavy champ, in against ploughing Earl McCready, a top contender for Whip Watson's British Empire title. So is Atkins and the winner may get an early crack at the Whip. (Crack at the whip, huh?) Pat Flanagan meets surly John Katan in the semi-final—and just recently Watson said Talun was the strongest man he knew in the ring today but Katan had the strongest pair of hands. Johnny Marrs meets Martin Huisler in the prelim. It should be another lively evening for the many grappie fans here.

A lot of injuries in hockey lately around the province, and closer to home, too. The present pell-mell style of hockey and some loose refereeing is to blame. The refereeing we've seen here so far has been good. Really strict, but the arbiters have to be today or many players will be injured. George Panter of the OHA now is asking for a report from the referees at the recent game when Keith Montgomery of Guelph Juniors was hurt in Barrie. The Lakefield lad who played with our junior "B" IOOF-ers—he's married—is in Wellesley hospital where it's reported he has "a probable broken neck."

"Those Hockey Scrambles"

A Toronto report adds: "Panter said he was waiting for the doctor's report regarding the seriousness of the injury to Montgomery and will then contact CAHA officials regarding a replacement for the player. 'I am getting in touch with the two officials in charge of the game to get a full report on the play', he said. "It was one of those hockey scrambles," said Ken Holmshaw, coach of Guelph Biltmores. Montgomery was cut behind the ear in the mishap, Holmshaw added, was bleeding and had to have stitches."

Petes play Legionnaires at 8.30 tonight in the Civic Arena, taking up where they left off Friday eve in their OHA senior "B" grouping. And, if they play like they did Friday, we will want to see a lot of their tangles. And so will the cash customers. On good ice, they fairly fly and they play definitely for keeps. Lots of good hockey and some rugged play dished up, as well. As we pointed out before, these teams probably play harder against each other than they'd do against any other team. Because there is plenty of rivalry and more than a bit of enmity between them. It's like a puck civil war when they face each other on the ice. Likely another hefty crowd on deck.

* * * * * *

They've Lots Of Savvy

Quite a few folks were surprised at the Petes making it so close their last meeting — only losing by one goal with less than two minutes to go. On paper, Legion look stronger but some of those Petes' veterans really shoot the works against Legion. And they have oodles of hockey savvy, garnered over the years in many rinks against many good teams. They could still stand a couple of more fast-stepping wingmen but right now are tough enough to bother their strong city rivals, the Legionnaires. On Friday, it sounded as if the big crowd was about evenly divided in vocal support.

In the bantam Trojan League on Saturday, Wings beat Canadiens, and in the winners' lineup appear the names of sons of two former OHA aces here, Bert Burgess and Kenny Kane. Canadiens peewees won a tilt from Leafs but the Leafs midgets took a decision over Canadiens in their bracket. Rangers and Wings drew 2-2 in another midget melee. Tonight's tilts have Rangers meeting Leafs at seven p.m., followed by Canadiens against the Red Wings. Leafs lead this section now with two points, while Wings and Rangers have one each and the Canadiens none. Other dope and some more schedule for the Trojans is on the morrow.

Icy roads Saturday prevented Guelph cagers coming here for their exhibition basketball game. They sent word late in the aft to the Marines "A" cagers. Latter won a Friday eve exhibition o'er PCVS seniors 41-25 at the Collegiate. Joe Stewart and Bill Edger led their attack with Don Griffin best for Bev Goulding's bunch. Toronto Eaton's defeated the juvenile PCI-ers 43-34 and went on to Bowmanville to win 43-16.' On Saturday, the PCVS seniors paid a visit to Pickering and had to hustle to pull out a 39-30 exhibition victory in a good game. The Friday frays here were late starting as the visiting team was tardy.

Hollywood Writers Get More Jobs, Future Brighter

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 17 (AP)—The movie industry is beginning to see some light in its economic storm.

Conditions in Hollywood are still far from lush. But some indications point to a let-up in Hollywood's worst winter — in economics as well as weather.

Most hopeful note is in the writing field. The Screen Writers' Guild reports a sharp upswing in jobs for its members and in sales of film stories. To-day 448 writers are working in the studios, against a low of 418 in November and a high of 600 in prosperous times.

The increase of writing is a good omen for the future. Scrips come first, then production. There is little change in the number of actors under contract and optimists can at least welcome the levelling-off.

Two Companies Busy

On the local production front MGM and 20th Century-Fox are going great guns, now filming six films apiece. Columbia and Universal-International are proceeding with average slates, although U-I may slow down a bit.

Paramount has two pictures, but plans to start several in the next two months. RKO continues its slow pace with one Robert Mutchum film, and Republic has shut down. Monogram lopes along with a single horse opera. Warners continues dark, and there is no word on when it will reopen.

Good Signs

In the search for a sunnier outlook, Hollywood has come up with three new notes.

President Truman's budget message estimated a $6,000,000 rise in admission tax receipts for this fiscal year, $10,000,0d0 for next.

Variety reports 353 films are scheduled for 1949, against 345 last year.

Bernard Giannini, who handles film loans for the Bank of America, takes an optimistic view of the current situation.

Hope To Defray Losses

OGDENSBURG, N.Y., Jan 17.—(AP).—A citizen's committee is seeking to raise a $6,000 fund to defray possible losses by the Ogdensburg Baseball Club of the Class B Border League in the 1949 season. The club owners released auditor's figures Saturday showing the club lost $11,005.68 in 1948.

Wings Cool Off Habs 3-2 As Rangers Blank Leafs

By The Canadian Press

The high-flying Detroit Red Wings emerged from the week-end National Hockey League battling with their five point lead intact and emphasized they will be hard to overtake in the last part of the campaign.

At the same time, Montreal moved up to take over third place, their highest position in the standing since the opening week of the season, while the last-place New York Rangers remained in contention for the fourth and last playoff spot by earning a split in their home-and-home series with the hot-and-cold Toronto Maple Leafs.

Detroit cooled off Canadiens by squeezing out a 3-2 triumph at home Sunday night after the Habitants sunk the faltering Chicago Black Hawks 7-1 in the Canadian city Saturday. Toronto edged New York 2-1 at home Saturday, but at New York Sunday night the Rangers blanked the Leafs 4-0 with Chuck Rayner registering his fourth shutout.

In the only other week-end contest, Boston Bruins consolidated their hold on second place by whipping Chicago 3-1 at Beantown.

Belligerent Kenny Reardon, Montreal's rushing rearguard, was in the thick of another mixup at Detroit Sunday night, only two weeks after his wild stick-swinging duel with Cal Gardner of Toronto which earned each player a fine and one-game suspension.

Reardon clashed with wing goalie Harry Lumley near the Detroit goal crease and the net-minder slugged Reardon four times with left hooks before the players were pulled apart.

When referee Jim Primeau failed to tag Lumley with a penalty, the whole Canadien team staged a sit-down conference in front of their bench and held up the game for 10 minutes. All this got the Habs was a two-minute penalty for refusing to start play. They finished the last three minutes of the game, but needed some persuasion to do it.

In the game itself, Leo Reise, Jim Enio and Bill Quackenbush scored for the Wings while Kenny Mosdell and Roger Leger were the Habitant marksmen.

Goalie Jim Henry had an off night Saturday as Montreal walloped their Chicago "cousin" 7-1 Saturday. The last time the clubs met, Montreal picked up a 7-2 victory.

200th Goal

Maurice (Rocket) Richard topped off a sensational performance by getting the 200th goal of his NHL career in the third session. It was the Rocket's third marker of the game. Bill Reay scored two for Canadiens while Tod Compeau and Gerry Plamondon garnered one apiece. The lone Chicago counter went to Roy Conacher.

The Black Hawks moved over to Boston Sunday night and absorbed another defeat, 3-1, at the hands of the Bruins.

Grant Warwick's 18th goal proved to be the winner. Before that, Pete Babando had scored ley for Chicago. Pat Egan put the issue beyond doubt with another Boston tally with only 19 seconds of the game left.

Rookie Tod Sloan made, his first NHL goal an important one Saturday when he broke a 1-1 deadlock and sent the Leafs on to victory over New York. Defenceman rankie Eddolls gave Rangers an early lead and Bill Barilko tied it up for Toronto before that.

The New Yorkers' shutout triumph against the Leafs Sunday night left them two points back of the fifth-place Toronto club.

Edgar Laprade, Alex Kaleta, Fred Shero and Dunc Fisher were the Ranger marksmen Sunday night.

Wolves To Get More Players CAHA Decides

WINNIPEG, Jan. 17 (CP) — Coach Max Silverman will get two or three reinforcements of the "highest calibre" for his Sudbury Wolves, Canada's representatives at the world hockey championships at Stockholm in February, but he may lose the services of defenceman Joey Torgeson of Gimli, Man., now under suspension by Eddie Shore.

Delegates to the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association's semi-annual meeting which wound up here Sunday, approved their officers' decision to reinforce the Wolves as requested by Silverman.

There is a possibility "through a misunderstanding," Tergeson may not have been cleared of a suspension before he left for the overseas trip.

Thought Matter Settled

CAHA officials said it was their understanding that Terfeson, placed under suspension by Shore for failing to report to training camp while under option, had been cleared by Shore before leaving Canada. The matter, they said, had been "left in Silverman's hands . . . and we understood everything was straightened out satisfactorily."

Since Tergeson's departure, the CAHA was informed that Shore had not cleared the player. Meanwhile, President Al Pickard of Regina was directed by CAHA delegates to approach Clarence Campbell, president of the NHL, to clear up the matter "one way or the other."

In other business during the week-end, the Association:

1. Deleted a by-law from the constitution which said "no officer shall serve more than two consecutive terms as president."

2. Said Juvenile players who sit out one year of organized hockey become free agents the following year.

3. Granted the Hull Volants senior team permission to arrange a private trip to Paris, probably in April.

The accussed was arrested following an accident in the village by Const A. Kellogg and Chief Const. L. W. Potten.

Mrs. Brinklow denied this stating that she was only looking after her own children by stopping the Walsh boy from pounding her daughter. Mrs. Alex Sherwin gave evidence for Mrs. Walsh stating that she had seen Mrs. Brinklow holding the boy by the the shoulder, asked by the Magistrate if she had seen Mrs. Brinklow strike the boy she replied "No, I did not".

On summing up the case Magistrate R. B. Baxter said "on the evidence given I must find you guilty of technical assault and said he hoped that the two families and their children would be able to get along in the future. No fine was imposed.

Albert Sparks, R.R. 2, Hastings charged with careless driving by Const. A. Kellogg, O.P.P. asked for 2 weeks remand stating he wished to bring other witnesses for his defence. The Magistrate remanded the case till Jan. 27.

3 People Hurt In Falls On Icy Streets

Saturday's freakish weather turned from 5 below zero in early morning to higher temperatures with rain, starting at 3 p.m. In a five-hour period .24 inches of rain fell, glazing streets and vehicles with ice and making city driving dangerous and almost impossible. Cars and buses which were forced to stop on slight grades at stop-light intersections found no traction, and were forced to shove each other wherever possible. Some drivers were fortunate enough to put chains on before the streets became too coated.

The 5:15 Ferguson bus schedule to Lakefield was cancelled until some sanding was done; they were able to move an hour later. No vehicle accidents have been reported, but two Peterborough and one Lindsay citizen had bad falls.

Mrs. Dorothy Dunn, 406½ Sheridan St., fell on an icy sidewalk and received slight concussion and an injured back. She was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital by Dr. C. F. Cahill. The Rev. Sister Petronalla of Lindsay fell on a Lindsay street and was taken to the same hospital with a fractured hip. Mrs. Richard Graham, 439 Edison Ave., fell on the sidewalk in front of her home and was treated for a fractured ankle at the Civic Hospital by Dr. R. Bell.

The weather was still milder on Sunday with temperature moving up to 46 degrees above. There was a rainfall of .12 inches and running water everywhere. Weather was cooler this morning, barely freezing, with some mist and light snow falling about 9 a.m.

Two Cars Collide At Intersection

City Police investigated two accidents on city streets on Saturday, reporting damage to three vehicles.

About four o'clock in the afternoon, there was a collision at Park St. and Lansdowne Ave. between the cars of James Curtis, Pontypool, and Donald Asling, Erskine Ave., which met at the intersection. Damage to the Curtis car was to two doors, torn and crumpled front fender and dented rear fender.

The bumper on the Asling car was broken off, the radiator grill was bent, the radiator split and a fender crumpled. PC C. J. McGillen investigated.

Minor damage to the parked car of H. Burgess, 631 Weller St., was a result of a collision on Queen St., near Simcoe St., about 10 p.m.

The other car was driven by Ben Olman, 373 Queen St. Only damage was a dented fender to the Burgess car. PC George B. Shaw investigated.

Magistrate Dismisses Charge Of Receiving

A charge against Stanley Richardson of Hastings, of receiving stolen goods was dismissed by Magistrate Philp in court today. He had reserved his judgment following hearing of evidence. Witnesses had testified that a large quantity of cigaretes which had been stolen from the C.N.R. freight sheds in Peterborough had been found in Richardson's home in Hastings. In his own evidence and statements to police, the accused had maintained that the cigarettes had been left with him for keeping as a convenience to a man who was later convicted of theft. He had not been aware that they were stolen, he said.

DOG POISONED

A dog-poisoner is apparently working in the city. A St. Bernard dog, owned by a Perry St. resident, died suddenly at the end of last week. The dog was examined by a city veterinary, who said that the death had been due to administration of a large dose of strychine poison.

DEATH BY DROWNING came to Winston K. Goheen, 19, of Water St., at the YMCA pool on Friday evening. He went in swimming, disregarding the pool DANGER sign. His Normal student-friend, Murray Patterson, kneels on diving board directly over spot where the body was located. Picture of Mr. Goheen is inset.

Pool Victim Funeral Today

Funeral service was held for the late Winston Kenneth Goheen, 18, of Newcastle in that village today at 2.30 p.m. It was held at the Newcastle United crurch and burial was at the Port Hope vault.

Mr. Goheen was drowned on Friday in the YMCA pool. He was born in Waterford, son of Raymond Goheen and Charlotte Helen Cairns, and before coming to the city to attend the Peterborough Normal school four months ago, lived in Newcastle.

Besides his parents he leaves three brothers, all teachers, Allan of Wallaceborough, Ross of South Porcupine and Vernon of Port Granby. A younger brother, Raymond, 10, is at home with three sisters, Shirley, 15, Evelyn, 13, and Carol, age 7.

Mr. Goheen received his lower school education in Havelock and Fenelon Falls, and his upper school in Bowmanville. He was leading man in the Goheen Quartette, a singing group in the Peterborough district and was also a member of the Normal school Christian Fellowship. He was a member of the Fenelon Fall Baptist church.

Larry McKeever Heads Nature Club

Officers of the Peterborough Nature Club for 1949 were elected at the annual meeting of the club in the YMCA on Saturday night. The honorary presidents of the club are F. J. A. Morris, G. K. Fraser, MP, and M. V. Powell, past president of the club. The officers for this year are president, Larry McKeever; vice-president, Miss S. Bennett; secretary-treasurer, Lewis H. Bird. A committee of three members was chosen to advise the club consisting of E Whiteley, Mrs. C. Pilon and John Hooper.

Dr. George Stirrett, Dominion Wild Life Officer for Ontario spoke to the club on "Birds at Home." He talked on birds common to the Peterborough area and some from the States. His address was illustrated with a colored film called "Birds on the Home Front." This film was in three parts, insect-eating birds, seed-eating birds and the scavengers. Members were most impressed with the series of owl pictures which showed that these birds were more beneficial than harmful. There were some interesting pictures on the wild life bird sanctuaries near Cornell University in New York State.

Despite slippery conditions of the streets 49 members turned out to hear Dr. Stirrett who was introduced by Allan Brown.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

McHenry of Toronto University will use it as the basis for his talk to an open meeting of the Y's Men's Club held in the YMCA on Thursday, Feb. 3.

The general arrangements of the week are in charge of the Peterborough Branch of the Health League of which George Barns is the president.

Jewish Lodge Initiates 10 Men

The largest initiation held by Peterborough B'nai-B'rith since its foundation took place on Sunday when a team of members from Toronto initiated 10 members. The Toronto degree team, under the chairmanship of Eddy Winer, consisted of Sam Bernstein, Frank Herbert, Frank Garber, Phil Tarnow and Abe Kurtz.

Past President Isadore Black introduced Rabbi Kamerling, director of Hillel Foundation at the University of Toronto, who spoke about a number world problems. He said that man had substituted love of power for worship of God and that was the reason for disagreement on the question of atomic control and lack of unity in the United Nations organization. Family life had "broken down," he said, and the divorce rates was alarming.

The rabbi read the new constitution of the state of Israel, and referred to it as a secular document promoting the security and well-being of all. It protected the individual in his rights and followed the teachings of the Bible, he declared.

The program included two films.

Rabbi Joseph Mayer thanked the speaker and another prominent guest was Sol Berlin of Toronto, who is secretary of Eastern Council of B'nai-B'rith. President Yudin extended a vote of thanks to Irving Cipin, chairman of the membership committee, who was instrumental in obtaining the new members.

Those initiated were Rabbi Mayer, Dr. Ralph Green, Dr. Louis Zacks, Jack Alexander, Marvyn Bernstein, Sol Feldman, Al Pottens, Joe Rogow, Nat Silver and Alex Wagman.

SEE THEM WIGGLE, says Lionel Monk, 260 King George St., as he holds dew worms he picked from his lawn Sunday evening. Tom Jennings, of Bethany, looks over his shoulder speculating perhaps on how to keep them for the opening of the trout season next May.

Dew Worms In January Found On City Lawn Sunday

Dew worms in January are just about as unusual as a blizzard in July, but they were found Sunday night on the lawn of Lionel Monk, 260 King George St. The wiggiers were noticed as Monk and a visitor, Tom Jennings of Bethany, were crossing the lawn. They left the house to inspect Jennings' jeep, and Monk jokingly remarked as he picked up a hand torch, "I'm going after dew worms." As he crossed the lawn he shone the light on the grass which was bare of snow, and there they were. He collected ten large ones in a can in case some skeptics doubt his word. The worms were stretched at full-length on the grass and were lively and hard to catch.

The Monk lawn where the worms were found is an eastern exposure, and the snow melted on Saturday and Sunday when the temperature rose to 46 above.

ATTENDS C.N.I.B. MEETING

E. G. Brown, local field secretary of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, on Saturday attended a field secretary's meeting in Toronto. All of the 13 men present were blind.

SLIGHTLY CONFUSING

In the last few years the saying "Fill 'er up" has been coming back into use after the years of gas rationing. But one garage owner was caught unawares on Saturday when a farmer pulled into his gas station with a horse-drawn sleigh. He ordered the owner to "fill 'er up." The garageman looked at the horses then at the farmer wondering just who was sober. Finally from beneath a blanket a five-gallon gas can was produced.

DARK DEEDS IN HOGTOWN

For a nominal sum—the price of a cigar—a person can now taste the thrill of conniving with strangers to commit a crime in Toronto. With the recent prosecutions there under the Lord's Day Alliance for sale of smoking supplies, sale and purchase of such items on Sunday now approaches cloak-and-dagger style of dealings. This Sunday, one Peterborough man inocently ordered a package of cigarettes while paying for his meal in a restaurant. Glancing furtively about, the counterman surreptitiously slid the package across the counter, hoarsely whispered: "Quick, open the package and break the stamp — there may be police around!" Thousands of similar Sabbath transgressions in the Queen City are adding new zest to living in that metropolis.

Presents Trophy To Factories

The new trophy contributed by Mr. Ernest C. Braund for its industrial section will be presented to representatives of the Canadian General Electric Company at the annual meeting of the Horticultural Society Monday, Jan. 24 at the YWCA.

Most of Peterborough's industries spend considerable money on the appearance of their premises in lawns, trees, shrubs and flower beds. This practical interest has been encouraged by the Horticultural Society in recent years, but only a certificate was provided for the winner each year.

Aware of the lack of a trophy for this competition, Mr. Braund offered to provide one, and its first winner was the CGE in the quality of the work and appearance of the grounds of their property. Part of the regular scope of maintenance extends outside of the fences of the company to the margins of grass along the sidewalk, which get the same attention as the sward inside.

The Horticultural Society has been greatly impressed by the work of most of the manufacturing companies in the care of their grounds, and is now putting the emphasis, apparently, on the word "improvement."

The meeting Jan. 24 is open to the public. The Salvation Army male chorus will sing, refreshments will be served, there will be a guessing contest, annual business will be carried out and there will also be the presentation.

Peterborough Man Given Two Months

STRATFORD, Jan. 17—(CP)—Robert Lelan, 21, Arrow River, Man., and Brock Johnston, 21, Peterborough, today were each sentenced to two months on charges of stealing.

When they appeared last week, youths were remanded for sentence while their records were checked by crown. Leland had said he had been in trouble only for fighting and Johnston that he had been in trouble only for drunkenness.

Police said Leland was on two-year suspended sentence for false pretences conviction Aug. 11, 1947 and that Johnston was on parole on conviction for taking car without owner's consent.

Magistrate made Johnston's sentence consecutive with any term he might receive for violating parole.

The directors decided to hold their Black and White Day again at Lakefield fair, and will invite James Brown of Newcastle to be judge. The Association dinner date has not yet been decided, but will probably be toward the end of February.

Directors are engaging a C.P.R. coach for the trip to the provincial convention Feb. 2. Directors have tickets, which may be obtained by any person wishing to go.

16-Months-Old Baby Loses Eye In Fall Trips Over Brother Who Was Using Scissors

Barbara Ann McKinlay, the 16-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McKinlay, Brown St., is in St. Joseph's Hospital, where she had an eye removed on Saturday.

While playing in the front room of her home on Friday night, within sight of her mother, she fell over her brother, who was seated on the floor and his scissors pierced her left eye.

She was taken to the Clinic and later to St. Joseph's Hospital, where the damaged eye was removed on Saturday.

Hospital attendants said early today that her condition was satisfactory.

None of the family knows exactly how the accident happened. Dennis, 7, was seated on the floor in the front room of the upstairs apartment and was cutting out Christmas card pictures.

Barbara Ann was playing in the room and apparently attracted by his cut-outs she dashed toward him. In some way she lost her balance and fell forward onto the scissors.

As a taxi could not be obtained to rush the girl to hospital, a police cruiser answered the call.

Dr. B. H. Cragg performed the operation, assisted by Dr. N. D. Buchanan.

Samuel McKinlay, father of the injured girl, was informed of the accident at his place of employment in Montreal, and he returned home immediately.

Advance Payment of Taxes Causes Worry To Owners

Finance committee of the Council has decided that it cannot interfere in a plan of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to bring into effect advance payment of taxes on houses bought by tenants.

Several of the purchasers recently informed the Council that this change of policy was pinching their incomes and causing them worry.

While the company owned the houses and collected the rents from the tenants, Central Mortgage paid certain fixed annual amounts to the city in lieu of taxes. Tenants were given last year the opportunity of buying homes they occupied. They were required to pay 10 per cent. down, plus a monthly charge for principal, interest and taxes. It was agreed that they should pay off the principal and interest in 13 years, thereby obtaining full possession of their houses.

The new plan of payment was said to have been less than the previous monthly rent. Payments were determined, in many instances, on the basis of the 1947 tax rate, but last year's taxes increased. Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation asked the purchasers to make up that difference to balance the accounting at the end of the year. The difference was the amount of the city taxes in excess of the company's estimate of what the taxes would be.

Pay In Advance

It is also desired by the company that the taxes for 1949 be paid by June of this year, and beginning in July the payment of the 1950 taxes would begin in easy monthly instalments.

Complaints to the Council referred to immediate financing which included instalments covering the borrowing, in some cases, of the down payment, plus the principal, interest and some arrears. Some liability had also been incurred here and there for household improvements.

Most of the Central Mortgage or Wartime Housing subdivisions were laid down on expectations that eventually tenants would become owners. That development has been substantially accomplished. The public generally was interested in those projects because the Council had entered into agreements with the Crown company providing the land in most of the areas and also the community services, including education. Full taxes did not become payable until properties were bought from the company, which had agreed to pay fixed annual amounts instead of the taxes paid by the rest of the property owners in the city. And those "amounts in lieu of taxes" were considerably less than the taxes would have been from the beginning.

Meet Obligations

Many of the property owners were quite able to meet their commitments, and have paid them without any objection. It was said at the finance committee meeting that the new monthly charges, in most cases, did not exceed $30.

Ald. Arthur Burrows suggested that the Council could make some recommendation to Central Mortgage to provide a compromise for the benefit of those who were feeling the pinch. "It is the additional borrowing that is hurting them, because of the down payments in the first place. They are not asking amout 1950, but about this year."

His motion for compassionate consideration in the temporary circumstances was seconded by Ald. P. J. Anglesey, but majority sentiment of the committee was that it was a matter between the purchasers and the company, and also that other houses privately financed were in much the same position. Ald. Adam Sands said there might be 500 altogether buying these houses.

A motion by Mayor Swanston and Ald. H. Dodds expressed the opinion of the Council that this question was outside its responsibility, and lay entirely between Central Mortgage and the purchasing tenants.

Men Were Fired For Laziness

A denial that there had been "unfairness" in hiring D.P.'s to work at the new Civic Hospital after local men had been discharged was made today by the general superintendent of construction, L. L. Cumming.

Mr. Cumming was referring to a letter appearing elsewhere in this newspaper which states that six local men were laid off on Jan. 7 and three days later the vacancies were filled by D.P.'s.

"If these men had attended to their jobs properly they would still be working," he said. "They didn't, and they were fired."

"We're trying to get this hospital finished as soon as possible to benefit the people of Peterborough," said Mr. Cumming who works for the Eastwood Construction Co. "Some of the men haven't been pulling their weight and they were fired, that's all."

"What's more," he added, "if I feel like keeping D.P.'s I'll keep them. "They are steady workers —the ones fired were not—and you don't have to follow them around all the time to see if they keep busy."

Mr. Cumming said that if the D.P.'s did not measure up to the required standard they would be speedily chopped from the payroll also.

The letter complained that it was an act of unfairness to lay off men who are taxpayers and hire D.P.'s to fill these jobs.

J. H. Eastwood said to the Examiner today that he probably started the ball rolling when he told Mr. Cumming to cut down on costs.

"I guess he's clearing out his gang;" said Mr. Eastwood, "trying to weed out the inefficient workmen.

HAVELOCK, Jan. 17—(ENS). — Reports presented at the annual congregational meeting of the United Church on Thursday were a glowing record of achievement and service in all departments which marked 1948 as one of the most successful years in the history of the church. Following a brief devotional period F. Rogers reported for the session that 32 people had joined the church on profession of faith and two by certificate; baptisms, 62; marriages, 15; burials, 24. Average attendance was 77, and increase of 10 over the 1947 figure. Eighteen pupils were received into membership of the church.

Parsonage Board report given by E. D. Chiles showed expenditures of $1333.07 with a balance of $169.47 and in addition a credit for Victoria church or $63.

Miss Marie Vanderburgh reported for the Young People's Union; membership was 57, the expenditure of $101.75 included donations of $30 to the Moira Lake project and $30 to the M. and M. fund.

Three new organizations came into being in 1948; a boys' club for boys aged 9 to 12, organized by H. Agnew and a Young People's choir and Junior choir organised by W. M. Platt.

Mr. Agnew said the boys' club started with a membership of 5, who had increased to 20 with an average attendance of 16. He described the meetings and said they were now trying to organize two hockey teams in the groups.

W. M. Platt, reporting for the Young People's choir, expressed his thanks and appreciation to Mr. Vanderburgh, the Women's Association and the Board of Managers for their co-operation. Receipts were $90.60 with expenditure of $41.61 on material for gowns for the junior choir.

Help Mission Work

The mission work of the church was also a story of advancement with contributions of $770 to the missionary and maintenance fund, the remittance of $270 to presbyterial secretary by the Women's Missionary Society, which also sent two bales of of clothing to Korea and a bale to the United Church depot at Toronto for shipment abroad. The Evening Auxiliary sent $70 to the Presbyterial secretary and the Mission Band raised its allocation of $45. Subscription to the Upper Canada Bible Society were $69.75 and to the Ontario Temperance Federation, $90.25.

A vote of appreciation was extended by Miss Mary Seeney and seconded by F. Rogers to Mr. Vanderburgh for his devoted service and spiritual guidance since coming to Havelock.

On Mr. Rogers' proposal and additional $50 was voted to Mr. Vanderburgh for 1948, and he was asked to purchase a preaching gown in keeping with his degrees to be a gift from the congregation. Mr. Vanderburgh thanked the congregation, voicing appreciation for co-operation he had received and consideration shown during Mrs. Vanderburgh's illness. "It was the greatest and most ambitious year of our ministry" he said.

Mae West III Cancels Tour

BALTIMORE, Jan. 17 (AP) — Mae West, much sicker than she admitted when she insisted on leaving a hospital, was forced Sunday to cancel an appearance in Toronto in her stage play, "Diamond Lil," scheduled to have opened today.

After long consultation in her hotel suite, doctors said her condition, caused by an "abdominal obstruction," is too serious to permit her removal to a hospital until today.

Albert H. Rosen, co-producer of the play, disclosed he has called off Miss West's appearance this week in Toronto and next week in Buffalo and Syracuse, NY.

He said she complained Friday of severe pains in her side but insisted on filling her starring role in the production Friday night in Baltimore.

Early Saturday she was taken to University hospital. But soon afterward she demanded and was granted her release so she could return to the stage for Saturday night's scheduled closing.

Fatal Accident Toll Light For 2nd Week

By The Canadian Press

Despite icy roads that made driving treacherous in Ontario and Quebec, Eastern Canada for the second successive week-end had a light toll of fatal accidents.

A check of the five eastern provinces by The Canadian Press showed 11 fatalities, nine died in accidents the previous week-end.

The toll of pedestrians killed was comparatively heavy—three died in Quebec and two in Ontario.

Irene Longpre, 51, was run over by a Montreal Tramways autobus; Gabriel Demers, 35, of Ste. Therese, Que., was killed by a car on a highway near his home, and Elphage Lamarche, 70, also lost his life on a road near Repentigny, Quebec.

The body of a 42-year-old transient, Fred Holman, was found on the outskirts of Windsor Saturday and police said the driver of the car which struck him did not stop. Frederick Wright, 74, became the first traffic fatality of the year in St. Catharines, when he was killed by a bus Sunday night.

Hit By Train

Two Toronto youths, Kenneth Bowers, 18, and Warren Cook, 17, died at fog-shrouded level crossing at Brampton when a train plowed into the car in which they were travelling Saturday night to a dance at Guelph. The driver, Albert Dale, 18, was taken to hospital, severely injured.

Mrs. Mary Bertha Burns, 47, of Ahmerstburg died in Windsor Saturday of injuries suffered in a fire that destroyed a garage, converted into a home. Also in Windsor, Oliver Holt, 20, died when he was knocked from his bicycle.

Lucien Georffrey, 23, died Saturday in a Montreal hospital after fracturing his hip on the way to work Friday.

A lumber worker believed to be from Three Rivers, Que., Stanley Laramee, 45, was fatally injured when struck by a cordwood stick Friday at a Northwestern Lumber Camp near Armstrong.

Morley Callaghan Play Has Toronto Premiere

TORONTO, Jan. 17 —(CP)— Proof that Canadians can get enthusiastic about an internationally-known author presenting a premiere in his own back yard was shown here Friday night when Morley Callaghan's stage play "To Tell The Truth" was well received by a capacity 600 audience.

Cynicism versus idealism in the midst of a depression made an excellent theme for the new play society production. A cast of 24, well-directed by J. Mavor Moore, brought together young actors who started their stage career in all sections of Canada.

When a young Canadian gets a job serving coffee in an American lunch counter to find the color and adventure he missed in his own country, he is one flute-playing idealist against all the disillusionment of post-war America and depression.

A complex romance with a girl who really isn't as bad as her actions suggest almost convinces him that "all America is a fair promise of welcome and underneath a lie."

George the bus-boy, played by Toronto's Don Harron, finds "the truth" when he discards cynicism in favor of a fervent idealism.

"To Tell The Truth" was rehearsed by New York's Theatre Guild in 1939 under another name, but the production was interrupted by the war. Mr. Callaghan has rewritten it to include observations in Canada, post-war North America and some critics who think they have found "the answer." He even takes a crack at communism.

Twenty-year-old Dianne Foster, formerly of the Edmonton Community Theatre, does an excellent job in her portrayal of Dini who manages to get excited about circus tigers despite her dubious connections with a gambling hotel-owner.

What your life insurance company is doing to safeguard your health

Your life insurance company wants to do everything possible to help keep you in the best of health for the rest of your life. So, in cooperation with all other life insurance companies, it contributes funds to public health and medical research projects.

Some of these projects seek new methods of preventing heart ailments and such deadly diseases as cancer, tuberculosis and polio. Others search for scientific information to promote better nutrition, prenatal care and dental hygiene.

And because the life insurance companies help support these projects, more "men and women in white" work at these vital tasks. Laboratories expand and buy new equipment. Science makes greater headway in pushing back the frontiers of disease.

In addition some individual companies sponsor special health projects for the benefit of their policyholders.

All these efforts help to reduce the ultimate cost of life insurance. And they play an important behind-the-scenes part in helping you and your family to enjoy longer, healthier lives!

"RED REBEL" BATTLEGROUND; The fuse of a Cominform-Tito show-down sputters inside Yugoslavia as Red agents try to upset Tito from within. On the frontiers, Hungarian and Bulgarian troops (1 and 2) have been reinforced and pro-Tito Communists are being purged in Albania (3) by Soviet ax-man General Kovpak.

Soviets Marshal Forces For Showdown With Tito

By LEON DENNEN

ROME—(NEA).—Italian labor circles in close contact with the Yugoslav situation fear that the seething Balkan powder-keg is about to explode again. A Soviet-engineered coup d'etat against the "Red Rebel," Marshal Tito, is imminent, they believe, and both sides are marshaling troops and secret police for the showdown.

The "Tito threat" was the subject of prolonged discussion at a special meeting of the Cominform held recently at Sofia after the Bulgarian Communist Congress. Among those present, in addition to representatives from the Communist parties of Great Britain, France, Italy and the satellite countries, were the Russian Secretary of the Cominform, Yudin, as well as the Soviet General Sidor Artemovich Kovpak and the leader of the anti-Tito faction in Trieste, Vittorio Vidali.

Kovpak, 56-year-old partisan fighter and military confidant of Stalin, is an old hand at Balkan fighting.

Agent In US

Vadali, under the alias of Sormenti, was active during the last war as Moscow's agent in the United States and Mexico. He is said to have been the man who engineered the assassinations of Leon Trotsky and Carlo Tresca. Vidali is a bitter personal foe of Tito.

Immediately after the Sofia meeting, Cominform agents increased their pressure to upset the Tito regime from within. At the same time, Hungarian and Bulgarian troops, augmented by pro-Cominform Yugoslav deserters and Macedonian Irredentists, were held in readiness on the Yugoslav frontiers while General Kovpak, their commander-in-chief, went to Albania to participate in a large-scale purge of pro-Tito Communists.

Count Carlo Sforza, Italian Foreign Minister, recently accused Bulgaria and Hungary of violating the peace treaty limitations for their armed forces. Despite official satellite denials, observers arriving in Rome from Sofia report increased Bulgarian troop activity on the Yugoslav border with Yugoslavia is now being reinforced with substantial numbers of regular and NKVD troops under Soviet officers.

Preparing Forces

Reports from Yugoslavia indicate Tito is preparing to meet the attack. The purge of pro-Cominform elements in Yugoslavia exceeds even that of the satellite countries. An ex-Soviet agent himself, Tito, in the view of persons who have recently been in personal contact with him, will not be caught off-guard. After a brief period of hesitation he now realizes that as far as the Kremlin is concerned he has burned all his bridges behind him.

Tito is now gently preparing his followers not only for a political but also for a complete ideological break with Stalinism. As yet, to be sure, he has shown no sign that he wishes to be reconciled with the "capitalist" West. However, he has been making overtures to Italian socialists, whom he hitherto regarded as the "agents of capitalist imperialism."

End Justified the Means

A broad hint that Tito may use the Marxist but violently anti-Communist Social Democrats as a back door to the West was contained in his New Year's broadcast to the people of Yugoslavia in which he derided the political theory that "the end justifies the means."

"Great things," he said, "can never be built by foul means and in a dishonest way."

Although new for Tito, this theory has been preached by Social Democrats ever since the Bolsheviki seized power in Russia by violence and represents a sharp break with orthodox Leninist-Stalinist thinking.

A leading Italian Socialist familiar with Yugoslav events told this correspondent: "Tito, like all fanatical Communists, must learn the hard way. His conversion to Social Democracy will not resurrect the thousands of men and women he destroyed ruthlessly in the name of the theory which he now deplores. Nevertheless, the fact that, on the surface at least, he now rejects violence represents a significant step forward."

The quarrel between Tito and Stalin has its humorous side. Shortly before his break with the Cominform, Tito signed a contract with Czechoslovakia for coke. After the break, the Czechs refused to deliver. After prolonged negotiations, the Czechs, beset by their own economic troubles, consented to ship the coke to Yugoslavia — at prices double those originally asked. Tito's agents approached the Geneva office of the European Economic Mission of the United Nations which immediately supplied Yugoslavia with coke from Belgium and the Ruhr at one-third the price demanded by Czechoslovakia. The Czechs then accused the European Economic Mission of "sharp capitalist practices."

Miss Grace Yonge was appointed secretary and was asked to advertise the post.

Mrs. Frank Payne was present and discussed the insurance policies. As a result the insurance on contents of Lakefield High School was raised from $2,500 to $6,000, on a motion by trustees Fitzgerald and Pearson.

The regular meeting of the Board will be held in the school on the first Wednesday in every month at eight o'clock, unless it is a public holiday when meetings will be held the next day.

Inspector M. A. L. Lakie explained the money for borrowing was available from two sources: from Department of Education, grants and taxes. The board automatically assumed responsibility for the transportation of the High School students.

Mr. Mason tendered a vote of thanks to Inspectors Lakie and K. O. Birkin for their assistance in forming the Board.

Fears Federal Tax Agreement Permanent

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17 (CP)—George Drew, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, said Sunday there is danger of the Dominion-provincial tax agreement becoming permanent because of the Federal government's unwillingness to review its provisions.

He said the agreement, concluded by the Federal government and seven provincial administrations, was designed as a temporary exchange of provincial taxation revenues for federal subsidies.

"The agreement has now been in effect for two years," he said "There has been no attempt on the part of the Dominion to review its tax structure."

Mr. Drew and his wife arrived Sunday on the final leg of a Dominion-wide tour. Today they will plunge into an agenda of speeches and public appearances before leaving for Toronto by air Tuesday morning.

Plunge Into Creek

CHATHAM, Jan. 17.—(CP)—Two young men in an automobile miles early Sunday plunged 46 feet into McGrogors creek after driving off a dead-end street. VOLUNTARY RATIONING.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17—(CP)—Voluntary electric power rationing came to Vancouver during the week-end but citizens were slow in response to the appeal. British Columbia Electric Company officials and Mayor Charles Thompson asked Vancouverites to save power in electric cooking, lighting and heating.

Senate May Make Study Of Margarine Oils, Fats

OTTAWA, Jan. 17 (CP)—The Senate may undertake at the new session of Parliament a detailed study of importance if margarine is to become a widely-sold commodity in Canada.

It is a probe of the vegetable oils and fats situation in the country. Since the oils are the leading component of margarine, their importance is obvious.

Senator Wishart Robertson, government leader in the Chamber, gave notice towards the close of the last session that he would move at this session for the study.

He argues at that time that the supply of the oils was so small that the question of allowing the production of margarine was largely academic.

Hearings

The current series of hearings before the Board of Transport Commissioners is expected to occupy the board until late March, deferring the opening of its general freightrate inquiry until perhaps early April.

At present, the board is hearing a railway application for higher freight tolls and at the same time is receiving evidence on a cabinet-directed review of its decision in warding rate increases to the railways last March.

Beside that issue, the board also has before it an application from British Columbia for removal of the "mountain differential" freight rate on Rockies hauls. Evidence in that case has been completed, but argument is still to be heard by the board early in February.

Ships

Construction contracts for the navy's new sub-killing ships likely will not be let out until the fall.

The vessels, an improvement on Canada's frigate of the Second World war, are still in the blueprint stage and are far from completed even on paper, according to well-informed quarters.

New Appointment

TORONTO, Jan. 17. —(CP).—Ron F. Cladsby, formerly of the Canadian Press and newspapers in Toronto and Vancouver, has been appointed public relations officer for Trans-Canada Air Lines in the west, it was announced Sunday. His headquarters will be in Vancouver.

May Cut Meat Ration

LONDON, Jan. 17—(AP)—Britain's meat ration may be cut one-sixth by the end of February largely because of slow deliveries from the Argentine, the Star reported, Saturday. Each Briton now gets one shilling's (20 cents) worth of meat a week.

60 YEARS OF ACCOMPLISHMENT
1889 1949

This is the type of street car used in 1889. It ran on iron rails spiked to long timbers. Today street cars are bigger, faster, safer, more comfortable. Nickel has helped to make them so. Their frames, springs and many mechanical parts are made of nickel alloy steels to provide toughness, long life, and great strength with light weight.

How Nickel Benefits Canada

Since more than ninety per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is sold to the United States and other countries, it brings a constant flow of dollars back to Canada. In fact, Canada's Nickel industry is one of our chief sources of U.S. dollars so essential at the present time to maintain our foreign trade and make available products not produced in this country.

These dollars help pay the wages of the 14,000 Nickel employees, and help provide the dollars which make it possible to pay millions in freight to Canadian railways, to buy timber, steel, coal, machinery and supplies amounting to many millions each year.

These millions, flowing into all industries through the length and breadth of Canada, help create jobs for Canadians.

Father and Uncle Officiate As Joan Kelly Wed Today

By Candlelight from tall white tapers in Lakefield United Church this afternoon wedding rings and vows were exchanged by Marion Joan Kelly and John Douglas Nichols. The bride is the second daughter of the Rev. George F. Kelly and Mrs. Kelly of Lakefield, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jas. Nichols of Smith.

The church was beautifully decorated with daffodils and fern and wedding music was played by Mrs. E. Rath. The soloist was the bride's sister, Miss Helen Kelly, who sang "I'll Walk Beside You" while the register was signed.

Iron That Shirt In Five Minutes

Ironing a shirt needn't be a lengthy task; it can be done in five minutes as demonstrated in the Red Cross Homemaking Course. Sprinkle the laundered shirt and fold into a flat rectangle (rolling it in a little bundle makes many wrinkles.) Keep covered to prevent drying and allow to stand for at least one-half hour before ironing. Use a firm, well-padded board covered with a clean, securely-tacked covering. Be sure the light is good. Iron the right sleeve first, beginning with the cuff. Then do the collar, the back and the other sleeve. Finally, iron the two fronts by folding them over the back. Correct folding is important, to keep the shirt from drying out on the board. The skirt is kept folded except when you are ironing the right sleeve.

See Smart Suits In NY Show

NEW YORK, Jan. 17—(AP). — Spring suits of 1949 will be slim, softly tailored and notable for exquisite detail in trimmings of silk braid, beaded edges, buttons and contrasting fabrics appliques.

Skirts are for the most part slim and slightly shorter than those of last fall. Some are slit at side or back, some have a slight flare to allow ease of movement, a few are of the hobble-skirt peg-top silhouette.

Coppola uses numerous handsome imported woollens for a suit collection, destined to bring applause from the public. One of his headliners is a loose-jacketed, slim-skirted suit in navy imported wool, with diagonal stripes of pink inset in the jacket. Other suits, conservative in cut, often show contrasting fabrics in jacket and skirt.

Zuckerman-Kraus shows ultra-feminine suits with elaborate trimming detail, but for the most part simple lines. An example is a discreet, slim-lined diamond pin-check suit in black and white, with collars, cuffs and pockets edged in narrow white braid encrusted with tiny yellow beads. It sounds fussy, but manages to have a well-bred, primly-tailored air.

Many of the suits have turnback cuffs this season, which may be worn at bracelet length.

Change of Food Scenery Is What Most People Crave

By MARY MOORE

A manager-dietitian for a well-known chain of restaurants told me of her theories and secrets, which she had discovered in catering to the public appetite for over ten years.

She says people crave change.

For instance, she says patrons will so eagerly ask the waiters "What's good today?"

My dietitian friend says they always try to have some dish that has universal appeal plus some added glamour in cooking treatment or accompaniment to appeal to the imagination.

Instead of saying "Boiled Beef with Gravy ("to you muttered into the beard) the waiter can say "I suggest the Braised Short Ribs of Beef, sir, with Herb Sauce".

She told me of one specialty that surprised them with its popularity — French Toast Sandwich. This started out to be part of a medium-priced club breakfast. When it was so well received they changed the filling and offered it with their medium-priced evening meal.

I like the idea of French Toast in any form. It means if you have eggs on hand and no meat, OR if meat is too expensive, OR if you just plain do not want meat, you can arrange an attractive vegetable plate around the French Toast Sandwich—and still have that much-vaunted well-balanced meal.

French Toast—Including sandwiches, with various breakfast and supper filling.

Three well beaten eggs, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¾ teaspoon sugar, 1 cup whole milk, 6 slices bread. Add salt, sugar and milk to eggs and mix well. Soak each slice bread in this mixture until soaked through. But do not let the bread soak so long it becomes too soft to handle. Fry in melted butter or margarine or bacon fat until golden on one side, turn and fry other side golden. Serve at once.

For Breakfast sandwiches, do not soak the bread quite so much. First spread the bread with some such spread as apple butter, raspberry jam or marmalade or whatever "sweet" you have or prefer—I like black curant jelly or jam; cover with an other slice bread pressing together, then dip it in the egg and milk mix, but not for too long. Fry as for French Toast above.

Since the filling does not receive any direct heat, or enough to cook raw meat, the fillings for the supper sandwiches should be of cooked meat. Such as fried chopped bacon, liverwurst, minced ham or chicken, etc. If you use the ham filling try adding a very little finely chopped sweet pickle.

With the present prices of beef and pork for roasting, chicken does not become as much of a luxury as it used to be. That is the reason why I am giving you a recipe—my restaurant-dietitian friend's—for Cream of Chicken Soup. This again can be used for a meal where other meat is missing or in short supply.

Cream of Chicken Soup

Melt 4 tablespoons chicken fat or butter in top of double boiler over direct heat and stir in 4 tablespoons flour. Add 3 cups chicken broth (from boiling a fowl) and 1 cup top milk, and cook over boiling water, stirring until thick. Add about ½ cup shredded cooked chicken, 1 very finely chopped hard cooked egg, very small amounts of chopped chive and parsley, ¼ teaspoon celery seed powder OR finely chopped celery leaves up to 1 tablespoon, and salt and pepper to taste. This is delicious for Sunday night's tea with a large fresh fruit salad with cheese, on lettuce.

The banjo has been described as America's only national musical instrument, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

DOROTHY DIX

Boy Told Get Around More Self Pity Won't Help Much

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a boy 17 who has only one leg since a year ago when I was injured in a car accident. I sit at home all day and when I do go out everybody seems to be staring at me. I haven't an ugly face, but I can't seem to make any friends—either boys or girls. When I go near a girl she seems frightened of me and sometimes she even runs away.

Dorothy Dix

I need your advice desperately, so please tell me what to do.

GEORGE

ANSWER: The best piece of advice that I can give you, George, is to snap out of the morbid state of mind into which you have gotten and face life with courage, instead of cowardice. No one will minimize the misfortune it is to lose a leg, but you lose something far more important to you than a limb when you lose your grit and spunk and the determination to succeed, no matter what blows Fate may deal you.

Cry-babies get nowhere, so quit being sorry for yourself. Don't let one bit of bad luck put you on the do-nothing stool for life. Don't ask anybody for sympathy. Just show them that you can take whatever happens to you and that you are not going to throw up your hands and quit just because the sledding is hard. We get tired of helping weaklings, but when we see men or women who are making a gallant fight against handicaps, we boost them. God helps those who help themselves.

No Museum Spectacle

You say that people stare at you on the street because you are crippled. That's not true. Too many man have lost their legs to make you a museum spectacle. You say you have no friends among the boys and girls and that girls avoid you Well, why wouldn't they when all you do is to sit at home and mope, which make you very dull company? It would be a different story if you made yourself the most interesting, the most cheerful, the most companionable boy in your set.

The wars that we have just been through have left many thousands of men far worse crippled than you are, yet they are going about the business of life without whinning or complaining. They are the unsung heroes who makes us want to take off our hats to them every time we see them. Imitate them, George.

DEAR MISS DIX: I go out to work at six every morning and return at 4.30 with a real appetite, but I never smell a good dinner cooking. Golly, how I would like to sit down to a good steak, well done, like Mother used to cook! My wife and baby go out in the afternoons and are always out when I get home, so I sit and wait for them and it is another hour before my wife slams a half-cooked meal on the table, with never a home-made pie to satisfy a man's appetite.

I don't like to complain to my wife about it, but I certainly do envy the fellows who say that they demand a good dinner already prepared and ready to sit down to when they get home from work. Should I demand that my wife feed me on the food I like, or should I eat what is set before me and make no comments?

HUNGRY HUSBAND

ANSWER: The time-honored recipe for retaining a husband's affections has always been "feed the brute," and it still works in spite of the efforts that so many modern wives have made to convert their husbands to plain living and high-thinking diets. Which probably accounts for the increase in the number of divorces.

But what a man is to do about it when he has a good appetite and a wife who is allergic to the kitchen, and who never sets before him a meal that is fit for a civilized human being to eat, is a problem that is not only hard to solve, but that wrecks many a home. For, no matter how bum a cook a woman is, she won't stand for any criticism of the tasteless messes on which she feeds her family. And rather than start a row at the table, most husbands gulp it down in silence.

The remedy for the situation seems to be for prospective husbands to be forehanded enough to sample a girl's cooking before they marry her.

✣ ✣ ✣

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I want to get married. My fiance wants to put off our marriage until he is making enough to support a wife. I feel that he is being very old-fashioned. Which one of us do you think is right?

J. B. M.

✣ ✣ ✣

ANSWER: Your fiance is right, and if waiting to marry until you can afford it is old-fashioned, let's pray God to make it the vogue. No marriage can be happy that has not a stable background. Nobody can stay in love when he is tormented with anxiety about how he can live. Anything that is worth having is worth waiting for.

Directions

A beef stew can be made deliciously without filling it full of forbidden calories. Cut stewing beef into 1½-inch cubes, roll in flour which has been seasoned with salt and pepper, saute in minimum amount of bacon drippings until golden brown, cover with boiling water, simmer, covered until meat is tender—adding vegetables such as quartered carrots, whole small onions, strips of turnip and celery, ½ hour before serving time. Taste for salt. A bay leaf may be added 12 minutes before serving time.

A delicious fruit cup is made of fresh grapefruit sections, no membrane, whole canned apricots, green and red maraschino cherries, and sliced bananas added just before serving—no sugar.

To make tuna a la king saute ½ seeded, chopped, green pepper with ¼ lb. sliced mushrooms in 1½ tablespoons butter or margarine in top of double boiler over direct heat for 5 minutes. Add teaspoon grated onion, 1½ tablespoons flour, generous shake of salt and pepper and paprika, 5 or 6 drops of tobacco sauce, the can of tuna (7 oz.) and heat over boiling water 2 minutes then add 1¼ cups milk and stir until thick. Pour over 1 beaten egg, then return all to double boiler stirring. Heat through and serve on buttered toast or waffles or in pastry cases. Shrimps or raw oysters may be substituted for the tuna.

Making Use of the Liquid Around Canned Vegetables

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Frequently canned fruit and vegetables as well as fish are cheaper than fresh or quick frozen. When they are, use them in your budget menu.

Budget every penny's worth out of each can. Several ways to do this are recommended.

The most important one consists of pouring the liquid which contains valuable nutrients into a saucepan, heating it slowly until it has been reduced to half its original volume, and then putting the solid food from the can back into that liquid for heating. Both the solid and the fluid should be consumed to get the most nutritive value out of the canned foods.

Other ways to use the liquid from canned vegetables in gelatin salads, in sauce for baked foods, combined with tomato juice for beverage cocktail, to thin evaporated milk, to thin condensed soups, in cream sauce, in cooked salad dressing, in stews, in meat sauce and gravy.

Don't Waste Fruit Sirup

Use sirup from canned fruits on cereals, in gelatin salads, in fruit beverages, such as punch or lemonade, added to citrus juices for breakfast, in dessert sauces, to baste ham, for sirup on waffles or pancakes, to sweeten market fruits, in fruit French dressing, in ice cream and sherbet, for glazes, to make jelly.

Use oil and liquid from canned fish in baked seafoods, in cream sauce for seafoods, in French dressing (oil only) for fish salads, to season rice to serve with fish, with lemon juice to marinate seafood salad ingredients.

Here are some menus using canned food items. They supply the recommended dietary allowances.

LUNCHEON: Vegetable macaroni and cheese, sweet sour spinach, crisp relish, bread, butter fruited gelatin, milk, tea.

LUNCHEON: Tomato cheese rarebit on toast, bacon, salad cinnamon toast strips, milk, tea.

DINNER: Ham hock and green beans, baked potatoes, scalloped tomatoes, pickles, celery, cornbread, butter, cherry tarts, coffee.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Tomato juice, ready-to-eat cereal, sausage, enriched toast, butter, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Browned corned beef hash, beet relish, enriched rolls, butter, canned peaches, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Creole meat loaf, scalloped potatoes, butter peas and mushrooms, enriched bread, butter, celery and radishes, pumpkin pie, coffee, milk.

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: Help! It is about fruit cakes again.

I made Emem's dark rich fruit cake for Christmas and it turned out deliciously. Now, in the flurry of moving I discover that it, the recipe, has become misplaced, and I need it so badly—this time for a wedding cake.

I would be tremendously relieved and grateful if you could send it to me, as soon as your busy life would allow it.

I do look forward to your column. I think you are an asset to the paper and your sound as thought you enjoy your work. I enjoy mine too—wife, and mother to a lively young son. Many thangs—Hazel H.

✣ ✣ ✣

ANSWER:

Emem's Rich Dark Fruit Cake

One pound moist fresh citron pel, 1 pound candied cherries, 1 can crushed pineapple, 3 pounds seedd raisins (Sultanas can be used but for perfection you should use either seeded Lexias or Valencias), 1 pound clean currants, ½ pound blanched almonds, 3 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon each baking powder, cinnamon, nutmeg, ½ teaspoon cloves, ½ pound each butter and brown sugar, 6 eggs, 1 cup cider. Slice citron very thin if it is not bought chopped, and cut cherries each in two or four pieces. Wash raisins and currants and dry them. Blanch almonds—leaving them whole, or chopping them if desired. Add all of these to the crushed pineapple in large mixing bowl. Measure the flour and sift it with the spices and baking powder. Combine fruit and flour mixtures by stirring for 10 minutes. Cream butter and sugar well together then add the beaten yolks to them. Add this to the fruit and flour mixture, then add cider. Beat egg whites stiff and fold them in. Fill 4 average-sized loaf pans, which have been lined with buttered brown paper or parchment paper, about three-quarters full of batter. These cakes may be steamed for 2½ hours then baked for ½ hour or it may be baked for 3 hours in oven 275 deg. Fahr. in which flat pan of water has been placed. Keep water in pan throughout baking. These amounts yield 10 pounds fruit cake.

QUESTION: A friend of yours told me you had the recipe for chocolate pie that you flavor with peppermint; this does not call for cornstarch—only gelatine. Could I have this recipe. I think it is like chocolate chiffon pie—only flavored with peppermint.—Andy

ANSWER:

Chocolate-Peppermint Chiffon Pie

(This is a delicious but very rich pie—do not have a heavy meals ahead of it.)

One baked pie shell, 1¼ tablespoon gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, ½ cup boiling water, 2 squares unsweetened cooking chocolate, 3 eggs, yolks and whites separated, 1 cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 2 drops oil of peppermint, ½ cup heavy cream, whipped, ¼ to ½ cup very finely crushed peppermint stick candy or peppermint flavored barley sticks. Soak the gelatine in the cold water for 5 minutes. Heat boiling water with the chocolate over boiling water, and beat until smooth. Remove from heat and add soaked gelatine and stir until dissolved. Pour over the beaten egg yolks which have been combined with ½ cup of the sugar, beating, then add salt and peppermint. Chill until partially set. Beat egg whites until quite stiff, and gradually add remaining sugar to them while beating until stiff. Fold into first mixture then pour into baked shell. Chill. Top with whipped cream, and sprinkle with crushed peppermint candy.

Weather conditions are recorded by movements of birds, animals, and insects, as faithfully as by the modern scientific instruments.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are entertaining guests when a neighbor comes to the door on an errand, and on seeing the guests says that he will come back later.

WRONG WAY: Insist on his coming in and meeting the guests and joining the party.

RIGHT WAY: Invite him in if you wish, but don't be insistent about it.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP
is a lot of little things

BE PROMPT—MAKE PROMPTNESS A HABIT

A good habit, and a necessary asset in these busy times, is promptness. Being late for an appointment, whether it is a business date, an engagement with friends, or a visit to the dentist, causes delay and inconvenience to others as well as to you. Remember, other people's days are busy too. Why not leave a little earlier and be on time? Promptness is an easy habit to acquire, and one that pays off in "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citisenship.

Believe Cripps Has Job To Keep Unity

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Jan. 17 — (CP) — Members of Parliament return to Westminster this week after a month-long Christmas recess for a session at which the 1950 election campaigns of the rival parties should begin to emerge.

Exchanges between Labor and the Conservative opposition will intensify in bitterness from the start of the proceedings Tuesday. But the voting public will be looking for something more than the members' ability to demolish their opponents' arguments. They'll be looking for clues as to the respective party programs.

As far as Labor is concerned, the big question seems to be: shall we put on the brakes or continue full-steam-ahead with policies of nationalization, social welfare and security?

High Labor officers are known to disagree on this point. Some are said to think the government should call a temporary halt to nationalization of industry at least until the first half-dozen schemes are working more smoothly than at present.

Others argue labor is pledged to a program of "full" nationalization and that failure to fulfil it might antagonize rank-and-file followers.

Unions Disagree

And how will those followers feel if the government continues to turn down cold their demands for wage increases? True enough, the Trades and Congress has given official endorsement to wage stabilization but individual unions have not been deterred from pressing claims.

Consequently the government's speeches on domestic matters will be watched intently. Some observers think Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will need all his skill and strength to keep the cabinet united behind the his present wage policy.

The Conservatives, too, will have to begin showing their hand more plainly. Their attitude so far has largely been to wait and see, promising to adapt policy to the conditions of the times.

—Ever remembered by daughter Hazel, sons Vincent and Stan and families.

MOUNTNEY—In loving memory of my dear sister who passed away one year ago January 16, 1948.
Just one year ago dear Edna,
But as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of sorrow,
Thoughts of you are always near.
The flowers I place upon your grave,
May wither and decay,
But the love of one who sleeps beneath,
Shall never fade away.
—Ever remembered by sister, Jean Woodcox.

WHITNELL—In loving memory of Archibald Whitnell who passed away four years ago, January 16, 1945.
Faithful unto God and man
And to his duty true,
He died to live forever,
In the hearts of those he knew.
—Sadly missed by sister-in-law and family, Mrs. M. Whitnell.

WHITNELL—In loving memory of Archibald Whitnell, who passed away four years ago January 16, 1945.
There is someone who misses you sadly,
And finds the time long since you went.
There is someone who thinks of you always,
And tries to be brave and content.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent the voice we loved to hear,
'Tis sad but true I wonder why,
The best are always the first to die.
—Sadly missed by your loving nephew and niece Dan and Glad Whitnell.

WANTED
TWO MIDDLE-AGED
BUSINESSMEN OR SALESMEN

WANTED: Two Mature Businessmen or Salesmen who will represent Canadian firm. G. A. Holland, new man starting mid-year, earned $2,194.36 in a three months' period. Average: Over $700.00 per month. D. W. Orr earned $4,494.75 first seven months. In past 2 years, Dave Jones earned $17,376.37, working only about nine months per year. Earnings right at start: S. N. Tansley $103.00 first 3 hours. T. D. Stockwell $167.85 first day. V. L. McCullough, $526.00 first week. Over 150 of our men have earned $400 to $3,000 in one month, many being new men. (These are SWORN STATEMENTS.) These gross earnings are, of course, exceptional. Many of our top men have been doing this well for years. It's a foregone conclusion that they will do even better now with increased demand. Men who were "bankrupt" when they started now have big new homes, some two cars instead of one, are sending children to college and enjoying security for the future. Man is needed for this area—also several others for nearby territories. Our most successful men are those who are able to be away from home travelling one or two weeks at a time—outdoors in healthful, fascinating occupation. Our Product (U.S. Pat. No. 2,393,915, Canadian Patent Applied for) is sold on long trial credit terms, no down payment, to high-grade, dignified trade such as manufacturers, business officials, schools, merchants, large farm and ranch owners. Immediate delivery. Earnings advanced weekly. Big season just ahead. Rush name, age for full details. Vice-President Dept. Y, P.O. Box 158, Terminal "A," Toronto, Ontario.

Congress To Pass Truman Pay Raise

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP.), —A pay raise and a new Secretary of State for President Truman were ticketed for quick approval today as Congress buckled down to work after two weeks of getting started.

Speaker Sam Rayburn told reporters a bill boosting the Presidential salary from $75,000 to $100,000 a year, would pass the House easily. Then it goes to Truman for his signature.

Senate leaders said they would roll up a big vote, too, for Dean Acheson to be Secretary of State. That, expected Tuesday, will be the first Presidential nomination confirmed by the new 81st Congress.

If the pay bill is to do Truman any good, it has to become a law before he takes the oath of office Thursday noon. In addition to the raise, the bill would increase his tax-free expense account from $40,000 to $90,000 a year.

Woman Raped In Train Berth

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17—(AP)—The case of reported rape in lower berth five of the Southern Pacific's West Coast Limited today was left in the hands of railroad and Oregon investigators.

Two sailors questioned for 7½ hours in Los Angeles following a 1,000-mile, two-state inquiry on the train were released to proceed to their station in San Diego. Authorities said no one else was in custody.

Mrs. Opal Holmes, 35-year-old mother of two sons, who reported the assault to the train crew, then to District Attorney Dayton Van Vactor of Klamath Fals, Ore., was in seclusion wih relatives in the Los Angeles area. She would make no statement.

The case recalled the "murder in lower 13" aboard the same train in the same locality Jan. 23, 1943, when Mrs. Martha Virginia Brinson James, 21, pretty wife of a navy petty officer, was found ravished and her throat cut. She died without identifying her attacker. Subsequently a negro assistant cook on the train, Robert E. Lee Folkes, 23, was convicted and executed in Oregon's gas chamber.

Mrs. Holmes also was unable to identify her assailant. She told Klamath Falls authorities, where the train was held 4½ hours Saturday, that someone crept into her berth while the train was near Oakridge, Ore. When she realized she was being forcibly attacked she screamed. She was aware of a man fleeing through the aisle, ripping berth curtains as he went.

UAW Expected To Request 15-Cent Raise

DETROIT, Jan. 17.—(AP). — The United Auto Workers (CIO) will place "major emphasis" on pension and medical care plans in its fourth-round post-war bargaining.

But it also will demand a wage increase sufficient to restore buying power to the level of June, 1946, when price Controls were abolished.

At present price levels, the union estimates an increase of about 15 cents an hour would be necessary. The forthcoming negotiations in the spring will mark the fourth occasion since the war that the union has made major wage demands.

The U.A.W.'s economic demands were drawn up earlier this week by the international executive board. They were outlined Saturday in a letter to all union locals from President Walter P. Reuther.

To back the demands, the board voted to slap a special $1 assessment on each UAW member.

The Ford Motor Company probably will be the first major manufacturer to get the UAW's fourth-round demands. Although the Ford contract runs to July 15, negotiations can get under way 60 days before that.

Chrysler Corporation's contract with the union, extending to August, 1950, may be reopened for wage talks once after June 15.

General Motors Corp., other "big three" automotive concern, will be freed from contract discussions this year through a two-year automatic cost-of-living signed last May.

California Has 3rd Cold Week

CHICAGO, Jan. 17 — (AP). — The fury of a widespread storm left hundreds of persons stranded yesterday in the Rocky Mountain region and sent Southern California into its third week of freezing temperatures.

A Southern Pacific Railroad train was sent out of Lordsburg, NM, last night to rescue motorists stalled in an estimated 300 cars west of there.

The town's six hotels and eight tourist courts had become jammed and many private homes were taking in some of the 500 or 600 extra families already there.

Snowfalls ranging from 12 inches at Duncan, Ariz., to 19 inches at Morenci closed highways.

A Southern Pacific official said that the relief train had picked up 200 stranded motorists in less than three hours.

Today's freezing temperatures in Southern California followed a damaging gale in the area yesterday and the forecast was for colder tonight.

Chase Down Clue In Soldier's Death

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(CP). — Scotland Yard detectives are chasing down a clue they think might provide the final solution to a murder of a Canadian soldier Sept. 14, 1945.

The victim was Capt. John Alexander Ritchie. He was attacked by two men outside a cafe in London's underworld district. A brick was used to beat Ritchie's head in.

Robert Blaine, 24, a British soldier, was hanged for his part in the murder but a second man escaped.

Last month a chance enquiry by Lancashire police over a stolen seaman's identity book was reported. A detective who worked on the murder decided the man mentioned in the Lancashire report—a 24-year-old Glasgow seaman—was worth interviewing.

The trail led to a New York State institution where a man sentenced for larceny awaited deportation. Fingerprints and photographs were radioed from the United States to Scotland Yard.

Now two senior police inspectors are standing by to sail for the United States to see the man.

Escape Night Club

Ask For Drastic Revision Of U.S. Espionage Laws

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—A sweeping revision of the United States espionage laws has been proposed by Attorney-General Tom Clark as protection against "the treacherous operations of those who would weaken our nation internally."

He asked Congress for unprecedented peacetime power to press spy charges no matter how long ago the offence occurred, and said law officers should have the legal right to tap wires for evidence in such cases.

The bill Clark sent Friday night to Congress embodies the unanimous recommendations of an interdepartmental committee made up of experts from the army, navy and Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Besides request for power to get evidence by tapping wires and by-pass the statute of limitations in spy cases, he asked changes in the espionage laws to:

Make the unauthorized possession of restricted government documents a felony.

Make illegal the unauthorized handling of national defence information which could be used "to the advance of any foreign nation"—instead of requiring intent to injure the United States, as at present.

Punish failure to report the loss, theft, "abstraction, destruction or unlawful transmission" of restricted information.

Require the registration as foreign agents of all persons in the United States who ever received instructions or training in espionage and sabotage under a foreign government "or foreign political party."

Says Students Lose Religion

OMEMEE, Jan. 17 —(ENS)—Thy Kingdom Come through the Teaching Ministry of the Church was the theme of the January meeting of Trinity United Church Women's Missionary Society on Wednesday.

The meeting was held at the home of Miss C. Connell and Miss O.Wilton and was conducted by Mrs. Moyer's group.

Assisting Mrs. Moyer in the worship service were Mrs. E. Bradburn, Mrs. B. Pogue, Mrs. R. Bradley and Mrs. I. Connell. In the presentation of the study chapter, Mrs. B. Mrs. Moyer stressed the objective of education which she said was to Christianize the students and the homes to which they belong, and visualized great possibilities where both heads of the home were Christians. She deplored the fact that in some Canadian medical colleges she had found that the instruction was as to weaken the faith of the student. Mrs. E. Connell gave a brief summary of christian education in West China. After a period of silent prayer, Mrs. R. Bradley offered special prayer for the West China christian workers.

Mrs. Williamson read a letter announcing the annual meeting of Lindsay Presbyterial in Cambridge St. United Church, Lindsay, on Feb. 11. Mrs. H. Deyell was appointed official delegate and all members were encouraged to attend.

WON'T FIGHT IN PALESTINE--BEVIN SAYS

Chinese Govt. Begins Evacuation

All Of North China Falling Apart; Chiang Will Stay

NANKING, Jan. 18.—(AP). — Nationalist North China was falling apart today, and foreign diplomats expected at any time to be notified that the Nanking government was being dispersed for safety reasons.

An order to this effect, an authoritative foreign office source said, is being prepared. But, he added, that does not mean Nanking is being abandoned as the capital. It will remain as such as long as President Chiang Kai-shek stays there.

Neither, he said, will the Chinese foreign office ask foreign diplomats to pull out of the potential battleground. Instead, they will be told that the Chinese government no longer can be responsible for the safety of those who chose to remain. Almost all embassies are expected to stay on.

The foreign office, as usual, had no comment on the reported plan of dispersing the National government. But usually reliable sources said the notification will say that the foreign office itself is being southward, probably to Canton, while other national ministries are being scattered into areas well below the Yangtze river.

Up to Peiping

PEIPING, Jan. 18.— (AP). — There were strong indications today that historic Peiping would surrender or fall to the Communists shortly.

National Commander Gen. Fu Tso-Yi's own newspaper asserted the National government in Nanking had authorized Peiping officials to decide for themselves on peace or war.

But whatever the decision, the encircling Communists made it plain they would citate the terms. The Reds turned deaf ears to a proposed mission from Peiping to

Planning Food With Drinks In Beer Parlors

TORONTO, Jan. 18 (CP) — Patrons soon will be able to eat as well as drink in Ontario Beverage rooms.

That's the word from William T. Nugent, vice-chairman of the Ontario Liquor Licence Board, who yesterday answered objections from London, Ont., hotel men that, while the law does not forbid sale of food in beverage rooms, Liquor Board inspectors do not permit it.

"I have good news for you," he told the annual convention of the Ontario Hotel Association. "Permission will probably be forthcoming in the near future."

Except in cocktail dining lounges, it has been impossible for beer drinkers to eat while drinking since 1917. And in those First World War days, the food was free.

The Hotel Keepers were told their suggestion of being allowed to serve beer in hotel guest rooms was likely to be turned down by the Liquor Board.

Not Much Chance

Nor was there much chance of beverage rooms returning to the pre-war opening hour of 10 a.m., in place of the present noon start.

The Association decided to propose that cocktail lounges be permitted in communities of less than 50,000 population. Delegates from smaller cities and towns said there was "discrimination" in present regulations which provide for lounges in Ontario's five large cities and not elsewhere unless citizens of smaller cities endorse them by plebiscite.

A brief to be presented to the Attorney-General by the Association calls for reduction in the gallonage tax, elimination of the transfer tax, permission to serve more than one glass of beer at a time to a customer and revision of regulations requiring one serving table to every 12 square feet of floor space.

Truck Overturns 2 Men Injured

WARKWORTH, Jan. 18. — (Staff).—Two men were injured —one of them seriously—when a truck loaded with 17 hydro workers overturned in a ditch four miles north of here on a county road. Forty-year-old Turner Ostrom of Warkworth, was taken to Belleville Hospital with chest injuries, a fractured collarbone and fractured ribs. George Sunstrum, Golden Lake, foreman of the gang, who was riding in the truck cab with the driver, received several deep cuts on the face.

The truck, driven by Howard Lynch, RR 4, Lindsay, was on its way to the men's boarding house near Warkworth when it skidded rounding a curve. The 15 men in the back were badly shaken up as the vehicle went into the ditch and several received cuts.

Provincial Constable George Coling, of Brighton, investigated.

Swindle Reaped Millions But Ponzi Dies Pauper

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 18—(AP).—Charles Ponzi, whose financial swindles rooked thousands in the United States a generation ago, died Saturday in a hospital charity ward. His body still lay unclaimed today in a public morgue. When death came, he was semi-paralyzed and partly blind. He was unable to move his left arm or leg. Most of the sight had gone from his right eye. He was 71.

Ponzi's colossal financial hoax was perpetrated in 1920. He promised 50 per cent. returns on money within 45 days. When he finally was brought to book on charges of using the mails to defraud, Federal investigators estimated he had bilked 40,000 Americans of more than $15,000,000.

He was deported from the United States to his native Italy and he came to Brazil in about 1930.

Doctors said hardened arteries and a blood clot in the brain caused his death.

Ponzi's frauds were perpetrated mainly from Boston. His victims were stretched from coast to coast and he even attracted some from Europe. In those days he was a slight man, only a fraction more than five feet tall.

His glib promises to double money within three months lured savings from widows, old maids, young men and able business men alike. Many, in and out early enough, pocketed profits from the great financial juggling act. But most were stuck. Ponzi served four years in the county jail in Plymouth.

By the time he reached Brazil, Ponzi had lost nearly all, but was not quite destitute. He made a meagre living teaching English and drew a little Brazilian unemployment compensation.

Ponzi emigrated from Italy to Canada, working as a laborer and clerk and at odd jobs. He went to the United States when he was 23.

While in the Dominion he was tried and convicted on a forgery charge. He served 20 months in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary at Montreal, then was paroled.

Later, in Atlanta, Ga., he served a brief prison term after being convicted of smuggling aliens into the United States across the Canadian border.

Ponzi took his fall from fortune with philosophy. He still was able to chuckle when he remembered his get-rich-quick schemes.

The man who used to carry up to $2,000,000 in his pockets recalled recently how he once was rolling in money—somebody else's money.

PC Senator Dies In Montreal

MONTREAL, Jan. 18 (CP) — Senator C P. Beaubien, prominent in Canadian political and financial circles since the beginning of the century, died last night at his suburban Outremont home after a brief illness. He was 78.

A traditional Conservative, he entered politics early in life and in 1913 was made a Senator. In 1927, he was joint-chairman of the National Conservative Convention that selected the late Viscount Bennett as leader.

His death cut the Progressive Conservative strength in the Senate to 15. There are 65 Liberals and 16 vacancies.

Senator Beaubien was educated as a lawyer and later became well-known in the business world. He was also an educationist who approached the subject with a rich background of broad culture gained from inquiry and wide travel.

He was a delegate to many international conferences from 1919 to 1934.

He became a director of many corporations, including the Dominion Coal and Steel Company; Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company; Beaubien, Ltd.; Banque Canadienne Nationale; Canadian Car and Foundry Company, Ltd.; British American Oil Company; Canada Life Assurance Company.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 18.—(CP).—An RCAF transport took off from Rivers, Man., today with a doctor en route to Baffin Island, 2,000 miles away, where an ailing radio operator is awaiting medical aid.

The RCAF said last night that the Dakota would fly an army doctor to attend Dunn and that the radio operator would then be flown back to Winnipeg for treatment.

The recording, played at his funeral, was made shortly before his death.

CPR Requests 55 Per Cent Mail Boost

Consider Further Rise In Competitive Rates On Freight

OTTAWA, Jan. 18.—(CP).—The Canadian Pacific Railway is considering further increases in "competitive" freight rates and also is seeking a 55-per-cent boost in its charges for carrying mail, the Board of Transport Commissioners was told today.

C. E. Jefferson, general traffic manager of the C.P.R., gave this evidence as the board resumed its freight-rate hearings after a week-end recess.

"Competitive" rates are rates which have been depressed from standard by the railways to meet outside competition. They can be increased up to the standard without permission from the board.

A 15-per-cent increase in the depressed competitive rates was put into effect by the railways last September. Today, Mr. Jefferson said he did not know how much of a further hoist they could "stand."

On the mail charges, he said the C.P.R. had asked the Federal government for the 55-per-cent increase, which would yield $2,000,000 a year if it were granted in full.

However, he added, the company had got "no encouragement" from the government, though the application was still pending.

4 Million Increase

Mr. Jefferson also calculated that the CPR might get $4,000,000 a year from an increase in railway fares which it proposes to seek by asking the government to eliminate the 15-per-cent tax on fares and let the railways increase their rates by the same amount.

Under questioning by Mr. Sheppard, the official said these possible additional revenues had not been taken into account in the CPR's forecasts of 1949 revenue on which it bases its current application for a general 20-per-cent increase in freight rates.

Mr. Jefferson said last September's increase in competitive rates had not been applied to the CPR's "agreed charges"—special rates granted by the railways by contract with certain large-volume shippers.

The CPR official admitted his company had not made any attempt to increase these rates.

Asked why, he said the CPR had run into snags in applying to the "agreed charges" the general 21-per-cent rate increase earlier in the year.

Launch Inquiry In Sub Sabotage

PLYMOUTH, England, Jan. 18 (Reuters)—Police today were investigating suspected sabotage to the British submarine Trenchant which has been under refit at the naval base here.

The sinking of a motor fishing vessel in one of the large dockyard basins during the week-end is also believed to have been due to sabotage.

Naval authorities admitted that "the cause of a choked oil pipe in a submarine at present under refit in His Majesty's dockyard is being investigated" but declined to give further details as these "might prejudice investigations."

Join Union One Day, Next Change Minds

TORONTO, Jan. 18 (CP)—A quick change of heart among a group of employees of the Maclean-Hunter Publishing Co., who sought to leave a union 25 hours after joining it, carried no weight with the Ontario Labor Relations Board Monday.

The board certified the International Union of Operating Engineers (AFL) as bargaining agent for engineers and maintenance men of the company on the basis of 23 paid members who had signed cards with the union.

James Coghill, one of the union members, presented a petition indicating that all but three or four of the workers wished to withdraw from the union.

Named Warden

Reeve Wm. R. Darling, Dummer township was elected Warden of Peterborough County for 1949 by acclamation at the inaugural meeting held today. His father C. J. Darling was warden in 1916. Darling was nominated by Reeve R. Harrison of Smith and Reeve R. Pearson, Galway. Two others nominated, Reeve E. Leeson, Havelock, and Reeve N. Wilson, Burleigh-Anstruther withdrew to make the choice unanimous.

This is the second time that a son has followed his father's footsteps in reaching the wardenship. In 1899 E. Hawthorne had the honor, while representing Dummer, and his son James Hawthorne was Warden in 1930. The last Warden from Dummer township was E. N. McDonald in 1938. The only other Dummer man to hold the post was R. Crowe in 1903.

20 Reported Missing On Plane Trip

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Jan. 18 —(CP).—A sea-and-air search began today for a missing British South American airways plane, lost on a 1,000-mile flight between Bermuda and Kingston, Jamaica. Twenty persons were believed aboard.

Search planes were to take off from Kindley Field here, Nassau and Tampa, Fla., to scour hundreds of square miles of the Atlantic and Caribbean that wash the West Indies and Great Antilles. Units of the United States Navy would hunt the island-dotted ocean north of Cuba.

The aircraft, en route from London to Kingston, left here yesterday morning. It was due in Jamaica 5½ hours later.

Airline authorities declined to release immediately names of the passengers and other members of the crew.

(At Halifax, it was believed Joan Watkins was one of those aboard. Her father said last night he had received a telegram from her saying she intended to board a London-to-Kingston plane on Monday.

(At Kingston, eight of the passengers were listed as Duboisson, Boothroyd, Dentham, Green, Hodge, Stevens and Mrs. Meade and her son. There was no further identification and no confirmation that they were aboard.

(Macdill Field at Tampa said the freighter Santa Inez reported distress signals for 2½ hours yesterday on an emergency frequency. The ship was about 150 miles north of Puerto Rico. That was about 350 miles east of the plane's intended course.)

Britain Ready To Release Jewish Refugees Interned On Cyprus Island

Churchill Charges England Reinforcing Both Sides At Once; Ask Postponement Of Middle East Debate

LONDON, Jan. 18—(CP).—Foreign Secretary Bevin said today Britain has "no obligations or intention to engage in any offensive or aggressive action" in the Middle East war over Palestine. With this assurance, he asked the House of Commons not to press at this time for a full scale discussion of the Labor Government's Middle East policy. He said a Palestine debate now might endanger the success of the Jewish-Egyptian peace talks on Rhodes.

Bevin announced that Britain now is ready to release Jewish refugees of military age interned on the Island of Cyprus.

"We have been discussing the position of these immigrants with the parties concerned," he said. "The much more favorable situation that has now arisen has permitted us to send a message to the acting mediator announcing that we are prepared to allow these men to leave as soon as the Jews provide transport for them."

Fighting Ended

He prefaced this announcement by stating that fighting in Palestine has ceased "on all fronts."

Winston Churchill, wartime prime minister who has urged the government to recognize the new Jewish state, described the plan to release the refugees as "not fitting in very well with the drastic military action" Bevin "has taken in other directions."

"Is he not reinforcing both sides at once?" Churchill asked.

This was an apparent reference to the dispatch of British troops to Aqaba, Red Sea port in southern Trans-Jordan.

Herbert Morrison, leader of the House, promised Churchill a full-dress debate on the Middle East policy next week.

Bevin said the British troops were sent to Aqaba at the request of Trans-Jordan. Britain has a mutual assistance treaty with Trans-Jordan.

Could Not Refuse

"We could not refuse," Bevin said, "and in the light of all the circumstances and the events at that moment, these troops were sent. But no troops have been sent to Palestine."

Churchill, referring to his suggestion that Britain recognize Israel, asked Bevin to consider whether "a British representative to the de facto government of Israel is not greatly needed at the present time."

Says Teachers Not On Strike But 'Suspended'

MONTREAL, Jan. 18—(CP)—Striking lay teachers of Montreal's Roman Catholic schools were told by their leader today that "we are no longer on strike; we are suspended."

Leo Guindon, president of L'Alliance de Professeurs de Catholiques, told a mass meeting of teachers that the Catholic School Commission's action had suspended the strikers who are demanding pay increases.

He said this meant the teachers could not heed Premier Duplessis' stand that they return to the classrooms.

"How can we return?" asked Mr. Guindon. "We have been suspended by the commission.

He said the teachers were not engaging in any picketing and any allegations that they were picketing are "malicious."

At a meeting yesterday after the strike call went into effect Mr. Guindon said "many were surprised" at the "solid show of strength" made by the teachers.

Members of the Alliance executive claimed that "at least 95 per cent of the teachers had joined the strike for higher wages.

About 1,800 teachers, members of the Alliance and 300 other English-speaking Catholic teachers, are affected. The English teachers supported their French colleagues in a "sympathy strike".

4 Die In Race On Icy Roads

MONTREAL, Jan. 18.—(CP).—Four persons—three men and one woman — were killed and one other is in hospital as a result of an automobile-street car accident in suburban Point St. Charles early today.

Killed were: Teddy Lalonde, 29; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wrigley, 26 and 24 respectively, Jacques Caron, 24.

Police, terming the accident "the worst we've seen in a long time," said that the car in which all four killed were riding and another car were racing along Wellington St.

The autos, accompanied by another car, were coming out of a tunnel and were jockeying for "front position" on the icy streets.

The car driven by Lalonde sideswiped another car and then smashed head-on into an oncoming street car.

Only one of the five in the death-car to escape being killed was Lucien Proulx, 26, of Verdun, who was reported by hospital authorities to have only a fractured wrist.

Terrified Indians Refuse To Go Home

DURBAN, South Africa, Jan. 18 — (AP) — Authorities today tackled the problem of thousands of refugees after finally stamping out Durban's racial blood-letting.

With 1,400 regular troops patrolling the streets, along with police and sailors, the situation was under control after five days of rioting by African natives and Indians.

But thousands of terrified Indian refugees refused to leave the camps where they were being protected. Huddled in hastily-created concentration areas they presented a problem of sanitation, food and water.

Don't Expect To Find Any Plane Survivors

LOCH GOILHEAD, Argyllshire, Scotland, Jan. 18 — (Reuters)—Hopes of finding survivors of the United States Superfortress which crashed near here yesterday, with 20 men on board were abandoned today.

The possibility that crew members may have parachuted from the plane was being investigated, but local villagers who heard the plane before it crashed discounted the theory.

They believed the crew did not know they were about to crash as there was no sign that the plane was in trouble.

Guided by a shepherd, stretcher-bearers and search parties today struggled up the rugged slopes of the hills above Glen Succoth to a point four miles from the nearest road, where the wrecked Fortress lies. Only six bodies had been found early today.

Stranded On Pacific Trip 32 Britons Eat Like Kings

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18 — (AP)—Eating like kings and sightseeing like paupers, 32 British citizens are stranded here awaiting transportation to New Zealand.

They haven't a penny to spend —and they may be here for months. But the travel agency handling their transportation is paying all their room and board bills at their downtown hotel; and meals in England were never like this!

The 32 reached San Francisco last Thursday en route to New Zealand where they plan to settle. Here, they discovered, there had been a slip—they had no air reservations to continue their trip.

The two scheduled airlines to New Zealand and Australia were reported booked up solid through next April. One liner which also serves New Zealand, was reported filled for many voyages.

The travel agency, watching the hotel bills roll up, is praying for a permit from the Civil Aeronautics Board that would allow a chartered plane trip. Normally, non-scheduled air lines cannot carry passengers.

Meanwhile, as British subjects, the travellers were restricted by their government to the spending of $12 each during their days in the United States. This is part of Britain's move to conserve dollar credits.

British consul A. J. Le Da Mare said the local British colony will undertake relief and recreation.

Ten-year-old Jean Dunn remains undismayed.

"I still have ten cents," she chortled. "And gum costs only five cents, doesn't it?"

RITA HAYWORTH and Prince Aly Khan set out for a skiing expedition in Switzerland just before leaving for the Prince's villa in Cannes. On Monday their engagement was announced.

Gardiner Sees $2 Wheat Floor Price

Expects Details Given Later This Week; Sees Declining Market

OTTAWA, Jan. 18 — (CP) — Agriculture Minister Gardiner said in an interview Monday night that while British-Canadian negotiations have not been completed, it was expected the 1949-50 wheat price would be "not less than $2 a bushel."

His reference to the Anglo-Canadian wheat price concurred with indications from other sources that Canada likely will obtain $2 a bushel in the final year of the four-year wheat agreement, the same price as in the 1947-48 period. The price covers the sale of 140 million bushels in the final year.

An official announcement as to the exact price and details of the agreement will be made this week by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

So far prairie wheat farmers are receiving $1.56 a bushel from the Canadian Wheat Board for deliveries at Fort William, but before this year's seeding period begins in April they will be getting an added 20 cents a bushel on initial payment, bringing the farmers' price to $1.75.

The minister said the 20 cents additional payment is retroactive to the first year of the four-year agreement. However, it is not believed payments to farmers will end at the $1.75 level, but may be increased by the Canadian Wheat Board with another boost before the 1950 term ends.

Added to this, Mr. Gardiner said, was the fact Canadian farmers will receive protection by the Anglo - Canadian agreement through the 1949-50 crop year should the world wheat price drop. He was certain world wheat producers would face a declining market within the next 18 months.

By that time Canada will have delivered in the four-year period of the Anglo-Canadian contract some 600 million bushels to the U.K. at a total price of a little more than $1 billion.

Average Weekly Wage Hits New High At $41 Nov. 1

OTTAWA, Jan. 18—(CP)—Average weekly wage of hourly paid workers in Canadian manufacturing hit a record high of $41.16 at Nov. 1, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics announced Monday. A new high figure for hourly earnings — 95.5 cents—also was shown for the same date. The previous high was 94.6 at Oct. 1.

The previous weekly top for this type of worker was $40.68 at Oct. 1. At Nov. 1, 1947, it was $36.34. The figures for the same date in earlier years: 1946, $30.91; 1945, $30.31; 1944, $32.56.

In Ontario, changes in the industrial distribution of wage-earners, along with wage increases in meat-packing, rubber and other industries, brought about an increase of one cent an hour.

The bureau's figures—which represent gross earnings before any deductions—cover employees of leading manufacturers who furnish monthly statistics on man-hours worked. The statistics are not complete.

Wage Increases

Contributing factors in the increased average pay, the bureau said, were wage increases in animal food products, lumber, beverage and other industries, plus the release of lower-paid seasonal labor in canneries.

The trend toward higher average hourly earnings continued in all provinces except Nova Scotia, where the bureau said employment of casual workers at less-than-average rates in fruit processing operations reduced the average hourly figure by one-fifth of a cent from Oct. 1.

In this province, the hourly average at No. 1 at 94.7 cents, compared with 94.9 at Oct. 1 and 78.2 at Nov. 1, 1948. The weekly average was $37.66.

Largest gain during October was shown in British Columbia, where hourly earnings of 114.5 at Nov. 1 compared with 111.3 at Oct. 1 and 101.7 a year previously. The weekly average at Nov. 1 was $44.20—highest in the Dominion.

Industrials Climbing Slowly On Exchange

TORONTO, Jan. 18 — (CP) — Industrials climbed slowly ahead in moderately active trading here today. Golds and oils moved on a slightly firmer tone and base metals weakened from early strength.

Volume for the first three hours was 645,000 shares, about 167,000 shares less than yesterday's similar period.

A wide list of key industrial issues improved on gains ranging up to four points.

Wiltsey-Coghlan and Waite Amulet attracted attention in golds and base metals. Wiltsey added three cents in brisk dealings and Waite was up ⅝ at 12⅛. A few senior golds brightened and juniors moved sluggishly.

Torbrit Silver climbed to a new high in base metals but then sagged. Smelters was ahead 1¼ at 119¾ and Hudson Bay lost a point at 55. International Nickel and Quemont were fractionally better.

Charges May Be Laid In Mt. Forest Deaths

MOUNT FOREST, Ont., Jan. 18 (CP) — Provincial Police today said charges might be laid in connection with the deaths of George White, 70, and his daughter, Florence, 42.

Bodies of the two were found on charred mattresses in separate bedrooms of their home when fire broke out last Jan. 7.

The father is believed to have been dead nearly a week and the daughter, two months, before the fire brought about their discovery.

Crown counsel J. M. Kearns said today that the charges might be laid following an inquest scheduled for today.

The general opinion here was that the next three days would tell the story of Peiping.

Regrouping Troops

Before Nanking, government forces were regrouping. Their chance of stopping the overwhelming Communist forces appeared slim.

No large-scale Communist movement in the Yangtze valley has been reported, but Communist commanders have 300,000 men poised for attack on the government force of 150,000 stretched thinly before Nanking.

Police Puzzled By Heir's Death

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 18 (AP)—The death of wealthy Grenville Baker, who was found beside his wrecked jeep with a pistol wound in his head, presented a puzzle to police today.

A coroner's jury, after four hours of testimony from witnesses last night, found only that the 27-year-old heir of a New York banking family was killed by a pistol "held by a party or parties unknown."

The young amateur aviator died early Monday on one of the many winding trails of his mother's "Horseshoe Plantation," where the Duke and Duchess of Windsor were entertained two years ago.

A divorced tavern waitress, Mrs. Thelma Griffin, who was with Baker when the jeep crashed said she never had met him before Sunday night. She testified that Baker fired one pistol shot in an effort to attract the attention of companions just before he lost control of the jeep.

The car struck an embankment and she was thrown out and dazed. When she recovered consciousness she saw Baker in the middle of the road, and heard him groan.

Sheriff Frank Stoutamire, who offered no theories of how the 27-year-old heir to New York banking millions was shot, said he had asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation to run tests on the death gun.

He also is sending to Washington paraffin casts of the hands of Baker's companions to learn whether any of them had fired a gun recently.

Labor Council Tool Of UEW

The Allied Labor Council's part in the UE-United Steelworkers dispute over which union should represent the employees of the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Company was described today by C. H. Millard, national director of the United Steelworkers of America, as "wholly reprehensible."

Replying to R. Harvey, secretary of the Allied Labor Council, who demanded the United Steelworkers withdraw from the Outboard Marine picture, Millard accused the Council of becoming the "tool of U.S. representatives who are more interested in maintaining and extending their control than in having workers organized into a bona fide collective bargaining agency."

Bevin replied "In these questions of recognition it is not an easy matter and we cannot take one side in an isolated way." He added:

"There is another part of the world — Indonesia — where the whole question of de facto recognition has created very serious troubles."

Facing critics who demanded a full statement on Britain's role in the Middle East situation, Bevin told the House of Commons:

"I am sure the House will agree with me that any discussion on these problems regarding Palestine and the Middle East may have a disturbing effect."

Winston Churchill was expected to challenge the Government's Palestine policy.

The hefty union leader, turned diplomat, has been the butt of a rising storm of criticism because of the Middle East manoeuvres of his department.

He has been accused of risking war, flouting the United Nations, endangering British - American friendship, giving Russia a wedge to enter the Eastern Mediterranean and making an enemy of a potential ally in the Middle East —Israel.

Another Voice

Clement Davies, leader of the small Liberal party, also has given notice he will ask Bevin today to give assurances British forces will not be ordered to engage in military operations in the Middle East.

The questions already posed for this week include such subjects as:

1. RAF flights over embattled troops in the Egyptian-Palestine border area which resulted in the loss of five British planes 11 days ago.

2. The movement of British troops to the Trans-Jordan port of Aqaba, near the southern tip of the Holy Land.

3. Britain's charge that Israel received arms from Czechoslovakia.

Churchill's question was not made public in specific terms.

Foreign Policy Debate

The House of Lords, which also reconvenes today, has a foreign-policy debate set for tomorrow in which the issue is sure to be raised.

The revolt in Bevin's own party is due to come to a head tomorrow at a meeting of Labor members.

Bevin is due to be backed up by Prime Minister Attlee but Labor sources said yesterday at least three cabinet members were against Bevin's policy.

Fist Fight Rages At Juvenile Hockey Game Stops When National Anthem Is Played

PORT HOPE, Jan 18.—Strong objection to the playing of "God Save the King" at a recent hockey game to quell fights on the ice, has been voiced by the IODE and the Port Hope Branch of the Legion.

Fights broke out three times during a game last Wednesday night between Port Hope Juveniles and Peterborough, some of the crowd going out on the ice. On each occasion the national anthem was played over the loudspeaker system. Each time order was restored.

Critics recognized the effectiveness of the national anthem but deplored the occasion on which it was played.

Mrs. George Halford, treasurer of the IODE, said: "We got busy on the telephone and sounded out the members. The Port Hope IODE hopes that this use of the national anthem is not repeated. We don't think it will be. It was likely played on impulse with the idea of stopping the fighting and without realizing that its use for such a purpose was very improper."

Ted Harwood, president of the Legion, said: "It is my personal opinion, and I know I reflect the opinion of the members of the Legion here, when I add my protest. It was not right to play the anthem to stop a fight out on the ice. It was done on the spur of the moment, and now that there has been time to think it over I don't think it will be done again."

Toronto Youth Goes To Reformatory

William Buckley, 16, of Toronto was sentenced to two years less a day in an Ontario reformatory by His Honor Judge S. L. Smoke in County Court. He pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit theft from York Trading Limited, Simcoe St.

The offence occurred on August 7. Residents across the street from the wholesale grocery building on that night had their suspicions aroused that they notified police.

According to the testimony of PC. Douglas Farthing when the police arrived they were in time to see Buckley jump down from the loading platform. He said that when the accused was ordered to halt at gunpoint he dropped a pair of gloves, a jimmy and a flashlight and help up his hands.

W. J. Arthur Fair, KC, appearing for the accused asked that leniency be shown to the youth who had already pleaded guilty to the charge.

Judge Smoke in passing sentence said that as a result of the reformatory term he hoped Buckley would rehabilitate himself.

Buckley appeared at the December jury sittings of the County Court where he elected trial by judge alone.

Bigger Salary Or No Sports Teachers Warn

TORONTO, Jan. 18 — (CP) — Men teachers are threatening to drop off-hour sports programs throughout Toronto's public schools unless the Board of Education restores different salary levels for men and women teachers.

Ran Davy, president of the Toronto Public Schools Masters' Association, said last night that the association's membership had voted unanimously last Saturday to inform the Board of Education that a proposed salary settlement now being made is unacceptable.

The men teachers claim they work long hours supervising sports events after school hours and receive no extra money for it. Women teachers, free of this work, are allowed the same maximum salary of $3,500, although the minimum for men is $1,800 and for women, $1,400. Both get annual increases of $200.

Suspend Activities

Sports activities in one public school has been suspended for a week. The meeting Saturday of the Masters' Association endorsed this move of the school's 10 men teachers.

The association represents some 400 men teachers, virtually all male teachers in public schools with the exception of principals and vice-principals.

The association said it anticipated an increase of $500 in maximum salaries for both men and women but said it sought to have a differential in wages through a salary increase for men. It emphasized that it does not want lower salaries of women teachers.

Mr. Davy said the men students would not settle for overtime pay for the extra-curricular sports programs they supervise as it would be unfair to older teachers who have done the voluntary work in the past and are now too old.

Three minor liquor convictions were registered in court Monday.

Industry Must Correct Its Emotional Troubles

Management must correct its weaknesses in the "social skills" towards its workers, E. G. Hildebrand of Montreal, personnel manager of the Bell Telephone Company, told the Peterborough Junior Chamber of Commerce here Monday night As guest speaker at the Jaycee's Management Night, he addressed more than 75 members and guests representing management in city industry on the subject of "Human Relations In Industry."

He outlined the subject of the basic needs of mankind — which include not only the desire for economic security but also the emotional temperament and the desire for self-expression. Despite management's efforts in the line of pensions, sharing profits and other steps aimed at economic betterment, he said that it has been found that labor-management relations are "not too good ...workers do not have the interests of managament at heart."

Since the end of the war, it has been found that industrial productivity has fallen off sharply both in the United States and Canada.

To find the answer, industry has gone to the research centres which they have subsidized in universities and other institutions and have had scientifically conducted tests made. The results indicate that the common man's basic wants of emotional security and self-expression are as fundametnal as the economic factor.

Funrely Mechanical

"In our modern industrial set-up, most jobs are simple mechanical processes which do little to satisfy these needs," said Mr. Hildebrand. Management has tended to become a separated group from the workers, especially in the larger industries and manufacturing centres. The reports of the research experts "have not been too flattering to the achievements of management in the past."

"Industry must supply those basic needs,' the speaker said. "If the workers do not find it there, they will look for it elsewhere ....we can meet that challenge."

He outlined a six-point program by which this lack could be met. Management must continue the study of the problem of human relations through its research branches. Steps to continue giving the workers economic security should be continued, for it is still a vital factor.

"Conditions should be such in industry that working groups are compatible among themselves as well as in their relationships to management," Mr. Hildebrand continued.

Variety Desirable

An effort should be made to give workers as much variety as possible.

One of the methods stressed by the speaker to make better relaions was that of group participation in decisions of production. He said that such decisions have been known to be better than individual ones. Decisions made by groups cuts hostility towards management greatly. It helps to raise morale and general interest throughout an industry.

"We must put more democracy into our leadership," he urged.

As an indication of the unrest and dissatisfaction among industrial workers due to non-economic causes, he cited reports from medical authorities in plants which indicated that as high as fifty per cent of cases of workers' ailments brought to their attention were due to emotional upsets.

"This means that we are not meeting those basic needs.... management must accept that challenge."

He spoke of the tendency today for many to be converted to "other systems than our own." It has the same root cause, he said.

"The weaknesses of one system emphasize the real or fancied advantages of another system.... Financial prosperity alone apparently is not enough, even in times of plenty such as these, to correct that tendency. We must meet these needs in our own system, its corrections will be sought in another...."

Recent years have shown a great increase in the importance of industry in the life of Canada, he said. For this reason, the responsibility of the future of the country rests largely with industrial management.

Claude Hewitt introduced the guest speaker, who was thanked by Gerald Grady. Jaycee President Lester Reid was chairman of the meeting.

Two Traffic Violators

Two minor traffic cases were disposed of in court today.

Gerald N. Trolley of Cobourg paid a fine of $5 and $2.50 costs for driving through a stop sign.

Death Due To Fall

MONTREAL, Jan. 18.—(CP).—Provincial police expressed belief Monday that the death of Mrs. J. Pierre Malo, 58-year-old widow whose body was found Friday in City Hall at Joliette, Que., was due to a fall. Hilaire Beauregard, assistant police director, said, however, that Adelard Gariepy, 62-year-old city hall caretaker, will be held by police until the investigation is complete.

Accept Donation From Argentine

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—(AP).—A Washington children's charity Monday accepted from Argentine embassy officials a half dozen crates of children's clothing with warm thanks to Senora Eva Peron.

The clothing was donated by an Argentine foundation headed by the wife of President Juan Peron.

The charity officials were a bit upset at first when, in response to an inquiry sent all embassies here for small money donations, the Argentines sent word of a shipment of clothing for 500 kids.

"We called the State Department to see if we should accept all that clothing," said Rev. Ralph Vawters, president of the charity. "They said they didn't see any reason why we shouldn't accept. So we did.'

Mr. Vawters saaid a number of his regular contributors have served notice, because of acceptance of the gift from the Argentine foundation, they no longer will make contributions. A member of his advisory board resigned.

Superior North Shore Highway Proposed

SAULT STE. MARIE, Jan. 18—(CP).—Delegates from 20 Canadian and United States municipalities attending the Lake Superior Highways Association meeting on Monday unanimously adopted the association's brief asking that a section of the proposed Trans-Canada Highway follow the "North Shore Route."

This would entail the cutting of a "shelf" along the rugged north shore of Lake Superior for 2½ miles, circumventing the mountainous terrain of the Agawa Promontory, at an estimated cost of $500,000, the brief stated.

US delegates, representing municipalities and Chambers of Commerce from many parts of the northern United States, showed keen interest in the proposal. They said that completion of the North Shore Route would make possible a "round-the-lake" scenic highway.

Report 66 Cases Of Chicken Pox

COBOURG, Jan. 18.—Chickenpox took a sharp increase for the week ending Jan. 15 with 66 new cases recorded by the Northumberland - Durham health unit. Thirty-four centred in Bowmanville alone, while the others were spread throughout the counties.

Two new cases of TB were recorded, one in Cavan Township and one in Port Hope. A few cases of measles, one of scarlet fever, completed a total of 73 new cases of communicable disease.

"As a result of laboratory investigations, two adults who are not ill but are carriers of diphtheria type of organisms, have been discovered and placed under observation in isolation, one in Cobourg and one in Newcastle.

"Such cases are not common, but for example during the war there were instances of diphtheria type organisms being found in unusual locations such as wounds," declared Dr. C. W. MacCharles, senior MOH.

Given 7 Years On Two Robbery Counts

WHITBY, Jan. 18. — County Judge D. B. Coleman Monday sentenced Lennox T. Nixon, 24-year-old Toronto man, to seven years in Kingston Penitentiary on two counts of armed robbery. Russell J. Hobday, 18, Toronto, jointly charged with Nixon in the armed hold-ups of two Pickering Township service stations, drew a five-year sentence. Each received one year, to run concurrent, on two joint charges of stealing the hold-up cars.

The pair pleaded not guilty on all four counts, but neither gave any evidence nor made any pleas in his own behalf. Unrepresented by counsel, they showed no sign of emotion when sentence was passed.

"Your record dates back to 1941. I have absolutely no sympathy for you. The two years you received for armed robbery in 1944 apparently did you no good," Judge Coleman told Nixon. He commented that while Hobday's past record was not as lengthy as that of Nixon, "you actively participated in these crimes."

Russell Boyce told the court his car was being serviced at a Pickering garage on the night of Dec. 28 when he noticed the two men loitering near by. "When I went into the office they followed me, Hobday pulled a gun, and both said, 'It's a stick-up.' Nixon turned me around and they took my wallet containing $42," Boyce testified. He took the license of the getaway car.

PC Arthur Lock of the Scarboro Township police, said he noticed the stolen car heading west on the Kingston Rd. after the license had been broadcast. Police then gave chase until the car struck a tree near Eglinton Ave., and a shot brought the pair to a halt as they tried to flee. A Webley air pistol, identified by Watson and Boyce as the hold-up weapon, was found in the car. It was loaded and the men were found in possession of additional ammunition, the court was told.

Don't Trust Peace Talk

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP).—Government officials said Monday they suspect that a sudden outbreak of Communist "peace" speeches in France and Italy is a Moscow - directed propaganda move to wreck the North Atlantic alliance before it takes shape. These officials said, however, it is barely possible that the remarks represent a "trial balloon" floated by Moscow to see whether the United States is willing to make a deal.

THIEVING CROW—Police and school officials of Sydney, NS, have declared open season on Midas, the thieving crow. Midas is a daily visitor to Sacred Heart School where he flies into the classrooms, perches on the desks, and listens to the teachers. Recently he started stealing pencils from the desks during his visits. As a result he has become a marked bird. This apparently does not bother Midas, for his latest escapade was a visit to the RCMP barracks where he was seen trying to carry away one of the Mounties' hats. Here Midas is seen with Donald McCormick, 16, the only person Midas will allow near him.

Dismiss 2 Charges Against Ketchum

Two charges against Henry H. Ketchum, Warkworth lumberman, for retaining stolen goods were dismissed by Magistrate Philp in Monday's police court. Evidence was heard last week and judgment reserved. Judgment in a third charge — of receiving stolen tires and tubes—was further reserved to Jan. 24.

The two charges dismissed involved a stolen tarpaulin and a set of harness. Magistrate Philo said that the evidence, which showed that police had found the goods on the accused's lumber property, did not establish possession of the goods by the accused. Referring to a signed statement by an employee of the accused's admitting the theft and later changing his story in the witness box. the magistrate said that Ketchum's actions in that matter "can be taken as consistent with innocence." The defence had been that the accused was not aware that the stolen goods were on his property.

Two of Ketchum's employees, each charged with theft of the goods, were remanded to the same date as judgment on the third charge against Ketchum will be delivered.

Margarine No Threat To Farmers

From the clap-trap talked by some dairymen, it would seem that Ontario farmers are going to be on the breadline in six months because the ban on margarine has been removed. Most of the people who talk like that are not farmers who produce the milk, and we doubt that farmers are greatly deceived by the talk. They have too much good sense.

* * *

Farmers know that their biggest profit from milk is in milk sold as whole milk for bottling. They know that the consumption of whole milk has increased, and as long as people drink and use milk, they have a steady market. Farmers also know that not enough butter is being produced to meet the need. They should know, too, that people are not going to stop using butter just because a substitute is available. People have not stopped eating jam because they can get peanut-butter.

* * *

The manufacturing of margarine in this province will directly benefit farmers. One reason is that milk is used in margarine. In 1942 17 per cent. (by weight) of all margarine produced in the U.S.A. was milk. Further, the fats used in margarine will be fats which farmers can produce. The chief ones now used in the manufacturing process in various countries are: oleo oil (beef fats), soyabean, cottonseed, coconut oil, whale oil, and rape-seed oil. It is unlikely that much cottonseed or coconut oil will be used in Canada, for others are more readily available. It may be that, as with British margarine during the war, whale oil will be the major margarine fat used in Canada. However, we have in abundance, particularly throughout the west, a weed called rape. Ninety-five per cent. of the edible fat requirement for German margarine during the war was obtained from rapeseed oil. It may be possible that within a dozen years farmers will reap handsome profits from growing rapeseed as a crop.

* * *

Margarine is not a threat to farmers. It is a challenge, as Mr. C. E. Lackner, director of dairying for Ontario, suggested last week. Mr. Lackner told delegates to the annual convention of the Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario that better quality butter is one answer to margarine. Canadian butter had been "very ordinary", and he thought that "lack of competition has not been good for the dairy industry". His remarks are the most sensible we have encountered in recent weeks among all the peevish blather from other dairymen. Farmers and dairymen should have enough confidence in the quality of their butter not to fear that a substitute will ever displace the real thing.

Keep Your Hat On In The Elevator

For years there has been a widespread belief that men should take their hats off in elevators if there were women among the other passengers. We could never understand why this should be so, and have sometimes kept our hat on, despite female glares. Now Emily Post comes to our rescue with a flat statement that men need not take their hats off in elevators which they share with women, any more than in the streets which they also share with women. Good for Emily!

A man who takes his hat off occupies more room than a man whose hat is on his head. He may, moreover, be carrying parcels which make his hat-trick difficult. Further, women are remarkably careless about the hats which men have removed, and do not scruple to mash them with their knees, posteriors and other members. It must be said that the women who are most eager to exact courtesy from men are often those least ready to extend courtesy toward men.

The Saturday Evening Post suggests that, as well as keeping their hats on, men should leave elevators in the most convenient order—that is to say, that they should avoid the scramble which ensues when a group of men in an elevator try to allow a woman who is tucked well toward the back of it to leave before they step off themselves. This also sounds like sense, and we should be glad to see more common sense applied to good manners.

"Alcoholic Amnesia" And Being Blind Drunk

A Toronto magistrate, Mr. S. Tupper Bigelow, said recently in a judgement: "Alcoholic amnesia, or total forgetfulness induced by alcohol, is no defence at all when one is charged with a criminal offence". This seems to be self-evident, but it needed to be said, for there are a few lawyers who think that "alcoholic amnesia" constitutes a defence, and occasionally they have succeeded in convincing a court that this is so.

Alcoholic amnesia means simply being so drunk as to lose all memory of acts committed while drunk. It means, in fact, being blind drunk—a state for which there can be no good excuse. A man becomes drunk through his own desire, and there is no reason why he should not be held responsible for his actions while in that state. If the law holds drunkards fully responsible for all their acts, it will serve as a deterrent to drunkenness.

A considerable measure of liberty is permitted in this country in matters relating to drinking. As our readers know The Examiner favours that freedom. But freedom brings responsibility, and if people are free to drink pretty much as they please, they are also under an obligation to use their liberty decently. To become blind drunk is an indecent act, and the man or woman who does so should realize that the law will not make any allowance for their condition in considering acts of violence or simply acts of folly committed while in that state.

Shakespeare In Peterborough

On the last three days of next week the Peterborough Little Theatre will present one of the most popular plays of William Shakespeare, The Taming of the Shrew, and we have no scruple about urging our fellow citizens to support this venture. It is, we understand, the first time that a Shakespearean production has been carried out, from start to finish, in this city and we feel that the occasion is deserving of some recognition.

Through the efforts of the Concert Association, the Music Teachers' Association and the Kiwanis Music Festival, the musical life of Peterborough has been brought to a high level. The Men's Sketch Club and the Peterborough Group of Painters have aroused our city to a lively interest in graphic art. But so far as Little Theatre work is concerned, Peterborough is still in its infancy. Last year the Little Theatre made a promising start, and this year the Twenty Plus Club of the Y.W.C.A. made a good beginning which will, we hope, develop into another full-fledged dramatic society here. Since the decline of the touring theatre, Peterborough has had few plays, and a generation has grown up which knows nothing of the living theatre. The P.C.V.S. has given us a yearly play, but suffers, as schools must, from a continually changing membership.

Little Theatre work is far removed from the "amateur theatricals" of an earlier day. It aims at the highest possible standards, and seeks to bring the thrill and pleasure of the living drama to communities which would otherwise be without it. For twenty years or more the Little Theatre movement has flourished in Canada, but only in the last two years has Peterborough had anything to contribute to it. In February The Taming of the Shrew will be taken to Brockville to compete with other Eastern Ontario groups in the Drama Festival.

It is not every day, or every year, that Peterborough has a chance to see a play by the master dramatist of our literature. To say that such a presentation is "educational" is a dangerous half-truth; it is first of all a delightful experience—pleasure for the eye and ear and a stimulus to the emotions; these things are indeed educational, but they are not to be associated with the routine of schools. To those among our readers who have never seen a Shakespearean play we recommend this opportunity to try a new experience; to those who are already familiar with the delights of theatre-going we draw attention to this chance to renew that pleasure.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A trade report says that "lumber is sagging". Yes, and lots of this postwar stuff is splitting, even while the sap is still oozing out of it.

Fashion experts say that Miss 1949 will have a "detached" look. If they mean that she will wear a pair of dirty dungarees that look as if they might fall off, she will have to go some to beat Miss 1948.

Shakespeare

By GEORGE EDINGER

IN the story of Western thought William Shakespeare stands alone. No work, save the Bible has been translated into so many languages or translated so often as his collected plays. No writer has had so wide an appeal or so deep an influence on his countrymen. He has been played in theatres, halls, gardens, palace courtyards and village greens. He has been broadcast and adapted to the screen in two continents; staged with the most elaborate settings to run two hundred nights, played before a pair of curtains for one night only, produced in period dress and modern dress. Voltaire and Cyrano de Bergerac and the Empress Catherine of Russia have tried their hand at translating him. English composers from Purcell in the seventeenth century to Sullivan in the nineteenth, German composers like Schubert and Mendelssohn have written music for his songs. "These plays" says the preface to the first folio "have had their trial and stood out all appeal". And three hundred years later these words held good.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE universal genius was an ardent nationalist. The patriotic passages of Henry V, the closing lines of King John, John of Gaunt's lines in praise of England in King Richard II have inspired in turn the generations that fought Philip II of Spain, Louis XIV of France, Imperial Germany and Adolph Hitler. At the height of the Napoleonic Wars, William Pitt adjourned a meeting of the Cabinet to see the boy actor Betty play Hamlet. British troops coming out of the line in Holland crowded out the improvised cinemas where Sir Laurence Olivier was shown in a film version of Henry V dedicated to the Commando troops who stormed the Normandy beaches in 1944. True he can laugh at his countrymen. Was not Hamlet when suspected of madness shipped to England because "he shall recover his wits there or if he do not 'tis no great matter there ....'twill not be seen in him there, there the men are all as mad as he." Yet that touch is peculiarly national too, born of the self-confidence that can afford to laugh at itself.

✧ ✧ ✧

VERY little is known of his life. His whole biography amounts to this. His father was in comfortable circumstances which took a sudden turn for the worse when William Shakespeare was 13. At 18 he was married. He left his home hurriedly after a poaching affray, trudged to London like many others before and after him, to seek his fortune, joined a company of players, the least reputable of all callings, was reported to have earned his living for a time minding horses at theatre entrances, vanishes for ten years (1584-92), then re-emerges already successful, an established dramatist who buys a property in his native town and spends his last years comfortable and respected. What he experienced in those blank years will never be discovered. Probably he was anxious to forget them himself.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT the years that Shakespeare lived through were years of peril in British history; when the existence of the nation was in danger as acute as that of 1940. Britain was a little country, not yet a power. It had just emerged from the religious conflicts of the early sixteenth century. It vividly remembered the Civil Wars of the late fifteenth century. Suddenly the liberty and security so precariously won were threatened by the armed might of the Spanish monarchy, the greatest power the modern world had ever known. In that world where all was uncertain, an unknown young man from Warwickshire, brought up comfortably and suddenly poor, a fugitive from justice, spurred to follow the most hazardous and heartbreaking of all callings, found himself adrift. That was the furnace out of which Shakespeare emerged. He must have suffered all the ordeals that a struggling genius can endure. A class of scholars may find it incomprehensible that his work possesses such depth and range, but the ordinary man who has endured the like can understand that Shakespeare drew his knowledge from life.

✧ ✧ ✧

SHAKESPEARE had been the tortured soul that was Hamlet. He had known the tense uncertainty of the suspense before battle which he depicts in King Henry V's camp at Agincourt. He knew the fickleness of mobs as he describes it in Julius Caesar and King Henry VI. And at the end of it all when Britain was saved and William Shakespeare found security at last he had made the mystic's philosophy his own:

"We are such stuff
As dreams are made on and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep."

✧ ✧ ✧

IN the range of the experience, the suffering, the doubt, the uncertainty with which he had to struggle Shakespeare gauged the thoughts and feelings of all men in all places. He took his plots where he could find them; a historical story from Hollinshed's Chronicles of English history or a tale from Plutarch's Lives. But his characters speak and think and have their being in the framework of his own experience transmuted by his imagination. And as that experience has been, in part, the experience of men and women in all places at all times the appeal of Shakespeare is universal. That was realized at once by the generation that came after him. John Milton calls him the great heir of fame. John Dryden, who was poet laureate in Britain at the end of the seventeenth century writes, "Of all modern and perhaps ancient poets, Shakespeare had the largest and most comprehensive soil!" King Charles I, defeated in a Civil War against his Parliament, broken, abandoned and condemned to die could find in Shakespeare's plays "the closest companions of his solitude." And although the great philosopher poet might doubt the power of the vehicle he chose to express his thoughts:

"...can this cockpit hold
The vasty fields of France?"

The ages have settled his doubts.

Letters To The Editor

THE P.H.C. STAND ON PRICES

Sir: Here are the facts re price controversy as far as the Peterborough Hockey Club is concerned.

The club was informed at 3:00 p.m. of a meeting to be held at 7:00 p.m. the same day between the three hockey clubs and Civic Arena officials to draw for opening dates. This writer and Bun Kingdon attended the meeting. No mention was made that prices would be discussed. This matter was brought up after I had left the meeting. Kingdon agreed with the Legion and Arena that the prices would be $1.00, 75 cents and 35 cents.

When these prices were reported to a meeting of the PHC, the executive and players unanimously agreed they were too high. It was decided to ask for 75 cents, 50 cents and 25 cents.

A committee composed of President Ed. Riley, R. M. Glover and myself attended a meeting of the Civic Arena Committee and placed before them our proposition. The chairman of the Arena Committee reminded us we had agreed to the $1, 75 cents and 35 cents prices. We explained that only our representative had agreed, that the executive and players wanted the lower prices. Mr. Glover contended that a club had a right to set its own prices, but was told that the Arena wanted the same scale of prices for both Senior "B" clubs.

At a later meeting at which the Legion, Arena and Petes were represented our club again held out for lower prices. We certainly put this motion forward. After getting nowhere in an argument for the lower price scale, Ed Riley finally moved the prices of $1, 65 cents and 35 cents.

The Peterborough Hockey Club has been in existence since 1893 and has supplied the people of Peterborough with good hockey most of the years. Our teams have won eight championships and were finalists on four other occasions. The club could never be accused of overcharging. The prices of 50 cents, 25 cents and 10 cents were in effect for years. Our only raise in prices came the year we were in a round-robin series and the travelling expenses high. That year we boosted the prices to 70 cents and 35 cents. Prices naturally were higher the years we had a Senior "A" team. The figures referred to above when we played at the Brock St. Rink.

The PHC has supported minor sports for years, and I call Mr. Withers' attention to the fact that Joe Rochetta, Dootch Vitarelli, Bob Parnell and Ned Vitarelli of the Legion team are all products of the Peterborough Hockey Club, playing their first organized hockey with our junior team. Also Johnny Godfrey was with our club, following his serious illness and was a member of our squad the year it won the Sr. "B" championship. Doug Mortimer also played for a number of years with the Petes.

Up until the time the Brock St. rink closed its doors to hockey the PHC sponsored a junior team.

In regard to calling a meeting to discuss prices, that is hardly necessary. Our club still feels the same on this question. We favored 75 cents, 50 cents and 25 cents from the start, and we still do.

Sincerely,
FRED C. SCATES,
Secretary, Peterborough Hockey Club.

HOW OLD WAS METHUSALEH?

Sir: The letter about the reformed calendar by "C.W.B." which appeared in your issue of last Friday interested me very much, but there is one point on which I would like further information. The writer says that Methusaleh was not 969, but 79 years old, because before the Flood a single waxing and waning of the moon was reckoned as a year.

I should like to know where C.W.B. found that information. I have read a little bit about the calendar, but I have never seen it before. Our ancestors, even in very early times, were good reckoners, and very often they used a lunar year—that is, 13 months of 28 days each. Such a year was abandoned because, in the course of time, it failed to agree with the seasons. But they never called a month a year, so far as I know, because they reckoned according to harvests and lambing or breeding times, which cannot be crowded into a month. They also reckoned by winters, or rainy seasons. What is more, their priests and wise men were good astronomers in their way, and they could even tell how often the stars returned to their original positions in the heavens. Why then should they think that a month was a year?

Modern scholars think that the Book of Genesis was written about 700 B.C., and certainly at that time astronomy and the reckoning of years was in an advanced state.

Was the attribution of 969 years to Methusaleh a mistake in translation? Should the word which stands in our Bible as "years" really have been "moons"? That might settle the difficulty. Yet we read that Adam lived 130 years, which would make him about ten or eleven by moon-reckoning, and make nonsense of the statement that he begat anybody.

I am not trying to discredit C.W.B.'s fine letter, but I wish this matter could be cleared up. Yours,

S.B.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God ....And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father), full of grace and truth:...And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.

For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him. (John 1: 1, 14, 16-18.)

Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?

Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him. (John 14: 5-7.)

Teach Youth To Think Speaker Warns Rotarians

Four Fundamentals of Great Living was the topic chosen by G. F. Ferguson, chief adjustor of the Continental Casualty Company, when he addressed the Rotary Club on Monday at the Empress Hotel.

Using as the basis of his speech six lines from one of Van Dyke's poems Mr. Ferguson said the four fundamentals of great living are the powers to think right, to love sincerely, to act honestly, and to trust in God and Heaven.

"The deeper one works into the problems of helping the youth of our country the more interesting and difficult one finds the work. There are four categories that people fall into as far as thinking is concerned: Those who take things for granted; those who become confused when they begin to think; those who think without confusion, and those who can think through confusion."

"If we teach the youth of today to stop, then think, we would not have to do much more with them. I have never found a youth to go astray who had been taught to think.

Dealing with his experiences with youth Mr. Ferguson finds that there are few problems which youth cannot talk about. In his So-Ed classes in Toronto he asked a doctor to deal straight with the youth present but the doctor beat about the bush. He was asked by the young people to discuss marriage with them. From 8 o'clock until 1.30 at night he talked to the youths answering and advising them on marriage, divorce and the building of families.

"Temptations which are before the youth of today were placed there by the older people not the youth. We are to blame if the youth goes astray. A great problem to face us is to teach the men and women to think. It is the men who haven't thought who have placed these temptations before the youths," he said.

Men and women should learn to love their fellowmen. If they do that in this country maybe gradually the whole world will do so.

"When I use love in the sense of loving fellowmen I mean to give something without demanding something in return. I believe if I cannot do something right I won't do it."

Mr. Ferguson went on to say that youth is waiting with ears and minds open for experience. In some cases people take on the position of a leader then make up some excuse for backing out after a few months of work. Youth needs leadership he says.

"Watch whatever you do that you do it right and honestly. Youth watches you every time you move. As in a hockey game, a boy has eyes glued on his idol, a player like Howie Meeker. He watches every move that player makes. Later he tries to do as that player has done. Syl Apps was followed everywhere by youths of Canada and the States. What an idol he was! Apps lived clean, was always a man, a sportsman and did everything he could for the youth of the country."

Mr. Ferguson looks after a Bible class of more than 400 every week. He has a committee of 20 to help him. The minimum the executive works is three nights a week. The president works five nights a week. He said no businessman gives three nights a week to youth.

"I would not be able to carry on this amount of work unless some great power was behind me. I have seen life at its lowest and at its highest and with the goodness of God I have survived. We have many powers which have not been discovered by most people. Yet we cannot do without the help of God."

Mr. Ferguson was introduced by S. Black and thanked by P. LaBranche.

Guests of the Rotary Club for the luncheon were Bill Malton, Cobourg and John Fortner, Peterborough.

CBC Will Hear Applications For Opening Ten New Radio Stations

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Jan. 18 (CP).—Representation on applications for 10 new radio-station licenses will be heard at the forthcoming meeting of the CBC Board of Governors.

The board will convene in Montreal Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It will meet in camera on the opening day to deal with corporation business. On the next two days public sessions will be held to deal with the applications and with a heavy agenda of other business relating to radio operations.

The applications for the new stations come from various sections of the country. There is one from David M. Armstrong of New Westminster, B.C., for a 250-watt station in Victoria. He applied for a similar license in 1947 but was turned down.

R. A. Hosie of Saskatoon, Sask., has applied for a 250-watt station at Saskatoon.

J. F. Maxwell, who has worked on several radio stations including CKNX, Wingham, Ont., would be the general manager. The application will be opposed by CFQC Saskatoon.

The Bergman-Moffat Broadcasting Company of Winnipeg has applied for a 1,000-watt station in Winnipeg.

Re-applying for F.M.

Transportation Advertising is re-applying for a frequency modulation station in Toronto. At the last meeting of the board the company made a similar application, saying it planned to use the station for broadcasts to people in transit such as on buses, street cars and the like. The application was rejected.

In the new application, the company states it would use the station for broadcasts to listeners in general.

Charles D. Clarke of Hamilton, Ont., has applied for a 250-watt station in Hamilton. Mr. Clarke, who has worked as a reporter on the former Hamilton Herald and The Windsor Daily Star, has gained radio experience while working as a writer and program arranger for CKOC, Hamilton, and as account executive for CHML, Hamilton. Both CKOC and CHML will make representations on the application, but they have not yet indicated whether they will oppose it.

Legion Gets Fourth Straight With 6-2 Win Against Petes

Legionnaires defeated the Petes 6-2 last night at Civic Arena to make it their fourth straight OHA Senior "B" victory in as many starts. A thousand fans saw a lively scrap on fair ice, but had to wait till 9.30 before it started owing to arguments over whether the ice was good enough to play on or not.

Breaking fast, Legion scored in less than 10 seconds and added another for a 2-0 margin in the first period. The Petes battled back for a 2-1 edge in the second, making the score 3-2 to open the third. Legion finished stronger with three tallies in the last chukker without a return. The winners drew seven of the 15 penalties in a fairly clean fray.

Led Losers

Honey Tompkins again led the losers' attack, being in on both of their goals, as Garvey got one. Bill Crowley, Bert Hill and Ned Vitarelli were each in on a pair for the winners, the latter also being strong on defence. The Greenlaws, Stewart, Parnell and Dootch Vitarelli figured in a marker each, as the whole team clicked well. Both goalies kicked out a number of hot stabs at close range as play kept fast most of the route.

Bob Greenlaw swooped in with Crowley's pass to bang it home in just eight seconds of play. Tom Parsons went off for tripping and Kingdon looked good at forechecking. Toodie Greenlaw came close and then Tompkins tried hard. McMaster was gated for tripping but returned before Ned Vitarelli and Tompkins got it for roughing. Legrow followed for tripping as Crowley nearly got a goal, but all were back when Hill backhanded a hot angle shot which caught the far upper corner. A rush by Bob Greenlaw and Rochetta nearly paid off but Harding beat them.

Petes Get Two

Legion pressed to open the second but later the Petes had the better of it. Crowley got in for a try and then Tompkins tore in to pick a corner with a sizzling shot and make it 2-1. Stewart got that back shortly after from Hill as they wove right in neatly. Burns was chased for tripping, but was back when Garvey slapped home Tompkins' forward flip at close range. Marshall and R. Greenlaw got the finger for high-sticking and Dootch made Ray hop. Parnell got a penalty for too many on the ice and Jack Mortimer followed for boarding. Harding robbed Hill and then Nicholls beat Wilson. Crowley went over for interference, but got back at the finish.

McMaster was gated early in the third for holding and Quigley went off for a space after bumping his head hard on the ice. Ned Vitarelli golfed a bouncer by Harding, the shot being deflected off a Pete's stick. Burns was waved off for tripping and the Petes poured it on hard. He was back when Parnell slapped one into the twine on nice inclose combination with D. Vitarelli and T. Greenlaw. Play was hot up and down with Coombs and McMaster drawing the nod for roughing and Tompkins almost tallying a smart one. Crowley ended the scoring with a tip-in on Ned Vitarelli's flip pass inside with four and a half minutes to go. It kept up fairly fast though the ice was pretty heavy the last part.

GOES GOOD — Coach Ned Vitarelli returned to action last night and helped Legion considerably on defence as well as being in on two goals as they took a 6-2 senior "B" win over the Petes.

The teams:

Petes— Goal, Harding; defence McMaster and T. Parsons; centre, Wilson; wings, Marshall and Quigley; alternates, Kingdon, F. Parsons, J. Mortimer, Tompkins, Garvey, Reid, Legrow and Horton.

Starving POW Forced To Race, But Wins

TOKYO, Jan. 18—(AP) — The story of how an American track star, while badly undernourished as a prisoner-of-war, was forced to race a Japanese champion—and beat him—was disclosed today.

It was revealed in an affidavit from Lou Zamperini, one-time Olympic games miler in an affidavit filed with the war crimes trial record of Admiral Soemu Toyoda.

Zamperini, air force bombardier during the war, was captured after floating 47 days in a life raft off the Marshall Islands.

The miler testified that some time after his capture he was compelled to run the race, but won despite his condition.

Eastern Big Four officials adopted a "stopper" to wholesale importation of United States players to Canada 13 years ago today. They adopted the one-year residence rule. The Canadian Rugby Union later drafted a similar rule.

Shot At Whipper Watson's Empire Title To Winner Of Atkins-McCready Clash

Pat Flanagan

The British Empire elimination match between Earl McCready and Fred Atkins in the Brock St. Arena ring tomorrow night is expected to produce some of the finest mat action that has ever been seen here. Moose McCready is noted for his ability to make beautiful wrestling moves but in so many of his bouts he has been up against the rougher type of matman and has had to reply in kid. Against another scientific grappler like the rock-ribbed Australian Earl can be expected to develop something of a mat classic. The winner will likely get a match with Whipper Billy Watson.

John Katan meets Pat Flanagan and Martin Hutsler takes on Johnny Marrs the powerhouse from Minneapolis.

It looks like a big evening for followers of the mat game.

Trojan Club Hockey Going Strong

Rangers and Red Wings tied 2-2 in a midget tilt recently in the Trojan Hockey League. Deck scored first on passes from Hewie and Dauncey. He got another later from Foster and Hewie. Fairley scored for Rangers from Graham, and Jones tied it on Fairley's pass. Both goalies were good and Ed Panter handled the game well. Lack of ice lately saw the boys in the best of shape. Teams:

Wings — Goal, Faries; defence, Seabrooke and Lowes; centre, Hewie; wings, Deck and Foster; alternates, Dauncey, Michaels, Lanciaux.

Rangers — Goal, Panter; defence, Doris and Jones; centre, Fairley; wings, Reid and Graham; alternates, Burfield, Pullyblank, Lindsay.

Leafs Winners

Maple Leafs won 5-1 from Canadiens midgets in a keen contest. Smith scored for Canadiens, aided by R. Dunn and Guthrie. Leafs fought back next heat and Lockie tied it. Allen added one from Kennedy, and he got another shortly after. Williams followed suit with Church assisting. Late in the fray Church rifled home a hot one on a pass from Lockie. The teams:

Canadiens—Goal, Curtis; defence, Clements and Chapman; centre, R. Dunn; wings, Smith and Guthrie; alternates, E. Dunn, Odette, Burfield, Clarke, Swanger, Staves, Whatley.

Leafs—Goal, Evans; defence, White and Lockie; centre, Allen; wings, Kennedy and Elliott; alternates, Church, Williams, Doris, Kent.

Referee, R. Collins; linesmen, E. Panter and S. Collins.

Peewee Fray

Canadiens defeated Leafs 8-1 in a peewee tussle, the losers being ishy a couple of regulars. D. Johnston hung up a loop record by scoring seven of the Canucks goals and getting four of them unassisted. Forrestel got the other and two assist with Orr having one assist. O'Keefe, Griffith and Clark went well, and Carver was strong in goal. For Leafs, Smith and Douglas stood out, the former getting their goal and Douglas aiding. Lesurf stood off a barrage of shots in goal. The teams:

Leafs—Goal, Lesurf; defence, McArthur and Johnston; centre, Douglas; wings, Drummond and Smith; alternates, Lee, D. McFadden, and R. McFadden.

Canadiens: Goal, Carver; defence, O'Keefe and Griffith; centre, D. Johnston; wings, Forrestel and Orr; alternate, Clark.

Wings Win

Red Wings nosed out Canadiens in a speedy and close bantam battle with all players hustling. Burgess scored first for Wings, and Roberts came right back to tally from Cullen. Gell and Bloom combined to score for Wings with Gell sinking it. Carveth counted from Lundy for Canadiens. Carleton got the next one from Roberts but Burns got it back on a pass from Merrett. Then, Kane counted alone. Cullen scored on Carveth's pass, but Merrett got the final goal, aided by Bloom. Both goalies were good. Don Pagett handled it well. The teams:

Wings—Goal, Brockwell; defence, Bloom and Gell; centre, Kane; wings, Merrett and Burgess; alternates, Hewitt, Burns, Montgomery and Hillier.

Canadiens—Goal, Saunders, defence, Doris and Lundy; centre, Cullen; wings, Carleton and Roberts; alternates, Carveth and Gedge.

Powell Leads Scorers

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 18—(AP)—Ray Powell of Kansas City last week continued in the scoring leadership of the United States Hockey League and also had the most goals—35—to his credit. Powell had 71 counters, 13 more than his nearest rival, Wes Trainor of St. Paul. Another Kansas City player, Bert Olmstead, was in third place with 56 and Dutch Del Monte of St. Paul climbed into fourth berth by virtue of his 53 tallies.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Over the week-end, the Trent Valley Hockey League met in Batawa and Prexy Art Duncan demanded an immediate cleanup of all rough tactics by players and fans. Clubs are held responsible for the action of their followers, and players guilty of roughing or fighting will draw quick suspension. It was pointed out that more than $100,000 has been invested in new TVL rinks this year and that the league (largest organized loop outside of the OHA orbit) is going up the ladder toward real success now. Police are to be engaged at games and fans climbing over the boards will be arrested. Referees will be given full executive support.

* * * * * *

Mr. Duncan said: "At the present time, one of the league's outstanding performers is seriously ill and possibly out of hockey for the rest of his days as a direct result of such roughing, which must cease forthwith. The two towns involved are not alone, similar displays are reported from other towns in the circuit, and the deadline for such actions is past. I appeal to you personally to help build your league into the best one of its kind in the province. You can do this by observing the rules yourself and urging others to do the same." That's sound advice, not only for the TVL, but for all hockey in Peterborough and district.

As Hap Day Sees It

Talking to Andy Lytle last week, Coach Hap Day of Toronto Maple Leaf says of present-day hockey: "It's got everybody hitting everybody else. We've gone back to what was called pond hockey. That's what everybody wanted and we've given it to them. No, sir, you'll see no change in play format until it has been thoroughly tested. We tried out the no-blue-line business and it was boring. Players parked away up at the line and awaited stray passes. Ask Apps, who played before, during and post-war styles, and he'll tell you this style is hardest of all to play." Takes more out of the individual. No man living could stand up under 60 minutes of the pace hockey now sets."

* * * * * *

And the Leafs' mentor continued: "We tried out the no-offside between blue lines with the centre line out. Here again we were up against boring pauses. I see nothing better in sight than what we have. We see more action now in any two minutes of any game than we used to see in five." As Andy sums it up: "So, who's looney now?" Yeah, it looks like this pell-mell style of hockey is here to stay. The folks like the action and that's what they're getting. But rough stuff should be eliminated. George Panter of the OHA says rough stuff is dished up to suit American fans, who don't understand good hockey, anyway.

Legion Plays Petes

Legion plays the Petes again tomorrow night at 8.30 at Civic Arena, if the ice is okay, the Petes' home OHA senior "B" game this time. And another rousing struggle is assured. Legion had a little edge in the third period last night in a fast fray to pull out a 6-2 win and keep intact their victory streak. They had a 2-0 margin the first frame but were outscored 2-1 in the second as the men o' McGillis battled back in their snappy new uniforms. Fairly rugged but many of the penalties were for minor offences, and a lot of hot action was seen. The fans weren't sitting on their hands or muffling their voices at any stage.

* * * * * *

We didn't blame the cash customers for being sore at the delay in starting the struggle. It was an hour late—half an hour delay being due to someone at the rink switching the advertised time to 9.00 without notifying the press and the fans who read the paper. That's not good. The other half hour was because the referee was wishy-washy and wouldn't take the responsibility of ordering the game on as he had doubts if the ice was okay. It was okay, but for a hole in front of one net—yet only two goals were scored at that end all night! We've seen both teams playing on much poorer ice, and the IOOF juniors were on a far worse surface in Richmond Hill last game. He should have ordered it played and either team could protest if it wished. No excuse for either half hour delay, and our sympathy was with the disgruntled fans.

Puck Action Aplenty

PMHA and Industrial Loop hockey goes tonight at Civic Arena and at Riverside, if the ice is all right. Marines meet Trojan bantams at six, St. Peter's midgets play Clapper's next, and East City juves go against the northenders, all at Civic Arena. Over east, St. Peter's and northend Kids have a six p.m. bantam go, Jaycees play Trojan midgets, and St. Peter's tackle the juvenile Legions. Six more tilts then on Thursday. In Industrial League play, Lock Co. clashes with Quakers at eight in Civic Arena, followed by Marines vs. CGE. They go again Thursday night there and Friday re the schedule at Millbrook.

Tweed Draws With Norwood

NORWOOD, Jan. 18—(ENS)—Tweed and Norwood Combines drew 4-4 here last night in a neat Trent Valley Hockey League encounter. It was a speedy and clean contest on a good sheet of ice before a fair-sized crowd of fans. The Combines peppered the visiting goalie in the third period but couldn't beat him with the winning marker. Webb was the leading marksman for the homesters with three neat tallies. The teams:

Tweed: Goal, Cournyea; defence, Gehan and Leal; centre, B. Gehan; wings, Rivers and Meraw; alternates, Rogers, Maynes, Cotton, Newbury, Hart, Courtney, Grey and Reid.

Buffalo Players On Probation For One Week

BUFFALO, N.Y., Jan. 18—(AP)—All but six of Buffalo Bison of the American Hockey League were put on a week's probation Monday and General Manager Art Chapman threatened wholesale shifts in the western division cellar-dwellers.

"Only six players," Chapman said, "are playing up to the standard they are capable. The others aren't even playing good hockey when the club is winning.

"They've got just one week to get going . . . or out they go."

Some shifts will be made after this week, regardless of what Buffalo does against New Haven Wednesday and Washington Sunday, Chapman declared. The team lost to Springfield Monday night 2-0.

He said he is anxious to bring up some hard-skating youngsters from the Houston farm clubs in the United States League.

"And," he added, "we've got more players at Omaha and San Diego. We'll make wholesale shifts in personnel until we hit a winning combination.

"We want this Buffalo club in the playoffs. The present team will never make it the way it's been going."

Chapman didn't hesitate to name the six players he feels are "hitting the ball:"

Connie Dion, goalie; Tommy Johnson and Lloyd Finbelner, defencemen; George Pargeter and Doug Lewis, left wingers, and Tommy Cooper, right-winger.

"The rest . . . ugh!" the general manager commented.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Halifax St. Mary's and Dartmouth Arrows, two Maritime Senior Hockey League clubs, Monday night slapped a ban on radio broadcasts of their home games.

Three policemen ejected Station CJCH's team of broadcasters from the Halifax Forum gondola after they had been on the air little more than a minute with Monday night's Halifax-Dartmouth game.

Officials of the two clubs said their average attendance had increased by 1,500 for St. Mary's and 1,000 for Dartmouth during the two weeks games were not broadcast.

The clubs said they "were prepared to permit the station to broadcast one home game and two out-of-town games per week, free of charge."

"But because of the financial position in which we now find ourselves, we are unable to pay the station $170, plus the announcer's expenses, every week for these out-of-town games, as we obligated ourselves to do, during the last two weeks."

Newcastle United, one of England's outstanding soccer elevens, will make a cross-country tour of Canada this summer, W. McLaren McKellar, secretary of the Dominion Football Association, announced Monday night at Montreal.

Newcastle United, long a potent factor in English soccer, are currently in second place in the first division, only two points behind the leading Portsmouth club who have played three more games than Newcastle.

The touring Scottish curlers won eight of 10 matches against rinks from the Orillia district, winning 89-49 on the aggregate. The Scots left Monday night for Kirkland Lake, where they will curl today.

Carl Liscombe of Providence Reds, maintained his leadership this week in the American Hockey League scoring race with 59 points, it was announced Monday night at New York. His margin over Sid Smith, of Pittsburgh Hornets, was cut to three points. Smith, still in second place, has 56 points.

Johnny Chad of Providence, is third with 53 points followed by Murdo Mackay of Buffalo Bisons with 52 and rookie Phil Maloney of Hershey Bears and Paul Gladu of St. Louis Flyers, each with 51. Liscombe held on to his lead in goals scored with 33 while his teammate Roger Bedard led in assists with 35.

At Melbourne, the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia decided Monday night to issue a Davis Cup challenge immediately. Whether a team actually will be sent to America will be determined at the Association's annual meeting in Melbourne Feb. 2 after the delegates have been informed of the final recommenndattions of the selectors.

At Birmingham, Billy Thompson, the former coal miner, retained his European lightweight championship, but failed to add to his stature Monday night by gaining a waltz-pace 15-round decision over Josef Preys of Belgium. Thompson weighed 134¾, Preys 134.

From Columbia, SC, comes the word that Assault, the King Ranch's great thoroughbred, may race again. The Columbia Record said Monday it had word from Trainer Max Hirsch that he is putting Assault back into training and hopes to start him at a new York track next summer. Assault was retired to stud last year after popping an osselet in the 1948 Widener Handicap, when he was matched against Armed.

Sprinter Mel Patton, Olympic champion and holder of the unofficial world 1000-yard dash record, said Monday he will not run during his final year of eligibility at the University of Southern California. Patton said he made the decision because he has to support his wife and two-year-old daughter.

Wolves Play 3-3 Tie

NOTTINGHAM, England, Jan. 18 — (CP). — Sudbury Wolves, Canada's representatives in the international hockey championships at Stockholm, on Monday played a 3-3 tie with Nottingham Panthers. Bill Dimock scored the tying goal for the Wolves during the last few minutes of third period. Jim Russel and Ray Bauer also tallied for the Wolves.

Crime Appears To Pay In National Hockey League

By JACK TRACY

MONTREAL, Jan. 18—(CP).—The National Hockey League is one place where crime seems to pay and many a player with hours of penalty-box time is the fair-haired boy of his club's box-office set-up. Andy (Montreal Standard) O'Brien takes up the case of Toronto's Bill Ezinicki who last week stood 15th in the league's scoring column and was credited with an hour and 27 minutes in the sin bin.

"Generally speaking," says Andy, "you'd think walloping Willie's frequent absence from active play would draw censure from the Leafs' executives because, while defencemen are more or less exposed to penalties, the forward brigade is normally expected to avoid same. Yet, if the Leafs were ever silly enough to put Ezinicki on the auction block, every team in the NHL would break out in a rash of frantic bidding."

Glory Trail

Andy also notes that Ezinicki's old playmate, Maurice Richard of Canadiens, knows every penalty time-keeper intimately. Even the late, great Howie Morenz was hoose-gowed for nine hours and 32 minutes during his 15-season career. Eddie Shore's first two season with Bruins saw him skate the Glory Trail despite almost five hours in penalties.

"The oddest twist to the whole business," says Andy, "lies in the official league outlook regarding penalties. They're seen not as 'smears of shame' but rather as an interesting 'part of the game.'

"From the box-office viewpoint penalties supply thrills — the thrill of seeing the home team fight with back to the wall when short-handed, the thrill of seeing the home team 'pour it on' when the opponents are short-handed."

Andy concludes:

"Crime seems to pay off in the NHL but before deciding to bring up Little Oswald as a hockey baddie, it might be wise to reflect on Rangers' Buddy O'Connor who last season won both the Hart (most valuable player) trophy and the Lady Byng (most gentlemanly player) trophy."

HawkMarksmen Make Runaway Of Scoring Race

MONTREAL, Jan. 18 (CP) — Doug Bentley and Roy Conacher, the slickest double-barreled scoring combo in the league, are making a runaway of the National Hockey League scoring race.

Offical statistics released today show these Chicago marksmen with 43 points apiece, 10 more than their nearest rival, Billy Reay of Montreal Canadiens who had a big five-point week to vault into third spot.

The usually high-scoring Black Hawks were held to a pair of goals in their two games during the week, but Bentley and Canacher had a hand in both of them. Each collected a goal and an assist as the faltering Hawks blew both contests.

Reay, Canadiens' lightweight pivotman, is having the best season of his four-year NHL career. His 33 points are 11 more than he racked up during the whole campaign last year.

Back of Reay in a fourth-place tie are Jim Conacher of Chicago and veteran Sid Abel of Detroit. Each has 32 points, one ahead of Boston's Grant Warwick.

Tops Goal-Getters

Warwick continues to top the goal-getters with 18 markers in 35 games, while Doug Bentley and Roy Conacher head the assists department with 27 each.

Bill Ezinicki of Toronto stepped up his penalty time to 95 minutes, and still holds down top spot in that column. Montreal's Kenny Reardon is next with 89 minutes.

The shutout race has turned into a nip-and-tuck affair with three goalies now tied with four each, Bill Durnan of Montreal, Turk Broda of Toronto and New York's Chuck Rayner.

Durnan, four-time Vezina trophy winner, still has a good lead in the goals-against averages. Big Bill has allowed 77 counters in 34 games for a 2.26 percentage.

The annual Canadian catch of mackerel averages about 40,000,000 pounds with a market value of nearly $3,000,000.

IT HAS BEEN A POOR YEAR for skiing but in spite of the light snowfall the ski school at Kemp's Hill on the Warsaw Road is being well attended. Upper right, Mary Dodds (white hood) gives instruction to three girls on manoeuvering the skis. On the lower right Tony Clark points out an error that the young man is making.

Council Takes Oath Of Office At Millbrook

MILLBROOK, Jan. 16 (ENS)—Members who took the oath of office at the inaugural meeting of Millbrook Municipal Council, last week, were: Reeve, J. W. Wright, Councillors G. F. Harrington, G. A. Spicer, L. M. Fallis, and Welcon Coulter.

Reeve Wright appointed the following committees: Streets, bridges, and sidewalks, chairman, G. F. Harrington, and L. M. Fallis; public building and municipal property: Chairman Weldon Coulter and G. A. Spicer; fire protection, lighting and civic improvement: Chairman G. A. Spicer, and W. Coulter.

At the suggestion of Councillors Fallis and Coulter, the clerk was instructed to order three and one-half tons of calcium chloride from Burnner Mond Company. A letter was read from the Department of National Defence concerning removal of snow from street in front of the Armouries and councillors Spicer and Fallis, recommendation to advise the Department, that on the basis of cost to merchants with equal frontage, the Council would suggest a fee of not more than $20 was adopted.

A delegation, consisting of the Rev. C. M. MacLean, L. H. Winslow and R. I. Fallis, addressed the Council on the question of removal of snow on Centre street in front of the Anglican church. The matter was left in the hands of the street committee and street, foreman. J. J. Kellett. Messrs. R. Innis and P. E. Hamilton addressed Council proposing extension of Dufferin Street west to Distillery Street, and also asking for improved lighting there. The council stated that this was under consideration.

The Clerk introduced bylaws to appoint certain officers for municipal positions: Ivan L. H. Gray was appointed member of the Public Library Board for a period of three years; T. W. Belch was re-appointed Clerk, Treasurer, and Collector of taxes. Another bylaw empowered the Reeve and treasurer to borrow up to $10,000 to meet current expenses.

The Clerk was instructed to order six copies of the Municipal World, one year's subscription, for the entire council and the clerk.

Fire Chief, D. Sheppard reported that during 1948 the fire brigade answered four calls: two chimney fires, one barn and a shed. Total estimated fire loss being $500.00. It was reported that practice showed that all equipment was in good order. The clerk reported $35. paid out in direct relief during December. Letters received and read to council included seasonal greetings from Chas. Stevenson, Port Hope, M. P. Ontario Good Roads Association announcing the convention at Toronto, on February 22; Harrison and Company about bonds and Gardiner and Company concerning municipal financing.

PEOPLE OF SAULT STE. MARIE are to view the valuable collection of antiques and curios acquired by Dr. Harvey D. Morris, now retired and residing at the Soo. Also shown are an Arabian woman's workbasket and 14th century pewter tableware. At right, Dr. Morris shows his set of elaborately carved, ivory-handled knives and forks from an old collection in England.

Old Water Tank Removed

HALIBURTON, Jan. 18.—During the past week another old landmark disappeared from the village of Haliburton. A demolition crew of the Canadian National Railways has just completed removal of the old water tank that stood near the station in the Haliburton railway yards. This old landmark was one of the first of the railway installations built in Haliburton some 70 years ago and its impressive bulk will be missed. The demolition crew were amazed at the good state of preservation of some of the timbers after all these years. The tower and tank which measured sixteen feet across and eighteen feet deep had a total capacity of about 20,000 gallons of water. Its removal was considered expedient as it was considered to be dangerous and it was no longer in use as modern pumps in the engine house are now used to fill the engine water tanks.

Woman Too Pretty Court Drops Charge

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18—(AP)—A young woman won dismissal of a careless driving charge in city court Monday because the prosecutor said she was "too pretty to prosecute." The defendant was petite, blonde Jean H. Klein, 23-year-old dress designer.

"We can't prosecute a beautiful girl like this in our court," Prosecutor Roy Fish told the court. The judge ordered the case dismissed.

The city charged Miss Klein's car rammed a fire hydrant and sent her a bil for $93. She claimed her car skidded on wet pavement.

"It was the city's fault," she commented. "They should have put gravel out there."

Delay Indian's Sentence

QUEBEC, Jan. 18 — (CP). — Crown Prosecutor Paul Miquelon announced in Criminal Court today Jules Sioui, 44-year-old Huron Indian convicted on Saturday of conspiracy to incite a rebellion of Canadian Indians, was ill in Quebec Jail. He was to have been sentenced Monday morning. Crown Prosecutor Miquelon told the court he would try to bring Sioui into court for his sentence as early as possible.

Say Missing Patient Located In Montreal

MONTREAL, Jan. 18—(CP)—Mrs. Yvonne Mann, 34, of London, Ont., now being held in Fulum Street women's jail here, will be returned to hospital in Ontario as soon as city police hear from London authorities, it was learned Monday night.

Police said the woman was found in a store here last week and believed to be a victim of amnesia. She was unable to recall her name or where she came from. An examination by police revealed tags bearing the name, "Ontario Provincial Hospital, London."

Mrs. Mann left London earlier this week when she eluded a friends who was ecorting her to a theatre. After a woman's footprints were found on a beach at Port Stanley, Ont., police feared she might have drowned at the spot where her baby was drowned in 1947.

Cost-Of-Living Jumps 350 Per Cent In Ten Years

By ALEX VALENTINE

TEL AVIV, Jan. 18 (Reuters). —The new State of Israel is fighting one of its toughest battles against the soaring cost of living.

The latest official cost-of-living index figures is 355 compared with 100 in August, 1939. Many Israelis believe, however, that this figures is based on certain commodities which do not fairly reflect the rise in prices. They say that a fairer figure would be 500.

To lead an all-out attack on high prices, the government has appointed a cost-of-living "General," Sigfried Hoofien, president of the Anglo-Palestine Bank. It will be his job to co-ordinate the government's price-reduction activities.

Meanwhile, Tel Aviv continues to be probably the world's most expensive capital city to live in.

Coffee at 50 mils (20 cents) a cup, four-page daily newspapers at 25 mils and two-block taxi runs at 500 mils are representative charges.

Food Up 350%

The cost-of-living index shows food costs 350 per cent more than in August, 1939.

Two- and three-room furnished apartments are let in central Tel Aviv for a minimum of $60 a week. Comparable accommodation in Jerusalem or Haifa is slightly lower. Often, a key charge is added. Unfurnished accommodation, even rarer, costs anywhere from $20 a room up. Single bedrooms cost about $8 a night — and every available box room and divan has been put into service.

The greatest rise is shown by the cost-of-living index in furniture and household utensils. These have risen 600 per cent compared with 1939.

Nevertheless, the Israeli, in the midst of his preoccupation of building up a new state, still finds time to pause and laugh—even at the prices.

A current joke tells of a man who horrified passers-by in Tel Aviv's busy Allenby Street by lighting a cigaret—which cost about 250 mils for a package of 20—with a $20 bill.

To one inquiring citizen he explained simply: "I'm only a working man. I can't afford matches."

Shout Shame At Preacher

TORONTO, Jan 18 — (CP).—Two congregation members at the Jarvis Street Baptist Church here stood during service Sunday night and shouted "Shame" at the church pastor, Rev. T. T. Shields, John Coghill, one of the two members, said Monday.

Coghill described the incident as a "pretty wild hullabaloo."

The flare-up is the latest occurrence in the controversy over the Toronto Baptist Seminary from which Dean Gordon Brown was dismissed last month. Dean Brown, taking a majority of divinity students with him, formed the new Canadian Baptist Seminary.

Sunday's incident occurred Coghill said, after he and another worshipper, John Kennedy, had been "goaded into protest by Shields' sermon." They said the sermon was "full of dirty, double-edged insinuations."

Claims UE Group Captive Of Communists

As long as the United Electrical Workers' Union is a captive of the Communists it will be a target for public criticism. This assertion was made today by M. J. Fenwick, District representative of the United Steelworkers of America. He was replying to a statement by C. S. Jackson, the U.E.'s chieftain, who accused the Steelworkers of raiding U.E. jurisdiction.

"The U.E.'s continual cry about raiding is merely a smoke-screen for attacking the United Steelworkers of America because its leaders refuse to accept 'Red' Jackson's political 'philosophy,'" Fenwick said. "If our national director, C. H. Millard were to join the Labor-Progressive Party tomorrow, he would become the U.E.'s white-haired boy overnight."

The Steelworkers representative accused Jackson and his associates of misrepresenting the facts in the Outboard Marine case.

Asked For Report

"Jackson claims Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor, has asked Hon. Charles Daley, Ontario Minister of Labor, for a probe of the Outboard Marine situation, suggesting he is backing the U.E. This is not so. I am advised Mr. Conroy asked Mr. Daley for a report but took no sides in the dispute."

"Not satisfied with using Mr. Conroy's name to bolster the U.E.'s case, he went as far as to quote W. F. Cleve Kidd, research director of the United Steelworkers of America, alleging Kidd suggested the U.E. prosecute the Outboard Marine Company for perjury."

"The facts are: Jackson wrote the Ontario Federation of Labor of which Kidd is secretary, asking its support to prosecute the Outboard Marine Company for perjury in their submission of lists of employees to the Ontario Labor Relations Board. Kidd replied to Jackson that if the U.E. had the evidence as it claimed then it could prosecute."

"Obviously U.E. leaders are slanting statements in their favor," Fenwick continued. "The minutes of the Canadian Congress of Labor are studded with apologies from U.E. heads for misrepresenting other Union leaders. It is just part of their pattern."

Fenwick ridiculed Jackson's allegation that Steelworkers' organizers were in collusion with the Outboard Marine Company. I notice Jackson claims his union has received twice as much in wage raises as we have. If this statement is true then the U.E. must be in collusion with the employers."

BUILDING JUTS OUT—Complying with the request of the Council and town planning committee, Cherney Bros. and Haywood-Reilly Co. set back three feet from the street line their new stores on the west side of George St., south of King St. Details of the by-law have been opposed by owners of other buildings which are on the street line. Ontario Municipal Board has been requested to hear objections at public sitting here. It is expected that these objections can be satisfied without impairing the intent of the by-law gradually to effect a widening of George St. by three feet on each side. The photograph indicates the possibility of unfair results to the new construction now being completed if the setback plan, conceived for the future accommodation of George St. traffic, was not finally permitted and adopted by amendment which would meet the approval of all the property interests.

2,500 Blood Donors Wanted In Red Cross Program

Life saving whole blood will be provided free of charge to all hospital patients in Canada, as well as adequate amounts of blood plasma, the Peterborough Branch of the Canadian Red Cross said today. Plans were announced for a peacetime blood donor program to be operated here as part of the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service.

Because the Red Cross was so successful in collecting blood to fill military need during the war, and because of wartime developments in the use of human blood, the need for blood for the benefit of civilians has been made abundantly clear.

The peacetime collection of the blood will be made by visits to larger centres, of which Peterborough is one, by Mobile Clinics. These clinics will be completely manned by doctors, nurses and technicians and carrying with them all the necessary equipment.

The Peterborough Branch was highly organized during the war years with the establishment of a Blood Donor Clinic, when more than 25,000 donations of blood were taken. It operated very successfully by having the free will services of doctors, nurses, clerical help, kitchen and other help necessary. Its success depended on the donors and the co-operation it received from industry. Hundreds of men and women donors from the plants were the backbone of the organization.

Instead of having a clinic open every day the mobile clinic will visit a centre every four months and in a few days can take care of the number of blood donations required. Peterborough needs 2500 donors. Opportunity will be given every man and woman between the ages of 18 and 65 in good health to register as donors.

Sign Damaged

The large suspended sign of the McIntosh Tire Shop on George St. was damaged Monday night for the second time in two days. It received dents and scrapes causing about $20 damage from a truck driven by Thomas A. Sholer of Lindsay. The accident happened in the same manner as the previous mishap; the truck backed into the driveway, with the top parts of the platform hitting the sign, which is nine feet over the ground.

Sons Of England Lodge Honors W. W. Gray

Veteran Member Who Served Half A Century

Sons of England, Lansdowne Lodge, on Monday evening presented Br. W. W. Gray with the Veteran's Jewel in recognition of 50 years' membership in the Lodge. The investiture was made by W. District Deputy, Supreme President, Br. George Benton. Mr. Gray joined the lodge in 1899 and has served in all its offices, twice president in 1928 and 1944 and secretary of the Hall Trust, a post he has held for the past ten years.

Mr. Gray was born in London, England, and came to Canada in 1883 to settle in Napanee. After 15 years there he moved to Peterborough and for the past 20 years has been employed by the Gray and Bruce Trust and Savings Company. His wife, the former Elizabeth Rogers, died in 1945. A son, George, also died a few years ago. Another son, Percy, lives in Hamilton and there are ten grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren in the Gray family at the present time. Mr. Gray lives at 412 George St.

Other activities of the Monday meeting was the passing of a motion to make a money grant to the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto. The financial report was read by Br. W. G. Shiner, which showed the lodge in a substantial money position. The evening was brought to a close with an hour of social entertainment.

Hamilton Man Appointed City Assessor

Norman A. Wilkes of the assessment department of Hamilton, was appointed assessment commissioner by the council Monday night. His salary is $3,500 for the year beginning Feb. 16, and increases by $250 at the end of each year until it is $4,500.

The acceptance by Mr. Wilkes of the council's offer last week was received in a letter in which he expressed a wish to conform to a Hamilton custom of giving one month's notice of resignation.

Ald. Hugh Waddell introduced the bylaw authorizing Mr. Wilkes' appointment as head of Peterborough' assessment department. It was given three readings.

Board of Health

Mr. James Dutton, Ald. P. J. Anglesey and Wm. Tinker were appointed members of the Board of Health for 1949.

With Ald. Sands as chairman of committee of the whole in the second reading of the bylaw introduced by Ald. Grant Miller, Mr. Dutton was nominated by Mayor Swanston and Ald. Waddell; Ald. Anglesey by Aldermen Raine and Doug Miller; and Mr. Tinker by Aldermen Dodds and Gillespie.

Arena Ice Plant

The following report of the committee of the whole, read by Ald. H. Dodds, was adopted:

"Your committee of the whole council studied the proposal to establish an artificial ice-making plant at the Civic Arena. Your commitee reports: "That the Mayor be authorized to appoint a special committee to study the proposal to instal an ice-making plant in the Civic Arena, and to submit a report and recommendation at its earliest convenience."

Citizens Band

At the request of the Peterborough Citizens Band for a meeting with the council, Ald. Dodds moved that their four representatives be heard at 9.15 o'clock next Monday night.

First Margarine Reaches Stores

Margarine has come to Peterborough. This morning the delivery trucks were out early and between nine and ten o'clock women were making their first purchases. The new arrival has caused no great sensation and business, although fairly brisk, is no heavier than the average Tuesday morning.

Nearly everyone shopping downtown bought a 1 lb. box and there are few unwilling to make the experiment. In all the large stores groups of women handled the packages and pooled what knowledge or personal experience they had. Most women seem a little skeptical and several arrived at the stores armed with instructions from their husbands and families, most of whom want to sample the margarine but there are just a few husbands, who have said they will not have it on the table as a substitute for butter.

Most of the women plan to use it on the table and general opinion seems to be that it would be more valuable as a substitute on the table than for cooking.

There are two brands on sale in the city, both at 45 cents a pound.

Mayor Deputizes Alderman Raine

Mayor Maxwell Swanston made this statement to the Council Monday night: "I'd like to name Ald. Raine as my representative on the board of governors of Civic Hospital." Nothing else was said.

The mayor, by virtue of his office, is a member of the board. The phrase at the city hall is "ex-officio." There are various ex-officio positions which fall to the lot and responsibility of the mayor.

The policy of Mayor Ovens was to take them all in stride. Apparently, Mayor Swanston intends to depute some of that extra work to members of his council. At any rate, instead of becoming a member of the Board of Governors himself, he is asking Ald. Raine to represent him. Ald. Raine is chairman of the council's own hospital committee. His answer to Mayor Swanston was the affirmation of silence.

COTTAGES ENTERED

Several summer cottages on Katchawanooka Lake have been broken into, it was discovered Monday. Apparently there were no losses in the cottages which have been reported. Provincial police are investigating from Peterborough.

DOG DESTROYED

Humane Society Inspector Gerald Danford destroyed a valuable Irish setter pup on Monday after it had been struck by a railway jigger. The pup, owned by John Hooper of 310 Frederick Ave., was hit at the CPR Lansdowne St. crossing near Western Ave. With a serious leg injury, it was not possible to save it.

102 Motorists Fined In Month

During December 102 motorists paid parking penalties to City Clerk Outram. The tickets were distributed by the police. Each costs a dollar in the pay-off.

While the number of penalties was high, the number of permissive parking stickers was low—only one, costing a dollar.

Parking meters collected $1,927.83 last month. The total to their credit since May 12, 1947, is now $43,977.10. Other recepits were: licenses $1,227.42; police court $1,048.75; miscellaneous $339. Total for the month $4,543.

Two Women Gassed While Doing Laundry Revived By Inhalator Crew From Fire Hall

Two young women were partially overcome and a third was also affected by propane gas on Monday night. The gas had leaked from a stove they were using to heat water for laundry in the basement of the house.

Mrs. Harold Sanders, 18, of RR 2 Peterborough and her husband Harold Jr., earlier in the day had dropped in for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sanders, Sr., 297 Louis St.

Because she has not the same facilities at her own home Mrs. Harold Jr. brought her laundry with her and she was being assisted with it by two sisters-in-law. Annabelle Sanders, 13, and Doris Sanders, 15.

Water was heated on a burner in the basement which was apparently functioning properly, but there was a leakage somewhere and the fumes affected the trio.

When Mrs. D. T. Jones, 303 Louis St., another sister-in-law, came in to see how the laundry work was proceeding she found Mrs. Sanders and Annabelle partially overcome.

She phoned the fire department and an inhalator crew was sent to the address. As a precaution the inhalator was used on both of the young women for seven minutes.

The third member of the laundry party, Doris, did not require treatment.

Dr. C. F. Cahill supervised the respiratory operation.

Later Dr. Cahill commenting on the effects of propane gas in general, said that while it may cause headaches and drowiness, it is not fatal.

Gordon Matthews Returned For 23rd Year Utilities' Head

Utilities Commission began its new year of administration Monday with the reappointment of Gordon S. Matthews as chairman. He was proposed by George A. Macdonald, and seconded by Fred Hills.

This is Mr. Matthews' 23rd consecutive year as chairman of the Commission.

"I think it will be one of the toughest we've had yet," he said after thanking his two associates. "We have been following the policy of extending water mains regardless of revenue in many cases. It has been a good thing for the city because there have been so many houses built requiring the municipal services, but I think we will have to look into this practice a little more carefully this year."

First business of the year was a motion to pay to the Council $3,609.07 as a rebate which had accumulated in the street lighting account.

Place Four Street Lights

R. L. Dobbin, manager, was directed to have two street lights placed in the vicinity of St. Paul's Church, one on Murray St. and the other on Water St. Two lights were also ordered for Third Ave. as requested in a petition received through the council.

Probably at the next meeting, the Commission intends to focus attention on its gas department, with a review of the trend since the switch was made to propane gas, and for the purpose of economy.

"We have to save every dollar we can," Mr. Matthews remarked. The financial review of the year just ended will show a better condition in the waterworks than was expected. Its prospect was mentioned by Howard Clegg, accountant.

Domestic lighting was up 12.35% in December, commercial lighting increased 1.98%, but the industrial section showed a decrease of 32.29%.

Canadian General Electric Co. reduced its electric power buying by 871,200 kilowatt hours by using their steam turbine during the Hydro shortage. Quaker Oats was down 278,000 kwh. These two combined amounted to 1,149,600 kwh. and the total industrial power decrease for the month was 1,287,470 kwh.

Gas sold in December was 3,151,400 cu. feet, as compared with 5,982,800 cu. feet in Dec. 1947.

Mr. Dobbin's operating report for last month placed the electric power peak at 23,300 h.p., the same as a year ago, and 1,500 h.p. more than in November last.

Work Completed

"Rebuilding of circuits on Armour Road was completed. This work was necessitated by the installation of the new substation in Ashburnham. All outdoor city rinks were supplied with lights. Seventy-one 3-wire services and nine 2-wire were completed; 45 flat rate water heaters were added to the system."

"In the waterworks department pumpage in December was 129,132,000 gallons compared with 117,739,000 a year ago. This was an increase of 400,000 a day.

"On December 25 we had a bad attack of frazile ice, and had to call out extra men to keep the racks clear. They worked from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. The steam pump set was ready to operate, but was not required."

"During the month, 242 ft. of 8-in. pipe were laid on High St. north of Frank St., to serve three new customers. We also laid 573 ft. of 8-in. and 114 ft. of 6-in. and set one hydrant for the Peterborough Canoe Co., off Monaghan Road. (The company paid for that installation).

"We decided to curtail winter operations and laid off 25 laborers on December 18.

Gas Department

"We used 32,462 gals. of propane during December, which made 4,994,000 cu. ft. of gas. This compares with 5,000,000 cu. ft. in Nov. We laid 182 ft. of 3-in. gas main on Sherbrooke St., west of George St., to serve the Goodrich Rubber Co. Store, for use in their vulcanizer. We covered the ground around the propane storage tanks with crushed trap rock to prevent the growth of vegetation, which creates a fire hazard."

BUYS NEW TRUCK

Purchase of a new half-ton truck from J. K. Hughes Ltd. for $1,778, with tires, defroster and other accessories was authorized by the council Monday night in a motion by Ald. Waddell and Ald. D. Miller. It is for the Board of Works. Tenders were called from dealers.

QUITE A MESS

Between seven and 11 o'clock on Sunday evening the front windows and front door of the home of Mrs. S. Pooley, 733 Payne, were covered with brown sticky paper. The culprits are not believed to be children because the windows are quite high. The occupants in the house didn't hear any noise while the sticky tape was being put on.

IT CAME BACK

Tributes to the superhuman clairvoyance of postal clerks come into the big brick building at Hunter and Water streets every day. Persons who address mail appear to have an unshakable belief that the postal service can find addresses no matter how foggy the address.

One letter, mailed by a local firm, carried this address "D. Decker, Box 139, Destination Unknown". The postal authorities pondered over that one for a few minutes, then thoughtfully scrawled: "Neither do we" and returned it to the sender.

Police Launch Anti-Punch Board Crusade

100 Punch Boards Seized; Nine Get Summonses

More than 100 punch boards and a number of slot-machines were seized in the city on Monday and one man is under arrest for keeping a betting place. Summonses to eight coffee bar, restaurant or barber shop operators in the city went out from the police station today. The nine are faced with a total of 11 charges following Peterborough's first big drive against gambling devices in public places in more than three years.

The "raid" on Monday afternoon and evening was conducted by members of the Anti-Gambling Branch of the Ontario Provincial Police, assisted by city police and detectives. Inspector William G. Tomlinson of Toronto, head of the branch, was in charge.

Charles Griffin, 477 Rubidge St., was the man arrested for keeping a betting house. The 10 other charges issued by summons today are against: Jack Drysdale, manager of Jerry's Fish and Chips, 63 George St.; Percy J. Harrison, Coffee Bar, 711 Water St.; William Mantell, Bill's Place, 548 Douglas Ave.; Leo Girard, barber, 180 Simcoe St. (two charges); House Coffee Shoppe, 805 Water St.; Robert Fairs, 332 Burnham St.; Hymie Smtih, 182 Simcoe St. (two charges); Joseph Crowley, 404 Donegal St.

Seven of the charges are for violations charging that the accused did "unlawfully induce persons to stake or hazard money on the result of a gaming device ...to wit, a punchboard..." There are three charged with keeping a common gaming house and one with knowingly permitting his premises to be used as such.

The raid was made without advance notice, which is the usual method of operating used by that branch. More than a dozen men were with Inspector Tomlinson and the seizure of the boards were made almost simultaneously in various parts of the city, before the work of the raid could be spread.

The Peterborough operation coincided with a similar drive in Toronto on Monday. Toronto police said no arrest were made in that city.

City Asks For Firm Bids On Nurses' Residence To New Civic Hospital

City Council will ask for firm bids on the building of the Nurses' Residence of Civic Hospital. "We want to know the cost before it is started instead of waiting till the job is done, and never knowing until the end how we stand with the money the people have voted," Ald. Dick Raine, chairman of the hospital committee, remarked to the Examiner.

Nurses' Residence is the final unit of the hospital group of buildings.

The following clause in the report of the hospital committee, as read by Ald. Raine Monday night, was adopted:

"That a contract be entered with the present architects of the hospital by which they will be responsible for preparing plans for the nurses residence, on the understanding that their plans will be completed by May 15, 1949."

The architects are W. and W. R. L. Blackwell and Craig. The hospital committee had included a second clause in their report as it was prepared for the meeting Monday night.

It read: "That the contract for the construction of the nurses residence be given to Eastwood Construction Co. as part of the firm's present contract, and that the company be directed to proceed with all necessary arrangements for the work without delay."

Ask for Firm Bids

But, Ald. Raine did not read that clause. A substitute motion by him and Ald. D. Miller was read later. It was a recommendation to ask for firm bids. The Examiner was told that not only a firm bid but also firm specifications were evidently a necessity as a means of avoiding later changes and deviations involving extra costs.

Mayor Swanston told the Examiner: "The council does not want to find itself in the position of having expended the additional money voted for the job and having to go back and ask the people for more funds to finish it. That's not going to happen if we can help it. We think we can get one of more firm bids, and then we'll know where we stand when the contract for the nurses residence is let, and also where we are going."

Favored By Contractor

Both Ald. Raine and Mayor Swanston said that Mr. Hubert Eastwood of Eastwood Construction expressed himself as entirely in favor of this contractual approach to the nurses residence.

The implication in these comments appeared to be that if there are any changes in the plans after they are accepted and the contract let, the council and the public will know all the circumstances.

The Raine-D. Miller motion was: "that the committee of the whole council having reconsidered the position of the city in respect to the contract for the nurses residence of Civic Hospital, the policy be adopted that until plans and specifications for the nurses residence have been approved, no contract be let for its construction; and following the approval of the plans that firm bids for the construction of the residence be requested from contractors."

Can't Beat Curling for Fun Says Max Bentley's Sister

TORONTO, Jan. 18 —(CP)— Women who get tired of pink teas and bridges often turn to sports for "a new outlook and a flat tummy."

So says 49-year-old Mrs. Ruth Pratt of Winnipeg, skip of the first Western rink to compete in the Granite Club curling bonspiel, and member of the hockey-famous Bentley family of Delisle, Sask.

Advantages of tossing a 40-pound rock down a sheet of ice over pondering bridge bids were explained by Mrs. Pratt and her team-mates, Mrs. John Pope, Mrs. W. C. Johnson and Mrs. Wilfred Belden, all of Winnipeg, who lost out in the bonspiel.

"You can't beat curling for taking off pounds and toning up your muscles," Mrs. Pratt said. "And you feel wonderful after being in the fresh air.

All four women, active in sports of all kinds for a number of years, think sportswomen are less formal and a lot more fun.

Mrs. Pope, active in church work and service clubs and mother of two grown children, finds it a real relief to get outside on a curling rink after working around her home during the mornings.

She had been curling for six years, "but Mrs. Pratt has been practising the game for almost 15 years.

The Winnipeg team stayed an extra day to see Mrs. Pratt's brother, Max Bentley, play for Toronto Maple Leafs in their 2-1 win against New York Rangers.

MISS HELEN DOROTHY RETA REVOIR, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Revoir, of Havelock, whose engagement to Mr. Kenneth John Vernon Campbell, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Campbell of Hillier, is announced. The wedding will take place in St. John's Anglican Church at Havelock on Saturday, Jan. 29.

MRS. T. G. B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You certainly would be, for if there is any person in the world who earns her living by the sweat of her brow, it is the domestic woman who cooks and washes and scrubs and pinches pennies, day in and day out, year after year, without ever a holiday or even a day off. Making a home is a prepetual- motion job, for beds have to be made and floors swept, not once but every day that rolls around. Families are always hungry and have to be fed. The baby has to be cleaned, soiled clothes washed, a million and one tasks performed, so there is never a place where Mom can get off of the threadmill.

Wives Are Like Slaves

If any human being is entitled to a fat pay envelope, it is the housewife, and it is a sin and a shame that she so seldom gets it. For there are thousands of husbands like your miserly one who not only make their wives do slave labor, but begrudge them the very bread that they eat.

Why any man has the nerve to think that his wife has no right to share in the money that she earns by her ceaseless toil in the home, is a mystery past finding out. But it is the truth that many husband force their wives to hold down jobs outside as well as inside the home, and then make them crawl, like beggars, to get a few pennies of the dollars they have earned. Such husbands are entitled to the Meanest Man medal.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Why do the children of today treat their parents so badly? They have no respect for their fathers and mothers. All they want is what they can get out of them. I have two high school girls who apparently have no affection for me. All they think of is clothes and doing as they please and having dates with boys, and when I try to control them they just defy me and tell me that I am old-fashioned and don't know what it's all about. Many is the night that I wet my pillow with my tears over my selfish, greedy daughters.

MRS. K. N. W.

ANSWER: Before you can reform the present generation of children—and Heaven knows most of them need it badly enough—you have to reform their parents, for children are what their fathers and mothers make them. Every baby comes into the world as a plastic little bundle of potentialities. It can be made into something fine and beautiful that will be a blessing not only to its parents but to the world, or it can be turned into a monstrosity that will be a curse to its generation. It all depends on how it is handled.

The trouble with the parents of today is that so many of them are too occupied with their own pleasures and pursuits to devote any time to forming their children habits. Or they are too weak to fight it out with their children when some basic principle of right living is involved. Most modern parents stand in awe of their brats and let teen-agers settle questions that need the wisdom of grownups.

Believe me, Mrs. K. N. W., you wouldn't have to wet your pillow with tears at night over the way your daughters treat you if, when they were children, you had taught them to respect you and obey you.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My wife, who is 20 years old, and I have been married for three and a half years and have been very happy together until a few weeks ago when we went to a party and there met a young man with whom my wife fell desperately in love and for whom she has deserted me. I have tried to speak to her, but she went to the police station and took out a peace bond on me, so I can't even see her.

Do you think she really has lost her love for me in just a week?

A HEARTBROKEN HUSBAND

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If you have been married for three and a half years to a girl who is barely 20 now, yours must have been one of those child-marriages that so often end in disaster. For no teenage girl has had enough experience of life to be able to analyze her emotions and know whether what she feels for a man is a deathless passion or just a passing fancy. Evidently your wife belongs in this class, and it is folly to try to hold her She is emotionally unstable, and probably will spend her life in swapping husbands.

Little Meat Goes Long Way But You Get Meaty Result

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA staff Writer

Here are two recipes that use very little meat to get a delicious meaty result:

Mushroom Meat Sauce With Noodles
(4 servings)

Two tablespoons fat, 1 clove garlic, minced, ½ cup finely diced onion, ½ pound chopped beef, ½ teaspoon kitchen bouquet or Worcestershire sauce, one 2-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 cup tomato puree, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon sugar, 1-16 teaspoon powdered oregano, 8 ounces wide noodles.

Melt fat over moderate heat. Add garlic and cook 1 minute. Add onion and continue cooking about 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Add meat and continue cooking until crumbly. Stir in kitchen bouquet or Worcestershire sauce. Add contents of can of mushrooms and tomato puree. Add salt, sugar, pepper and oregano. Bring to boil and cook sauce, covered, over low heat for about 15 minutes. Cook noodles until barely tender in boiling salted water. Drain well. Add sauce and serve immediately with grated Parmesan cheese, hard rolls and a salad. (Note: This makes an excellent spaghetti sauce of course.)

Meat Savories
(Makes 10 patties 2½ inches in diameter)

Three tablespoons fat, 2-3 tablespoon minced onion, ¾ pound chuck beef, veal or lamb breast or shoulder, ground, 1¼ teaspoon celery salt, ½ cup rolled oats, 1-3 cup milk, 3 tablespoons chili sauce, 1 teaspoon bottled horse-radish.

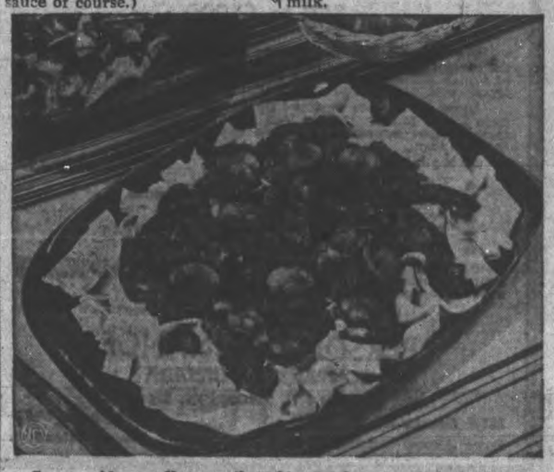
Melt 2 tablespoons fat, add onion, and simmer 3 minutes. Mix all remaining ingredients except 1 tablespoon fat and flour. Add minced onion and fat remaining in pan. Blend smoth. Form into 10 thin patties, then dust with a little flour. Brown slowly on all sides in remaining 1 tablespoon hot fat in skillet.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, cooked whole wheat cereal, raisin toast, butter, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Eggs poached in tomato sauce on toasted English muffins or plain toast rounds, salad, hard candies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Mushroom meat sauce on wide noodles, mixed green and vegetable salad, crusty rolls, butter or fortified margarine, compote of stewed pears, apples, and canned prunes, cookies, coffee, milk.



Serve wide noodles smothered in mushroom meat sauce

Marmora Wants Action On Twin Lakes Road

MARMORA, Jan. 18—(ENS)—A lengthly agenda marked the January dinner meeting of the Marmora Chamber of Commerce held in the Royal Hotel on Thursday evening. President Alex Fraser occupied the chair and despite various counter attractions, the attendance was good. A letter was read from the Hon. G. H. Doucett Minister of Highways in answer to the Chamber's enquiry if something could not be done to improve the road conditions near Twin Lakes. The minister referred to a subsidy to be given the township of Marmora and Lake and promised to have an engineer look over the situation in the spring. The president then reminded the members that the Chamber had been formed a year ago. The chamber had started the rink project.

Road signs had been placed at the ends of the village, and even at this time of the year, requests for summer accommodation were coming in. In his report Secretary R. E. Neal referred to his job getting bigger all the while and if it continued to increase, he would need assistance. He reported the success of the Santa Claus parade which had catered to more than 600 children. Bernard Hughes gave the treasurer's report. Receipts for the year were $541.34 and there was a balance of $59.42.

James L. Shannon reported for the membership committee. Last year there were 81 members and it was hoped that the number would be exceeded this year Donald Marett gave an encouraging report for the Publicity and Advertising Committee and H. A. McNally followed with that of Industry and Civic Welfare mentioning that his committee were ready to act on any opportunity which presented itself along their line of action. F. R. Loveless reported for he Retail Merchants section which he had handled following the death of the late H. A. Burwash at his request, the Agricultural report to have been given by Irwin McCoy was laid over, awaiting additional information of an interesting character. The final report, that of the Entertainment Commitee was handled by Bernard Hughes. A series of projects—some short term and some lang term were discussed water and sewerage came under the latter heading and a committee to go into ways and means was formed including Bernard Hughes, chairman and R. E. Neal and H. J. Neath. Before adjournment the following were appointed as a committee to arrange for a skating party as soon as possible. F. R. Wells chairman; F. R. Loveless, C. Heath, V. Glover, M. Stonehouse.

Skater Considers Chicago Tour

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(CP).—Still uncertain as to whether she will take a brief holiday as planned this week, Barbara Ann Scott has learned she may make a personal-appearance engagement in Chicago next month.

Her agents, Music Corporation of America, would not comment on this tentative engagement, but a theatre source indicated that the Chicago booking may be announced within a few days—if the deal goes through.

This source said Chicago is an ideal spot for an ice show and the success of Barbara Ann's New York appearance "makes her a natural" for the mid-west booking.

Barbara Ann herself would not say anything about the possibility, as usual she said she would be happy to skate anywhere—"just as long as I skate."

Meanwhile plans still are in the negotiating stage for appearances in the spring at skating club carnivals in Boston, Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto. There also is a possibility that she may appear in such a carnival at Philadelphia.

Food is siphoned through long, slender trunks by some species of butterflies.

Cotton Dresses At $7.95 With Paris Touches

NEW YORK, Jan. 18—(CP)—A Paris-inspired fashion showing by Tallortown this week displayed dainty cotton dresses priced to fit the pocketbook of the average girl—$7.95.

Most of the numbers did indeed have the Parisian touch. One solid-colored, combed broadcloth had a typically French high rounded neckline, graced with embroidery on the upper part and also on the pockets.

A novel feature on a delicate woven chambray was the twin over-lapping pockets on waist and skirt. It had off-the- shoulder sleeves, pearl buttons down the front and soft unpressed pleats in front.

Some of the accessories worn were as much of an attraction as the dresses. A wide straw hat with a gingham sash swinging to below the hem of the skirt was worn with an Annie-Get-Your-Gun gingham dress. It had a rolled collar on a U-neck with pleats on turns of the U; off-the-shoulder sleeves, and was buttoned three-quarters down the front, with a flounce hemline coming out from the pleat treatment.

The new plunging neckline was apparent in one striped chambray with dressmaker unpressed pleats in the skirt. It sported plastic buttons all the way down the front and had deceptive side pockets.

Perhaps the most striking in the collection of 15 dresses was a taffy-striped broadcloth with a wide winged collar and a sash peplum draped to a side tie.

A feature not always to be found in cotton dresses selling at this price was the covered side zipper which appeared in all the dresses, except those buttoned down the front.

Most of the frocks came in colors of blue, white, green, wine and grey. The fabrics were mercerized, sanforized and rigmel-processed, which, the spectators were assured, guaranteed that the more the dresses were laundered the better they would appear.

A total of 2375 tons of rouge is used annually by American women.

Cobourg Skiers Construct Hut

COBOURG, Jan. 18 (ENS).—A ski patrol hut has been erected out at the Northumberland Forest Ski Club as a shelter for the members of the patrol and for their headquarters. The amateur carpenters comprising the patrol got busy with saw, hammers and nails and constructed a building 16 by 14 feet. They call it a "hut" but some of the disrespectful ones call it just plain "shack." It has a good stove, however, and two bunks for any of the unlucky skiers who crack up and who require shelter pending their removal to town. It is well-stocked with first aid equipment.

Guelph Trims Kroehlers In 4-2 Victory

By The Canadian Press

Guelph Biltmores once again served notice Monday night of their determination to be on hand when the all-important playoffs in the Junior A division of the Ontario Hockey Association begins Feb. 21.

With a 4-2 victory over fifth-place Stratford Kroehlers in Stratford, the Guelph squad pulled themselves closer to the tightly-grouped company of six teams occupying the strategic playoff spots. In sixth place with 33 points, Biltmores are four points behind Stratford and eight points ahead of Toronto Marlboros.

Guelph accomplished its win despite recent outbreaks of injuries which have thinned its ranks, Floyd (Butch) Martin broke an ankle in Saturday night's game against Galt and Keith Montgomery is sidelined, probably for weeks, with a severe spinal injury suffered in a game last week at Barrie. Ron Plumb is under suspension until Jan. 31 for an alleged attack on referee Al Wood in Oshawa when the official suffered a head injury.

The first period Monday night provided Guelph's margin of victory when Hal Kewley and Lorne Ferguson fired tallies in the closing minute of the stanza.

Through the next two periods Stratford had a slight edge on the play and both teams split pairs of goals in each period. In the second, Don Oberholtzer made it 3-0 for Guelph on a pass from Kewley and five minutes later Stratford made their first marker as Dinny Flanagan provided the final shot on a passing play with Bilbber O'Hearn and Jimmy Pernfuss.

O'Hearn closed up the score still further with a marker for Stratford in the third period and with a minute to play coach Leo Barbini yanked goalie Boat Hurley from the Stratford nets and sent out six forwards. Frank Bathgate broke away from a face-off in the Guelph end to score in the empty net.

Expect Negro Players For Atlanta Ball Game

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18—(AP)—The general idea in Atlanta—official and public—is that Negroes Jackie Robinson and Roy Campanella can play baseball here, despite the Klu Klux Klan.

Last week, when Branch Rickey announced that his Brooklyn Dodgers would play Atlanta Crackers of the Southern Association in April and that the Negroes would be in the line-up, the Klan set up a howl.

The Atlanta City attorney and the Georgia attorney-general said today they do not know of any laws which would prohibit Robinson and Campanella playing here.

Fifty persons listed in the Atlanta telephone directory were called and asked what they thought of allowing Robinson and Campanella to play April 8, 9 and 10.

Forty said they thoroughly approved, four said it made no difference to them and six were opposed.

Marlies Seek To Bring Toronto First Allan Cup In 17 Years

By JIM BASTABLE

TORONTO, Jan. 18 (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs may have fallen out of world hockey championship form but the Leafs' farmhands—Toronto Marlboros—still are a potent threat to bring the city its first Dominion Amateur senior title in 17 years.

And the backbone of the Marlbords threat is the erstwhile, bouncing boy who started his National Hockey League career with the Maple Leafs—Frank William (Flash) Hollett.

The 36-year-old defenceman from North Sydney, NS, played around the NHL circuit before returning to amateur ranks in the Ontario Hockey Association. Playing-coach of the Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen last season, he joined the Marlies after the current season got under way—and it was just about then the Torontonians started rolling.

Marlboros had been winless in eight starts when Hollett came along with his darting rushes and steady defensive play. Today, the Marlboros are just one point off the leadership in the five-team circuit.

The team that Marlies are striving to head off for first place is Hollett's old club — Kitchener-Waterloo. With four teams gaining entry into the league's post-season playoffs, there are a couple more to be heard from, too — Hamilton Tigers and Owen Sound Mercurys.

Not Going Anywhere

The playoff circle is decided already because the fifth team, Stratford Indians, have showed they're not going anywhere. They have won only four games and tied two in 30 starts.

In mid-December officials of the Toronto club did a little hollering when Kitchener and Stratford pulled off the biggest player-cash-deal in OHA history.

The Dutchmen shelled out four players and $5,000 in cash to the Indians in return for high-scoring Billy Flick and Mickey Roth. Toronto president and general manager, Harold Ballard, accused the two clubs of "being in cahoots" to steer the Marlboros away from the league title.

While the two top clubs engage in their own feud, the Tigers, league champions for the last three seasons, are desperately hanging onto third place with 31 points. The Mercurys are one point behind.

But the Bengals, who play best when the chips are down, still are in the picture with Johnny Conick and Clare Shillington one-two in the individual scoring race. Conick has garnered 44 points and Shillington 42. Don Bauer of Kitchener is in third place with 41 points.

Ike Williams Downs Bratton Of Chicago

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18 — (AP)—It apparently will take more than a broken fist and the present crop of lightweight boxers to stop deadpan Ike Williams, king of the 135-pounders.

The Trenton, N.J., negro returned to the ring wars Monday night after a two-month layoff because of a broken hand. He pounded Johnny Bratton of Chicago to gain an unanimous 10-round decision. Each weighed in at 138.

A blood-smeared Bratton actually dared the champion to come out and fight in the eighth round and then punctuated his challenge with a right to the jaw that stunned Williams momentarily. Bratton danced and jabbed but just didn't have the over-all ability to lick a fighter of Williams' calibre.

The Chicagoan's manager, Howard Frazier, later told reporters he had offered the Williams' camp $32,500 to risk the title against Bratton in Chicago in March.

Plan Better Service

TORONTO, Jan. 18 — (CP).—A fleet of "multiple unit" cars will be operated on mid-town Bloor Street within the next few weeks, the Toronto Transportation Commission announced on Monday. Though operating in the rush hours as a car and trailer, each unit will be self-conta'ned, and can operate separately if required. Purpose of the new cars was to "speed up traffic by clearing signal lights in one flash."

By Herb Martin

There was some fine curling last night all across the board, or at least as far as could see from our position.

On ices one, six and seven there were some Neill Trophy games going on, but who was playing or who won out we don't know. We were too busy watching the Tankard play-off games and the District Cup games.

The only game of the four that was one-sided was the Allan-Best game—and this wasn't as bad as the score would indicate. The Allan boys were just missing and that spells disaster.

On ice No. 4, Fred Green and Dr. R. Clark had a real battle. It was good curling all the way down the 12 ends. We believe the Green boys had a decided edge on the last few ends. The last end was a honey, with Dr. Clark making the best shot of the night when he picked out Green's shot stone, but Fred made a nice shot with his last stone and when the Dr. missed with his last stone, Green finished four up.

Right alongside of them on ice No. 3, R. Downey and C. Giroux were having just as good a battle. Some nice curling, too. At the beginning of the game it looked as if Mr. Giroux was going to be the winner, but Mr. Downey had other ideas. The last part of this game was like the Clark-Green affair, for Downey took charge of things "and shouldered his crutch and showed how fields were won." He too, was three up coming home, and when Cyril missed the double raise with his last stone, Downey counted one more to put him up four.

In the District Cup play-off game, Dr. McKee and T. Doughty also fought it out to the last stone. McKee took an early lead, but Doughty kept crowding him, and like the other games, McKee was three up coming home. Doughty had a chance to tie it up on the last end if he could just tap out the Dr.'s shot stone, but he just couldn't make it.

It was a great night for the spectators and they enjoyed the fine curling.

There was another round going on about 10 o'clock, but we didn't wait for it.

Cameron Native A. Bryson Dies

LINDSAY, Jan. 18—(CP)—Albert E. Bryson, 80, of Toronto, who had devoted his lifetime work to teaching and to teachers, died here Monday. He suffered a heart attack while attending the funeral of a relative here.

Born in Cameron, Ont., he taught from 1887 to 1927 when he retired as principal of Silverthorn public school in Toronto to become full-time secretary of the Ontario Educational Association. He retired some years ago.

Educated in Cameron, Lindsay and Ottawa, he was principal of Cobalt public school during the silver boom there and taught as principal of public schools in several Ontario communities before coming to Toronto in 1922.

3 Policemen Shaken Up

OTTAWA, Jan. 18 — (CP), — Three Ottawa police officers were recovering to-day from a shake-up after their car crashed in an attempt Monday to overtake a speeding automobile believed occupied by four alleged United States bank robbers. The constables were shaken up when their prowler failed to navigate an S-bend on the icy Prescott highway, about eight miles from Ottawa, and overturned in the ditch.

NEW MONT ROSA EVERBEARING RUNNERLESS DWARF BUSH STRAWBERRY

Fruits from seed the first year; easily grown. Bush form, about one foot high. No runners. Hardy perennial. Bears abundantly from early summer till killing frost. Has an intense luscious flavor and aroma like that of wild strawberry; rich and juicy. Neat compact bushy growth makes it highly ornamental as well as valuable in vegetable, fruit or flower garden, borders, etc. A showy pot plant too. Though smaller than commercial strawberries Mont Rosa is the largest fruiting of any variety we know from seed, surpassing the popular solemacher and similar types. Its unique bush form and exquisite flavor place it in a class by itself for every home garden. Seed supply is limited. Order early. (Pkt. 25c) (3 pkts. 50c) postpaid.

Bogart Hopes To Break Wife's Contract

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 18 (AP).—The perennial battle between the Warner Brothers and the Humphrey Bogarts enters another round. The actor is mulling a suit to break his wife's contract.

The new mother is still on suspension for refusing a Warner's picture. Bogie claims the film will never be made. "We may bring suit to end her contract," he remarked on the "Toyko Joe" set.

Bogart, one of the few Holly wood names who worked for the Democratic campaign, regrets he won't be able to attend the Presidential inaugural at Washington Thursday. He's in every scene of his picture and can't get away.

Art Linkletter and Ralph Edwards are fueding over Edwards' remarks here that he developed the audience participation air show. "How does he get that way," remarks Art, who claims to have pioneered that type of show, too . . .

Wanda Hendrix surprised Audie Murphy by dyeing her hair back to her own shade before their wedding. It had been lightened for "Prince of Foxes." The first time Audie knew about the dye job was when she walked down the aisle . . .

Danny Kaye laid a big egg at last fall's command performance in London, travellers back from England report. After his Palladium triumph, the comic expected a warm reception. But he was playing before a bigger and colder audience . . .

A Morning Dip at Erie Beach

Carefree Days IN ONTARIO'S SUN PARLOUR

Do you know that the southernmost part of Ontario is farther south than the northern part of sunny California? If you're a sun worshipper, write the Windsor Board of Trade, Windsor, Ont., for details of where to go. You'll have every opportunity for sport, amusement, or just a restful vacation in Essex and Kent counties. On an early-summer holiday you'll find the sunshine is well ahead of time. And if you plan a late-fall trip, travel the sportsman's road to Pelee Island for the famed annual pheasant shoot. Here also is duck, grouse, partridge and wild geese hunting, in season. Scenic highways No. 2, 3, 18, 39, skirt the many beaches and fishing places on the shores of Lake Erie and St. Clair. Visit historic Fort Malden, John Brown's house. And for the nature-lover, Jack Miner's famed Bird Sanctuary well repays a visit.

In Ontario we have a holiday paradise . . . let's do all we can to encourage visitors from across the border. Published in support of the tourist business by John Labatt Limited.

6—In Memoriams

BRICK — In loving memory of our dear son and brother Hector who gave his life in Italy, January 17, 1944.
No one knows how much we miss you
No one knows the bitter pain
That we have suffered since we lost you—
Life will never be the same.
But, dear Hec, you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more;
And we hope that some bright morning
We shall meet on yonder shore.
He died that a nation might live!
—Sadly missed by Mother, Mrs. Brick, and sister Mildred, Mrs. O'Brien.

BRICK—In loving memory of my dear son Hector, who died five years ago in Italy; also little grandson Hector who died six years ago.
He died that others might live;
At the coming up and going down of the sun, I remember.
—Sadly missed by mother, Mrs. Brick, Sorenson Ave., Toronto.

ELLIOTT—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Margaret Elliot, who passed away January 18, 1946.
We who loved you sadly miss you,
As it dawns another year;
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are ever near —The family.

ROODE—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Roy Arthur Roode, accidentally killed January 18, 1946.
Not now, but in the coming years,
It may be in the better land,
We'll read the meaning of our tears,
And there, sometime, we'll understand.
God knows the way, he holds the key,
He guides us with unerring hand,
Sometime with tearless eyes we'll see,
Yes, there, up there, we'll understand.
—Too dearly loved and sadly missed to ever be forgotten by Mom, Dad, Brothers.

Provision for the legacy of $16,000 by W. G. Morrow for the building of a Trinity United Church Sunday School has been renewed in a recent decision of the trustee and the local committee authorized to assist in the administration of his will.

The National Trust Company of Toronto is the trustee and the members of the committee are Judge S. L. Smoke, Mayor Swanston, James Hamilton and G. H. Thompson. In their meeting here several weeks ago, the company was represented by Mr. J. G. Hungerford. A copy of its minutes were received by the Council on Monday night.

"His Honor Judge Smoke pointed out that the trustee and the committee had previously approved the expenditure of $16,000 toward the erection of a Trinity United Church Sunday School," the report from Mr. Hungerford began. "Decision was unanimous that this sum be reserved out of the residue of the estate against the time when Trinity United Church should decide to proceed with the building of a Sunday School."

Most of the other minutes were recently published in their substance. Approval was expressed of the action of the council in arranging to expropriate for the site of the new city hall the private properties in the block bounded by George, McDonnel, Murray and Water Streets.

The engagement of Mr. R. Winter of Hamilton as consultant was also endorsed together with the preliminaries of obtaining sketches from Marani & Morris, Toronto architects.

"The committee felt that sufficient recognition of the late Mr. Morrow's generous gift would be shown if at the entrance to the proposed building a suitable pillar or plaque were put up which will refer to the donor's bequest, his interest in civic affairs, etc. This should be in full view of everyone who enters the building. It was thought inadvisable to have a wing or room named after Mr. Morrow. It was suggested that Mr. Hungerford get in touch with the architects about this matter."

It was suggested that serious consideration be given to housing the police court in the basement of the new building. "This would entail providing for a court room, cells, office of the Chief of Police and also of the police court clerk. It is recommended that first estimates by the architect be prepared on the basis of providing for a stone-faced building. It was felt that the building should be of good, solid, dignified appearance, and that, if necessary, size should, in the first instance, be sacrificed for quality, having in mind that the construction should be such that expansion at a later date would be possible.

Considering Wing

It was suggested that consideration be given to the erection of a utility building, possibly of brick, in the rear of the main building which could house the auxiliary services such as welfare, health and engineering departments, and public and separate school boards."

Another recommendation proposed "consideration for the housing of the Utilities Commission office in the new main building, if this could be done economically. The feeling was expressed that occupation by the Utilities might take up more space than the size of the building could reasonably provide without considerable expense being involved to allow for the necessary space."

"The Utilities might come in as part owner or as lessee, and possibly a separate wing for them might be considered. It was decided the matter should be taken up with the Utilities Commission by the executive committee of Council."

Mayor Swanston said a special committee should be named to discuss the details of the placing of departments in the new city hall, allotment of space and so on. Members of the staff could be called in to assist in this preparatory planning. Mr. Winter had suggested, Mayor Swanston said, that three members of the council be appointed for consultative purposes with himself and the architects. They could report progress to the council.

This appointment was left to the executive committee in a motion by Ald. Adam Sands and Ald. Grant Miller.

Solemn High Mass Held For Mrs. Torpey

Solemn requiem high mass for the late Mrs. John Torpey of 193 Hunter St., was celebrated at the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Monday by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. F. J. O'Sullivan. He was assisted by the Rev. J. A. Greenan as deacon and the Rev. F. M. Fitzpatrick, sub-deacon. Present in the Sanctuary were the Rev. J. P. Collins, the Rev. P. P. Butler and and the Rev. J. J. Killen. Pall-bearers were four sons-in-law and two nephews, Edward O'Connor, Frank Butler, James Smith, Thomas Mackey, Joseph Torpey and Joseph Tobin. The Rev. J. J. McCarthy said the graveside prayers and burial was at St. Joseph's Cemetery, Douro.

Mrs. Torpey died in hospital on Friday following a short illness. She was born in Douro township, Catherine, daughter of the late Daniel Shea and Elizabeth McManus, and before moving to Peterborough 10 years ago, lived in Otonabee township.

She was a member of the Church of the Immaculate Conception since its dedication and was an active worker in its Catholic Women's League and the Altar Society.

Regard Wartime Houses Good Property Investment

Canada's expanding military establishment for defence is likely to be reflected this year in new construction, even on the housing level, which may extend shortages for private building that have been experienced during the war and the country's return to peace.

News last week included an estimate that defence expenditure for this fiscal year will be $300,000,000, and it is expected that provision for the army will include a housing program at training camps which will require a great deal of new building.

Government housing for municipalities in this province last year totalled around 2820 houses. Projects for this year, including military needs, are contemplated, it is understood, at more than 5,000 housing units. This is not an official announcement, but enquiries are turning up indications, based on defence plans, that could hardly relieve the shortages which have affected private building in recent years.

This has been one of the intimations learned in the course of enquiries about the values of properties being purchased by tenants from the Crown Company. At the city hall and elsewhere it is the conviction that such purchases are sound investments. Buyers themselves, it is said, do not question that fact. Their monthly rentals were credited by the company in the amounts charged to tenants in their buying for private possession. In other words the company fixed its prices on a cost basis.

Assessments of the government houses ranged from $1,800 to $2,200 according to the number of rooms. Central Mortgage declined to announce their selling quotations to the tenant-buyers. At one source it was learned that a house privately built, and similar in most respects to a Central Mortgage unit, sold recently for $6,200.

It is of recent construction, frame building, gyproc partitions, foundation and basement, plumbing but no furnace. It has 572 sq. feet of floor space as against 576 sq. feet in the comparable (as to size) Wartime house.

United States Seen As Leader In Secret Drive For Atomic Power

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, Jan. 18—(AP)—An international race for atomic power is getting under way in the fourth year of the atowic age.

The contestants are the United States, Britain, Russia, France and Canada. Progress in each country is obscured by secrecy. But there is no co-operation. It is each country for itself.

The United States appears to lead. But there is one "if"—if none of the others has discovered a short-cut to make atomic power more cheaply and easily. Such a discovery is not impossible.

Each of the other countries has one of those incentives which are the mother of invention, and which sometimes change the course of history.

For three countries, this incentive is lack of the huge sums the United States is said to be lavishing. Exact American figures are secret. But David Lilenthal, chairman of the United States Atomic Energy Commission, says the money is greater than private American capital can afford.

The three with the honest-poverty incentive are Britain, France and Canada. Russia has a different incentive. She lacks coal or any other industrial-power fuel at low cost. For her, atomic power could pay the biggest and quickest dividends.

American power progress is slow. In the fourth year after the war, America finishes her first post-war pile. It has enough heat for power experiments. At first it was said that experiments would be made. Now unofficial reports are—probably no power at Brookhaven, NY:

Saratoga Springs Plant

The first atomic steam-electric power plant is to be built near Saratoga Springs, N.Y., under the General Electric Company plan which was announced recently. Construction might take years, but no figures have been issued.

During the first two post-war years, an experimentaly atomic power plant was repeatedly reported under way at Oak Ridge, Tenn. A year ago it was disclosed that nothing had been built, and personnel of Oak Ridge Power was transferred to the Argonne Laboratory in Chicago.

At Argonne nothing has been announced except a study of concentrated energy.

Nucleonics, a new scientific publication on atomic energy, has said editorially that private American industry, if permitted a free hand, would have atomic power ready years ahead of its present stage. The McMahon Act prohibits industry from making its own private plants.

Atomic energy commissioners have not said how far along power may be. Their most significant move in 1948 was to predict that it should be possible to build power plants that will "breed" more atomic fuel than they consume.

The significance is that if this plan fails, then the atomic age will be limited. Breeding means that uranium 235, in burning or splitting will create either plutonium or uranium from thorium. Uranium 235 is by far the scarcest of the three metals, and might not last long by itself.

Commissioners have suggested that until the breeding problem is solved it may be unwise to burn the uranium resources. They have said that power is handicapped by military necessity, which is taking 80 per cent or more of the $500,000,000 which the United States Congress has so far made available for post-war atomic en-

New Council Meets

BUCKHORN, Jan. 18 (ENS).—First meeting of the 1949 Harvey Township Council was held in True Blue Hall, when Reeve J. G. Elliott and Councillors T. G. Gordon, T. W. Mas, Charles Johnson and K. Junkin agreed to renew the workmen's compensation policy with Lloyds. It was decided to allow all members of the council attending the Good Roads Association convention $15 for travelling expenses.

Council was told by Mr. Twigg, representing Children's Shelter, of a family living in the township which was badly in need of assistance.

Ratepayers of S.S. No. 4 addressed the council on the question of road ploughing and the clerk was instructed to write to the Department of Highways for information.

Voucher No. 12 was paid to Road Superintendent ($733.75) and the following accounts were approved: J. D. Montgomery, S.A. Officers, $8.80; M. B. Hall, salary, $20; Good Roads Association, membership fee, $5.

10 Dead And Scores Burned As Tanker And Cutter Collide In Fog Off Coast

Fire Out Of Control On Coast Guard Ship
Fear Magazine Explosion;
Report No One Injured Aboard Oil Boat

BOSTON, Jan. 19—(AP).—Ten Coast Guardsmen were reported killed and "scores" burned and injured in a fiery crash of the cutter Eastwind and a tanker in fog off the New Jersey coast today. The Coast Guard said at Boston that report was radioed by the cutter's captain. The Coast Guard reported this radio message from Capt. John A. Glynn:

"Fire in midships area. Collided with SS Gulf Stream. Hit amidships in starboard side in CPO (chief petty office) quarters and total casualties unknown but approximately 10 dead, mostly chief petty officers."

Pick Up Survivors

The coast guard here said a tanker, the SS Suzanne, radioed she was heading for New York with 17 survivors of the crash, two seriously burned and others with lesser injuries.

Another merchant vessel, the SS Junior, reported rescuing 75 crew members from the cutter. She carried a crew of about 160.

Fire was out of control aboard the Eastwind, the coast guard said, but flames were held aboard the 10,000-ton tanker. No casualties were reported among the tanker's crew.

The crash tore the cutter so that her ammunition magazines were exposed and firefighters battled in momentary peril of explosion, the coast guard reported.

The Gulfstream, a 10,000-ton ship, was believed to be carrying a crew of about 50 men. It is owned by the Gulf Oil Corporation and is 504 feet long and 68 feet wide.

Canadian Buying In Britain Sets New Record

OTTAWA, Jan. 19 — (CP) — Canada is about to wind up her 1948 import books wth the world and the prospects are she'll show a record-shattering import trade with the United Kingdom.

With the last 31 days of the 12 month period still to be computed, the Bureau of Statistics' 1948 figures show Canadians imported $275,000,000 worth of British goods.

And even if December produces little activity, the 1948 figure so far tops the best post-war year, 1946, by about $76,000,000 and makes for a new high in Canadian purchases from the mother country.

But the buy-British mood didn't stop with the U.K. Figures show total purchases from all British countries—including South Africa, Australia, New Zealand—were increased in 1948 by more than $100,000,000 over the best previous year, 1947. Totals for the 1948 11-month period were $463,000,000 compared with the 1947 11-month period of $319,700,000.

At the same time the Dominion sliced her imports from the United States by about $200,000,000, trimming purchases from this dollar area from $1,834,500,000 in 1947 to $1,649,900,000 in 1948.

Canada spent by far the biggest amount of her dollars for iron and iron products; about $715,400,000 of her total world purchases of $2,405,000,000.

Non-metallic minerals and products, such as petroleum and coal, took $559,967,000; while extiles, such as cotton products from the U.S., cost the country $322,368,000.

Noted as the land of agriculture, Canada nevertheless spent $314,867,000 for agricultural and vegetable products.

For sugar during the first 11 months of 1948, Canada spent $66,913,000 compared with $52,116,000 in 1947 and $19,360,000 in pre-war 1939. Fruits cost her $58,212,000, down from the $72,422,000 spent in 1947.

Deny 5 Planes Crossed Border

LONDON, Jan. 19—(Reuters)—Air Minister Arthur Henderson today told the House of Commons that all the evidence showed that the R. A. F. planes shot down near the Palestine-Egyptian border did not cross the frontiers. He said the British pilots in the hands of the Israelis were captured some 10 miles inside Egypt.

Henderson, answering a series of questions, said he thought it was conceivable that Israeli ground forces might well have mistaken the British aircraft for Egyptian.

"But I do not take that view as regards the Spitfires that were shot down by the Jewish Spitfires which swooped down on them. They should have been able to see the distinguishing marks on the wings."

Raymond Blackburn, Labor member for King's Norton, said the parents of one of the R. A. F. pilots had received information from "absolutely reliable authority" that the aircraft which attacked the R. A. F. planes were Spitfires in British camouflage. For that reason the R. A. F. pilots were not able to make the necessary evasive action, he said.

"Where did the Israeli forces get these Spitfires from?" he asked.

"They certainly did not get them from me," Henderson replied.

Chinese Gov't Asks Cease-Fire On Both Sides

NANKING, Jan. 19 — (AP).—The government to-day asked for a cease-fire order on both sides in the Chinese Civil War and immediate peace negotiations.

A formal statement by the government information office announced the move to halt the three-year war.

The executive Yuan is empowered to negotiate for peace, but it must submit its proposals to the Legislative Yuan which ultimately takes its orders from Chiang Kai-Shek.

Chiang's reaction to the reported action of the executive Yuan is anxiously awaited on all fronts.

At besieged Peiping, an 11-member peace mission from that ancient city was expected back from the encircling lines of the Communists with an answer to their peace pleas. They went into the lines Monday under a truce flag.

Foreign diplomats were informed the government would begin moving from Nanking to Canton on Friday.

Last week Chiang named a committee of three to draft the cease-fire order. Shortly afterward Communist Leader Mao Tse-Tung issued a radio ultimatum calling for total surrender of the Central Government. Mao's terms upset plans in Nanking at that time.

The committee which Chiang named, and which presumably obtained the executive Yuan's approval of its proposal, was made up of ministers Chang Chih-Chung, Chang Chun and Chen Li-Fu.

Chang Chih-Chung has been prominently mentioned among those favoring peace negotiations. Chang Chun is a former premier and regarded as a moderate Kuomintang member while Chen Li-Fu is commonly regarded as an extreme right-wing Kuomintang member previously favoring a last-ditch stand again the Reds.

Power Cut Off Six Hours In North Bay

Roofs Swept Away, Windows Broken, Telephone Lines Down

TORONTO, Jan. 19 — (CP) — Ontario reeled today under the impact of a roaring gale which reached an 81-mile-an-hour velocity in gusts.

It cut off power in many communities, including the bustling Northern Ontario city of North Bay. Across Southern Ontario it blew down signs over stores, crumpled store windows, felled trees and disrupted telegraph communications. Canadian Press circuits carrying news to Ontario newspapers was interrupted.

There was no immediate estimate of damage from any point. Some said it might run to "thousands of dollars." In most centres it was of a minor nature.

At Windsor, where it hit a 75-mile pace, it caused considerable damage and one man was reported hurt. It ripped part of the roof off the Medical Arts building on Ouellette Avenue in downtown Windsor. In neighboring Detroit, windows in the main business section were shattered and many signs were blown down.

Levels Garage

At Chatham, the storm levelled a cement block garage owned by Chester Nicholson. The walls of the 50-by-20-foot building were blown in and the roof came down on two cars.

Trees were blown down in city and district and roofs were blown off some barns. In the city, one tree fell on a house causing minor damage. Another tree fell on a car and a man was injured. A fire was started in Bridger's Garage when two signs blew down and caused a short circuit. Many signs were blown down in the business section.

At Niagara Falls, trees were blown down and signs damaged.

Without Power

At North Bay freezing rain followed by a 75-mile gale cut off power for more than six hours. The power went off at 5 a.m. and wasn't restored until after 11 a.m.

It was estimated that one in every three houses in the city suffered some damage.

Pedestrians had trouble walking on the ice-sheathed streets in the face of the terrific wind. Two men carrying suitcases finally got down and crawled across the main street on their hands and knees when they couldn't make any progress on foot.

Wouldn't Register

The report on the 75-mile wind velocity came from weather observers at North Bay airport. They said their wind-measuring instrument wouldn't register higher than the 75-mark and the needle was banging there, indicating that velocity was much higher.

The power went off at 5 a.m. and was still off in many sections of the city at 10:30. Homes with

Hungary Publishes Cardinal's Confession

BUDAEST, Jan. 19—(Reuters)—The Hungarian government today published an expected "yellow book" on the case of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, primate of Hungary, who was arrested for alleged treason.

It indicated that his trial would begin "very soon" and that foreign newspaper men would be admitted to Hungary to cover the trial.

It gives what is stated to be the cardinal's confession in his own handwriting, and detailed charges involving several members of the United States legation, including the American minister, Selden Chapin.

The book quoted Cardinal Mindszenty as having said that he regarded himself as a Hungarian nobleman. It said his aim was and is, "the aim of the monarchist movement in Hungary—a federative central European monarchy, with the personal union between Hungary and Austria, and with other Catholic states, in the first place Bavaria, that might perhaps join it, and with Otto Von Hapsburg on the throne."

Train Crashes Through Bridge

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Jan. 19 — (CP)—Possibility that a passing motorist may carelessly have lighted a fire that weakened a 120-foot wooden railway trestle near the southern Saskatchewan village of Scotsguard was being investigated today by railway officials. One man was killed when a train crashed through the trestle yesterday.

The mishap, which came while the province was recovering from a blinding blizzard, claimed the life of Engineer Charles W. Penha, 63, of Moose Jaw, killed when the engine and four cars of his train hurtled down a 40-foot ravine after the bridge gave way under it.

Injured, and in serious condition, was fireman Harold Landru of Regina, who received a fractured skull, broken pelvis and scalds from escaping steam.

Others injured, but in less serious condition, were trainmen J. W. Griffith of Moose Jaw, William Meikle of Shaunavon, Sask., and Dave Fillion of Moose Jaw.

None of the 11 passengers travelling in the two coaches of the train received anything worse than a minor shaking. Contents of the express and mail cars, however, were almost completely destroyed as flames spread through the cars following the accident.

Possibility that some passing motorist encountering severe storm conditions while driving along the nearby highway Monday night, might have sought shelter under the bridge, lighting a fire to keep himself warm, was reported under consideration.

Teachers Vote To Continue Strike Till Demands Met

MONTREAL, Jan. 19—(CP)—Striking Roman Catholic lay teachers today voted to continue their walkout until the Catholic School Commission guarantees them blanket immunity from reprisals. The 2,000 teachers earlier accepted Archbishop Joseph Charbonneau's pledge of help in obtaining their demands for salary increases.

At a meeting this morning they left their stand on the Roman Catholic Archbishop's offer unchanged but voted to stay out of classrooms until Eugene Simard, commission chairman, signs a statement guaranteeing them immunity from any reprisals for going on strike.

At an 11 a.m. meeting the teachers voted to continue their strike until they received a signed statement from the School Commission guaranteeing them their wage demands and immunity from reprisals.

The teachers, seeking increases ranging from $300 to $700 annually in basic pay, walked out on Monday in the province's first school strike.

Spokesmen for L'Alliance Desprofesseurs Catholiques, the French-speaking group, and the English-speaking Federation of Catholic teachers, have claimed that the strike is 95 per cent. effective. More than 50,000 children in common and high schools have been affected.

Britain Offers Recognize Israel

LONDON, Jan. 19—(AP)—A government source said today Britain will recognize Israel if the United States joins in a British plan to guarantee peace in the Middle East.

Britain is said to have made new and drastic changes in her Holy Land policy in the Middle-east plan which she is pposing to the United States.

The source said the offer to recognize Israel was made in a series of top-secret Washington talks between the British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks, and State Undersecretary Robert Lovett.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—(AP)—The British Embassy described as "absolute nonsense" today reports published in London that Britain has proposed to the United States a new plan for settlement of the Palestine crisis.

Asked about them, an Embassy spokesman declared that "there is not a word of truth in it." He said that most of the subjects supposed to have been covered in Sir Oliver's presentation to Lovett yesterday actually were either touched upon very lightly or not at all.

Radar Defence Network Aim of RCAF

Train Civilian, Technical Men To Handle Equipment In Emergency

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Jan. 19—(CP) — Canada's Defense Department signalled the start today of a long-range program of radar development which the RCAF hopes will grow into a comprehensive warning radar network to cover vital areas of the country, informed quarters said in Ottawa.

The department announced formation of an auxiliary or part-time radar and communication unit at Montreal. This means that the movement is on to have radar move forward in stride with other segments of a long-range program for defense of Canada.

It does not mean that the cabinet has already ordered construction of a multi-million dollar radar screen across the wide, wild Arctic wastes.

It does mean, however, according to defense sources, that the first pieces are being fitted into a program whose logical conclusion would be a radar screen across the country—not somewhere within the Arctic circle on the rim of the continent, but much nearer civilization.

Creation of radar defense generally has been one of the major concerns of air force headquarters for months. As the climax to any really comprehensive system of continental defense, a northern network has long been under study here, and to a degree not made public, on a joint basis with Washington.

There already are some radar stations in the country and officials say there will be more in the months ahead.

The auxiliary move, announced for Montreal and expected to spread to other cities, will earmark and train civilian technical men and units and build up equipment which will be ready for emergency. The regular force has a radar school and is building up a body of knowhow and equipment. There will be other steps.

Whether the northern network, a repeated subject of speculation in Washington and Ottawa, is ever built, is seen in informed quarters here as a question which in the next five to 10 years may force a political and military decision of monumental proportions on Ottawa. Whether the U. S. would help if it is remains problematical.

In the interim, planning has swung to thinking in terms of shields for vital targets, such as large cities and key spots like the Sault Ste. Marie canal. They could be wedded to the larger, overall screen if and when it is built

The cost of a complete network, informed opinion says, would be well up in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Woman Hit By Taxi, Badly Hurt

Freed On $4,000 Bail
Driver Charged With Careless Driving

Mrs Alice Waldron, 58, of 735 Young St., was critically injured about 6.30 this morning when she was struck by a taxi at Braidwood Ave. and Lock St.

Reports from St. Joseph's Hospital this afternoon are that her condition is "very serious." Both legs had multiple fractures and were badly smashed. A head injury and possible other injuries are also suspected. Due to her generally poor condition, a detailed report was not available. It was felt earlier in the day that an operation would be performed, but this has been delayed. She has been unconscious since the time of the accident.

The driver of the taxi was Murray Hill, 137 Dublin St. The taxi was driving south on Lock St. and Mrs. Waldron, according to the story given police, was crossing the street at the Braidwood Ave. intersection.

Careless Driving

In police court this morning, Hill appeared on a charge of careless driving, to which he pleaded not guilty. He was remanded for one week on $4,000 bail.

Only witness to the accident was Mrs. Kathleen Gilbert of the River Rd. She told police that she had been standing at the corner of Braidwood and Lock Sts. while Mrs. Waldron had been crossing to catch a bus. In the centre of the street, she said, Mrs. Waldron turned momentarily to wave and had been hit at that time. She was thrown some distance by the impact and lay in a pool of water until help arrived. The driver, Hill, required medical attention for the nervous shock brought on by the accident.

Mrs. Waldron is a widow and lives with her son, Stanley T. Waldron. Three daughters are Mrs. L. Estabrooke, 372 Burnham St.; Mrs. Melvin H. Ketcheson, 185 Bethune St.; and Mrs. Lang, Aylmer St.

She was pouring coal oil from a can into the stove to replenish the kitchen fire when the oil exploded as it touched live embers in the stove and spattered flaming oil over her face, arms, legs and body.

The house also caught fire as result of the explosion but the blaze was extinguished with little more than smoke damage resulting.

Call Provincial Police To Control Strike

PARIS, Ont., Jan. 19—(CP) — Provincial Police were called to Paris today to assist in maintaining order as the strike of employees of Penmans Limited went into its second day.

Some provincial officers were expected to reach Paris at noon today, and others by evening. Some disturbances were reported this morning on the picket lines, but D. L. G. Jones, company spokesman, said approximately ten per cent more employees went in to work this morning than Tuesday morning. Mr. Jones also said that some employees had been prevented from entering No. 1 mill. There appeared to be no change today in the number of pickets, but some of them instead of being at the mill gateways were some distance away.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—(AP)—State Undersecretary Robert Lovett said today that the United States would welcome proof in action of the intent behind recent declarations of Communist leaders favoring better relations between Russia and the west.

Makes 5th Attempt To Find 60 Million Pirate Treasure

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19—(AP)—The $60,000,000 in pirate treasure which legend has buried in Cocos Island is about to become the goal of another expedition of fortune hunters.

James A. Forbes tomorrow starts his fifth quest for the fabulous island, this time with a 50 man crew and a Hollywood camera and sound unit. Delayed several days by bad weather, the expedition is scheduled to shove off late tomorow in the Bolivar, an 185-foot remodelled landing craft.

Forbes himself will meet the boat at Costa Rica, where he flew last week to arrange for fuel and the Costa Rican soldiers who will accompany the expedition for protection and to guarantee the government's share of the loot. Cocos is 300 miles southwest of Costa Rica.

Forbes, former baseball pitcher and now superintendent of a fruit company, is determined to find the "Lost Loot of Lima," the treasure of his great grandfather, James Alexander Forbes, an educated pirate who bequeathed his sons an elaborate map and descriptions. Last year Forbes' party excavated many shreds of canvas believed to have been sails of the ill-fated English merchantman, Mary Dear.

The Mary Dear carried the loot to Cocos when Simon Bolivar, famous liberator, staged his march on Lima. The treasure is recorded in the archives of Spain to contain solid gold statues and other objects of art. Forbes estimates that its present-day value would be more than $500,000,000.

"Our first two expeditions resulted in failure," says Forbes, "but my brothers, Charlie and John, and I located the exact spot of the buried treasure with the aid of Fisher radio metal locators and the dimensions of the great cache have been carefully measured."

Engineering problems of keeping out the tide caused Forbes to turn back last year in the face of torrential rains and blistering sun.

Charge Wife Burned Two Bodies

Police Say Daughter Dead Since Fall; Woman Can't Recall

MOUNT FOREST, Ont., Jan. 19—(CP—Mrs. Catherine White, 62, faces charges of neglecting to bury the dead body of her husband and of "indecently offering an indignity to a human body by setting fire to it."

If convicted on the charges, which were laid under the Criminal Code, she can be imprisoned for up to five years.

The charges arose from police investigation into the bizarre deaths of Mrs. White's 72-year-old husband, George White, and of the couple's mentally-ill daughter Florence, 42.

Firemen found the bodies of the father and daughter on smouldering mattresses in their adjoining bedrooms following a fire Jan. 7 in the White home, 42 miles south of Owen Sound.

An inquest jury decided yesterday that the father died of pneumonia between Dec. 31, 1948, and Jan 5, 1949, and that Florence White died "from causes unknown" sometime last fall.

Taken from hospital to testify at the inquest, Mrs. White said she could not remember how the fires in the bedrooms started. After the inquest, she was taken to the Wellington County jail at Guelph and police said she would probably be examined by a psychiatrist.

Blames Mother

The woman's 35-year-old son, Percy, told the jury that he believed his mother set fire to the bodies.

The son said he had never seen his sister since he returned from three years' overseas service in the army. He said he had not been upstairs in his home for 10 years prior to the day of the fire. When he inquired about his sister, who was kept upstairs, his mother said Florence was "not too bad, coming along nicely."

His father became ill in December and after Christmas remained in bed upstairs.

Smelled Smoke

Percy White said that on Jan. 7 he smelled smoke. His mother told him she was burning hair combings. The man ran upstairs with a pail of water, was turned back by thick smoke from his father's bedroom, threw in the water and ran downstairs for help.

Firemen later found the sister's decomposed body in the other room.

"Do you know what caused the fire?" the son was asked.

"I thought at first that father had been smoking in bed. But afterward, when I saw everything in front of me, I know it must have been mother. She just lied to me all along."

"Did she set the fire?"

"I didn't see her but she lied to me about the whole thing," the son asserted.

BROUGHT FROM HOSPITAL to testify at a double inquest into deaths of her husband and daughter, Mrs. Catherine White, 65, of Mount Forest is led away from courtroom to county jail at Guelph Tuesday after two charges had been laid against her. She is charged with failing to bury her dead husband's body and with "indecently offering an indignity to a human body by setting fire to it." She is helped from courtroom by Prov. Const. L. R. Beer and Nurse E. Morrison.

Doctor Orders Mercy Flight

WINNIPEG, Jan. 19 (CP). — A wireless diagnosis by an army doctor, separated by almost 1,500 miles from his patient at a far Northern settlement, was scheduled to-day to set in motion another RCAF rescue mission into the Arctic winter darkness.

The RCAF announced last night that a Dakota transport would take off from Stevenson Field at 7 a.m. CST to-day on the first lap of a rescue mission to the north end of Baffin Island.

The mission was halted temporarily yesterday while the doctor, based at Churchill, Man., diagnosed the stomach ailment of Harold Dunn, Transport Department radio operator at Arctic Bay, 400 miles within the Arctic Circle.

Deciding that Dunn's condition was serious enough to warrant the 2,000-mile flight to bring him back to civilization for treatment, the army doctor flashed the go-ahead to the Dakota crew, standing by at Winnipeg.

Massachusetts Police Send Holdup Warning

BOSTON, Jan. 19 — (CP). — Massachusetts State Police Tuesday said they were advised Jan. 14 by Keeseville, NY, police that the border patrol had reported four men planned a bank robbery in Canada.

Special patrols of Quebec and Ontario Provincial Police have been scouring the Canada-United States border area in an attempt to intercept the quartet.

One of the men is said to be a Canadian with a record for grand larceny, arson and other offences. The other three are described as soldiers; the Federal Bureau of Investigation said one is a "notorious United States gunman."

Massachusetts police said they have been warned the four are armed with machine-guns and are "very dangerous."

Wins Senate Approval

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—(AP)—Dean Acheson, 55-year-old lawyer-diplomat, Tuesday won Senate confirmation as the new secretary of state by over overwhelming 83-to-6 vote. Six Republicans cast the only votes against Acheson.

Keep 'Tough' Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 — (AP)—Fresh evidence that the Truman administration will press its so-called 'tough' policy toward Russia was found by diplomatic authorities today in the debate that led up to Senate confirmation of Dean Acheson as United States Secretary of State. The debate indicated that any effort to back away from the cold war in the months ahead would arouse violent opposition.

Critics In Dilemma After Bevin Speech

LONDON, Jan. 19 (Reuters)—Foreign Secretary Bevin, facing one of the most testing experiences of his career in parliament's Palestine discussion, took control of the situation from the start, political quarters said today.

General parliamentary reaction was that his handling of the situation confronted potential labor critics of his policy with a first-class dilemma.

This may be reflected in today's meeting of the 390-strong parliamentary Labor party, which is expected to discuss Palestine.

In parliament, the effect was seen in a conciliatory exchange of views between Opposition Leader Winston Churchill, Liberal Leader Clement Davies and Bevin on arrangements for a debate next week. On angry clamor for an immediate discussion — which might otherwise have developed —there was no sign.

William Darling Warden By Acclamation

William Darling, now beginning his fifth consecutive year as reeve of Dummer, was unanimously elected Warden of Peterborough County on Tuesday afternoon at the statutory meeting of the County Council.

He is the second native of Dummer to follow in the footsteps of his father and attains the highest elective office in the County. C. J. Darling was warden in 1916, and now, 33 years later, his son is the incumbent.

Previously—James Hawthorne was warden in 1930 as was his father, E. Hawthorne, in 1899.

Since 1880 there have been seven wardens from Dummer: A. Kidd 1886, E. Hawthorne 1899, R. Crowe 1903, C. J. Darling 1916, James Hawthorne 1930, E. N. McDonald 1938, and William Darling 1949.

First warden of this area was also a Dummer man. George Arundle Hill, who was appointed by the government in 1842 to preside over the district of Colborne. This included the present counties of Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton.

Mr. Hill remained in that office until 1846.

Before he began his present five-year period of office Mr. Darling had spent two years on the township council, beginning 21 years ago. He was born and educated in Dummer and has lived there since.

In a few weeks, however, he expects to leave the farm for his son to manage, and become a resident of Warsaw.

His father was a member of the County Council for 18 years and was on the Township Council for 10 years.

Other Offices Held

Other public offices held by the present warden were: member of the Dummer Municipal Telephone Commission for three years and sec'y-treasurer of the Board of Trusstees for S. S. No. 4 Dummer.

Three men were proposed for warden this year. The first nomination was by Reeve Harrison and Pearson who proposed Mr. Darling; the second was by Reeves Reid and Mahoney proposing Ernest Leeson; and the third was by Reeves Humphries and Nichols proposing Norman Wilson.

Mr. Humphries said that Mr. Wilson had an honor he believed unique in Council: he had been acclaimed to office for the fifth consecutive time and his name has not yet appeared on a ballot.

With the permission of their movers and seconders Reeves Leeson and Wilson declined as nominees. Mr. Darling was elected by unuanimous vote and the matter was decided in five minutes.

4 New Members

Four new members answered the roll call to begin the first session of 1949: Ross Barrons, Reeve of Belmont-Methuen; Glenn Nichols, Reeve of Chandos; Gale Elliott, Reeve of Harvey; and Richard Stewart, Deputy-Reeve of Otonabee.

The two other changes from last year's Council are Rork Ferguson who succeeded W. E. Packenham as Reeve of Norwood, and Harry Reid, who defeated W. W. Dawson in Otonabee. Richard Stewart of Otonabee, as Deputy-Reeve, succeeds Harry McIntyre who did not run this year.

Messrs. Barrons and Elliott also took office by virtue of defeating the 1948 incumbents, Messrs. Griffiths and Flynn, respectively.

There is a change in the voting this year: Although there are 17 members of Council, there are 18 votes, thus making a tie possible.

As Smith now has more than 2,000 eligible electors its Reeve, Ross Harrison, is allowed two votes. Being head of the township with the highest assessment he is also entitled to a third vote in the event of a tie.

A tie is unlikely this session, however, as it is understood that James Gifford, Reeve of Ennismire will not be present.

Plan Supper Party For Valentine's Day

HASTINGS, Jan. 19.—(ENS).—Fourteen members of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. Stewart Whitred.

The Scripture was read by Mrs. Alan Sherwin.

It was decided to meet at the home of Mrs Reta Johnston to discuss arrangements for a Valentine supper to be held in the church basement on February 14. Mrs. Wm. Whitred's home will be the next meeting place.

Mrs. H. B. Wilson was elected sunshine convener and Mrs. C. Dodd, social convener.

Mrs. Basil Johnston and Mrs. Reta Johnston helped to serve lunch.

electrically-operated thermostats were without heat. Many ate cold breakfasts and faced the same sort of prospect for lunch.

The roaring gale blew out store windows and scattered merchandise on the street. It blew the roof of a house owned by John Thompson and took part of the roof off the three-storey transportation building which houses the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Telegraph and Ticket Offices.

Record Velocity

At Kitchener winds which which reached an almost record velocity between 4 and 5 a.m. left a trail of destruction in the area, including a 10-storey steel material tower at the Kitchener-Waterloo hospital.

The tower, valued at nearly $7,000 was being used for work on construction of the new $2,000,000 wing. It crashed to the ground shortly after 4 a.m. and will cause some delay in the hospital construction.

Store and house windows were smashed at various points in the twin cities, and a number of doors ripped from factories and service stations. Some new store and garage fronts in Kitchener were damaged. Wind velocity was estimated at about 80 miles per hour. At least one large storage shed in the city was shifted to a new site.

Forty poles holding Canadian National telegraph wires were reported down between Stratford and Shakespeare. Long distance telephone is being used to keep trains moving.

Emergency Calls

Toronto's Hydro Electric System reported little damage to wires and polls, although the service department recorded many emergency calls.

In a downtown Toronto lane a large poplar tree was uprooted and crashed across two garages, damaging two automobiles.

Windows in several buildings were damaged by the wind's blast.

Many trees uprooted throughout Toronto blocked thoroughfares to morning rush traffic. A nurse in a Toronto hospital said the wind blew her fur coat out of an open window into the street.

Damage of more than $5,000 was reported from Collingwood where a new building of 12,000 square feet collapsed. The structure was almost ready for occupancy.

The weather observation offices in Toronto reported the storm's centre did not hit downtown Toronto. The gale's centre was at Manitoulin and later moved over to Michigan before passing on to Western Quebec.

Church Session Entertains Choir

KEENE, Jan. 19 — (ENS)— The session of United Church and their wives were hosts to the choir at a banquet on Friday, when more than 60 sat down to a banquet provided by the Tillicum class. Mr and Mrs. J. S. Henderson welcomed the guests. A program of entertainment presided over by the Rev. George Murray, followed when Miss Margaret Bryce and Mrs Fred Eason sang duets. Mrs. Stuart Mitchell sang two solos, Margaret Lang played the piano and there was also community singing.

Miss C. Bonnell of New York addressed the gathering and Fred Eason gave an account of his trip to the West.

A toast was proposed to the choir by Session Clerk Peter Mather to which Harold Mather replied D. Potter's toast to the church was responded y the Rev. A. Murray and the Tillicum Class and Session were thanked by W. Drummond.

The annual congregational meeting will be held on Monday.

PICTON FAIR'S PROFIT

Picton Fair last year showed an operating profit of $1,458.27. The proceeds were $8,093.74 and expenses $6,635.47. The board also spent $714 on improvements to the county-owned buildings.

Farmers Fear Sleet, Rain Damage Crops

TORONTO, Jan. 19 (CP) — Sleet and rain in sections of Southern Ontario Tuesday night left farmers worried.

Said an Owen Sound district farmer:

"A severe frost would cause extensive damage to the fall wheat crop after the wet weather of recent weeks."

But fruit growers in the Niagara Peninsula said they expect heavy damage to orchards if warm weather continues, as buds may burst. A temperature drop, if it came soon enough, would check budding.

Logging operations are at a standstill because of the rains. Harry Gardiner of Owen Sound said logging from the swamps of elm, ash and birch softwood logs was at a halt.

"We will now have to start on the hardwood logs of maple and beech. These woods are found on the higher ground. It will make things pretty slack for a while, but the mills in the cities and towns are pretty well stocked at present," he explained.

Farmers in the Algoma district, near Sault St. Marie, expect heavy loss on hay, vegetable and fruit crops. The reason, they say, is the freezing ground there without any snow protecting the crops.

Budget Surplus And The National Debt

The Minister of Finance, Mr. Abbott, has announced that in the first nine months of the fiscal year (to the end of December) a very satisfactory surplus of revenue over expenditure has been achieved. The surplus for the nine months amounted to $609,949,698. The surplus budgeted for last March for the entire year was 489 million dollars. Therefore, as of December 31st, the national purse is already fatter than it was expected to be by next March 31st. It is not, however, quite as fat as it was on December 31st, 1947, when the surplus for the nine months of that year was $646,195,606. The present surplus may be increased by next March, as the 1947 surplus was increased to $669,958,000 by the end of the last fiscal year. The total surplus for this year, ending in March, will undoubtedly be less than the total of last year because income taxes are somewhat lower and many excise taxes and duties imposed in November, 1947, have been dropped and others reduced. However, it will be substantial.

* * *

Some critics of the government's financial and taxation policies both disapprove of the large surplus and see in them an indication that taxes are far too high. Let them remember the size of our national debt, calculated in the last budget to be $12,377,798,000 (net). Let them remember that 21.21 per cent. of all the money spent by the Canadian Government has to go toward paying the interest on this gigantic debt. If a surplus is secured it is put against the national debt, so as to reduce it and thus reduce the interest charges.

* * *

So far as national budgeting is concerned, "surplus" and "reduction of debt" are correlatives. In fact, the Appendix to the last Budget contains this sentence: "The net result was a budgetary surplus, or decrease in net debt, of $669,958,000". It is very good business to provide for surpluses in good times so that the national debt can be reduced. Last year was the first in a decade that interest charges on the public debt fell below the previous year. This was a direct result of the reduction in debt during the year. We shall probably never in this world pay off the national debt completely, but we can in good times reduce the carrying charges by reducing the principal. Interest charges last year amounted to $466,430,000. That is more than $35 for every man, woman and child in Canada. It is an expenditure which the Government —any government—should try to reduce. The present Government's policy is to reduce it.

Singing In The Street

We were walking up town yesterday evening when we heard a male voice quietly singing. Pleased, we glanced over our shoulder to discover its source. It was another pedestrian, conventionally dressed, respectable-looking in the half-light. This man saw us looking, started like a guilty thing, and went silent. We felt like pleading with the stranger to continue his singing — not because his tunes were a delight or his voice charming, but because his sotto voce was a happy thing to hear. Along that whole street he had been the only sign that for one person at least God was in his heaven and all was momentarily right with somebody's world. But he stopped his singing at our glance.

As far as we know, there is no law against singing in the street, as long as it is no boisterous chorus. There is, however, the stringent ban of convention; proper Canadians should not sing except in church, in the bath or at service club dinners. Singing in the street is not done. According to the social code which he had disregarded when he felt himself screened from discovery by the night, our stranger of yesterday evening should have expressed his happiness by a stern twist of the mouth, careful attention to the solemnity of his gait, and a gruff clearing of the throat every time his soul treacherously began to let a note rise to it. At most he could have donned a brilliant tie if he cloaked it with a sobre muffler, or gaudy socks if he hid them by goloshes. Certainly the code forbids him to sing, or even whistle.

Perhaps we are wrong about our stranger. He may not have been happy. He may not have been attuned to the world because of a fine dinner, a good day at work, an unexpected inheritance from a rich cousin, the birth of his first child or a compliment from his wife. He might have had murder in his heart—some murderers are reputed to sing while they work. Nevertheless, for a moment, he did give a happy air to the street, whatever the reason for his singing. Next time we hear a man singing on the street we shall respect the code by pretending not to notice the solecism. Perhaps then the singing will continue.

The Race Riots In South Africa

Peoples everywhere in the British Commonwealth have been shocked by the rioting which became epidemic in the sister dominion of South Africa at the end of the week. Although the principal manifestations have been by native Negroes against Indians, there is no guarantee except the forces of arms —which can be suppressive but not curative—that the resentment and hatred of black for brown will not be directed with double force against the whites.

South Africa has racial problems inherent in its mixed population of nine million African natives, two and a quarter millions of European descent (chiefly Boers) and a quarter of a million Asiatic Indians. The problems have become grievously acute since the Malan Government took office last year. Its racial policy, which seems illiberal to other Commonwealth people who have not the same problems, is to segregate natives and Asiatics to take normal citizens' right from them. If the negroes have animosity against the Indians, who have multiplied and prospered since they were imported into the country in the 1860's, they must have much stronger hatred of the "whites" who hold them in bondage. They may not yet have the strength or courage to give expression to it, as they have done now against the fewer Indians. Race-hatred is infectious, and unless the condition is alleviated, its suppurating sores will scar South Africa's body politic.

Dr. Malan's treatment of the racial problems is medieval; the recent German attempt to put it into modern practice did not succeed. Field Marshal Smuts, the great former Prime Minister of the Union, who is now Leader of the Opposition, said on Sunday that South Africa is "tasting her first fruits" of the government's "racially repressive, reactionary economic policies". They are bitter fruits.

Argentine Aid To U.S.A.

There is an Assistance Foundation in Argentine, of which Madame Eva Peron is the head, which hopes to ship necessaries to 600 needy children in Washington, the capital of the U.S.A. We read in news dispatches that Washington is embarrassed and annoyed on this score, which we think is rather small-minded of Washington. After all, the U.S.A. has been more than generous in giving aid to the needy of other countries, and might well be grateful for this return of the bread which it has cast upon the waters.

We do not know what form the aid to Washington will take. Perhaps old clothes will be collected in Argentina for the underprivileged American tots. The sight of little Americans in the old sombreros and used serapes of their luckier Argentinian cousins would add a picturesque note to President Truman's inauguration. The portrait of the late President Roosevelt is to be found in many a hovel in Europe; perhaps the beautiful face of Madame Peron will occupy a similar place of honour in the humbler dwellings of the American capital.

We cannot imagine why Washington should be embarrassed or annoyed by this show of international goodwill. After all, charity is one of the greatest of the virtues, and should be encouraged.

Drawing Canada Together

Over the night of Friday-Saturday last a transport aeroplane flew non-stop from Vancouver to Halifax. The plane was built in Canada — a "North Star". The crew and passengers were fifteen R.C.A.F. men. The 2,785-mile trans-Canada journey, on which no attempt was made to set speed records, took eight hours, 32 minutes. Although the fliers professed that the flight was merely a routine job, it was the first non-stop flight from sea to sea across the Dominion.

Canada is no longer divided by wastes of mountains and bush and thousands of miles. Halifax is only eight hours, 32 minutes from Vancouver. This fact alone is guarantee that the sectionalists who prey on regional prejudices will ultimately be frustrated and that Canadians from Atlantic to Pacific will be one people.

CANADIAN CAUSERIE

Flame To Fluorescent

By GEOFFREY VIVIEN

It is one of the most charming of our laws that requires trucks to light themselves up like Christmas-trees. Lawyers may pretend that there are good reasons of safety for the rows of little red, green and orange globes that wink from every corner of the truck as it makes its way through the night. But we can smile at that, in the same way as we smile at the historical explanation of the Mounties' red coats. Maybe there was good sense in choosing a cloth that should remind the Indians of the fair-dealing of the British Redcoats; but the heart of the matter is that here was something beyond common-sense; here was one of those flashes of imagination that give the world legends.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE festive lighting of trucks is a miniature affair compared to the splendour of the Mounties' coats, but it does add its own touch to the gaiety of our night scene. And whatever drawbacks this age of ours has, the brightness of our world after dark is a wonderful thing. I speak as a townee and as a person who has just made a night landing at Dorval airport. Droning through the night-sky one travels not only through space but through the centuries. The open country is wrapped in primeval darkness. Thus the earth looked to the monster birds that flapped their clawed wings over the earliest landscape of the post-glacial age. A lonely light appears—Man! What courage and self-sufficiency the creature possesses. Through the long years which saw the opening up of the land these little signals told the story of arrival and gradual increase. The plane drones on.... the pinpoints of light cluster into a village; the church spire is like a pointed pencil ready to record the spiritual history of the homes around. Suddenly the twentieth century rushes into sight — the myriad lights of the great city. The dark wing lifts and the double row of runway lights comes into view, a broad deserted boulevard. The noise of the engines eases off. We are dropping, dropping out of the huge darkness of the past into the scintillating, many-faceted brightness of today.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT was exactly a hundred years ago, in 1849, that Quebec changed her street-lighting from fish-oil lamps to gas. London had made the change at the beginning of the century, but the old oil-lamps remained in some parts for many years, their three wicks probably throwing as much soot as light from the crude whale oil in which they were bathed. The oil-lamp stage must have been one of the most unpleasant in the progress towards a lighted city. How much more charming was its predecessor, the candle. Too delicate to take the street, its little dancing flame was the perfect illumination for the graceful movements of the minuet glimpsed through the bow-fronted windows of the eighteenth-century mansion. The fire hazards were of the sort that would make Gibraltar Rock tremble like a jelly, but the people of that time seem to have taken them quite nonchalantly. Thus in the coronation ceremonies for George II in 1727 a banquet was held at Westminster Hall for which the lighting was provided by 1800 candles. Not content with exposing this vast number of naked flames the organizers of the banquet must needs add to the danger by introducing a very tricky and inflammable device by which all 1800 could be lighted within three minutes. The feat was achieved without disaster and the inventor of the device, a Swiss gentleman of the name of Heidegger, became thereafter the Master of Revels for His Majesty. Canadian emcees please do not copy!

✧ ✧ ✧

IN no sphere of human activity has lighting played a more decisive part than in the Theatre. It has revolutionized acting, producing and even playwriting. Shakespeare had to rely on the sky for his lighting effects, a medium not subject to power cuts but on the other hand very hard to control. With the "floats" came some measure of control; with gas much more. Then at last came electricity, with possibilities so various and so subtle that it is now commonplace to talk of the lighting "plot", which plays a kind of secret accompaniment to the words that are spoken, as important as the musical accompaniment to a song. Perhaps in the next age the lighting will be the play and the words the musical accompaniment.

✧ ✧ ✧

AMONGST the physical achievements of man I would put the creation of light the highest. It is the one point in which his work can share, if in very humble measure, the phrases of the first great creation. "Let there be light." The supreme moment of a first dawn was not for man; but having seen the beauty of untold skies at dawn, noon and eve he has striven ever since to emulate their splendours. The glow in the sky that goes up from a big city is as marvellous to me as the Northern lights. The colours of neon lights against a dark velvet sky are a minor miracle of beauty. The pale white radiance that flows from fluorescent lamps has an unearthly quality, the kind of light that might suffuse the Elysian Fields. Characteristically, man is not satisfied with all the lovely forms of light he has invented. He sighs continually for something more perfect than perfection, for the "light that never was on land or sea." Where the scientist can go no further the poet takes over. In a few magically chosen words he can give the eye all the beauty it longs for; such words, for example, as these by the greatest of Canadian poets, Archbibald Lampman:

Soon the first star will shine; yet ere the night
Reach onward to the pale-green distances,
The sun's last shaft beyond the gray sea-floor
Still dreams upon the Kamourarka shore,
And the long line of golden villages.

TIGHT ROPE SLACKENING

Letters To The Editor.

A JUSTIFIABLE BEEF

Sir: I want to complain as bitterly as I can about the railway "service" to and from Peterborough. It's not service at all. It's a scandalous misnaming to call what the C.P.R. and C.N.R. give us in Peterborough "service".

The C.P.R. does put on one or two fairly modern coaches now. I think that happened after your editorial about a year ago when you justly complained about the filth and dirt of the coaches provided for people on the week-end going to Toronto. I wish you would keep on complaining. Here are some of the things that are wrong or lacking.

There's no train in or out of Peterborough on Sunday, except the one that comes from Montreal and condescends to take people back to Toronto at five p.m. What are the railways trying to do? put themselves out of business or to keep people at church all day Sunday? When I go to Toronto for a week-end, I have to wait Sunday night until nearly midnight before I can get a train back. It gets me here at a damnably ungodly hour in the morning, so I don't get proper sleep before I start my week's work. You'd think that if nobody else complained, the C.G.E. would, because many of its workers do go to Toronto on week-ends. Are they ready to do a good day's work when they get back at 1.30 or 2.00 in the morning of the day they start in again?

If I want friends to come down and visit me over the week-end, they can't get out of Toronto before their Saturday afternoon is all gone. They get here in the evening.

I had to go to Montreal a week ago. The train leaves here at noon. It gets there all right at about 8 p.m. But the way you get back is this. Take a train to Ottawa from Montreal at 7.45 Sunday evening. Wait around in Ottawa for an hour. Get out of there at 11, and then you get to Peterborough about five in the morning. Wow, what a trip! Thanks to the bus company I've now discovered a better way to get back. Take the main line train out of Montreal in the afternoon at 3.30, get off at Port Hope, and there is a bus waiting at the station which will get you to Peterborough around ten. That's only on week-ends. No good in the middle of the week, when business men and people from factories may have to go down to Montreal.

If I can't get away at noon to go to Montreal, I can go down to Port Hope by taxi and catch a fast train at five. That's all right, except taxi to Port Hope is expensive. If a person doesn't want to take the pokey Peterborough train to Montreal he can go by C.N.R. to Port Hope at 12.30 or so, then hang around Port Hope until five. I've done that, too. The trouble with that is half the time the train from Lindsay (or wherever it comes from) is late for no reason that I can guess. And it takes over an hour to get to Port Hope. Maybe it's good for Port Hope's beverage rooms.

Surely the railway companies can manage things better than that. Why couldn't they have special fast trains to and from Toronto on week-ends? Why can't the Port Hope-Peterborough line be used as a feeder to and from the main Lakeshore line? Maybe the railways are in cahoots with the bus companies. Maybe they want to close up the Port Hope-Peterborough line. Maybe they want to put Peterborough off the map.

Sorry to be so long in saying my say, but I think I have a justifiable beef.

Yours sincerely,
REGINALD DRAYTON.

WAS DISMISSAL JUST?

Sir: It has come to my notice that 8 or 9 men were laid off work from the new Civic Hospital and replaced by D.P.'s. I know that one of these men has worked there for 9 months. In the first place, it should not take 9 months to find out that a man is a poor worker. Secondly, it is strange that 8 or 9 men should suddenly become unsuitable and their employer have his D.P.'s ready to fill their places.

All those men who were put out of work are taxpayers in one way or another, if not owning homes, by paying their share of taxes indirectly in rent or board. They will now have to draw unemployment insurance which takes tax money in order to give their jobs to foreigners.

While I know conditions in Europe are bad, there is an old saying that "charity begins at home." I have seen many groups of D.P.'s come into the Union Station, Toronto. They are a healthy looking group and show no signs of malnutrition. Maybe, they are a privileged class or are they brought here with the idea of cutting the wages of our Canadian born?

We are asked by radio and literature to donate for those in Europe but we shall need this for our own if this state of working conditions continues. The fellow I have in mind is one of these 8 or 9 who have given up to the D.P.'s. He is neither friend nor relative, just a Canadian born I know about and this letter is just in the interest and cause of justice for those of our own country.

H. JOHNSTON.

ED. NOTE: A statement regarding the men who were dismissed, from the man who dismissed them, appeared in our issue of Jan. 17. D.P.'s also pay taxes.

TIPS FOR WAITERS

Sir: Regarding waiters paying income tax on tips!

When the wage-earner tips a waiter who fetches him a glass or bottle of Oh-Be-Joyful, that wage-earner is responsible to the government and will pay the income tax on this money, part at the payroll deduction or later.

Now—to me—it seems the government intends to collect this money twice.

Now there is nothing fairer than a gift and there should be no strings attached, and I'm not a waiter... But a lot of waiters are courteous and ambitious and deserve a tip!

A PATRON.

ED. NOTE: It is the Government's desire to tax money every time it changes hands, and tips are considered part of a waiter's income.

Change In Teaching Methods Described By School Teacher

Teaching methods in the schools of Ontario today encourage children to discover things for themselves, said G. Leslie Woodruff of the Normal School staff in a discussion of pedagogic trends at the Federation of Agriculture luncheon Tuesday.

That is the essence of the activity principle which has been developed under the direction of the Provincial Department of Education. It associates practical experience and understanding in the knowledge children acquire, in contrast with the more passive way of being told things a generation or two ago.

Time could be saved in the telling of children, a sort of cramming method, Mr. Woodruff said.

Mr. Woodruff used this homely analogy. "You can tell me time and again how to milk a cow, but I cannot milk one until I actually get down to milking. By the older type of education a child received a lot of information, but he lacked sufficient understanding of it to apply it readily in his thinking and living."

"We teach children today, not subjects," Mr. Woodruff said.

"Grandfather's way of life was fine for him, but it is no good for us. Life changes, and so do teaching methods. Children are still taught the basic things, but there has been a great increase in technical knowledge. There is a wealth of scientific information in the world today, and it is reflected in the classroom."

Favors Activity Method

A new emphasis has been placed on the child's ability to learn. Many children of eleven years can divide a decimal by a decimal, but to others that problem is beyond their mental age. Some are intellectually brighter than others. If the average intellectual rating was 100 and one child was down to the level of 60, it would be unfair to expect him to come up to equality with the others. And yet there were things he could do. So, educational standards have been changed to help children within their respective capacities.

The curriculum of the school has been altered. More of science has been introduced to enable the child to understand the changing world around him. For example, history and geography they are taught more as social subjects than formerly to broaden the child's social outlook and appreciation. A broader place has been given to useful education. Mr. Woodruff said it would be interesting to know quantum physics or how the atom bomb was put together and operated, but for his own needs and purpose it would be only a waste of time.

Mr. Woodruff admitted that the activity method could be carried to excess as was sometimes done in the United States and Great Britain. Children were let express themselves until they "become poisonous little devils." The child who threw a rock through the window on a cold day learned from the experience that he had made the room chilly, and maybe he hit a woman passing by on the sidewalk. A more effective psychology would probably to apply a heavy hand to the seat of his pants. That license of expression, Mr. Woodruff said, was a lot of balderdash.

"If we can harness a child's activities and direct them in a right channel, they can be of tremendous value."

Mr. Woodruff cited some of his own experiences as teacher indicating the imagination of children, and remarked—"We must understand the child at his own level, and use that understanding in planning the things he is to learn. But, it takes the skillfull and trained teacher to do it. To often our rural teachers leave us for the cities when they have acquired that skill, and it is a shame to lose our good teachers."

Life is never static, and education and its methods must keep changing too. In recent years larger school units have been developed in Ontario. More than half the township schools are today in school areas. Rural schools must keep up to date, and their teachers too. Therein is a continuing difficulty to keep pace with the times and their needs.

Mr. Woodruff said the rural school was still the best place to give the child the education he needs for the problems of life which he will have to face. Its grades are more flexible, and the child who is better equipped mentally is not held closely without fixed grade bounds. The rural school should not disappear nor would it in Northern Ontario and elsewhere in areas of widely scattered population.

The consolidated school was still a bogey to some farmers, Mr. Woodruff said. However, when the consolidated school of 12 classrooms was opened at Bancroft it was filled with the children of the district. Better facilities and improved roads would continue to result in more centralization of rural schools, 'by their own momentum, and not be laws forcing them."

The power of the classroom could not be overestimated, Mr. Woodruff said, but it should be bolstered by the home and the church. The ideal of education in this province was the development of Christian, democratic citizens. The schools were helping to build for the future. They were educating the men and women not of today, but of 1959, 1969 and so on to 1999. "We should never overestimate the experience the child gets in his years at school, and how that experience affects his life.

Mr. W. W. Dawson was chairman of the luncheon which was attended by about 70 men and women of the Federation. Mr. W. Clarence Mann in moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Woodruff said the subject of education was very timely and was presented in a most interesting manner.

"Those of us who are parents have often wondered about the changes from our own days which we have noticed in the methods of education," Mr. Mann said.

"Mr. Woodruff has given us a clearer understanding of it, and we are all grateful to him for his address."

Miss Edna Davis of Springville sang several vocal numbers to her own guitar accompaniment.

Historically Famous HURONIA

Three hundred years ago, an important outpost of Christian culture in the new world was wiped out when the savage Iroquois massacred the French Missionaries of Fort St. Marie. Today Huronia, as this part of Ontario is called, is visited by more people every year, both for its historic interest and because the 30,000 Islands on the east shore of Georgian Bay are as lovely a summer playground as any in the world. Whatever you look for in a vacation you will find there, with historical sites and interest thrown in. The famous 30,000 Islands cruise by lake steamer is a pleasant and relaxing way of seeing them. It leaves from Midland, whose Chamber of Commerce can give you full information on the whole area. You can drive to Midland in a day from Windsor or the Quebec border (Highways 2, 11 and 12), and in correspondingly less time from other points. There is good rail service from Toronto.

In Ontario we have a holiday paradise . . . let's do all we can to encourage visitors from across the border. Published in support of the tourist business by John Labatt Limited.

Say Bomb Scars Everywhere In Old London

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 19 — (ENS)—W. A. Hogle, who recently returned from a visit to Europe, described his impressions of Britain and the Continent to the Rotary Club on Monday. He told the meeting "there are bomb scars in London everywhere. little has been done in clearing away the rubble and few buildings have been reconstructed." Mr. Hogle said that cigarettes were 86 cents for a package of 20 and black market cigarettes were 10 for a dollar. One person's weekly supply of meat was one ounce of bacon and one shilling's worth of other varieties. He said the largest London newspaper was the Daily Mail which had four pages.

"Life centres around the pubs" he continued, "where men and women gather to enjoy cards and music." He described a bar where cold chicken and fish are sold and thought the changing of the guards in front of St. James' Palace was a spectacle that would never lose its charm.

Mr. Hodge spoke about a motor trip to Liverpool and Coventry which was "delightful but hazardous at times on account of dense fog that quite often blanketed the countryside."

Sees Dutch Nurseries

He had crossed the English Channel to Boskoop in Holland he said, to visit the centre of the nursery industry in the Netherlands where over 3,000 acres were utilized for nursery purposes. He explained that in Holland production was based on the square yard, not by the acre as in Canada. In this part of Holland there were canals at least every 40 feet. He said that all farm labor was done by hand. Wages were 30 guilders a week which amounted to $12 in Canadian money. Rotterdam was a beautiful city but had been badly bombed. At Nymegen where 2,500 Canadians had been buried the cemetery was permanently maintained by a staff of six gardeners.

"Antwerp and Brussels in Belgium are gay with bright lights, well dressed men and women and places of amusement," he said and there were no bomb scars to mar their beauty. Food was plentiful, wages high, and a feeling of contentment pervaded the entire country. The Canadian tourist was the most popular in Holland and Belgium with the American coming second, he said.

The speaker was introduced by Rotarian C. J. Maier and a vote of thanks was moved by Rotarian E. Johnston. President Bill Brady was in the chair.

Reeve Runnals New Warden United Counties

COBOURG, Jan. 19.—(ENS)—Reeve A. J. Runnalls of Hope Township was elected warden on Tuesday night at the opening of the January session of Northumberland and Durham Counties Council. He defeated Reeve E. R. Woodyard of Clarke Township on the first ballot. The vote was 23 to 20.

This is the first time an election talk has been heard prior to the election of warden. Usually if any last minute campaigning is to be done it takes place before Council convenes. Teams In NHL Jockeying For Positions

By EDGAR SIMON
Canadian Staff Writer

All six National Hockey League teams will see action tonight, and there's no use looking at the form chart to predict the winners.

With tail-enders knocking off the leaders frequently in recent weeks, the only safe conclusions are that Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins will still be running one-two when the restults are in. From there on, you can write your own ticket.

Montreal Canadiens, currently in third place by a single point, over Chicago Black Hawks, visit Toronto to tangle with the Leafs who trail Hawks by another point. A loss for the injury-riddled Montrealers coupled with a Chicago victory over Detroit would drop Canucks into a fourth place tie with Toronto.

On the other hand, New York Rangers, two points back of Leafs, can climb into a fifth-place tie by defeating Boston—if Toronto loses.

Robbed of Attraction

The Montreal-Toronto tilt was robbed of its main-bout attraction when N. H. L. President suspended Canadiens defenceman Ken Reardon and Leaf forward Cal Gardner for the evening. Last time the clubs met in Toronto, the pair engaged in a spirited stick-swinging duel.

Johnny McCormack, up from amateur Toronto Marlboro Seniors for a try-out, will fill in for Gardner. Canadiens will probably get along with three defencemen, but will dress forward Gerry Plamondon, newly signed from Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior Loop.

There was a report last night that Canadiens would fly a defenceman Bud McPherson of Edmonton Flyers to fill the gap, but McPherson, playing a Western Canada Senior League game at Saskatoon, said he didn't know anything about it.

NOT TRUE?

At Saskatoon, defenceman Bud MacPherson of Edmonton Flyers Tuesday night described as "hooey" a report that he had agreed to turn professional with Montreal Canadiens. The report said the husky Edmonton rearguard would receive $2,000 for signing and $13,500 for inking a two-year contract. MacPherson played three games recently with Canadiens when the Montrealers were beset with injuries to their defencemen.

Mitchum Files Suit

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19—(AP)—Movie actor Robert Mitchum Tuesday filed a damage suit against the owner of the Laurel Canyon Cottage where he and three others were arrested in a narcotics raid. Mitchum, now awaiting sentence, said in his suit that actress Nanette Bordeaux made a profit on the sale of furniture by unauthorized use of his name.

Li'l Earl Sande Hopes Luck To Be Better

NEW YORK, Jan. 19—(AP)—Little Earl Sande, who roared out of the west 30 years ago to become one of the great Jockeys of all time, thinks it's about time his luck took a change for the better again.

"Yes,, 1948 was a bad year all around for me," Sande said Tuesday, taking time off from his training duties at Belmont Park, to talk about horses, his one great love.

He's 50 now, greying around the temples, but still wears the famous smile that won't come off.

"It just doesn't seem possible that anything else can happen. However, it seems as if you can go through a cycle like that, and then sooner or later everything evens up for you."

A year ago Sande's racing and breeding stable numbered more than 20 head. Today he has just five left, and they'd better go out and win some purses this year for the boss—or else.

"This is an expensive business, and you can't afford to carry bad horses—they've got to pay their way," he said.

Forced to Sell

Sande was forced to sell the others to pay feed and board bills and other expenses after his run of tough luck—the payoff being a 60-day suspension of the Jockey Club. He had been held for action of the Federal Grand Jury on charges of illegally possessing narcotics.

The racing world was stunned but no more than "The Earl" whose integrity as a rider and trainer had been without reproach.

Stewards at Jamaica said traces of a drug were found in the saliva test of Sande's horse, Big Stage, after he won a race April 21.

"I still don't know what happened but I never gave a horse dope in my life," Sande reiterated Tuesday.

The Grand Jury refused to indict Sande, and the stewards explained the horse probably got the drug accidentally from an old bridle used during a previous workout. But the 60-day suspension stood.

By The Canadian Press

Halifax district's two senior hockey clubs Tuesday night revoked a ban on broadcasts of their home games from the Halifax Forum.

Max Forman, manager of Dartmouth Arrows, said: "By assent of both teams (the other is Halifax St. Mary's) and for the benefit of the public of Halifax and the shut-ins, games both in and out of town will be broadcast from now on.

"We feel that any financial benefits that might have been obtained from suspending broadcasts would not offset bad will with which the move would have been received.

The two teams clamped the ban on radio station CJCH last night. They had argued that the broadcasts hurt gate receipts.

At Toronto, Ontario Ski Club officials say there's hardly any snow for skiing in southern sections of the province. They report that the springlike weather general in Eastern Canada in recent weeks has forced cancellation or postponement of several ski meets. Quebec's Laurentians are said to be little better off, with Mont Tremblant about the only spot offering skiing.

Five players have been suspended for two games from the Collegiate Institute basketball team at Sault Ste. Marie, principal Edward Arnold Orr announced Tuesday night. He said the move represents "disciplinary action." Orr charged that the players "have been taking advantage of the situation at the school." But he added, ". . . the action is merely a minor affair and the five boys are not guilty of any moral misconduct or misdemeanor."

Players affected are Damon Godfrey, Lorne Kozak, Bill Harris, Walt Oknianski and Gerrard Heaney.

Use of a dropped handkerchief to indicate football fouls, a method which tmay be adopted in Canada, was practised generally in the United States last fall, sports experts said at New York Tuesday. Previously this system was rarely used. In the United States a red handkerchief is used by the referee and a white handkerchief by the head linesman. This is so the players will know who called the penalty.

Gene Tunney, who retired undefeated world heavyweight boxing champion, believes that Jack Dempsey, in his prime, would have knocked out Joe Louis in three rounds.

But, he added on his arrival at Sydney, Australia, from the United States, "Joe Louis is the great fighter of his generation, with no one in sight to replace him."

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Those scrappy OHA senior "B" city rivals, the Legionnaires and Petes, tangle once more tonight at 8.30 in Civic Arena. It's the Petes' home game this time, their first one as soft weather previously beat them twice. Coach Red Creighton has been shaking up his squad in an attempt to work out a winning combination against the fast-stepping Legion crew. He may have the solution in this struggle. In any case, it should be another sizzling encounter all the way before a big crowd of fans. The recent exchange of letters betwixt these clubs in the "Voice of the People" shows there is no love lost between them at all.

* * * * * *

As anticipated, a number of veteran puck followers here—who quit going to see games when the Brock was sold—are finding it a little confusing to follow modern play now at the Civic Arena. Some have remarked that rule changes in recent years have them balled up and they don't understand the forward passing and offside rules, changing players on the fly, why the faceoffs in various spots, and so forth. Well, maybe we can clear up a few points now—and others later—in brief fashion. Present hockey is a pell-mell rushing style of play with all the emphasis placed on speed and more scoring. It lends itself to more injuries and penalties, too.

* * * * * *

Change On The Fly

Players, of course, may change on the fly. That is, you don't have to wait for a play stoppage to substitute—the guy coming off simply skates to his bench and a sub dashes onto the ice, but the first one must be definitely out of the play at the time. Faceoffs should be made on any of the spots marked for same, which ever spot happens to be nearest the scene of stoppage, except for icing the puck (probably everyone understands the icing rule) or a deliberate offside.

* * * * * *

A deliberate offside is when an attacking team shoots the puck into the enemy zone when some of the players of the attacking team are still in there and cannot obviously get out in time. Faceoff then should be back in the attacking team's zone. Accidental offsides just call for faceoffs where they happened. A team may now forward pass the puck from its rink end to the red centre line. Or anywhere between the blue lines. Or anywhere from the opposing team's blue line in. A goalie may shoot the puck ahead to centre where a teammate takes it, strides forward to the enemy blue line and shoots it forward to another teammate parked in front of the opponent's goal. Hence, play whirls rapidly from end to end of the rink practically every minute of every game nowadays. So much for that, at present.

Opening An Arena

Big plans afoot tomorrow night in Lakefield when the official opening of their fine new arena will take place—if there's ice, of course. Turk Broda and Jimmy Thompson of Toronto Leafs are coming for the occasion, and the Petes of the OHA senior "B" group will stage an exhibition with the Lakefield entry in the TVL. This team has three former Petes in the lineup now, Joe Blewett, Les Burton and Jack Jopling. The Petes may use Don Coughlin in their lineup as they're trying to get his release from Legion, the club he was with last year. The attraction rates a big crowd of village and district followers, including many from Peterborough.

From Lindsay comes word that Little Britain, with a population of 300, a bit west of Lindsay, has completed a new ice arena and community centre costing $20,000 and capable of seating 1,200. Some 500 district farmers were canvassed, and kicked in with coin, time and labor to make the project a success. Ice surface is much like the Civic Arena here, 172 by 72 feet, the entire building being 192 by 92. Syl Apps refereed an exhibition game between Oshawa Generals and an all-star district team the other night as part of the official opening ceremony. We just mention this item to show that other spots than this city can accomplish things, too, and Little Britons are by no means little in this respect.

Dodgers In Front

Competition was quite keen this week in the Girls' Bowling League. No clean sweeps at all, as all decisions were 2-1 affairs. Dodgers dumped the pins for the highest three-game total with a count of 3015, while Towne Togs' 1163 led in team singles. M. Anderson and H. Hunt rolled respectable marks to aid the Dodgers, the former having high single of 305 and the latter best triple of 724. M. Payne was closest to the blind score figure this time. Togs are rolling consistently good marks so far this semester.

Marines Win Over Port Hope

Outboard Marines "B" cagers of the Lakeshore Basketball League rolled to a 38-26 victory in Port Hope last night. Gord McIntyre's gang broke fast from the barrier and had a 21-11 lead at the halfway mark. Port Hope fought back for awhile in the second stanza but Marines again pulled away. They played good all-around basketball in a speedy, clean contest, which was well handled.

Jim Thorburn returned to the hoop wars for the Marines and sparked their attack with 12 points. Dadson and Payne each clicked for seven and McClaren got six. Best for the Port Hopers was Hunt with 10 points, while Reeves was also effective with seven. The Marines have another loop fixture Saturday here against Lindsay. The teams:

Marines "B" — McClaren 6, Thorburn 12, Trimm, Payne 7, Butcher 2, Batchelor, DeRoos, Smith, Griffin 4, Dadson 7, Green, Gardner.

Port Hope: Reeves 7, Hunt 10, Berry 3, Brandwood 2, Fulford, VanBouren 2, Bullock, Lees 2, Hagerman, Bongard, Charles.

Spitfires Bow To Marlboros 6 4

By The Canadian Press

Jimmy Skinner's Windsor Spitfires suffered a defeat Tuesday night but they still have a comfortable lead in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A race. They lost to Toronto Marlboros 6-4 at Maple Leaf Gardens.

The Spitfires' 47-points—consisting of 23 wins and one tie in 33 starts—gives them a five-point lead over the second-place Barrie Flyers.

In another Junior game Tuesday night, Toronto St. Michael's College Majors defeated Galt Rockets 1-0. In the Senior A loop, Owen Sound Mercurys bested Stratford Indians 7-3.

Marlies drove into a 2-0 lead in the first period, held a 4-2 edge at the end of the second and split four goals in the last period. The win left the Dukes in seventh place, six points behind the sixth-place Guelph Biltmores.

Bobby Hassard, George Armstrong, Don Ashley, Larry Regan, Lorne Pirie and Johnny McKennell scored for Toronto. John Wilson paced Windsor scorers with two goals. Others went to Francis O'Grady and Bruce Giesebrecht.

Payoff Tally

Little Gord Hannigan's second-period goal was the payoff tally for the Irish. Hannigan beat netminder Simmons on Horton's passout from behind the Galt nets.

In the scoreless first period, the Majors held a definite edge but missed the mark on numerous occasions.

Don Bell, Pete Tkachuk, Billy Hartsburg and Ernie Keefe turned in a good performance for the Rockets.

The Mercurys moved into third place of the five-team loop Tuesday night as they pulled away from a 1-1 tie in the first period to tally two counters in the second and outscore the Indians 4-2 in the last frame.

The win gave the Indians 32 points, one point ahead of the fourth-place Hamilton Tigers.

Tommy Burlington, Doug Gillespie and Jack Ingoldsby led the Owen Sound attack with two goals apiece. Mike Shabaga got the other. George Blake tallied twice for the losers while Jack Vrooman notched the other.

MAT CLASSIC TONIGHT AT BROCK—There should be a maximum of all that is smart and exciting in professional wrestling when Earl McCready meets Fred Atkins in the main bout in the Brock Arena ring tonight. A "shot" at Whipper Billy Watson's Empire title will likely go to the winner. John Katan, another Empire contender, meets popular Pat Flanagan in the semi-final and Johnny Marrs comes in from Minneapolis to take on Bulldog Drummond.

Release Blake As Bison Coach

BUFFALO, Jan. 19.—(AP). — Leroy Goldsworthy was expected to return to the American Hockey League's Buffalo Bisons as coach today, succeeding Hector (Toe) Blake.

Termination of Blake's contract "by mutual consent" was announced Tuesday night. It was the first of what General Manager Art Chapman said Monday would be "wholesale shifts in personnel until we hit a winning combination."

The Bisons, although they lost only one of their last nine games, are in last place in the league's western division. A 2-0 beating by Springfield Sunday night was their first defeat on home ice this season.

Goldsworthy, last season's coach here, was appointed general manager of Buffalo's United States League farm club Houston, last fall. Chapman said Houston agreed to release him.

"Blake did not quit his job, nor was he dismissed," Chapman told a press conference.

A Bison press release said Blake told Chapman "That he did not think he would be of any further value to the organization.

Lindsay Downs Whitby

LINDSAY, Jan. 19 (CP) — Lindsay Mustangs picked up their first win of the season by downing the winless Whitby Red Wings 6-3 in an Ontario Hockey Association Junior C game Tuesday night. Garnet Jenkins sparked the Mustangs with three goals with Parker, McPhee and Dysart adding singletons. Pooker, McDonald and Littner scored for the Wings.

Montgomery Suffers Severe Neck Sprain

TORONTO, Jan. 19 — Keith Montgomery, Guelph Biltmore hockeyist from Peterborough who suffered a "probable broken neck" in a hockey game at Barrie last week, will leave Wellesley Hospital today. He may be back in hockey action in 10 days.

Dr. C. P. McCormick, who examined Montgomery when the player was transferred from Barrie to Toronto, said yesterday the injury has been "a very severe sprain."

Original X-rays, taken at Barrie, had been suggestive of a broken neck, but Dr. McCormick who had other pictures taken examined them yesterday, and declared Montgomery would probably be back with Biltmores when he works his way into condition.

ALL-CHINESE TEAM

Toronto has an all-Chinese hockey team. Formed less than a month ago by John Lim, 25-year-old manager of a Toronto restaurant, the squad expects to be in shape to take part in the Toronto Hockey League's Intermediate series next month. The hockey squad comprises 17 players.

(By the Canadian Press)

Providence Reds high-flying left-winger Carl Liscombe entrenched himself more firmly in the American Hockey League's leading scorer spot Tuesday night, picking up three points as his team defeated the last-place Washington Lions 5-3 in an Eastern division game.

The win also moved Providence further in front of second place Hershey Bears. Providence now has 59 points and Hershey 37.

Liscombe, potting a goal and assisting on markers by Dan Summers and Roger Bedard, now has a total of 62 points—34 goals and 28 assists. Pittsburgh Hornets Sid Smith is second with 56 points, followed by John Chad of Providence who, picking up a goal and an assist last night, now has 55.

Phil Marchildon In Fair Shape

TORONTO, Jan. 19 (CP) — Phil Marchildon, one of Canada's outstanding contributions to professional baseball, said from his hospital bed today that he has learned there's nothing wrong with him that an equitable contract with Philadelphia Athletics won't cure.

The 33-year-old right hander entered Sunnybrook Military Hospital before Chrismas suspected of having amoebic dysentery but doctors can't find any trace of the germ. They tell him that all he has is "controlled tension" and that actually the condition was good for him.

Sewing the ear on a large bunny for his 2½-year-old daughter in Penetanguishene, Phil said that physicians tell him that "controlled tension" merely makes you do your best. The only trouble is that when it becomes uncontrolled it does things to a person, affecting nerves in the stomach, head, eyes — "all over."

A prisoner-of-war in Germany as an RCAF air-gunner during the war, Phil earned about $15,000 with the American League Philadelphia entry last year but was plagued with ill health, he won only nine games. He'll be out of hospital at the end of this month and Phil is hopeful Manager Connie Mack will not be too harsh when the time comes for signing contracts.

Canadian White Flower Covers London Bomb Ruins

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Jan. 19 — (CP). — A white-flowered Canadian plant with a preference for sandy, disturbed soil softens the jagged London ruins left by German bombs. Canadian Fleabane (Erigeron Canadiense) and its hardy competitors now prosper among the piles of broken bricks, twisted girders and shattered glass that pockmark the streets.

Natural History Museum officials said they had no reason to doubt the story that this Canadian plant came to the United Kingdom via France, where seeds, dripped from a stuffed bird, first took hold on this side of the Atlantic.

The Canadian taxidermist who stuffed the bird with seeds worked about the middle of the 17th century, probably in Quebec. The plant was unknown to the French when it suddenly appeared in Paris in 1653.

Pure Cockney

By 1660 it was in England and became a pure Cockney. It soon showed a marked liking for London's climate and soil, flourishing in the smoke and grime that killed weaker growths. It whitened rubbish heaps and wasteland, but its real opportunity came when high explosive tore away buildings and exposed earth built over for nearly 1,000 years.

Canadian fleabane takes second place only to Rosebay Willow hereby which spreads its rich, red flower over about 90 per cent of the bomb-sites. Fleabane, believed to be making faster progress, now is on nearly half the sites.

Between them they have almost extinguished the bright London rocket that grew in profusion after the 1666 great fire laid the city in ruin.

Prolific Plant

"As each fleabane plant can produce some 120,000 fruits it seems only a matter of time before it appears on all bomb-sites," a botanist said.

Fleabane's progress has reminded botanists of another Canadian emigrant — Canadian pondweed—that caused the United Kingdom anxiety about 50 years ago.

Pondweed delighted in the soft English climate and prospered beyond anything seen in Canada. It thrived in canals to the point that traffic was almost halted in some territories. But in time it lost the initial vigor it displayed when transplanted to Britain. Although still found it causes little trouble now.

New Jersey has the fewest man-made border lines of any state in the Union.

Hotels Facing Toughest Market

TORONTO, PJan. 19 (CP) — Canadian hotelmen this year face "the toughest market in history," Leo Dolan, head of the Canadian Government Travel Bureau, said Tuesday.

He told the Ontario Hotel Association convention that "the lush days when you could sit back and take things easy" are gone. Association members now faced competition from the 48 American States with keen brains and "plenty of money" behind it.

"You have to sell and you have to give better service than ever before," he added.

Canadian hotels had to improve their catering and accommodation and to extend their facilities if they wanted to compete.

South Africa To Clarify Political Scene

JOHANNESBURG, Jan. 19 — (CP)—When the Union's directorate of demobilization issued its closing down statement recently, it showed that South Africa had not forgotten her returned fighting men.

More than 300,000 ex-servicemen had been reinstated in civilian life and a total of £71,000,000 had been granted in benefits.

The promise of just reward for services rendered had been kept by a country which set up what was described in authoritative quarters as the Dineet "demob" scheme in the world.

Today, 1,000 wartime volunteers are still in uniform and it is generally agreed that the directorate, under the able leadership of General G. E. (Uncle George) Brink, has done an outstanding job of work.

In the last few months of the directorate's life, "Uncle George" was replaced by Colonel P. R. Viviers, his deputy.

Ex-volunteers discharged in the past 12 months and those yet to be discharged will still have the organization at their disposal. It is intact, though curtailed.

Before the directorate of demobilization took over army discharges in April, 1944, 72,686 volunteers had left the forces—29,632 European men, 8,222 women, 10,060 coloureds, Indians and Malays and 24,752 natives.

Since then, to date, 220,091 volunteers have been discharged — 126,592 European men, 13,509 women, 32,195 coloureds, Indians and Malays, and 47,795 natives.

This makes a grand total of 292,757.

Fire Casualty Dies

WINDSOR, Jan. 19 — (CP)—William Clysedale, 73, tennant of a downtown garage which caught fire Friday, died Tuesday of burns and shock suffered in the blaze. He was one of three persons trapped in the building when it caught fire, the second to die as a result of injuries. Mrs. Mary Bertha Burns of Amherstburg died Saturday.

ORIGINAL ALMANAC

The word "almanac" is derived from the Arabic word "Al Manahk" meaning the weather or the climate.

STUDENTS DEMONSTRATE — When Montreal's 1,700 Roman Catholic French and English-speaking teachers went on strike, police had to be called to deal with disturbances and demonstrations by some of the 70,000 students affected. About 200 students carrying placards calling for "Justice for the Teachers", and "Long Live Our Teachers" paraded in front of the hall where the striking teachers were meeting.

Children's Aid Worried By Unsuccessful Marriages

Unhappy marriages are creating more problems for Children's Aid than parental neglect of children, Miss R. Young, Children's Aid superintendent, told the Society's Board of Directors at a meeting in the City Building on Tuesday. Her staff was finding on increasing number of cases of marital discord and she felt that more attention would have to be given to this aspect of the Society's social work.

Citing two distinct categories under which unhappily married couples could be classified, she said that where there were reasonable grounds for trying to help the marriage onto a more satisfactory basis, every effort was made to improve conditions, but in cases where the negative qualities far outweighed the chances of restoring the marriage to a happy working basis, it was often said to be the social worker's duty to explain to the parents that separation was the best solution. This advice, however, carried grave responsibilities and the result may lead to common law union. It was no light matter to encourage a situation in which legitimate children would live in the atmosphere of a common law union.

Miss Young told the meeting that she was considering obtaining legal advice on the subject.

Referring to a statement, already published in the Examiner, that Peterborough's Children's Aid spent less money annually than a number of other cities of smaller or equal size, Miss Young said that the Society's economy did not interfere with the policy of doing what seemed best for the children of the community. She also explained that the Welfare Units Act of 1948 would not change the workings of the Society.

382 Cases Reported

Miss Young said a total of 382 cases were known to the Society during December, 25 of which were referred to her during the month and 12 were family situations. There were six cases of juvenile stealing and three were situations of marital discord.

Seven children were taken into care and two of these were wards of another society who had moved into the county; four were children privately placed for adoption (three of whom were with relatives) and one child was placed by the Society.

Four children from the Shelter were placed in foster homes, two were placed from one home to another and one child returned to the Shelter. Eight children, who had been temporary wards between six months and two years, were made permanent wards and one became a temporary ward.

Six cases of unmarried parents came to the attention of the Society, one being for maintenance only and the other five girls wished to make their own plans.

Miss Young reported that the children of the Shelter had a happy Christmas, attending parties and receiving gifts from many well wishers in the community.

Mr. Charles Cummer, treasurer, reported that the month's expenditure had been $2,044.63. It was decided to notify the Community Chest that the budget for 1949 would be $85,000.

In presenting the Shelter Report Mrs. J. R. Marshall said there were 13 children in the Shelter at the beginning of December, one was admitted during the month, five left the Shelter and there were nine resident there on Jan. 1.

One boy had been provided with glasses and another's had been repaired.

Articles Mended

Mrs. Charles Pilon reported on behalf of the sewing committee, that Mrs. H. G. McGinnis had convened the following committee which mended 111 articles.

Mrs. F. Horton, Mrs. P. Hetherington, Mrs. T. Hall, Mrs. L. Parker, Mrs. W. McConkey, Mrs. H. May, Mrs. Thomas Glover, Mrs. M. Carter, Mrs. M. Drysdale, Mrs Walter Allen, Mrs. H. G. McGinnis, Mrs. Arnold Prest and Mrs. J. P. Roberts.

Mrs. Pilon reported that donations had been received from the following: Mrs. Robertson, reversible coat and shoes; Alliance Tabernacle, candy; Mrs. Ivan Butler, clothing and toys; Miss Helen Henry, clothing; Mrs. V. M. Eastwood, knitted articles; Mrs. H. May, 2 pair wool mitts.

Mrs. J. G. Wharry, secretary, reported that Miss K. Prest had been engaged as a member of the society's staff.

US Restores Ban On Pork For UK

OTTAWA, Jan. 19 (CP) — The ban on imports of United States pork and pork products has been restored because of a conflict with the United Kingdom bacon contract, it was learned today.

The prohibition had been lifted in a list of other import relaxations announced in mid-December and scheduled to take effect at Jan. 1. However, before the relaxation could go into force, the cabinet passed an order-in-council reimposing the ban as far as pork in concerned.

The reason for the reimposition was the fear of some government authorities that U.S. pork prices would fall during this year and thus undermine the Canadian market.

The Canadian pork price is based on the price Britain pays under the bacon contract—$36 per 100 pounds. If U.S pork prices, which are just around that level now, fell below it, there would be an influx of the cheaper American pork and a consequent upsetting of the Canadian market.

Writers, Historians Argue Over What To Call Britain

By WILLIAM BOSS

LONDON, Jan. 19—(CP).—While experts argue whether the Commonwealth of Nations is "British," a similar discussion is arising over the designation of the Mother Country herself. Since last September, writers and historians have been writing newspapers asking if she should be referred to as Britain or Great Britain, whether her characteristics are British or Great British, her citizens Britons or Great Britons.

The argument opened with the Royal Society of Saint George charging writers, journalists and broadcasters with "a concerted determination to avoid mentioning England and the English at all costs . . although at the same time the junior partners in the United Kingdom—Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland—are allowed to retain their terminological identity." Even the BBC and the Times were accused.

Attack Renewed

The attack was renewed in December when the St. Andrew Society joined St. George's in a letter saying that the societies did not wish to claim for their countries more than was their due but felt it was essential "particularly at this time that our national idleness as well as national unity should be preserved."

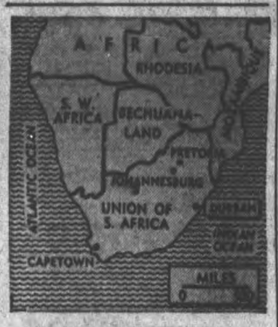
"Pathological nationalistic nonsense," snorted a Paris reader, writing to The Times. "Britain has been the name of our island since the beginning of recorded history," and he quoted the first line of Rule Britannia—"When Britain first at heaven's command . . ."

Insuperable Objection.

But "the insuperable objection" to Great Britain was listed by yet another who said "it possesses no corresponding adjective: we cannot say Great British any more than we can talk about Great Britons."

The Society of Saint George counterattacked by asking what was wrong with using "British subject" if "a convenient inclusive term" was wanted.

The society in any case rejects the term "Britons." "It is a word hitherto associated with the primitive race inhabiting Britain in Roman times," it says.



AT LEAST 75 PERSONS have been killed and 1,000 injured in race riots that have been going on in Durban for 3 days. Police and fully equipped troops were called out to prevent spread of violence to Cape Town and other settlements in the gold-mining country of the north. Indians and natives make up most of the casualties.

OYSTERS: "Why do we have to pay such a price for bulk oysters here in Canada? Oysters in Rochester and Buffalo are half the price."

Canadian oysters are shipped from British Columbia, with transport costs of $1.06 a gallon for refrigerated express, the dealers tell me. There is one reason or high prices. Americans in Rochester and Buffalo get their oysters from nearby Long Island. American oysters now on the Canadian market are about the same price as the 1948 Canadian variety.

WINTER DANCES: "We've a mess in our office who is shy. Would it be all right if I were to ask him to go dancing with me?"

Why not make up a party and go dancing? Then if things go pleasantly, he will probably ask you himself to go again. Men, (timid creatures), have a deep-seated fear of being pursued.

FUR COATS: "I have a good coat quite good except for the collar and cuffs. Would it be good style to add a collar and cuffs of black Persian lamb? I have an old cape of my mother's that is quite good. Could I do the work myself?"

Fur on fur is one of the smart fur styles this year, say the fashion Czars. That means your idea would be quite good on the coat. As for doing the work yourself, unless you're a real expert, it might look botched. The renovating wouldn't be too costly.

GAS: "My husband has a most annoying habit of eating quickly, then belching. He says he can't help it, but I find it most humiliating, especially when we have guests. Have Tamblyn's a drug which would reduce the gas and cut out the burps?"

Perhaps you could persuade your husband to eat more slowly. The quick intake of air with the food helps create gas. Tamblyn's have preparations for after-eating gas. One of the best is Bis-Carb-Co, which gives relief without sound effects.

Lead Vein Sought In 1740 Uncovered At Chat's Falls

By HARRY J. WALKER
From Ottawa Journal

Reports of stripping operations on a lead showing on the farm of Guy Stanton, 10th Line of Fitzroy, revive speculation as to the extent of the lead deposits which were the object of an expedition sent into the wilderness of the Upper Ottawa during the regime of the French Intendant, Gilles Hocquart.

Indians had reported to Hocquart that there was a lead deposit near the mouth of the Mississippi at the Chats. Accordingly the Intendant had sent an exploratory party under his Controller of Marine and Fortifications, Monsieur Jean de Boisclerc.

He was also ordered to make a report on a survey on the possibilities of the Upper Ottawa for agriculture, for roads and for building material. This was in 1740, and so far as history records he either never bothered to make a report, or if he did, it has never been found. But the mine he sought, and probably found, was later successfully worked in that area.

Early Colonial Foresight

This, then, is the story of a prospecting expedition up our Ottawa 200 years ago. It is the story, too, of the business foresight of an early French colonial administrator and of an able Surveyor General of New France.

For this little known episode of history which had its locale on our route of Empire, we are again indebted to the painstaking records of the late Charles Macnamara, historian and field naturalist of Arnprior, who has assembled the facts of this historical mosaic from early original sources.

Coming to the story of the expedition, it is linked directly with the efficiency of two high placed officials of the Grand Monarch. These were: Gilles Hocquart, one of the ablest Intendants Canada ever had, who deserved Montcalm's tribute that he had held high office for 20 years without increasing his fortune; and Jean Eustache Lanouillier de Boisclerc, first Controller of Marine and Fortificatinos, and later Surveyor-General. He was said to be the best of all Surveyors-Generals under the French regime.

Direction to Chats

The prospects at the Chats was not the first mineral deposit that the Boisclerc had been commissioned to investigate. In 1740 the the Intendant sent him to explore the deposit of bog iron at Pointe-du-Lac near Three Rivers. It was three years later that he was ordered to the Portage the Chats. His official instructions begin:

"Memorandum for M. de Boisclerc on a journey he is to make to the Portage des Chats for the discovery of a lead mine situated there.

"He will leave on the 12th or 15th of next month with a bark canoe and a sufficient number of men to take him to the locality of the mine. When he reaches the place he will examine the vein already discovered and which is said to be under water and at the mouth of a little river which empties into the great river of the Ottawas."

Location of Vein

(The little river referred to is the Mississippi but its mouth is a mile away from the vein said to be under water. This vein is doubtless the showing of lead ore (galena) near the lighthouse at the head of the Chats, which used to be called Lavan's lighthouse after the old settler, Francis Lavan, who tended the light for many years. The late D. J. Campbell, known to everyone in Arnprior as "Joe Campbell", once tried to establish his right to the lot including this vein, on the ground that he had acquired the property from Lavan, but it appeared that Lavan's title was defective.)

Following the above direction, Monsieur de Boisclerc was further instructed by Hocquart as to provisions and equipment which included 100 pounds of gun powder. He was to be escorted by "two good gunners" as part of the crew. He was also given meticulous instructions as to making a report on all his findings including the possibility of locating copper, reported in the neighborhood by Nipissing Indians.

As the report that M. de Boisclerc was so particularly instructed to make is not known to be in existence — perhaps he never made it—we do not know if he discovered the important galena deposit farther back from the shore which was successfully worked some years ago by the Kingdom Mining and Smelting Company.

Another official, Monsieur Foublanche, (whoever he was) was not mistaken about the copper. There actually is, or was, a showing of that metal in a rock cut of the Canadian National Railway near the Chats Rapids but the quantity was considered much too small to work economically.

And so we take leave of Monsieur de Boisclerc. His later record in history was not a brilliant one; his setting sun went down in clouds. He took to drink and on, October 15, 1750, the Intendant Bigon wrote the Minister in France, proposing to remove him from office on account of his dissipated habits. He only escaped the indignity of dismissal by dying in the Hotel Dieu at Quebec on the 29th November, 1750, before a reply to the Intendant's letter was received from France. Thus, the end of a Civil Servant of Old France.

And now the old lead vein is being bared again by a "bulldozer", testimony to 300 years of progress!

FLIES FASTER THAN SOUND

LOS ANGELES—Capt. Charles E. Yeager, 25-year-old experimental pilot, disclosed he has flown "25 or 30 times at speeds faster than sound." A week ago Yeager piloted the rocket-powered Bell X-1 to 25,000 feet in one minute 40 seconds. At a press conference Monday he declined to say how fast the X-1 has gone, saying the speed is still restricted information. Sound at sea level travels 7660 miles an hour.

Union Has Modified New Wage Demands

TORONTO, Jan. 19 — (CP) — Amid cries of "shut the plant down!" the International Chemical Workers Union (AFL) last night decided to modify its wage demands on the Consumers Gas Company.

The new proposad set the increase for new men at the bottom grade at 20 cents an hour, to be boosted to 25 cents after three months; for skilled workers at 30 cents and for tradesmen at 35 cents. Present hourly starting rate is $1.03.

Other union demands include a 40-hour week, a welfare fund made up of $1 for each 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas produced, shift premiums, overtime pay and an improved holiday plan.

The present contract between company and union expires Feb. 1.

Falling Limbs Snap Wires Serving Homes

A strong west wind, estimated at 40-50 m.p.h. played havoc with power lines in the Peterborough district early today. Swaying wires caused numerous short circuits and falling trees and limbs snapped wires at scattered points both in the city and the surrounding area.

Postal and night-shift workers reported that the power went off for half an hour, between 5.30 and 6 a.m. Candles and flashlights were pressed into service at the Post Office so that work on the mail could continue.

Ross Dobbin, Utilities Manager, said that all rural power lines leading out of Peterborough were down. He estimated that complete service would not be restored until noon.

Hardest hit section was along the Keene Road where limbs of trees snapped the wires in several places.

Telephone lines were affected by branches falling on wires in the city and in surounding districts. The line to Campbellford was out of order until 11 o'clock this morning and several wires were broken in the Cavan and Millbrook area.

Hydro lines leading to South Monaghan were down east of Bailieboro. Roads were washed out in parts and flooded in others in the same region.

The wind sprang up during the early morning hours and reached its peak shortly after 5 a.m.. Thunder and lightning were also reported.

In the city there is a long list of minor damage.

Residents of Sherbrooke St. were awakened shortly after 5.30 a.m. "by a crackling, deep-throated buzz," that was caused by an electric wire which had broken and was sparking every time it shorted.

Mrs. Lena Boland, Rogers St. was also treated to a display of fireworks when the limb from a tree smashed the power line leading into her home.

An excited pedestrian seeing the sparks on Rogers St. from a distance thought that the roof of the nurses' residence at St. Joseph's Hospital was afire and phoned the Fire Department. The firemen answered the call.

An awning at Belleghem Funeral Home was shredded by the wind and the wooden structure in front of Louis' Cafe, Charlotte St. was levelled.

Residents of tree-lined streets walking to work today picked their way through branches that had been broken from the trees.

At Warsaw the wind became so strong that a car was moved about twice its length down the road. Several trees were blown across the road and telephone lines were disrupted.

Form New Group To Boost Kawartha Area

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 20 (Staff)—First public announcement of the formation of a new organization, the Kawartha Lakes Tourist and Development Association, was made here Tuesday night at a meeting of the Lakefield Chamber of Commerce. James Fraser, manager of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, outlined steps leading to the formation, and told of the objective of the new Association—to promote the whole Kawartha Lakes tourist district by means of a big publicity campaign in American centres and to integrate the efforts of smaller groups now operating in various parts of this section.

This central group was formed from a meeting last November of a group of interested resort operators, official and semi-official bodies, industrial heads and interested individuals from the whole area. An interim committee had been formed and mapped the present program for the coming year.

The proposed budget for the first year is $25,000, said Mr. Fraser. The committee hopes to launch an advertising campaign in the American newspapers serving potential tourist sources. It has also studied the possibility of radio promotion. Inquiries have been received regarding television films of the Kawarthas.

The present system of tourist promotion—federal and provincial governments and local groups—left "a big gap," explained the speaker.

"Competition for the United States dollar is building under heavy pressure on the tourists." He said that competing groups closer to U.S.-Canadian border points were driving to attract the tourists to stay in those areas before they go to the Kawarthas. It was true that 1948 was a record year and that 1949 promises to be as large, but he pointed out that other provinces are intensifying their efforts for that tourist dollar, too. Foreign countries are also bidding in the vacation field. The object of the new body will be to bring the tourists to this area. Mr. Fraser asked for the backing of all parts of the Kawarthas and of all groups interested in tourist development. There should be widespread support, he said, as it was obvious the advantages to all parts of the community a successful tourist trade made.

He commended the Lakefield Chamber on its projects to issue a tourist folder and to operate a tourist information booth in the summer this year.

The Association hopes that it may be in a position later to take over the operation of such projects on a district-wide scale, eliminating sectional overlapping. It also intends to study the problems of fish restocking, improvement and standardization of accommodations for tourists.

Crop Men Plan Grassland Day

With the largest attendance in years, Peterborough Crop Improvement Association began Tuesday planning for a district grassland day. Discussion bogged down at the outset in lack of definite information as to procedure. One of the first points determined was that the Crop Improvement group would undertake this pasture day instead of the Threshers' Brotherhood who, Vern Campbell their president said, would lend their full support.

One of the important but unspectacular accomplishments of the Crop Improvement Association in this area was the development of many excellent long term pastures, F. C. Paterson, agricultural representative, remarked.

Officers elected were: President W. W. Dawson; vice-pres., Robt. Armstrong; 2nd vice-pres., Clarence Coons.

Directors — Smith: Graham Eastwood, Clarence Mann, George McIlmoyle; Cavan: Carman Seymour and Fred McIndoo; North Monaghan: Clarence Johnston and Henry Batten; South Monaghan: Allan Dawson; Douro: Stanley Wood and Vern Dawson; Asphodel: James Moore; Otonabee: Allan Eason, Wellington Sutton, Earl Petrie and Alex Huston; Emily: Harry Jackson and H. Millen.

Delegates to the provincial meeting: Henry Batten and Clarence Mann with Alex Huston and Allan Eason as alternates.

Mr. Dawson and Mr. Campbell were appointed to consider farms for grassland day. Mr. Batten, Mr. Campbell and Mr. Dawson were named to interview the county council for a grant, and Robert Armstrong to ask the support of the counties council of Northumberland and Durham.

Old Age Pensions Board Disbanded

The old age pensions board in Peterborough has been disbanded by a provincial amendment in administration after nearly 25 years of service.

The members of the board which also dealt with applications for mothers allowance and pensions for blind persons were: Mrs. George Benton, Sr., chairman; Mrs. Mary O'Grady, vice-chairman; Mrs. Joseph Mills, Miss Elizabeth Scott and Mr. D. A. Loomis with Mr. A. G. Metheral as secretary.

The council in a motion Monday night by Ald. P. J. Anglesey appointed Mr. Metheral to receive applications henceforth. Necessary investigations will be made by staff representatives of the Department of Welfare.

Mothers allowances have been in effect since 1925, and old age pensions since 1929. Mrs. Benton has been a member of the local board since its inception, and Mrs. Mills' length of service was only two weeks less than Mrs. Benton's.

The duty of the board was to receive applications for pensions and allowances, and make recommendations to the government. Mr. Metheral continues to receive applications but they will now be referred directly to the Department for any investigations which may be required.

Sales-Ad Club Entertains Heads of 58 Industries

An unusual meeting in which the products of 58 Peterborough industries were displayed was held in the Empress Hotel Tuesday evening by the Sales and Advertising Club. The program labelled "Industrial Night" was aimed at publicising city industries, and at the same meeting heads of industry were guests of the club. On a huge blackboard were listed the 58 industries showing a total of 10,844 employees. Around the board were grouped the exhibits and they made an impressive display.

Five boys who had been successful in the essay contest sponsored by the club, on the subject "My City Council" were guests at the meeting. They are David Theobald, St. Peter's, first prize-winner in Grade 9; Paul Hickson, St. Peter's, second in Grade 9; James Masterson, Sacred Heart, first in Grade 8; John Drummond, Prince of Wales, second in Grade 8, and Douglas Hancock, PCVS, second in Grade 10. Miss Gail Craig, first in Grade 10, was not present. The group will be treated to a hockey game at Toronto later this winter.

A draw for a hamper of fruit, groceries, meats and other valuable items worth $100 was made, and Robert Peirson was the winner.

Gordon Matthews, general manager of Canada Packers added another interesting feature to the event, when he announced that the side of beef on display would be divided equally between Civic Hospital and St. Joseph's Hospital. John Marshall and John Corkery, chairman of hospital boards accepted the gift.

Booster prizes were won as follows: Gordon Dobbin, motor rug, R. R. Faryon, toboggan, Edward Murduff, travel - alarm, Frank Edgar, boat cushion, Morton Knox, ventian blind and Alex McGregor, floor rug.

Paige Rowell was chairman and called on Jim Wharry, chairman of the committee in charge of the program to introduce the speaker, Don Henshaw, senior executive of the McLaren Advertising Agency, Toronto.

Mr. Henshaw gave a rapid-fire, stimulating address on the subject "I'm always a cheer leader", and he rapped the reticence, shyness and lack of enthusiasm so characteristic of Canadians. He remarked this tradition was part of the British heritage, but added Canadians could do the biggest service to Britain now, by showing the world that the Canadian offspring was strong and prosperous.

"Every business man and every workingman must realize we are dependent on our export business for our standard of living and our level of prosperity".

"Exports put the jam on our bread, give us the little extra we do not want to go without. So we should do everything possible to let the world know who we are, what we are, and how good the things are we have to sell".

Selling Job Needed

"If this display of products tonight is amazing to us, then how much more amazing it would be to whole world," he said.

Commenting on the selling angle he said every company needs a salesman whether that man is a laborer, a clerk or an executive. Today we cannot build a mousetrap deep in the woods. We must cut a path to the markets of the world, travel the highways, and sell.

"Advertising catches the eye or ear of the man who might be interested. It does a job of preselling and is essential to any business enterprise today.

"Recently the Hon. C. D. Howe announced that manufacturing at last had outstripped agriculture as the top industry in Canada. Let us not forget that it takes the skill and integrity of workmen, sound business management linked with salesmanship and advertising to give us prosperity."

"The innate qualities of Canadians can beat depressions and wars, because from both we have emerged stronger. In eight years the population has grown 18 per cent, the country is strong, progressive, prosperous. Let's sell the world on what we have and with it our way of life, a way of life that gives more to man than any other system known to history".

The thanks of the gathering was expressed by Ian McRae, works manager of the C.G.E. Company, who also presented the speaker with a walnut cabinet, suitably engraved as a token of his visit.

Following the meeting buses took the 240 people to the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company where groups were taken on a conducted tour through the plant. Factory officials had arranged for 80 employees to work overtime, so that the visitors could see the manufacturing processes. Guides explained the various machines and operations, and following the tour, a buffet luncheon was served in the office. This feature of the evening was in charge of Arthur Jobe, sales manager of the Lock Company, and he was assisted by the plant manager W. Howson, and the assistant manager Robert Maybee.

Hon. L. B. Pearson To Give Report

Miss Agnes Borland, 94, died today at the residence of her nephew, Henry Borland of Indian River. She had been ill only a short time. She was born in Asphodel township, daughter of the late John Stewart Borland and Ann Richmond, and had lived a lifetime in the district.

She leaves three sisters, Mrs. E. Clysdale of this city and Miss Annie Borland and Mrs. B. Reid, both of Keene. She was a member of the United Church.

Funeral Service will be held on Friday at the Comstock Funeral Home at 2 p.m. The Rev. George Murray of Keene United Church will officiate and burial will be at Fife's Cemetery, Otonabee.

Robert J. Bolton President Of Commission

Officers of the Peterborough Recreation Commission were elected Tuesday night in the board room in the city buildings. R. J. Bolton was elected chairman, with Gordon Armstrong vice-chairman. Mrs. J. E. R. Munro was returned as secretary, and R. E. MacDonald as treasurer.

Chairmen of the various committees are: Finance, R. E. MacDonald; adult education, A. E. Borland; ladies' sports, W. Bennett; men's sports, Clare Collins; boys' and girls' work, Mrs. W. Whalon; arts and crafts, Mrs. J. E. R. Munro; music and dramatics, Quirt McKinney, and the property committee is headed by Gordon Armstrong. Music and dramatics were under separate committees last year, but it was decided that only one committee could do the work required. The property committee is new this year.

Quirt McKinney reported on his investigation of the grant sought by the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association to help buy a piano for the Library auditorium. The $100 was granted the association. Total cost of the piano was $550. Everyone who uses the auditorium can use the piano provided that it isn't misused.

"Pleasure skating rinks have been placed at Grove School, Inverlea Park and Confederation School," said Jack Dane. "Mr. Butcher and myself talked to the people in the neighborhood about the skating at Aylmer and Wolsley Streets. A rink for skating is being placed there."

In his report on the ski school, Mr. Dane said there are about 250 in the Peterborough schools registered in the ski school. The first Saturday four buses took the skiiers to Kempt's Hill, but last Saturday five buses were required.

"There is only one problem, on Saturday morning some children were refused permission on the buses with their skiis. One woman phoned and said she sent her children to catch the ski bus by taxi," said Mr. Dane.

Clare Collins along with Jack Dane will go to see Mr. Mitchell of the Bus Lines to see if some arrangements can be made to get the children up to the bus terminal on King St. to catch the ski bus.

A janitor will look after the Ashburnham hall for the winter months. His salary will be $10 a week. Up to the present a member of the Citizens' Band has been cleaning up. Many organizations large and small use the hall. Some cannot afford to pay for the hall. The bandsman who had been doing the work was given the job until spring.

Requests from the Church League Hockey and Softball for grants were received by the Commission.

"The organizations are quite sound. Reverends Morgan, Kibblewhite and Gordon have been pushing minor sports considerably since last spring. I believe the churches would give more money for this good cause if they were asked," said Mr. Bolton.

Male Sports Committee will talk to the leaders of the league to reach a settlement on the amount of money they actually require.

A request from the Peterborough Minor Hockey Association will receive the same consideration as the Church League request.

SALARY ADJUSTMENT

Oshawa firemen told their council Monday that they would be satisfied with salaries equal to the policemen's scale. They had asked for a $500 increase. Pay of firemen and policemen was equal until 1948 when, by an error in agreements, the police received $100 more than the fire fighters.

Ask Protection For Ontario's Fruit Growers

TORONTO, Jan. 19—(CP)—Increased protection for Ontario's fruit and vegetable growers was urged in resolutions adopted Tuesday at opening sessions of the Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association's annual convention.

The growers suggested the drawing up of Federal and Provincial regulitions to establish financial protection for growers shipping on commissiono. They also asked that it be made easier for them to collect money owed them by processing companies.

Also in the line of protection for the Ontario Association were resolutions asking for a special container committee to bring in recommendations; a complete overhaul of the present system of orchard inspection to bring about more efficiency and speed; augmenting of services of the marketing services, so that weekly holdings of fruit and vegetables be made available; and action by the Income Tax Department to eliminate inconsistent rulings.

Importation Prolonged

Growers said importation of onions is prolonged so that it interferes with the marketing of onion sets. A resolution asked action to provide a domestic market for home-grown onions and application of duty on onions from June 1 to Feb. 28.

Legislation was asked to implement the trade agreemnt calling for exchange of fruits and vegetables between Canada and the United States.

A farm produce package which is either wholly transparent or has windows was recommended by C. B. Denman, of Washington, D. C., Agricultural Counsel, of the National Association of Food Chains. He said such a package gives the buyer a chance to see the color and size of the fruit or vegetable without pinching it.

Film Fan Mail Volume Has Declined

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 19 (AP)—The volume of fan mail to movie stars has slumped considerably in the recent months.

This is one of the facts I uncovered in a visit to Hollywood's bustling post office.

Don't get the idea that fan mail has dwindled to a few scrawled postcards. There's still enough volume to keep four men working full time. It's a unique problem in the postal service. Probably no other post office has so much inadequately addressed mail.

Each train to Los Angeles brings a load of fan mail. Those addressed to stars at studios are sent to postal stations in those areas. But the great bulk of mail is sent without the studio address. That and letters for studios in Hollywood proper are shipped to the Hollywood office.

The mail is assembled by studios and each sends a messenger to pick it up every day. Daily average for the big studios is around 3½ bags.

Superintendent Walter Bott reported a decline in recent years of screwball addresses. (For instance, a nose drawn on an envelope intended for Jimmy Durante.) Lately there have been a few tagged only with buttons and bows, but such pranks have declined. The postal boys are just as happy. They casually find the right addressee—but it slows down the mail.

Capsule Review

"Yellow Sky" (T. C. F.) is an interesting story of men's lust for gold, although it lacks the depth of "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre." It has some good action and fine photography and ranks several notches above the western film standard. Gregory Peck adds reality to the film with his sincere approach and Anne Baxter is slim and effective. Richard Widmark is wasted in a role padded beyond its worth.

SENATOR CHARLES PHILLIPPE BEAUBIEN, KC, Commander of the Legion of Honor, one of Canada's leading figures in the business and political world, and widely known as an orator, died at his residence in Montreal, in his 79th year, after a brief illness.

Court Given Lesson On How To Woo

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19—(AP)—Claude Marsan, the French love doctor, brought down the house Tuesday in Municipal Court with a demonstration of his wooing technique, complete with a musical saw serenade and a red-headed model.

Marsan was called by his lawyer to re-enact for a jury of nine women and three men a performance which landed him in jail on charges of conducting an obscene show.

The volatile little Frenchman, opened his wooing demonstration with two numbers—"Let Me Call You Sweetheart,' and 'Dark Eyes'—on his musical saw.

The model, Miss Barbara Weir, 24, also charged with conducting a lewd show, sat on the counsel table in front of the jury as Marsan proceeded. She was dressed in a revealing evening gown, which she pulled up to her knees when Masran asked her to "Show these wolves a little more."

The 39-year-old lecturer demonstrated the American approach in love making, which he said was faulty. This included a rush act and the statement, 'Pucker up, babe, I'm coming in on the beam."

'Ah, now the French way," said Marsan, with which he began some soft love talk, partly in French, and kissed his partner's hand, shoulder, cheek and finally her mouth while sitting beside her on the lawyer's table.

Prosecution and defense counsel agreed that the lively show which Marsan and Miss Weir put on for the jury was substantially the same as given last Nov. 19 when the police vice squad stopped it at an auditorium adjoining a beer parlor.

The self-styled "great lovaire" faces cross-examination today.

Russ Writer Friendly With American People

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (CP).—The current isue of the USSR information bulletin published by the Russian Embassy here leads off with a friendly New Year's greeting to the American people.

It was written by Boris Izakov, identified in the bulletin only as a Soviet journalist. Izakov said he has visited the United States twice since the end of the war and has always been made to feel at home.

Izakov said any unfriendly relations between the two countries are attributable to a lack of mutual understanding, and his wish for 1949 was for better understanding.

The tone of the article was in sharp contrast to the usual contents of the bulletin, which is published twice a month by the Embassy.

It was also in contrast to the remaining 32 pages of the current issue, devoted largely to an attack on the "war-mongering" countries of the West.

Bomb Victim Meets Bomber

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(AP)—A pretty blonde, who was at Hiroshima when the atom bomb was dropped, Tuesday night met a man from the plane that dropped it—and told him she wasn't at all angry at him.

The meeting was arranged by Mutual Broadcasting System. Mrs. Kay Drago talked over the bombing on a radio show with George Caron of Wantagh, N.Y., who was a tail gunner on the B-29 bomber.

She was surprised to learn that Caron expected her to be angry at him.

Mrs. Drago, daughter of White Russians, who settled in Japan more than 20 years ago, later married Paul Drago, who was serving with American occupation troops in Japan. He brought her back to his home at Camden, N.J.

She told Tuesday night how she was doing housework when the bomb exploded about 2½ miles from her home.

She told of the "flash like lightning," the "smoke or gas" that darkened the skies an instant later, the "fires that sprang up from nowhere to set the grass and trees on fire."

Her home, she said, "exploded and went up in the air," but she escaped with only a slight head cut.

Students Record Books To Help Blind Colleagues

DETROIT, Jan. 19 (AP).—In a cramped little room Donald Jenks, a Wayne University freshman, sits down before a recording machine and begins to read from a textbook. At first he is hesitant, but soon, following instructions from assistant librarian Ted Manheim, he is reading with confidence. His voice is grooved into a seven-inch plastic disc revolving before him.

Jenks is one of about 80 volunteers helping out in Wayne's program of recording textbooks for blind students.

A few days later his record is revolving on a turntable in the room of Alfred Platz, a blind senior studying history. Platz listens and occasionally takes notes on a Braille slate.

Beside Platz are other records with other voices. Each one contains 14 minutes of reading on each side. No longer does the blind student have to adjust his studies to times when he can make an appointment with a reader. Everything is on the records beside him, to use as he sees fit.

Six Students Benefit

This, in brief, is how Wayne's textbook recording program works. The records have given six blind students at the university a whole new approach to their studies. Every day several students give their time to help bring knowledge to the few who cannot see.

Blind students all have portable "talking book" record players loaned by the government and they need no extra equipment.

Dr. G. Flint Purdy, chief librarian, envisions a whole library of recorded textbooks.

"We're trying to look away ahead," he says. "We're hoping to build up a collection of elementary texts that can be used over and over."

Federal Program Backing Provinces In Health Field

"Outstanding event of the past year in the public health field was undoubtedly the launching of a national health program, under which the federal government provided grants totalling more than $30,000,000 a year to the provinces to assist them in developing and extending their services to fight disease," it is stated in a special National Health Week Jan. 30 to Feb. 5 message by the Department of National Health and Welfare

The program was introduced in the House of Commons on May 14, 1948, by Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, and its intent and scope was explained in detail by Hon. Paul Martin, Minister of National Health and Welfare. Mr. Martin department was charged with implementing the program, and Dr. F. W. Jackson, Manitoba's Deputy Minister of Health and Public Welfare, was invited to Ottawa to coordinate and direct the allocation of moneys provided to projects mutually agreeable to all concerned.

Every province accepted the program and has been at work during the past few months on surveys and submissions to the federal ministry to take advantage of its provisions. Many projects have been approved and some are already in operation. National and provincial health authorities agree that this is probably the greatest official contribution ever made to the expansion of Canada's health facilities.

As the program went into operation, there was a corresponding development in all services of the Department of National Health and Welfare, many of whose divisions are assisting provincial, local and voluntary agencies in taking fullest advantage of the expansion of public health activity engendered by this entry of the Dominion into the field of health on an unprecedented scale.

South Africa Looks After Veterans Well

PRETORIA, Jan. 19 (Reuters) —South Africa is looking to the forthcoming session of Parliament, opening Jan. 21, and the Provincial Elections March 9, to clarify the union's political scene.

But it is the provincial elections rather than Parliament which holds the key to the situation.

Prime Minister Malan has made the Provincial elections a vote of confidence in his party's color policy.

The question being asked is whether he will go to the country for a fresh mandate if the Provincial Elections go against him. If there is swing in favor of the government, people wonder if he will go to the country to obtain a larger parliamentary majority to carry out the apartheid (segregation) policy which, he will argue, has been endorsed by the people in the provincial elections.

Shutting out Natives

The chief item in Dr. Malan's legislative program is a bill to abolish the representation of natives in the House of Assembly. This was one of the main planks on which Dr. Malan and H. C. Havenga made their appeal to the electorate in the last general election and upon which they entered into an election alliance "to save white civilization in South Africa."

The readiness with which Dr. Malan held out the provincial elections as a deciding factor is regarded here as a sign of the confidence with which he faces the verdict of the electorate.

Judging from recent utterances by prominent members of the cabinet, including the leader of the Nationalists in the Transvaal, J. G. Strydom, it seems certain that the proposed legislation abolishing the representation of natives in the House of Assembly will figure in the speech from the throne.

Uncover Nearly Foolproof Method Of Getting Stolen Car Plates

KITCHENER, Jan. 19 (CP)—Provincial police here today are puzzling over a nearly foolproof method of providing licence plates for stolen cars. They term the plan "ingenious" and admit that if a driver can keep free of road accidents he is not likely to be detected.

The whole system in one case came apart at the seams, however, through an accident in Galt Sunday.

Some time after a hit-and-run driver cracked into a parked car there and sped away without stopping, a damaged machine was found abandoned in a Galt alley.

Police checked the licence plates and found that the car was from Kitchener according to the plates.

They drove to the apparent owner's home to tell him his car was in Galt but were notified that it wasn't. His car was in his driveway and it was wearing its usual set of plates, the same numbers as those on the Galt car.

A closer investigation of the Galt plates revealed that they were a fabricated set apparently made up from two other sets of plates. These police believe, were stolen some time ago.

The thieves had cleverly cut out two centre numbers from each set, and welded the figures into the other plate. This was then touched up with some paint and the change is noticeable only under close examination.

In the case of the car abandoned at Galt the motor serial numbers had been erased but identification of it as a car stolen in Toronto last month was made by a serial number on the frame.

Postpone Meeting

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Jan 19 —(CP)—Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton of Canada, president of the United Nations Security Council, Tuesday night postponed for 24 hours a council meeting of Indonesia. Informed sources said the step was taken because a United States plan for settlement of the conflict between the Netherlands and the Republic of Indonesia does not yet have enough backing.

Tips to Press Secretaries May Help Speed Reports

Executive changes in the majority of local organizations are taking place this month. Some elections were held and the new officers have had time in which to consider their new duties. Other appointments are just being ratified.

Little prominence is given the press secretary of these slates—yet she works for the hundreds of readers who take an interest in women's activities. It is her job to justify her group's existence to the public. When organized to carry out welfare work, study foreign or home missions, religion or education as a service club, or purely for sociability, there are many reasons why people of Peterborough and district can benefit from knowing what has been done.

Promptness should be the first rule of publicity agents and the social editor will help them by taking telephoned reports, commencing at 8 a.m. daily. Final deadline for social news in each day's paper is 12 noon, except Saturday, when it is 10 a.m. By letting days elapse before reporting a meeting or event, interest, even of those taking part, is lost. Such a lack may reflect heavily on the organization itself.

Second point to remember is that a press report is not directed to members of the same group, but to a reader-public which wants to know what type of work is done, who is in charge of it, plans for the future, dates of any open events. In the case of speakers they like to know what was talked about and the points stressed. Parliamentary procedure is not news except when it varies.

Initials are most important with each name, and names of those playing any part should always be given. If the person is older than 16 the title Mrs., Miss or Mr. is necessary for social page use.

Editing of press secretary's reports is done with the idea of presenting the material contained in the most readable fashion. It is a well-known fact that many persons read only the headlines in a paper. Many more will read the first several lines of a report and it is here that interest may be caught if they are to be induced to read the balance. Changes in arrangement are made to put the highlight facts in the lead and any awkward sentence structures are altered. Repitition is avoided wherever possible.

Authoress Says Life In Harem Peaceful, Moral

WINNIPEG. (CP)—Mme. Maria Huldschinsky, Viennese - born writer, describes life in a Sudanese harem as a "dream of Oriental beauty—a peace which western civilization will never know."

She is here gathering information about Manitoba Indians, and intends to write a novel about them. Mme. Huldschinsky has been in Canada for about a year after living in North and West Africa for some 15 years.

No Dancing Girls

The harem is not as most westerners would picture it, says Mme. Huldschinsky. She was house director of the harem of Sir Sayed Abel Rahman Pasha in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

"Despite Hollywood, it (the harem) is not a hodge-podge of beautiful dancing girls, lusty male slaves, introgue and murder....I found it aesthetic, peaceful and most moral."

Sayed wields immeasurable spiritual power over thousands of Mohammedan followers. Mme. Huldschinsky said. He is the son of the famous old mahdi whose whirling dervishes gave General Gordon of Khartoum so much trouble in the closing years of the 19th century.

Has Four Wives

Sayed has no more than four wives permitted by Mohammedan law, but the members of his harem include his aged mother, his daughters-in-law and granddaughters, other female relatives and hundreds of maidservants.

Isolated from the turmoils of the western world behind high walls and grilled gates, these women live an almost idyllic life in "nobleness and peaceful harmony," Mme. Huldschinsky said.

Gave Exhibition

Last March she displayed about 100 paintings and statuettes at an exhibition at McGill University. The paintings were a visual account of a trip she undertook on commission for the Sudan government, up the Nile, through Egypt, Sudan, Uganda, Kenya, Tanganyika and back over the Red Sea hills to Part Sudan.

Evening Auxiliary Elects Mrs. W. H. Frise

Evening Auxiliary of George St. United Church met in the Board Room Monday evening with Mrs. Quirt McKinney presiding. Miss Ruth Telford favored the group with two delightful solos and was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ross Moore. Devotions were led by Mrs. M. H. Ballard assisted by Mrs. E. McCullough. The study book chapter presented by Miss Vera Squire was most interesting.

Installation of new officers was conducted by the Rev. Dr. J. Semple. Those in charge of 1949 work are: honorary presidents, Mrs. J. Semple and Mrs. J. R. R. Cooper; president, Mrs. W. H. Frise; vice president, Mrs. L. Knapp and Mrs. C. D. Munroe; secretary, Miss S. Bennett; treasurer; Miss E. Taylor; pianist, Mrs. C. D. Munroe and Miss E. Clysdale; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. J. Armstrong; press secretary, Mrs. A. Taylor.

Conveners are: flowers, Mrs. E. McCullough; literature, Mrs. E. Creba; Missionary Monthly, Miss E. Manning; community friendship, Mrs. R. Bick and Mrs. E. Hales; systematic giving, Mrs. A. Clark; telephone, Mrs. Frank Greatrix; supply, Mrs. C. McBride and Mrs. M. H. Ballard.

A timely message from Dr. Semple on "A thought for the year 1949" was inspirational. Taking the president's chair, Mrs. W. H. Frise expressed her hopes for the coming year and closed the meeting with prayer.

President's Raise Will Help Pay Dressmakers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman, like many another family man, will be glad of a raise when he gets the bills for the new clothes his women folks have bought to celebrate his inaugural.

"Margaret Pink"

Margaret, blonde and 24, will attend the inaugural ball Thursday night in a gown so lovely it would do credit to any royal court. In it she will introduce a new shade, "Margaret Pink"—a delicate shade between that of shell pink and pink champagne.

Thirty-five yards of silk tulle in the new shade were used in Margaret's gown, which has a full circular skirt and tight bodice of shirred tulle and brocade of pale pink satin and gold. It is over a taffeta slip in slightly deeper hue.

Mrs. Truman's ball gown is of black panne velvet, and has a slight train. It has a wide circular collar which is heavily encrusted with hand-drawn white Alencon lace.

Reception Gowns

Mrs. Truman's gown for the inaugural reception is of French imported pearl gray satin and dull silver lame in a feather design. Her small hat is of flat ostrich feathers in shades of pink, smokey gray and mauve.

Margaret will wear to this a black crepe dress with black lace top and shoulders. It is trimmed with wide bands of bronze taffeta. Her accessories for this outfit are bronze and her pink hat has a bronze feather.

For the ceremonies at the capitol, where President Truman will take the oath of office, Mrs. Truman will wear and afternoon costume of iridescent black and gray pure silk rajah with a moonstone straw-cloth hat draped with black tulle and trimmed with a single mauve-pink rose.

Margaret will wear a red gabardine dressmaker suit with black accessories.

Presenting Afghan To Red Cross

Dinner tables were delightful with a profusion of spring flowers and tall yellow tapers in silver holders for the meeting of Business and Professional Women's Club Monday evening in the YWCA. Refreshments were in charge of South End group with Miss Ann Deyell as convener.

Guests at the meeting were Miss M. E. Clysdale, Miss Olive Howland and Mrs. J. D. Matchett.

Community singing featuring songs of the British Isles followed dinner, with Miss Deyell as pianist.

Miss Jane Saunders introduced the guest speaker Miss Myrtle Sargent, who gave her most interesting story, "My Peep at the British Isles". Miss Helen Moore voiced the appreciation of members in the vivid description of her trip to attend the International Soroptimist Club convention at Harrowgate, England, last summer.

During a short business meeting with Miss S. Eastwood presiding, a letter from the president of Peterborough, England, Business and Professional Women's Club was read. It acknowledged Christmas boxes sent to the sister club.

An afghan made by members during their fireside meeting was on display and it was decided to ask the Red Cross Society to place this where good use might be made of it.

Home and School Association News

BRIDGENORTH SCHOOL

An exceptionally large number of friends and members of Bridgenorth Home and School Association gathered Tuesday evening to hear the address of Mr. Harry Yudin of Peterborough, guest speaker. His message was on boy's work and delinquency and he left many points for his audience to consider carefully.

The short humorous reading "A Boy" given by Mrs. J. Hardill was appropriate to the meeting subject.

A financial report was given by Mrs. A. Crowe, convener for the Christmas party held for the children.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Don McKay, social convener, and her committee.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD A. SLOAN were married at St. James' Parsonage on Saturday. Mrs. Sloan was formerly Ilean Jennie Soles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Soles, RR 6, Peterborough, and the groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Sloan, Aylmer St.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Boss And Secretary Will Often Make Ideal Couple

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a single man, well established in my own business. My secretary, who has been with me for three years, and I have fallen very much in love and we plan to be married in the spring. What are the chances of happiness when a man and his secretary tie up for life?

Dorothy Dix

A Business Man

ANSWER: The best. I think that when a man and his secretary marry they practically take marriage out of the gambling class and make it a sure thing. For they have seen each other at close range They have got each other's number to the last figure. The woman knows just exactly how big and broad or how little and narrow, how kind and generous or how hard and stingy, how understanding or how dense the man is. And the man knows whether the girl has real grains or is a Dumb Dora; whether she has a heart and soul, and whether she is the kind who would stick to a man through thick and thin.

It is often said that propinquity is the greatest matchmaker. That is true, but it is equally true that propinquity is the greatest destroyer of romance, and if a man and his secretary, who have worked together for three years, still admire each other enough to want to get married, you may be sure that they measure up to each other's standards and that such a marriage will last, for they know what they are getting.

No Horrible Surprises

They will have none of the horrible surprises that awaits the man who thinks he is marrying a sweet little thing, so gentle and mild that butter wouldn't melt in her mouth, and finds after he has got her home that she is a virago and a nagger; or the shock that befalls the girl who thinks she is marrying her Fairy Prince and discovers that she has fallen into the clutches of a brute and a tyrant.

Another advantage of a man marrying his secretary is that they will have something to talk about, for she will be vitally interested in his business, his plans and ambitions. They will never be bored with each other, for they can talk endlessly about the office and get a kick out of it.

For these and many other reasons I am strong for a man marrying his secretary. It should go over big.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Is there any cure for jealousy? I am a middle-aged man, fond of my wife and as domestic as the house cat. We have been married for over 20 years and I have never once strayed off of the straight and narrow path, but that does not keep her from being so suspicious of me that she wrecks her own and my happiness. Every day when I come home from work she demands to know where I have been, what I did, whom I talked to, what they said and what I said, and if she thinks that I am not telling every detail she throws a tantrum.

She accuses me of having affairs with any strange woman I pass on the street. I don't dare to have a friend, male or female. And I have gotten so tired of being put through the third degree that I can't stand it any longer. What must I do?

UNHAPPY HUSBAND

ANSWER: There is no cure for jealousy. If you have a green-eyed wife, you can either endure her or leave her. You can't change her. It always seems to me there is something rotten in the minds of jealous people. They are simply unable to realize that there could be men and women who are faithful and loyal and honorable and who love their wives or husbands so sincerely that they could not possibly stoop to the lowness of betraying those who trusted them.

It is the men and women who have no high ideals themselves who suspect everybody else of being as unprincipled as they are. They are the ones who need watching.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Will you explain why girls do not like boys to kiss them when they are attending the movies, or hold hands when in church? It seems to me that love-making should be made in private and not in public. Am I right in thinking this?

DAILY READER

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There may be no harm in a boy kissing a girl at the movies, but is just so common. It shows such an utter lack of good taste that you can't imagine a well bred girl permitting herself to be made a figure of fun in public. There is a time and a place for everything under the sun," says the Good Book. The place for love-making is in privacy. It should not be made a spectacle for the public to gawk over.

Eggs Make Tasty Dishes For Main Course at Meals

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

With eggs more abundant and lower in price, it is time to use them more liberally. Here are two main-dish egg recipes for your budget menus:

Main Dish Egg Salad
(4 to 6 servings)

Four hard-cooked eggs, 4 boiled potatoes, chilled and diced, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 1 tablespoon minced fresh dill or ½ teaspoon dill seed, French dressing, watercress or lettuce, thin slices smoked salmon or herring.

Cut the eggs in cubes or slices; combine with the potatoes and season with the salt, pepper, onion juice and dill or dill seed. Chill. Arrange watercress or lettuce on a salad patter; place thin slices of smoked salmon or herring on the watercress; pile the salad mixture on top; sprinkle lightly with French dressing.

Creamed Hard-Cooked Egg Pie
(6 servings)

Six to 8 hard-cooked eggs, 1½ cups thick white sauce, ¼ cup chopped celery, ½ cup minced watercress, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon celery salt, pastry for 2-crust pie.

Cook the eggs; let them cool; shell; cut in thick slices. Combine with the white sauce, celery and watercress; add the seasonings and mix. Line a deep pie dish with pastry; fill with the creamed egg mixture; cover with top crust; pierce with slashes to let the steam out. Crimp edge; bake in a hot oven 425 degrees F. 15 minutes; reduce heat to 350 degrees F. and bake 15 minutes longer or till the crust is browned.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed prunes, ready-to-eat cereal, French toast, syrup, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Hamburgers on rolls, sliced sweet onion, baked apples, tea, milk.

DINNER: Vegetable soup, crackers, main dish egg salad, crusty French bread, butter, hot apple dumplings, lemon sauce, coffee, milk.

SITUATION: A person you have just met makes a remark that can be taken two ways, though you know that he does not mean the remark to be interpreted in a way that is uncomplimentary to you.

WRONG WAY: Catch him up on it, making him protest, "But I didn't mean it that way."

RIGHT WAY: Let it pass, rather than run the risk of embarrassing him, and making him feel that he has created an awkward situation.

ARCTIC FREIGHTER—The Fort Hearne, shown here prior to being launched at Shelburne, NS, will become part of the Arctic fleet of the Hudson's Bay Company when completed. One of the largest wooden ships built in the Maritimes in years, the vessel has an overall length of 149 feet with a 30-foot beam.

Capt. Carnegie 94 Years Old

KINGSTON, Jan. 19 (CP). — Capt. John Carnegie Tuesday celebrated his 94th birthday. His two sons, R. K. (Andy) Carnegie, Ottawa Chief of Bureau of the Canadian Press and Captain Roy Carnegie, Kingston, joined their father on the occasion.

Capt. Carnegie, who retired 11 years ago, was born on La Rue Island. He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnegie. He has been a resident of Kingston for over 25 years.

Capt. Carnegie, who enjoys good health, started sailing the St. Lawrence River as a young man. He first sailed on sailing vessels, including the Jennie and the Mad Cap.

The greater part of his life was spent in command of steamboats. The early steamboats which operated on the St. Lawrence River were fired with wood. The wood fuel was obtained from dealers at Gananoque and Darlingside. A great quantity of wood was required to operate these vessels.

Boats he commanded were the Island Queen, Richelieu, Princess Louise, Maud, America, Mississiqui, Brockville, Frontenac, and St. Lawrence. His last command was the ferry steamer Frontenac, which operated on the Gananoque-Clayton, NY, ferry service for a number of years. This ship was withdrawn from the ferry service with the opening of the new Thousand Islands Bridge in 1938.

Nuernberg Just Another City When Trials End In February

By ALAN DREYFUSS

NUERNBERG, Jan. 19—(Reuters).—Some time early in February an American judge will pronounce sentence on the last of the 21 defendants in the "Wilhelmstrasse" trial. With this pronouncement the city of Nuernberg will become just another city in the United States zone of Germany.

When the last person has left the oak-panelled courtroom, the title "Trial City" which has become as synonymous with Nuernberg as its earlier association with Nazi party rallies will fade into the dull oblivion of tourist guide books and memory.

That day in February will bring to a close a series of war crimes trials unparalleled in scope or size.

Since mid-summer, 1945, when starred co-defendants filed Herman Goering and his 20 illgiumly into a prisoners' dock at the International Military Tribunal, 177 Germans, ranging from field marshals to medical technicians, have stood trial here.

Use 6 Courtrooms

Six specially-constructed courtrooms in the huge labrynthian Palace of Justice have been used simultaneously to try cases against the defendants.

"Subsequent proceedings," — which followed the major trials and started Dec. 9, 1946—have used up a total of 1,545,206 pound of paper for transcripts, documents, and other court records.

An estimated 46,762,800 words, have been spoken in the subsequent trials." Official photographers, in an effort to safeguard and duplicate all evidence and documents, have made 2,-282,676 photostatic copies.

Documents containing defence evidence filled more than 20,000 pages of transcript compared with 14,849 introduced by the American prosecution in attempting to prove the guilt of the defendants.

Of 177 defendants actually brought to trial only 33 have been acquitted. The names of eight others who were indicated, were struck from the indictments after they either committed suicide or proved too ill to appear in court.

Plan Registering Blood Donors

Thousands of people across Canada will welcome the establishment by the Canadian Red Cross Society of the new Blood Transfusion Service which is now being organized.

The plan involves the setting up of a nation-wide service that will collect blood from voluntary donors and supply it to hospitals The sole proviso will be that the hospitals will use this blood for transfusions, free and without charge to any patient needing it.

A mobile Clinic will visit the larger centres, of which Peterborough is one, three of four times a year. This Clinic has a full staff of doctor, nurses and technicians, as well as complete equipment for taking the blood and storing and shipping it to Toronto to laboratories. No one will be asked to give blood more than two or three times a year.

The Clinic will be set up in Red Cross rooms, corner of George and Brock Street, Peterborough and in the meantime the local branch of the Red Cross is organizing so that persons both men and women of good health, between the ages of 18 and 65 may conveniently register.

For general registration the above rooms will be open afternoons and evenings from Monday, January 31 to Saturday, February 5 both days inclusive where donors may register.

It is hoped there will be a ready response to the appeals that will be made as 2,500 donors are required from Peterborough and District.

Condemn Beer Delivery

TORONTO, Jan. 19 — (CP)— Delivery of beer to hotel rooms was condemned Tuesday by the committee on Evangelism and Social Service to the Central Presbytery of the United Church of Canada. The church organization opposed resolutions passed by the Ontario Hotel Association which asked provincial authorities to allow delivery of beer to bedrooms and cocktail lounges in cities with population of less than 50,000.

Break Up Gatherings

TORONTO, Jan. 19 — (CP)— Suburban Long Branch police Tuesday were instructed to break up any gathering of more than four Long Branch youths loitering on the streets at night. The action is an aftermath of two disturbances by teen-agers in the suburb recently.

SAYS HITLER THIEF — Chief Bernard Commanda of Sturgeon Falls, Ont., witness for Jules Sioui, Huron chieftain of Loretteville, Que., who was convicted last week of conspiring to incite Indians to rebellion, points to a map made of leather depicting the country claimed by the "National Government of the North American Nation." Commanda, who heads the "government," declared Adolf Hitler had stolen his swastika design shown on the sleeve of Commanda regalia, from the Indians.

Steelworkers Union Withdraws Claim

PORT COLBORNE, Jan. 19 — (CP). — In compliance with a directive from the Canadian Congress of Labor, the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) Tuesday night withdrew its claim to represent workers at the International Nickel Company refinery here.

The International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO) which has also been claiming to represent the refinery workers, was ordered last week to withdraw from the area, but refused.

It is expected that the CCL now will start organization of a new union independent of either the Smelter Workers or the Steel Union.

First Woman Warden

MILTON, Jan. 19—(CP)—Mrs. Mary Pettit, 60, reeve of Nelson Township, Tuesday became Ontario's first woman warden. She said her election as warden of Halton County meant realization of a long-standing ambition. After serving as convener of the township Welfare Board, she ran for council in 1940 and was elected. She was elected deputy-reeve in 1944 and reeve in 1945.

Lowest Paid Teachers

TORONTO, Jan. 19 — (CP)— Nan McGauley, secretary of Toronto's separate school lay teachers' association, said Tuesday Toronto's separate school teachers are the lowest paid of any in Canada. Refuting the lowest-pay claim of striking separate school teachers in Montreal, Miss McGauley said Toronto's single male teachers receive $2,025 and married men $2,225. She said both were lower than the $2,900 maximum now being paid Montreal teachers.

Scandinavian Alliance

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 19—(AP)— Oesten Unden, Swedish foreign minister, Tuesday told parliament Sweden is prepared to consider a Scandinavian defence alliance as an alternative to taking part in a North Atlantic security pact. The idea of such a regional defence bloc, taking in Norway and Denmark, received immediate support from leaders of the two opposition parties, the Liberals and the Conservatives.

Cut Meat Ration

LONDON, Jan. 19 — (CP)— Britain cut the fresh meat ration by one-sixth Tuesday because Argentine deliveries are behind schedule. The cut, from one shilling (20 cents) to 10 pence (a little under 17 cents) worth a person each week, is effective Sunday. The ministry of food said two pence worth of corned beef will be added to the ration to make up for the reduction.

End Bad Cough Quickly, at One-Fourth The Cost

Thousands of housewives have found that, by mixing their own cough syrup, they get a dependable, effective medicine. They use a recipe at only one-fourth the usual cost of cough medicine, but which really breaks up distressing coughs in a hurry.

From any druggist get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 ounce bottle and fill up with granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. The syrup is easily made with 2 cups sugar and 1 cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) It's no trouble at all, and makes a splendid medicine. Keeps perfectly, tastes fine.

Its quick action in loosening the phlegm, helping to clear the air passages and soothing away irritation, has caused it to be used universally throughout Canada.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its soothing effect on throat irritations. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

Wants Law Changed Bass 12 Inches Long

TORONTO, Jan. 19—(CP).—Regulations prohibiting catching of bass less than 12 inches long were asked Tuesday by the Ontario Tourist Resorts Association. The present minimum is 10 inches.

The request is to be sent on to the Provincial Government, with a recommendation that the northern pike be declared a game fish with 24 inches as the legal minimum length for catching.

Association delegates in convention here decided to ask the Ontario Government to make loans which would enable resort proprietors to extend and improve accommodation, and help capable men to establish new resorts.

Clayton Farewell, proprietor of the Ojibway Hotel on Georgian Bay, said expansion of the tourist industry would help swell the supply of United States dollars and bring increased prosperity to the entire province.

"The chief reason we do not have more visitors from the United States is the shortage here of the type of accommodation they demand," he said.

Roseland Woman Has Funeral Here

Funeral for the late Mrs. James Warren of Roseland, Ont., was held on Monday at the Duffus Funeral Home. The Rev. E. C. Moore of St. George's Anglican Church officiated and pall-bearers were John and Robert Pirie, George Ahern, Alfred Pink, Otto Laderach and O. White. Burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mrs. White died at her residence in Roseland on Friday. She was born in the Peterborough district and had left here 30 years ago to live in the Windsor area. Besides relatives, many former Peterborough friends attended the funeral service.

James Hamilton Chairman Cemetery Board

James Hamilton was re-elected president of the Little Lake Cemetery Company at its annual meeting Monday.

The other officers are: Vice-president, Herbert I. Bradburn; secretary-treasurer, Miss E. J. Saunders; directors, R. J. Kidd, H. A. Morrow, E. H. Howson, W. P. Eastwood, T. J. Casley, W. Ross Thompson, Melville Turner. The superintendent is Mr. C. Frank Kitney.

The financial statement for 1948 showed an operating surplus of $61.86, but after allowance was made for depreciation of buildings, $700, and of equipment, $725, there was a net deficit of $563.14.

Operating revenue, including care of lots, digging graves, greenhouse sales, etc., was $13,-160.92; receipts were: Ware St. house, $94.51; income on investments, $6,999.71; total receipts, $20,255.14.

The expenditure amounted to $19,393.28. The amount spent on lots and graves, greenhouse, grass cutting, roads, repairs, etc., was $15,737.56; administration, $3,-655.72; total, $19,39.28.

The report was audited by Mr. Ed. Humpage. Mr. Kitney reported for last year: 336 interments; 66 lots sold, 65 single graves, 3 double length single graves, 10 half graves, 51 foundations, 34 plots put under permanent care.

"In the new section across the river we were not able to do as much as we had hoped on account of illness in the home of Mr. Wyrick, an authority on cemetery design and management," Mr. Kitney reported. "On his suggestion we made arrangements with Mr. J. W. Pierce, our surveyor, to help us. We took off 450 yards of top soil before grading, and placed it in our stock pile. We have graded approximately two acres which will be ready for seeding next summer. Four hundred feet of hedge was planted on the north side. The little house on Armour Road is being made into a toolhouse for that section."

Revenues Increased

"Our revenues are increasing somewhat from year to year," the president, Mr. Hamilton observed, "but so are our expenditures. We are not making ends meet. It seems as if we will again have to revise the amounts we charge for the services we render. We received $14,748 from the sale of lots and perpetual care of lots last year; $8,644 was added to our investments and the balance was spent on new equipment, which should expedite work and cut down on expenses. The cemetery has been kept in excellent shape. The roads were open all winter, and summer gardening was well attended to. Your cemetery is certainly a place of beauty, and must be a source of pride to you all.

"During the year we lost one of our most valued members, Mr. Ford Turner. We felt his loss very keenly. His brother, E. M. Turner, was appointed in his place, and will be of great assistance to your board."

Mr. Hamilton paid tribute to Miss E. J. Saunders, secretary-treasurer, Mr. Kitney and the other employees for their faithful and efficient work.

Trinity Church Annual Meeting

Annual meeting of the congregation of the Trinity United church was held on Tuesday evening in the Sunday school auditorium. A large attendance was present in spite of the bad weather. Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon, the minister, conducted the devotional exercises and presided during the business session. Copies of all financial reports were placed in the hands of those present and were briefly reviewed by the various treasurers. Each church group presented a secretarial report and excellent business like statements presented by the younger secretaries.

The new plan adopted a year ago by the Sunday school was reviewed and authority given for its permanent operation. Need for better accommodation for the Sunday school was stressed and emphasis placed on the necessity of progressive action.

Votes of appreciation were given by Dr. Gordon and Mrs. Gordon for their faithful and energetic work, Miss M. Clarry and choir for their splendid services and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ralston for their interest and co-operation.

At the close of the business session the Women's Association, under the direction of Miss Daisy Walker, served light refreshments.

DIGGING HIS OWN GRAVE was John Pillsbury's recent job. The 80-year-old retired Scarborough, Maine, road commissioner says "Life is too uncertain." He dislikes the custom of placing bodies in vaults for spring burial when they can't be buried in winter. So he took advantage of the recent mild weather to get his own grave ready.

London Pantomimes Doing Big Business This Season

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Jan. 19—(CP).—London's West End pantomimes are doing big business this season with advance bookings and running into thousands of pounds. Most theatre managers are optimistic about their end-of-season profits, but as one pointed out: "Pantomime in the West End is a tricky business. Weeks elapse before takings cover production costs — sometimes as high as £20,000 ($80,000) or more. . . ."

"Cinderella" at the London Palladium was in full daily rehearsal for two weeks before the opening night. A cast of 80, including expensive stars, speciality acts and orchestra were all on full pay with income nil.

Cost of scenery and dresses is anybody's guess; it varies with each production but is seldom less than £5,000. Theatre rents and running costs are high.

Not All They Seem

"Booking in advance are not all they seem," one manager said. "One-fifth of the gross takings of any pantomime goes in entertainment tax. But advance bookings lengthen the life of a show."

The run of the Palladium pantomime has been extended twice, so that the show now will run until March 5. It must end then because Eleanor Powell and Chico Marx are starting a new variety season March 7.

Of Cinderella, a London critic wrote:

"Pantomime is always so full of oddities that it is no surprise to find that the ugly sister have American accents. They are represented by the Bernard brothers and their popular miming to gramophone records is one of the hits of the evening."

"The Wizard of Oz" at the Strand Theatre has an excellent cast with Richard Dolman as the scarecrow in search of a brain, Peter Evans as the Tin Man, and Jackie Hunter as the cowardly Lion. Diana Yardley, as the little girl who dreams the play, score a notable success. "The Land of the Christmas Stocking" at the Duke of York's Theatre is based entirely on old nursery rhymes, and is described as "ideal for the very young."

Minden Centre Is Completed

MINDEN, Jan. 19 — (ENS) — All that is needed for the opening of the new recreation centre is low temperature so that the ice rink can be flooded ready for use. Outstanding features of the impressive building are an ice surface of 75 x 181 feet and an auditorium 33 x 70 which can accommodate a conference or a banquet as large as any held in the county. There is a large kitchen and a 60-foot snack bar and central heating in the auitorium. The central structure may be used for indoor sports or for dancing.

The greatest pride of all is a public address system which is being installed by Don James, who is an expert on that type of work. The system is said to be comparable with those at the Oshawa and London arenas. Conservative estimates of the cost of installation are around $1,000. There will be a control room to serve for radio hook-ups if necessary. The amplification is flexible. Alternate switches in the control room will make it possible to use the system in the recreational room for dancing and other entertainment. An album of skating records is being obtained for use on skating nights.

H. W. Dawson, treasurer, reports $20,000 already raised towards the cost of the centre.

Civic Employees Union Seek $400 Increase

KITCHENER, Jan. 19 (CP)—A basic wage of 85 cents an hour and a general increase of $400 for each of its 125 workmen is sought by the Kitchener Civic Employees Union for 1949.

Highlights of the agreement are due to start Jan. 23 and be completed within 30 days.

For 1948 the workers received 75 cents an hour plus a 10 cent an hour cost of living bonus. This year they want the cost of living allowance incorporated in the basic rate, and at the same time the general $400 boosts.

Wheat Price With U.K. Remains $2

Settle Obligations In July, 1950; Depend On Prices Then

OTTAWA, Jan. 20—(CP)—The government announced today that the 1949-50 wheat price under the four-year Anglo-Canadian wheat contract will be $2 a bushel.

That will cover 140,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat and wheat flour to be shipped to Britain through the Canadian Wheat Board during that final year of the agreement.

Though the announcement did not say so, the price presumably will be basis Fort William, Port Arthur, Vancouver and Churchill, Man.

It represents no change from the $2 a bushel being paid for the 140,000,000 bushels going to the United Kingdom in the current crop year—1948-49.

The 150-word announcement said the British and Canadian negotiators took into account but did not take final action upon the "have regard" clause of the main agreement.

Allow For Low Price

This is the clause under which the United Kingdom agreed, in establishing the 1949-50 price, to take into account the low prices at which Canada sold her wheat to Britain in the first two years of the agreement—1946-47 and 1947-48. In those years, the price was $1.55 a bushel, far below the world price.

The announcement added:

"The two governments have... agreed that their representatives shall meet not later than July 31, 1950, to settle any obligations of the United Kingdom which may

Belgian Hero Freed On Bail

TORONTO, Jan. 20 — (CP). — Arthur Matthys, 28-year-old hero of the Belgian underground during the war and wanted by the Belgian government to face a murder charge, today was remanded on bail of two sureties of $5,000 each.

V. H. Tillson of Tillsonburg, counsel for Matthys, asked that bail be granted due to the unusual circumstances of the case. Judge Ambrose Shea acceded to the request but ordered Matthys to report every Monday to Tillsonburg police until the case is cleared up.

The Belgian government is seeking to extradite the Ontario immigration to face charges that he committed murder while his country was wracked by war. The extradition is being resisted by Matthys, who says he never met Armand DeVos, whom he is accused of having killed in September, 1944, near Ghent.

Handcuffed to an RCMP officer, Matthys met his wife and four-year-old daughter, Illona, in the lobby of Toronto city hall. There were tears in the eyes of both parents, and during the short hearing, the cries of his daughter outside, visibly disturbed Matthys.

Colonialism Must Go Nehru Declares

NEW DELHI, Jan. 20 (CP) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India today labelled the Netherlands action and policies in Indonesia "a challenge to newly-awakened Asia."

Opening the 19-power Asian Conference on Indonesia, he told the delegates and observers that their immediate objective should be restoration of conditions existing before the Dutch attack on the Indonesian Republic.

Then the Republic would be able to negotiate with the Netherlands as a free government. The next step should be "elimination of colonialism." "Asia will no longer brook any interference with her freedom," he said.

Nehru said the conference was viewed by the Indian government as having three aims:

1. Restoration of peace in Indonesia and early establishment of Indonesian independence.

2. To decide on a recommendation of action to the United Nations Security Council in the event either party to the dispute failed to carry out the council's instructions.

3. To devise machinery by which members of the conference could implement their decisions.

He stressed several times the intention to aim the conference towards elimination of colonialism—"the negation of democracy and seed of conflict."

He urged, however, that the conference fix its attention on the Indonesian issue and not permit itself to be distracted by other world issues.

A memorandum calls on them to forward a resolution to the United Nations Security Council demanding establishment of an Indonesian interim government by March 1, 1949; the holding of general elections to a constituent assembly by June 1, 1949; and the complete transfer of sovereignty and withdrawal of Dutch troops from Indonesia by Sept. 1, 1949.

Announce Three-Way Shift For Diplomatic Service

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, Jan. 20—(CP).—A raft of changes in the Government service was announced at a press conference last night by Prime Minister St. Laurent. Topping the list was a three-way shift in Canada's diplomatic corps, not to become effective until March because of distances to be travelled and other factors.

They involve the appointment of Arnold Heeney, 46, clerk of the Privy Council, as Undersecretary of State for External Affairs; the return of Norman Robertson, 45, Canadian High Commissioner in London, to take Mr. Heeney's job, and the transfer of Dana Wilgress, 57, Canadian Minister to Switzerland, to London to replace Mr. Robertson.

The new minister to Switzerland is expected to be Dr. E. H. Coleman, 55, under-secretary of state. Mr. St. Laurent said he is being posted to a diplomatic mission abroad but his destination cannot be announced until the government to which he is being accredited formally accepts the appointment. This may come today.

Other appointments:

James Sinclair, 40, member of parliament for Vancouver North becomes a parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott.

Wilfrid Davis and Walter Guillery, members of the Revenue Department's legal staff, become registrar and deputy registrar respectively, of the New Income Tax Appeal Board.

Maj. Raymond Carneau, Quebec broker, becomes a member of the advisory committee of the Report Credit Insurance Corporation.

Defence Shuffle

A high-level shuffle in the defence department was also announced by the government.

Brig. C. M. (Bud) Drury, C.B.E., D.S.O., 37, moves over from the external affairs department to become deputy minister of defence. A lawyer and graduate of Royal Military College, Kingston, he had a brilliant record as a soldier and as head of the U.N.R.R.A. mission in Poland after the war.

Senator Dies At Summerside

SUMMERSIDE, PEI, Jan. 20—(CP)—Senator B. W. Robinson died at his home here early today after a five-day illness. He was 58.

Brewer Waugh Robinson, born here Jan. 9, 1891, was elected as a Liberal to the Prince Edward Legislature in the 1939 provincial election. He went overseas in 1942 with Canadian Legion war services and was in Britain at the time of the 1943 PEI election.

He was summoned to the Senate April 9, 1945.

Senate Robinson was a prominent silver fox rancher and served as mayor of Summerside, the province's second largest centre, in 1936-37. He served overseas for four years in the First World War.

Senator Robinson was educated at Summerside and in 1919 married Ethel R. Mills, daughter of W. A. Mills of Halifax.

He is survived by his widow and five sisters. He had no children.

Senator Robinson's death leaves 64 Liberals in the Senate. There are 15 Progressive Conservatives in the Upper House and 17 vacancies.

Aussie Intervention Said Not Anti-Dutch

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 20 — (CP) — Australia's intervention in the Netherlands-Indonesian dispute, and the action of the United Nations Security Council, were not directed against Dutch interests, Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian External Affairs Minister and president of the UN general assembly said today.

Returning from the assembly sessions in Paris, he said the important conference on the Indonesian question, which opened today in New Delhi, will serve to emphasize the deep concern felt in many countries at the recent outbreak of fighting between Dutch and Indonesian forces and the failure of the Netherlands to carry out the Security Council's cease-fire directions.

"Our one object (in intervening) was to assist in a freely-negotiated settlement on United Nations principles to the advantage of the Netherlands as well as to all the peoples of Indonesia," he said. "The unjustified use of force in such circumstances may well imperil European interests and prestige throughout the whole area."

Needs $850 Minute To Soothe Hangover

Abbott Will Ask For More Than 400 Million On National Debt

OTTAWA, Jan. 20 (CP)—Without batting an eye, an urbane gentleman from Montreal will shortly inform the Canadian people he'll be needing between $750 and $850 a minute in the next fiscal year to soothe their largest hangover.

Finance Minister Abbott, in all, will ask for something beyond $400,000,000 to pay the interest on the national debt, a mathematical monstrosity with a split personality. It lives on thousands of sheets of paper, consumes money in million-dollar bundles and spits it back, haunts every tax deduction from every cheque.

The sum he asks will be roughly 20 per cent of his entire budget and the equivalent of an entire average pre-war budget, but the minister will make no pretence that this will end the hangover.

No civilized nation, in fact, would think of trying to hold its head up in the world without one, as any happy citizen from Siam to Saskatchewan is aware.

Of Good Proportions

As national debts go, Canada's is of commendable proportions, a gross federal liability of $17,200,000,000 largely made up of the unpaid bills of two wars and a depression. That sum is roughly six times all the money the federal treasury will take in this year.

Its lineage goes back to a piddling 1914 total of $344,000,000. In March, 1946, it was a record $18,960,000,000. It has gone down $1,700,000,000 since then and debt reduction knocked another $6,000,000 off interest payments in the first nine months of this fiscal year.

If there is one thing the finance department experts are proud of it is this: Canadians owe nearly all this liability to themselves. This, for one thing, means a great saving in foreign exchange.

It also does screwball things such as this: A man who bought, say, a $1,000 war bond at three per cent gets $30 a year interest, he's supposed to add that $30 to his income and pay taxes on it. Then there's no way of knowing just how much of the rest of it is eaten up by the high income tax he has to pay so he can pay interest to himself and others to whom the national debt is owed.

The experts say you shouldn't try too strenuously to figure all this out. It only makes the hangover worse.

Picket Lines Strengthened Some Jostling

25 Provincial Police Come From Brantford To Maintain Order

PARIS, Ont., Jan. 20 (CP) — Seven men were arrested today in connection with the strike at Penman's Mills, Limited. Only one was a striking employee of the company. The others work on other jobs.

Provincial police arrested four after scuffling on the picket line at the plant where the United Textile Workers of America (AFL) called a walkout Monday over demands for wage increases and Union recognition.

Town police arrested three others whom they accused of painting the word "scab" on the house of a man who is staying at work.

Twenty-five Ontario Provincial Police came to this town seven miles from Brantford to help maintain order in the strike. The town council last night ratified Mayor William England's action in calling for police help while strikers staged a protest demonstration.

Strengthen Picket Line

Picket lines at the Woollen Mills were strengthened today and onlookers said pushing and shoving incidents were more numerous than before.

Staff Inspector C. F. Creasy said charges "definitely" will be laid against the four men arrested on the picket line: Arthur Pike, son-in-law of Mayor England, Ted Wilson, Lawrence Bell and Victory Creedon. Police Chief Tom Bean said the other three—Lloyd Graham, a beverage room waiter, William Horsfall, employee of another firm, and Harold Mann—would be charged with malicious damage to property.

At 6.30 a.m. about 150 strikers and others were around the plant gates where 12 provincial police constables were on duty.

Pushing at Gates

There was pushing around the gates. Inspector Creasy made the first arrest when he grabbed Pike. He said later Pike "gave the shoulder" to an officer.

Onlookers said some of the non-strikers going to work had a rough time in the jostling group.

W. E. Stewart, International organizer, and Val Bjaranson, Ontario director of the Union, charged that the seven men arrested were held in a cell six by eight feet and without sanitary facilities. Stewart said he planned a formal protest against their treatment.

The strikers are seeking a general wage increase of 15 cents an hour, along with recognition of the union as bargaining agent.

The plant employs more than 600 employees and there have been conflicting claims from union and management as to the number still working.

Cabinet Resigns

RANGOON, Jan. 20 (Reuters). —Burma's Prime Minister, Thakin Nu, has tendered his Cabinet's resignation to the President, it was officially announced today.

Warehouses Razed

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 20 (CP).—A $100,000 fire has left this Muskoka district resort town without telephone connections and has wiped out two major warehouses. The blaze originated last night in the Huntsville Trading Company warehouse and spread to the George W. Ecclestone Company warehouse. Both were destroyed. Firemen say the entire northern main street business section would have been gutted if there had been a wind.

Peiping, Reds In Agreement On Peace Terms

NANKING, Jan. 20 — (AP).—The weight of the Kuomintang to-night was thrown behind the Cabinet's peace efforts, while in North China a separate peace deal was in the making.

A member of the powerful government party's central political council said its membership approved at a hectic meeting today the executive Yuan's efforts to arrange a truce in the Chinese Civil War.

The powerful Party Council has no governmental powers, but no important steps are taken without its approval. The Council member said the executive Yuan was instructed to effect an armistice with the triumphant Reds.

The Communists were silent. So was President Chiang Kai-Shek, whose approval is needed before any truce can be effected unless he steps down or is ousted.

From Peiping, Spencer Moosa, Associated Press correspondent, got through a dispatch saying terms agreeable in principle to both sides had been reached there. A member of a peace delegation to the Communists said th terms call for the surrender of Peiping and all North China.

Under the Peiping terms, said Moosa's source, Peiping and Kweisui in Suiyuan Province, would be handed over to the Reds. The Nationalist commanded in the north, Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, would step down and be removed from the Communist "war criminals" list.

The government prepared, meanwhile, to shift at least some of its ministries to Canton tomorrow.

The Foreign Office and some other ministries will move southward. Some of them will go to Canton, although other ministries are being scattered to different cities.

Ambassador Keeps Informed On China

OTTAWA, Jan. 20 — (CP) — Canada's ambassador to China, T. C. Davis, is keeping the government constantly informed of the situation in and about the capital city of Nanking and no decision has been reached on possible removal of the embassy mission.

This was disclosed today by a high government source who said it was possible the Canadian and other diplomatic missions in Nanking would remain even if Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek moved his capital to Canton.

It is expected that most of the diplomatic missions in Nanking, particularly Canada, the United States and United Kingdom, will act together if the capital falls to the Communist forces surging from the north.

Communism And War Denounced By Truman In Fiery Inaugural Speech

Promises To Draw Deeply On US Resources To Help Free Peoples Everywhere; Pledges To Do His Best For The Nation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20—(CP).—President Truman today pledged a world-wide crusade for "peace, plenty and freedom" in a blistering inaugural speech denouncing the "false philosophy" of Communism and war. The President keyed his address to the quickening struggle between the Democratic West and the Communist East. While he cautioned that the material resources of the United States are limited, Truman promised to draw deeply on the "inexhaustible" resources of the country's technical know-how to keep free peoples everywhere.

Communism "holds that war is inevitable," Truman told a crowd of thousands immediately after taking his oath of office for a four-year term. And even now, he said, it is endangering attempts to keep world peace.

Vowing humbly and solemnly to do his level best as President of the United States, he said: "I accept with humility . . ."

Those were the first words of the 64-year-old Missourian after taking oath of office which makes him, for the next four years, one of the world's most important men.

Accept With Humility

As hundreds of thousands of his proud countrymen watched—and the whole world listened—Harry Truman said quietly:

"I accept with humility the honor which the American people have conferred upon me. I accept it with a deep resolve to do all that I can for the welfare of this nation and for the peace of the world."

He made no pretence about being able to do the job alone.

"I need the help and prayers of every one of you. I ask for your encouragement and your support. The tasks we face are difficult and we can accomplish them only if we work together."

The oath of office—the same sweeping pledge made by his predecessors over the last 160 years—is just 35 words long:

"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the constitution of the United States."

Graham Folk Shiver At 52 Below Zero

NORTH BAY, Jan. 20—(CP)—The little community of Graham, half way between Sioux Lookout and Fort William, was the shudder spot of Ontario today after temperatures fell to 52 degrees below zero at 7.30 o'clock this morning. Traditionally-cold White River was second in line with thermometers standing at 40 below.

Other frigid northern communities included Armstrong, 36 below; Cochrane 34 below; Swastika, 32 below; Kapuskasing, Iroquois Falls and Fraserdale all 30 below. The temperature at the North Bay airport at 7.30 this morning was 12 below zero.

Child Returned By Kidnapper, Police Puzzled

MONTREAL, Jan. 20—(CP).—Tiny Armand Bouchard was sleeping snugly in his crib today, returned there by his alleged "kidnapper," an unidentified woman who snatched the six-month-old baby from his home yesterday and kept him for seven hours.

Police were at a loss to explain the strange case.

Police said the woman and the child's mother, Mrs. Thadee Bouchard, will be questioned again today and an attempt made to learn the true facts. Meanwhile, they managed to piece together these details from many conflicting stories.

Mrs. Bouchard, mother of five children, said a woman had come to her home and asked for a baby to adopt: Mrs. Bouchard told the woman she had had one Tuesday but it was now in the hands of a neighbor. The woman went into a bedroom, and seeing Armand in the crib said: "What a beautiful baby: I'll take it."

She dressed the child and walked out of the house with Armand. After the woman had disappeared out of sight down the street carrying the baby, Mrs. Bouchard said she suddenly realized Armand had been taken from her, and summoned police.

During the night police learned that the baby was in Mackayville, a residential village across the St. Lawrence River from Montreal. Detectives found the woman had left to take the child back to his home. The trail was followed back to the Bouchards' Dorchester St. residence, where woman and baby were found.

Taken to headquarters, the woman claimed she had arranged with Mrs. Bouchard to adopt the child. The mother stuck to her previous story.

Lumber Yard Fire Under Control

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 20 — (CP)—After threatening gasoline storage tanks and doing heavy damage to a shed of dressed lumber, a fire of undetermined origin was brought under control here today.

Firemen remained on the alert around Charles W. Gooden and Son's lumber yard, scene of the blaze, to guard against another outbreak.

For a time Myers' elevator and flour storage was threatened as well as nearby British-American and Imperial Oil storage tanks.

Try To Get Joe Louis For Tour Of Canada

TORONTO, Jan. 20 — (CP) — Jack (Deacon) Allen, Toronto fight promoter, today confirmed a Rochester, Minn., report he is trying to sign heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis for a five-month coast-to-coast exhibition tour of Canada.

Allen, who represents a syndicate of Toronto and Montreal sportsmen, said Louis had been offered $250,000 for the cross-country jaunt.

A stumbling block was an attempt in New York to have Louis defend his heavyweight crown in mid-summer at a date which would conflict with the proposed tour.

PRIME MINISTER ST. LAURENT announced a three-way shuffle in the diplomatic service. Dana Wilgress (left) Canadian Minister to Switzerland will become High Commissioner to London; Norman Robertson (centre) High Commissioner to London, will become Clerk of the Privy Council, and Arnold Heeney (right) at present clerk of the Privy Council, has been made Under Secretary of State for External Affairs.

Israel Given 100 Million In U.S. Loan

35 Million To Buy Farm Equipment; Britain May Change

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20—(AP)—Full American diplomatic recognition of Israel appears certain, probably next week, as a follow-up to a $100,000,000 loan to the new Jewish state.

The United States Government took a big step toward this objective yesterday by granting the loan to the Provisional Israeli Government—$35,000,000 immediately and $65,000,000 more during the year.

Government officials told a reporter that barring an election upset the State Department will extend full diplomatic recognition to Israel shortly after the Jan. 25 elections.

The present Conservative Socialist Party headed by David Ben Gurion is heavily favored to win a majority of the 120 seats in the Israeli Parliament. Government officials said his chances for victory undoubtedly have increased since the loan was announced.

To Help Farmers

The $35,000,000 is to be used immediately to buy tractors and other equipment needed to step up the output of Israel farms. This increased food yield is required to feed the growing number of immigrants.

The remaining $65,000,000 will be given the Israelis after they submit specific projects calling for American financing. The whole amount carries a 3 1-2 per cent interest rate; it is repayable in 15 years.

The American credits to Israel, coming in the midst of truce negotiations between Jews and Arabs, made a change in British policy toward Israel more likely but not certain.

Government officials shied away from predicting Britain's eventual course, except to repeat State Undersecretary Lovett's statement that both Britain and the United States are trying to achieve the same objective in the Middle East—economic and social stability, plus security.

still be outstanding under Clause 2 (B) (the "have regard" clause) of the agreement.

"The extent to which any such obligations will remain will depend largely upon the actual prices ruling for wheat during 1949-50."

The government's political foes have charged that Canadian wheat producers have lost millions of dollars through the sale of wheat at cheap prices at a time when world prices, as established by the open market at Chicago, were at inflation levels.

The current Chicago price is around $2.25 a bushel, still about 25 cents above the contract rate.

Investigate Charge Against 2 Detectives

TORONTO, Jan. 20—(CP)—Toronto's Board of Police Commissioners will investigate charges by a taxi driver that two detectives accused him of theft and threatened loss of his licence during their investigation of a lost purse found in his cab Monday, police said Wednesday.

Ted Davis, the cab driver, said he found the purse in the back seat after he had delivered Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hurd of Toronto from the Union Station to their residence. He said he reported the loss to his employer, handed over the purse and its contents and later was questioned by two policemen.

Davis said he was subjected to a "humiliating search" in full view of a number of female bank employees near his taxi stand. Earlier he said the policemen had accused him of theft of some money found missing from the purse and threatened loss of his licence.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurd said they were returning from a honeymoon trip to Manitoba and had in the purse about $500 in cash, given them by friends and relatives as wedding presents. When the purse, missing following their taxi ride, was returned it contained only $286.01, they said.

Police officials denied Davis' charges.

Says Depreciation Allowance Rational

OTTAWA, Jan. 20 — (CP). — Scrutiny of the Canadian Pacific Railway's finances continued today in its case for higher freight rates.

S. J. W. Liddy, assistant comptroller of the company, remained under cross-examination by provincial counsel on aspects of the company's expenditures.

At yesterday's session, Mr. Liddy was examined closely on his company's depreciation allowances and on its forecast spending for this year.

He told Manitoba counsel Wilson E. McLean he is satisfied the company's depreciation allowances—amounts taken from annual revenue to provide a reserve for replacements—are on a "rational and reasonable basis."

Maj. Loran Baker, 43, M.C., member for the Nova Scotia riding of Yarmouth - Shelburne - Clare, and Joseph Blanchette, 56, member for the Quebec riding of Compton, become parliamentary assistants to Defence Minister Claxton.

Mr. Mills' appointment fits into a developing procurement-for-defence patern. Only recently the trade department named S. D. Pierce, ambassador to Washington, as the man to take charge, an associate deputy, of its defence procurement activities, including stockpiling and discussions with the U.S.

Parliament Opening

Mr. St. Laurent dealt briefly with plans for the session of parliament opening next Wednesday, Jan. 26, and said the Speech from the Throne will be moved by Don Brown, member for Essex West, and seconded by Leopold Demers, the newly-elected member for Laval-Two Mountains.

The first two weeks of the session will be spent on legislation to give statutory force to the union of Newfoundland and Canada.

The Prime Minister could not indicate whether the Dominion would appeal the Supreme Court judgment dealing with the prohibition on the sale and manufacture of margarine.

However, parliament would be asked to approve the St. Lawrence seaway agreement if and when it was approved by the United States Congress. Canada still favored a system of tolls to defray the cost of the development, provided they were not so high as to defeat the objective of cheap transportation.

Supreme Moment

This was Harry Truman's day—and his supreme moment. But he made it a challenge to the entire freedom-loving world.

While the President nowhere named Russia outright in his scathing attack on Communism, his words apparently ended any possibility of quick and easy compromise between the Soviet Union and the west.

The United States and other non-Communist countries, he declared, have been balked in their work for "a just and lasting peace" by "a regime with contrary aims and a totally different concept of life."

The initiative "is ours." The United States program for peace and freedom would emphasize "four major courses of action":

1. Unfaltering support of the United Nations.

2. Continuation of programs for world economic recovery.

3. Strengthening of the free countries of the world against the danger of aggression.

4. A program to make the benefits of United States scientific advances and industrial progress available in the world's underdeveloped areas.

Working on Pact

Of the program to link democratic strength to combat Communism, Truman said:

"We now are working out with a number of countries a joint agreement designed to strengthen the security of the North Atlantic area. Such an agreement would take the form of a collective defence arrangement within the terms of the United Nations charter.

"The primary purpose of these agreements is to provide unmistakable proof of the joint determination of the free countries to resist armed attack from any quarter.

"If we can make it sufficiently clear, in advance, that any armed attack affecting our national security would be met with overwhelming force, the armed attack might never occur."

This four-point program was the basis of hope for creation of "the conditions that will lead eventually to personal freedom and happiness for all mankind."

Weaving Security

"Slowly but surely," he said, "we are weaving a world fabric of international security and growing prosperity... our allies are the millions who hunger and thirst after righteousness.

"In due time, as our stability becomes manifest, as more and more nations come to know the benefits of democracy and to participate in growing abundance, I believe that those countries which now oppose us will abandon their delusions and join with the free nations of the world in a just settlement of international differences."

Hundreds of thousands of his countrymen, the big people and the little, were on hand to crowd the Capital's gaily-decked streets give him a "Hi, Harry," pay him honor and wish him well.

Yet beneath all the gaiety and excitement— the most Washington has stirred up in many a year—there was an undertone of solemnity, and dignity.

Peace was the theme everybody expected in advance in Mr. Truman's inaugural address. That—and a "fair deal" at home.

He repeated it Wednesday night at a dinner given him by the electoral college, an ancient institution he says he wants to preserve unchanged.

He said the November election convinced him people were interested in continuing a forward-looking program for the United States and the world. His prime interest, he said, is that "our children and grandchildren" never fight another war.

Special Platform

A white frame platform with towering columns, built across the front steps of the Capitol building, was the setting for the inaugural ceremony at noon EST.

After that, the inaugural parade—2 1-2 hours of it with Truman himself leading the procession triumphantly down to the White House.

Four years ago there was an inch of snow and slush on the ground when Truman took the Vice-Presidential oath and Franklin D. Roosevelt was sworn in for his fourth term as President.

Three months later, Roosevelt died. Truman took on what he said was "an almost unbearable burden." Now at 64 his doctor says he's "fit."

Today he is a more self-confident, the choice of the people for a full term in his own right, a man with a trace of stubborness and a large order of loyalty and sentiment.

County Reports Deficit, Has Bought New Grader

Peterborough County had a current deficit of $7,924 on Dec. 31, 1948, the County Clerk and Treasurer, Mrs. J. Spurway, reported to the County Council an Wednesday.

All of this deficit was incurred on roads, Mrs. Spurway explained, and was directly due to the purchase of a grader delivered shortly before the end of the year.

It was announced that approximately 1,650 yards of the Chemong Causeway had been completed for an expenditure of $22,209.45 by the County. Total estimated cost to the County was $26,662.32, but Mrs. Spurway said that $10,000 would be received from the city of Peterborough when the project was completed.

One day— each week,

The Boy who delivers your Examiner calls to collect

He has so many customers he can't afford to give credit for he must pay for his papers on fixed dates and counts on his collections to make his payments. Your courteous carrier boy assumes a financial burden he cannot afford to carry when you ask him to wait for his money. He collects on the same day each week — you know which day — and when he has to "call again" to collect from you, delivery of his whole route is delayed on several days. Have the money ready for the boy the day he collects—the correct change, if convenient. Help him to meet his financial obligations promptly, and to make delivery on time every day.

50 In Deputation Demand County Road Be Improved

COBOURG, Jan. 20 (ENS).—Deputation of approximately 50 Hamilton township residents attended Wednesday's session of Northumberland and Durham Counties Council to ask for improvements to No. 18 County Road running north from Cobourg to Harwood.

The deputation was headed by Major Earl Drope, MP for Harwood, and asked for a hard surface on the part of the road serving the three villages to the north with oil surface south towards Cobourg. They also asked for elimination of the dangerous curve at Wallace's Boat Works and requested that the snowplow be located at Harwood instead of at the other end of the road. Council referred the matter to the Road and Bridge Committee.

Harry Carter, operator of a bus service which runs through Harwood and Gore's Landing, said that a considerable amount of American tourist dollars was going into Prince Edward county where the roads were good. He said the snowplow should be located at Harwood so that the people there could get into Cobourg and also it would make it better for the school bus. Sand should be liberally applied not only to safeguard the children in the school bus but also for the safety of passengers in other vehicles.

Lyle Wallace of Gore's Landing told the council that the dangerous curve where he lived was a traffic hazard and had been the scene of serious accidents in the past. "Cars just zip around the curve," he said. He was willing to exchange some of his land for the purpose of straightening out the curve, for some of the land on the other side.

Traffic census had shown that more people travelled that county road than Highway No. 45, he said. Much of the business done at Rice Lake was in connection with tourist trade but road conditions there were a drawback.

"We come here as humble ratepayers, not to criticize the work done on the road, but to ask that the money be spent along lines which would produce more effective results," said Charles Burrison of Harwood. "We want the snowplow left at Harwood so that it would open the road at our end in the morning. When it starts from the other end, our road is not open until four in the afternoon."

"We would also like some hard surface on the road. It is a rich area there but our business is suffering from the road conditions," Mr. Burrison declared.

The Rev. A. E. Larke of Gore's Landing also spoke in support of the deputation's request.

Ontario County Council's recommendation that councillors receive 7½ cents a mile each way, or else an allowance of $2.50 extra when an overnight stay was necessary was referred to Legislative - and - By-Laws committee. A resolution from the same county which asked for increase in the wolf bounties to $25 a pelt, was also referred to the Legislative-and-By-Laws committee.

Grey County had recommended that the Ontario Department of Welfare increase its grants to construction or additions to county homes for the aged from 25 to 50 per cent.

Simcoe County recommended that the cost of hospitalization for indigents be carried entirely by the provincial government.

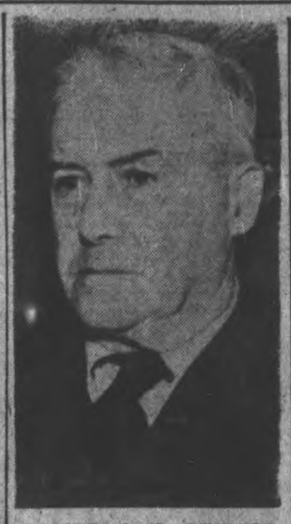
Kent County asked that financing of county health units be on a per capita basis rather than an equalized assessment. Waterloo County sought to have the Children's Protection Act amended so as to change the word "municipality" to "local municipality."

A resolution from Ontario County recommended that the Election Act be amended so that wardens can be elected by secret, rather than open ballot. A further resolution from that county council sought an amendment to the Election Act to provide a vote for inmates of counties homes.

Requests for township roads to be taken into the counties road system were received from Percy and Hamilton Townships. Clarke Township also sought 3½ miles of connecting links to county roads. Five applications for the two vacant posts of corn-borer inspectors were received and tabled. A letter from the Ontario Dept. of Highways advised approval of county road bylaws affecting 1.7 miles in Haldimand and 6 miles in Percy townships.

A report from the road superintendent, Jack Jordan, stated that there were now 286 miles of counties roads in the counties of which 30 miles were paved, 21 were oil-surfaced and 226 miles were gravel. He also enumerated the items of equipment and the number of personnel. Due to weather conditions this winter, more sanding had been done than in any previous winter season. There was a need for more garage space as it was not possible to get enough of the equipment in the present building at one time to keep up to date on repairs.

Speaking of pavements, the road superintendent declared that road construction should be done with an eye to withstanding heavier and greater traffic in the years to come. The best pavement was only as good as its base, he said. He pointed out that wages for road superintendents were much higher in other counties, where the area was considerably smaller than Northumberland and Durham.



REEVE A. J. RUNNALS, Hope township is the new warden of the United Counties of Durham and Northumberland. He defeated Reeve E. R. Woodyard, Clarke township, 23 to 20.

St. Paul's Church Reports Successful Year's Work

The most successful year in the history of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church was recorded at the annual congregational meeting on Wednesday evening. All forms of Christian endeavour in the congregation reported progress, allocations met and in some instances tripled.

Chalmers presented the financial statement which also reviewed the progress being made on renovation of the church. The congregation was told that to date $34,749.91 had been spent with a bank overdraft of $1,832. Increased givings during the year accounted for a current fund surplus of more than $4,000.

Givings to missions was the highest in many years.

Elected to the Board of Managers were: J. E. Watters, Earl Powers, Tom McMillan, Jr. Stewart Lockington, Ruben Wilson, Frank Montgomery and Robert Cochrane.

Steps Off Aurora Bus Man Struck By Car

AURORA, Jan. 20—William A. Youdell, 57, of Langstaff, was seriously injured by a passing car as he stepped off a bus Wednesday.

One of three men who got off the bus at Stop 20 on No. 11 Highway, Youdell failed to heed the cry of the man ahead of him. The first man crossed the road, noticed a car approaching from the opposite direction and called to Youdell, who kept right on coming.

Driver of the car, William Vennard, 21, of RR 1, Richmond Hill, tried to avoid hitting Youdell by swerving away, but the front fender struck the pedestrian.

Youdell suffered concussion, a possible fracture to the right leg and extensive cuts about the face and head. Witnesses said he was thrown over 10 feet. He was treated by a doctor on the spot and taken home.

Provincial Constable Charles J. Case, who investigated the accident, said there would be no charges.

Firm Bids In Municipal Building

We think that the City Council is wise in its decision to ask for firm bids on the building of the Nurses' Residence of the new Civic Hospital. Such an arrangement makes chopping and changing impossible once the work has begun, and removes any possibility that another appeal for money might have to be made to the taxpayers. When a building is in progress there is always a tendency for expensive second thoughts to be incorporated into it, if there is no firm check on expenditure. It is significant that the firm of builders who have done all the work so far on the new hospital are strongly in favour of the firm bid policy respecting the Nurses' Residence. Let us by all means know what it will cost to build this part of the Hospital before work is begun, and then let us stick to the original plan.

* * *

In this connection it may be suggested that the City Council ask for firm bids when the time comes to build the new City Hall. We are glad that discussions on this subject are progressing so well, and that careful consideration is being given to housing all the city departments and services in a single building. We feel that the Council is wise, also, in its decision not to build a grandiose City Hall, but to concentrate on a really fine building of moderate size, to which additions can be made. The choice of Marani and Morris as architects should ensure a good design for the building; Peterborough is virtually without architectural beauties, and it costs no more to build a beautiful City Hall than an ugly one.

* * *

In considering plans for the City Hall, there is one point which we hope will not be forgotten, and that is the city's need for an adequate auditorium. In the first year of Mayor Ovens' mayoralty a large deputation representing all the clubs and societies in the city which could possibly make use of an auditorium waited upon the Council, and presented a brief which contained concrete proposals for such a room. It was not a fluffy plea for an auditorium of any sort, but a series of suggestions about the seating capacity, platform space, facilities for audiences and artists and general shape of the auditorium which was intended to be of assistance to the architects of the new City Hall. Many hours of work went into the preparation of the brief, and it was not presented merely in order to give its framers some exercise in public speaking. The document is on file at the city buildings, and we think that the time has come for the Council to look at it again.

Strikes And Schoolteachers

We do not agree with the opinion which has been expressed by Premier Duplessis of Quebec and by some newspapers that a strike of schoolteachers is an iniquitous thing, or that teachers set a bad example to their pupils by striking. Teachers set a far worse example to their pupils when they accept bad wages, bad working conditions, and a standard of living which is below the dignity of their calling.

In this connection also we call attention to the demand of the men teachers in Toronto for a salary increase, based upon the fact that they are expected to do a considerable amount of supervision of sports after school hours. Referring to this the chairman of the board of education in Toronto has said that "the dollar sign was replacing sportsmanship with the teachers". We cannot agree. Supervising games is not easy work, and it cannot be pretended that any man who becomes a teacher necessarily likes it. If the supervision of games were a voluntary matter, the case would be different.

The status of schoolteachers is a peculiar one. Their work is considered a vocation, and with many of them this is truly the case. Like clergymen, they are expected to do a great deal of work outside their specified duties, and they are expected to show to their pupils, by personal example, the benefits of superior education. But they cannot be expected to do this if they are not paid well, and it appears that in Quebec their pay is poor. Certainly we feel that they would be setting a poor example to their pupils if they cravenly accepted poor pay, and if they permitted a learned profession to be dragged in the dirt. A strike is never a pretty thing, but it is better to strike than to suffer degradation. The shame is not that schoolteachers have struck, but that they have felt themselves forced to take such a drastic step.

Is The Marriage Questionnaire Unjustified?

Several groups of clergymen are protesting against the questionnaire which the Ontario Government now requires them to fill up before they perform a marriage; the Ottawa Presbyterian Churches are the latest to express themselves in this way. "We should not put ourselves in the position of being unpaid civil servants of any government", say these gentlemen. Perhaps so, but we do not think that they will get much sympathy from business men on that score. All businesses are now required to provide governments with information which often takes many hours of work to compile every week; large firms have to have special employees for such work and nothing else.

We do not think that the clergy are asked to do anything unreasonable in completing such a questionnaire. We have filled one, as a test, and find that it takes about ten minutes. None of the questions are difficult, and the only one which might prove bothersome is that which asks the racial origin of the parties to the marriage. We have heard, from clergymen, of people who do not know what their mother's maiden name was, but we think that such people must be a small minority. Nor is the clergyman compelled to declare that the information is correct—only that "to the best of my knowledge and belief the particulars in this statement are true and correct".

If clergymen find this form onerous, they must realize that they have a monopoly of the performance of marriages in Ontario. Some of them regret this, as it compells them to bless many marriages which they would rather not have laid at their door. But the remedy is to establish civil marriage, performed by civil servants, who are accustomed to completing forms. Then clergy who object to such work will be able to escape it.

Picketing A Church

A church in London was picketed recently. The picketing was not of the kind which might be expected—a parson picketing his parishioners for better pay, parishioners picketing him for shorter sermons, music lovers protesting against the poor quality of the music inside, members of a musicians' union on the war-path because a tenor soloist was singing for the love of God and not for standard rate of pay, atheists making a demonstration against religious observances, or English Mohammedans protesting against the spread of Christianity among Londoners. No, there was another cause of the picketing. The vicar of St. Paul's Church at Harringay, London, had distributed free circus tickets to poor children of the parish. On the next Sunday, members of the Performing Animals Defence League appeared as pickets at the church door and handed out pamphlets alleging that circus animals are cruelly treated to make them perform.

The picketing was peaceful, so we shall not moralize on its virtues, but rather praise a country which has societies of such kinds whose members will carry their devotion to animals to a church door picket. It interests us that the free tickets given the children were for a "dress rehearsal" of the circus. That presumably was the performance when the elephants' make-up was tested under the stage lights, and children, admitted free, would not be too critical should the walrus' rouge and tigers' stripes not be up to scratch.

Canadians' Pay

Workers in Canadian factories are now making an average of 95½ cents an hour or $41.16 a week. (The figures are for November 1st last). That is the highest ever reached. It is well to remember that although the cost of living has risen greatly, wages have risen, and generally more than the cost of living. Taking the $41.16 a week pay as a basis, the average annual pay is in the neighbourhood of $2,100. In 1942 it was $1,383; in 1939 $975; in 1933 $777. The cost of living has risen nearly 60 per cent. since 1939. The average annual pay for workers in manufacturing industry has risen, if we take the $41.16 weekly average throughout the industry as an average throughout the year, by 115 per cent. Judging from those figures alone, it would not seem that the average factory worker is badly paid.

From The Critic's Notebook

A FEW days ago a man invited me to visit him; "I'll show you the best library of twenty-five cent books in Canada", said he. I shall certainly go to see that library; anyone interested in books would want to see it. There was a day, before the First Great War, when advocates of popular education and self-help could talk confidently of a shelf of cheap reprints of the classics as the finest university that any man could want. But with the passing of time and the rise in the costs of publishing, the once cheap reprints have become dearer and dearer, and readers of modest income have suffered. But there have been experiments in cheap publishing, too, and some of them are extremely interesting.

* * *

THE most successful of all such schemes is the Penguin series, which includes books on a wide variety of subjects, written by authors of established reputation, as well as a remarkable selection of first-rate modern fiction. The Penguin books used to sell in England for sixpence. I do not know what they cost in the land of their origin now, but in Canada they cost thirty-five cents. Unfortunately, owing to export difficulties, they are not so common here as one could wish. In the U.S.A. a somewhat similar experiment was made by the publishers of Pocket Books, but with much less gratifying results. A few classics were published in this series, but no first-rate modern books; the fiction is predominantly of the "whodunit" variety. The serious reader finds little in this series to attract him.

* * *

IN England another series on the Penguin model, though not so successful, is the Pan Books, in which there are a number of interesting titles—reprints of good modern novels, books of science, collections of plays, and so forth. They are better printed than the Penguins, and they have attractively coloured covers, but the keen reader will not find that they replace the older series of cheap books. It is a curious fact that many publishers of cheap books seem unable to get rid of the idea that they are appealing to cheap people, which is far from being the case.

* * *

THERE are considerable numbers of readers—though not so many as there should be—who like to own their own books, but who cannot afford the high prices which books now fetch. A novel today costs between $2.50 and $3.75; for some reason which we do not understand "non-fiction" books cost more, and very frequently run as high as $6.00. At that price the reader with an ordinary pocket cannot buy many books. It is the readers with the ordinary pockets who turn to the cheap reprints for fiction, history, science, poetry, drama, philosophy and all the delights of literature, classic and contemporary. Except in the Penguins and the Pan books, he finds little to satisfy him. His desire to own his own books—to accumulate a modest library—is a fine one, and deserves more consideration than it receives.

* * *

A VENTURE in Canadian publishing which commands respect is the work of the Reprint Society of Canada. Their books sell for $1.50 each, which is very reasonable, considering that the books are well printed and durably bound. The reader who wants to form a collection of good contemporary literature would do well to investigate this book-club, which appears to us to be on the right track, and which is certainly filling a serious gap in Canadian cultural life.

* * *

WHILE writing of inexpensively produced Canadian books I must call attention once again to the series of Hazen lectures called "The Function of the University", by R. S. K. Seeley, the Provost of Trinity College, Toronto (Oxford Press). It is an eloquent plea for education as it is understood by humanists, rather than technicians; "spaciousness of thought, as well as practicality" is what Provost Seeley requires as a result of university training, and who is there in our modern world where techniques seem to have outstripped responsibility, who can gainsay him? The book is not an essay in hopelessness, as are so many of the pronouncements of modern educators, and when the writers says that "We may live to see the day when the Universities of our land are fully committed to the task of the education of the whole man to the glory of God and the fulfillment of human personality" we feel ourselves greatly cheered and heartened. This small and inexpensive book is one of the best things to appear in Canada in a long time.

Baths of Glory

Ottawa Citizen: Owners of the Hotel Vancouver perhaps take too much for granted when they breathlessly announce the sale of bathtubs in which Bernhardt and Pavlova once relaxed. They could readily prove that the great artists once stayed at the hotel. But could they as easily prove that they bathed here? What documents can they produce in evidence? What eyewitnesses? What details of the bathing habits of their eminent guests can they report? Did they sing? Did they use salts, or bubbles? And—intriguing thought—was it champagne or milk that caressed what were the fairest limbs of the day?

But even if the hotel officials could answer these questions to the public satisfaction there remains some doubt whether the past glories of the bathtubs in question would very much enhance their value. In France, or California, perhaps. But in Canada, probably not. Few Canadians are seriously distressed at bathing in tubs which Pavlova never graced.

It is perfectly natural for those of us whose road leads, not to the stars, but to the 5.10 bus for a home in the suburbs, to wish now and again to walk in the footsteps of the world's distinguished personalities. In Rome, Paris and London, we gape at the houses wherein they lived and worked. We visit their graves in hushed awe. But surely it is sentiment reduced to bathos to wish to splash in the same tubs wherein they soaped themselves. It is doubtful, indeed, whether the Hotel Vancouver has selected the most promising method of selling its tubs.

Letters To The Editor

MORE ABOUT METHUSELAH

Sir: S.B. writes for information regarding the age of Methuselah. I said in an article written for the 'Examiner' with reference to a proposed Reformed Calendar that Methuselah lived to be 79 years old according to our reckoning, because in his day years were measured by the waxing and waning of the moon. My authority (if there can be any authority with regard to such a dim and distant past) came from an article written by Mary Porter Russell in the Journal of Calendar Reform. We can understand that when man began to reckon time he would use the moon first which was more easily studied than the sun or stars.

With regard to Adam, to whom S.B. refers, the Bible narrative says he lived to be 930 years old. If we follow the moon count, that would mean he died at the age of 75.

As to his being too young at the age of 130 moon-years to beget a son, it might help to remember that in the East the young mature very quickly. If this still seems unlikely, there is another solution to fall back on, the compiler of the Book Genesis, to be consistent with the story that Adam was created a mature man, would not count his moon years from infancy.

All this may seem rather fantastic, but I think the solution that the year was first reckoned by the moon is generally conceded and certainly it explains a great deal with regard to early Biblical characters.

NEW NAME FOR MARGARINE?

Sir: Are Canadians copy-cats? We are getting tired of all this bally-hoo about oleomargarine and freedom. No one is completely free. What hurts one, boomerangs against the other. All this free looting could become a juggernaut.

Why not use our initiative? If we need a spread for bread invent a new name, a new colour. A rose by any other name would smell as sweet. How about 'Oh my', O as in oleo, M as in margarine. And colour? Surely toast is an appetizing sound, or nut brown, tawny yellow, butternut, hazelnut, etc., etc. Put up in jars, cartons or tins, round or square, like peanut butter, but firm and spreadable, fortified by vitamins. It would be a boon of old and young, of city and country. For it would be as welcome to the country, they too buy their butter—the churn has gone the way of the old spinning-wheel.

But if it is cheap, that will be a surprise, we have never found anything very cheap that the city manufacturers; its business ability prevents. And quit fussing about our income tax, since we sell at lowest prices and buy at highest, there is none. If we could buy wholesale it might be different, our co-operatives are supposed to help, but that is an illusion.

MORE ABOUT UNION RIVALRY

Sir: I would appreciate space in your press to answer a letter on Local Union Rivalry and signed Impartial Labour Man.

First I would like to tell the citizens of Peterborough, I am not impartial. I am in full support of the UE-CIO.

Secondly, I and many of my fellow workers resent any letter written so obviously biased by some one who has not the courage of his conviction to sign his name and on the contrary insult our intelligence by claiming to be impartial when every sentence of his letter is an attack on our Union and praising the Union he is helping to do raiding in Peterborough.

The attack on our Canadian President is typical of what the so-called impartial man represents.

To keep the record straight, our Canadian President C. S. Jackson was held for six months in an internment camp, but was found innocent and released. A few months ago, Bro. Jackson made oath that he was not a member of the Communist Party, but that did not eliminate the fact he was persecuted during the war years by improper arrest nor does it stop people who are jealous of Jackson's fine record as a Labour Leader from spreading false propaganda.

Our Union has always adopted a policy on united political action. Our Constitution provides that our members can join any political party. The fundamental reason that we get in trouble with the CCL men like Millard and his friends is because we refuse to tie our Union to the C.C.F. Party and tell our members how they must vote. If we allowed our Union to be controlled by and for those kind of CCF'ers, we would have no trouble with them, but of course we would end up without a Union.

The other reason we have trouble with these men is because through our united policy, we have brought more gains for our workers than any other CCL Union.

The UE wage gains and contract provisions embarrass some of the labour leaders and rather than fight for the workers they are supposed to represent, they choose to fight the UE in an effort to divide and weaken the Union in the hopes our settlements in future will not be too high. That is why Mr. Millard has sent his organizers to Peterborough to raid UE. The Steelworkers Union could not have come to the city in the interests of the workers when you compare the gains made by UE and Steel, you have the answer that our Union is far out ahead.

As for the attacks on our organizers, I think the record of our Union speaks for itself and the kind of good work done by our organizers.

Our Union has brought improvements to more than 4,000 members in Peterborough, to the unorganized workers and to the community as a whole.

We will continue to organize the unorganized. We are the people who did much of the ground work for Unions in the city. Since 1937 our Union has carried a campaign to make Peterborough a Union City. For the past 12 years, the Steelworkers have set back and have done nothing for Peterborough. Now for their own selfish reasons, they come in and raid UE. Every worker in Peterborough must remember the rates of pay before we had UE. We all remember the depression days. Our answer to Steel and the so-called impartial Labour Man is to all work hard for to make UE better and stronger.

Yours for a Union City with UE,
JOSEPH M. O'BRIEN,
Rec. and Corresponding Secretary,
Local 527 UER and MWA.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. (John 8: 31, 32.)

* * *

And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath. And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath day.

And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him. (Luke 13: 10-17.)

Find No Signs Of Collapse In Berlin Sector

BERLIN, Jan. 20.—(AP). — The vise clamped around Berlin by the Soviet Union is cramping the city's economic life. American officials say the factories are running short of both materials and cash.

"Factories are using raw materials faster than they are getting them, but critical firms are receiving what they need," says a United States military government official, who is in a position to know.

This official says that "between 30 and 40 per cent. of pre-blockade production is being maintained in Berlin."

Does this mean that the Allied sectors of this blockaded city are headed for economic collapse, as forecast by Communist propagandists?

American officials here give an emphatic "No." They list three reasons:

1. Nobody in Berlin is starving. "Operations Vittles" is providing Berliners with a better diet than the French, English or Balkan peoples get (except for English fresh vegetables).

2. The spirit of Berliners. Many who live on the Soviet sector border spend hours daily walking to wooded sections of the Allied sectors to get fuel rather than step into the eastern sector for coal.

3. Expansion of the Allied air lift. This will increase the volume of fuel and raw materials for Berlin's factories.

Critical factories still are humming at capacity. Such factories get the fuel and materials they need.

Other factories are shipping to western Germany some machine tools, coal mining, telecommunications and electrical equipment, chemicals and pharmaceuticals.

But the west Germany manpower department reports that 9,826 factories have shut down since the Russians looped a noose around Berlin. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American commander, says 161,000 persons are totally or partially unemployed in the three western sectors.

Quebec Studies Labor Code In Draft Form

QUEBEC, Jan. 20.—(CP). — A record-size bundle of proposed laws, including the 79-page draft of a provincial labor code, was presented to the Quebec Legislature yesterday, launching its first session since the Union Nationale Government was re-elected in July.

Right after the speech from the throne which opened the first session of the Legislature, copies of 27 bills were distributed to members of the Legislative Assembly.

Most far-reaching among them was the labor code proposal, described as "simply a draft," which will form a basis of discussion between Government, employer and employee representatives.

The labor code proposes to ban Communists from executive positions in "employer or employee associations," with fines and loss of recognition for organizations refusing to comply with the regulation.

It would strengthen the powers of Quebec Labor Relations Board, give its six members the status, privileges and immunity of superior court judges.

For "protection of integrity of associations," the Labor Board, two of whose members would be representatives of workers' organizations, would be authorized to conduct investigations, examine records, and obtain all necessary information to enforce the Communist ban.

Re-Elected Speaker

Delivery of the throne speech, first in French and then in English, started after Speaker Alexandre Tache (UN-Hull) was re-elected by members of the 92-seat Legislative Asembly.

The only other speech in the Legislative Assembly was a brief address by Premier Duplessis who expressed the Government's hope that the session will be carried out without loss of time.

Most important among the new Government bills will provide for additional grants of $5,000,000 for farm loans, $4,000,000 for extra land-draining funds and $2,500,000 to get new office space for Government offices and organizations.

Youth Falls Upon Axe Bleeds To Death

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 20—(CP)—Falling upon an axe he was carrying as he skated across the frozen surface of the Rideau River near his home Wednesday afternoon, Donald MacGregor, 17, of Wolford township, severed his jugular vein and bled to death before help could arrive.

The youth was helping his father, Clarence MacGregor, a commercial fisherman as well as a farmer. He started across the river on his skates to recover some of the fishing equipment that had blown away. He carried the axe for use in case it had been frozen in. En route, he encountered shell ice and fell on the axe. His father went to his assistance but found him dying.

Hold Official Inquiry In Tanker Collision

NEW YORK, Jan. 20—(AP)—An official inquiry begins today into the flaming collision of an oil tanker and the United States Coast Guard's Cutter Eastwind, with a toll of 11 Coast Guardsmen feared dead and 20 injured.

The injured, some in serious condition, were brought here late yesterday aboard rescue vessels and taken to hospital.

The 10,000-ton tanker Gulfstream, which plowed into the cutter in fog and darkness off the New Jersey coast early yesterday, limped into New York harbor Wednesday night.

The Eastwind, a hole in its starboard side and its superstructure twisted and charred from a seven-hour fire, is being towed here by another Coast Guard cutter.

TOE BLAKE, winning coach at Houston last year, who has resigned at Buffalo because of lack of co-operation by General Manager Art Chapman.

Blake, Chapman Couldn't Agree

TORONTO, Jan. 20—(CP) — Hector (Toe) Blake said here Wednesday night that although he was glad to be through as coach of the Buffalo Bisons due to differences with the management, he wants to remain in hockey as a coach and will listen to the highest bidder."

Blake's contract as coach of the last place Bisons was terminated Tuesday night "by mutual agreement" but the former Montreal Canadiens star said that interference by Manager Art Chapman made it impossible for him to offer 100 per cent co-operation which I've always done with any team I was ever connected."

Friction between Blake and Chapman, himself a former National Hockey League star, started when Toe considered comments of Buffalo newspaper columnists were inspired by Chapman and were direct criticism of his coaching system.

When he signed with the Bisons it was on the understanding that he would have a free rein but "after we lost the first three games of the season, my system of play was blasted in front of the players."

Philadelphia Goal-Happy, Edges Hornets

By The Canadian Press

Sid Smith, Pittsburgh Hornet left-winger, put on a show of his own Wednesday night against Philadelphia Rockets, but his four goals and one assist wasn't enough. His team went down before a goal-happy Philly team, 9-6.

The first period saw eight goals scored, five by the Rockets. Two of the Pittsburgh goals came off Smith's stick within five minutes of each other. Lee Costello notched the other Hornet marker.

Smith picked up another goal in the second frame and one in the third. He teamed with Pete Backor to set Flem Mackell up for the Hornet's fourth marker.

Johnny Mahaffy was the leading Rocket point-getter of the night with one goal and three assists. Wally Stefaniew and Harry Pidhirny each tallied twice and Rusty Waldriff, George Defelice, Chuck Kraiger and Eric Prentice one each.

St. Louis Flyers, pace-setters in the western division, defeated Springfield Indians 6-3.

The last-place Buffalo Bisons, playing under their new coach Leroy Goldsworthy, were forced to settle for a 3-3 tie with New Haven Ramblers.

Shutouts A Feature In YM Lasses' Loop

Four shutouts were registered in the YMCA Ladies Senior Bowling League this week. Glengarys, Tigers, Bombers and Lucky Strikes took all points from Commandos, Hurricanes, Y's Menettes and Corvette's. This week's results still find the Bombers and Lucky Strikes tied for top spot.

Helen Howden had high three and high single of 649 and 278.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Basketeers and their followers have action aplenty coming up here this week-end with girls' and men's games on tap. Two lasses' tussles tomorrow night in the YWCA, starting at 8.15, CGE vs. Lockeys, and Normals vs. the Collis colleens. Both should prove keen contests. And the males go Saturday evening in the Collegiate gym. Lindsay vs. Marines "B" team starting it off at seven in a Lakeshore League fixture. Jim Thorburn has turned out with Marines and will be a potent sniper. The other joust has the "Hellcats" of Merritton in against the Marines "A" squad. Merritton are former Canadian senior champs and have a couple of University of Syracuse stars aboard. They beat Marines 41-35 here last year.

A number of hockey frays listed the next few nights around the district, if the ice holds out in these spots. Havelock plays Norwood tonight in a rural engagement. Petes are opening the new arena with an exhibition against the TVL-lers in Lakefield tonight. And these Trent Valley League encounters are slated for Friday p.m.: Lakefield at Norwood, Frankford at Campbellford, Hastings at Madoc, and Marmora at Warkworth. Industrial games in Millbrook on the morrow are: De Laval vs. Millbrook, and Ventilating Shades vs. Marines. Hope they get 'em all in.

* * * * * *

Shakedown Is Right

When it comes to getting the last ounce of energy out of the players and the last buck from the fans, the OHA junior "A" playoff system skins them all. Witness this from the St. Kitts sheet: "Pres. Tiny McFadyen of the OHA lined up the clubs for the shakedown and it is first vs. third, second vs. fourth in a best-of-seven, that will be a gruelling series. The fifth-sixth teams take up the slack with a best-in-five. Then the winner of the top set takes on the victor of the lower class in another four-in-seven for the OHA title. If there is any life left, the winner moves up into the all-Ontario, then the Eastern Canada, and then flutters west to show in the Memorial." Whew!

* * * * * *

Oshawa plays the Triple Links at 8.30 tomorrow night in Civic Arena, an OHA junior "B" game. And it ought to be a real scrap between speedy young teams all through. Locals' next number then will be here against Whitby on Monday of next week. Meantime, Legionnaires sit it out the rest of this week in their senior "B" schedule, while the Petes are off to Lindsay this Saturday night to do battle with Toronto Meteors. They're idle then till the following Friday as Legion has a Wednesday home game against the Meteors. That's the score at present.

Washed Out Again

Both the Petes' game here and the Oddfellows' junior go in Whitby last night were postponed, owing to soft ice. The IOOF-ers will practice in Omemee at 8.30 tonight, leaving the bus depot at 7.30, Andy Price advises, with all players asked to attend. The Petes would like to work in one of their postponements here next Tuesday or Thursday night and they certainly rate a home gate, having had rough luck owing to poor weather so far this season. Purchasers of reserved seats for either of their washed-out games can get refunds and that might be better than holding the ducats. Some confusion could be caused since the tickets sold are for those games only.

A raft of city and district puck fixtures were cancelled last evening as mild weather continued. TVL, church and school pucksters are among those running behind schedules now. Natural ice centres really take a beating in mild winter weather. The only answer here is to install artificial ice as soon as possible. It's the difference between some two and a half months of hockey and at least five months. Again tonight, three PMHA tilts are billed for Civic Arena, starting at six—followed by a pair of Industrial League encounters — and nothing over east. But at six tonight at Sacred Heart rink, Clapper's midgets meet St. Peter's, while northend juves take on East City on the same ice at 10 p.m. The Civic Arena frays are: Northend bantams vs. St. Peter's, Trojan midgets vs. Jaycees, and Trojan juveniles vs. St. Peter's. In industrial, it's Nashua vs. Bell and Canoe vs. Westclox.

Bunny In Dog-House

Bert Maxwell was busy house-dicking at the Royal York last eve, so they sent Bunny Dunlop down to referee the mat matches here. Big Bun is a nice guy and colorful, but he got in wrong by yanking Earl McCready off a choke hold by the hair to let Fred Atkins win the deciding fall. So, they want a rematch but Earl won't stand for Dunlop in the ring. They were two strong, smart matmen and dished up a good main bout. Not fancy capers, just hard wrestling, and the big crowd liked it. Seemed like more were for McCready, but Atkins had a goodly following, too, and the fans enjoyed their match. Also the semi-final, a sizzler between John Katan and Pat Flanagan, with the latter winning on a disqualification. Johnny Marrs took the prelim from Bulldog Drummond.

DESE, DEM AND DOSE: PCVS senior cagers go to Cobourg tomorrow, and so do the bantam PCI-ers and the junior "B" Collegians. . . . Helen Howden led the YM lasses in bowling with 649 and a single of 278. . . . Westwood took Havelock and Warsaw beat Norwood in rural hockey. . . . Hastings, who edged Campbellford last e'en, are at Madoc tomorrow and at home to Warkworth on Monday. . . . Bill Leggitt, who refereed there last night, is getting a lot of district work and looking okay. . . . Petes leave the bus depot tonight for Lakefield at 7.15. . . . Guelph won their fourth straight junior "A" joust last evening, beating St. Kitts 7-4; Sullivan was in on three. . . . Outdoor rinks aren't faring at all well lately as mud peeks through the ice. . . . Dr. Ralph Clark's rink won the CPC trophy yesterday here. . . . The touring Scots' curlers will be in Peterborough the end of the month. . . . Unlike the Indian badmintoneers (who were financed by a rich backer), the canny Scots are having their trip at the expense of the various Canadian clubs, ye ken.

Honored By Magazine Eleven Sports Stars

NEW YORK, Jan. 20—(CP)—Eleven sports stars, voted outstanding in their particular field, were honored Wednesday night at the first annual awards dinner of Sport Magazine.

The honored athletes included Buddy O'Connor, Canadian hockey star with New York Rangers, but O'Connor couldn't attend the dinner. He was playing—and losing 5-2—against Boston Bruins at Madison Square Garden.

Those who were there included Bill Veeck, president of the World Champion Cleveland Indians, representing baseball; Lou Boudreau, manager of the Indians who was named athlete of the year; Jack Kramer, king of the tennis world; and Doak Walker, all-American football star from Southern Methodist University.

Clark's Quartet Wins 'Spiel And CPC Trophy

By HERB MARTIN

With 28 rinks entered from Colborne, Cobourg, Oshawa, Beaverton, Lindsay, Dunsford, Lakefield, Bobcaygeon and Peterborough, the annual open bonspiel for the Canada Packers Trophy was held on Wednesday.

The honor of winning this beautiful sterling silver cup went to Dr. R. Clark and his local rink. Only one point behind was Jack Pirie's rink, and third was A. Parkhill of Oshawa. These were the only three-game winners.

The other two prizes went to local rinks skipped by E. Brown and C. Giroux.

The games got away well on time in the morning and continued all day until 11.30 p.m.

Good Curling

Taking it by and large, there were very few one-sided scores. The competition all day was close.

When Dr. Clark played his last stone, P. Skitch was lying one. Clark removed that one and counted three. These extra three points earned him the trophy.

Great credit is due J. Pirie, who stepped in at the last minute and skipped R. F. Downey's rink. He did a fine job.

P. Skitch, Lindsay; A. Parkhill and B. White, both from Oshawa, are old Tankard skips. They know all the answers and are real curlers.

It was nice to see two rinks up from Colborne.

Considering that many of the clubs represented have had no ice as yet this season, their showing was remarkable. Lindsay, Oshawa and Peterborough are the artificial ice centres.

One Taken

Only one prize was taken away by the visitors, the locals keeping four.

The Neill Trophy continues this evening.

Referee Earns An Assist As Atkins Pins McCready

Fred Atkins got a rather lucky deciding fall over Earl (Moose) McCready to win the main mat bout at the Brock Arena last night before a big crowd. The Australian champion might have won anyway but he got an assist from Referee Bunny Dunlop when the latter yanked Earl off a choke hold by his hair and left him lying there for the scrappy Aussie, who promptly pounced on Earl.

Earl, scaling 239 pounds, won the initial fall in 16 minutes over his 250-pound opponent, applying the "rolling cradle splits" after slipping Fred's specialty, the "Kangaroo Klamp." They were both big, powerful wrestlers, not fancy, but full of action and the crowd gradually began to enjoy some straight, hard grappling for a change. They cheered Earl's win, but many were pulling for Atkins, too. It was rough matwork but not dirty.

A Short One

Atkins won the second and equalizing fall in just six minutes with his "Kangaroo Klamp", something like the "Boston Crab" hold or a double reverse leglock. The referee stopped it and gave the fall to Atkins. The latter came out of his corner fast and angry to rough it up some with fists and elbows as Earl tried vainly to stem the tide, even getting in a few punches himself. It was all Atkins this time and the powerful Australian didn't spare the horses as he softened Earl up and got him in position—despite interference by the referee—for the fall. Quite a few fans liked it, but some were peeved at Fred's rough, strong stuff.

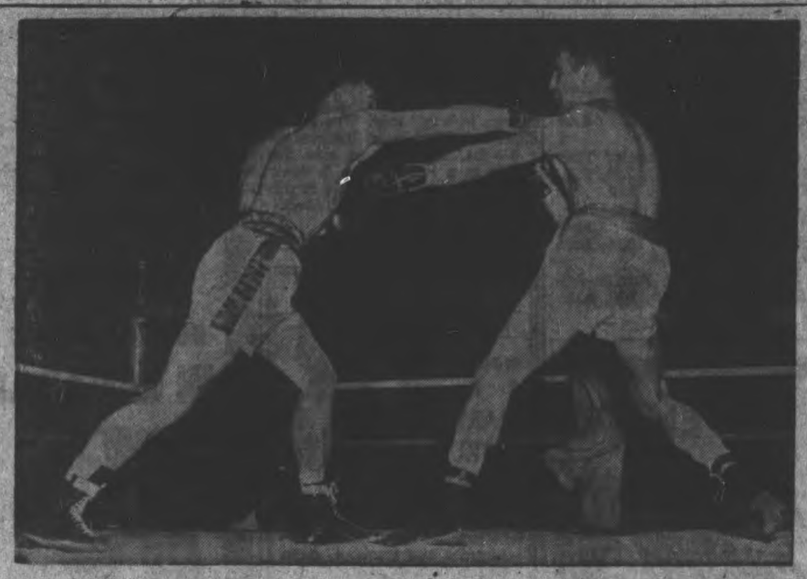
It went 14 and a half minutes before Atkins got the deciding fall with a straight body spread. He roughed it up again—but was not exceptionally dirty—and applied a hard hammerlock to Earl's left arm. Earl slipped it once to apply a headlock but Atkins showed his strength once more to break it and go back to the hammerlock. It was hard wrestling again by two workhorses, with McCready nearly clicking once on a flying scissors off the ropes. Then, Atkins got him down and was choking his opponent when yanked away. Earl got peeved and threw Atkins down and applied a choke hold. The excited referee yanked him back by the hair and, as Earl fell off, Atkins pounced on him to gain the fall. They mixed briefly after the bell and some of the fans tried to get at both Atkins and Dunlop as they left the ring.

A Dandy One

The semi-final was a humdinger with Pat Flanagan, at 222, winning over John Katan, weighing 245, in 21 minutes when the ref disqualified the latter for hanging Pat in the ropes and then swiping the official back as he tried to interfere. They mixed, too, after the gong in a hot go. Katan was his usual powerful and surly self, using illegal tactics all the way, and Pat mixed it up hotly in a great scrap which kept the place in an uproar.

They were out of the ring several times, swinging chairs and mixing with fans, and then back and hammering each other in the ring to the crowd's delight.

Johnny Marrs, 230-pound Minneapolis grappler, took the prelim from Bulldog Drummond, 236, in 20 minutes with flying tackles and a body slam. It was a good tussle, also, and the fans enjoyed it all. They opened fast and even but shortly Drummond played it rough. The pair had a lot of mat talent and showed plenty of holds and breaks. Marrs went good from the start in his first showing in Eastern Canada—he has performed in the west—and Drummond was strong and tough. Closed fists were used by both on several occasions as the customers yelled at the action. It was a popular win.



ON ZANELLI'S CHIN—Laurent Dauthuille of France and Montreal, Left, lands a swinging overhand right on Ralph Zanelli's chin in their Montreal battle. Dauthuille was winner.

Last Night's Stars

By The Canadian Press.

Maurice Richard, Montreal right-winger, who played bang-up game as Canadiens whipped Toronto 4-1, scoring once and assisting on two other goals.

Murph Chamberlain, veteran Montreal left-winger, who fired two markers and helped on a third.

Bud Poile, Detroit forward, whose blistering 40-foot drive beat Goalie Jim Henry for the winning goal as Wings edged Chicago 21.

Pete Babando and Paul Ronty, Boston forwards who each collected two goals as the Bruins defeated New York 5-2.

Marlies Down Spitfires In 7-4 Struggle

By The Canadian Press

Toronto Marlboros have hit a winning streak that could carry them to a playoff berth in the Ontario Hockey Association junior A race.

Wednesday night Syl Apps' Marlies downed the Windsor Spitfires 7-4 for the second win over the league leaders in as many nights.

Struggling to pull out of seventh place, the Dukes are six points behind the sixth-place Guelph Biltmores—but still have three games in hand. Sixth place is the last playoff spot in the nine-team loop.

But Guelph has no intention of relinquishing their position without a fight. Wednesday night they plastered a 7-4 defeat on the third-place St. Catharines Teepees.

In another Junior A game, Barrie Flyers took sole possession of second place by defeating the fourth-place Oshawa Generals 9-1 In the only Senior A game Toronto Marlboros took over the league leadership by downing Hamilton Tigers 3-2.

Armstrong Stars

Fleet George Armstrong led the Junior Marlboro club with three goals while Lorne Pirie notched two and Bob Hassard and Neil Grenke scored one each. Windsor's scoring was done by Francis O'Grady, Bert and Bruce Giesebrecht and Larry Wilson.

Biltmores romped to their third consecutive victory as they led 3-1 at the end of the first period, and made it 7-3 at the end of the second. The Teepees counted once in the third.

Don Campbell replaced Porky Douglas in the nets in the third period and kept the Biltmores scoreless.

3-Goal Performance

Paul Meger turned in a three-goal performance for Barrie, backed with two goals from Sid McNabney. Don Ashbee, George Burcham, Bob Bingley and Real Chevrefils got one each for the winners. Ernie Burton robbed goalie Gil Mayer of his fifth shutout in the third period. Mayer has 4 shutouts in 31 games.

The Marlboros got all their goals in the first period as they took a one-point edge over the second-place Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen. The Tigers counted once in the first period and again in the third.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Chicago Cubs announced Wednesday they have signed Mort Cooper, former St. Louis Cardinal star pitcher, who was voluntarily retired last year by New York Giants.

The 34-year-old Cooper said he was confident that his erstwhile ailing arm is in good condition.

Cooper was inactive last year following a third operation on his arm in August, 1947. Cooper's 10-year major league career lists 128 victories against 75 defeats. He bubbled enthusiasm in anticipation of returning to the pitching mound.

Mort Cooper, signed Wednesday by Chicago Cubs, has Sam Breadon to thank for his return to major league baseball, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch reported.

Breadon, former owner of St. Louis Cardinals—the club for which Cooper did his best pitching—made good last October some bad cheques Cooper was charged with passing in St. Louis and other cities.

The Post-Dispatch said Breadon then took the big righthander to his office for a lecture and, after satisfying himself that Cooper had straightened out, began steps to get the pitcher back into the game.

The Ontario Senior Badminton tournament will be held at Toronto Feb. 8-12. A Provincial Junior Tournament is scheduled for Toronto courts April 21-22.

Paced by Bruce Mather who scored twice, the United States hockey entry in the forthcoming world championships downed the Racing Club of Paris, 5-3, Wednesday night at Paris. The game, played before 12,000 fans, was enlivened by a fight in the second period between Oland of France and Buzz Johnson of Grand Forks, N. D., of the touring American team. Players from both sides joined the battle.

The all-America professional football conference Wednesday declared at Chicago it would resume its box office war with rival National Football League next season.

This ostensibly killed strong rumors that more powerful A.A.C. members might merge with the N. F. L.

Eddie Shore Scores 1949 Hockey Players

VANCOUVER, Jan. 20—(CP)—Eddie Shore, professional hockey "Professor Emeritius" has little use for his modern prototype.

The National Hockey League firebrand of a decade ago, here today for a few hours before leaving for New York, threw a verbal body-check at the present day player.

"They have no guts, and they don't know how to skate," he said.

"How can a man expect to play hockey when he strangles himself by skating bent over like a pretzel?" Shore said the stooping player ruins his scoring chances, cannot pass or receive properly, and is more susceptible to injuruy.

"But the worst fault is that he tires too quickly. He isn't good for more than two or three minutes of steady, hard play, unless you attach a spare skate to the seat of his pants," he said.

The Toronto-Leafs Montreal Canadiens National Hockey League game scheduled for Jan. 21, was ordered postponed 13 years ago today as a mark of respect to the memory of King George V who died January 20. The tribute was the first of its kind in the NHL's 19-year existence. The Chicago-Maroon game at Montreal also was cancelled Jan. 28—date of the King's funeral.

Science Used In Interests Of Fishermen

ST. ANDREWS, NB, Jan. 20—(CP). — The Fisheries Research Board of Canada maintains biological stations at St. Andrews, Winnipeg and Nanaimo, B.C., and in the station here some of Canada's outstanding scientists are working to improve conditions for fishermen in the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and Newfoundland.

In a general sense, the station's main function is to ascertain how fisheries resources may be conserved and increased, and to devise more efficient fishing methods. The scientists, for example, keep a close check on the lobster population to aid in the fixing of lobster fishing seasons.

Dates of the seasons vary according to the supply in the different districts. Strict regulations prevent the lobster resources from being wiped out. One staff here annually tags 10,000 to 15,000 lobsters and released them in the various commercial areas. The percentage of tagged crustaceans subsequently recaptured by fishermen indicates the amount of depletion. Recoveries have ranged up to 80 per cent. in a season.

With some fish, including cod, the problem is how more can be caught in a shorter time, so new ways of fishing are being tried. These include long-lining, in which a trawl line carrying thousands of baited hooks is let out and retrieved mechanically.

Other Methods

Another method is Danish seining, with ropes run out in a circular pattern and designed to frighten fish into a seine net as the ropes are drawn together. The station also is experimenting with mid-water trawls, purse seines and new types of bottom trawls.

The biological researchers cooperate closely with the Atlantic Herring Investigation Committee, supported by New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Newfoundland and the Federal Government. The committee, trying to learn where and why herring vanish after appearing inshore, have two vessels—really floating laboratories—on the job.

The station is looking for the shrimp, another elusive creature, and is trying to develop an inshore flounder industry. It has from 35 to 40 employees, as well as university students in summer. The Fisheries Board of Canada, under which the three biological stations in the Dominion function, comprises representatives of Canadian universities, the fishing industry and the Department of Fisheries, with the department financing its operations. It also has experimental stations at Halifax, Gaspe and Vancouver, concerned with the handling and processing of fish.

When oyster disease hit Prince Edward Island's Malpeque Bay, the lobster experts used disease-resistant survivors to breed a hardier strain. A sub-station for oyster work is maintained at Malpeque.

Marmora Defeats Hastings Handily

MARMORA, Jan. 20 (ENS) — Hastings proved no match for Marmora on Monday evening on the latter's rink and retired beaten after a fast game of hockey by the score of 14-1. The game, watched by about seven hundred fans, did not in the first period promise to be so onesided as it eventually turned out to be. The first goal came to Marmora after three minutes of play, neat combination resulting in Gus Leonard scoring on Goodchild's assist. Borland saved as Hastings brought off a good rush. Cousins and the Trumble brothers added further goals before B. West scored on P. Petticrew's assist for Hastings. Marmora returned to the offensive and McKenty had several hot shots to handle.

K. Trumble opened the scoring in the second period and Goodchild, McInroy and K. Trumble (who scored twice) brought the score to 9-1 at the end of the period. This was the only period in which penalties were meted out, no less than six being awarded.

Mueller replaced McKenty in goal for Hastings in the final period. Marmora added five more goals without response. Herrington and B. West tried hard for scores and Cousins hit the cross bar. Although he had less shots to cope with than the Hastings goalies, Borland handled those coming his way with fine judgment.

Teams:

Hastings—Goal, McKenty; defence, Tucker Ball; centre, P. Petticrew; wings, Herrington, B. West; alternates, Morrow, L. Petticrew, Oliver, Fairman, Mueller, Wilson, D. West, Lalonde; spare goalie, Brooks.

Marmora—Goal, Borland; defence, G. Leonard, E. Leonard; centre, Cousins; wings, Lavender, K. Trumble; alternates, E. Trumble, Goodchild, McInroy, Hegadoren, Doyle.

Referee— R. Scriver, Hastings. Linesman—T. Cousins, Marmora.

Dairy Farmers Meet

WINNIPEG, —Jan. 20—(CP)— Whatever action Canadian dairymen may take against the Supreme Court decision legalizing the making and sale of margarine in Canada will be decided at the annual meeting of the Dairy Farmers of Canada in Edmonton Jan. 20-22, a group of 22 eastern delegates said Wednesday. Earl Kitchen of Woodstock, Executive Secretary of the organization, said margarine was receiving a mixed reception in Toronto, where it had been on sale for about two weeks.

Hastings Wins, 4-3 Over Campbellford

HASTINGS, Jan. 20—(ENS)— There was a good crowd of supporters for both the home and visiting team on Wednesday evening in Hastings Memorial Arena when Hastings won over Campbellford by a 4-3 score.

The ice was too soft for smooth skating or shooting. Hastings opened the scoring in the first period with a goal by B. West from Herrington while L. Petticrew was serving a penalty. Campbellford evened it up a little later with a goal by Kuger.

The game roughened up in the second period with Hastings getting the only goal and penalties being served by Ball. McKenty and LaLonde for Hastings and Robinson and Hardy for Campbellford.

L. Petticrew gained two goals for the home team in the third period with an assist by P. Petticrew in one and the other being shot from centre ice.

Robinson and Pelquin both scored for the visiting team.

The teams:

Hastings — McKenty, Ball, L. Petticrew. P. Petticrew, Herrington, B. West, Oliver, Wilson, Mueller, D. West, LaLonde, Fairman.

Campbellford—Nelson, Tanner, Hendy, Robinson, Blake, Pelquin, Hay, Hendrick, Free, Wright, Smith, Hopping.

Vancouver Gets Rationing Of Electricity

VANCOUVER, Jan. 20 (CP)— Vancouver's new grey garment is going to be the vogue for sometime.

British Columbia electric officials last night announced compulsory power rationing effective midnight in a move to eke out dwindling wter reserves. Although a previous plea for voluntary consumption curtailment was tolerably successful, continued cold weather and lack of rain have forced the issue.

The rationing order directs commercial customers to turn off illuminated signs and other outside lights, and reduce inside lighting by 50 per cent. Residential consumers must reduce inside lights and dispense with electric heaters and outside lights.

The reason for the power shortage is the longest combination of cold, dry weather in 12 years.

The situation is restricted to the lower B.C. mainland, served by the B.C. Electric Co. A company spokesman said the problem of water reserves is peculiar to power developments west of the coast range. There, he said the run-off is sudden and rapid, and water must be stored in large dams to provide power between thaws.

Different Situation

East of the coast range, in the Okanagan and the Kootenays, the run-off is more steady. Rivers there drain a wider area and are not so dependant upon snow-covered mountains for their water.

In the northwestern United States, currently suffering a power shortage, electric plants are fed by coast-range streams. In addition to the reserve problem, power facilities there also feel the pinch of inadequate generating capacity. Up until this cold spell a 12-hour daily feed of power from the B.C.E.'s new Bridge River plant, which generates 62,000 kilowatt hours, helped out in off-peak hours. Now this supply has been withdrawn.

Drobny Obeys Orders

PRAGUE, Jan. 20—(AP)—Jaroslav Drobny, one of the world's best tennis players, obeyed a call today by hockey authorities to get back on the ice and help defend Czechoslovakia in international competition. The Communist official newspaper Rude Pravo blew the whistle on Drobny, who came back from the United States to announce he would devote all his time to tennis this winter and then go out and win the game's top crowns next summer. "There are gaps in the defence of the Czechoslovak National hockey team," Rude Pravo's sports editorial board opined. "Drobny has to get out there and fill them in."

Oppose Free Blood

TORONTO, Jan. 20—(CP)—The Toronto Hospital Council Wednesday said it opposed the Canadian Red Cross' country-wide free blood transfusion service on the grounds it removes a source of hospital income. A spokesman for the Council, which represents a group of hospital administrators within this city, said hospital income from the sale of blood and plasma for transfusions was "vital to the maintenance of personnel and equipment.

Toronto Fans Cheer Habs Who Trounced Maple Leafs

By BERT ALLEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A star who has suddenly found the range after a slow start and a veteran who is considered near the end of the trail combined to lead the up-and-coming Montreal Canadiens to a 4-1 triumph over Toronto Maple Leafs Wednesday night.

It was a great night for Maurice (Rocket) Richard, playing in top form once again, and old Hardrock Murph Chamberlain. Each had a hand in three goals as the Habitants thumped the Leafs right in their own backyard.

The three top teams in the circuit all chalked up victories against second-division clubs in Wednesday night's National League bill. In other games the League-leading Detroit Red Wings edged Chicago 2-1 while Boston handed New York a 5-2 setback.

The results lengthened the gap between the three top and three bottom clubs. Detroit kept intact its five-point margin over the second-place Bruins, while Canadiens now hold a three-point edge over Chicago.

Toronto Cheers Hales

The Leafs looked so feeble at times that some of the 14,347 fans cheered the hated Habitants.

Chamberlain tripled his season goal total by nicking a pair of goals while Richard and Billy Reay collected the other markers. Richard gained assists on both Chamberlain goals, while Murph had a hand in the Rocket's score. The lone Toronto goal came from the stick of Rookie Tod Sloan.

Kenny Reardon of the Habitants and Toronto's Cal Gardner sat out their one game suspension imposed by the League President after they had engaged in a wild stick-swinging duel the last time these teams met.

Bud Polle's sizzling drive from 40 feet out proved to be the margin of victory in Detroit's win over the faltering Black Hawks, who have only one triumph to show for their last seven games. Polle's long shot eluded goalie Sugar Jim Henry and broke a 1-1 tie.

Gets 99th Goal

In the opening period Sid Abel got the Red Wing's first goal—the 99th of his N. H. L. career. After a scoreless middle frame, Gus Bodnar banged one home off Doug Bentley's hook shot to knot the count in the third frame. Just 2 1-2 minutes later, at 12:20, Polle sunk the clincher.

Paul Ronty and Pete Badando each sniped a pair of goals as Boston scored an easy triumph at New York.

Eddie Sandford scored the other Bruin marker while Alex Kaleta and Rookie Jack Gordon connected for the Rangers.

Kansas City Ties St. Paul Saints 3-3

Six teams in the United States Hockey League battled through three hours of play but all three games were ties.

Kansas City Pla-Mors tied St. Paul Saints 3-3 at Kansas City, and Minneapolis Millers and Omaha Knights tied 1-1 at Minneapolis in northern division games.

In the south half of the loop Houston ended up with a 3-3 tie at Forth Worth.

MISS JESSIE STEVENS, former Westclox worker, is one of a group of Red Cross drivers in Edmonton who has been recognized for driving 100,000 miles without an accident.

Former Westclox Girl Is Skilled Motorist

The theory that women are not safe drivers does not hold as far as six Red Cross girls are concerned. Miss Jessie Stevens, who was at one time employed by Westclox in Peterborough, was one of six Red Cross drivers to receive efficiency honours at a presentation made by the Hon. J. C. Bowen on behalf of Edmonton Safety Council recently. The girls received a plaque in recognition of 100,000 miles safe driving.

During the war Miss. Stevens served with the C. W. A. C. as a driver for Brigadier Armstrong at Kingston. She lived in Peterborough before moving to Calgary with her mother.

THIS IS A SCIENTIFIC EXPERIMENT — Jack Rankin of Hamilton wanted to know exactly what would happen if a bull got in a china shop. So he rode Ferdinand through his own china shop and found out. Rankin concluded bulls in china shops do less damage than one would think; they seem to prefer smashing the cheaper grades of merchandise.

VACANT CHAIR—The almost legendary chair the Pan-American Union has been saving for Canada is far from being a myth. George Ronald, Canadian Press Washington correspondent, is shown here sitting in the chair, stored in the basement of the Pan-American building in Washington.

Finds Chair For Canada No Myth Saving It In Washington Cellar

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20—(CP).—That almost legendary chair—the one they're saving for Canada over at the Pan-American Union Building—is no myth, believe me. I sat in it. The Pan-American people tell me I'm the only Canadian who can say that.

When you come right down to it, it's just plain chair. It's got a nice sturdy back and arms, four legs, some rungs, and some padding in the seat.

Everything about it is extra nice, mind you. It's an intricately-carved Dominican mahogany effort, upholstered with Spanish leather. But it's just like 23 other chairs that have been going strong for decades up in the Pan-American board room, except that it has CANADA and a Canadian coat-of-arms carved in it.

The chair was built near the turn of the century, along with those of the 21 American Republics. There also are two spares. But Canada didn't join the union. Welcome as she is, she's never tied in with the Organization of American States of which the Pan-American union is an administrative arm.

Every once in a while, someone has got to wondering whether Canada would change her mind, specially if she got a formal invitation. Invariably "The Chair" has crept into the conversation and debate.

People who weren't really sure have insisted there was a "Canada Chair" all right. Semi-officially its existence has been denied. People who knew for sure have just kept mum.

Well, it does exist, although even long-time employees of the Pan-American union had come to believe otherwise.

One corner is chipped and the dozens of big brass upholstery tacks are black. But it's safe and sound in a tiny, jam-packed storeroom in the catacomb-like basement of the Pan-American building. It's protected by a slip-cover but naturally is a bit dusty and could use a good polish.

Actually, it's in better condition than the chairs upstairs in the board room, used regularly by the Council of the organization American States.

In that same room are bronze friezes depicting historic events in the lives of 12 north American heroes. One shows Champlain's meeting with Huron and Algonquin chiefs near Quebec prior to their war with the Iroquois and Champlain's discovery of the lake which bears his name.

Champlain Remembered

Canada also has a spot high on the north wall of the building's patio, a colorful fountain-centered profusion of tropical trees, flowers and birds. There Champlain's name is carved and a Canadian coat-or-arms is mounted, along with the names of the 11 other heroes and the crests of the Republics.

John Barrett, Pan-American's first Director-General, wrote in 1911 of the decision to give Canada a place in the patio.

Canada, he said, was "to all intents and purposes one of the great nations of the New World although under British sovereignty."

That presumably also explains why the chair was built.

I can guarantee they built it for comfort, too.

Want Graduates Try Supporting Colleges

TORONTO, Jan. 20 — (CP).—Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of Queen's University, Kingston, said Wednesday the Federal government and university graduates should contribute to the support of Canadian universities.

"The day is past when any university may expect large sums from individuals," he told a men's service club luncheon.

The university president said the $1,500,000 annual budget of Queen's is raised 50 per cent from students' fees, 30 per cent from the provincial government and 20 per cent from endowments.

Say Exploitation Causes Durban Riots

By BRYAN YOUNG.

DURBAN, SOUTH AFRICA, Jan. 19—(Reuters)—Resentment among non-Europeans against what they regard as repression and exploitation by whites in South Africa is considered by observers to be the root cause of last week-end's race riots in Durban.

Racial tensions have been tightened by a growing sense of African nationalism, alleged economic exploitation of the Africans by the Indian shopkeepers, and the new South African Government's further plans for racial segregation.

The African finds himself in an economic position beneath that of the Indian, and feels that Indians and Europeans are interlopers in what he regards as his country.

With the breakdown of tribal life and the massing together of Africans of all tribes in Durban, there is a growing spirit of African nationalism, which some observers feel is fostered unhealthily by the Government's restrictive policy toward non-Europeans.

Indians Quicker

Many natives want to run bus services, but Indians, with their quicker grasp of business possibilities, invariably get the licences. It is the same with shops. The Indian trader sets up shop before the African because of his foresight and ability to provide the necessary capital.

The Indian caters with considerable acumen for the needs of Africans, and often takes this business away from the Europeans. Also the Indians have shops in the worst slum areas where few Europeans care to set up business.

The African often feels he is overcharged by Indians, and this adds to his resentment. Many Africans have Indians as landlords.

As the African becomes more educated and drifts to the cities, he is becoming more aware of what he feels is his under-privileged position. He has no voice in running the country in which he lives.

Observers are asking how long it will be before the African turns against the white man either in violence or some sort of "cold war."

Home, School To Give Efficiency Prizes

OMEMEE, Jan. 20 — (ENS) — There was a good attendance at the "All Canadian" program of the Omemee Home and School Association Monday night. Mrs. S. Northey presided.

The treasurer, Mrs. D. Hicks, reported that the December euchre party, the proceeds of which were for a Christmas treat for the school children, netted $41.66. The balance in the treasury is $54.07.

The secretary read a request from Principal Hough that the Association consider providing efficiency prizes for High School students. After discussion, on motion of Mrs. A. Stephenson and Mrs. H. Green $26 was granted, $15 to the girl who is giving the valedictory at the coming commencement and the remainder to be used for class prizes. The matter of presentations is to be decided by the executive.

The parents' roll call gave the shield to Miss Lamb's room.

Miss Lamb announced that films depicting the Royal Wedding and the 25th wedding anniversary of the King and Queen, would be shown in Coronation Hall on February 4. Mrs. L. McQuade. Mrs. J. Hough and Mrs. R. Brooks were appointed to take tickets in the afternoon and Mrs. Price, Mrs. James and Mrs. Wilson in the evening.

Canadian current events were given by Mrs. R. Price. Last item on the program was a film on "Jasper Park". Mr. Widdis, on behalf of the association, thanked Miss Lamb for arranging for the film and Thaxter Shaw for operating the projector.

General Electric Guilty

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 20—(AP)—Judge Phillip Forman Wednesday convicted the General Electric Company and eight other lamp supply manufacturers of violating the Sherman Anti-trust Act. Forman found the companies guilty of assisting General Electric to maintain a monopoly of the incandescent electric lamp industry in the United States.

Permit Trust Company To Sell Firm's Asets

TORONTO, Jan. 20 — (CP) — A Toronto trust company was given power Wednesday to enforce sale of the assets of the Brunton Lumber Company of Whitby, to satisfy the trust company's claim of $92,000 owing on a $100,000 bond mortgage issue.

An assize court ruling granted the Premier Trust Company's claims in full and included the right to a first mortgage and a charge on all the lumber company's assets and appointment of a receiver.

K. G. Morden, counsel for the lumber company, said the case arose from a 1938 agreement whereby the trust company was to supervise the lumber firm's affairs in return for five per cent of gross sales. Since then the firm had become 10 times as large and gross sales were $400,000 in one year, yet the five per cent still was being paid.

Health Insurance Scheme High In Truman Policy

BY GEORGE RONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (CP) —High on President Truman's long list of social security proposals—which have brought cries of "state socialism" from the opposition—is a national health insurance plan.

The opposition, it is believed, will be led by the American Medical Association, though many individual doctors are expected to support the Truman administration.

Shortly after Truman's state-of-the-union speech Jan. 5, a group of Democratic congressmen set the stage for a new legislative battle by describing the health-scheme proposals they will urge.

"Our health is far behind the progress of medical science," the president said. "Proper medical care is so expensive that it is out of the reach of the great majority of our citizens. . .The present coverage of the social security laws is altogether inadequate, and benefit payments are too low. . .We need—and we must have without further delay— a system of pre-paid medical insurance which will enable every American to afford good medical care."

The congressional group—Representative John D. Dingell of Michigan and Senators James Murray of Montana, Robert F. Wagner of New York and J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island—said their legislation will benefit 125,000,000 persons — 85 per cent of the population.

It would give insured persons free choice of doctors, plus "local grass- roots administration and full use of voluntary plans providing medical service."

Old-Age Insurance

The same group also is sponsoring an extension of federal old-age benefits, which Mr. Truman said now average $25 a month.

Dingell and the three senators said in a statement that their health bill will include these points:

1. Employed persons, self-employed persons and their dependents would be eligible.

2. Insured persons would be entitled to medical and dental service from general practitioners and specialists, home nursing and hospital care, laboratory service, X-rays, expensive prescribed medicines, eye-glasses and appliances such as artificial limbs.

3. Every qualified doctor, dentist, nurse and hospital would be guaranteed the right to participate or not, and to accept or reject patients. No participating hospital would be subject to government control.

4. The insurance fund, not the patient, would pay "fair and adequate" fees to participating doctors and dentists.

Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, whose main job is national health, favors a payroll-deduction plan starting at one-half of one per cent on the first $4,800 of annual income, rising to three per cent for top-bracket employees. Employer and employee would pay equal shares. Ewing would administer any health scheme. It presumably would not go into operation for several years, until a sufficient fund had been accumulated.

Many Cats Dying People Mystified

Who—or what—killed the cats?

Humane Society officials are pondering this question as the death rate among pussies of the city takes an alarming upward trend. It has not reached epidemic proportions yet, but the number of deaths is causing concern. At least half a dozen have been found by the Society within the past week. Cause of death is unknown.

"They're just stiffened out—dead," said Society Inspector Gerald Dunsford, who added that there was no indication from the bodies to give a clue on the reasons.

Visions of the work of a cat-poisoner working his murderous art are not entertained, according to veterinaries. It is not an easy task to poison a cat, they said, because the animals are cunning and fussy about what they eat.

Compared to cats, dogs are comparatively easy to dispose of via the loaded-bread or doctored route.

"It takes a cleverly concealed poison to catch a cat," said one Peterborough veterinary.

The experts pointed out that there is a disease known as "feline distemper" which occasional strikes, bringing cat deaths to epidemic proportions. As none of the bodies have been inspected by any vets, they were unable to say if Peterborough's cats were faced with extinction.

Service Clubs Commission Discuss Bylaw

To clear up any misinterpretations of recommended changes in the by-law on the Recreation Commission a meeting of joint committee of the Council and the Commission was held with the service clubs of the city on Tuesday night. There had been some objection from the clubs about the wording of the changes which the joint committee had made. Representatives came from the Rotary, Kiwanis, Y's Men, Optimist, Kinsmen, and Lions' Clubs to the meeting.

Dr. Herbert Young read Clause B which is "To recommend to the City Council the acquisition, maintenance, etc., of such recreational areas and facilities as may be required in the furtherance of the recreational program."

S. Giedhill, Lions Club representative, said the club feels the recommended change reads as if the commission can take over the Lions playground.

"Our club intends to supervise, maintain and operate the new swimming pool. We are not going to stop after it is built. If the public do not think we are running the affair right the club will turn the pool over to the Recreation Commission. Until that time we wish to look after our project.'"

Representatives from the Kinsmen said that $3,000 or $4,000 had been spent on the Inverlea playground and they were willing to co-operate with the Commission in any way.

It was agreed to send the recommended change in the by-law as the joint committee had first written it.

Clause A was under criticism by the service clubs. It reads as follows: "To supervise and coordinate all the recreational programs on a community level in the public recreational areas and the facilities of all types."

"What the Commission desires is not the full control of the playgrounds but the co-operation of all the service clubs in the city," said Mr. Bolton, chairman of the Commission. "We don't want to be in the position where the service clubs can say 'Hands off.' Yet we don't want to use compulsion to get the clubs to co-operate with us."

It was generally agreed that the Recreation Commission should hire the supervisors and the clubs would look after the equipment of the playgrounds. The clubs all agreed to co-operate with the commission in trying to carry out the programs put forth by the commission.

"We would like to have clubs come to us if they are planning to do something along the recreational lines. For we may know a location that requires the recreational help more than the one the club may choose," said Mr. Bolton. Already the Rotary have been discussing how they could do something for the boys of the city with Mr. Dane. If more clubs would do this everything would be great."

Result of the meeting was that both clauses remained as they were written by the joint committee.

Thomas Hughes Pays $100 Fine

Thomas Hughes of Monaghan Road was found guilty on Wednesday of an indecent assualt on 43-year-old woman complainant. Magistrate W. R Philip, KC, fined him $100 and costs following evidence Hughes pleaded not guilty to the charge.

The complainant testified that she had visited Hughes' home on Jan. 9 to pick up a car part which was being supplied by the accused. With her on the visit was her brother and another woman. She said the accused invited them into his home. There, she reported that he molested her on three occasions.

In his own evidence, Hughes denied that the woman's account of the events were correct. There had been no indecent actions or suggestions, he said.

Gun Battle With Indians Hoax By 14-Year-Old Boy

By ALBERT HUNTER

VANCOUVER, Jan. 20 (CP).—A rootin' tootin' gun-battle at upcoast Texada Island yesterday was ruled a hoax, the product of the "vivid imagination" of a 14-year-old youth. Sgt. O. L. Hall of the British Columbia police, Powell River detachment, said the lad had "concocted" his own Wild West saga—bullet-slinging between Indians and loggers on the island in Georgia Strait, 55 miles northeast of here.

He hastened to add, however, that the incident "has not been pursued to its conclusion." He declined to say whether the juvenile was being held or whether any charges had been laid.

The sparsely-populated and normally-peaceful strip of land—31 miles long and six miles wide—became the setting for an "Indian hunt" when the boy's tale reached police.

Scour Island

Notified Monday by an island resident of the "Indian-logger war," three officers flew to Texada to conduct an investigation.

Assisted by 20 civilians, the officers scoured the island for some sign of the warring Indians—but found none.

Sgt. Hall, who assisted in the search, said last night "the whole affair is without foundation."

"There were bullet marks in a house, all right," he added, "but reports that they were caused by Indians has not stood up to investigation.

Sgt. Hall said the youth, playing with a gun Sunday, had "apparently misdirected" several shots into a house at the Woodhead brothers logging camp at Blubber Bay on the island's north end. He then ran to the homes of loggers and farmers, who make up the island's population, warning them that a band of Indians had opened fire on a group of loggers. The boy, who said the Indians had been caught stealing, pleaded for help from the loggers.

He claimed the women and children at the logging camp were huddled on the floor of their homes while bullets smashed through windows over their heads.

Young Actress, Football Hero Enjoying Exciting Romance

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 20 (AP)—This is a column to draw attention to Hollywood's nicest romance.

The girl: A black-haired, 16-year-old beauty named Elizabeth Taylor.

The boy: A handsome football champion and Army Officer named Glenn Davis.

Here is a love match as all-American as his football rating. They met not in a sunset strip saloon, but playing touch football at the beach. Their romance is being carried on across two oceans and a continent, but by mail only.

It all started when Elizabeth admired Glenn in his film biography, "The Spirit of West Point." She said as much to Mrs. Hubie Kearns, wife of a university of California football player.

When Glenn came here for a guest appearance, Hubie asked him if he'd like to meet Elizabeth. Being in his right mind, Glenn said yes.

The Kearns took him to an afternoon party at the Taylor's Malibu home.

They were together a great deal in the few weeks before he shipped out for Korea. Nearly all of it was spent at the Taylor home. Neither of them smokes nor drinks, and they don't like night clubs.

Their families met and like each other, and Glenn put a necklace bearing his gold football around her neck before he left. Mrs. Taylor said Elizabeth was too young for an engagement now.

Right now they are writing each other every day, he from Korea and she from England, where she is making "Conspirator." He may be out of the Army before long, and if all goes well, they'll be married.

Trade Problems Reviewed For Council By F. Paterson

"People in Ontario and the rest of Canada as well will have to do more and more to help the agricultural situation," said Frank C. Paterson, Ontario agricultural representative, in a brief address to the County Council today.

He stated that the agricultural economy was now dependent on United States' dollars, provided by the Marshall Plan. But he warned that the United States would not purchase from Canada agricultural products in which she already had a surplus.

"They'll only buy our products for sending to Europe if they haven't got them at home," he asserted.

"Already Congress has declared a surplus of flax, linseed oil, potatoes and beans," he said, "and tomorrow it could legitimately declare wheat the same."

If this should happen, said Mr. Paterson, we would have only the domestic market for our wheat.

Only a government floor on the price of flax—$6 a bushel in the United States and $4 in Canada—has prevented the price of that grain from falling to a fraction of that amount, he contended.

Depend on Marshall Plan

"Paradoxically enough, you you can't get oil cake because there is no place to store the linseed oil. A year ago farmers were urged to grow flax, now the government is embarrassed by a surplus."

The only market is the government, he said."

"We are depending on the Marshall Plan for taking surplus products off of this country," he emphasized.

This spring the United States hopes to produce about 60,000,000 pigs, they are wanted to eat up the surplus corn. The threat of the glut of pork on the market has already resulted in a decline in the beef market, said the agriculture representative.

Each year about 20,000,000 are born in this world, he said, and this creates a great need for food.

Then he said the basic problem: "On the one hand there is a great need for food, but on the other hand there is a surplus in North America because the people of Europe and Asia haven't enough dollars.

Eventually, he predicted, the increased population of the North American continent would eat up much of the domestic surplus, and he warned that there is not much arable land left in either the United States or Canada..

Elaborating on the "sli Ale

He then told of two other interesting aspects of trade: "right now there are people in this city exploring the possibility of selling eggs in the United States; last year it was beef that started selling there."

And he called the attention of the Councillors to the fact that South Africa, due to the dollar shortage, has discontinued buying Ford cars from Canada.

Mr. Paterson then said that Canada should try to adjust to permit a freer flow of internal trade.

If Manitoba wanted to, he said, it could raise all the pigs for both Canada's foreign and domestic markets. But instead they prefer to sell grain to us. He told his audience that the East would be wise to keep up a high coisumption of Manitoba grain if even from the standpoint of self interest.

"If the export markets are closed we will have to buy more grain to prevent western farmers from turning to raising pigs."

He concluded his address by asking the Agricultural Committee of the County Council to enlarge its sphere of activities and work in close consultation with all local agricultural groups.

Several deputations waited on the Council. They were the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Navy League, and the Crop Improvement Association represented by W. W. Dawson, Vernon Campbell and Henry Batten. All asked for funds to assist them in their work.

The Crop Improvement Association expects to hold a "Grassland Day"—one of the few allowed each year in Ontario—in the last week of June.

Cherneys Given Building Permit

Cherney Bros. were given a temporary permit by the council Monday to build a lean-to at the rear of their new store at George and King Streets. It will be sheeted with metal on the outside and asbestos board on the inside.

The dimensions of this annex will be 45 ft. by 15 ft. It is to be used as a sheet metal shop for a heating department including oil burners.

The permit from the council was sought because the details do not comply with the building by-law. Ald. Doug. Miller suggested a permit for one year, renewable at the discretion of the council.

They might not want to go to the expense of building it if they could use it only one year,'" said Ald. Herbert Young.

"Special permits tend to weaken the building bylaw," Ald. Miller remarked.

"If it is not a fire hazard for one year, it is not a hazard for 100 years," said Ald. Adam Sands.

The permit was qualified as "temporary" in the granting motion.

Cruelty Charge Brings $15 Fine

O. C. Love, North Monaghan, was fined $15 and $2.50 costs in court today when he pleaded guilty to causing unnecessary suffering to a horse. The charge was laid by the Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty. It charged that the accused had "failed to provide proper care" for a mare.

Evidence given was that the horse had been found lying in one of Love's fields, partly in a water hole on Wednesday. The horse was suffering from cold and had to be shot that afternoon.

In explanation, the accused told the court that he had made arrangements to sell the animal for fox meat and that the purchaser had been delayed in arriving. Before any action could be taken, the charge was laid.

Four Men Fined Hunted In Preserve

Four persons paid fines and costs totalling $70 in court today for illegally hunting on the Peterborough Crown Game Preserve. The charges were laid by Game Overseer Ray Simpson and concerned offences within recent months. All four entered written pleas of guilty.

Fined $20 and $2.50 costs each for the offence were G. H. Banner of East York and H. Martin of Apsley. J. Woodyer, 143 Lamb Ave., Toronto and John McEwan, 28 Murdock Ave., Toronto, were each fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

There are 2,500 donors, men and women between the ages of 16 and 65 of good health needed from Peterborough and District.

Condition Serious

Condition of Mrs. Alice Waldron, who was seriously injured when a taxi struck her Wednesday morning, remained "unchanged" during the night. Both legs of the 61-year-old woman are badly fractured and there are head injuries. St. Joseph's Hospital continued to report that her general condition is still "very serious."

253 Donations Pledged For Food Fund

Tuesday evening's Radio Pledge appeal on behalf of the United Emergency Fund for Britain, brought a good response. In two hours from 8 to 10 p.m. almost 250 calls were received over the telephone and a few additional ones when the program to play requested numbers was resumed in the closing three quarters of an hour before midnight.

Three telephones were in operation, with three typists to take from the operators the name, address and amount of pledges.

A breakdown of the figures show that each operator handled the particulars of each individual call every one and a half minutes for the full two hours of the broadcast, no let up being possible during the entire period.

This group consisted of Mrs. M. McDonald, Mrs. H. Lambert, and the Misses Joan McCarthy, Mildred McIntyre, Hazel Hunt, Elaine Cooke and Mary Bolton, to whom the Local Branch of the UEFB acknowledges sincere thanks.

Members of the local branch who assisted were Mayor Maxwell J. Swanston, J. L. Thompson, D. J. Eldred, G. R. Melton and the chairman, with A. H. Radford and W. E. Wood representing G. Monkman and E. Humpage, who were unable to be present in person.

The total sum pledged was $671.73, which when paid will bring the local and district branch total above the $2,000 mark since operations commenced just over one month ago. Outstanding contributions received in this latest effort came from Branch 52 of the Canadian Legion which promised the full net proceeds of the bingo next Wednesday night, the Kinette Club, and from a group of friends assembled at a meeting in the Kawartha Room at the Empress.

A remarkable feature was the widespread interest that was displayed through the number of people contributing in small amounts, made up of people in every walk of life, and one church group, the AYPA of St. John's Church, was also represented.

Pledged gifts will be received at any bank, CHEX, or by the chairman of the fund, and in each case official receipts given, which are eligible for income tax deduction. The work of the fund continues, and gifts will be gratefully received and acknowledged at any time.

RICHARD (DICK) COWAN, who has been named circulation manager of the Ontario Intelligencer, daily newspaper at Belleville. He is a son of H. B. Cowan, Sr., and Mrs. Cowan, formerly of this city, and now in Ottawa.

Three Brothers Managers Of Circulation

Announcement this week that Richard Cowan, formerly of Peterborough had been named circulation manager of the Ontario Intelligencer, Belleville makes the third brother in the family holding similar posts in Ontario newspapers.

One of three sons who started his newspaper career with his father, H. B. Cowan, Sr., one-time publisher of the "Farm and Dairy" "Canadian Beekeeper," and "Canadian Horticulturist," Richard Cowan has had broad experience in this field. He served as a reporter with the Peterborough Examiner and Oshawa Times, and was in charge of circulation at Peterborough for the Toronto Star and Star Weekly for five years.

Three brothers, all circulation managers of dailies, is believed to be a record on the continent. R. B. Cowan, is circulation manager of the Toronto Star and Toronto Star Weekly. He is also past president of Canadian Circulation Manager's Association, and the International Manager's Association.

H. B. Cowan, Jr., is circulation manager of the Peterborough Examiner and the Kingston Whig-Standard. He is a former director of the International Circulation Manager's Association, and at present a director of the Canadian Circulation Manager's Association. He is the only Canadian manager whose carriers have won the Bingham Trophy for the best newspaper carriers' boy's sales demonstration, and is also the only Canadian to be given the International Circulation Manager's Association Award as the "Outstanding Circulation Manager of the Year." One of these awards is made each year.

The youngest of the trio, Richard Cowan was born and educated in Peterborough, and in recent years has been employed by an Ottawa newspaper.

Technicality Blocks Plan For One Man To Collect Bounties For Hunting Group

Collection of the pelt pelf from last Saturday's kill of two wolves and six foxes was stymied by a legal technicality this morning when Norman Bradley deposited the hides at the county treasurer's office. Mr. Bradley is vice-president of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association, sponsors of the surprisingly successful hunt Saturday along the border of Douro and Otonabee townships, north of No. 7 Highway. It should net $68 for the Association, $50 for the two wolves and $18 for the half-dozen foxes. The members who turned out with their guns agreed to pool the cash for future field days. They left to Mr. Bradley the detail of having the carcasses skinned.

That job was done, and Mr. Bradley lugged the cashable trophies to the office of Mrs. Jennie Spurway, county clerk and treasurer, this morning.

But, the bounty regulations require from the recipient an affidavit to the effect "That I did kill, etc.....' Mr. Bradley could not make that declaration because the animals fell to the shells of other hunters. It was estimated Saturday that sixteen men peppered one of the unfortunate wolves. So, the question arises what's going to be done about an affidavit in that fusillading?

Mrs. Spurway is willing to accept the pelts, but how is payment to be made regular, official and otherwise in compliance with the Department's conditions of identification?

Mr. Bradley gathered up the skins and retreated to consult members of the Fish and Game Association about the dilemma that halted him at the pay-off counter.

Petition For Bus

Photostat signatures were attached to a petition from employees of Canadian General Electric Co., seeking the council's influence for an express bus at 5 p.m. for the Benson loop. They ask that it depart from the east Albert St. gate. The present bus for that centre——north end section is usually filled by the time it reaches Albert and Park Streets. Petitioners suggest that the 5 p.m. service be directed by way of Park or Reid Streets to George and McDonnel before making any stop.

The workshop is attached to the 50th Heavy AA Regiment to maintain in service the technical equipment. As soon as the recruiting is completed the workshop will be receiving lathes, drills, special garage equipment. Courses will be given.

"This unit will be of great interest to any who are mechanically or electrically minded. Former members of the RCEME will find the course interesting and stimulating," said Capt. P. Sargent.

Anyone foolhardy enough to accept the offer can take a Free Parachute Jump at the expense of the Regent Theatre, merely by applying to the manager. Produce Men Discuss Sale Problems

TORONTO, Jan. 20 (CP) — Ontario produce growers are giving extra attention to problems of sale and marketing of their fruit and vegetables at the annual meeting here of the Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association. The three-day convention ends today.

Dr. F. W. Boecker, chief of the Transportation Research Division of the United States Department of Agriculture, told delegates that inefficient and unnecessary handling of farm products was adding to the cost of marketing.

Dr. Boecker was one of many speakers yesterday who gave advice on packaging, grading and market research.

He said that studies in American market places and warehouses had shown the need for more marketing facilities and proper refrigeration of perishable produce. Labor-saving devices such as two and four-wheel trucks had been adapted to the handling of food.

Chemical Method

A chemical method of thinning fruit was outlined by Dr. L. J. Edgerton, assistant professor at Cornell University's Agricultural Experimental Station. He said chemical thinning had proved more efficient than hand-thinning in many instances.

An expanded weather forecast service during growing and harvesting seasons was asked in one resolution.

The public weather office now issues detail forecasts for growers on request at certain times of the year and delegates asked for more details throughout the entire growing season. The resolution requested information on wind direction and possibilities of change, rainfall and temperature and warning of frost danger.

Other resolutions asked for a price support scheme for onions, with a floor price of $2 a hundredweight; increase in income tax exemptions to $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for married persons, and a new soil survey in the Niagara Peninsula.

Granite Shelters Protect Sweden's Strategic Plants

BY AKE MALMSTROEM

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Swedes, uncomfortably close to Russia and feeling the growing world tenseness, have not slackened their efforts to protect themselves against a total war.

During the Second World War many fortifications were blasted into the innumerable islands and reefs off the rocky coast of Sweden; the mountains are still the mainstay of defence against the new weapons.

The Swedish mountains are not high, but they are mostly granite. Most of the cities are built on rock. Gray granite is everywhere. Thus it is relatively easy to put Swedish industry and public utilities in bombproof shelters.

Many of the wartime shelters are now used as garages, storage space and repair shops. The Stockholm shelters are a good source of income for the city which has let them to private enterprise.

The blasting of mountain halls for industries began during the war and now is being organized on an even greater scale. A committee was formed in 1948 to plan for the sheltering of strategic industries in the mountains and must has already been done, although little publicized.

Naturally, Sweden is saying nothing about what it may be doing in the building of coastal shelters for its new 10,000-ton cruisers, its U-boats and other naval craft, its torpedo batteries, forts and warplanes.

But secrecy is less rigid for industrial mountain halls and storage tanks especially for oil, which are blasted into coastal rocks in many places. The new storage tanks are protected against air attacks and are almost fireproof.

Big Plants Moved

Several important plants producing weapons, ammunition airplanes and motors already have moved at least some of their most vital machinery into the mountains.

A typical example is the Bolinder-Munktell airplane motor and tractor factory at Torshaello in south central Sweden. Outside the mountain one sees only a red shack, concealing a hole in the rock A hallway leads to a number of caves each 88 yards long, 165 yards wide and six yards high.

The walls are painted and enlivened by photograhic murals and niches with artificial flower pots. Temperature and moisture are regulated automatically and the machines are driven by electricity. These mountain halls are cleaner and healthier than old type factories.

There are other mountain factories—at least half a dozen on a grand scale, but Bolinder-Munktell is the prototype. The blasting for it started in 1941.

Public utilities, in Sweden owned almost exclusively by the state and communities, also are placed in the mountains. There is a special government committee for such installations, an a community which plans to build a water works or a power station in rock is given a grant from the state for the additional costs.

Stockholm is working hard to find protection in its mountains. A subway system is being constructed and large shelters blasted for the trams, public untilities and the population. Gothenburg, Sweden's second city now is building water and electrical plants in its mountains with the aid of government grants totalling about $850,000.

Board of Trade Told Canada Haven of Security

NORWOOD, Jan. 20—(ENS).—Industrial development is a great task and a tough one, Mr. J. E. (Tim) Turnbull of the Trade and Industry branch of the Department of Planning told members of Norwood Board of Trade at their annual dinner meeting in the Town Hall on Tuesday.

"We should be happy about conditions," Mr. Turnbull declared, "because we are about to expand as never before." Canada was a haven of security, he said, and could easily support three times the present population and bring the market nearer home.

After two wars, the United Kingdom and Europe were crowded with people seeking the security this country could offer. Canada needed many more leaders of trade and commerce before new citizens could be absorbed into the community. It was essential, Mr. Turnbull said, that Canada should absorb the newcomers rather than allow the immigrants to absorb the Canadians.

Mr. Turnbull described his department's work and said that Federal and Provincial authorities were endeavoring to have more of Canada's raw materials processed in this country. His department assisted in the establishment of industry, manufacturing arrangements, industrial research in conjunction with research foundations and acted in an advisory capacity to municipalities in planning industrial campaigns. There was, however, no direction of industry, Mr. Turnbull assured the meeting.

Mr. Turnbull announced that invitations for delegates from municipal councils and Boards of Trade to attend a convention in Toronto in March were being prepared.

Reeve Rork Ferguson introduced the speaker, who was thanked on behalf of the Board by Dr. A. R. Atkinson.

Projects Reviewed

When committee chairmen reviewed the achievements of the past year and future projects, the Rev. E. E. Pugsley of the social welfare committee said the only project during the year had been the community Christmas tree. School children, Norwood Boys' Band and the Women's Institute had contributed to the success of this event.

J. H. Caskey, reporting on behalf of the recreation committee, spoke of an ice carnival which the board was sponsoring in the arena this year. In the past year two bathing houses, the responsibility of his committee, had been built at the dam, for which Mr. Caskey had been successful in securing the services of George Millet to engineer and oversee the construction at no cost to the board. When construction was complete, a swimming instructor was engaged for two months, at the end of which period 71 children passed swimming examinations set by the Red Cross of Toronto.

Another undertaking of the recreation committee had been the establishment of Boys' Town. Between 40 and 50 boys, ranging in age from nine to 15, met every week for such activities as basketball, volleyball, boxing, tumbling and group games. Leaders of these activities were: Basketball, Bill and Bob Garden; tumbling, Boyd Kelly and Arthur La Brash; boxing the Rev. R. D. Duncanson and George Smith; physical education and group games, John Lynden and J. H. Caskey. The boys had set up a court for the trial of members who break regulations or infringe on the rights of other boys and a mock trial had been staged.

Owing to the difficulty of heating the building, Boys' Town was not meeting at present, but would become active again during warmer weather.

J. J. Stewart, the president, announced that Norwood residents and former Norwood boys and girls had been given generous donations towards the bathing houses.

A. R. Atkinson President

Board of Trade officers elected were: Dr. A. R. Atkinson, president; K. E. Pakenham, vice-president; Earl Armstrong, secretary; W. P. Forshee, treasurer; Rod Webb, industrial; George Millet, civic affairs; C. A. Copp, transportation; W. Hudson, commercial; L. McMillan, agriculture; Earl Hamblin, business and professional; D. McNeil, membership; Mrs. H. Bradley, social welfare, and the Rev. R. D. Duncanson, recreation.

A film show was followed by dinner, provided by the Women's Institute.

Modern Transportation Aids Work of the Land Surveyor

By FRANCIS HENRY LOVE

If you were to meet Mr. J. W. Pierce, land surveyor, on the street you would never think of this carefully groomed gentleman of the old school as a rollicking couer de bois.

Yet he has travelled more miles by canoe than the average man has travelled by train. As surveyor to His Majesty the King he has travelled by birch bark canoe, York boat, MacKenzie River scow, on horseback, in a Red River cart and Shank's mare.

Of late years he has been a little more orthodox, using the automobile, the train and the airplane. Recently his assistant made a trip into the north country by plane in four hours. The last time Mr. Pierce made that same trip it took him three weeks by canoe.

He was one of the first men to place an outboard motor on his canoe. One of the many survey parties which he led into the hinterland was to start from a Hudson's Bay Post in the north and most of their supplies had been sent in ahead.

On his trip in Mr. Pierce used his new outboard to speed up the work. As he neared the post all the Indians encamped there rushed down to the water's edge to see his heavily laden canoe come across the lake without anyone paddling it. It was a seven day wonder to them.

That night Mr. Pierce asked the Hudson's Bay Company factor if he could arrange for four men to join his party to help with the work. The factor assured him that he could. The Indians were all on their summer holidays and would be glad of the chance to earn a few extra dollars.

However, the next morning the factor had a long face. "I'm having trouble arranging for those men you want," he told Mr. Pierce.

This was bad. It might wreck the whole expedition. "Is it because they don't want to spoil their holiday or because the pay isn't big enough," Mr. Pierce asked.

"No," said the factor with a worried frown. "No. It's not that. But I'm afraid of being accused of favoritism. The whole tribe wants to go."

Three years later, when Mr. Pierce visited the post again, every Indian has his own motor and was buying gas at $4 a gallon.

But the outboard motor could also cause trouble when you were hundreds of miles away from a repair shop. If you broke a paddle you could buy one from the Indians or make one. If you hit a sunken log or rock and broke your propellor you were really in a bad way.

One of the quieter trips that Mr. Pierce once made was when he took a survey party hundreds of miles down the Athabasca. This trip was made in big scows. As it was downstream all the way the current furnished the motive power.

An experienced river man handled the long sweep by which the scow was steered. All the surveyors had to do was loll around in the sun and swat mosquitoes. It was the life of Riley or seemed like it until they hit the rapids which were almost continuous for a hundred miles. From there on they were kept busy as the big scow nose dived over chute after chute.

But the real part of the trip was coming back after spending a hot summer in the bush with the bears and mosquitoes. There were no free rides. They abandoned the scows and all extra baggage and took to canoes. But even these couldn't be paddle a good deal of the time but had to be pulled by trackline.

It was man killing work and even the first class passengers were expected to pull their weight with the regular river men.

However, Mr. Pierce says it was a good life. "We were provided with the best of everything, we were young and we didn't have it any harder than anyone else."

It was all part of the job and a surveyor had to take the good with the bad or vice versa.

So boys if you are looking for a life of adventure don't overlook the possibilities inherent in the life of a surveyor. There are still plenty of tough assignments left. The North Pole hasn't been surveyed yet.

Has Blueprint Of 'Fair Deal'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(AP).—The inauguration platform of President Truman is a symbol of an unprecedented $42,000,000,000 social-economic platform with which he is launching his "fair deal."

Fifteen days ago Truman gave the new Democratic-controlled Congress a blueprint of what he wants to keep the United States prosperous and restore real world peace.

Here in brief are the president's principal recommendations:

Four billions of dollars in new taxes, chiefly on business.

Repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law and re-enactment of the Wagner Act with "certain improvements."

Raise the statutory minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour.

Enact a system of pre-paid medical insurance.

Extend and strengthen rent control.

Continue the Government's power to control consumer credit, and enlarge its authority over bank credit.

Authorize regulation of speculation on commodity exchanges.

Stand-by authority to control wages and certain prices, if needed.

Authorize study of facilities for producing basic materials now critically short, such as steel; authorize Government construction of production plants if private industry doesn't.

Use farm-price supports to achieve abundant agricultural production and parity of income for farmers.

Press development of power, irrigation, navigation and flood control projects, including the controversial Canada - United States St. Lawrence Waterway.

Pass housing legislation calling for at least 1,000,000 low-rent housing units in next seven years.

Provide universal military training.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

The International Savings Institute, established at Milan in 1925, is to be moved to Amsterdam.

THIS DRAMATIC PHOTO of weary, make-shift shod feet, tells better than words of the steadily increasing streams of fugitives from behind the Iron Curtain now pouring into western Berlin. At the end of their painful journey they find a welfare office, set up by the city government, under direction of the American, British and French commandants. Many of the refugees from Russian tyranny, aided in their escape by the anti-Soviet underground, were slave laborers in Russian zone.

FIRST STEP is an interview. Some refugees, like this woman, fearful of reprisals against relatives still in Soviet territory, try to keep their identity unknown.

THEY'RE GIVEN FOOD AND SHELTER. There are eight camps maintained for the refugees, all filled to capacity. It has become necessary to urge many of them to return home, so that those genuinely in danger can find a haven. At the present, about 150 persons arrive at the office every day.

IN THE CAMPS, the fugitives are able to relax for the first time in many days. Many of them have worked in Russia uranium mines, some are white Russians, others come from various eastern European countries. All are in need of help.

Plan Neighborhood Council To Serve Parkhill District

Thirty-two citizens met at the Dixon House this week to discuss the formation of a Neighbourhood Council whose primary objective would be to develop recreational facilities for the people living in the Dixon House area

Many organizations were represented, Scouts and cubs, Mothers' Auxiliary, Club Chicoutimi, Men's Group Committee, Kawartha Deaf Club, Louise Braille Society, Harriers, Gladiolus Society, Health Department and weaving Guild.

Recreational Director Jack Dane opened the meeting with an outline of the purposes and functions of a Neighbourhood Recreational Council. He explained that the ultimate aim was to have several such councils throughout the city. A recreational centre should service the people within an area of half a mile. Peterborough would need at least six of these organization. Upon completion of this long range plan of neighbourhood councils a central advisory committee would be set up with representation from each of the neighbourhood councils. This central body would work closely with the recreational commission advising them of the needs of the respective neighbourhoods and the entire community. The Neighbourhood Councils would work with the Recreational Committee.

Purpose of the Neighbourhood Councils would be to promote public interest in recreation, to plan, sponsor and conduct public recreational funds to be spent on the neighbourhood facilities and programs.

As an example of neighbourhood co-operation, May 24 was cited. Each of the neighbours in the area could pool their firecrackers and meet at a chosen place to enjoy a much larger display than any family could afford. Other holiday celebrations could be carried on in the same manner Many other social events for the benefits of the neighbourhood could be conducted by the council such as picnics, flims, corn roasts and community sing songs.

Development of playing areas and playing facilities would be as well as handicraft programs.

These programs would enable the children to develop a hobby or further the one they have. Cultural activities would be encouraged. These would include discussions groups and music appreciation groups.

This neighbourhood council's area is a half a mile in radius. The area is bounded on the north by High Street, on the west by Monaghan Road and Jackson's Park, on the east by Reid St. and Highway No. 7 and on the south by Murray St. There are approximately 846 houses in this area. It was divided into eight zones and groups appointed to canvass the houses in the area. The groups will have a questionnaire with such questions as if the people wish to help form the organization, the number in the family, their recreational interests and the support they would give the organization if formed.

Edward Brown volunteered as canvass organizer and will allow his house to be used as headquarters for the canvassing. L. Belanger is secretary for the present and recorded the minutes of the meetings.

Next meeting of the groups will be at the Dixon House on Monday, January 31.

Tanganyika Peanut Crop Disappointment To Britain

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Jan. 20—(CP).—Woeful tales from Tanganyika have sobered enthusiasts who believed Britain's food worries would be soothed by a flood of peanut oil. Development plans given parliament in 1947 forecast 1,230,000 acres of peanuts in east and central Africa in 1949. Now the prospects are that the total area cropped next year, both in peanuts and sunflowers, will not exceed 60,000 acres.

Unexpected difficulties have hampered the pioneers who have labored to bring waste land into cultivation. At first glance the African plains seemed to await only the deft application of modern machinery and methods to make a rich contribution to world fats supplies. The need of new production was urgent.

Insufficient funds

Food Minister Strachey said the British Government was ready to spend £25,000,000 ($100,000,000) to carry through plans for large-scale production. Now it appears this will be insufficient.

Visitors to Tanganyika report that nearly 50,000 acres of bush have been cleared in the Konga area but only 45 per cent of this land can be used for peanuts at once due to small roots left in the ground and a accumulation of trash that would impede harvesting. The remainder will be used to grow sunflowers, also an oil-producing plant.

Estimates of peanut yields of 754 pounds an acre are being revised. Difficulties in getting production under way may mean yields for a substantial period will be no more than 500 pounds.

Water and Soil Difficulties

The red soil has proved a problem because it bakes hard in dry weather and operations have to be concentrated into the rainy season which may last a few weeks.

The hard, abrasive soil wears out implement parts quickly and different kinds of steel now are being tested to obtain greater economy.

Water supplies have proved difficult to obtain.

More heavy machinery, in top condition, is required to clear the hard thorn bushes quickly. Repair facilities must be improved.

African workers have been willing to learn but turnover has been too large. Many workers stay for only a few weeks and then return to their families.

Both European and native workers require better housing accommodation and better services such as schools before a permanent establishment can be created.

Strange Disease Killing Quebec Birches

By PIERRE DUBOIS

QUEBEC, Jan. 20 (CP)—Dieback, a mysterious disease whose origin continues to baffle entomologists, is believed responsible for stripping Quebec's forests of the sturdy birch.

Just what the plague has cost the province so far cannot be estimated in terms of dollars and cents, Dr. Lionel Daviault of the department of lands and forests said today. Thousands of dollars already have gone into extensive survey.

"Only more and more research can eventually check the situation," the provincial entomologist said in his latest report. Preventive work meanwhile is stymied until such time as the death-dealing what-is-it has been definitely identified, he added.

Reports of an infestation of birch, probably from the same source, came out of New Brunswick in 1932. Later it invaded Quebec and northern Maine. It swept through the Gaspe and thickly-wooded Metapedia valley, and now is menacing other parts of the province.

Symptoms of the plague are more easily discernible in summer when the slow death of the birch hardwood can be observed in stages. The tree is stricken at the top first. Little by little the leaves shrivel up, until at long last they look like thousands of scrawny, skinny fingers clutching at the sky.

Among the most recent of several theories advanced on the cause of dieback is one which suggests that a virus is gaining some headway in the field, possibly from a sucking insect. The minute organism can be seen only under an electronic microscope.

YOU'D NEVER BELIEVE SHE IS 48 . . . .

She's one of the peppiest, happiest-appointed women you ever saw. At the time when most women think life is passing them by—she's right in the midst of things—always ready to go places and do things . . . as popular with the men as girls half her age. To look at her you would never believe she was a day over 35.

How does she do it? She gives the credit to Dr. Williams Pink Pills . . . for well she knows how important it is to have plenty of rich, red blood during those years when so many women are "pulled down" in health by bodily changes.

Beggs Labels Labor Council 'Nondescript'

Reports Local 293 May Decide To Withdraw Delegates

John Beggs, president of Local 293 UPWA and delegate to the Allied Labor Council, on Tuesday night said his local would not be bound by any motion or action decided on by the Council regarding the present UE-USWA dispute.

After listening to various delegates once again thresh over the arguments pro and con on the Steelworkers' attempt to organize the employees at the Outboard Marine Co., he read a long statement on the subject.

"I find it necessary as a representative of my local on this Council," he said, "not to be bound in any way, or to bind the local which I represent, to any action, motion or business pertaining to the dispute."

He described the present Council as "nondescript" and said that unless changes were made Local 293 would probably discontinue sending delegates.

"As far as I am concerned," stated Mr. Beggs, "and I think I express the views of the local which I represent, they will not be sending delegates to the Allied Labor Council as it is now constituted."

The president of the Quaker Oats local criticized the workers of the UE locals saying they had not shown as much interest in the Council as their representatives. If they had, he contended, "instead of a nondescript Council they would have had a homogeneous body of workers chartered under the policy and principles of the CCL."

And he added, if this had been the case, the UE voting power in the Congress would have been strengthened.

Unions in Peterborough have no one to blame but themselves for the "makeshift policy" of the Labor Council, he said. "Had the responsible executives of each local union taken a direct, responsible part in the business and deliberations of the Allied Labor Council and made policy, instead of being led into policies advocated to the delegates by UE representatives, then your voice in the community as a Labor Council would have carried some weight."

President Alfred Barber said that any statements he made recently which appeared in the press were made as a result of decisions reached on the floor of the Council, and he felt he was speaking on behalf of the members.

"Brother Fenwick (M. J. Fenwick, Steelworkers' organizer) started it by making charges in the paper that I was a tool of the UE, and I had to reply," he explained to the delegates.

"If he were a man he would be here to lay his cards on the table," said Mr. Barber.

No Jurisdiction

"This Council has not the jurisdiction to enter into a dispute between two unions of the CCL," said William Whibbs. "Some members here are AFL and don't want to interfere in a CCL matter even though they may privately take sides one way or another."

"The Council can do much for labor in Peterborough but we can't go too far on a matter like this."

John Rawley, UE representative, delivered the terse reply: "It isn't a jurisdictional dispute between two unions—it's plain raiding on the part of the Steelworkers."

"It is nauseating to me to see UE members standing on the floor of this Council and defending the Steelworkers who are openly raiding," said James Southgate. "It would appear that some of the delegates hold greater loyalty to the CCL than their local. There is only one matter to consider: is the Steelworkers' action raiding or not?"

Mr. Southgate contended that while the appeal of the UE against the recent Labor Relations Board ruling was pending with regard to Outboard Marine, the UE claim should stand.

"We have a unique poition with CCL, TLC, and independent union," stated Mr. Southgate. "Let us keep the unity here among the workers of Peterborough."

William Triggs said that the whole policy of the UE was one of disruption, and he was followed by another delegate from Local 293, Gerald Anderson who said "if the UE organization isn't doing a job let's bring in Steel."

Philip Knibbs, UE representative, claimed that some of the remarks implied that the present Allied Labor Council was going to be broken up and re-created as a CCL group.

Vote of Confidence

He then moved that "the Council re-affirms its belief in the Allied Labor Council, embracing all bona fide unions in Peterborough, and pledged to do its utmost to maintain the maximum labor unity."

Messrs. Beggs and Anderson proposed that this motion be tabled until the next meeting but they were defeated. And the motion by Mr. Knibbs then passed with only these two delegates from Local 293 dissenting.

Council then accepted a letter from D. Drummond, president of Local 527, in lieu of a personal appearance, to substantite charges he made against Jack Morton at a recent meeting.

The motion by Philip Doherty and William Whibbs that Mr. Drummond's letter was unsatisfactory to the Council was defeated on a poll vote.

Because Local 524 has not yet elected its officers for the year, including delegates to the Council, Mr. Doherty asked that nomination day for the ALC be moved back to Feb. 22, and the election be held on March 1.

BIG POWER PROJECT—One of the largest power projects now under construction in eastern Canada is the Des Joachims development on the Ottawa River, 140 miles from the capital. Prime Minister Defends Ilsley's Fees

OTTAWA, Jan. 20 — (CP)—A veteran of the craft, Prime Minister St. Laurent took up the cudgels on Wednesday night on behalf of lawyers in general and former Justice Minister Ilsley in particular.

He was asked at a press conference what Mr. Ilsley, now in private practice in Montreal, would get from the government as legal counsel for the Royal Commission on Transportation.

Mr. St. Laurent said he did not know, "but whatever it is it will not be as much as he is worth." He had never known a counsel for a Royal Commission to get as much as he could get in private practice.

He suggested that a fee of $200 a day would not compensate Mr. Ilsley for the time spent away from his office. Half that sum would probably go to help maintain his firm's office.

A reporter suggested that "There has been some inflation in that field."

The PM retorted that there had not been as much inflation in lawyers' fees as in some other fields. He himself had been paid $150 a day as counsel for the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations before entering politics, and "I would not have done it for any other client" but the government.

When he was Minister of Justice, he had "frequently pleaded" with lawyers to take Federal cases. He had been told repeatedly that the Government did not pay nough.

RECORDS PROGRESS—By day Otto Nicolaj, Latvian magazine illustrator who has emigrated to Canada, works as a rigger on the Des Joachims power development in the Ottawa Valley. In his spare time Nicolaj paints the big project on canvas. This Department of Mines and Resources photo shows Nicolaj painting in a meadow overlooking the construction site.

Winter Returns To Most Of Canada

By The Canadian Press

Winter has come to most parts of Canada and, just about everywhere, spring appears a long, long way behind.

Gone are those January golf games people were talking about a few days ago, gone the summery playsuits, the robins, the sprouting flowerbeds, occasional swim and the sculling on the bay. Things are getting back to mid-winter normal.

Except for a few cold, snowy days just before Christmas, the weather in central and eastern Canada had been balmy until this week, although the west coast had frost and snow.

Then, yesterday, 80-miles-an-hour gales ripped dacross Ontario from Windsor to the Ottawa valley and reached north to North Bay. They derailed a freight train, grounded two winter-berthed freighters, flattened houses, toppled trees and knocked over telephone, telegraph and hydro poles.

Farther east, in Quebec's Maria Chapdelaine country around Lake St. John, a windstorm hit the village of St. Felicien, smashed in windows, tore off roofs and pushed over walls. Power and communications lines snapped when poles tumbled.

Nova Scotia, which had more than its share of the recent mild weather, shuddered under the lash of southwesterly gales and freezing rain. A fishing boat was reported overdue on the storm-tossed Bay of Fundy.

In Ontario, in the wake of the storm, polar air drove gustily eastward, bringing snow and drifting to countries east of Lake Huron and Georgian Bay. Most of the province prepared for a clear, cold day with light winds.

Meanwhile, subzero temperatures gripped the prairies. Plains dwellers were warned to expect more cold weather. Temperatures generally ranged from 25-30 degrees below zero, with Prince Albert, Sask., reporting a Wednesday low of 44 below.

During the year a 60,00 gallon water storage tank for fire protection was installed costing $4,227.32. A provincial grant of 25 per cent. amounting to $1,014.16 was granted.

The Fire Marshall insisted on the installation of an automatic fire alarm system, and this was done by at a cost of $2,247.70.

Mr. Wilson emphasized the heavy expenditures that had been made on improvements during the past year.

This Landlord Likes Couples With Children

TORONTO, Jan. 20 — (CP)—Take a landlord's word for it—couples with children make the best tenants.

Landlord Bert Oldershaw, 27, who owns a 10-family apartment house, won't rent to childless couples. He says he prefers the parents because:

Tenants are "more responsible" if they have children; they don't complain about minor details; they are careful with fire; they are unlikely to leave their place deserted; they stay put, whereas couples without children are more likely to pick up and move; they don't complain about the noise other tenants' children make, and "there is a much better spirit of camaraderie among the building's occupants."

Oldershaw should know. He has a two-year-old son named Dean.

Show Desire For Peace

LONDON, Jan. 20—(Reuters)—Prime Minister Attlee, broadcasting Wednesday night for recruits for the armed forces, said Britain's record since the war has shown her earnest desire for peace. "No one can accuse her of any aggressive designs," he said. "I do assure you that I would not countenance any expenditure on defence that was not necessary. Nor would I agree to any diversion of men from industry in these difficult days were I not sure that it was essential to the safety of the country."

Find British Winters Curtailing Country's Supply Of Electricity

By STUART UNDERHILL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Jan. 20 (CP)—The man who does without his electric heater despite chilly temperatures and makes one light do the work of two or more is a true patriot in the eyes of the British government.

Once more winter has brought appeals for economy in the use of electricity. These appeals are backed up by threats if commercial quotas are exceeded, and higher prices to discourage use by consumers.

Peak winter demand is expected to run 11,000,000 and 12,000,000 kilowatts. Top capacity of the British Electricity Authority now is estimated at about 9,700,000 kilowatts.

To reduce consumption to the level of supply the BEA has asked commercial premises like hotels, theatres and stores to restrict use of their electrical equipment by as much as 50 per cent in some areas. Firms that refuse to cooperate can be prosecuted under Defence Regulations.

Domestic consumers ahe being approached through their pocketbooks. Bills during December, January and February will carry a surcharge that will increase the price of electricity by about 25 per cent. The extra charge will compensated by rebates in the other nine months of the year.

Industry Least Affected

Industry is being asked to make the least sacrifice. It is hoped, however, that demand will not exceed 80 per cent of the 1946-47 peak, and various measures have been worked out to ease the load during the daytime hours when the drain is heaviest.

Some factories try to save work requiring electrical processes until the night shift, while others stagger working hours to spread out the load. Still others employ their own supplementary generating plant.

A report by the Institute of Production Engineers said staggered working hours were not popular with employees, and generally resulted in decreased production. It suggested that individual firms be left to work out their own economies rather than conforming to an over-all plan.

Failure of firms and individuals to reduce demand to a level at which it can be met will result in "load-shedding" during which whole areas are deprived of electricity, or having their supplies severely curtailed. In 1947-49, a mild winter, the load was reduced on 61 days.

Plans for developng Britain's power system have not been realized as quickly as was hopel. Two new stations began production in 1948 and three more should be in operation this year. By 1953 it is hoped a total of 20 new stations will have been built, sufficient to meet all demands.

Short Bobs Soften Effect of Caps

Empire-styled short bob features divided bangs which soften severity of simple cap. Curls are massed at back of head.

Semi-waved bangs and feathery fronds at the temples make this hair-do a more flattering frame for the simple cap.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

If a snub woollen beanie is your choice of a hat for rugged weather, choose a hair-do that encourages a simple cap to yield more flattery.

Able to oblige are short bobs which are softened around the face to relieve the severity of the simplest beanie.

Examples of short hair-dos that add glamor to simple caps are two new short-bob styles designed with this aim in mind by Victor Vito. The added attraction of this New York stylist's hair-dos is easy upkeep. After the hair is cut and shaped—and it pays to invest in expert barbering, says Mr. Vito—all you need to do is to keep locks neat is to keep them smoothly brushed.

One of the recommended bobs which is reminiscent of Empire-styled coiffures is cut no longer than two inches and has semi-curled bangs divided by a center part. Hair at the sides is pulled back over the ears and at the back of the head from crown to nape of nec This loosely curled hair is bru ed into a mass of fluffy ringl s.

The other short bob is cut in graduating lengths from two to four inches and has full semi-waved bangs and feathery fronds at the temples. If you want to give this one a tryout under your woollen cap, part hair at the side and cut in graduating lengths so that strands lie flat to crown. Fluff up uncurled ends and brush to cover ears. Curl feather-edged strands at the temples by brushing over finger.

Things He Loves Man's Choice In Decoration

If wives want their husbands to stay home nights, they should let men furnish at least one room of the home—a cozy, informal spot furnished with plenty of unbreakables.

That seemed to be the opinion of eight prominent Toronto men-about-town who selected furniture for "the room I'd like to stay home in."

There wasn't a period piece or cluttered corner in the lot. But there were plenty of bizare touches such as potted lemon trees, impressionistic paintings and walls which invite charcoal doodling.

A man likes to be surrounded by the things he loves—his work and particular hobbies.

One of the most original rooms was dreamed up by artist R. York Wilson, a man who admits his decoration shows "a disorderly mind." Because he can't resist drawing on table cloths, he scrawled freak table settings all over a huge round coffee table. Two unframed canvasses—one of a heavy headed violin played—were tacked up on a wall covered with sketches.

"Any of my artist friends who want to practice on my wall are welcome."

Toronto Maple Leaf's goalie, Turk Broda, formerly of Brandon, Man., was the only gentleman who picked out a bedroom. It was a riot of colors, among them the blue and white team colors of the Maple Leafs, and contained a big gold trophy on the bedtable. Three grey and white sketches of Oriental women were lined up behind his bed.

Band Leader Mart Kenny, formerly of Vancouver, gave the room an illusion of space through a big mirror above the fireplace and beige rugs. One wall framing the fireplace was of figured brick-red wallpaper, contrasting with the other three green walls, and matching touches of green on lamps, chairs and curtains. He used sectional furniture.

"My room must be livable and the sort where children and dogs are welcome," said sports writer Ted Reeve. "The Moaner" scoffed at modern touches, preferring a monstrous brown leather chesterfield, natural oak walls with stucco panels, and a brown figured rug capable of withstanding any onslaught. There was a fruit dish on the fire bench and a hunting scene on the wall.

A quiet, conventional room was furnished by Martin Baldwin, director of the Toronto Art Gallery, who believes "pictures should be the active element." He chose a W. A. Winter painting and a black and white sketch, and put a potted lemon tree in a corner.

Wes McKnight, sports broadcaster, wants a room "which puts me and my friends at home." Raisin wine easy chairs surrounded a fireplace, and lining one wall was a huge radio, phonograph, and television set.

Mayor Hiram McCallum of Toronto, favors a room where "you can put your feet up and read a magazine." Two blue sateen backdrop chairs with foot stools were in order.

Samuel Hersenhoren, orchestra conductor, decorated his living room with two favorite batons, autographed pictures of people in the music world and a symphony score open on a music stand. A moody impressionistic painting of a violin by Canadian Richard Taylor hung above the fireplace.

"Fine thing when you've to tog up like this before you can buy anything!"

Color Unlimited In Spring Hats That Fit the Head

MONTREAL, — (CP) — Lady, when you choose your spring hat let that urge for color have its way.

For—take the word of B. A. Usheroff, president of the association of millinery manufacturers here—this season's millinery will be "gayer and more colorful than ever before."

Though admitting that a woman's hat defies regimentation, Mr. Useroff, speaking at a Montreal fashion industries meeting, ventured some predictions on milady's choice for the spring season.

Natural Straw

It will most likely be of natural straw, trimmed with flowers, veiling, sheer nylon or iridescent taffeta. There will be some felts on hand, though, in case her taste runs that way.

In size it may be tiny or "half the width of the dinner table," but it will fit on her head, not perch on a few hairs.

Other contenders with natural straw will be spring navy, pinks shading to mauves and purples, greens and burnt tones.

When a woman buys a hat she is, and should be, "completely emotional," said Mr. Usheroff That is one field where reason and practically considerations have no place.

A woman's hat, he added, is not worn to keep her head warm, to keep sun out of her eyes or rain off her hair. Its purpose is simply to "tantalize, attract and charm."

The most conspicuous item in her wardrobe, a hat can make or mar her ensemble. If it lacks allure the rest, however chic, may not draw even a glance.

Morris Black Honeymooning In Miami, Fla.

In Toronto Wednesday afternoon Rabbi David Monson officiated at the marriage of Natalie Berenice Housman and Morris Black of Peterborough. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Housman of Boston, Mass., and the groom son of Mrs. Philip Black, of this city.

Bouquets of spring flowers and roses, cedar boughs and ferns decorated the room in which the ceremony took place. Wedding music was by Murray Adaskin, violinist. The canopy was held by Joseph Moldaver and Aaron Black of Peterborough, nephew and brother of the groom, Meyer Atkin of Toronto, cousin of the groom, and the bride's uncle, Harry Goldberg of New York city.

The bride wore a two-piece dress of winter white wool with matching small hat, trimmed with milane veiling, navy accessories and corsage of orchids. She was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Morton Atkin of Oshawa. Mrs. Irving Moldaver of Peterborough, sister of the groom, was matron of honor, attired in a grey wool crepe suit with pink felt hat, grey accessories and sweetheart roses at her shoulder.

Mr. Isadore Black was groomsman for his brother. Peter Moldaver, young nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Receiving afterward with the wedding party was the bride's mother, gowned in turquoise crepe with black hat, and the groom's mother in plum crepe two-piece dress and black accessories. Each had a corsage of Talisman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Black left for Miami, Florida, to spend their honeymoon the bride travelling in a navy gabardine suit with matching accessories. They will reside in Peterborough.

Home and School Association News

SACRED HEART SCHOOL

The Rev. G. F. Sullivan opened the meeting of Sacred Heart Home and School Association Tuesday evening. Mr. J. Cairns introduced the speaker, Mr. E. Wolff, whose topic was "The Island of Newfoundland."

"There is much to be seen along rambling coast line of the Island, the numerous rivers and streams and around historic towns and quaint fishing villages," he said. Hordes of silver Atlantic salmon battle their way up Newfoundland's cold, clear rivers each spring seeking out spawning grounds at the headwaters."

"The people consisting of Irish-English and Scotch descendants are either rich or very poor, their chief diet being fish, bread, flour and molasses. Agriculture is practically unknown and hospitalization is very backward.

"St. Johns is the capital and the oldest city in North America. Corner Brook, largest town on the west coast, has the largest paper mills in the world."

Mr. Wolff took the H. & S on an imaginary trip which he had personally travelled last October from Port Aux Basques to St. Johns and brought out many interesting experiences he had.

Mr. W. De Noble thanked the speaker for his most enjoyable talk. Lunch was served by Mrs. McDougall and her committee.

HOME AND SCHOOL COUNCIL

First meeting this year of Peterborough Home and School Council was held Wednesday evening in the YWCA, Mrs. A. W. Nelson presiding. Miss Marion Pound, teacher's representative, was introduced.

Considerable discussion took place concerning highlights of the Provincial Board of Directors' meeting in Toronto reported by Mrs. Nelson. Numerous questions and answers enlightened members in regard to election procedure. Mrs. L. M. Richardson and Mrs. C. English stressed importance of understanding the Home and School methods of election. Handing out of nomination forms at March and April meetings was suggested.

Mrs. D. Rostocky, home education convener, gave a thorough report and told just how many enthusiastic - minded parent groups are in action. "Response has been encouraging and well worth while" she said.

Mrs. C. H. Crowe, radio and visual aid convener, described various programs to be heard. She urged each school to send a representative to a meeting Friday, January 28 in the Public Library at which Dr. R. Kidd, assistant director of Canadian Association of Adult Education, will speak on films and how to use to best advantage in programs.

Mrs. A. G. Stock, hospitality convener, pointed out the need of establishing friendly and sociable atmosphere at the meetings. She offered her services to attend any meeting or to assist new conveners.

Mrs. V. R. Henry, health convener, announced two outstanding speakers coming to the city, Dr. McKendry public health nutrition professor at University of Toronto who will speak with special reference to the breakfast survey made in certain Peterborough schools on February 3 at the YMCA, and Dr. Don Cameron, who will introduce health week with an address on Trends in National Health on February 1 at the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. W. H. Frise gave a reading on "Family Living" which pointed out the home has always been the strongest influence and is far ahead of all other character-forming agencies with no serious rival. "The child spends one hour a week in church school, 40 hours in day school and about 60 in the home," it said. "No physiologist can replace a good mother and father. "Chances are, if real religion is not taught and caught in the home, it may never be caught" she concluded.

A social hour followed the meeting with Mrs. Stock and her committee serving refreshments.

Sane Hats Mark Spring '49

THESE NEW BONNETS shun daffy effects in favor of sleek uncluttered styling. Paired with plain "bubble" sailor (left) of polka-dotted crepe is an umbrella with matching fabric-covered handle and tip. The model (right centre) wears a ribbon-trimmed, broad-brimmed, natural-colored straw sailor. She is trying a silver-gray straw with adjustable brim on the little girl statue. A dimpled double brim gives distinction to the natural-colored shantung straw flattop (top right). Pale blue doeskin jersey is used to make the scarf-draped visored hat (bottom right). Blue silk poppy adds profile interest to lacy straw bonnet (bottom centre).

Womens Hats Plain For Spring

NEW YORK—(NEA) — This spring may well be remembered as the season when women's hats became almost if not utterly sane.

Husbands who titter and truck drivers who whistle at what they call "dillies which women perch on their heads" will find very few of these to poke fun at this spring. Many are as bare of ornaments as Christmas trees heading for the fireplace.

Lilly Dache, who can make a hat look as important for its contour as for its plumage, features untrimmed flattops which are a cross between a beret and a sailor. One of natural shantung straw, for example, owes its distinctions to the flattering line created by a dimpled double brim.

Sailors as sleek and uncluttered as a GI's helmet are launched by designer Sally Victor. These "bubble" sailors are paired with umbrellas, the handles and tips of which match the cotton print or polka-dotted crepe of the hat.

Another Sally Victor sailor of natural-colored balibuntal introduces a trend toward a wider brim and a taller crown and is simply draped with black and brown ribbon bows. New turnabout hats of lustrous silver-gray straw—so named because brims are adjustable—are soft sailors with flexible contours and with crowns chastely banded with orange-toned ribbons.

The hat of fabric which relies upon soft drapery of the same material for subtle flattery is another example of the trend toward simpler design. A scarf-draped visored hat of Baroness Radvanszky's design, for example, which is made of pale blue French doeskin jersey is as simple-styled as a jockey's cap.

Bonnets for spring, of course, go gay but not gay enough to evoke titters. Typical of styling which even hard-to-please husbands will like is a Madame Andre-designed bonnet of lacy burnt straw. Black velvet ribbons are laced through the crown and profile interest is enhanced by a large blue silk poppy.

Cool Moist Air Needed By Blooming Plants

Those Christmas gift plants will last longer and bloom more profusely if they are given ample sunlight; if the air is kept cool and moist; if the soil is never allowed to dry out; if they are kept out of draughts; and if insects are kept under control.

The temperature n most houses during winter is generally too warm for most plants—particularly at night. That is probably why grandmother grew better house plants than many do today—her rooms were cooler at night. Night temperatures should be 60 degrees or lower, so it is worth moving a plant to the coolest room in the house at night. The exception to this is the Poinsettia which likes warm nights, never below 60 degrees, and does not relish sudden changes of temperature.

When Soil Crumbles

A plant needs water when the soil has died out so that it crumbles in the hand. Most plants are best watered by standing the pot for a few minutes in a shallow pan or saucer containing an inch or two of water. The pot should be removed when the surface of the soil appears moist.

The humidity in most homes is far too low for house plants—particularly cyclamens. Humidifiers or pans of water placed on radiators will help. Standing the pots or saucers or trays of gravel which are kept moist is another way to provide humidity, but the pot itself must not stand in water.

Pyretheum or rotenone sprays will kill aphids, white flies and redspidermites, or nicotine sulphate may be used.

Be careful to avoid leaving house plants in a draught, and if you use cooking gas, remember that all plants are most susceptible to any unburned gas which escapes into the air. It will cause both flowers and leaves to drop off.

Nursing a Science and Art Dr. Epping Tells Students

The career of nursing was described as "a profession, a science and an art" at the capping exercises of St. Joseph's School of Nursing Wednesday evening. Dr. J. R. Epping, president of St. Joseph's Hospital medical staff, addresser the class of 23 preliminary students. Ability and qualities shown in work since September has qualified each to receive her cap and enter junior year studies.

High responsibility of caring for the sick was emphasized by the speaker. He also spoke of the avenues that will be open to them as graduate nurses and expressed the hope they will decide which one they prefer to follow during the training period.

Personal congratulations on reaching their first milestone were extended by Dr. Epping, and he added, "I hope you will attempt throughout your career to make yourselves keen competent nurses."

Reverend Sister Mary Cabrini and Miss Mary Crowley are the only students coming from Peterborough homes The others from Ontario are: Misses Jean Arnott and Kathleen Goodyer, Toronto; Marjorie Baskey, MacTier; Doreen Brown and Ruth McIntyre, Lindsay; Hazel Colgan, Tweed; Ruth Corcoran, Kearney; Joyce Ellery and Elizabeth Grimes, Brighton; Marcella Farrell, Stirling; Catherine Houle, Keene; Rita Leveque, Maynooth; Claire O'Keefe, Campbellford; Anita O'Neil, Douglas; Leona O'Reilly, Little Britain; Elizabeth Nichols, Apsley; Teresa Moher, Douro; Lenore and Rita Murray, Ennismore; Kathleen Swift, Omemee. From Chelsea, Quebec, is Miss Lillian Furrie.

Sister Superior assisted teachers, Sister Gonzaga and Sister Bendicta, in the capping ceremony. Names were read by Miss Evelyn Barnett, nursing arts instructor, who was chairman.

Monsignor F. J. O'Sullivan commented on the increased number of students enrolled—more than three times as many as in the last capping he had witnessed. He also commended teachers for arranging public exercises on this occasion since there is much of inspirational value gained from a ceremony. "I'm afraid we in Ontario have become too indifferent to ceremonies" he said "In European countries and in Quebec they are given greater prominence."

"Hills of Home" was the song chosen by Miss Jean Arnott, class member, for her song. In the audience was her mother who had come from Toronto for the capping exercises.

All students joined in the class song for which they have set their own words to the music of a popular song.

Appreciation to all who have given them assistance in any way was expressed by Miss Claire O'Keefe.

Of Interest to Women

Greatest Danger To Youth Is Older Designing Woman

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been out of high school a year now and have found myself a good job. Recently I met a woman with whom I fell in love, although she has been married three times and is six years my senior. But she tells me that she loves me and wants me to marry her. I have consented, but my parents and friends tell me that I am very foolish as I am only 19 years old, but I feel that I could support her.

Dorothy Dix

The only drawback is that she is very sloppy and will not keep herself neat or her apartment tidy There are piles of dirty dishes in the sink every time I go to see her. Just what do you advise me to do?

BAFFLED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I advise you, with all the earnestness that I can possibly command, not to wreck your entire life by making the fatal mistake of marrying this unsuitable woman. In my long life I have seen this tragedy happen so often. I have seen so many fine lads, with a brilliant future open before them, dragged down into the gutter by designing women who traded on the boys' lack of knowledge of the world, and their youth and inexperience, to make them marry them. And I have seen these same boys, with all the youth and ambition crushed out of them, prematurely old, hating the degraded wives who were fastened like millstones about their necks.

She-Doesn't Qualify

Consider the woman who is trying to marry you now, son. She already has been married and divorced three times. Does that qualify her for being the recipient of a boy's first love? You say she is not even personally neat. Do you think you could stay long in love with a slovenly woman? Could you be satisfied with a home in which the floors were never swept or the dirty dishes washed? This is the kind of wife, this is the kind of home you will have if you let this woman jockey you into marrying her.

And don't forget that if you marry at 18 you will have such a long, long, long time to regret it.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Is it a weakness of character to fall completely and desperately in love and not to be able to get over it to love someone so much that nothing else in the world is as important as being with him; that nothing is fun without him; and life itself isn't much good without him? I am 28 and have been in love with a married man for two years. I know just how that sounds and I shudder to think that it has happened to me, but it has.

The man I love is one of the finest men in the world. He has a lovely, Christian character — clean, considerate, understanding —and he love me as I do him. He is so loyal that he knows that nothing can come of our love.

I wish you would print your thoughts on this. How can I forget someone I know I cannot have? Will I have to go on the rest of my life loving him or can I, in time, forget?

A LOST SOUL

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: When we have a great sorrow we think that we will never cease suffering, that our wounds will always ache, that we can never forget; but that is not true. In His mercy, God gave us an antidote. It is forgetfulness. Of course, we never wholly forget a great sorrow. Deep down in our hearts it is always there, but in time we somehow get the courage and the strength to face the inevitable. The memory of the pain that has agonized us grows dimmer. The wound ceases to throb with every breath and somehow, some way, heals over.

But each of us has to work in his own cure, and I think you can best do yours if you seek a new environment and deliberately make new interest for yourself, instead of brooding over what can never be.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young woman of 18. Have been married for six months and am extremely unhappy. We are at present living with my husband's parents and it seems to me that he cares for his mother more than he does for me. I think that the wife should come first in a family, not the mother.

I still love my husband, but it aggravates me when he listens to his mother rather than to me. Because of this we quarrel and I am so miserable I don't think I can stand it much longer.

DISCOURAGED NEWLYWED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Most teen-age brides salt down their honeymoon in brine over whether their husbands' love for their mothers is greater than their love for them. It takes an 18-year-older about 10 years to realize that the love a man gives his mother and that which he gives his wife are two different emotions that do not conflict.

A spaghetti ring makes novel housing for tuna a la king.

Tuna Fish Will Dress Up Spaghetti Dish for Dinner

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Fish either canned or salted, keeps well on the pantry shelf. But don't keep it there too long if you are looking for good protein food all the family will enjoy.

Tuna a la King in Spaghetti ring (Serves 6)

Two cups medium white sauce, 1 green pepper, minced, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 pimiento, cut in thin strips, 2 cups canned tuna fish salt and pepper, 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten.

Prepare white sauce. Saute green pepper in butter until tender but not browned. Add green pepper, pimiento, and tuna fish to hot white sauce. Season to taste and simmer 5 minutes. Stir in egg yolks and cook 1 minute, stirring constantly. Pour mixture into center of spaghetti mold.

Spaghetti mold

One 8-ounce package spaghetti, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, 2 cups medium white sauce.

Cook whole spaghetti. Add eggs to white sauce and mix lightly with spaghetti. With vegetables tongs, or large spoons, pick up spaghetti, arrange in well-greased ring mold and fill with remaining mixture, stirring enough to mix the two. Place mold in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., about ½ hour. When ready to serve, unmold and fill center with tuna a la king.

Creamed Codfish (Serves 6)

Two and one-half cups salt codfish, shredded, 6 tablespoons butter or margarine. 6 tablespoons flour, 2½ cups milk, 2 eggs beaten slightly.

Soak fish in cold water 30 minutes, or place fish in saucepan, cover with cold water and bring to boil twice, draining each time. Melt butter in another pan. Add flour and stir until smooth. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly and cook until fish is heated through. Remove from fire. Add a little mixture to the beaten eggs. Pour back and stir into first mixture. Then return to fire and heat quickly, stirring constantly. Serve on toast rounds, with baked potato or with riced potatoes.

Test Tube Birth Is Subject Of Wide Legal Argument

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK, Jan. 20—(CP)—How is society going to accept test tube babies?

That's a question currently confronting jurists, lawmakers, sociologists and moralists in the English-speaking world.

Are they to be consider the legitmate children of husbands and wives when the husband is not the actual parent? If the answer is yes, when is a test tube baby illegitimate? What legal rights has the child? The husband of the mother? Does a mother commit adultery if she submits to artificial insemination. At the moment, legal, religious and lay opinion on their status is diversified.

In Great Britain a woman received an annulment of her marriage on the grounds her husband was incapable of normal relations. The court referred to her infant child as illegitimate —despite the fact that the husband himself was the father of the child. Conception had been aided by a physician.

With this as a springboard, demands were made that the British government settle by law the social status of children born of artificial insemination.

In the United States the subject has occasioned much speculation. New York State, as a result of one legal action, passed a law in 1948 which establishes test tube children as legitimate when the husband has given express or implied consent to artificial insemination.

Elsewhere, it's up in the air, subject to legal interpretation by the courts.

Canadian Decision

In a recent Canadian case where the husband did not consent to the pregnancy by a donor —the child was held to be illegitimate, and the wife guilty of adultery.

There was no moral turpitude involved in the adultery, the Canadian court held, but the pregnancy of the wife without her husband's approval constituted "an invasion of the reproductive function." Earlier, an English court held the same opinion in another case.

The Journal of the American Medical Association editorialized in 1939 that "the concept of legitimacy seems to demand the child be the actual offspring of the husband of the mother of the child," and added that if a third party were the donor, "it seems the child is illegitimate."

The actual number of test tube babies today is unknown. A survey made in 1941 disclosed that 3,649 children had been born by artificial insemination in the United States.

It is generally conceded that an accurate estimate is hard to make because the parties involved do not want it known.

"With adoption it (the test-tube method) is the last resort of the childless," an official of the Planned Parenthood Federation said, "but as long as there is any doubt whatever as to the statues of such children, couples will think a long time before they go ahead with it."

Municipal Affairs Subject Of Talk

An address on the conduct of municipal affairs in Peterborough was given to the Peterborough Branch of the Louis Braille Society by ex-Mayor William Ovens on Wednesday night.

He outlined the working of the various civic bodies and predicted that the Council would predicate its plans on the assumption Peterborough would have a population of 50,000 in the near future.

Next year, he said, would be centennial year, and in that time the city has increased from 2,000 people to 36,000, and still rapidly growing.

Entertainment was provided by William Rickard, who sang several Scottish songs and told Scottish stories, and by F. Cotton, a recent arrival from England, who gave some vocal solos.

Refreshments were provided by the ladies of St. Luke's Anglican Church.

Field Secretary Ed Brown spoke briefly on the activities of the blind and reported on the recent convention of CNIB field secretaries in Toronto.

Want Civic Dinner For Visiting Scots

A civic dinner for the visiting Scottish curlers who will be here Jan. 31 has been proposed to the council by the curling club.

R. F. Downey wrote to the council, on behalf of the club, that the CPR and CNR are arranging for breakfast, and the host curlers will provide dinner. The Scots and district curlers who will compete with them would bring the entire lunch company to about 75. This request was left to the reception committee of the council of which Ald. Sands is chairman.

District clubs that will be represented in the local reception and games throughout the day are: Bobcaygeon, Lindsay, Fenelon Falls, Dunsford, Lakefield, Oakville, Oshawa and Peterborough.

PARADE GROUNDS

Children took advantage of the ice on the parade grounds at the Armouries, Wednesday night for skating, about 30 children flashing the blades. The ice was even better than that on the city rinks.

Security For U.S. Will Determine Aid Programs

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (CP)—American security in the long run will be the all-important factor in any military-aid program sponsored by the United States.

This was made clear today by a highly authoritative American source in a discussion of prospects for a North Atlantic defense alliance and for closely allied military help for non-Communist Europe.

Elaborating on the "Allies only" label fixed last week to conjecture about export of American arms, this United States official drew this distinction:

1. The proposed Atlantic pact is nothing more than a "political agreement" whereby the United States, Canada, France, Belgium, Britain, the Netherlands and Luxembourg would join forces to meet aggression.

2. Requests for United States military assistance have come from all parts of the world, and, in theory, have nothing at all to do with the Atlantic security arrangement.

This source disclosed that military aid had been asked by countries "all over the world". Some of these are in no way associated with mutual-defense alliances to which the United States is a party, he said.

He emphasized that, despite the ortable military equipment is nited States' huge productive potential, American supply of ex-limited."

In meeting requests for arms the ultimate criterion would be how such aid affected the security of the United States and how this help might eventually add to general prospects for world peace.

Today's statements followed those made last Saturday by Michael McDermott, State Department press officer, who warned in effect that the United States cannot spare military equipment for countries unwilling to enter a defense alliance against Communist expansion.

Officials said McDermott's announcement was aimed directly at Sweden, where press reports have taken the opposite tack. The Swedes, neutral in two world wars have proposed to their northern neighbors—Norway and Denmark—that they cold-shoulder Western alliance bids and join her, instead, in a policy of strict neutrality.

Today's statement was seen as a softening of the McDermott "ultimatum." Sweden's security obviously is vital to the security of the United States. With that background, observers said, she presumably would be eligible for United States military aid, whether a member of a defense alliance or not.

The fact remains, however, that formal co-operation in a mutual defense arrangement will make any country more in line for American help, "limited" as it may be.

Council Passes Bylaw On Financing

City council has passed a bylaw asking the Legislature for increased borrowing power to finance the new Civic Hospital, as authorized by the December vote of the ratepayers.

This special legislation is to amend the Peterborough Civic Hospital Act of 1945. It is to provide additional funds for the completion of the erection of the hospital and such further funds which may be required for future enlargement of the hospital."

The additional works refer chiefly to the nurses residence for which plans and specifications are now being prepared by the architects.

Another clause seeks approval of payment of $5,583.42 to T. A. Wilson Construction Co., the balance of the cost of building the Civic Arena on Park St.

Want Smoke Test

Smoke test of plumbing preceding occupancy of houses listed by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has been ordered by the council.

The motion by Ald. Doug Miller and Ald. H. Dodds expressed a recommendation from the special committee that is revising the building bylaw. It requires compliance with the local plumbing bylaw and its national building code standards.

This action resulted from several recent complaints of coal gas leakage from the chimneys of houses bought from the Corporation.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING COURSES

In the YWCA on Mondays from 7 to 9 p.m. the Girls' Work Committee of the Peterborough County and City Religious Education Council are holding courses on leadership training. The first course, The Bible and Christian Religion, will be conducted by Rev. Ivan Morgan, Murray Street Baptist Church and the second, Toward the Understanding of Youth, by Rev. B. Gordon, Trinity United Church. Anyone interested in this type of work is welcome to attend

Commit Youth For Trial On Ten Charges

Carl Northey, 21, of 567 Murray St., was today committed for trial by judge and jury on 19 charges of forgery. Northey has pleaded not guilty to all charges, which involve allegedly forged endorsements on 9 cheques — seven for Family Allowance payments, two Old Age Pension cheques and one from the Dominion government. Total value of the cheques is $229.50.

Preliminary hearing before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, was held in police court today, on one of the charges. Crown and defence waived preliminary hearing on the other nine, which will go before jury at the next sittings of the General Sessions.

Mrs. Winona Porter, 1203 Grand Ave., testified that she had not received her usual Family Allowance cheque for $10 in February 1948. The following month, she said she had watched the mailbox and had seen a man, whom she identified as Northey, approach it, notice her watching him, and then leave without taking any action.

Examining a Family Allowance cheque made out in her name, she said that the signature on the back of it was not in her writing.

Detective Sergeant John Stevenson of the city police department told the court of interviewing Northey at Guelph Reformatory. There he said samples of Northey's writing of the names on the allegedly forged cheques were obtained. The original Porter cheque, samples of Mrs. Porter's signature and the alleged Northey signatures were entered as crown evidence.

Harry L. Corner, store manager at Peterborough, testified that his store had cashed the Family Allowance cheque.

John A. McKone, principal of the Peterborough Business College, was called as handwriting expert for the crown. His conclusions, which he detailed with a description of the characteristics of the writing examined, were that the samples entered by the crown as Northey's writing were the same as the endorsement on the back of the cheque.

Bail was set at $3,000.

Motorist Fined

Fred Jones, Douglas Ave., was found guilty on a charge of careless driving in court today and fined $10 and $15.40 costs. The charge was laid following an accident on Dec. 24 on Rubidge St.

Pay Speeding Fines

Fines of $5 and $2.50 costs were meted out to four accused in court today, who entered pleas of guilty to speeding. Those fined were: A. Norton Buell, Brockville; James MacKenzie, 492 George St., North; Duffus Motors, 300 Water St.; and W. A. Roberts, Lakefield.

Paid $26 Week For Loafing Enjoy Florida Sunshine

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 20—(CP)—More than 1,000 New Yorkers are loafing in Miami and getting up to $26 a week from the state.

These persons qualify for benefits under the New York Unemployment Insurance Law because they have satisfied the state they are ready and able to work at their vocations in Florida but can't find employment there.

Among them are hotel and store workers, orchestra players and others who normally are employed in resort areas.

Many others—there are no figures available on the number—have applied for unemployment insurance but have been rejected because thy have not met the "ready and able" requirements.

The state division of placement and unemployment insurance has four examiners and an investigator stationed in Miami to check claims.

Their job is to speed up payments of legitimate claims and to tab phonies. The division has no estimate of the amount of money saved as a result of its Florida operation.

Last year at this time, about 2,000 New Yorkers in Miami were total of approximately $40,000 a week in benefits. Last week, there were 1,500 claimants and 1,009 received a total of approximately $22,000.

In the first five months of last year, 850 Miami vacationers were available for employment, as required under the federal-state unemployment insurance system.

In addition, the division figures many persons who might have filed claims were scared off by the investigation.

The claimant must show he is both able and ready to work. Benefits run from $10 to $26 a week, for a maximum of 26 weeks. The average payment is $22 and the average period of unuemployment is 9.4 weeks. The number of claimants changes weekly.

The state now has a national total of more than 1,500,000 claimants. Of these, 455,000 are in New York State.

Not all the false claims come from the Florida resort, the division says, but that's where they are concentrated.

Boy Has Amnesia Seek Identity

PORT COLBORNE, Jan. 20 — (CP)—Port Colborne police are continuing their efforts to establish the identity of the young boy found lying in a dazed condition on the Welland ship canal bridge here Tuesday evening.

The boy, whose age was established as between 12 and 14 years, is apparently suffering from amnesia and cannot give any clues to his identity.

The lad was taken to Welland County hospital on Tuesday evening and will be examined by a psychiatrist tomorrow.

When found the boy carried a wallet containing about $5 in silver and he was wearing a green plaid mackinaw, donegal tweed trousers, a red school sweater with the letters "S.H.S." and a blue cap.

Police described the lad as being five feet, six inches in height weighing about 110 pounds with brown hair.

Rail Opposition Scores A Win

OTTAWA, Jan. 20 (CP)—Provinces opposing freight-rate increases scored a win today when the Board of Transport Commissioners ruled it would hear evidence on non-rail income of the railways in their case for higher rates.

The provinces contend "other income" — which amounted to $25,000,000 for the C.P.R. last year —should be taken into consideration in setting freight rates to ease the burden on the shipper.

The board left it out of consideration in awarding an increase of 21-per-cent to the railways last year, and the railways claim it should not be used in setting freight rates.

S. J. W. Liddy, C.P.R. assistant comptroller, said the figures would not be available for at least a month, as reports had not been received fully on subsidiary operations such as steamships, hotels and stock holdings.

Earlier, Mr. Liddy defended the depreciation allowance system of the C.P.R.

Teachers Remain Away From Jobs

MONTREAL, Jan. 20 — (CP)—Montreal's striking Catholic teachers remained away from classes again today, the fourth day of their strike for higher wages, and indications are that the dispute will not be settled until the week-end at the earliest.

Leo Guindon told a meeting of teachers last night that the Provincial Corporation of Catholic Teachers, of which he is also president, would be let in on the details of the strike.

Meanwhile, Louis Philippe Poisson, president of the Three Rivers branch of the Corporation announced yesterday that his group will meet in Montreal Jan. 21-23 to discuss important problems in connection with the teachers' strike here.

Mr. Poisson said that the problems which provoked the strike in Montreal were the same throughout the province. He added that "whatever solution Montreal teachers adopt to settle their dispute should apply to other teaching bodies in the province."

Report Prices Mixed On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Jan. 20 — (CP) — Prices were irregularly mixed in moderately active dealing here today. Base metals and western oils tightened quietly on small advances and golds slipped into lower ground. Industrials mixed gains and losses to hold steady.

Volume for the first three hours was 600,000 shares, about 146,600 shares more than yesterday's similar period.

McColl Oil was a feature in the industrials, advancing ⅝ to 16 and touching a new high at 15⅛ in brisk turnover. A few utilities and steels firmed while papers slipped into lower ground. Canada Permanent Mortgage added $3 at $189 and Goodyear Rubber was ahead $1 at $103.

Waite Amulet led the firmer base metals with a new high at 13⅜ and then sagged to 13¼, gain of 1¼. Quemont, Hudson Bay, were fractionally tighter while Torbrit, Consolidated Smelters and Steep Rock slipped.

Dome was down $1 at $16 in a weak gold group. Wright-Hargreaves, Kirkland Lake, Central Patricia and O'Brien reacted to mild selling pressure.

Anglo-Canadian, Calgary and Edmonton and Foothills tightened in a quiet western oils list.

Royal Tour Money Gaining In Value

JOHANNESBURG, Jan. 20 — (CP).—South African five-shilling ($1) pieces struck in 1947 to commemorate the royal tour, are now bringing prices several times their face value.

In Britain and the United States they are selling from $3 to $6 each. An official, of the South African Mint says the practice is quite legal.

"Only 300,000 five - shilling pieces were struck in 1947," he said. "They were intended for collectors and are bound to gain value."

Exports Doubled

LONDON, Jan. 20 — (CP). — Board of Trade figures to-day showed exports to Canada in the first 11 months of 1948 were valued at nearly £64,000,000 ($256,000,000) compared with £33,333,000 in the same period in 1947. The Canadian market remains in the top category along with the United States as the prime objective of British exporters, encouraged by the government throughout last year to direct a maximum of goods to dollar countries.

Negative Lab Report Leaves Death Mystery

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 20 (AP)—A negative laboratory report by the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington brought a halt today to the investigation of millionaire Grenville Baker's mysterious death.

"It still leaves us with nothing to hold anybody on," said Sheriff Frank Stoutamire in discussing the F.B.I. tests of evidence in the pre-dawn roadside death Monday of the 27-year-old sportsman. He added that he still believed Baker was killed accidentally when his Jeep was wrecked on a dirt road leading from his mother's luxurious plantation home near here.

With Baker when he died with a wound in his head was Thelma Griffin, 21-year-old divorcee and tavern waitress.

SCHOOL YARD MISHAP

Bobbie Austin, age 10, of Dobbin Avenue, slipped on the ice at Queen Mary School while playing tag at recess to-day and dislocated his elbow. Dr. Mylks treated the boy and took an X-ray to be sure there was no fracture.

CAR WIRING BURNS

Firemen extinguished a car fire at 418 Sheridan St. shortly after 5 a.m. today. The car, owned by H. Sutton of that address, developed a short circuit and the wiring began to burn. Damage was limited to the wiring.

Police Suspect Telephone Gang

TORONTO, Jan. 20 — (CP)—Police said today a "telephone gang" was suspected in the robberies of money, jewelry and silverware from two North Toronto homes yesterday.

Jewelry and silverware "valued at thousands of dollars" was stolen from the home of Fred G. MacLeod, president of the MacLeod-Cockshutt Gold Mines Limited. Included in the loot were a platinum ring valued at $3,000 and a $1,000 diamond ring.

At about the same time $900 and jewelry was filched from the nearby home of Lillian Scrutin.

Police said the telephone gang, suspected of several recent thefts in the area, operated by phoning their prospective victims to find out whether they were at home. Mrs. MacLeod reported that someone telephoned her house nine times last week but did not reply when she answered. She was shopping when the valuables were taken.

SCRAP PILES

By the looks of the lane behind the stores fronting on George St. between Simcoe and Charlotte streets the city dump was moved to the vicinity of the market square on Wednesday afternoon. Meat baskets, paper, lettuce leaves and other rubbish cluttered up the lane.

Russian Production Increased 18 Per Cent

MOSCOW, Jan. 20—(AP).—The Central Statistical Administration announced today that Russian industrial production in 1948 rose 18 per cent. over the best pre-war year of 1940.

Pravda, Communist party newspaper, hailed the report as showing the immeasurable superiority of the Soviet system over the decaying system of capitalism."

The report said Russia's total harvest of grain crops last year was more than 4,000,000,000 bushels, "almost" equal to the highest grain output before the war.

Industrial production last year was 27 per cent. above 1947, the report said. But it admitted production quotas had not been filled in several lines, including passenger automobiles, diesel locomotives, chemical equipment, textile machines, railway ties and certain types of agricultural machinery.

Plans Of Canadian Chamber Outlined To Lakefield Group

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 20 (Staff)—An outline of the trip and discussions at the Vancouver annual meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce was given Tuesday night by Wilson M. Gemmell, president of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce. He was guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the Lakefield Chamber of Commerce at which members and their wives attended.

Mr. Gemmell was a delegate to the convention from the Peterborough Chamber. He described the national organization, which represents 100,000 businessmen of Canada, as the "Parliament of Canadian Business." The train trip of the eastern delegates across Canada to British Columbia was detailed by the speaker, with his comments on the area seen.

Mr. Gemmell stressed the impressive future which he felt was in store for the province of Alberta. He said that he believed that it would eventually replace Ontario "as the banner province of Ontario." With tremendous expansion in recent years, he said it had great potential strength with much natural wealth. He said the policy of the provincial government there had given Alberta a stable economy.

As a member of the National Policy Committee of the Canadian Chamber, Mr. Gemmell had a part in formulating the statement of policy of that body. He said that the round-table manner of discussion was an example of "democracy in action" and that all views were received on the topics under debate. The final evolved policy declaration, he said, was the considered views of more than 400 Canadian businessmen.

The Chamber, in its policy, recognizes the value and importance of agriculture, "for when the chips are down, Canada is still an agricultural country." The policy favored a free world market for farmers' portable surplus commodities.

The importance of small businneses in Canada's economy was stressed.

Mr. Gemmell said that he was surprised that there had been no declaration on Socialism, although there was one on Communism.

"A Socialist is a dissatisfied Communist and nothing more.... the only difference is that he does not believe in bringing his views about by revolution.... there is only one way he can turnn if he is disgruntled, and that is to the left."

The Chamber has urged a new Dominion - provincial conference on taxation as soon as possible.

Educational standards must be raised and the burden on the taxpayers eased, the Chamber policy states.

The Chamber's policy on employer-employee relations recognizes the rights of workers to organize into unions.

"The views of most businessmen with whom I talked was that they preferred to deal with unions rather than individuals. "The only qualification made was that the workers must be free to work where and how they desired, he said.

Favors Free Trade

A "selective" policy of immigration has been urged.

Much of the root cause of the inflationary trend today, he said, was felt to be due to government's increased spending, which made for heavier competition for limited supplies available.

Free trading on the world markets was endorsed. Production costs must be cut so that prices can be pared to the range which can be paid by overseas markets. Mr. Gemmell said that "although those prices today may be out of reach of the foreign customer, they are not unfair compared to the cost of manufacture....the costs must be cut so that goods can be sold more chesply. That is the only answer."

Other points in the declaration of policy dealt with by the speaker were: development of irrigation projects; a national defence policy "which will keep us strong and prepared for any eventuality"; opposition to double taxation.

The Chamber, he said, took a firm stand on the matter of granting too much power to government officials and agencies. The practice was "a negation of British justice."

The C.B.C.'s policy on television in Canada was criticized. The United Nations was endorsed wholeheartedly by the Chamber.

Summing up his impressions of the trip, Mr. Gemmell said it gave him a realization that "we are but a small part of this Canada of ours."

He was introduced by Lakefield Chamber President C. J. Davis. The thanks of the meeting were moved by A. G. Buchanan and Donald Hendren.

Omemee United Plans For New Church Building

OMEMEE, Jan. 20—(ENS)—A fund for a new church building for Trinity United congregation is to be opened immediately, it was decided at the annual congregational meeting. When it was agreed that a new building was required, every organization was asked to appoint a representative to meet the official board at the February meeting.

Report revealed a prosperous year in all departments of the church's activities. The Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt opened the meeting with prayer after a pot-luck supper.

D. Weir was appointed secretary. Mr. Zufelt reported 25 baptisms, seven marriages, six joining the church on profession of faith and six by certificate, seven removals by transfer and four by death. In commemoration of those who had died since the last annual meeting, two minutes' silence was observed, followed by a memorial prayer. Those remembered were Richard Woodworth, R. J. Balfour, Mrs. Armstrong, Mary Newman, Mrs. L. Best, J. G. Day, Mrs. Wm. Best and Mrs. Wm. Windrem.

Board of stewards' financial report, presented by P. Race, showed a surplus of $713.45; the trustee board report, presented by D. Weir, showed a balance of $433.02; Women's Association by Miss O. Wilton, $131.32; reserve fund by Mrs. G. Overholt, $25.01; Sunday school by G. Pogue, $35.55; Y.P.U. by G. Pogue, $136.39, and choir by W. Weir, $7.50.

Support Missionaries

An increased interest in missions seemed evident from larger contributions, the YPU setting the most outstanding example. Of an $800 allocatoon to Lindsay Presbytery Young People's organizations for the suport of the Rev. and Mrs. Floyd Honey in China, Omee and Bethel pastoral charge was asked to provide $200. Omemee Young People more than doubled their allocation and it was estimated that when Bethel returns are completed the charge will have almost trebled the allocation. The missionary and maintenance fund also was well over the amount allotted. The Women's Missionary Society sent to the presbyterial treasurer $21 more than the amount asked and in addition the newly organized CGIT sent $15, the Mission Band $71 and the Baby Band $13.

Appreciation was expressed by the chruch to the pastor for "excellent sermons," for the flowers he provided for the church and also for his leadership.

The unremunerated services of the choir and the leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Weir were acknowledged. Mr. Weir was granted funds from the church treasury for Easter cantata music. Mr. F. Johnson was thanked for his work as Sunday school superintendent.

Stewards P. Race. W. D. Weir and I. Connell were re-appointed and W. Thurston, who has moved to another district, was replaced by R. E. Brooks. Miss C. Connell and Miss M. Rea were appointed auditors.

HOW TO RELIEVE PILE TORTURE

Found Frozen On Roadside Man 53 Dies

School Boy Sees Man On Ground; 20 Feet From House

William George Hewitt, 53, of 1001 Water St., died in hospital here today an hour after he was found bleeding and badly frozen less than 20 feet from a house on Mill St. A post-mortem is being held, but it believed that death was due to exposure to the cold. The victim was married and the father of six children.

Police believed that a head wound may have been due to his falling or to a haemorrhage. Vernon Ferguson, for whom Hewitt did odd jobs in recent months, said that the dead man had a weak heart which had recently given him considerable trouble. He said he had last seen Hewitt late Thursday afternoon, when Hewitt had removed the shoe from one of his horses.

Police have not been able to determine how long Hewitt had been exposed to the near-zero temperature.

He was found about about 8:30 a.m. by Fred Anderson of 1013 Water St., on his way to school. The man was lying on the ground about 40 feet from an unused milk-house in which he had installed a stove for warming himself while he did work for Mr. Ferguson, who operates a stable and barn, which is behind the milkhouse. Hewitt was less than 20 feet from the nearest house.

The boy immediately notified neighbors, who called police and Mrs. Hewitt. When PC's Gordon Trennum and Sherman Kellele arrived, Mrs. Hewitt had come from their home on Water St., a few hundred yards away, and wrapped her husband in a blanket and a fur coat.

Hands Frozen Solid

Both hands were "frozen solid," said the officers, and his legs were also stiffened. He was unconscious, and white with cold. His clothing was for cold weather.

Taken to Civic Hospital, he was pronounced dead by Dr. Herbert Dobson a few minutes after he was admitted. A post-mortem has been ordered by Dr. Herbert N. Young, Coroner, to determine the cause of death.

First freezing victim of the district in some time, William

Signal From Aircraft Tells Churchill Plane Down On Ice

By GRAHAM TROTTER

WINNIPEG, Jan. 21 —(CP)— Safe and sound, 11 occupants of an Arctic mercy plane were located today on the frozen surface of Hudson Bay where their plane had been forced down and preparations were made for immediate evacuation.

R.C.A.F. officials at Stevenson Field here said there were several courses open to effect the rescue but that the most likely would be that the men would be taken out overland on a type of motorized sled known as a "Penguin."

The plane sent out from Churchill reported that the missing aircraft had ben sighted at 12:45 P.M. CST.

The search plane, not equipped to make a landing on the ice, hovered over the spot for a while. A wireless message from the airborne craft said that the plane on the ice seemed to be all right.

Approximately two hours prior to the sighting of the plane, the Churchill radio had picked up a signal from the missing plane that it was "down on the ice in 'A' quadrant of Churchill radio range."

Air Force officials, in disclosing this information, also revised an earlier estimate that only 10 men had been aboard the aircraft. The new total put eight crew members on the plane along with an army doctor, the sick department of transport radio operatce from Arctic Bay for whom the flight had been made, and an ill Indian. Previously, it had been thought that there were only seven members in the crew.

Earlier to-day the radio station at Churchill established contact with the missing plane, but after a few standard code signals, the message died out, apparently due to weak batteries.

The operator at the scene of the forced landing then began using a "Gibson Girl" transmitter, which sends out a steady signal on 500 kilocycles, the international distress frequency. It was on this signal that the plane from Churchill was homing.

The Gibson Girl, used by the crews forced down at sea during the war, is a small transmitter operated by placing it between the knees and turning a crank.

Pilot of the craft is Flt. Lt. Ken Moore of Vancouver.

Other crew members: Flt. Lt. R. T. Heaslip of Oshawa, co-pilot; Flt. Lt. A. B. Morabito of New Westminster, BC, first radio operator; Flt. Lt. F. L. Rowe of Vancouver, FO. C. G. Mattusch of Elmira, second radio operator; Cpl. J. P. Rae, Cupar, Sask., crew chief; LAC. A. A. Burge, Winnipeg, crew man.

With the exception of LAC Burge, all members of the crew are married. Their wives are liivng at Rivers, Man., except the wife of FO. Mattusch, who is at Brandon, Man.

2 Women Held In Paris Picket Incidents

PARIS, Ont., Jan. 21 — (CP)— Renewed picket line incidents in this strike-tense town today resulted in the arrest of three more persons. This brought to 10 the number held on various charges in connection with a dispute at Penman's Limited textile plant.

Arrested today on a charge of assault after a picket line clash was W. E. Stewart, 29-year-old international representative of the United Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.) Two women also were detained.

Police said charges against the women, identified as Mrs. C. W. Williams, 39, and Margaret Higgins, 18, both of Paris, would be determined by the Crown Attorney at Brantford, where the three were taken. Both women were said to be employees on the picket line.

The arrests came after an attempted march by strikers last night on the home of Mayor William England to protest the calling in of Provincial Police.

Union spokesmen said another protest meeting was arranged for tonight in nearby Brantford. They said action might be taken upon a proposal made yesterday to have Brantford sympathizers march to Paris in a demonstration of support for the strikers.

Knocked Hat Off

Today's disturbance was caused, picketers said, when one of the employees going into the plant struck Stewart and knocked his hat off. Stewart is reported to have hit him back. Arrest of the women followed pushing and shoving in the picket line. The union is expected to provide bail for all three, if all are charged.

Twelve additional provincial police constables arrived Thursday night from Barrie and Windsor, bringing to 37 the number on strike duty.

There were conflicting claims from union and management on how many of the more than 600 emoloyees are remaining at work. Union spokesmen said the number going to work is decreasing each day. D. L. G. Jones, company spokesman, said it was increasing.

Although mill operations are not scheduled for Saturday or Sunday, the union said picket lines would be maintained.

Chiang Gives Up Presidency Flies To Hangchow; Li Taking Over His Office

Generalissimo Left To "Take a Rest"; Chinese Officials Not Sure Yet Just What Leader's Latest Move Means

NANKING, Jan. 21—(AP).—President Chiang Kai-shek today handed the burden of war or peace to Vice-President Li Tsung-jen and flew to Hangchow for a rest and possible retirement. Li, accepting the acting presidency, faces the immediate problem of settling with the Communists, whose arms have steadily pressed Chiang back since last fall. Officially Chiang, who threatened many times in his stormy career to walk out, did not resign or retire. He just left.

Behind he left a statement saying he took the step "to lessen the hardships of my people," an informed source said.

SHANGHAI (Reuters)—The Chinese Communist radio heard here tonight, rejected in strong terms the Nationalists' appeal for an immediate and unconditional cease-fire as a prerequisite to peace negotiations.

There were indications that his original statement in Chinese was being revised to allow its presentation to the public in the most favorable light.

It was reliably reported Premier Sun Fo visited Li and submitted the Cabinet's resignation en bloc. It was unknown whether Li accepted.

An official announcement said he would visit Fenghua in his native Chekiang Province. The $500,000 four-engined plane in which he had been expected to flee Nanking remained at the field.

The official announcement gave no reason for Chiang's departure.

Chiang and Madame Chiang, who is now in the United States, usually pay a visit to his native home just before the Chinese New Year (Jan. 29.) This gives Chiang an opportunity to leave Nanking without making a clear break, which many factions are seeking as a prelude to peace with the Communists.

Gives Peace Group Chance

Official sources said they were certain his departure was intended as a move to permit the peace group to seek a negotiated settlement of the civil war under the leadership of Li.

It was learned reliably that Li agreed to take over the presidential duties only after receiving assurances that the official seal and other implements of authority would be given to him.

Chiang left behind a statement in which he said he was leaving Nanking because he needed a rest after many strenuous months of work, an official source said.

Whatever the purposes of Chiang's departure, it is an important step toward peace for China.

Many officials have hesitated to campaign actively for an end of hostilities because they feared Chiang's anger.

There was no immediate indication what steps would be forth-

School Board Emergency Session Held

MONTREAL, Jan. 21—(CP).—The Roman Catholic School Commission held an emergency session today to discuss the strike of 2,000 Roman Catholic lay teachers now in its fifth day but there were no details of actual proposals being considered.

Eugene Simard, commission chairman, whose arrival in Quebec last night dampened hopes of a break in the walkout, returned to the city this morning by plane and presided over the session. It was originally believed he would not be back in time for the meeting.

Meanwhile, the teachers whose strike has kept 50,000 of Montreal's 98,000 Roman Catholic pupils out of classrooms held a brief meeting this morning and scheduled another at three o'clock this afternoon.

The teachers have based their hopes of a break in the walkout on the fact that the commission can change its viewpoint on the only thing that is prolonging the strike—a promise that the school board will not take punitive action against any of them. The commission so far has refused to make such a promise.

If the commission promised this, the Roman Catholic Teachers' Alliance, who called the strike, and the Federation of English-speaking Catholic Teachers, who walked out in sympathy, would meet with the commission for arbitration.

Thursday, the teachers turned down a proposal that they return to work with the question of possible penalties being investigated by a special tribunal.

Ask Holland Free Prisoners In Indonesia

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, Jan. 21 —(CP).—A joint resolution to be submitted today to the United Nations Security Council calls on the Netherlands to release immediately all political prisoners in Indonesia.

The resolution will be submitted to the council this afternoon by the United States, China, Norway and Cuba.

Canadian delegation sources said Canada will support the resolution. The resolution is sure of the seven votes necessary for passage, informed sources said.

It is a revised edition of a United States plan which called for withdrawal of Netherlands forces from areas occupied during the recent Dutch "police action" against the Republic of Indonesia.

The new resolution does not call for withdrawal of Netherlands forces, but urges that the Netherlands stop military operations—which the Dutch have already done—and that the Republicans cease guerrilla warfare — which Indonesian representatives here say is growing daily.

The resolution, however, condemns the Netherlands occupation of republican territory as "incompatible with the restoration of good relations between the parties with the final achievement of a just and lasting settlement of the Indonesian dispute."

Shields Defends Policies In Rowdy Church Meeting

TORONTO, Jan. 21—(CP).—In a rowdy, three-hour church meeting, Dr. T. T. Shields last night defended the course that led to a split in the 20-year-old Toronto Baptist Seminary. Then he gave his audience of 1,500 a chance to peruse the printed record for 25 cents a copy. The pastor of Jarvis Street Baptist Church was at his fighting best as he explained the reason for W. Gordon Brown's dismissal as seminary dean and shouted down all efforts by Dean Brown to get the floor.

Dr. Shields was interrupted from all sections of the church during his lengthy address. Most of the time the 72-year-old pastor read from the 136-page printed statement which contained correspondence, minutes of meetings, statements and opinions in the month-long dispute.

After the meeting, the statement was sold for 25 cents a copy.

Official Record

The printed report was the seminary's official record of circumstances which led to the seminary's board of trustees requesting the resignation of Dean Brown. The Dean left early this month with 50 of the seminary's 70 students and formed a new school he calls the Canadian Baptist Seminary.

Dr. Shields said he urged the Dean's resignation because "the seminary was drifting on the rocks, defeating all we'd done in the last 20 years."

"I had to take action," said the man who formed the seminary in 1927 from a small group of Baptist students who broke away from McMaster University, then in Toronto, because its professors were lecturing "modernistic teachings." Dr. Brown was one of those students who later became dean of Dr. Shields' new school.

The printed statement asserted that the seminary under Dean Brown was allowing interdenom-

US To Recognize Trans-Jordan

LONDON, Jan. 21 — (AP) — Diplomatic sources today predicted Britain will recognize the state of Israel and the United States simultaneously will recognize the Arab state of Trans-Jordan within a few days.

This would be a move to iron out differences between the two big powers on Middle Eastern affairs and to promote peace between Jews and Arabs.

Here, it was reported unofficially that the British move would be to extend "de facto" recognition—meaning to acknowledge Israel's existence as an operating government with which it can do business.

United States recognition of Trans-Jordan probably will take a similar form.

The strategy behind the plan obviously was designed to answer charges the United States is giving primary consideration to the interests of the Jews in Palestine while Britai champion those of the Arabs.

Anti-Red Program Ready For Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—(AP) —A detailed Truman administration program for guarding western Europe against Communist aggression may be presented to Congress within a month.

Officials said legislation backing up President Truman's inauguration day promise of a plan to "strengthen the security of the North Atlantic area" should be in Congressional hands by mid-February.

They said Truman hopes by then to spell out to Congress a program calling for (1) a North Atlantic alliance joining the United States with Canada and at least five key European countries — Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg; (2) a United States outlay of around $1,000,000,000 to supply late-model arms and equipment to the Western European Allies.

The president also may request permission to send military missions to any friendly country in the world seeking American "advice."

Welch Trial March 14.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 21 (CP)— Second trial of Vernon Welsh, 25, Aylmer man charged in connection with death of wife, Florence, allegedly from strychnine poisoning Aug. 21, 1947, has been set for March 14 in St. Thomas, Crown Attorney Haines stated here today.

J. H. Thomas Dies

LONDON, Jan. 21—(Reuters)— J. H. Thomas, former Labor leader, who resigned as colonial secretary in the Baldwin National Government after an inquiry into alleged budget leakages, died at his home in suburban Dulwich tonight.

France Selling Bonds Monday

PARIS, Jan. 21 (AP)—Finance Minister Maurice Petsche today announced the French government will start selling 100,000,000 francs (about $14,000,000) worth of five-per-cent bonds on Monday.

The proceeds will be used for reconstruction and re-equipment, he said. The bonds will not be convertible until January, 1960.

A novel feature of the loan provides that certain previous series of bonds, now selling below par, can be exchanged at par value for the new issue. These old bonds will be accepted for only half the value of the new purchase, however. The other half must be paid in cash.

To prevent "unhealthy speculation" in bonds the government closed the French Stock Market today, here and in the colohies.

Trading will be resumed freely Monday, the ministry added, when all details of a new government loan have been disclosed.

Israel and Egypt Snagged On Negev Boundary Ruling

RHODES, Jan. 21 (AP)—Israel and Egypt have become snagged on the thorny question of determining Negev boundaries in their armistice talks.

A United Nations spokesman said both sides were in disagreement over important points concerning boundaries to be observed in Southern Palestine. He added, however, that they were in accord on a number of other points in the boundary matter.

In Tel Aviv Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok told the State Council yesterday that Israel and Lebanon were negotiating but had not yet reached the decisive stage of straight armistice talks.

Shertok added that Israel and Trans-Jordan were in communication, but no official armistice negotiations have started.

Details of the Israeli-Egyptian talks were still under blackout. Dr. Ralph Bunche, the acting United Nations mediator, saw both delegations twice yesterday.

The UN spokesman said that once the complex boundary question is threshed out, the issue of withdrawing and reducing forces would be solved easily.

There was no indication when the next joint meeting will be held. Unofficially it is known that the calling of the next meeting will indicate armistice terms have been reached.

The spokesman pointed out that while present talks will be restricted to Egyptian-Israeli disputes, any other Arab state is free to come here and negotiate an armistice under Bunche.

Meanwhile, Bunche flatly denied press reports quoting British Air Minister Arthur Henderson as saying British planes were sent over the Egyptian frontier at the mediator's request.

Bunche declared he had no knowledge of the flight, in which five RAF planes were shot down by the Israelis.

Scout Rescues Baby In Vent

TORONTO, Jan. 21—(CP)— Quick action by a 12-year-old boy scout, Bunny Ricketts, Thursday saved the life of baby David Bond after the infant fell down an air vent leading to a hot air furnace in the basement of his home on George Street. While the mother was calling the fire department young Ricketts took the air vent apart and pulled out the baby, covered with soot but unhurt.

The 14-month-old baby had been left on a couch by his mother, Mrs. Margaret Bond, while she went to find something in the kitchen. He rolled over, and fell down the hole of the air vent leading to the hot air furnace in the basement. Minutes later he was discovered stuck in the bottom of the pipe, feet first, on his stomach with his feet in the elbow of the pipe.

Injured Youth Given $20,000

WELLAND, Jan. 21 —(CP)— Twelve-year-old Harry Hopkins of Niagara Falls was awarded $20,000 damages yesterday by an Ontario Supreme Court jury for injuries suffered last Sept. 3 when he was struck by a taxi.

Harry's father, Fred Hopkins, had sued Harry White, owner of the taxi, and driver John Bent for $90,000 on behalf of the boy and $10,000 for himself. The elder Hopkins was awarded $2,790.

The boy's skull was fractured in the accident and other injuries resulted in nervous disorders, retarded mental functions and permanent blindness of the right eye.

Red Cross Collects Food For Britain

TORONTO, Jan. 21 (CP) — The Canadian Red Cross will collect funds in Canada this spring to purchase food for transhipment to Britain under the United Emergency Fund for Britain, officials announced today.

The money to be collected here following the regular Red Cross campaign next March will be used also to aid Canadian organizations and associations now engaged in this project.

A. L. Bishop, chairman of the Red Cross executive board said in a statement "the administration and distribution in the United Kingdom will be done by the Red Cross overseas office in co-operation with the advisory council set up by the UEFB.

"No Red Cross funds will be utilized in so doing," he said.

Canada Will Allow UK To Draw On Rest of Loan

OTTAWA, Jan. 21—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott today announced that drawings on the unused portion of the United Kingdom loan will be resumed at the rate of $10,000,000 a month.

Withdrawals were suspended when Canada's own dollar situation became difficult a year ago and when the unused remainder of the loan, authorized in 1946, stood at $235,000,000. the total credit was $1,250,000,000.

First withdrawal will be made this month, Mr. Abbott said in a prepared statement. The proceeds will be spent here to finance export of supplies to the United Kingdom.

Mr. Abbott said renewed drawings on the loan would "be particularly helpful in maintaining the flow of Canadian agricultural products to the United Kingdom."

He commented on the fact that during the last year the United States European Aid Plan had financed "a substantial portion" of food purchased in Canada for the U. K.

Resumption of the drawings would provide "a necessary and valuable addition to the assistance provided by the United States."

Arrangements concerning the monthly rate of withdrawals would be "reviewed from time to time." Improvement in Canada's foreign exchange and trade position during the last year made it possible for the drawings to be resumed.

Picton Girl Given Life Saving Cross

TORONTO, Jan. 21—(CP). — Twelve-year-old Mary Young has won the Girl Guides' silver life saving cross for her courageous rescue of a playmate from a caved-in sewer excavation near her Picton home.

The Girl Guides' Association's Canadian Council said today that Nancy Wright, 10, also was honored for helping Mary to rescue five-year-old Glendon Hook from the excavation. Nancy was awarded the gilt life saving cross.

Jeweller Guilty On 10 Charges Of Tax Evasion

PEMBROKE, Jan. 21 —(CP)— The government has successfully concluded its case against a Pembroke jeweller who has refused to collect the 25-per-cent luxury tax on retail sales.

As a result George J. Simpson will be sentenced in Magistrate's Court next Thursday after conviction on 10 revenue department charges.

He was convicted on seven counts Thursday, five of failing to file a return on taxable sales and two of failing to collect or pay the 25-per-cent tax.

The government got a conviction on the three other counts last December when Simpson first was hauled into court on charges of failing to file a return on taxable sales. Sentence was reserved.

Simpson was doing all right until he opened a new Jewellery store in Pembroke a few months ago and advertised his goods "tax-free." He said then he was not going to be tax collector for the government.

In court Thursday, the determined Jeweller conducted his own defence, questioned the constitutionality of legislation under which the 25-per-cent tax is imposed and ended up by saying he wanted to co-operate but had been "refused co-operation."

Dwelling on the British North America Act, he said chapter three, section 103 of the act provided that the consolidated revenue funds of the Dominion bear costs of collecting revenue and other government taxes.

"I am raising the question of constitutionality," Simpson told the court. "I am defending myself on those grounds. I have broken no law which is in harmony with our constitution. I'm not contending for my own rights or those of Canadian jewellers, but for things men have fought and died for."

Mrs. W. H. Morton, Mrs. G. K. Fraser and Mrs. E. Wand were appointed the committee to nominate officers for National Council of Women.

This morning's weather map presents a still-undecided picture. However, the evidence points strongly to the intensification and northeastward motion of a presently rather weak storm in Kansas. Consequently snow is expected to spread eastward over all forecast regions by evening, and to change during the night to rain in southern and central sections. The disturbance should move out of Ontario by Saturday night. Colder air will push across the province in its wake, and the outlook for Sunday is for cloudy and colder weather with snowflurries occurring in the Lake Huron and Southern Georgian Bay regions.

Industrials Firmed On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Jan. 21 — (CP) — Industrials firmed quietly in moderately active dealings here today. Base metals showed a brighter tone as a few key issues advanced and golds and western oils sagged into lower ground.

Volume for the first three hours was 576,000 shares.

Paris tightened in the strengthening industrial list and a few liquors and constructions were better.

Canada Cement gained ⅝ at 23½ following release of the annual report showing increased earnings and Sarnia Bridge was a feature for a gain of 2¾ at a new high at 18½.

International Nickel added ¼ at 35 in the stronger base metals while Hudson Bay and Waite Amulet slipped fractionally.

Sherritt was active for a seven-cent increase and Eat Sullivan and Anacona Lead improved.

inationalism to get a foothold. Two of his students—one from France and one from India—were not members of the regular Baptist convention which Dr. Shields formed in his 1927 re-organization.

Feared Severance

There was in addition a feeling among the trustees, according to the report, that the seminary under Dean Brown would eventually want to sever its connections with the mother church and even with the union of regular Baptist churches, of which Jarvis Street Church is the parent.

Dr. Shields at one point threatened to call police he said were in the hall. No one was asked to leave or evicted, however.

Dean Brown tried many times to get the floor to reply. Shouts of "shame" and "let him speak" were heard.

"This is my meeting," Dr. Shields said. 'I paid for it."

Following the meeting Dean Brown in an interview termed the public reading of the correspondence "unethical."

Dr. Shields told the meeting many of the letters were acquired when he removed a filing cabinet from Dean Brown's office in the seminary last December.

Seeking Pay

Today is pay day at the mill. Some pay is due strikers and union officials said they are trying to work out an arrangement for them to get the money.

Seven men arrested Wednesday night and Thursday on various charges were released on bail. The union put up bail for all the accused, although only two are union members. Charges range from creating a disturbance to assault.

It was after a meetung in the community hall called to protest the arrests that the unionists and sympathizers staged a parade down the main street and stopped in front of the mayor's home crying "We want the mayor."

A squad of 25 Ontario Provincial Police officers dispersed the crowd but arrested two men on charges of disorderly conduct—W. E. Stewart, an organizer of the union, and Arthur Giganic, a picket.

Not At Home

Mayor England was not at home when the disturbance occurred. His daughter, Mrs. Arthur Pike, earlier had been on the picket lines and her husband was one of those arrested Thursday. She said after the incident Thursday night: "I'm through with them. I have done my part as well as any of them. This has turned me against them."

Pike, one of those released on bail before last night's occurrence, also criticized the strikers. Protesting the demonstration, he told Val Bjaranson, Ontario director of the Textile Union, "After all—he's my father-in-law," referring to the mayor.

It was on the request of Mayor England that Provincial Police were sent here from nearby cities but up to Thursday the mayor's daughter and son-in-law were among the active strike pickets.

The seven strikers previously arrested were held in jail here for some hours before bail was arranged at Brantford. W. E. Stewart, a union organizer, charged the accused were crowded unnecessarily into a small cell that was cold and without conveniences.

After the union's protests that the detention here was little beter than the black hole of Calcutta the accused were moved to Brantford, from where they were released later Thursday night on bail. The union had also criticized Mayor England for asking Provincial Police reinforcements. The mayor said he had taken the action independently, but at Thursday night's council meeting approval was given his decision.

Request Export Ban Be Lifted

EDMONTON, Jan. 21 —(CP)— Two reports presented Thursday to the annual convention of the Dairy Farmers of Canada said the industry has every right to ask removal of all restrictions on export of dairy products since protection from margarine competition has been removed.

The reports were read by Erle Kitchen of Woodstock, secretary-manager of the association, and J. J. McCague of Alliston, Ont., president.

"The Supreme Court ruling (that margarine may be made and sold in Canada) is a most upsetting influence to the industry," Mr. McCague said.

"If the sale of the product in Canada is inevitable, it is the duty of dairy farmers to impress on those responsobile the necessity of leaving no loophole whereby it could be sold as butter," Mr. McCague said.

He told the representatives of 400,000 dairy farmers and dairy products distributors to plan no drastic changes in their production programs because it was difficult to see what is ahead.

The directors' report, read by Mr. Kitchen, said that "dairy farmers who have produced under ceiling price and under the impetus of war need have striven to produce increased amounts of products.

One official, asked to clarify Li's status, said:

"Frankly we do not know. If the government under Li is able to make a settlement with the Communists there will be no reason for the Generalissimo to return. If not—who knows what will happen."

A reliable source said, Chiang referred to his leaving the capital as a "withdrawal from duties and responsibilities I have held for 20 years."

Chiang added, according to this informant, that he hoped the government would be able to attain peace if he was not here.

Police Report Baby Kidnapping Just Hoax

MONTREAL, Jan. 21—(CP)— Montreal's mystery kidnapping blew up Thursday with a police announcement that the whole thing was a fabrication by a mother who willingly parted with her infant and then became panic-stricken.

Less than 24 hours after six-month-old Armand Bouchard was carried from his Dorchester St. home, Chief of Detectives Wilfrid Bourdon said: "It was all a case of worry and misunderstanding."

Officers who investigated Mrs. Thade Bouchard's story of a mysterious woman coming to her home and walking off with Armand gave these conclusions:

"The Bouchard family is a poor one and Mrs. Bouchard probably wanted to see the child get a better upbringing. Then, when she saw her baby carried away, she became afraid of what her husband would say and decided to tell a story of kidnapping."

The mystery woman, whose name was not released by police, last night took the baby to nearby Mackayville, where she lives. There she asked a garage owner and his wife to care for the child until morning.

"When she heard the report that the baby was kidnapped she returned Armand immediately," said detectives.

Council Does About Face Lauds County Health Unit

COBOURG, Jan. 21—(ENS).—After telling Counties Council in November that it was dissatisfied with the Department of Health unit, the council withdrew its comments on Thursday by passing a resolution in favor of the unit continuing its work.

This followed a report from the senior medical officer, Dr. C. W. MacCharles, who said the unit did not intend to take over the doctors' work but merely endeavored to supplement it. He said that the unit, which was set up in 1946, was the first of its kind in the province and had tried to build on the work by previous medical officers.

Speaking of communicable disease, the officer said there were certain steps along immunization lines to combat typhoid fever but in the cases of such diseases as mumps and chickenpox there was not the same ready approach. Due to the effect of mass X-rays and follow up of cases, the TB total of 63 in 1946 had gone down to 47 in 1947 and 31 last year. Venereal disease was also reduced, being only one-quarter of 1946. School children were getting attention that would tend to better health than in the past.

Speaking on sanitary inspections, he pointed out that the things which did not readily come to the attention of restaurant patrons were the conditions found in the kitchens and store rooms of these establishments. The health unit kept close watch on such things. The over-all health picture of the counties was gradually becoming better but such an improvement was not something that happened overnight.

Ontario Approves

Dr. R. G. Strothers of the Ontario Department of Health, expressed the satisfaction of his Department with the counties' health unit. He declared that the interest of the Department did not stop once a health unit was formed, but continued, as the Department paid a 50 per cent. share in the costs.

A report each month was received from the Counties Health Unit and it was one of the best in the province, he said. In fact it was used as a model in assessing the work of other health units in the province. There had been a fair number of deaths from diphtheria in the Province of Ontario but there had been few cases, if any, in these counties and no deaths. The reason lay in the immunization program and the fact that the unit headquarters knew the extent of the immunization program. There was also an encouraging decrease in the number of TB cases, he said.

"We are quite happy with the expenditure of our grant to the health unit here because a good job is being done and the grant is well worth the service that is being provided," Dr. Strothers declared.

Deputy-Reeve Galbraith told the council that he knew of a war veteran who had been denied a permit to sell hamburgers because there was no toilet in his establishment. Dr. MacCharles replied that new establishments had to conform to the regulations in that respect but in the case of old establishments, which were open before the regulations came into effect, some time was allowed to get them up to date.

No Contact

Reeve Jandrew drew attention to the resolution of November and asked if the report of the health unit as just heard, was supposed to be the answer. He said he did not feel that the different municipalities had contact with the local health unit. Where a complaint was made by a municipality, he thought the council should be advised of action taken following the complaint.

Reeve Alex Stephen replied that the counties Board of Health had got in touch with the provincial Department of Health as request and Dr. Strothers had consented to come down and address the council in January. At various times members of the council had felt that the staff should be increased and offices established at various points and this had been done, adding some $10,000 to the cost of operating the unit.

Dr. Strothers reiterated that the Ontario Department of Health was satisfied with the health unit. The department was willing to pay its share if expansion was felt to be needed but would not pay a grant if the amount expended was at a figure so low that the unit could not operate efficiently. Three sanitary inspectors were not too many for the counties and other items could be reduced with greater safety than sanitary inspectors.

"I am thoroughly in sympathy with the health unit," declared Reeve W. G. Bowles of Cartwright Township. "I think the resolution we passed last November should have read 'some dissatisfaction' rather than 'a great deal of dissatisfaction'. I don't think we should decrease the number of doctors and nurses. We haven't enough of the latter as it is. We had one sanitary inspector to whom apparently there was considerable objection. We see how the health unit functions in our schools. We spent $300,000 a year on roads so that our cars will not go over bumps but we kick on spending $3,000 for a doctor who saves the life of one child from TB. I think we have magnified the situation," he declared.

"I am not criticizing the health unit. Not as a whole," observed Reeve Jandrew. Warden Runnalls added that he too was 100 per cent behind the idea of a health unit.

Complain of Inspector

"I had reports of dissatisfaction in regard to a certain sanitary inspector," Reeve Stephen said. "Our secretary wrote two people who had made complaints, asking them to appear before the Board of Health but they didn't show up. We had nothing in writing and nothing to act on," he said.

Reeve Woodyard declared that the whole thing had been a misunderstanding and it was unfortunate it had gone out into the newspapers because it had done the health unit a lot of harm and it may make it hard to hire staff. Since the foundation of the unit there had been detrimental rather than constructive criticism. Dr. Strothers had said plainly how the department regarded the counties health unit.

Several members added their voices deploring the fact that according to his information, the counties health unit had only met four times last year. To this comment secretary Bill Barr said it had been 10 or 12 times. The counties Board of Health and said he would like to see reports from the Board on its operation.

"The Board runs the health unit. I think we should have reports from it the same as any other board. Why bother the Ontario Department of Health?" Reeve Dodge asked.

After the meeting, Reeve Jandrew told The Examiner that the wording of the November resolution was not the way it should have been.

"We didn't intend to criticise the health unit as a whole but we wanted to clear up certain phases of it which had been the subject of criticism among the members," Reeve Jandrew explained.

If Production Boom Continues German Economy Much Improved

By IAN FRASER

BERLIN, Jan. 21—(Reuters).—If the present production boom can be maintained and inflation avoided, the western zones of Germany can look forward to a genuine improvement in their economic position during 1949. Senior economic officials in the British and American zones believe that the enormous increase in the output of factories and mines in the bizone since the currency reform last June should counteract the present inflationary tendency by making more goods available.

Nevertheless, the inhabitants of the western zones have been told by their own political leaders that even with the currency reform and the Marshall Plan there is no alternative to real hard work if they wish to raise their standard of living above the pitifully low levels of the last three years.

Whatever may be said by its critics of the political consequences of the currency reform it is clearly established in the last statistical digest of the Anglo-American bizone that its effects on German production, which for the previous year had been in the doldrums, have been remarkable.

Up 26 Per Cent

The outstanding fact is that in the five months from May, 1948, the last month before the reform, to October, the latest date for which figures are available, the industrial production index for the bizone has risen from 47 per cent to 73 per cent of 1936—which is taken as the last "normal" pre-war year.

The revival of German industry in the last half-year, which so many European countries are watching with so many different feelings, is found mainly in the light manufacturing and to a lesser extent in the heavy metal industries.

In the automotive industry, the the emphsis was on commercial vehicles and tractors rather than on passenger cars. The output of the former reached 4,173 in October, which was considerably higher than in 1936, while car output only doubled to 3,800 against a monthly rate of 14,500 in 1936.

Steel output rose from 27 per cent to 51 per cent of the 1946 "normal", chemicals from 52 per cent to 68 per cent; textiles from 36 per cent to 62 per cent. Coal production rose from 7,453,000 tons to 9,772,000 tons, an increase which has been steadily maintained.

Given Two Weeks To Remove House

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 21 — (ENS). — Charles Ellis was brought before Magistrate R. B. Baxter in Police Court on Thursday by Campbellford Corporation for two breaches of building by-laws. He pleaded guilty to the first charge of removing a building from outside the town to within the town limits without a permit. To the second charge of making repairs or alterations to the building without a permit after it had been damaged by fire, he pleaded not guilty. He was given until February 3 to remove the building out of the town limits, and if on that date he appeared in court with nothing accomplished, he would, no doubt, be fined under the terms of the by-law, an amount not exceeding $50 on each charge, the magistrate said. He advised Ellis to contact the Council, his employer, and the man from whom he purchased the lot to ask them for assistance.

Fire and Building Inspector J. Y. Mitchell testified he had visited the Ellis home three times, but could not tell what the interior looked like. He said he had told Ellis it was contrary to the wording of the by-law to move a building within the town limits without a permit and that a permit would not be granted because his building did not comply with the by-law regulations.

Damaged By Fire

Mr. Mitchell told the court the fire had burned holes through the walls, but could not testify to the condition of the roof. He said the owner had erected a stove-pipe chimney which was an infringement of the by-law, and he had warned Ellis that if he made repairs or alterations he would have to submit plans and specifications to the building inspector. The inspector said he did not know what repairs had been made. "There was no house in the vicinity valued at less than $3,500," he concluded.

Questioned by the town solicitor, N. A. MacColl, Ellis said he had not been aware of a by-law until the inspector had informed him. He said he had been advised by two reputable citizens that a permit was not necessary, and both of these men knew the type of house he was moving there. One was the owner of the lot and the other, the owner's agent.

In refuting the charge that he had made repairs or alterations to the house, Ellis said he had only redecorated it by placing heavy paper on the walls and partitions and painting the interior. He claimed that he had not done any work on the house after he had received the town solicitor's letter notifying him that he must move the house within 30 days. In reply to the question why he had not complied with the solicitor's instructions, he said he had nowhere else to put it.

Treasury Balks Cutting Comics

LONDON, Jan. 21—(AP)—The Treasury balked Thursday at suggestions that it ought to cut off dollar spending by newspapers for American comic strips.

Labor Member John Platts Mills asked in House of Commons haw many dollars are being used for this purpose.

He also wanted to know whether Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, "is satisfied that such expenditure is in the national interest.

Glenvil Hall, the Treasury's inancial Secretary, replied that the spending figures are not available. He added:

"Opinions may differ about the merity of this form of art but I am satisfied that the difficulties of discrimination between various sorts of publications are so great that it would not be in the national interest to impose a censorship for exchange control purposes."

The comic strips, "Blonde," "Rip Kirby" and "Dick Tracy" are published in London papers.

Farm Forum On Security Favors Pensions At 65

NORWOOD, Jan. 21—(ENS).—The Trent River West Farm Forum was held at the home of Mr. George Regby with an attendance of 22. Spirited discussion followed the broadcast, "In Time of Need."

It was agreed by the Forum that the trend toward social security measures was a good thing, if not carried so far that Canadians lose their sturdy independence and begin to look upon the government as Santa Claus.

Family allowances for children met with approval, with the suggestion that some investigation be made to see that the money was spent as intended, not for beer, as found in some cases. A few thought that an improvement in the elementary education scheme would permit all teachers with similar experience, qualifications, etc., to received the same salaries, whether in rural or urban schools. In discussing workmen's compensation, farmers seem opposed to the present scheme whereby the worker contributes nothing and the owner of the business or farm has to pay. Many workers carry their own accident insurance. The most vigorous expressions of opinion centred around old age pensions. One objected to the type of person who is not too fond of work, does not save money, and sits around waiting for a pension. Another said "that every person should start to save something for old age as soon as the first money was earned. When $50 per month was suggested as the amount of pension, some thought that too much, since a pension is intended to help pay expenses, not provide the whole living. It was pretty well agreed that to be fair, old age pensions should be paid to everybody at the age of 65 by the government, but some held out for a direct contribution by every person.

In a comparison of living costs in urban and rural families, it was mentioned that cities have the advantage of cash and carry store, with consequent lower prices of food. Some one suggested that villages and smaller centres should have at least one cash and carry store for the benefit of farmers, who make a habit of carrying their purchases away with them and who pay cash. Many storekeepers are forced to charge higher prices to cover cost of delivery and credit to customers. It was thought that a Co-op should be run only on a cash and carry basis to give best service to its patrons.

Following the business session, Mrs. Rigby served lunch. Discussions will be continued next week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Lobb.

Support For Israel

The new state of Israel, to which Canada has given de facto recognition, is likely soon to receive full diplomatic recognition from Washington, not the provisional acknowledgment now accorded it. This week the American Government lent the Israeli Government 35 million dollars and has ear-marked another 65 million dollars for further loans during the year. Support to the tune of a hundred million American dollars is remarkably heavy—one need not say reckless—support for a new nation whose boundaries are not yet defined and whose government is purely provisional.

* * *

The present Israeli Government is not a parliamentary one. It comes out of special groups, many of which were illegal and underground less than two years ago. The policies and character of the Israel may be radically changed after the first general elections are held next week. Can the U.S. be certain that its $100,000,000 will not be used by a new Israeli Government with leaders and policies inimical to the U.S.? What is the U.S. supporting by its large loan; what will it be recognizing diplomatically? A purely provisional government of a new state whose character is almost unknown, whose policies are not stable, and whose people's intentions as expressed by ballot have never been indicated. The American moves come, of course, shortly before the Israeli elections. It would therefore seem that the U.S. is taking a pretty direct interest in them by a large capital investment. In fact, it is something like speculating in a company whose stock is about to go on the market without a prospectus.

* * *

We think that Canada and Britain, in their more cautious acceptance of the new state and their careful attitude toward it, are showing a wisdom which many Americans could commend to their own State Department.

Railway Service In Peterborough

A correspondent's letter published Wednesday has elicited other comments on the railway service in Peterborough. Our today's Letter To The Editor column shows their nature. We agree that the railway and telegraph service provided us is not perfect; sometimes it is distressingly imperfect. The telephone response at the railway offices is not always ready or accurate. Nor is it pleasant to arrive at a station in time for a train which was reported to be on time and find that it is a half-hour late. It is lamentable that Peterborough is almost cut off from telegraph service, in so far as sending and receiving messages are concerned, for twelve hours of the day, because offices are closed.

It should be remembered, however, that although the railways operate as public services, they are expected to operate economically. Perhaps the volume of telegraph business after six in the evening does not warrant the keeping of even one telegraphist in one office, to give and receive messages by telephone. A correspondent complained of the service on the Peterborough-Port Hope line. It is well known that this line operates at a loss each year, in its passenger service at least. The railway has attempted several times to get authority to abandon the line. The fact is that although Peterborough is one of the dozen major industrial centres in Canada, it is not located on the main lines of either the C.N.R. or the C.P.R. Between Toronto and Montreal, or Ottawa, via Peterborough, there is no important centre other than this city to feed the railways' passenger and freight business.

Our correspondents have, however, raised matters which both municipal authorities and the railways might investigate to their mutual benefit. Peterborough is not a hamlet of five thousand people, though both its railway stations might suggest it. The stations and telegraph offices need not be operated as if the city were a village and the citizens had only the rights and privileges of bush settlers. Peterborough is a manufacturing centre of consequence, it is the heart of an important tourist resort, it is the focal point of a large agricultural area, it is the largest shopping centre between Toronto and Ottawa north of the Lake shore. The railways might profitably make a new survey of the passenger and freight opportunities that exist here, with a view to acquiring more business rather than letting it slip through their hands, and with the intention of giving the city and district the best modern service practicable. The week-end passenger service and the connections with the main lines might receive particular attention. Although the railways must operate economically, they must also operate as a public service.

Senior Canadian Diplomats

Changes in Canada's diplomatic corps announced by the Prime Minister, Mr. St. Laurent, bring again to the fore the names of Arnold Heeney, Norman Robertson and Dana Wilgress. Mr. Heeney, clerk of the Privy Council and secretary of the Cabinet, will become Undersecretary of State for External Affairs, replacing the Honourable L. B. Pearson, now the Minister. Mr. Robertson, High Commissioner in London, will assume Mr. Heeney's present post as senior aide to the Prime Minister and Cabinet. Mr. Wilgress, Canadian Ambassador to Switzerland and the designer and expediter of many of Canada's chief trade agreements in the last twenty years when our markets were expanding, will become the High Commissioner in Britain.

These three men with Mr. Pearson are a remarkable and extraordinarily competent group. They as much as any other Canadians have been responsible for the high quality of the Department of External Affairs and the respect which it and our part in international affairs have been accorded abroad. They are, by traditional standards, young men for high diplomatic posts. Mr. Wilgress is 57, Mr. Pearson 51, Mr. Heeney 46, Mr. Robertson 45. Another characteristic common to all is that they received part of their education outside this continent: Mr. Wilgress at a school in Japan, the other three at the University of Oxford. The opportunity to study and travel abroad in young manhood is an enlarging experience which apparently redounds to the advantage of our diplomatic corps. It was a self-won opportunity for the three Oxford graduates; they were Rhodes Scholars.

Provincial Interference In Teachers' Strike

The strike of the Montreal Catholic School teachers is a warning example of the trouble which can be caused by provincial interference in municipal affairs. The teachers asked the Montreal Catholic School Commission to establish a minimum annual wage of $1,300 for women and $1,700 for men; arbitration was sought, and after much discussion the Commission agreed to a figure which satisfied the teachers, but which had to be submitted to the Quebec Municipal Commission. This body refused to agree to the figures which had been set by arbitration and set lower ones. When the teachers appealed to Premier Maurice Duplessis he supported the Municipal Commission and rejected the appeal. The strike was the result.

In this we see one way in which the increased power of provincial governments over municipalities may work against municipal employees. The Montreal Catholic School Commission apparently felt that it could meet the teachers in their request for more money, but the provincial authority disallowed their decision. Municipalities are still expected to hire their employees, raise the money to pay them, and live amicably with them; but a provincial authority dictates the wages which those employees are to have. That is what happens in Quebec, and Ontario now has legislation which permits the same objectionable interference.

We have said many times, and will continue to say, that provincial governments now have too much power over the affairs of municipalities, and that such power is wrong in principle and unfair in practice. The provincial governments—so jealous of their own rights when dealing with the Dominion—are too eager to snatch power from the municipalities under their sway. We should like to see the municipalities of Ontario join in a vigorous campaign to regain their right to deal with their own employees in financial matters, for we feel that taxpayers and employees alike would receive more satisfaction from that obvious and just arrangement.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A handwriting analyist says that people who fail to dot their i's are unpunctual. Not on the dot, at any rate.

Some people are trying to take the pleasure out of the mild weather by predicting that "we will pay for it later". But whatever comes, it can't go on much later than June.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: I have often heard it said that Peterborough, like Rome, is founded on seven hills. What are they?

ANSWER: Your count should be as good as mine. However, here goes: (1) Armour Hill, or Cuddlers' Snuggery (not so comfy on windy days), named after the Rev. Samuel Armour, first Anglican missionary to Peterborough who arrived here when the borough was still Scott's Plains. (2) The Normal School hill, otherwise known as Classic Mound, where many pedagogues are heaped. (3) The Dublin-Edinburgh street hill, also known as Ancestral Hill or Our Hill, because of the once-stately mansions on it. (4) The Cox Farm hill at the west extension of Weller, where the late Senator Cox's family had its earthly beginnings. The hill may now be called Hospital Heights or Elephantiasis Elevation. (5) Bertie Morrow's, the west end of Sherbrooke street beyond the Prince of Wales School. It is so named after Mr. Harold Morrow's father, who farmed there.

Mr. Harold Morrow is, by the way, the donor of the Exhibition Grounds to the municipality. In the good old days not so long ago, before the citizens got fancy notions about snow-ploughing the sidewalks and dumping the roads' snow into the river, it was possible to bob-sled along Sherbrooke from the top of Bertie Morrow's hill right down to Park Street. (6) Jackson's Park. I have already expounded on that name—the nephew of Mrs. Charlotte Jane Nicholls of respected memory. There used to be a first-rate toboggan slide in that area, operated for the commercial benefit of the Street Railway and the amusement of young and old. (7) The hill at the east end of Park Hill Road, which includes Nicholls Oval.

You may think I am running out of hills by including Nicholls Oval as one. It is as big as any of Rome's famous seven, all now built over. In fact, you need an experienced guide to find Rome's hills, for you can walk up the Quirinal, for instance, almost without realizing you are going up a hill.

QUESTION: What does Oxon. after a degree mean—like "M.A. (Oxon.)"?

ANSWER: Oxon. does not mean oxen, though the city of Oxford is so named—Oxford—because located at a place where oxen could ford the Thames river. "Oxon." is the abbreviation for the Latin 'Oxonienis' ('of Oxford'). Similarly M.A. (Cantab.) means Master of Arts in the University of Cambridge (Cantabrigiensis). Incidentally, the river Cam was obviously not fordable, if a bridge was required even in the days when disgruntled Oxford scholars trooped away from the Isis (that is the Thames' name in the area of Oxford) and founded the university on the Cam. The short form for Dublin whose graduates are less numerous though not less respected, is Eblan., the abbreviation of 'Eblanensis'.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR ALPHA: I read in an American encyclopedia of music that Dr. A. S. Vogt, the founder of the Mendelssohn Choir was born in Washington, Ontario. Is that a mistake? Surely Canada has no Washington?

ANSWER: Why not? After all, George Washington was a British subject for more than half his life and London has a statue of him. Washington, Ontario is a hamlet halfway between Woodstock and Kitchener.

Dr. Augustus Stephen Vogt was probably our first important Canadian-born English-speaking musician, born 1861. He was best known as teacher (at the Toronto Conservatory which he directed after 1913) and choral conductor (of the Mendelssohn choir, Toronto, from 1894 to 1917). He died in 1926.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHAT nation or nations are generally conceded to be to blame for (1) World War I, (2) World War II?

ANSWER: If you are a British subject, though not Indian, Irish or Boer: Germany. If you are German: Britain. If you are a Russian communist: Capitalistic Britain and the United States. If you are an Oriental: western nations. If you are a pagan: Christian nations (God being on the side of the heaviest battalions). If you are a Christian: devilish or heathen nations. (O war! thou son of Hell' says Shakespeare, and the Koran adjures: "When ye encounter the unbelievers, strike off their heads, until ye have made a great slaughter among them".) If you are a man: the race of women (John Clarke says in 'Paroemiologia Anglo-Latin': "No war without women".) If you are a woman: the race of men (Horace: "Bella detestata matribus"—"Wars are the dread of mothers"). This only is sure: No nation blames itself.

✧ ✧ ✧

SIR: What is an octoroon?

ANSWER: I am surprised that you can spell the word. I always have to look it up (having been raised in the grammarians' school). An alternative spelling is "octaroon". It is a person of either sex with one-eighth negro blood; the offspring of a white and a quadroon. A quadroon is, of course, quarto and not octavo. Octoroons are not common in the district of Peterborough, unless there are many who are "passing" as whites. Usually they look no darker than a Spaniard or a Peterborough girl who has been sun-tanning, and their hair is not crinkly. I know one gentleman who is an octoroon. His home is in Jamaica. His father (a quadroon) is a wealthy landowner proud of his negro blood. This younger man was educated at Oxford and served with distinction in a pukka British regiment during the war. I did not know that he had negro blood until I met him after the war in Montreal. He was there looking for a Canadian private school to which to send his young son. He asked me: "Do you think I shall have any trouble getting him into a good school? He is a nigger, you know." We are less racially intolerant than the Americans, I suppose, though I have heard that Paul Robeson's son was refused entry into three private Canadian schools (and that was when it was honourable and patriotic to be pro-Russian). In Jamaica the distinction is not between those with negro blood and the "pure whites", but between cultured or well-to-do's, and illiterates or ne'er-do-wells, whether they be touched by the brush or not.

FOR THE RECORD: Margarine went on sale in Peterborough this week and since we in Canada have been forbidden by law to see, sell, or eat margarine—until last December when the Supreme Court decided that the ancient ban against margarine was ultra vires, there was an eager market for the limited quantities which came into town. As in Toronto, it sells at 45 cents a pound, which is probably the highest selling price ever asked for margarine in any country of the western world. Butter is selling at 70-74 cents a pound. The ceiling price is 74, butter being one of the few comodities on which a post-war ceiling price has been imposed.

JUST HOW POTENT IS THE POWER OF SUGGESTION?

Letters To The Editor

INFORMATION AND LATE TRAINS

Sir: Mr. Reginald Drayton sure said a mouthful about the railway service to and out of Peterborough in tonight's paper. He should have said more. The week-end service sure is rotten. But what I'd like to know is why the trains are so late. Another thing. Why can't they tell us when they are going to be late? I didn't say anything about it before but about six months ago my two sisters were going out to western Ontario and taking the 5.15 to Toronto. I phoned for them about 45 minutes before train time and asked if the train was on time. They said yes. So my sisters and me went down to the station. And the train was almost an hour late. Don't the railway people know more about their trains than that?

Anyway, half the time when you phone the station to see if a train is going to be on time, they don't even bother to answer the phone. I think they take the receiver off the hook so that the phone bell won't ring. The other half the time when they do answer the phone they yell into your ear as if they were God almighty or at least the president of the C.P.R. Short, sharp and cross usually. And then half the time they don't give a proper answer. I've got cunning about phoning them now. If they answer I don't say, Is the train on time. No, I say, 'How late is the train going to be? Then if it is going to be late they often say so.

Yours in support of Drayton,
ROBERT S.

RAILWAY STATIONS AND ROCKING CHAIRS

Sir: My sentiments exactly about the railway service (Examiner—Wednesday, Letter to Editor). While the writer was on it, why didn't he take a slam at the railway stations. They both look as if they belonged to Podunk Hollow, instead of to a city of 35,000 souls.

Why can't we have something modern and big enough with lunch counters and snack-bars etc.? Why these stations are so old and creaky that in one of them they've even got three rocking chairs. Can you beat that! ! !

Yours with a laugh,
BILL C. RYMORE.

COMPLAINS OF TELEGRAPH SERVICE

Sir: I heartily agree with many of the things said in the letter about the train service. There is one thing the writer didn't mention and that is the telegraph service.

You can't send a telegram out of this city, or I suppose get one in, after the offices close at six or whatever it is, unless you phone the station when a train happens to be coming in. On Christmas night I tried to send a telegram. I phoned the station and got no answer. It was about eight at night when a train on the C.P.R. should soon be due. I walked down to the station and there was nobody there for a half an hour except an express man. After a long wait somebody did come in with a party. They acted as if they had been on a party. Then the man took my telegram. I was afraid it wouldn't get there, but it did.

All I can say is that it's a lucky thing we in Peterborough have a long-distance telephone.

Yours respectfully,
(MISS) GLADYS BILTON.

OBJECTS TO CRITICISM OF FARMERS

Sir: There seems to me to be something less than a certain "H.S.T.'s fair deal" in a letter by a reader in the Examiner to hand, saying some tart things about the recent protest of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture against non-taxable farmers having to file income tax returns?

The following blend of income taxation-and-margarine by the above correspondent is particularly explosive stuff: "Now who are they to be complaining about a 'denial of freedom'? They didn't register any complaints about the people of Canada being denied the freedom of buying and using margarine for more than sixty years...."

It would be very revealing, I think, if our well-informed Statistics Bureau (Ottawa) would give us a clean-cut table, showing the price of butter through the above sixty years (including the two world wars and post-war periods), and giving 'the average price' over the full period; also 'the average price' for each of the six decades?

This may seem a large order to the average busy Canadian, who is not much concerned with statistical data and can only absorb them in small quantities; but the figures are available—particularly since 1908. A single research worker on Parliament Hill could resurrect this information speedily, and make some available to the Canadian people at this time when, as your cartoonist indicates Miss 'Margarine Standards' is available for a waltz if—when the music stops and, maybe, changes from the perennial 'Provincial Governments' chorus 'You Can Have Her, I Don't Want Her' to the endless melody of the other soloing big boy (Federal Government) chortling 'Oleo Macdonald Had A Farm'.

Personally, I have never sensed a 'denial of freedom' as a consumer of No. 1 Creamery Butter!

"STOP THE MUSIC".

A SUNDAY MORNING

Sir: Through the window this mid-winter Sunday morning appeared ploughed fields like neat accordion pleated skirts and a hill of fall wheat like a promise for another harvest; but a hint that hopes might be dashed for winter wheat needs cover and protection.

Morning news was blighting too, as though the duel between the Almighty and the satanic, the latter might win, but after—over the air waves, came church music and classic melodies—reinsurance, and hopes that another spring, summer and harvest, will come; with its riot of colour and song; proof that life and love still rule. C.E.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

I am sought of them that asked not for me; I am found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name....For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.

But be ye glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create: for, behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy. (Isa. 65: 1, 17, 18.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The mighty God, even the Lord, hath spoken, and called the earth from the rising of the sun unto the going down thereof. Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God hath shined. (Ps. 50: 1, 2.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth, is mount Zion, on the sides of the north, the city of the great King. (Ps. 48: 2.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And there came unto me one of th seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the Lamb's wife. And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God, having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal....

And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the midst of the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.... And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life. Report Extortion Liquor Licenses

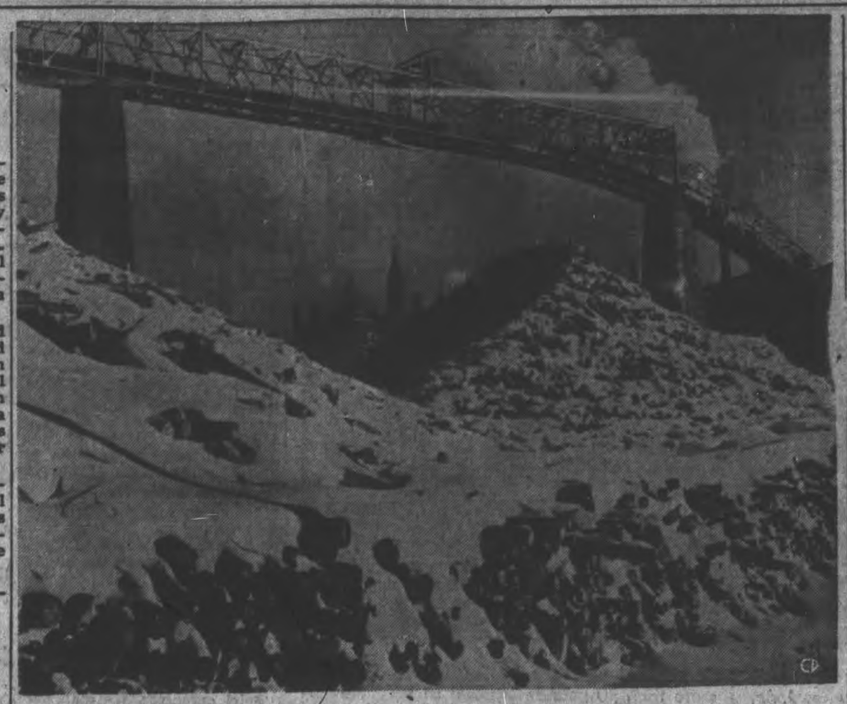
TORONTO, Jan. 21 — (CP).— Reports that attempts were made to extort money from applicants for licences were said Thursday night to have prompted the action of the Ontario Liquor Licence Board in calling a special meeting next Monday to investigate the situation in the Niagara Peninsula.

The inquiry, which may extend to other points, was stimulated by the recent arrest of a man charged with attempting to steal $500. That was said to have been the amount asked of a Niagara Falls, Ont., club representative as the price of obtaining a liquor licence.

The Niagara Falls club representative consulted Provincial Police and Inspector Charles Wood of the Criminal Investigation Branch here now is in the Niagara district.



SUPPLY AND DEMAND— When Parliament opens its new session January 26, it will need tons of paper for the complex business of running the country. Surprisingly the source of supply for much of this paper is just across the Ottawa River. This photo by Malak of Ottawa shows the Parliament Buildings framed in the logs and the equipment of the pulp and paper mill a few hundred yards agay.

Health Survey Poorly Organized

TORONTO, Jan. 21—(CP)—The Ontario Medical Association contends that the health survey committee appointed by the Ontario Government under terms of the Federal Health Grant is not doing the job required by the terms of reference.

In an editorial prepared for the Ontario Medical Review, made public Thursday night, the O. M. A. said that the present Provincial Government Health Survey Committee has as its chief duty the collection of information as to the distribution of hospital beds and medical personnel.

"In no way is this committee comparable to the survey committees which have been set up in other provinces, and neither its constitution nor its terms of reference are satisfactory to the medical profession of Ontario.'

The Provincial Health Committee does not include any representatives of the O. M. A. It is made up of three doctors from the Ontario Health Department, one department layman and three non-government laymen.

An advisory commitee however, was also set up including about 25 representatives of the O. M. A., the Ontario Dental Association, registered nurses and other health and welfare organizations.

The O. M. A. has started its own fact-finding survey.

Loyalty Edict Given Orchestra

DETROIT, Jan. 21 — (AP). — The Detroit Symphony Orchestra Thursday presented its weekly concert under a "loyalty" edict issued by its wealthy president, Henry Reichhold.

Reichhold threatened to dismiss any orchestra member disloyal to Conductor Karl Krueger.

The matter came to a head last week with the performance of violinist Erica Morini, accompanied by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Newspaper reports claimed that 'cellist Georges Miquelle apologized to Miss Morini for the poor quality of the orchestral accompaniment.

Reichhold stormed on to the stage of Detroit's music hall during Wednesday's rehearsal, and told Miquelle:

"Out! Get out and stay out and don't ever come back to Music Hall."

Miquelle thereupon resigned. But he insisted that he had not cast any reflections on Krueger's work. All he did, he said, was offer congratulations to Miss Morini.

Miquelle had been with the orchestra for 24 years.

Indian Musher Leads In Dog Team Race

CRANBERRY PORTAGE, Man., Jan. 21—(CP)—Leading a field of 19 veteran dog drivers, the seven-dog team of Indian musher Edwin Lambert of The Pas, Man., reserve broke trail here today on the last lap of the Canadian championship dog race.

Lambert was the first to arrive here last night from the starting off point at The Pas, 70 miles distant. He set out on the return trip to The Pas three minutes before his closest rival. All the drivers started the last lap according to the time intervals between their arrivals at Cranberry Portage.

The muskrat trapper drove his dogs into Cranberry Portage eight hours and 45 minutes after he left The Pas.

Fifteen of the 19 entrants arrived in Cranberry Portage within 12 hours and 15 minutes of the starting whistle. The other four reached the town late last night.

Andrews was charged with murder but a Supreme Court jury last week found him guilty of manslaughter.

Sunday Drinking Barred In Service Messes—Claxton

OTTAWA, Jan. 21—(CP)—The Sunday-drinking controversy in Ottawa's 29 service messes came to an abrupt end Thursday night.

Defense Minister Claxton said: "Service messes, like service personnel, will comply with the laws of the land."

His statement washed out previous reports liquor would continue to be sold until a ruling was handed down by the adjutant-general's office.

The controversy began last Monday when Ontario Liquor Control Board inspectors and city police called attention to the Sunday sales—a direct abuse of the Ontario Liquor Control Act.

They warned further cases of Sunday liquor sales would be prosecuted under the act, but reports were the messes—belonging to reserve units—were waiting for a ruling from the adjutant-general.

While the ruling has not materialized, Mr. Claxton's brief announcement is expected to end the issue.

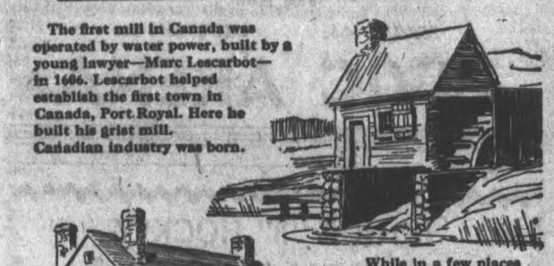
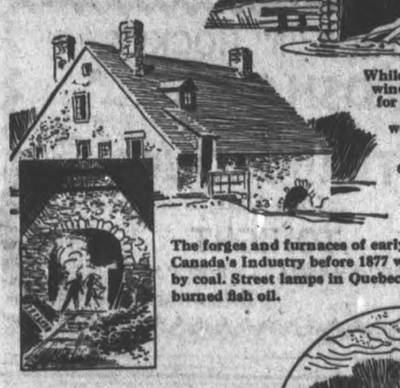
TURNING THE PAGES OF "Canada Unlimited"

The first mill in Canada was operated by water power, built by a young lawyer—Marc Lescarbot—in 1606. Lescarbot helped establish the first town in Canada, Port Royal. Here he built his grist mill. Canadian industry was born.



While in a few places windmills were used for power, Canada's water resources were so great that by 1734, the country had 52 sawmills and 118 grist mills operating by water power.



The forges and furnaces of early Canada's Industry before 1877 were operated by coal. Street lamps in Quebec up to 1849 burned fish oil.

Operation of electric turbines by water power, first started in 1880, opened a great era of industrial progress, and, by 1900, installations were supplying 173,000 horsepower.

Last year hydro power in Canada amounted to more than 10,500,000 horsepower, furnishing energy greater than that of 100 million workers!

The future promises limitless power through atomic energy. And with this will come undreamed of opportunity in our industrial expansion. Yes, there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

One meets all sorts of characters writing sports—and, no doubt, many athletes feel likewise when meeting sports writers. A few days ago we ran into a guy who is not a native of this fair borough but nevertheless a smart hombre. Hails from down around Cornwall or some such, dresses well and labors little more than the lily in the field. "Scope is the name," he mitts us, "Horace B. Scope and I am interested in sports." We say so what, all intelligent people are, but it slows him down not the slightest. He is a rotund little guy, maybe three-quarters of an inch taller than your correspondent, and wears a face as guileless as an eight-week infant.

* * * * * *

"My vocation?" he says. "I am a bistro habitue with a penchant for small wagers and other innocuous pursuits in search of the illusive lettuce, the long green. I am here selling car ducats as a hobby and also it helps with the sinkers and java." Now, this writer had to give up his hobby of bistro habitue when matrimony set in, but his admiration is high for such carefree flowers of the field, as it were. So, we prove an easy victim for a bite by Horace of a deuce and, when he promises it will be returned in time at four per cent, we figure the dickens with the deuce, anyway, but why not some copy out of it?

* * * * * *

About Smart Athletes

Horace Scope, in course of conversation on athletics, asks if we ever figure who are the smartest athletes. We say college footballers should be as they have higher education. "You are as unintelligent as the average sports writer," he returns. "College football beats your brains out for nothing but headlines and hurrahs—and is that being smart? Hockey? No, just learn to skate fast and you can play it. Lacrosse? No, sir, just learn to catch and throw a ball in those nets and learn to take your stitches without yelling. Baseball? A guy like Dizzy Dean, with no schooling, can star on the diamond. Boxing? Not when Joe Louis, whose literary leanings are to the comics, is champion."

* * * * * *

And so it goes down the list. "The answer," Horace propounds, "is wrestling. It produces the smartest athletes. Many are college grads, but regardless of that, they all make much moolah for a bit of physical effort and their house of labor are few for the sums returned. Filchok is probably tops in football in Canada at around 10 G's for a season of four months. But he is banged around on every play in every game. Any fair heavyweight grappler can double that salary in a year (which is some eight months) and he is not likely to get nearly as banged up as any $2,000 grider. And he will be earning till he is anyway 45 or more, long after all other athletes are back in a shop punching a clock. Sure, wrestlers are smart." And maybe Horace Scope has something at that.

Oshawa And IOOF-ers

Oshawa Juniors tangle tonight at 8.30 in Civic Arena with the local Triple Link team, a scheduled OHA junior "B" fixture. Coach Archie Weir's boys will be out to even up that loss earlier on the large sheet of artificial ice in the Motor City. And it wouldn't surprise us somewhat if the fast-stepping Oshawa puckists found the smaller surface here quite a handicap, at least for the first period or so. The Oddfellows, after a shaky start, have been playing much improved hockey lately and think they can take their opponents here tonight. Both sides play hurry-up hockey, typical junior slambang style, and this tussle should be worth seeing. Likely a goodly gallery on deck for it.

* * * * * *

More than 1,700 hockey enthusiasts attended the official opening of the new Lakefield arena last evening, many of them from Peterborough and the surrounding countryside. A gala occasion with Turk Broda and Jimmy Thompson of Toronto Leafs on hand, along with prominent officials. Just to make it an all-around success, the Lakefield TVL-ers took a 6-4 exhibition puck victory over the Petes in a neat game. They looked good in doing it. All the Petes were on hand and all got into the lineup at one time or another, many youngsters being used by Coach Red Creighton. Bill Edgar got his chance in the net. The team declined to accept any expense money but the players were treated to a fine dinner after. Yeah, it was a memorable opening of the classy, well-lighted arena.

Cage On All Fronts

Gobs of hoop activity around and about this week-end. Tonight at 8.15 in the YWCA, CGE colleens play Lockeys, followed by Normals against the Collis team. Keen competition is likely in this twin bill. Three PCVS boys' basketball squads are off for Cobourg tonight in COSSA lakeshore group play. Tomorrow eve in the Collegiate gym at seven bells, Lindsay hoopsters tackle the Marines "B" squad in a Lakeshore League encounter, and warmish action is anticipated all the way. This game is followed by an exhibition which should be a humdinger. It's between Merritton "Hellcats"—former Canadian senior champs, who beat our bunch 41-35 here a year ago—and the classy Marines "A" cagers. Whoops, hoops and oops.

Marmora Puckists Trim Madoc, 12-3

MARMORA, Jan. 21—(E.N.S.) Marmora hockey team maintained its unbeaten record in defeating Madoc on the latter's rink on Wednesday evening by the score of 12-3. The ice was heavy but some good flashes of play were witnessed in each period. Laverne, the Madoc goalie, was injured in the first period. His brilliant play behind a weak defence kept the score down in the second period. In the third, he was replaced by Carswell. For the losers, Keller Nickle, Kelly and Reynolds were most aggressive. The visiting team to a man played consistently with good combination. Borland, their goalie, had little to do in the first two periods and shaped well when tested in the third. Play became enlivening half way through the final period when Madoc got two smart goals but no roughness developed. The attendance was s-

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Hamilton Tigers, now in fourth place in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior League, learned Thursday that the twin brothers Tommy and Carl Smelle will join Kansas City Pla-Mors for the United States Hockey League game against Minneapolis Millers Saturday night.

Coach George Redding said the brothers would return to Hamilton after two games with Kansas City, unless their showing is such as to warrant their staying with the USHL club.

Goalie Frank Brimsek of Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League flew home to the bedside of his sick son Thursday, it was announced at Boston. He will be replaced by rookie Les Colvin in the nets against the Canadiens at Montreal on Saturday night. Brimsek's son, Frank, Jr., was reported severely ill with bronchitis in an Eleveth, Minn., hospital. Colvin played with Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League last season.

This may be the last year for Washington Lions in the American Hockey League, owner M. J. Uline said Thursday. Uline said the hockey club is losing money steadily and estimated this year's deficit at about $60,000.

Uline added, however, that he does not intend to withdraw from hockey if he quits the American League. He declined to discuss what league he might shift to.

Ken Charlton, 27-year-old former Ottawa Rough Rider half back who played with Regina Roughriders last season, said on Thursday he might come back to the Ottawa fold. In the capital on business, he said he had talked with Rider officials, but nothing had been decided. He played with Ottawa three years before moving west.

Skip A. Randell's Sigma Curling Club rink of Bourlamakue won the Northwestern Quebec district title and the right to enter play for the provincial championship here next week, it was announced Thursday at Quebec. The Northwestern Quebec mining section was the last of 10 districts to declare its winners. The 10 rinks will play a round-robin series during Quebec's 36th international bonspiel starting next Monday for the right to advance to the Canadian championship series at Hamilton, Ont., next month.

The Tito-Cominform dispute knocked Yugoslavia's table tennis team out of the recent Danube Cup competition at Bratislava after Hungary's team refused to meet them, it was admitted at Prague Thursday. The sports section of the Ministry of Information said that the Yugoslav players were then invited as individuals to take part on the Czecho-Slovak international championships but refused and left Bratislava.

The Pacific Coast League is willing to join a playoff for the Minor Baseball League championship, and to play exhibitions in Japan next summer if they are financially promising, president Clarence Rowland said Thursday at Los Angeles. President Frank Shaughnessy of the International League suggested a playoff of the Pacific Coast, between the PCL champ and the winner of the Little World Series between the International League and American Association champions.

Saints Down Tulsa

By The Canadian Press

Three clubs, St. Paul Saints, Dallas Texans, and the Houston Huskies, were set today for the final round of the United States Hockey League season. The Saints Thursday night downed Tulsa 4-1 on the Oilers' home ice and with the victory are only two points behind Kansas City, the northern division leader. Fort Worth Rangers whipped Houston 3-1 Thursday night at Houston and the loss buried the Huskies in last place in the southern division.

Friendly Atmosphere Makes Quebec Bonspiel Successful

By PIERRE DUBOIS

QUEBEC, Jan. 21—(CP).—H. E. (Sunny Jim) Weyman, pudgy major-domo of one of Canada's most popular curling classics, took a gander into the future today and came up with two predictions:

The day will come when Quebec's international bonspiel, which enters its 36th year Monday, will bring not just a mere 500 curlers to this ancient citadel city but 1,200.

Secondly, that auto-bonspiels are a fad without a future because stakes are too high. The 65-year-old expert and author of "an analysis of curling" said he is against any suggestion of professionalism in the sport.

"Curling is a fraternity more than a game," said Weyman who attributes the popularity of Quebec's annual events to the hospitality of its French-speaking natives and the quaint, old-world atmosphere in which they live. Among these people, also further afield, he is: Mr. Curling.

Given a free hand by local clubs in 1940 when he took over as 'Spiel organizer, Weyman has since seen the list of enteries soar from 40 rinks to a capacity total of 126 last year and again this year. Eighty rinks had to be turned down for 1949.

"What keeps 'em coming back," said Weyman, "is that the week-long Bonspiel is a friendly, good-will-promoting affair rather than a cold-blooded contest. And when a player is through for the day there's always somebody ready to entertain him."

The Provincial Government and Civic Authorities lend a helping hand—not only because the 'spell is a boost to the winter tourist trade but because they recognize it as a gesture of good-will towards the other provinces and Canada's neighbors to the south, said Weyman.

A staff of 40 voluntary workers help "the affable little man put over Quebec's biggest winter show. Another 25 paid workers look after the 21 sheets of ice and installations in five clubs and the Coliseum.

In Tight Battle

MONTREAL, Jan. 21 (CP) — Ottawa Senators and Sherbrooke St. Francis are locked in a tight battle for leadership in the Quebec Seninor Hockey League with the Senators now holding a five-point margin over the Saints. Sherbrooke, a new entry this season in the seven-team circuit, also boasts the league's top scorer in veteran Tony Demers leading the pack with 36 goals and 37 assists.

Lakefield Rink Opened By Hon. H. Scott

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 21—(ENS)—The Hon. Harold Scott, M.P., in officially opening the Lakefeild Arena on Thursday evening, before a crowd of 1800 people said the villagers deserved a great deal of credit for building such a fine rink and said he was looking forward to Lakefield producing their own Barbara Ann Scott and Turk Brodas.

There would be no "gang warfare," said the Hon. Mr. Scott "If all the younger crowd had such recrational centres."

Reeve W. C. Grant welcomed the people and introduced the prominent guests of the evening.

Turk Broda of the Toronto Maple Leafs was given a warm reception and expressed pleasure at being a guest. He congratulated the people on building such a beautiful rink.

Jimmy Thompson, also of the Toronto Leafs, thanked the people for the reception and expressed the hope that sport fans of the district would give the new rink their full support.

Alderman Pat Anglesey brought greetings from the city of Peterborough.

Also introduced were Art. Duncan of Batawa, president of the Trent Valley League and Harry Stabler, Frank Coyle, W. G. Morrison, Everett Sloan, Elwood Northey, Tom Staves, and Chief Garnet Samis, all members of the rink committee who have spent a great deal of time and effort in raising funds for the new arena.

Exhibition Tilt

The Peterborough Petes and Lakefield Intermediate team then played an exhibition with the home team defeating the visitors 6 to 4 in a fast and evenly matched game.

S. Lonsberry opened the scoring for Lakefield at 6.10 in the first period, on a smooth combination play from Fawcett and Joe Blewett. Jopling drew a penalty for Lakefield.

Mortimer with an assist from Garvey retaliated for the Petes at 11.47; and at 15.12 with two of their men in the penalty box Tompkin banged in a second goal on a pass from Mortimer.

Garvey closed the scoring of the first period on an assist from Tompkins to leave the score 3 to 1.

Lakefield boys really got in there in the second to get four goals. Play was fast throughout and fairly clean, with Fawcett drawing the lone Lakefield penalty for a high stick.

Petes drew three penalties in the second frame.

Joe Blewett scored from Hopkins, with L. Lonsberry assisted by Fawcett and Patterson shoving in another.

L. Lonsberry, from Burton and Patterson took another goal 13 seconds later, and Fawcett on a smooth pass from S. Lonsberry shoved in another.

Chuck Birch scored from the blue line to leave the score 6 to 3 for Lakefield at the end of the second.

Play was held up for a few minutes in the third period while Lakefield's goalie, Jones was untangled from the net—being hung up by his sweater.

Tompkins on an assist from Kingdon for the Petes made the lone score of the last period to leave it 6-4.

Remember When . . .

By The Canadian Press

Eight years ago today, Bob Feller signed a 1941 contract with the Cleveland Indians of the American League for an estimated $30,000—the highest salary ever paid a pitcher. Previously, the 27,500 paid Lefty Grove by Boston Red Sox generally was regarded as the highest.

Campbellford Wins

NORWOOD, Jan. 21—(ENS)—On Monday Campbellford High School boys defeated Norwood 30-29 at basketball in the Armouries.

All through the game the boys played hard watching their men closely.

After the game the teams were served lunch in the school.

The two outstanding players were Heath and LaBrash.

Ask Navigation Improvements On Great Lakes

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que., Jan. 21—(CP)—Demands for improvements to navigation aids on the Great Lakes highlighted the closing meeting Thursday of the 11th annual meeting of the Dominion Marine Association.

The association, made up of the major shipping interests of the St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes, adopted resolutions urging that new frequencies be made available for use by inland ships equipped with radio telephony. The frequencies now used are so congested that the use of the radio telephone as a safety device is being threatened.

Representatives of the Federal Transport Department and the Federal Communications Commission of the United States said that they are aware of the problem and that new frequencies may be made available within a matter of months.

One Session In Public

The meeting held only its final session in public. No one made any reference to the St. Lawrence seaway development. Reports preceding the three day convention

However, George R. Donovan, of Toronto, secretary of the association, said that there was no change in the organization's view on the subject. At last year's meeting, the association said it was opposed to the development because i was economically unsound.

The convention adopted a resolution establishing a joint Canadian-United States commitee to go into ways and means of lessening water and air pollution by ships.

E. B. Sutherland, Fort William, was re-elected president of the association, G. M. Davidson, Brockville, Ont., was re-elected vice-president and Mr. Donovan was re-elected secretary.

Rangers Outplay Montreal But Canadiens Triumph 2-1

By BERT ALLEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Montreal Canadiens can thank a great goal tender and a defence second to none in the National League for their third-place perch in the standing.

Thursday night, New York Rangers out-shot the Habitants 29-21, outplayed and outskated them at almost every turn, but wound up on the short end of a 2-1 count. Goalie Bill Durnan turned aside shots in flawless style, and it was a defenceman, Kenny Reardon, who cashed the winning goal in the final frame.

It was the only fixture scheduled, and the victory moved the revived Canadiens to within two points of the second-place Boston Bruins.

It's easy to see where Canadiens' strength lies, while the Habs are only the fourth highest scoring club in the loop, Durnan has let 14 fewer goals slip pas him than any other net custodian.

The Habs went ahead 1-0 on a first period marker by Kenny Mosdell.

Ties Score

Penti Lund, Rangers' flying Finn, finally tied the score early in the third period. Durnan caught Lund's long drive with his gauntlet, fumbled the puck, and it dropped to the ice and trickled into the cage.

But Reardon sent the 11,194 fans home happy when he barged through the Ranger defence after taking passes from Bill Reay and Norm Dussault to beat Rayner cleanly.

The league-leading Detroit Red Wings used the open date for an exhibition game against Hamilton Tigers of the Ontario Senior circuit in Simcoe, Ont. Detroit whipped the Tigers 9-4.

Toronto Maple Leafs, unable to hit their best stride all season, dipped down to their Pittsburgh farm club in the American League to recall defenceman Stan Kemp for a trial. Kemp will make his N. H. L. Debut in Detroit Sunday.

Say Wholesalers Widen Breach

TOHONTO, Jan. 21 — (CP).—Ontario produce wholesalers have "widened the breach between the town and country," M. M. Robinson, secretary of the Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association, charged Thursday.

Addressing the final day's meeting of the association convention, Mr. Robinson said the period of import restrictions on United States produce had produced bad feelings between city and urban dwellers.

He said that food wholesalers, by raising prices, had "aggravated the situation in which the never-ending pressure for cheap food became almost an obsession with many consumers."

Consumers had come to think of it as wrong for farmers to make a profit.

Dr. W. M. Drummond of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, told the convention that price stabilization for agriculture alone was no solution to problems. He said that if stabilization were begun it would have to be applied to everything.

Funeral Thief Jailed

TORONTO, Jan. 21 (CP) — Orland B. Moore, 21-year-old "funeral thief," Thursday was sentenced to one year. Police said he broke into 11 homes while the occupants were at funerals, getting his tip-offs from newspaper death notices. Most of the loot was recovered and Moore's father made restitution of $400.

Use Brickbats, Not Bouquets On Sudbury Team

By SHAUN McQUILLAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, Jan. 21—(CP)—Up to now it has been brickbats instead of bouquets for the Sudbury Wolves who are keeping an eager eye on the world hockey championship at Stockhold next month.

"Sure, we've had trouble," grinned Manager-coach Max Silverman during an interview. "But we're having fun. And we're not beaten yet."

The Wolves have been on tour of the United Kingdom since Dec 3. Down for a 60-game schedule, the highlight of their three-month European tour will be the World Championships Feb. 11-20 when the wolves will defend the world crown won by R. C. A. F. Flyers last year. Ten countries are expected to compete.

The Sudbury club has run into other troubles besides the beatings it took from British and Scottish teams early in the tour. At the moment the Wolves are a bit piqued at the criticism given them by the British Press and spectators.

"They don't like our rough play," snapped Silverman, who by now was just warming up. "Well, we tried their powderpuff stuff and we came off second best. We've had enough of that. We are going to play hockey the way it should be played—as it is in Canada."

Then there was that battle with the British Customs. When the Wolves arrived in England Dec. 29 Customs officials impounded 49 dozen hockey sticks, spare skates, pads and tape. The Wolves got the equipment back in time for their continental tour which starts today but the final destination of their L125 ($500) deposit is a tricky question.

And things could be happier around the rink. The Wolves have played 13 games and won only two. Of the remainder, five were drawn and six lost. Sudbury scored 31 goals and allowed the opposition 50.

Cliff Simpson, Don Morrison, Nelson Podolsky and Eddie Bruneteau boosted the margin to 6-0 at the end of the middle session.

Defenceman Al Dewsbury and Ott Heller scored Caps' other two goals.

Terry Sakchuk tallied the lone Springfield goal.

Report Decline In Beer, Spirits Smoking Mounts

OTTAWA, Jan. 21—(CP)—Cigaret and cigar smoking still is on the upgrade in Canada.

The Bureau of Statistics reported today 1,479,000,000 cigarets were released for consumption during November against 1,429,000,000 in October and 1,366,000,000 in November, 1947.

For the first 11 months of 1948, releases totalled 14,942,000,000, up nearly 5 per cent over the corresponding period of 1947.

Cigar releases in November totalled 20,800,000 against 17,900,000 in October and 19 million a year earlier. There were simliar increases for cut and plug tobacco.

On the alcoholic side of the picture, the bureau reported declines in beer and spirits consumption.

Output of beer in November declined to 14,840,000 gallons from 15,360,000 in October but still was higher than the 13,940,000 gallons produced in November, 1947. The 11-month total was 167,530,000 gallons against 157,610,000.

New spirits produced in November amounted to 1,960,000 gallons compared with 1,650,000 in October and 2,510,000 in November, 1947, while spirits bottled—including imported liquors—totalled 970,000 proof gallons compared with 750,000 in October and 850,000 in November, 1947.

Stocks of distilled liquor at the end of November amounted to 68,890,000 proof gallons, compared with 68,840,000 at the end of October and 60,860,000 a year earlier.

UAW Demands $100 Pension

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 21—(AP) — The United Auto Workers (CIO) took a page out of John L. Lewis' book Thursday night and set its pension demand at $100 a month. President Walter P. Reuther announced the figure to 2,500 delegates at the union's International Education Conference.

Lewis' United Mine Workers receive a $100 pension on retirement at the age of 62. Reuther made no mention of a retirement age for auto workers. In the past, Reuther has said management would have to foot 70 per cent of an adequate pension plan.

Reuther said the union will try to "eliminate the double standards" in the car industry, under which high salaried employees receive pensions and hourly paid workers get none. He said President C. E. Wilson of General Motors received $446,000 in salary and bonuses in 1947, yet GM paid $18,000 to a fund which will give Wilson an annual $25,000 pension on retirement.

Will Apologize For Charges Of Gov't Fraud

LONDON, Jan. 21—(Reuters)—The Daily Graphic today will publish a withdrawal of allegations of fraud involving health ministry officials published in an article in the newspaper last December.

Health Minister Aneurin Bevan told the House of Commons Thursday that although the Daily Graphic and other newspapers were informed Dec. 20 that no vestige of foundation for the imputation existed, officials of his ministry had remained for a whole month under the stigma of these allegations.

The statement in today's Daily Graphic will say that the editor's contention that investigation showed no reason why any published statements should be corrected was based on information supplied by a reliable reporter.

"This reporter satisfied me that his sources of information were authentic and authoritative, and he adheres to his story," the statement by the editor continues.

Accept Statement

"Nevertheless, I must accept this statement made in parliament by a responsible minister of the crown, and that I do, and express my regret that an assertion, now denied in such circumstances and in such categorical terms, was published in the Daily Graphic."

Bevan told the House that after investigations, including a check with Scotland Yard, the secretary of his department wrote to the Daily Graphic Dec. 20 asking for an immediate correction and an apology.

After two further letters to the newsaper, the editor informed him that investigation into the reliability of the sources from which the information was obtained showed no reason why the statements should be corrected.

"It will be seen that no evidence of any kind has been vouchsafed and no justification of the statements attempteds," Bevan said.

Joint Defence Plans Buried By Scandinavia

BY THOMAS HARRIS

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 21 (Reuters)—Plans for a joint defence of Scandinavia will be buried when the Prime Minister, Foreign Minister and Defence Ministers of Sweden, Norway and Denmark meet tomorrow in Copenhagen, usually well-informed observers here believe.

The plans were killed, these observers said, at the secret meeting of the ministers early this month at Karlstad, Sweden, to discuss conditions for a defensive alliance.

The Norwegians, it was said, then told Sweden they would abandon the idea of a Scandinavian military bloc if she insisted it must remain neutrally outside great-power groupings instead of seeking its security with the western powers. After this secret session, it was announced the ministers would meet again in Copenhagen.

Norway and Denmark already are reported to have received hints they will be invited to join the proposed Atlantic pact. These hints were expected to turn into an open invitation before the Copenhagen meeting. Since Norway's Foreign Minister has already indicated his country must look westwards for her safety, Sweden will be faced with the choice of following suit or seeing smashed her dreams of a neutral, militarily-united Scandinavia for which she has worked so hard.

Won't Abandon Cunsiple

No politicians or newspaper here has ever suggested Sweden will abandon the principle of neutrality in peace and war which has become almost a virtue to the Swedish man-in-the-street.

Denmark, most exposed of the three countries to any threat from the east because she is part of the European mainland, is expected to follow Norway. Sweden is not considered strong enough to send Denmark edequate military aid if she is attacked.

Despite their clashing military interests, all three countries are anxious to find a formula which will satisfy Norway's conceptions of security and Sweden's fear of commitments.

But exhanges at the Karlstad meeting were at times so bitter and viewpoints so divergent that observers here confidently predict Copenhagen will see Norway move west, with Denmark behind her and Sweden standing alone.

Norway's feeling to kinship with Sweden is still strong and she will take this into consideration when examining the wording of any invitation sent to her to join the proposed Atlantic pact.

Rising Costs Upset Budget Civic Hospital

Peterborough Civic Hospital in 1948 had an excess of expenditure over revenue of $19,669.54, the Board of Governors was told Thursday night. The report of the Finance Committee chairman, Thomas T. Rodger, showed total revenue of $380,669.13 and expenditure of $400,338.67.

Mr. Rodger pointed out that the picture would improve somewhat when the inventory statements were completed. The statement lists expenditures as exceeding the budgeted amount by nearly $15,000, with revenue about $4,000 less than the expected amount.

Bulk of the operating loss, explained Mr. Rodger, was due to the increasing costs. There were five items mentioned which particularly affected the operations because of the jump in costs over the expected amounts.

Drugs, budgeted at $21,600, came to an actual total of $29,201.39— exceeding the budgetted figure by $7,601.39. In this department, it is expected that the inventory will show a considerable increase, reducing the total operating loss.

Salaries exceeded the budget figure of $204,200 by $3,939.21. medical staff was up $1,269.58 over the estimated $5,000. Dietary costs totalled $54,379.05, instead of the estimated $50,880. For laundry and bedding, the year's bill came to $7,491.86 instead of $5,900 which had been set by the budget.

Mr. Rodgers' report included a detailed breakdown of the hospital's present situation regarding accounts receivable. At the end of the year, the total was $51,995, an increase of $5,840 from the year's-end figure for 1947. He pointed out that the increase in business had been $58,000 in 1948, which means that 90 per cent of the new business had been already collected.

The analysis of the types of accounts receivable showed a favorable picture as compared to a similar breakdown of the 1947 accounts. About 58 per cent of the $51,995 are rated as "secured" or "satisfactory payments," compared to 54 per cent. in 1947. "Some payments" have been made on 20.8 per cent (9.2 per cent in 1947) and on only 21.4 per cent of receivable accounts have no payments been made. compared to 36.4 per cent for 1947. The last two divisions total $21,975, against which there is a total accumulated balance in the reserve for uncollected accounts of $19,240. The reserve on hand at the end of 1948 is more than enough to cover all accounts more than six months old.

YMCA Gains 82 Members Receipts Total $35,459.02

Reports of the activities of the YMCA during the past year were presented on Thursday night at a meeting of the Y's Men's Club. Fred Hills, president of the Board, presided at the business session and Charles Cummer submitted the financial statement. Receipts totalled $35,459.02, the larger items being memberships $8,311.20, Community Chest $12,230, dormitories $6,819.20, bowling $1,678.59, and baths $3,735.48.

Expenditures totalled $35,104.59, leaving a gain of $354.43 on the year's work. However, a $457.78 deficit from 1947 left a loss of $103.35. Larger items of expenditure were administrative expense $7,223.46, dormitories $3,380.19, physical department $5,880.04, boys' work $3,143.88, operating expenses $11,519.09.

Mr. Hills read the report of General Secretary G. H. Roper, which showed a gain of 82 members in the men's department with a total membership of 1,141, being made up of 767 men and 374 boys. The three men's clubs all reported successful years. The Y's Men's Club's principal activity was the operation of the Boys' Camp at Clear Lake, while the Friday Night Club's Christmas carol service again drew a capacity audience.

"So Ed firmly established in Peterborough with 225 enrolling last year in the course held in the Normal School. The 1949 So-Ed commences Wednesday, January 26," Mr. Roper reported.

Major improvement in the building was the placing of a better heating unit in the swimming pool.

Boys' Work

In Don Duncan's report on the boy's department the membership showed a decrease of nine boys. The income for the year was $1,172.60 a substantial increase. Memberships were received by 28 boys through a donation of the Y's Men's club. Attendance of the Fun and Friendship club averaged 75. This club is composed of boys from eight to 14 years. The Hi-Y clubs played hosts to other Hi-Y clubs for the annual Central and Western Hi-Y conference. The deficit of the 16-20 club for 1947-48 was covered by the HiY clubs who took over arrangement of the club for 1948-49.

Attendance at Camp

Average attendance at the boys' camp was 55 a week. There were 149 boys enrolled for the 330 camper weeks. The Children's Aid Society sent 19 boys to camp for a total of 34 camper weeks.

Al Clark conducted the Vacation Club with 58 boys enrolled. The program featured photography, swimming, canoeing and basketball.

Mr. Hills also read Al. Clark's report of the Physical department. The Business Men's Volley ball league operated for 21 Saturday afternoons. Peterborough was represented in the Ontario Intermediate Volley Ball Chompionships in Toronto but lost to Toronto Central by the narrowest of margins.

Outboard Marine "A" and Outboard Marine "B" teams represented Peterborough in the Ontaria Intermediate Basketball. The "B" team finished second in the Lakeshore Loop. The "A" team reached the Ontario finals to be defeated by St. Catharines. During the season teams were brought from Buffalo, Toronto, Merriton and Hamilton. A house league of four basketball teams also operated.

Members of the weight lifting and body building club trained two and three times a week. The Westclox trophy in the Body Building competition was won by Doug. Woodridge.

In the YMCA Championships for swimming 13 competed. Peterborough came fourth, Gordon Buck won the 50 yd. championship for boys 16 years and under. Jack Boorman won the 25 and 50 yard chcampionships for boys under 12.

At the Public School swimming meet 134 boys represented nine schools. The slowest swimmer in any event was faster than the record holder in 1940. Sixty-five Public School boys from the sixth grade and up enrolled in the annual learn to swim campaign. Forty of the 75 were taught to swim.

Fred Hills, Robert Abbott, C. S. Cummer, R. R. Faryon, H. F. Waddell, and R. C. Simmons were re-elected as directors on the report of the nominating committee presented by A. E. Dryland.

During the Y's Men's Club dinner a singsong was led by Rick Cochrane, and the dinner was presided over by the Club president Wm. Moorehead, Rev. M. J. Aiken pronounced the benediction.

Dismiss Charge Robbery Against 2 Men

Two Campbellford Men, Frank Brown and David Bowen, who have been awaiting judgment for seven months on a charge of robbing Hartley Simpson with violence on June 16, were dismissed by Judge S. L. Smoke at the County Court on Thursday.

Before pronouncing judgment Judge Smoke said that the evidence indicated that Simpson, who lives near Westwood, had been driving home from Marmora along No. 7 Highway as far as the township line between Asphodel and Marmora when he turned south.

It seemed evident that some time after the south turn he passed a stationary car which had no lights, and had to pass on to the soft shoulder of the road which had apparently been recently filled up. The wheel sank down into the gravel and the car was stuck. Ultimately, he got the car facing westwards and while this was going on the accused came along in a truck and stopped to give Simpson a hand.

Robert Pacey, who was a witness for the Crown, had said that before he left the scene, he was asked by Bowen to show his driving license and having done so, was told he could proceed. Then, he says he heard the accused arguing with Simpson.

Simpson had said that Bowen came over to him and asked him if he had reported the accident and said he was a police officer. Bowen hit him on the nose and tried to push him in the truck. He says that after this Bowen went back to his car and stuck his head in and pulled out his groceries.

The Judge said that it was apparently not until the accused had driven away that Simpson became aware that his wallet was not in his pocket but lying on the front seat of the car with his papers scattered about. He said he had no hesitation in accepting all the evidence offered except Simpson's. Throughout Simpson had made mis-statements with regard to his own movements during the afternoon and there was no doubt that no judge or jury would convict the accused on the conflicting evidence Simpson had given. Judge Smoke said that Simpson led him to believe he was astute in trying to cover up statements which he had previously made.

The prosecution was conducted by John A. Bradshaw, Crown Attorney, and counsel for the defence was J. C. N. Currelly.

4 Cases Blindness Reported Locally

Four new cases of blindness were reported on Thursday at a meeting of the Peterborough Advisory Board to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, presided over by W. C. Hughes.

Various form of assistance which it was decided to extend to the blind were discussed.

It was decided to sponsor a Christmas sale of handicrafts made by the blind, similar to the 1948 sale.

80 Fox Pelts Reported; Total Now 172

This week 80 fox bounties were claimed at the County Clerk and Treasurer's office. Seventy-eight of them fell before the guns of eager marksmen; the other two were trapped.

Leading the list was Oswald Taylor of Curve Lake who brought in 21 pelts to be stamped and then paid for. All of his were bagged in Smith Township — eleven of them on Jan. 17.

Ted Watson of Havelock was next with 15 which he had accumulated since the first of the year. They were shot in Belmont. Ashley Taylor of Curve Lake was third with 10 pelts which he had obtained in Harvey.

Since the County Treasurer began paying out $3 a pelt for foxes killed in Peterborough County since Jan. 1, 172 have been brought in. The hunters are allowed to retain the skins after they have been properly identified and most of them have been able to sell the fur for about $1.

Th foxes seem to swarm through the rural districts of all the townships, and where the heaviest bag will be, week by week, is unpredictable: A week ago Ennismore had more foxes killed on its territory than any other township, but this time Smith heads the list with a total of 26. Otonabee is next with 17, followed by Belmont with 15 and Harvey 13. Ennismore has only one.

Those who cashed in on the bounty were: Sherman Sweeting, Smith, five, in Smith; Eldon Musgrave, Otonabee, nine, in Otonabee; Clifford Coward, Otonabee, one, in Otonabee; Ted Watson, Havelock, 15, in Belmont; Ashley Taylor, Curve Lake Reserve, 10, in Harvey; Oswald Taylor, Curve Lake, Reserve, 21, in Smith; William McIvor, Peterborough, two, in North Monaghan; Edward Morin, Peterborough, one, in Douro; David Walsh, Asphodel, one, on his own farm in Asphodel; Hector McMahon, Otonabee, two, near Donald Price, Peterborough, two, Harvey, four, three in Harvey and one in Ennismore; Gerald Wood, Peterborough, one, Otonabee; Smith, two, in Douro; and William North Monaghan; John Fulton, the canal in Otonabee; Earl Carl, Adams, Otonabee, four, near Keene in Otonabee.

Only two foxes that were trapped were claimed by Eldon Musgrave.

Hospital Rates Up Jan. 31 Civic Governors Decide; Need More Revenue In 1949

Faced with a possible operating loss for 1948 of more than $19,000, the Board of Governors of the Peterborough Civic Hospital voted on Thursday night to increase its hospital rates. It approved a report of a joint meeting of the executive and finance committees which recommended increases in rates for wards, laboratory, operating room and delivery room.

Chairman J. R. Marshall said that "increasing costs make it necessary to obtain additional revenue... It has always been the aim of the hospital to provide service at cost in each department but it is impossible to obtain this cost in every case."

The increases in rates for wards are 50 cents a day for public wards, 75 cents a day for semi-private rooms and one dollar a day for private rooms. The jumps become effective on Jan. 31.

This places the new rate for public ward at five dollars a day for residents of municipalities contributing by grant to the hospital. The average rate for a semi-private room will now be $8.75 and for a private room at $9.50 daily.

Mr. Marshall commented that these rates are still lower than those charged in many centres in Ontario and "are in line with what other hospitals are charging." Based on an 85 per cent. occupancy rate, the increase for wards is expected to bring an additional $20,000 revenue in 1949.

The schedule of laboratory fees approved is approximately 75 per cent. higher than present fees, but in many instances still far below rates approved by the Ontario Medical Association.

In the operating department, the committees' report said that the revenue received was just about half the actual cost in 1947, and the same may be expected from 1948 figures when prepared.

New rates for the operating room were set at: $25 for longer operations requiring more nurses; $20 for major operations (now $15); $15 for semi-majors (a new classification); $10 for minors (now $8). Special operation with incidental surgery expenses will be charged on the basis of material used and a service charge.

The charge for use of the delivery room was increased from $8 to $10.

3 Remodelling Jobs Underway To Cost $23,000

Three of the eleven building permits issued this month from the office of City Engineer Chalmers were for altering and remodelling jobs, at an estimated cost of $23,0000.

George Heffernan has the contract for the repairs at the Windsor Hotel, estimated at $9,000, as the result of the fire several weeks ago in the upper floor.

In the Wright's refrigeration building alterations in the store and apartments, first of the year's permits, expenditure will be approximately $6,500 at 326-330 Water St. Part of the old Mansard roof here as at the Windsor Hotel is being removed. The ornate Mansard tops are relics of an older generation. Few of them remain in Peterborough.

A permit for $6,500 was issued to G. J. Bigelow for remodelling of a building on the south side of James St., east of Burnham St. It will be made into two apartments.

Case Of Assault Evidence Reviewed

HASTINGS, Jan 21 (Staff) — William J. Walsh of Hastings, commenting on a report of a court case of assault recently in The Examiner, claimed today that "the true facts of this case" were not printed and has given another version of the incident. He said the move was to contradict "a lot of untrue rumors being circulated."

On Jan. 13 in Hastings court, Mrs. John Brinklow appeared before Magistrate R. B. Baxter on a charge of assault on Barry Walsh, age seven. The charge was laid by his mother.

"It arose out of a quarrel between two children," said Mr. Walsh, "caused by Marie Brinklow, seven, hitting Barry Walsh across the back with a hardwood stick. When Barry returned the attack with his hands only, the mother interfered. Mrs. Walsh stated under oath that she called to Mrs. Brinklow not to touch him as he was wearing glasses . . . despite this, she caught him, slapped him across the face and head, then ran into the house."

In her own evidence, Mrs. Brinklow denied this, claimed she did not touch the Walsh boy after separating the children.

Mrs. Alex Sherwin, a witness, verified Mrs. Walsh's statement of calling to Mrs. Brinklow. The witness said she could not be sure about the hitting, as she was at quite a distance. However, she testified that Mrs. Brinklow did have her hands on Barry at a time other than the separating. Recalled to the stand, Mrs. Brinklow denied the statement and Mrs. Sherwin, called again, repeated her former evidence.

Magistrate Baxter's judgment included: "On the evidence, especially that of Mrs. Sherwin, who is an unwilling witness, I must find you guilty of technical assault, and I hope you will be a good loser. Mrs. Walsh is not concerned with a fine, so you will have to give me your word to keep the peace or I shall have to post a bond, meanwhile holding you in the custody of the court."

"After some minute deliberation," reports Mr. Walsh, "Mrs. Brinklow agreed to keep the peace and not hit Barry Walsh again."

Colorful Parade Best Held Yet President Truman Declares

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—(AP).—President Truman put aside early this morning the golden moments of his greatest day and set his administration on a course of world leadership toward "peace, plenty and freedom." That was the goal he chose for himself and the United States in yesterday's inaugural address.

The first real business of his new administration was the swearing in of Dean Acheson, who resigned 18 months ago as Undersecretary, and now moves up to the top Cabinet post of Secretary of State.

The President himself is settling into that office for four more years. Standing straight as a string against an icy winter wind Thursday noon, Truman took the Presidential oath.

After that the inaugural address, the parade, the inaugural reception, a quiet dinner at home with family and friends, and finally the inaugural ball.

Sweeping over it all were multi-colored beacons that never stayed still. Playing for their dancing were Guy Lombardo, a native of London, Ont., Xavier Cugat and Benny Goodman.

The President led the procession from the Capitol to the White House. And then for three hours he stood up, Barkley by his side, and watched the rest of it go by.

There were:

Dozens of beautitful girls, a live skunk on a leash, a sit-up-and-beg dog, champion drill teams, stiff rows of West Point cadets and Annapolis midshipmen, Missouri mules, a jeep that butted a horse, uniforms and floats in colors that would make a rainbow curl up and quit.

Up above, there were more planes than Washington ever saw before at one time—70 of the best the United States armed services could muster.

After it was all over, Truman thought it was "a nice parade, the finest I ever saw." He didn't even admit he was cold.

Depite a week of homage and acclaim, it was with "humility" and a "deep resolve to do all that I can" for the welfare of the United States and the peace of the world that Truman accepted the honors of his fellow citizens.

It was a hard-punching speech that pounded at the "false philosophy" of Communism, without mentioning Russia directly.

Not Upset

Twenty feet away, stone-faced, sat Soviet Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin.

He heard the President speak up for a "bold new program" to spread through other lands the benefits of United States scientific and industrial knowhow.

Nor were there any doubts about the meaning of three other main points in his program for extending to other countries the economic "faith by which we live":

Continued support for the United Nations; continued programs for world economic recovery; the strengthening of "freedom-loving nations against the dangers of aggression."

Link Eskimo Points By Radio-Telephone

WINNIPEG, Jan. 21 — (CP)— Canada's Eskimo some day may be able to chew the fat by radio-telephone.

Officials of the government-operated Manitoba telephones system said Thursday night that the whole of Northern Manitoba soon will be in a position to carry on telephone communication. Their comment came at the official opening of a 300-mile link from Winnipeg to Norway House at the top of Lake Winnipeg.

G. A. Muir, telephone company engineer, said that the company contemplates additional installations until gradually a chain is forged to allow linking of far-flung nursing stations, fishing villages, lumber camps and trading posts previously cut off from one another and with civilization.

Officials said that doctors at Norway House, for instance, would be able to communicate by voice with their nurses at various stations. This would facilitate diagnosis and allow greater speed in passing along information about medical cases.

Leaps From Cab

ARNPRIOR, Jan. 21 (CP) — An Ontario Hydro-Electric foreman Thursday escaped death when he leaped from the cab of his truck as it was rammed by an oncoming CPR freight train in this town 40 miles west of Ottawa. The foreman, C. G. Gardiner, told police he saw the train approaching and applied his brakes but the vehicle failed to halt on the icy road.

Placed On Black List

MONTREAL, Jan. 21 (CP) — Harry Davis, president of the Canadian Seamen's Union, said Thursday that Canadian ships sailing now with non-Canadian crews at lower wages will be placed on an international blacklist by the International Transport Workers Federation. Starting next May 1 the ships will be boycotted by all unions affiliated to the ITF, said Davis.

Average Canadian Worker Loses Nine Days A Year Through Illness

"Sickness accounts for 86% of lost time in industry," states Dr. F. D. Cruickshank, chairman of the Health League of Canada's Industrial Health Committee, "and a great deal of it is completely preventable." Dr. Cruickshank stresses the value of pre-placement and periodic health examinations for all industrial workers.

The average Canadian worker loes nine days every year through sickness, and many others become chronically ill because their condition is not known to them until too late.

Dr. Cruickshank states that the weakness in Canada's industrial health program lies in the almost total absence of organized health service in plants under 500 employees. Pointing to the value of medical services on full or part-time basis, he cites the results of a survey made by the National Association of manufacturers of 1,025 American plants employing less than 500 workers. All had adopted some type of medical service. (a) Sickness absenteeism was cut 30%; (b) Labor turnover was cut 28%; (c) Accident frequency was cut 45%.

The white collar worker requires just as much attention as the foundry worker. The executive group is singled out particularly as requiring periodic medical supervision. In one large plant it was found that 25% of the executive staff had heart disease.

In addition to the desirability of improving the working environment in many plants, Dr. Cruickshank observes 'that the worker's wife can do much to maintain the bread winner's health. Careful attention to meal planning—particularly when a lunch is taken to work—can do much to sustain good health.

He concludes with the statement that "medical services in industry can no longer be considered a gift or charity, but in reality are a sound investment in the future health and vigor of the human part of the factory."

Linda Darnell, Paul Douglas Team In Film

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 21 (AP)—The long-range film teaming of Linda Darnell and Paul Douglas looms as a possibility at 20th-Fox.

The twosome is already set for "Everybody Does It." Linda, who says former radio announcer Douglas is "my favorite leading man," tells me they are campaigning for another film based on the characters they essay so successfully in "Letter To Three Wives." it could become a habit.

"Everybody Does It" (which may undergo a title change for censorship reasons) is a remake of "Wife, Husband and Friend," the Warner Baxter-Loretta Young film of 1938. Remakes appear to be a trend at 20th-Fox. Tyrone Power is now being seen in "That Wonderful Urge," which he first did as "Love is News" in 1937.

Persons and Places

Peter Lawford really gets the grown-up treatment in "Storm Over Vienna." He'll discard his boyishness and play a stiff-neck-British Major with a moustache. Love interest is Janet Leigh, as a Russian dancer.

Joan Foutaine showed up at a radio theatre broadcast in one of those new dresses split down the front. It was so distracting co-star James Stewart had to hold his script in front of his face. Finally, the show's producer had to ask Joan to pin up the dress, for fear the other actors would miss their cues. . .

Twentieth-Fox is having fun with its "Mother Was a Freshman" contest. College paper editors are being asked to name the 12 campuses with the most beautiful women. Winning schools have a premiere of the film and the best-looking freshman girls will have a round trip to Hollywood. . .

M. G. M. activating of its spectacle, "Quo Vadis," may be due to the current "Joan of Arc." "Joan's" backers say the picture is doing great business and will pay off in two years. That means it will pull in $9,000,000.

Television At Inaugural

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (CP) — Through television's magic, more people watched President Truman's inauguration on Thursday than had ever before seen a single event. The number was estimated at 10,000,000. The telecast also was rated "very satisfactory" by viewers in Milwaukee at the upper extremity of the western leg of the network. It also went into Canada where a number of set owners regularly receive programs from United States stations near the border.

BOSTON, Lincolnshire, England, Jan. 21 (Reuters) — More than 150 children were taken ill with suspected food poisoning Thursday after a school lunch on fish cakes and fruit pudding. The children collapsed at their desks, complaining of sickness and stomach pains, and afterwards lost the use of their legs. Seven of the worst cases were taken to hospital.

Truman Has One Of Toughest Jobs Up At 5:30 To Get Business Done

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—(CP).—Harry Truman, the happy smiling man the people of the United States cheered, has one of the world's toughest jobs. During the next four years, he'll receive 8,000,000 letters and telegrams, sign 60,000 papers, shake countless hands and smile thousands of times for photographers.

Most days he'll be up and around at 5.30 a.m. for a business and social routine lasting well into the evening. He'll perform ceremonial functions, direct the executive branch of the Government, give orders to the armed forces as their commander-in-chief, serve as leader of the Democratic Party.

Only in the comparative privacy of his own home will he be free of curious crowds and vigilant secret-service agents. As a citizen, he'll pay income tax and strive to buget his salary to meet his many obligations.

Sets The Pace

He'll set the pace in everything from foreign policy to appointment of postmasters. And, at the end of those four fateful years as President, he'll take the final responsibility for everything the United States has done—or hasn't done—during his term of office.

Busy and hectic a Thursday's inaugural celebration may have been, it wasn't too far removed from the busy, hectic routine the President adheres to every day. For a man who really prefers a quiet, uncomplicated home life, it's a humdinger.

At 5:30 a. m., he reads half a dozen newspapers and magazines, then takes a walk, breakfasts at 8 and dictates letters from 8:30 to 9.

Then comes a conference with the household staff. After a meeting with his personal chief of staff, President Truman welcomes the first of a day-long stream of visitors. Whenever there's a minute to spare, he signs his name to papers.

The reading of reports, memorandums and documents takes up the rest of the day and most evenings until 11 o'clock. If ceremonial and social functions eat into his timetable, that "must" reading continues even later.

Family Evenings

But President Truman manages the odd evening with his family—just relaxing, or playing phonograph records, or around the piano. The President is an accomplished pianist; his 24-year-old daughter, Margaret, is launching a career as a concert singer.

On several occasions, notably at the National Press Club's father-and-daughter party here last month, he has been her accompanist.

The President walks a lot, especially since he must go from Blair House, his temporary home, to the White House office wing each day during current repairs to the White House living-quarters.

People like this down-to-earth habit of his. The Washington Star said recently:

"The Chief Executive's recent much-heralded feat of footing it to Union Station to meet Mrs. Truman and Margaret was the greatest shot-in-the-arm to pedestrianism since the model T hit the road."

Faces Sabotage Charge

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21 (CP)—Fred Gray, 37-year-old seaman from Verdun, Que., Thursday night was charged with sabotaging a 10,000-ton Vancouver freighter in the waters of Puget Sound earlier Thursday. The freighter Tahsis, loaded with 5,000 tons of cargo from Honolulu, drifted for two hours near Point No Point while engineers worked on a damaged rudder mechanism. Police said Gray told them he damaged the vessel to "get even" with the captain and 43 crew members.

TORONTO, Jan. 21 (CP) — Law students at Osgoode Hall will receive more practical training to achieve "a better balance between academic and practical training," it was learned Thursday. A meeting of benchers of the Law Society of Upper Canada endorsed a nine-point program which will bring a marked change in the present system of legal education.

Find Rain-Making Tests Uncertain

TORONTO, Jan. 21 — (CP) — An Ontario Lands and Forests Department report issued today says rain-making experiments "are not conclusive," and the feasibility of making artificial rain "will depend on further experiments."

The report was based on large-scale experiments conducted by the National Research Council last summer in the Chapleau and Mississagi districts in which dry ice was "seeded" into clouds as a final attempt to precipitate rain on burning timberland.

The results were not successful and it was a natural downpour which finally extinguished the fires.

The report said aircraft used for "seeding" of dry ice should be rugged enough to withstand severe air turbulance, "should approximate a ceiling of at least 20,000 feet, have a rapid climb and sufficient fuel to seed a large area." To produce appreciable rainfall "innoculation would seem to require a cloud depth of at least 4,000 feet," the report added.

LONDON, Jan. 21 (AP) — The Labor government spent £1,586,780 ($6,275,120) for advertsing in the British press during the 1947-48 fiscal year. Test Farm Equipment

TORONTO, Jan. 21 (CP) — A resolution asking that a board be setup to investigate and test farm equipment before it is placed on the market was passed by the Ontario Farm Equipment Dealers' Association at its annual convention here Thursday. Local Council Installation At First Dinner Meeting Jean Royce, Registrar Speaks

First installation dinner of the Local Council of Women was an event of Thursday evening in the Empress Hotel. Five vice presidents, elected by vote during the annual meeting earlier in the day, were charged with the fundamental duties of their office and duly installed by the Hon. Iva C. Fallis of Peterborough. Also, Mrs. W. Addyman who continues as president for a third term, pledged her service to the council

Vice presidents in the order of their standing are: Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser, Mrs. R. G. Cottrell, Mrs. H. Dunford, Mrs. A. A. McIntyre and Mrs. A. Leach. Recording secretary Mrs. W. C. Steinkraus remains in office for a third term and was installed in this ceremony.

Senator Fallis told more than 100 assembled members of affiliated societies "The Local Council has a wonderful opportunity to mould public opinion" and went on to emphasize the power of public sentiment on governing bodies of the country. "It is an unique organization in that it is free to discuss affairs of any nature and come to decisions as it sees fit since it is not bounded by church doctrines, political principles or other pledges," she said.

One of the ways for women to bring themselves to the fore and give convincing proof of their abilities is to engage in controversy and Senator Fallis urges they do so. "We would have much better-informed women in the country if they weren't afraid of controversial subjects" she said. "There are two sides to almost every subject."

Long an advocate of equality for women, the Senator said "I feel they can do well the majority of jobs that tare seemingly reserved for mades. Exemplificatiol is before us in the guest speaker, Miss Jean Royce of Kingston, who ably fills the position of Registrar at Queen's University, an office seldom held by a woman."

Miss Royce was introduced by a fellow graduate of the University, Miss Helen McGregor of PCVS teaching staff and member of the University Women's Club. She explained that the registrar is the person everybody writes to about everything when they have business with the college.

Principal cities of Italy which she visited on a European tour last summer were described by the speaker. Miss Royce left this country on a Polish ship enroute to Switzerland by way of Italy. Passengers were mostly Italian Americans returning to their homeland she said. They seemed anxious, yet fearful of the reunion with parents, brothers and sisters, who were waiting at the port of Genoa to receive them. All gave evidence of preferring to be Americans and many who had left Italy with only a few lire were returning quite prosperous and planned to bring luxury on their families

Naples, pock - marked with sshell during the war, was rapidly being restored Miss Royce noted. Hotel rates were shamefully cheap, about $2.50 for a high class room, but a meal at the same price was quite unestable. "At first glance the people appeared well off," she said. "Italian women are beautiful and they have used every means possible to maintain a well-dressed appearance." However, the squalid conditions she saw in back alleys of this city are incomparable," she said. "It was a relief to get out of that place where one was constantly in fear something terrible would happen."

"The trains were never on time, you were lucky to get a seat, and they never had food" she said of the railway transportation. "Buses, however, were government sponsored, all new and very comfortable. Tradespeople in Italy were always begging travellers to buy and were amazingly eager to display any of their wares."

Very different was Miss Royce's impression of Rome and she recommends seeing it at least six times: first for a general survey, then ancient, medieval, renaissance and modern Rome, and then all over it again. "It was like being on the set of a play where I found many women competently filling state positions and professions. Most of them had been forced to work to bolster the family income." The teaching profession seemed to be the hardest hit she explained, and children of professors earning $60 week were having to suffer neglect. Such economic conditions brought about delinquency and the tragedies of poverty among people not accustomed to it.

In Rome the traveller is wakened early in the morning when the street markets are set up. The noise of gardeners crying their wares and people arguing with them is "terrific" she commented.

Perhaps the loveliest city in Italy is Sienna in the opinion of Miss Royce. Here she was struck by the "kind of shuttered look" taken on during afternoon siestas. "The streets are peopled with the past" she added and recalled characters in books and writings that are familiar to many.

Florence was unforgiveably destroyed just as the Germans were leaving the city and lost almost all of her beautiful bridges. "The prices were high but not out of reach to Americans."

Milan, and industrial city, reminded Miss Royce of Detroit, especially since there seemed to be so many American cars, almost all of one new make. "This city has one of the most beautiful cathedrals and has wonderful picture galleries" she remarked.

"A visit to Italy gives one a new respect for humanity" Miss Royce concluded. "It's people have surmounted tremendous difficulties and are going ahead. They will carry on because they have the very stuff in them to do it."

Mrs. A. W. Nelson, president of Home and School Council, affiliated group of the Local Council of Women, expressed appreciation to the speaker from the audience.

Mayor Maxwell Swanston made a brief address to the dinner guests and expressed his confidence in the Local Council of Women to assist in Civic affairs. "Since it's organization in 1913 the Council has always taken an active part for the good of the city" he said.

Flags for Civic Arena To Be Presented By Local Council of Women

Presentation of two flags to the new Civic Arena will be made by Local Council of Women, it was unanimously decided at the annual meeting Thursday. A Canadian flag and a Union Jack in size 6 by 12 feet will be purchased and hung in the building. A ceremony is to be arranged by citizenship convener, Mrs. E. B. McWilliams, assisted by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, an affiliated society. This is expected to take place during the first week of February when the National Council president is in the city.

Donations from interested citizens provided two life memberships in the Local Council. The first was designated for the first vice-president and went to Mrs. A. A. McIntyre, and the second was to be given to Mrs. C. Olaveson. The presentations were made by charter life members, Mrs. B. W. McNeely and Mrs. J. M. Fanning, assisted by Mrs. H. Larmer of Lindsay. Peterborough Council has the largest group of life members in Canada.

A token of appreciation for her services as treasurer the past three years was presented to Mrs. J. M. Fanning by the president, Mrs. W. Addyman. Mrs. B. W. McNeely, retiring vice-president, was also honored with a gift.

Dr. Lotta Hitchmanova was approved as a speaker to the Council meeting on February 17. Dr. Charlotte Whitton will come for April meeting. Members heartily supported the suggestion of film and printed matter convener, Mrs. W. Flowers, to ask a local theatre to bring "Hamlet" to the screen in this city. March meeting has been assigned to "citizenship." Those desiring to hear special types of radio programs were asked to submit their ideas to the radio convener, Miss R. Panter.

The Rev. Walter Gilling of St. Luke's Anglican Church opened the annual meeting with a service of worship. Alderman James Gillespie extended civic greetings and good wishes. About 50 members were registered by Mrs. B. W. McNeely and Mrs. M. Drysdale.

A plea "to bring love and sympathy, lost arts, back into fashion, and to get down to work in this new year in an effort to dispense some of the milk of human kindness" was made by Mrs. Addyman in a brief president's address. "The need for Council work has never been greater than it is today with half the world dying of starvation and the majority of them being women and children," she said. "During the past 50 years the world has changed and we are closer together. We must interest ourselves in world affairs. Food, shelter and gainful employment is every human being's birthright but the problem is a long way from being solved."

"It is our duty to do all we can to maintain local services, to promote Christian democracy and Canadian citizenship" the president continued. "Women have tremendous power if they will exert themselves and use it for the good of their fellowmen. We expended ourselves to bring the war to a successful conclusion but now we are returning to our apathetic way of living."

Mrs. Addyman also reported on the Provincial annual meeting of November 25-27 in Toronto at which she was elected vice president.

A review of the year's activities was prepared and read by Mrs. W. C. Steinkraus, recording secretary, and Mrs. J. M. Fanning gave a financial report of totals for 1948. Mrs. B. W. McClennan, corresponding secretary, reported writing 155 letters for the year and said average attendance at meetings was 32. Letters of greeting from international, national and provincial sources were received for this meeting.

Many women who became acquainted with Peterborough's Council president Mrs. Addyman at the international meeting in Philadelphia in 1947 are writing her with questions about systems here. They are particularly interested in the source of milk supply in the city and methods of pasteurization, she reported.

DOROTHY DIX

Marriage Is Often Gamble For Quarrelsome Couples

DEAR MISS DIX: My boy friend and I have been going together for eight months and all we do is fight constantly over little things that are not of much importance. There have been only about six or seven times that we really enjoyed ourselves when we went out together. Is this disagreement between engaged couples common, or were we just not made for each other?

CAL

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Certainly if you and your fiance cannot get along amicably together before you are married, the evidence is conclusive that you should call off your love affair and thus save yourselves from lives of misery. Don't delude yourself into thinking that marriage is going to change you from fighting cocks into cooing doves. Marriage doesn't alter our dispositions. It only makes us more set in our ways.

"Peace! Peace! Ain't peace wonderful?" said Father Divine in one of his sermons. Truer words never were spoken, and no other factor is so important in marriage as peace is. It is the one and only sure guarantee of success. Any husband and wife who can live together in peace will be happy, and every couple who are in a perpetual fight will be miserable.

Universally Known Fact

This is a fact that is so universally known that it would seem that it would be an awful warning to every boy and girl not to pick out mates with whom they can't be together for half an hour without getting into each other's hair. Love is a tough thing and will take a lot of beating, but it can't stand a perpetual quarrel. That will cool off the hottest passion to subnormal.

So, dear, if you want to be happy though married, tie up with some lad who has the same religion and politics and tastes and habits and who likes the same sort of cooking that you do. "Peace! Peace! Ain't it wonderful?" Especially in marriage.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a boy of 16, nearly 17, but I don't know what to do or say to a girl of my age. I don't know how to start a conversation with a girl, or what to talk about. I don't know how to meet a new girl, or what to talk about after I meet her. I don't know how to get a date, or do anything else that a boy of my age likes to do. Can you give me some advice?

S. I. G.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Well, son, ther are thousands of boys of your age who are in the same predicament that you are, and it is the fault of their mothers who haven't taken the trouble to teach them the social graces that will keep them from being girl-shy. So here are a few tips on how to break into juvenile society:

To begin with, learn how to dance. At your time of life, educating your feet is almost as important as educating your head. If you are a good dancer, you don't need to be a good conversationalist. The little sweeties will all be crazy to dance with you, instead of with the jokels who step all over them and cripple them for life. Also, if you learn to be a good dancer, it will cure you forever of being scared of girls.

As for conversation, the way to get started in that is to ask a girl questions. Where does she go to school? How does she like her teachers? Does she like to dance? And so on and so forth. As long as you can keep her talking about herself, she will think you are a fascinating conversationalist. If she is dumb and her repertoire only consists of "yes" or "no," talk about yourself.

As for dates, if you haven't got the nerve to ask a girl for one, write her a little note asking the pleasure of her company. Make it just simple, but ask her in time before she gets tied up with any other boy.

Try these suggestions out and see if they won't work.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX. I am 17 and a boy wants me to marry him, but I don't want to do it. I want to go with other boys and have a good time before I settle down, but I don't know how to tell this boy about it because I don't want to hurt his feelings. Shall I tell him I don't like him, or that someone else has come into my life?

TEEN-AGER

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Well, child, you don't have to marry a man you don't want just to be polite and to keep from hurting his feelings. At 17 you are entirely too young to marry, and you are very wise to stay single and have a good time and see and know many men before you assume the responsibilities of matrimony.

Social Situations

SITUATION: A man is eating in a restaurant with a woman. Another woman stops by the table for a moment and says to the man, "Please don't get up."

WRONG WAY: He takes her at her word, and does not rise to greet her.

RIGHT WAY: He stands, hoping, of course, that she will be gracious enough to move on quickly, so as not to keep him standing.

Turnips and Tomatoes
(Serves 4 to 6)

Wash and pare turnips; parboil in boiling, salted water to cover till the turnips are just barely tender. Drain, cut in quarters or cubes. Season with a little salt, pepper and butter. Allow ½ cup of cubed turnips for each serving.

Place 2 cups cubed parboiled turnips in a greased baking dish; season with salt, pepper and a few grains of nutmeg. Pour over the turnips 1½ cups stewed or canned tomatoes. Sprinkle the top thickly with buttered crumbs and a light dusting of paprika. Brown in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. 25 minutes.

Red Cabbage European Style
(4 to 6 servings)

One medium head red cabbage, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 tablespoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon grated nutmeg, 1 tablespoon carawayseeds, 4 or 6 hot boiled potatoes.

Wash the cabbage, cut in shreds, let stand in cold water. Drain, place in an enamel or agate saucepan in which the butter is melted. Add the vinegar, sugar and seasonings. Cover the pan closely and cook slowly 30 minutes, or till the cabbage is tender and steaming. Serve on a warmed platter surrounded by hot boiled potatoes.

Baked Small Squash

Wash squash, cut in half, remove seeds and fibers. Allow ½ squash for each serving. Arrange in a greased baking pan; in each half add ¼ teaspoon salt mixed with ⅛ teaspoon pepper, a few grains paprika, and ⅛ teaspoon powdered cinnamon. Add a dab of butter or sour cream and fill up with finely minced onion. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. 30 to 50 minutes or longer, depending on size of squash; add a tablespoon of water to the pan if the squash seems to be burning on the bottom

JOYCE WALKER, of Southwark, London, England, smiles from her stretcher in the Royal Waterloo Hospital after her marriage to Sidney Button, in Southwark's Trinity Church. The bride was carried into church wearing a gown of white figured silk with bouquet of red carnations, and immediately afterwards was taken back to the hospital by ambulance to cut the cake from her stretcher. The young couple, engaged for nearly three years, decided to carry out their wedding plans even after the bride discovered an ailment in her legs a few weeks ago which might take two years to cure.

Atomic Tools Used To Aid Farm Produce

BY ROBERT E. GEIGER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) —Scientists are trying to use atomic and other scientific tools to cut patterns for new and more profitable farm crops.

David E. Lilienthal, head of the Atomic Energy Commission, says some experiments even may uncover ways to change cattle, possibly making them produce more milk or beefsteak—and faster.

Two new ways of tailor-making plants and animals to make them produce more hold great promise:

1. Breeding to bring out the desirable characteristics of existing plants and animals. Some new information about this is available.

2. Using radioactivity to produce new individuals—both plants and animals—with more desirable and profitable characteristics. This may speed up breeding work, which frequently is a slow process when nature is left alone to do the job.

Explains Experiments

Lilienthal explains the new atomic experiments this way: living creatures—are exposed to radiation, such as X-ray, their genes may be changed.

Genes are the things in living cells that control what a parent hands down to its offspring.

Much more powerful radiation than X-ray now is available from the atomic plants. The big problem is to control the changes they produce in plants and creatures so desirable results can be obtained in the first or second generation.

Dr. Merle T. Jenkins, in charge of corn investigations for the United States Department of Agriculture, says great changes are coming in corn growing. He sees these possibilities:

1. Corn tailor-made to fit neatly into harvesting equipment so that harvestings costs will be reduced.

2. Corn that will thrive on dry, hot weather.

3. Hybrid corn much more resistant to disease and insect pests.

McDonald Candidate For Muskoka Riding

BURKS FALLS, Ont., Jan. 21—(CP)—Wilfred McDonald, Liberal Member of Parliament for Parry Sound and former star hockey player will be the Liberal candidate for the redistributed riding of Parry Sound-Muhkoka in the next Federal election.

Five others named for the nomination declined to stand against Mr. McDonald at the convention Thursday night, held in a chilly theatre in the light of pressure lamps, Wednesday night's storm had interrupted power in the town near North Bay for 24 hours.

Health Minister Martin, principal speaker, terming the convention democracy in action, said "Let us never forget that in most parts of the world today democracy is not a fact. We must, despite our political affiliations, treasure the great heritage of democracy that is ours."

Mr. Martin asserted the Liberal party was the only national party today. "It is the only party which can claim substantial support from one end of the country to the other."

$200,000 Truman Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—It would have cost Lloyds of London $200,000 if President Truman had not shown up for his inauguration. An inaugural committee official disclosed the historic inaugural ceremony had been insured for that sum with a company of the famed British firm. He said local merchants who contributed $260,000 for inauguration celebration costs paid Lloyds a premium of more than $10,000 on the "Truman Policy."

Law School Dean Resigns Denounces Teaching Ways

TORONTO, Jan. 22—(CP)—Dr. Cecil A. Wright resigned as Dean of the Osgoode Hall Law School Friday with a denunciation of new teaching methods which he said would put the school back 25 years. Three full-time lecturers at the school also resigned with their Dean. They were Stanley E. Edwards, John Willis and Bora Laskin.

Chief effect of the new regulations governing the teaching of students would be to give them increased practical training in law offices and fewer lecture periods at the Hall. The report was approved Thureday by a meeting of benchers of the Law Society of Upper Canada.

held the office for 10 months, held the ofofice for 10 months, made public a letter to G. W. Mason, treasurer of the Law Society.

In it he said he would continue his teaching courses at Osgoode, where he has instructed since 1927, until the end of the present term if the benchers wished.

Not Invited

"Dean Wright's letter said he was not invited to attend meetings of the committee which drew up the teaching regulations. He had had no information on their activities until he read of the adoption of the regulations in a Friday morning paper.

He wrote:

"In view of the fact that I am charged with the administration of the law school, it seems to me that it would have been only an act of common courtesy to inform me of such a startling departure from all my recommendations to the benchers before publishing them in the press.

Lord Melchett Dies In Florida

LONDON, Jan. 22 — (CP). — Lord Melchett, a director of the International Nickel Company of Canada, who adopted the Jewish faith, died to-day in Miami, Fla., according to word reaching his family here.

A member of the famous Mond family which pioneered in nickel production, he was 50 years old.

Reared as Christians, Lord Melchett and his sister, the Marchioness of Reading, formally joined the Jewish faith in 1933, during Hitler's early persecutions of the Jews in Germany.

Later he became a leader in the Zionist movement and author of a book, "Thy Neighbor," strongly advocating the case for a Jewish national home.

He had been inactive in recent years because of ill-health, and in 1947 resigned his chief business connection, as deputy director of Imperial Chemicals Industries, Limited.

Lord Melchett was active for a number of years in the Jewish Agency for Palestine, the organization recognized by Britain as representing the Jews in Palestine during the British mandate.

Li Appoints 5 Delegates To Ask Peace

No Indication Given Reds Will Receive Nanking Officials

NANKING, Jan. 22—(AP). — China's tottering government tonight announced the appointment of five delegates to negotiate peace with the Communists.

Heading the delegation will be Shao Li-tze, a veteran advocate of peace between the Nationalists and the Reds.

Appointment of the peace mission came a few hours after Acting President Li Tsung-jen assumed the powers of Chiang Kai-shek, who retired Friday after 22 years at the helm of Nationalist China.

(There apparently was still no indication that the Communists would deal with the Government on anything except Red terms.)

Li's intention to send a peace delegation was announced earlier in the day at a tea party of government officials.

Li quietly assumed Presidential powers at a simple ceremony which lasted only a few minutes. It was an anti-climax to Chiang Kai-Shek's retirement after 22 years of heading China's government.

To Contact Reds

The tea was a characteristic manner for Li to greet his associates. Both Li and Premier Sun Fo told officials that the government definitely would send delegates "to Yenan"—referring to the Communist capital, but meaning delegates would be sent to Red leaders.

Then Li and Sun Fo resumed sessions with top officials. Informed sources reported they were trying to determine exactly how and when contact could be opened with the Red high command. It was expected these meetings would continue over Sunday.

Chinese leaders, seeking to accustom themselves to acting without a nod from Chiang Kai-shek, conferred almost endlessly on means of opening direct talks with the Reds.

There has been no plain statement from the Communists via their radio—the only means of contact now open—that they will find Li's leadership of the National government any more acceptable than that of Chiang.—

Li assumed the President's duties at a simple ceremony lasting only a few minutes at the executive offices. The meeting was closed to the public, but attended by the Cabinet, whom Li again asked to remain at their posts.

Informed sources said they were trying to pick a committee which may fly to the Red capital of Yenan or any other place the Communists direct for the first face-to-face conference with the Reds.

It was almost certain, these sources added, that Gen. Chang Chih-chung, one of the few high government officials not on the Red "war criminal" list, would lead the delegation.

The government commander in northwest China, Chang has been an outspoken proponent of immediate peace.

Anthony Eden In Canada On Business-Pleasure Trip

MONTREAL, Jan. 22 — (CP)— Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the British Conservative party, stepped off the plane at Montreal's Dorval airport Friday night to begin what he termed a "business and pleasure trip."

"The business is the speeches I will make and the pleasure will be meeting all my old friends," the 51-year-old statesman said.

Mr. Eden with the confident air of a man long familiar with the business of press conferences, greeted reporters with a wide smile but little information.

"Just let me say that it gives me great pleasure to visit Canada again and see all my old friends and to make new ones."

Mr. Eden said that he would be seeing Prime Minister St. Laurent and also George Drew, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, during his visit.

He is scheduled to speak at the Toronto Board of Trade on Monday. On his trip across Canada he will stop at Ottawa, Winnipeg and Vancouver, before taking a plane from San Francisco for a fast visit to New Zealand.

The small room at the airport, where the press conference was held, was jammed with reporters, photographers and newsreel cameramen. The greying diplomat skilfully parried all questions on international affairs or politics.

"What are the chances of the Conservative party winning the next general election in Britain?" a reporter asked.

"Your guess is probably as good as mine," Mr. Eden answered, dexterously balancing a cup of coffee, not tea, in one hand and munching a cookie from the other.

Boat Swamped By High Waves, 4 Indians Drown

ALGONAC, Mich., Jan. 22 (CP) —Sheriff's officers reported Friday night that four persons drowned when a rowboat, powered by an outboard motor, was swamped by high waves in the St. Clair river.

A fifth occupant was saved when he clung to the overturned boat until rescuers arrived.

Police said three of the victims were Indians from the Walpole Island Reservation on the Canadian side of the river.

They reported that the Indians came here Friday and hired Norman Smith, 29, of Algonac to take them back to the island in his boat.

The craft was swamped after it had covered only 500 feet of its journey.

Rescuers put out in another small boat and saved Clayton Peters, 32, whose cries for help had been heard on shore. He was taken to a hospital and treated for shock.

Searchers recovered the body of Emily Nahdee, 45, but did not locate those of Smith or Joseph Peters, father of Clayton or Laura Smith, 50, the latter two of Walpole Island.

Truck Hits Cafe Driver Trapped

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 22 (CP)— An unidentified transport driver was trapped to-day in the wreckage of his truck inside a blazing restaurant five miles east of London on No. 2 Highway at 9 a.m.

Provincial Police notified City of London Fire Department they believed the driver was burned to death and that the fire in the restaurant, The Rendezvous, was out of control.

The fire started when the truck went out of control and smashed into the wooden roadhouse near the City of London Airport. Operators of the restaurant live in the building and they apparently escaped. Further details were not immediately available.

Find Signs Of Life After Plane Hits Hill

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 22 —(AP)—An Alaska Airlines DC-transport plane wiith six persons aboard crushed into a hillside on the Kenai Peninsula Thursday night and searchers said there were indications of life aboard.

The Anchorage office of the airline gave the report of possible survivors late today, after the first report from a ground party said that all were dead.

The company said there was no indication of who or how many might be alive. It reported searchers were forced to cut into the fuselage.

A B-17 from the United States Air Force 10th Rescue Squadron sighted the wreckage at 4:20 a.m. PST. Shortly before noon PST a ground party reached the scene and reported all were dead.

On the basis of this first report, the airline started notifying relatives. Then came the second report of possible survivors.

Blames US Again

MOSCOW, Jan. 22—(AP)—The editor of the official Communist newspaper Pravda Friday cited the situation in China as an example of the failure of the plans of "American reactionaries." P. S. Pospelov quoted Lenin to the effect that Asiatic peoples would be decisive for the fate of the world's population.

Hear Plague Wiping Out Half Village

Paratroopers Taken On Mercy Trip; News 3 Months Late

TRENTON, Jan. 22 — (CP).— A mercy plane took off for Winnipeg at 9.29 a.m. EST to-day on the first leg of a flight to the Arctic. It is intended to save a tiny Eskimo village from being wiped out by a mysterious epidemic which had killed nine of its 17 inhabitants by November. The aircraft is due to arrive in Winnipeg at 4.29 p.m. EST.

The crew will take the plane as far as Edmonton where a crew from the RCAF North-west Air Command will make the actual flight north.

The plane started its dash late Friday but technical difficulties forced it to turn back after flying westward for half an hour.

The ski-equipped Dakota transport was made ready for its flight deep into the Arctic regions after word from Ottawa reached RCAF Central Command headquarters here of the plague ravaging the hamlet of Cresswell bay on Somerset Island, roughly 1,000 miles north of Churchill, Man., and 400 miles within the Arctic circle. But the news, carried part of the way from the north by dog team, was three months old.

The crew, which earlier had been preparing to take part in a search for a plane found forced down on on a Hudson Bay ice-field, planned to pick up a doctor in Winnipeg and then fly to Churchill, whence the craft would leave for its trip up the western shore of Hudson Bay to the general area where the supply ship Nascopie foundered in the summer of 1947.

The Dakota carried medical supplies and two members of the RCAF's new para-rescue team, who were prepared to bail out over the plague-ridden community if conditions made a landing inadvisable. Packed into the cabin were cannisters of food and first aid equipment suitable for dropping by parachute to survivors.

FO Bill Christmas of Trenton, was at the controls, with Flt. Lt. Milt Cowie of Oshawa, Ont., co-pilot. Other members of the rescue party: FO M. S. Szlezak, radio officer, Winnipeg; Cpl. R. R. Robison, Bobcaygeon, and LAC J. D. Glydon, Trenton, the para-rescue team; LAC R. W. Stewart, wireless mechanic, Unity, Sask.; LAC W. J. Lamoureux, St. Vital, Man.. and LAC L. Jarvis, Mountain View, Ont., airframe technicians.

Storms Trap Cattle Air Force Called In

CHICAGO, Jan. 22—(AP)—New snow piled into the Western United States today, complicating the job of stockmen and government officials trying to save drift-bound cattle and sheep.

Parts of Nevada, already covered with a snow measuring up to 17 inches, received most of the new blanket.

Meanwhile, the air force was ready to inaugurate an air lift for livestock in Nevada and other western states.

At Ely, Nev., George N. Swallow, secretary of the United Stockmen's Association estimated 70,000 sheep are in a critical condition.

Avoiding Sanctions

NEW DELHI, Jan. 22 — (AP). — A delegate to the Asian conference on Indonesia said today that body probably will make no direct reference to economic sanctions in its recommendations to the United Nations. The conference was called to protest Dutch military operations against the Indonesian Republic. The informant said that if the council should fail to take effective action in the Indonesian matter it might be necessary to hold a second Asian conference to consider the problem further.

Burning Cutter Inferno Survivors Tell

NEW YORK, Jan. 22—(AP)—A lurid, floating inferno—drifting aimlessly on the sea in foggy darkness—power gone — ripped engines spewing steam—no light except from dancing flames—

This was the United States coast guard cutter Eastwind as described Friday by the men who stayed on board her after she was rammed by the 10,000-ton oil tanker Gulfstream off the coast of New Jersey early Wednesday.

The crew members told their story after the battered, fire-blackened ice-breaking cutter was towed into New York harbor Friday. Aboard were the bodies of 11 men killed in the accident.

"It was a miracle that more men were not killed," said Lt. Cmdr. Charles Leising, the cutter's chief engineer. "It's a wonder they didn't trample each other to death."

Reporters were allowed aboard the crippled vessel to talk to the crew of 47, including the skipper, Capt. John A. Flynn.

The rest of the 162 men on board the cutter at the time of the accident, including 10 injured, were brought here earlier by rescue ships.

Gave Life For Buddy

Leising told how one coast guardsman, Robert Connors died in a vain effort to save the life of a buddy.

Shortly after the collision, Leising said Connors came up on deck of the flame-swept ship, then suddenly started below again.

"Where are you going?" an officer shouted. "You can't go down there."

"I'm going down to get Zerr," Connors retorted, and disappeared below deck.

Leising said Connors' burned body was found at the foot of the ship's ladder. The friend he tried to save, apprentice fireman John V. Zerr, died in the same fire.

Capt. Flynn, his eyes bloodshot, his face singed and still wearing the pyjamas he had on at the time of the pre-dawn collision, told how the cutter became 'an instantaneous mass of flames." Some flames leaped higher than the 70-fot mast.

Orders Rebels Killed

ATHENS, Jan. 22 — (AP) — Greece's new generalissimo, Gen. Alexander Papagos has called on his troops to stamp out the Rebels —or died trying. In an order of the day, issued as the Communist-led Guerrillas pressed their campaign in northern Greece and in the Peloponnesus, Papagos said:

"Every section that is unable to advance will have to hold its position and will choose to be killed instead of withdrawing."

If Saskatchewan Plane Fails In Arctic Rescue Planning To Try Glider

Weak Ice Becomes Additional Hazard For RCAF Rescue Job; Open Water Prevents Use Of Dog Sled

WINNIPEG, Jan. 22—(CP).—RCAF rescue officials today awaited word from Churchill, Man., of the arrival there of a light aircraft from Saskatchewan — one of two expedients they may employ in efforts to evacuate 11 men from a giant, windswept floe of ice in Hudson Bay. If the new-type plane is unable to land near the 11—marooned since early Friday when their Dakota was forced down on the next-to-last lap of a 4,000-mile mercy mission into the Arctic—the Air Force will attempt to take the men off by towline glider.

A glider and glider tow, dispatched from the Joint Air Training School at Rivers, Man., is expected to reach Churchill later today. Should the RCAF decide to try to take the men off by glider, the machine's use for this purpose will be unprecedented in Canada.

Gliders have been used for evacuations by the United States, but only on isolated occasions.

Strip of Ice

Near the downed Dakota is a 900-foot strip of ice covered with two inches of snow. It is hoped the light aircraft will be able to land here. The plane can carry from five to seven passengers and take off with an extremely short run.

If neither it nor the glider are able to complete the evacuation, the RCAF may requisition a helicopter from Montana through the United States air force If necessary, this could be dismantled and flown to Churchill, then assembled and used in the evacuation efforts.

Use of an RCAF helicopter from Rivers first was considered. But its short flying range and the necessity of ending a "mother ship" along to enable it to refuel on the hop to Churchill made its use inadvisable.

The spot where the plane came down is about 70 miles southeast of the northern Manitoba port of Churchill, towards which the craft had been headed from Coral Harbor on Southampton Island when trouble struck. Weak ice stretches out into the bay from the shore for 15 to 20 miles, then comes a mile of open water, and next the ice-field where the plane was landed.

Because of the open water, air force officials were forced to dis-

Police who identified the victims indicated the five children had been trapped in their second floor living quarters above the automobile parts shop their father operated on the first floor.

The children who perished were: Anna, three; Danny, four; Florica and Thomas, 16-month-old twins, and Gregory, six months old.

Calls Egyptians And Jews For Showdown

RHODES, Jan. 22 (AP) — The acting United Nations mediator, Ralph C. Bunche, called in the heads of the Egyptian and Israeli delegations Friday night for a showdown in armistice talks.

The session began at 4 p.m. EST. Bunche indicated it was planned to keep the meeting going all night, if necessary, to reach an agreement.

Bunche indicated to reporters that both sides, who have been in almost continual conference the last two days, had about run out of arguments and that some final decision either of agreement or complete breakup of the ealks may be expected shortly.

The conference began here Jan. 13.

Two British pilots shot down on the Egyptian-Israeli front Jan. 7 boarded the Italian steamer Campedoglio at Haifa for Cyprus Friday. They were escorted aboard the ship by Senior Israeli Air Force officers, whose prisoners they had been since the incident in which five RAF planes were shot down. The other three pilots were killed.

No Red Danger Worry Lifted Bengough Says

TORONTO, Jan. 22—(CP)—Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, says the threat of Communism can be removed if workers' worries and griefs are eliminated.

He told the Ontario Provincial Federation of Labor Friday that restrictive legislation would only spread Communism.

"We don't want any bosses or government choosing our representatives," he said. "You can't run a democratic organization on that basis. The evils that would creep in would be disastrous.

"We need to eliminate the worries and griefs of the people. People worry about what is going to happen to them when they are too old to work. In industry today they are going on the junk pile a lot sooner than they used to. They are worried about losing their jobs, about getting sick. If these things are taken care of, there won't be dissatisfaction that certain people can cash in on and use for their own purpose."

The convention, now in its second day, went on record as requesting a minimum hourly wage of 75 cents for all Ontario workers. At present there is no minimum wage for men and the minimum wage for women workers varies according to the provincial zone. The Toronto minimum is approximately $16.80 for women workers.

Also recommended by the convention were:

A maximum work week of 48 hours for all firefighters in Ontario; increased scholarships and provincial grants for education, together with a reduction in educational fees; compulsory examination at government expense of all food and beverage handlers twice yearly; a campaign by labor for an all-inclusive Ontario Health Bill covering hospital care, medical and surgical care

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

Reeve Ferguson Protests Federation Taxing Method

Finance committee of the County Council has recommended that a fifth of a mill be levied on the equalized assessment for the annual grant to the Federation of Agriculturue. It is estimated this will amount to $2,218.69.

Included in the motion was the statement that it expects the Federation to finance a grant to the Crop Improvement Association for the Grassland Day in June.

The motion looked as though it would be passed with a minimum of discussion when Rork Ferguson, reeve of Norwood, jumped to his feet and said the Federation "is taking the easy way out."

He said that the Federation had secured the right through provincial legislation to levy a fifth of a ill on township assessments on the understanding that individual taxpayers could opt out of the levy. And he thought they could have tried this before coming to the County Council year after year.

(According to the Provincial Act the municipality would first pass a by-law allowing this deduction which would come only from those who agreed to it. Thus villages could avoid the levy by not passing the by-law. Under the blanket assessment by the County Council all taxpayers must pay.)

"The Federation takes the course of least resistance every year; the come to the County Council and they get the money. All they do is walk up here and get it, and yet there is legislation in this province allowing them to raise money in a different way."

"If they want the organization to prosper they should go about it in a legitimate way." he said.

"I can't see why Norwood isn't more prosperous considering all the oratory that comes out of it," said Melville Johnston, reeve of North Monaghan replying to Mr. Ferguson.

"No doubt Mr. Ferguson is right that we're taking the path of least resistance," he said. He explained that in North Monaghan there were not enough farmers who would agree "to sign up," and this method did not work.

"That's why we want it this way," said Mr. Johnston. "We're getting the money and it's not hurting anybody very much. And there's less bookkeeping for the township clerks."

Reeve William Grant of Lakefield then said: "The Federation of Agriculture is really the farmer's trade union, and what they are asking here is, in effect, the checkoff system."

He suggested that farmers, like the industrialists might be better off but it had one unforunate effect: it caused the leaders to accept the automatic money-gathering system and lose some of the personal contact with the membership.

"The farmers organization would be better off if it had to fight for its dues. Just the same I'm going to vote for it."

Mr. Ferguson said he too would vote for the motion and it passed unanimously.

Before he sat down Mr. Grant voiced another grievance of the villages. He claimed that the townships get the same police protection as the villages, but the former did not pay for it.

Dairy Men Ask Ceiling Lifted

EDMONTON, Jan. 22 — (CP). Delegates to the Dairy Farmers of Canada annual convention on Friday urged the Federal Government to appeal the ruling legalizing manufacture and sale of margarine in Canada.

The dairymen asked the government to appeal to the Privy Council against the Supreme Court of Canada's decision that the 62-year-old Federal ban on margarine was illegal.

The convention also asked that the Federal Government order margarine manufacturers to give the butter substitute a "characteristic" co r to distinguish it from butte .

Another resolution asked removal of the ceiling price on butter "at the earliest possible moment" and a floor price of 62 cents a pound for a five-year period.

The meeting recommended that provincial dairy producers' organizations seek from their provincial governments "adequate" protection from margarine competition until such time as the Privy Council rules on an appeal.

dations lead me to the conclusion that my resignation as Dean must have been contmplated as a possibility by those persons drafting the report."

Set Back 25 Years

He stated that the recommendations would "set back legal education in this province at least 25 years."

The Law Society's report on education at Osgoode was adopted after two years' study by a committee of lawyers. The Society termed the report a confidential document and would not make copies of it public.

It announced, however, that among the recommendations were sections calling for: continuation of a system of concurrent law school and practical training; limitation of lectures at the school to 10 50-minute periods a week at 9 a.m. and 4:10 p.m. from Monday to Friday; enforcement of the rule requiring students to work in law offices in the Christmas and summer vacations; and consideration of a post-graduate law course.

Dean Wright said practical training in lawyers' offices for students could not give them allround training because of the specialization of modern law practice.

He said the school did not teach international law or jurisprudence. "There are even grave objections to teaching the labor law. There's not enough money in it, is the reason given."

Expect Deluge On Labor Code

QUEBEC, Jan. 22 — (CP)—Quebec Labor Department officials expect to be deluged by representations from workers' organizations on the draft of its proposed labor code.

Labor Minister Barrette Friday expressed "astonishment" over what comment there has been on the draft code, copies of which already are under study by Quebec unions and workers' federations.

Mr. Barrette reiterated earlier statements by Premier Duplessis that the Quebec government is prepared to hear labor's suggestions regarding the code which is to be written into provincial law books as a substitute for seven existing pieces of employer-employee legislation.

While the draft code has its basis in existing laws, it has many new provisions.

Most notable among them are those contained in a section concerned with "protection of integrity of association" which place a ban on union office-holding by Communists, subversive agents and supporters of subversive organizations.

Male Shoppers Hard To Coax Merchants Say

City merchants claim there is no way of enticing a man into a store — even a men's store — unless he has come downtown with the fixed idea of buying a particular article. The January sales are on; store-keepers are out to catch the eye, and thousands of dollars are changing hands. The women are responding, but the males are lagging.

New Year sales never fail to attract nearly every woman in town, but the men are as reluctant as ever to spend their time studying comparative prices of garments in which they often have only a dutiful interest. The owner of a Peterborough men's store estimates that approximately 95 per cent of purchases of men's clothing during the Christmas sales was made by women. "If a man wants a garment he will usually buy it more or less regardless of the price and will not bother to wait for the sales," he said.

Two stores, giving away a second pair of pants with every suit, saves the customer something like $20, and are attracting many buyers.

Shoes are perhaps the biggest draw in this year's sales. At one store, where the January sales rarely attract more than the usual amount of business there has been a steady flow of customers taking advantage of the reduced prices. Rubbers are the most popular type of footwear at present.

While the unusually mild winter weather has caused a slump in the sale of men's overcoats, women's cloth coats have sold more readily than at any other time in the history of most Peterborough stores. There are very few left for cheap sale. The number of fur coat days this winter could almost be counted on one hand, and this has led to a rush for the cloth coats.

Some store keepers report a more price conscious public this year than last, and say that they have had to offer genuine bargains to make their price reductions effective in attracting new customers. One store reports that the result of drastic reductions has been eventual increase in trade and profits although the articles sold individually at a loss or very small profit.

card rescue by dog team or by "Penguin," a motorized sled. Rescue by helicopter or by glider came up for consideration along with the idea of borrowing the new quick-rising type of plane from the Saskatchewan government.

The crew on the mercy flight plane, which came down a few hours after Thursday midnight, were: Flt. Lt. Ken Moore of Vancouver, pilot; Lt. A. B. Morabito of New Westminster, BC, first radio operator; Flt. Lt. F. L. Rowe of Vancouver, navigator; FO C. G. Mattusch of Elmira, Ont., second radio operator; Cpl. J. P. Rae of Regina, crew chief; LAC U. A. Burge of Winnipeg, Man; and LAC J. E. Clark, of Pilot Mound, Man., radio mechanic.

Pilots who flew over the area where the mercy plane made its night landing said that it had been brought down "at the only good landing spot in an area of 10 to 15 square miles."

Whether luck had played a part in this happy circumstance was not immediately known.

Pilot of the first plane to reach the scene reported that a 2,000-foot strip of smooth ice stretched out a quarter mile from the plane and that it seemed sufficiently safe to permit the landing of light planes. No attempt at rescue was made yesterday but supplies were dropped as well as arctic tents to house the men against the bone-chilling winds. A gas stove and gasoline also were parachuted to the spot.

Shot Down Into Mediterranean Twice In One Morning Duke Munro Hastings-Peterborough Liberal Candidate

BY NICK NICKELS

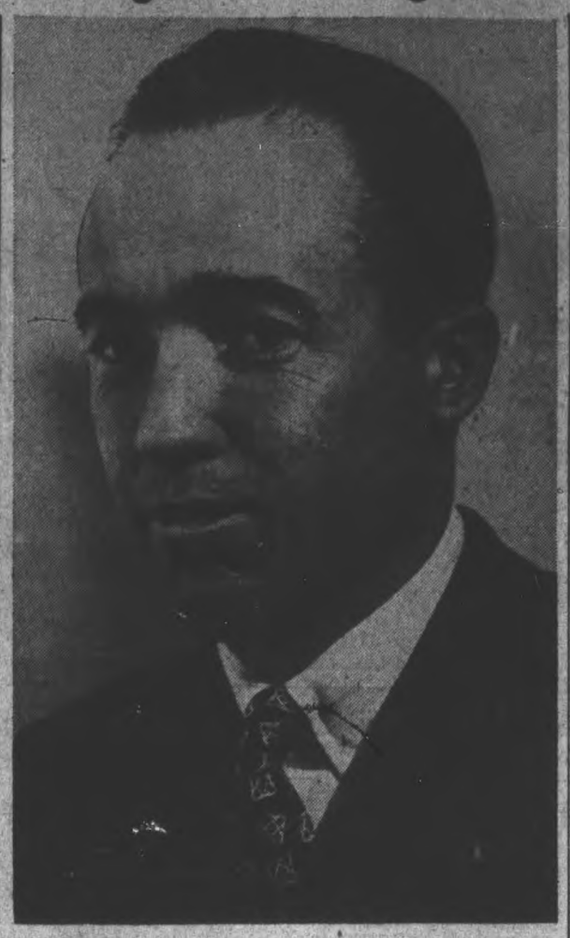
Liberals of Hastings-Peterborough have been re-organizing and rebuilding their political fences and in thus doing are getting ready for the next federal election which some think will come early in the summer. The riding covers perhaps the most territory of any in southern Ontario for it takes in the greater part of the rural sections of Hastings and Peterborough counties. But in spite of all this it is one of the smallest in population.

Traditionally Conservative the riding was established under the Redistribution Act of 1924 and comprised part of the old riding of Hastings East and all of Peterborough East. Up until 1935, Dr. A. T. Embury a Conservative of Bancroft was the member. Dr. Embury's majorities ranged from 2,764 to 4,117. From 1935 to 1940 Rork Ferguson reeve of Norwood and a Liberal was member. Mr. Ferguson's majority was 1,052 and in the last two elections George White a Madoc lawyer and a Conservative has been elected Mr. White won by 264 and 2,650 votes.

Up to 1903 Hastings consisted of three ridings and North Hastings was represented by Sir Mackenzie Bowell from 1867 to 1892. For many years he was a member of the government of Sir John A. Macdonald and after his elevation to the Senate he became Prime Minister.

Thus the Liberals of Hastings-Peterborough realize they have a battle on their hands if they hope to win.

Their unanimous choice made last week was John Wellington Munro who was raised in their midst and known affectionately as "Duke". You couldn't blame his school mates for abreviating Wellington. Duke had served overseas in the RCAF for six years and after he was demobilized in September 1945, the Association approached him. He was not then ready to settle down, to politics for flying was in his blood and he carried on with it in the role of bush pilot until November of last year. He experienced enough bush flying to realize that it was a rich man's game and it offered little future to a man with an ambition. However, nine years of flying broadened his outlook and, having packed as much excitement into that period of his life as it was possible for one man, he felt ready to settle down. His flying career went something like this.



LIBERAL NOMINEE — Nominated as party standard-bearer by the Liberals of the federal riding of Hastings-Peterborough, Duke Munro of Madoc served overseas six years with the RCAF in the second World War.

Duke Munro joined up in the RCAF at Kingston, in 1939, fresh from upper school; he was going on 20 years of age at the time. From the Brandon manning pool No. 1 EETS at Malton was only a matter of weeks and after three months at Uplands, he received his wings and sergeant's hooks. Then came an instruction course at Trenton and a posting to the twin-engine school at Claresholm, Alta., where he spent a year. He was itching to get overseas but there was still another six months delay, as he thought, at the FIS School at Vulcan, Alta. In February 1943 he was posted overseas.

But Duke was climbing up the flying ladder and at an operational training station in Tealing, Scotland, he was given a workout on Hurricanes before being posted to the Middle East to a replacement pilots pool in Algiers. It was from here that pilots were drawn for various fighting theatres and Duke became a pilot in the Hyderbad State Squadron, a unit financed by an Indian potentate. They flew Spitfires on convoy duty in the Mediterranean area, ranging as far to sea as Malta, and providing air coverage for the Sicilian invasion.

The next fighting station was at Salerno with another quick shift to Naples where they joined other air units in the battle of the Anzio beachhead landing. Then there was a trick, based on the island of Corsica, where he and his buddies ranged the European coast from Marseilles to Rome, dive-bombing and strafing the Nazis.

Over Napolean's old stamping ground, the island of Elba, he bailed out of his fighting craft that was hit by ground fire and was picked up from the sea by an RAF Walrus rescue flying boat. The rescue plane was shot up on the water like a sitting duck and he and his rescuers bobbed around in an inflated dinghy for some time before being picked up by an RAF rescue speed launch.

Duke then moved to the East Coast of Italy to operate into the Balkans in support of the partisan forces.

When the Allied armies succeeded in capturing one of the Dalmatian Islands, the fighter base moved in still closer, prepared an airstrip and supported Marshal Tito's forces at closer range. There was yet another posting, to Balkan Air Force Headquarters where he stayed on the ground for a change, as Commanding Officer. By this time he had received the rank of Flight Lieutenant.

After six months of supervising the flying of all sorts of important army men who had business with Tito, he had completed his tour of operational flying and was sent back to Canada for a month's furlough. At this point the war was ended and before he left the service is September 1945, he did a stint of flying for the Ferry Command from Winnipeg the West coast.

That completes the military flying log of Duke Munro, a war pilot who ended up with a pair of operational wings on his tunic, a commission and no gongs that is to say, no medals.

You can imagine the high pitch that this hectic war pace left plain Mr. Munro in. His bloodstream was thinned out and rarefied from flying at high altitudes and at a terrific pace. He could not settle down to life in the quiet town of Madoc and went bush flying out of New Liskeard.

There was little thrill in this type of flying after what he had been through. Most of the boys in the business to-day are looked on as aerial truck drivers and find it is a hard way of making a modest living with little or no future. Three years of this civilian leavening process made Duke think. He owns a Cub aircraft, and decided to retain it as strictly personal vehicle.

Duke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Munro have a lovely home in Madoc and for the past ten years his father has owned and operated the only theatre in town. Duke used to work around the show before he went overseas and now that he sees it as a nice sensible sort of business, he decided in November to quit being a windmill jockey and attend to the theatre business, instead.

Before meeting Duke Munro, and reading some garbled press notices, we had visions of running into one of those Pukka-Sahib air force types; he admits having worn a handlebar mustache of great proportions in hectic War days. But we were wrong. He is 30 years of age, filled with experience denied to most men twice his years and able to express himself ably and clearly on many subjects. It seems that the Liberals made a very wise choice in this young progressive man that is used to quick thinking and long planning. In the jargon of the RCAF, they can be quite sure when pressure is brought to bear in his political career, he will not "do a flap," engaged in a dogfight.

First Curling Club Formed Here 90 Years Ago

BY DON GRANT

For four and a half centuries the grand old game of curling has attracted men, and for 90 years curlers in Peterborough have been sweeping the ice lanes and cheering their colleagues in this winter pastime. At the curling rink on Charlotte St., now equipped with artificial ice, the ice surface is always crowded, proof that the game retains its popularity.

The curlers at present are busy preparing for the big bonspiels yet to come. Many young men now belong to the Peterborough Club and they have come to realize that it isn't a case of getting the stones down the ice but getting them where the skip wants them.

To be a curler one first has to learn how to throw an outturn and an inturn. This may look easy but just you try to put the right amount of turn on a stone. The left arm of the skip straight out from the side indicates a outturn is desired and a circling of the hand indicates an inturn is wanted. Then the beginner develops his delivery just like a baseball pitcher must develop a delivery.

Formed in 1859

Digging into the historical files of Peterborough it is found that the first curling club was formed here in 1859. On November 9 of that year a group of curling enthusiasts held a meeting at which the following officers were elected: president, A. G. Fraser; vice-president, T. Sutherland; chaplain, Rev. James Douglas; secretary, A. Munro; general secretary, Thomas White; committee, W. Johnston, James Meyers, H. Calcutt, J. Palmer and Duncan McGregor. For 12 years these energetic men curled on open ice at the tail-race below the old Quaker dam. Notice of the bonspiels would be put in the weekly paper or a notice was posted in the Post Office.

Curling took on a new look in 1871 when the first rink was built on part of what is now Riverside. The rink, owned by John Ludgate, was opened on January 4. It was rented to the curling club and was also used for skating. It lasted only a few years when it was distroyed by fire.

A new rink built on the land where now the Quaker Oats factory stands. This rink was opened on Christmas Day, 1876. It was owned by a joint stock company.

In 1884 the curling club moved their rink from the Quaker site to the Charlotte St. rink. A new company was formed called the Peterborough Curling Company Limited. Hockey was played at this rink until 1903 when the Brock St. arena was opened on January 10. There were then two Peterborough clubs the Granites and the Thistles.

On January 2, 1908 the rink was destroyed by fire. Total loss to the curling club was $12,000. They had only $4,500 in insurance. One hundred and twenty-five pairs of stones were lost. This little matter didn't dishearten the curlers for at the beginning of the next year a new rink was opened. In 1911 the ladies joined the club.

Some of Oldtimers

Some of the old timers who used to sweep the ice lanes were Sam Ray, Jack Fitzgerald, Harry Foote, Roberts Hicks Peter Laing, Tom Rutherford, Kit Rutherford, C. N. Brown, Robert Neill, George Morrow, Tom Brightman, John Brightman, R. M. Waddell and Walter Oake. Many a time these curlers eyeing the skip's broom placed his foot in the rack and sent the stone right to the spot ordered by the skip.

Since the first curling club was formed the club has grown until now it has a membership of over 375. There are 300 men curlers and 75 women. Officers of the Club for the 1948-49 season are S. A Lowe, president; Norman Hamley, vice-president; and Ira Moore, secretary-treasurer, directors G. Braund, C. G. Graham, Herbert Bradburn, Vernon Selkirk, Thomas Doughty, Dr. Clifford McKee, Fred Stenson and Wallace Harvey. Some of the present day veterans are Ray Best, Herbert Martin, J. W. McDermid Chris Graham, Ira Moore, James Harkness, James Richmond. Robert Martin, George Green and R. F. Downey.

Many trophies are needed to cover the large number of bonspiels. With the addition of new trophies old ones gradually drop out of competition. Old Trophies which are now obselete are the Waddel-Capon Cup, Neill-Sheperd trophy, Fitzgerald-Bottum trophy and J. G. Harkness trophy. Present trophies open to all who wish to enter in the men's.

For the fourth time since the turn of the century Scottish curlers are going to play in Peterborough. They are coming January 31.

Peterborough curlers point with pride to their long record and it is with confidence they are looking to finishing the season in grand style in the game they believe the finest in the world.

IT'S NOT STRENUOUS, Robert Martin, 78-year-old curler says, and he admits that four nights a week finds him at his favorite spot, the curling rink. Mr. Martin, a CGE pensioner, retired in 1945 after 46 years of continuous service, and he says curling is the best tonic a man can find. The group shows four veterans of the roaring game from left to right: Cyril Giroux, E. H. Brown, Thomas Doughty and Herbert Girven. All have taken a keen interest in the game and in the affairs of the club for years.

Canada's Changing Face

When Canadians who had been overseas for many years returned to their home towns, many were surprised by the physical changes; for instance, the clusters—sometimes acres—of war-time frame houses and the big additions to factories. Since the war there have been even greater changes because there has been more building but these have not struck the eye all at once. They have been growing up around us, as children grow without their parents noticing the developments in stature and appearance. The face of Canada is changing: $200,000,000 cannot be appropriated in 1948 for the building of roads, bridges and airports without new patterns being left on the surface of Canada. The estimated total of one billion dollars involved in building contracts during the last year must change Canada's physiognomy.

* * *

Not all the new structural work done or planned beautifies it. Some of the groups of houses are eyesores when seen from both afar and near. Not all highways have the symmetry of the Queen Elizabeth Way—which, seen from the air, is a spectacle beyond the imagination of the ancient Roman road-builders. Some of the new dams are perverting natural beauty, though in a massive way, creating an impressive beauty of their own—as in the new dam at Agusabon, Ontario. Some of the new factories and shops are merely gobs of brick or garish chromium.

* * *

Commercial, industrial, and public building is showing the most progress toward beauty and dignity. The new office and showroom of Raoul Garneau et Fils in Quebec City has light and proportion. The large Port Union plant of Johns-Manville, Limited, now under construction, indicates the change for the better which has been occurring in factory design in the last decade. Many of the new factories in Mount Royal and along the west entrances to Montreal are pleasant to look upon; open, belonging to the sites, not rising dingily over them.

* * *

Perhaps school designs show the most remarkable changes. The addition to the Queen Mary school in Peterborough is typical of one new direction which is an advance. The proposed Knollwood Park School, London, is a complete and fine example of the same trend. The Brooks High School of Vancouver, which will be built on terraces, is another. Two notable urban school plans are those for the Mount St. Joseph College in Montreal and a new technical vocational school in Vancouver. The former is high, angular, appearing to be almost windowless from the street, and something like a cubists' drawing. The Vancouver school, a three-storey structure for the most part, seems from a front elevation to be two end blocks with a central one suspended between them. Each is severely rectangular. The total effect is massive but chaste. The proposed new MacVicar Memorial Presbyterian church in Montreal is of fresh design—like a combined temple and art gallery but very like what a new Protestant church in the western hemisphere should be.

* * *

New homes, new houses, new hospitals (like Sunnybrook), new suburbs, new roads, mammoth concrete harnesses for rivers, new high tension Hydro wires fretworking the Ontario landscape, the suspended roof of the grandstand of the C.N.E., the eight million dollar Cote St. Luc unit freight yards of the C.P.R. with 20, and later 80 miles of track, new apartment blocks; these and a thousand other projects are changing the face of Canada.

Toronto To Fine Jaywalkers

After May 1 jaywalkers in Toronto will be subject to a fine of $1; the Ontario Highways Department has endorsed a local bylaw to make this possible. We hope that the fine will be imposed frequently and judiciously, for there are a great many jaywalkers in Toronto and they are a nuisance in a city which suffers severely from narrow streets and a great increase in traffic.

Peterborough needs such a law, but we fear that our city is too small for it to be effective; it is hard to enforce petty restrictions, however necessary they may be, in cities where too many of the population are well known to one another. Nevertheless, at the times of day when the traffic on the principal streets is heavy, the scampering and dartings of jaywalkers add greatly to the dangers and responsibilities of motorists. If a jaywalker were to be hurt, there is very little doubt that the motorist would be considered responsible.

We are particularly impressed by the numbers of aged and somewhat infirm persons who attempt to cross the streets in heavy traffic, relying on the skill of motorists and their own very dubious agility to carry them safely to the other side. Age does not always bring wisdom or prudence; sometimes it gives new strength to a lifelong habit of taking foolish risks. And yet, for one of these skittish ancients, a slip or a tumble might prove fatal.

Jerry Did Not Build This Peterborough House

The other day we carried a small news item about a double house on Aylmer Street which is being remodelled into a store. The building was put up more than seventy years ago by Joseph Lundy whose descendants still live in Peterborough. It was sturdily constructed of brick, built to last. Joseph Lundy built it also with the possibility in mind that the premises might one day be wanted as a store. Now, seventy years later, his forethought is being realized. The special brick columns at the corners of the building will serve, as Joseph Lundy intended, as the new store's bastions, and the workmen engaged in the renovation have uncovered the huge wooden beam which Joseph Lundy had set into the two corner columns to run across the entire front of the building at the first floor level. The beam is in good condition, in the position where the Lundy grandsons assured the contractor it would be, and ready to serve the purpose for which the foresighted builder intended it.

Many hundreds of new houses are being put up in Peterborough today. How many are built to last seventy years? If they stand four-square until the twenty-first century, in how many will renovators uncover girders equal to modernity's strains in the year 2018? The house that Joseph Lundy built was not jerry-built.

Humanizing The Beverage Rooms

The members of the Ontario Hotel Association have been told that the regulations governing beverage rooms may be relaxed to permit the selling of food with beer. We hope that this will be brought about, and that it will have a humanizing effect on the beverage rooms, which are at present places for drinking beer, and for nothing else. For some reason which only a psychologist could explain it has been assumed for many years that anything which made beverage rooms pleasant might lead to abuses; common sense suggests that the exact opposite is true. If beverage rooms are turned into places where food may be eaten, and a little music played, they may cease to be the depressing lairs which they now are.

Beer in moderation is a good drink, and a glass of beer and a sandwich is a pleasant snack. But the remorseless, foodless guzzling of beer which our present system encourages is far from good. Food is a great civilizer, and we hope that it will civilize our beverage rooms.

Heptalgin As A Substitute For Morphia?

We read with interest that a new analgesic called heptalgin has been evolved by British chemists, and is now being tried in several English hospitals. As a pain killer it is said to be six times as powerful as morphia, and it is quick in its action. Further, it is said to act without producing drowsiness or depression and it can be used without fear of creating drug-addiction. It is being tried in cases of cancer, rheumatism, gastric ulcer, toothache, pleurisy, sinusitis and heart trouble. Of course the claims made for it by its creators will have to be tested by careful experimentation.

Nevertheless we think that people everywhere will entertain great hopes of this medicine, for anyone who has undergone long treatment with morphia, or who has seen someone else undergo such treatment, knows how depressing it is, and how reluctant physicians are to use it except in great need. An analgesic which was effective in relieving extreme pain, and which had no dangerous or unpleasant after-effect, would be a boon indeed.

Diary Of A China Smasher

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Lunched at a restaurant with some friends, and met a delicacy called "chicken in a basket" for the first time. True enough, it is a large serving of fried chicken and fried potatoes, laid in a basket, from which one eats it with one's hands. When the destruction is over a largish dish of warm water is brought for washing the hands and face. I approve of "chicken in a basket". It is honest; it acknowledges the existence of hearty appetites; there is an Elizabethan spaciousness about it. And I particularly like the washbasin. A fingerbowl is a dainty thing, and when it has a few geranium petals in it, a pretty sight. But a man who has been grappling seriously with fried chicken unaided by knife or fork, has passed the point of dabbling; he must slice. I do not positively suggest that soap and nail brushes be brought to the table, but their day may come.

* * *

MONDAY: Dropped in at a children's party this evening, just in time for the crowning event—a display of moving pictures. Was keenly interested in the comments of these young and unspoiled observers; I like film criticism, and occasionally do a little of it myself. They had a good deal to say about a skating film in which Barbara Ann Scott was the star; they knew all about skating and used terms which were strange to me. But the final film had been unwisely described by the mother of the hostess as "funny", and the guests had great hopes of it. What they expected I never learned, but they quickly made it clear that they did not consider the film funny, and demanded in loud voices that it become funny at once. But it is not in the nature of films to be funny at command, and the piece dragged to its conclusion amid groans of bitter disapproval. It would take a remarkable man to make a film which children would consider funny. Not even the genius of Walt Disney is always equal to the task. They leap from amusement to fright, and from fright to boredom with a rapidity which is beyond grown-up understanding.

* * *

TUESDAY: I see that a Toronto newspaperman who is in Greece says that the people there "bow and scrape" when they hear the name of Canada. I wonder if he knows what a "scrape" is? It is a backward movement of the foot as one makes a bow, and so far as I know no one, not even at the name of Canada, has done it for at least a century. In fact, there are not many people nowadays who even know how to bow.... Tom Longboat, the Indian runner, is dead; my Uncle Fortunatus recalls him well from his young days. The papers are full of Tom's exploits, though when Father Montague Summers, one of the greatest of all authorities on Jacobean and Restoration drama, died last autumn, I only saw two Canadian papers which mentioned the fact, and they stressed the rather unimportant point that Summers believed in witches.... Tom Longboat used to chew quartered lemons as he ran. I wonder if long-distance runners still do this. It is years since I saw anyone run more than 100 yards, but a fine long-distance runner is a noble sight. Runners of "heats" with their open mouths and their look of souls in hell, are not so pretty.

* * *

WEDNESDAY: To court today, and listened to part of a case about a motor accident. The judge awarded damages to the injured persons to be paid from the Unsatisfied Claims Fund, and I was uplifted to feel that Ontario had such an eminently humane and sensible provision. But then I recalled that a minute fraction of those damages was coming out of my own pocket, and I began to wonder if the judge had considered the case as carefully as he ought. If only justice and freedom did not cost money, how popular they would be!.... Was discussing men's hairdressing with some friends this evening. We lack the variety of haircuts which distinguished our ancestors; something called "the businessman's trim" is made to do for almost everybody. What has happened to the "football haircut" which made our fathers look like shaggy dogs in their gay youth? Or the Valentino cut so popular after the First Great War? Or the clubbed style of hairdressing affected by Laurier, and so becoming to bald men? The only revival of late years is the Prussian brushcut, which always seems to me to call for a Hindenburg moustache. Man's crowning glory is in undeserved eclipse.

THURSDAY: A free evening, for the first time in weeks, and I celebrated by going to bed early. To retire before nine, with an interesting book and something to combat thirst—what could be more blissful? Yet there is a serpent in every Eden, and tonight I suffered horribly from my pyjama pants, which were made with a seam with an edge like a surgeon's scalpel running right through the crotch. It is iniquities of this sort which drive men to wear nightshirts, or to recklessly abandon their pyjama pants to be used as dusters. I suppose there are men who have acquired a morbid dread of going to bed for this reason alone. Undoubtedly there are hundreds of men who have been driven to the use of sleeping pills by the menace of their smalclothes. As a matter of cold fact, there is no good reason why a man should retire to his bed in a sleazy replica of a lounge suit; he can prepare for fire, or wrong numbers on the telephone, by keeping a dressing-gown handy. Yet custom is strong, and there are few who do not put on some strangling, creeping, smothering, saw-toothed garment at night. The ideal thing, of course, would be a sleeping bag, like a child's snuggle-bunny, made of electric blanketing.

* * *

FRIDAY: The papers tell me that an admirer of Deanna Durbin's has paid $60 for a lock of Beethoven's hair to give her, to be added to her collection of musical relics. I hope he sniffed it before paying. It is well-known that Beethoven, who was a nasty man in many ways and possessed of a thoroughly Germanic sense of humour, was pestered all his life by women who wanted his hair, and on more than one occasion he cut a swatch off a goat and sent it to a fan, who presumably wore it in a locket, or sewed it into her corsets next to her heart. I doubt if the smell of goat would wear off, even after 150 years.

SATURDAY: For a walk tonight and found that an icy crust had formed on all the snow, about an eighth of an inch in thickness, and as I trod it broke into large flat chunks, like dinner plates. Smashed a few of these, experimentally, and found it an admirable release from tension. Began to pretend that the chunks of ice were valuable pieces of china, and this was even more fun. "Here goes a Spode dinner plate!" I cried, and smashed it to smithereens. Then—"Bang goes a half dozen Crown Derby demi tasses!"—and bang they went. Next—"Here's for those ruddy soup cups I've always hated!"—and an armful of them dispersed into atoms. It was glorious. I was a bull in a china shop—an embittered, vindictive bull, revenging itself for a thousand annoyances and injuries. I suppose that, by the time I had finished, I had destroyed about an acre of ice or $50,000 worth of china, and I felt fine. If people had more cheap releases of this kind, there would be fewer deaths from heart failure.

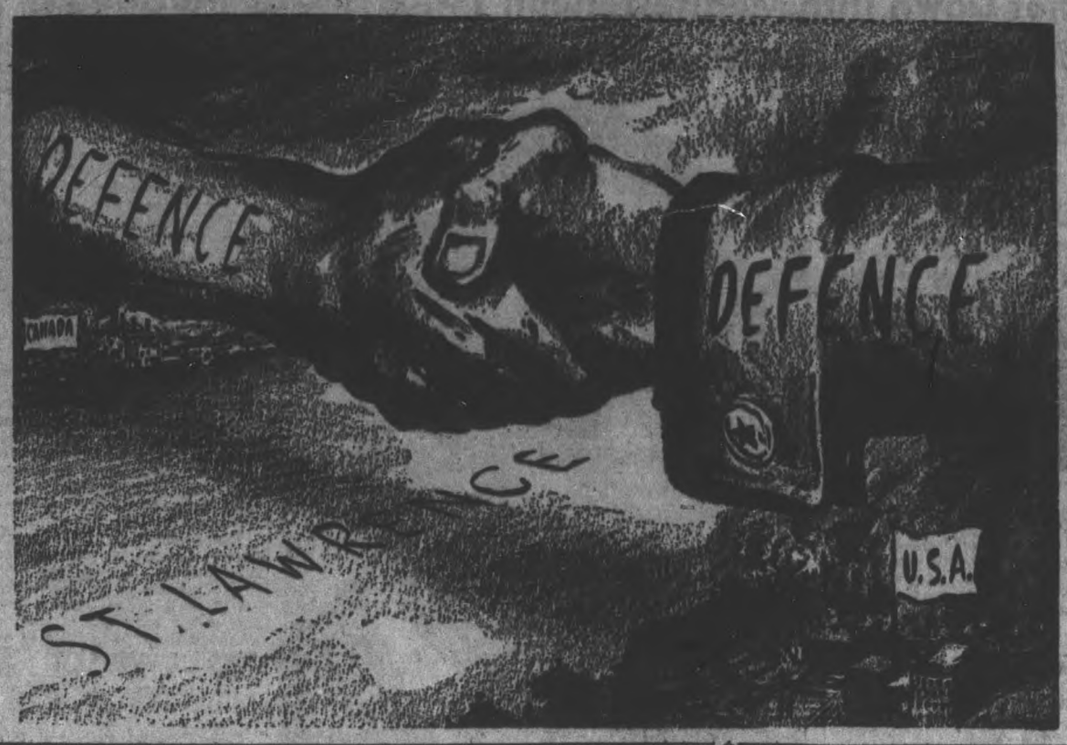
"HANDS ACROSS THE SEA" WAYS



Col. Drew Seems To Be Misinformed

(THE KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

SPEAKING at Calgary, Col. George Drew, leader of the Conservative Party in Canada, and of the official opposition in the House of Commons, is reported as charging Mr. M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, with making false statements about the benefits farmers in Britain are receiving under a Socialistic Government. "In Britain," charged Col. Drew, "Socialism is threatening the production power of that great nation, and thousands of acres have been expropriated by the state because farmers have refused to accept orders about what they should grow." He continued: "In Britain the farmers get orders as to what crops they must grow and what acreage they must seed to those crops. If they don't comply, they not only face the threat of a fine and imprisonment, but also one of having their property expropriated."

* * *

COL. Drew's statements have some foundation in fact, but he seems to be misinformed as to what is the actual situation in Britain today. It is quite true that there is supervision of the farms and the farmers. But this is not the idea of the Socialist Government. During the war, the Coalition Government, of which Winston Churchill was the head, felt that it must get the utmost production out of the land. The Government decided that no longer could lazy, sloppy, or indifferent farming be tolerated. So it set up in every county a War Agricultural Executive Committee. This committee had supervision of all the farms in that county. Naturally many of these committees were composed for the most part of Government supporters; large landowners, their agents and men of wide farming experience were appointed as members. The committees functioned well, and many farmers got into trouble. It is true that county committees did often tell the individual farmer what to plant, but they did it in the interests of the whole country and with the object of helping in the winning of the war.

* * *

WHEN the Socialist Government came into power in 1945, it kept alive these county committees. Britain still needs all the food it can produce, and the new Government felt supervision was still necessary, just as the control of the sale of fat cattle is still in operation. The auctioneers (practically none of whom are Socialist) sell the cattle, sheep and pigs in a smithfield. Then they allocate what they have sold to abattoirs in different parts of the country. The farmer still gets the price his cattle fetch at a free auction in the open market, but it is the duty of the auctioneers, who are appointed agents of the Government, to attend to the allocation of the animals sold. It was so in war time; it is so today.

* * *

IT is true that these restrictions are operating under a Socialist Government, but the real power lies with the various county committees, who are by no means Socialists, and most of whom are Tories.

The British people have a very keen sense of duty and loyalty. We have in mind an incident which happened in a county in Britain last year. The head of the W.A.E.C. had been the land agent of a nobleman, the largest landowner in the county, and a strong supporter of the Tory Party. The agent at the time was himself the president of the County Conservative Association. His own work was so pressing that he resigned as head of the Tory association, and another gentleman was appointed, the cousin of a marquis. The following year the nobleman's agent gave up the chairmanship of the War Agricultural Committee. Strange as it may seem the new president of the County Tory Association was asked to fill the vacancy. He accepted the position as a duty to his country, and immediately resigned as head of the County Conservative Association, in order that that affiliation should not interfere with what he felt to be his duty.

* * *

THE Socialist Government in Britain has done a number of things which, in our opinion, might have been better left undone, such as the nationalization of steel, the restrictions on road transportation and freight, the land development tax on private building, and the New Forest Bill, but anyone who looks at the accomplishments of the British Government must admit that in many respects it has done about as well as any government could have done, and we believe that statement applies to the direction of agriculture.

It is true that in the interests of the many who have to be fed, some farmers have had the direction of their farms taken from them temporarily. That direction has been assumed by the committee. We doubt very much if any farmer has ever been sent to prison for not making the most out of his farm, and we feel sure there has been no permanent expropriation of any farms by the government. We should be surprised to learn that any such high-handed procedure has been taken.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

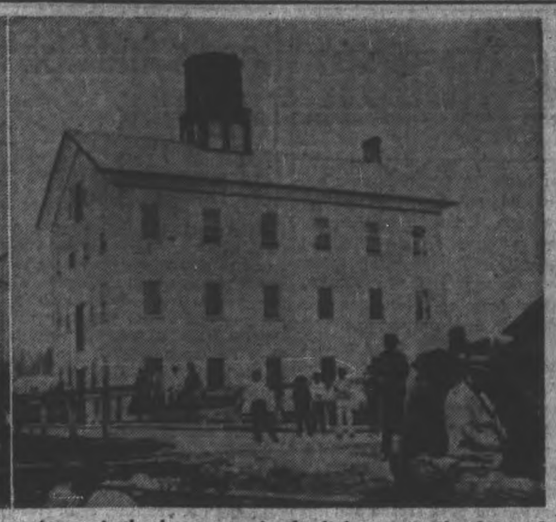
And after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God: for true and righteous are his judgments....

And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse: and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war. His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; and he had a name written, that no man knew, but he himself. And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The Word of God.

And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean. And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God. And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS. (Rev. 19: 1, 2, 11-16.)

A BRITISH OPINION

"Before we start, Sir George, this extra petrol for doctors does not mean that I have a couple of coupons to spare."



BUILT IN THE SUMMER OF 1863 the Woollen Mill (right) of Hastings was burned that autumn. The fire was believed to have been caused by people who did not like the idea of a mill with all its machinery. They were sure it would cause unemployment. In the middle eighties Hastings was a thriving industrial town and Henry Fowlds a pioneer is the large man in the light suit in the front of the picture. Creekside cottage (left) the home of John Blacklock, the manager of the mill. Hastings In Middle Eighties Thriving Industrial Centre

By GERALD MARRYAT

In the years between 1858 and 1880, Hastings enjoyed a period of great industrial activity. Miss E. Blacklock, who came there in 1863 as a small child, has written her reminiscences of the village. At that time between three and four hundred people crossed the river to the south side to work in the cotton and woollen factories and the new saw mill. Her father was John Blacklock, then manager of the woollen mill, which stood on the present site of W. T. Tate's shop. This factory was scarcely in operation when it was destroyed by fire together with much expensive machinery; Henry Lye's furniture factory, directly to the south, was also destroyed. This fire was believed a result by arson, caused by spite and ignorance. Actually the new factories provided work for the laboring men, rather than the reverse as believed by many at that time.

Finished in the summer of 1863, the woollen factory was suggested to Henry Fowlds by wholesale merchants in Montreal from whom he had been accustomed to buy stocks for his stores in Westwood and Hastings. One of these gentlemen, Joseph Moore Ross, came to Hastings for the opening, and in the accompanying picture he is seen sitting beside Henry Fowlds and John Blacklock on the log to the right.

In reply to a request that she describe Hastings as it was then, Miss Blacklock, in 1943-4-5 wrote a series of letters.

"I was born on January 19 1860 at Montreal, "she wrote," and was, I imagine, about three years old when he came to Hastings. We lived first in a wooden house beside a small creek on the street (Water St.) which led to the old Church of England." (This house, since bricked over, now is owned by the Noonans.)

"My first recollection is of a fire in which Henry Lye's factory was burned down one night. I cannot recall just where the factory was, but the glare of the fire shining in my window wakenend me. It made a grand blaze, and was, I imagine, the other side of the river."

"I remember the Fenian Raids of 1866, it was then that the Hastings Volunteer Company was formed. There was much excitement in the village at the time, though why anyone should expect that they would come to Hastings I cannot imagine — a small unimportant place so far from a railroad and on the way to nowhere ought to be reasonably safe one would suppose. There may have been some Fenian sympathizers in the neighborhood that I never heard about, but be that as it may, I know our house was well-locked and bolted every night. The cellar windows were easy of access and were so arranged that if anyone had tried to open them a shower of empty cans would have made such a noise that father would have awakened to be ready to greet them, gun in hand. Needless to say the efficiency of this scheme was never put to the test, and was soon given up as the excitement died down." The house in which the Blacklocks were living at that time was "Trent View" built for the manager of the cotton mill, Thomas W. Neild, and named by him. It is now the home of Leo Marrin. Perhaps Mr. Blacklock had good reason to be watchful; Hastings was blessed (or cursed) with a considerable floating population at that time, many of them Americans. Among them were labour agitators, just as there are to-day, and it is quite probable that some were Fenian sympathizers.

Hastings and peacocks are always associated in my mind "Miss Blacklock continues "the Roman Catholic priest was Father Quirk and his rectory was next door to the church; his peacocks were always in evidence somewhere on the grounds or on the roof or chimneys of his house, and their strident voices gave ample warning of stormy weather. They were an unfailing source of interest to my chidish mind, and I was always delighted with any errand that took me near enough to see them. Only once did I have the luck to see the male bird with his magnificent tail outspread in all its glory—that was a red-letter day." This is almost the only description of the first Rectory, which stood near the Church, although closer to the road. In Father Quirk's time, the beautiful church was built, William Coad being the stone mason.

"When moving here (Meadowvale, Ont.) I had to go through a lot of old papers and letters and found a paper with a little sketch of a small church on it and a printed statement asking any well-wisher to buy a brick for one shilling to help in the construction. The Church of England was built after we went there to live, and I know my mother collected some of the much needed funds for it among her relatives and friends in England. The original sketches were made by the Rev. Mr. Farrar, who was an artist and had been a pupil of the great English artist, Turner. He made endless sketches in his leisure moments and some very beautiful water colours of St. George's Church in Hastings. Apparently these sketches sold well and brought in a nice little harvest of shillings. I cannot remember the sum total of what was sent by my mother's friends in England, but if all the collectors did as well there would not have been much difficulty in financing the building.

The Jones family occupied a prominent place in the affections of the young people of Hastings during its industrial era. Mr. Jones was manager of the woollen mill and his family added much to the social life of the place.

"They lived in Mr. Henry Fowlds' old house, right on the river, and the bathing was perfect. They had a large family, but the three eldest boys only came home on holidays. Monty was a young doctor, Charley a medical student, Harry was in business; Florence was the only girl and Hugh and Dick were considerably younger."

"A friend of Mrs. Jones a Mrs. Thrower, visited them one summer and taught us all to swim. When I see the modern bathing dresses in all their fashionable and ever increasing brevity, I can well imagine the howl of derision that would go up now if they had seen us in our ample garments of navy blue alpaca—the skirts very full and trimmed with white braid, row after row; knickers equally full and with a frill below the knee; the waist attached to the skirt, and equally full with short sleeves, puffed and a sailor collar. Mrs. Thrower's bathing dress was a very heavy flannel, right down to her toes, gathered at the throat and with a reefing string or cord at the waist; there were no sleeves. How she could possibly swim in it, I cannot think, but swim she did and quite easily. I suppose there were knickers underneath, but they were modestly covered by the long gown; and Mrs. Thrower was a fashionable Montrealer. Times have changed since then."

I think it was in the summer of 1874 that Hastings put on its best bib and tucker to greet Lord Dufferin and his suite as they passed through Hastings on their way to Blairton to visit the mines. They were on the steamer Isaac Butts, and got off to listen to the reeve, Tim Coughlan, deliver an address of welcome. The poor man was terribly nervous over the ordeal and hummed and hawed until it was pretty hard to keep one's face straight. Fortunately he finished it at last, but there was little time for anything else as the lock had filled up and the party had to go on board the boat."

Story of Great Wolf Hunt

By FRANCIS HENRY LOVE

The story of the great wolf hunt has been told and retold and many a glass of beer has grown warm in the telling.

I was there. I was in at the kill. What I am going to tell you now is straight from the wolf's mouth. I took down his dying statement. But first let me tell you how I happened to be there.

I was with the command car when it came in over the walkie-talkies that two wolves were gradually being driven into the piece of bush on the northwest corner of the lot. I said to myself; "Now what would I do if I were a wolf?"

I decided that I would try to break through on the north road. There was good brush cove on both sides of the road and I would just have to make one good jump to be across and safe. I was there when he came through. I was within 50 feet of him when Murray Thomas knocked him over with a load of buckshot. When Murray dragged him into the road he was still kicking. I got down on my knees in the road and asked him if he had any last statement that he would like to make for the press. This is what he said:

"Me and Burt (Burt was his pal he explained) were sitting in the swamp trying to decide whether we should finish off that sheep we had killed last last night or go over to farmer Brown's henhouse for breakfast. All of a sudden I hear a lot of hooting and hollering and when I look up I can see a bunch of the boys coming over the hill.

"Then I remembered that it was Saturday and there was no school. I says to Burt I says: "Burt, it looks like we're going to have a bit of fun today".

"Burt he was kind of crabby, not having had his breakfast yet. He says; "Come on let's get out of here". So we started north by west thinking that we would cross the west road into the next Concession. When we got to the road we found it was full of boys too so we turned back into the swamp.

"But the boys behind had seen us going over a ridge and they were closing in on us and shooting and hollering. Not that there was any danger but the noise of guns always makes me nervous. Anyway the place was getting too crowded so we headed for the north road.

"Burt was a little ways behind me when I crawled through the fence and saw you and that other fellow there. I was just going to make a jump between you when I saw you aiming that big black thing (camera) and not

Outdoors

With PETE McGILLEN

FARMERS ARE FUNNY. Today I heard from a husky son of the soil who lives in north Otonabee and who lost 43 hens to the foxes. Before hearing about the fox hunt he had kept quiet about it. If the hens averaged five pounds, at the current price of 50 cents a pound they represent $105. If that man had lost one beef he would have called the police. This serves to illustrate the damage being done by these predators, and the farmers themselves should encourage organized hunts. One character remarked that if the foxes are all killed off, then the groundhogs will become a nuisance. How right he is, but who is going to kill off the foxes? Organized hunts will certainly eliminate the predators in any given area, if the hunts are as well organized as that one held by the Peterborough Fish and Game Association, but they can't cover the entire county—no, not even one-tenth of it. I do believe an organized hunt should be held every Saturday during February, and I think the exercise should end near a village where accommodation is available for making coffee.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

ON THAT POINT there are a great many storekeepers asleep at the switch. You know, that same old Canadian characteristic: business will come, I don't have to do anything about it, and if it doesn't come, I'll blame somebody or something and starve gracefully. Nuts, why don't these so-called hucksters smarten up. Here's what I'm driving at. Let us assume a fox or wolf hunt ends at a village where there is a store or a restaurant, and there are 150 hunters. Some want gas, at least half want cigarettes, others want chocolate bars, chewing gum, sandwiches, coffee, ice cream, hot dogs, hamburgs and so on. Every article sold means a profit—but will these merchants do anything about getting this extra business. Not a thing. I would turn a handspring despite my 195 pounds if any of these jokers showed any sign of being wide-awake. No sir, if the hunters happen to hit a village and the storekeeper gets a blood transfusion for his slow-moving stock, he'll think its great, but he won't stir a finger to make it happen. Nope, that just ain't done son, this is Canada.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

ONE MORE THING—shhh, my liver is bad tonight—newspapermen and news photographers follow wolf and fox hunters, and would it hurt Lakefield, or Norwood or Douro, or Keene or Westwood, or Havelock to get in the news? It certainly wouldn't. They might even get an industry out of it. You never know how much good a little publicity will do. Do you know that wolf story was carried by Canadian Press, which means every Ontario newspaper got the story? It was on CBC News Roundup. Several other radio stations carried it. The Star and Telegram had pictures—not nearly as good nor as numerous as ours, of course, but they sent staff men to cover it. And who got the publicity, Peterborough, because a couple of livewires in this burg know a bit about this publicity business. You thought it was just a fox hunt, did you. Well you can take it from your old pal, that it turned out to be a topnoch news story too. It was so good that hunters from Oshawa, Toronto and Kitchener want to be notified when the next one is being held. So to Campbell Rowatt, Norman Bradley, Capt Phil Sargent and the rest of the boys, a nice big orchid.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

JUST IN CASE some of you didn't read about that mammoth fox hunt. It was run on a military style, in short, it was a well-planned military operation, and the 150 hunters shot two wolves and six foxes, wounded another wolf, and one got away. Two or three foxes beat the gun too. All in all, it was a pretty fine effort, and I doubt if the hens or turkeys in that area will have any sleepless nights for months to come. The boys surrounded an area between two concessions, put sharpshooters on three sides and started 60 beaters at the bottom of the box. As the beaters moved forward, barking like asthmatic 1914 Fords, the foxes and wolves took to their heels and ran into a barrage of No. 4 shot. Simple, isn't it? Of course, there were the details of timing, communication and so on, and it didn't hurt a bit to have about 40 veteran deer hunters on the rim either. One farmer said he could hear the hounds (city barkers) two miles away, and the foxes must have heard them too, because four crossed the Warsaw road, a few minutes after the boys started the hullabulloo two miles south of them.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

WHAT DID I HAVE TO DO with the hunt. As usual, I took the easy job, I picked out the area for the boys to hunt in, then I worked until noon and caught up to the hunters at 1.30. I knew there was a pack of five wolves in the area selected, because I had missed one the week before and had spotted the tracks crossing a field. But the hunters didn't know where they were going until they met at rendezvous at seven Saturday morning. Why the secrecy? Well in every community, there are a lot of smart guys who don't want any of the tough work, but who are quite willing to park ahead of the hunters, just out of the area, and reap the benefits. A pox on those parasites, they'll get no help from me. I also know another area just as good, and if Cam Rowatt, and Norm Bradley and the other staff officers will treat me to a coffee, I'll whisper it to them—for, release the morning of the hunt. Let's hope there isn't a foot of snow by a week from today. If there is, it will be tough work slogging along with beaters, but even that is better than freezing on the watch. This plan of meeting at seven in the morning is too early. Eight bells is plenty soon enough to get underway.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

THERE WASN'T AN ACCIDENT on the hunt, despite the fact that 150 men were concentrated in a small area. The beaters who were the most vulnerable were given strict instructions to stay in line, and not to chase an animal, but to let the man next to them take over when the animal got out of range. I take a dim view of using buckshot and SSG. It's dangerous. No. 4 shot is good enough, and even those boys who brought long-range duck loads should give this a bit of thought. Everyone gets excited when a wolf or fox comes into range, so every precaution should be taken to keep these hunts free from accidents. The flankers who persisted in ranging from their positions, in ahead of the beaters should have their heads read. It is not only poor sportsmanship, it's a bit stupid from the safety standpoint. Those two rabbits that were shot, died accidentally because the hunters were a bit restive and just shot to scare them, but didn't give the shot pattern enough allowance. One veteran felt very badly about killing one, and apologized to the hunt leader for violating the rules.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

WHAT KINDS OF WOLVES were shot? Were they timber wolves? These are the questions I heard downtown. The answer it, they were brush wolves, descended from the prairie coyote, but larger, probably due to in-breeding with dogs and timber wolves. One male weighed at least 55 lbs. They were well-fed, vicious and full of fight as the boys will testify who were present when the wounded one turned and bared its fangs. That fellow died fast. These wolves eat a rabbit whole, no waste, they consume the fur, head and everything else, while a fox will usually leave the head and part of the skin behind. When one considers that these "varmints" were killed within six miles of a city of 35,000 people, then its fair evidence the wolves are far too numerous in this county. A wolf will hide in a brush pile or under a stump and a hunter will pass within 20 feet of him, if he isn't wise to ways of these predators. That is one reason why it is important that beaters be not more than 75 to 100 feet apart, and it takes a regular army of men to do a thorough job. I'm certain that on the next hunt there will be at least 250 men —and remember, no .22 rifles.

Reading-at-Meals Habit Largely Result of the War

BY BOB BUCHANAN

People who regularly "eat out" at restaurants, hotels and lunch-counters may be divided into two general classifications: (1) those who habitually read at their meals; and (2) those who do not.

The proportion of ruminating readers (or reading ruminants) has greatly increased in recent years. Until now, however, no effort has been made either to study this growing group and scientifically apply the findings of the study or to attempt any form or organization of this leaderless mass.

Why has the habit spread? What skills are required to properly practise it? What are the main types of table-top readers? The Examiner has made a survey of the field and after furtive peeking, painstaking notemaking and extensive research on addicts of the fad—has unearthed some interesting fact and theories.

First: the causes. The basic one, it was found, was rooted in that prime mover of all human actions: the elementary instinct of self-preservation.

During the war years, the practice of burying oneself in literature during meals was more than justified. It was plainly the only line of self-defence left open to the haggard, beaten civilians. Inspiration derived from deep contemplation of great letters helped them to bear the burdens of poor food, monotonous menus, unenthused waitresses, harassed management, slow service.

The general demoralization which seemed to strike a large section of caterers to the public's dulled appetite had its reaction on the public in the form of reading. It might be termed a Rushed Rennaissance.

Obviously, something had to be done before the war was over. The situation might have reached mass starvation. Because of compulsory education and the increased standard of living, almost everyone can read now. So they read.

Thus it was that people who seldom even glanced at headlines became devoted newspaper readers; those who had most infrequently in the past rushed through the pages of a magazine now carefully devoured them from cover to cover; persons who did not know the look of a library before now chewed their way through novels and biographies, histories and philosophies.

It is now a mania. Many people have developed such an attachment to the habit that they would no sooner think of going to eat without reading matter than then would go without knives and forks. Tastes vary: some prefer serials with their soup, books with the beans, statistics along with salads and detectives for dessert.

Reading a newspaper at meals calls for the dexterity of a professional contortionist. Truly a specialist calling, it is a widely-practised but little-discussed art.

The beginner in the field of newspaper - reading - at - meals would be wise to order only solid, dry, compact meals during the initial stages of conversion to a literate epicure. Such items as soups, stews, gravy, even coffee, can wreck havoc before the onslaught of an ingenue at the business. The psychological effect may discourage further attempts and a return to the primitive uncivilized idea of making the intake of food the primary objective of a meal.

The problem is one of size of sectionalizing of newspapers of this age. To turn to a desired inside page, fold the three-foot spread in half, then in half again, then inhalf again, requires extreme care. At a lunch counter, this double-jointed manoeuvre can have tidal repercussions stretching even unto the third and fourth customer on either side of the would-be reader. (Nine times out of ten, it's the wrong page when you do get it, anyway).

If newspapers were stapled or stitched together, the problem would be quite simple. . . .comparitively. With two or more sections, with unconnected single pages and double pages, the performance can quite easily degenerate into a display of flying pulp product, spreading ungraciously in all directions while the embarrassed beginner and his irate neighbors wave arms and heads helplessly about under the snowstorm.

The growth in circulation of pocket-and purse-sized publications must be due, in no small measure, to the growing mania of table-time reading. It is a graceful thing to see the adeptness of some who can manage to prop one of hese miniature libraries between the salt and pepper shakers or spread neatly on their bread-and-butter plate (usually in the middle of the butter). Pocket magazines have the same deceptively "easy-to-handle" appearance.

Large magazines present a separate range of problems all their own. The urge to learn often takes a severe blow when a springy copy, folded in the middle, decides to jump back straight and lands in the Irish stew.

Books, less fexible, add dignity if not ease to the operation.

During the survey, it was learned that every medium and subject in black and white (and color) was and is devoured with hamburgers and hash.

Businessmen, always on the alert for a new market trend, jumped at the opportunity. Pocket-sized magazines and books have increased sales by staggering precentages. The notion was even mooted among some newspaper publishers of a scheme to issue their papers in convenient

Oshawa Edges Oddfellows In Neat Junior 'B' Game

Oshawa edged out a 5-3 OHA junior "B" victory over the local Triple Links before a fair-sized crowd last night at Civic Arena. It was a hot tussle on good ice between squads that looked well-matched on the night's play, A few breaks and the club coached by Archie Weir might have pulled out a victory. The visitors, several of practically junior "A" calibre, earned a 2-1 margin in the first period. They were outplayed in the 2-2 middle chukker, and Oshawa got the lone tally of an even third stanza. The pace was fast throughout and generally clean, with the Oddfellows drawing seven of the 16 penalties passed out in a well-handled game.

Worked Hard

None of the locals was in on more than one marker. They all worked hard and looked practically as good as the speedy Motor City crew. Byers kicked out some neat ones in the net, and the defence toiled all the way. Anderson did some good blocking in spots. Up front, the first line of Pagett, Collins and Floyd was always flying, while Wyatt and O'Heron also caught the eye frequently. Brabin, Myles, Pankoski, Trimm and Burnett all looked exceptionally good for the winners.

Oshawa pressed early and Myles was gyped by Byers. Peters and Floyd roughed it to draw penalties and Collins followed for slashing. They were all back when Brabin notched a neat one in close from DeGray, but Crowley got it back shortly on a pass-out from O'Heron. Pankoski made it 2-1 on nice combination with Myles before Bradley went over for high-sticking. A Crowley-Wyatt rush came close and then the latter and Wilson were waved off for high-sticking. Truss and O'Heron tried hard and Peters got the nod for holding near the close.

Had An Edge

The Oddfellows pressed most of the second period, but Oshawa got two goals early, Myles beating Byers for one as he came out of the net and Brabin's angle shot going in off a local stick. Wilson climbed the boards for charging and was back when Pagett was tobbed of a marker. Towns got it next for high-sticking anr Birch scored from Wyatt in a scramble. The homesters had an edge, but had a lot of plays called back when they unintentionally iced the puck back of the red line. Burnett was chased for interference and Collins battled his way out of a corner with the bootheel to bat it by Claus. Wyatt and then Floyd nearly got one as the IOOF bunch poured in near the finish.

Morrison was penalizide early in the third for tripping and Crowley followed for a similar offence. Pagett came close and Birch was chased next for tripping. O'Heron got in for a nice try, but Pankoski tipped in Trimm's forward pass to end the scoring. Peters drew a thumb for falling on the puck as the Oddfellows ganged up hotly and kept the place in an uproar. W. Berwick then was chased for holding but returned and they kept tearing in hard. They had a big margin on play and nearly scored on several occasions right by the Oshawa goalie's doorstep in the last five minutes. With a few seconds to go, Wyatt was waved over for cross-checking.

Archibald Rink Captures Neill Trophy

By HERB. MARTIN.

Bill Archibald, pinch-hitting for G. Putnam, skipped his rink to win by 7-6 over the veteran Ray Best in the final game of the Neill Trophy bonspiel on Friday evening.

In the consolation event, V. Brown won over A. Ward Smith by 13-6.

The final game of the trophy was well played, and in the early stages Bert took a lead and looked as if he might eventually be the winner. But by steady curling, Archibald's boys kept adding one and one and one, until they tied it up coming home 6-all.

In the final end Bill got one in off the left side of the 8-ft. ring, and started to pile on the guards. Bert tried hard to reach the shot stone, but just missed. It was an interesting game.

The consolation finals was all Brown—he took an early lead of 9-0 and was never in trouble. Smith's boys tried hard, but just could not seem to click.

It was a good bonspiel that commenced away back on January 6—double-headers each night so you can imagine the size of this bonspiel. The games were witnessed by manly spectators.

There was some mighty fine curling all through, and congratulations are in order for all.

Frankford Winners Over Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 22 — (ENS)—On Friday night, Frankford registered a triumph of 4-3 over the local club in the fastest hockey fixture on home ice this season. The play was even for the first 40 minutes but the visitors, backed by the superlative net-minding of goalie Davis, marked up the winning counters in the final session.

Scottish Curlers Don't Like Bagpipes

SUDBURY, Ont., Jan. 22—(CP)—Scotland's touring curlers confessed last night that they deplored the bagpipes.

The affable tourists from the land of the heather, who leave here today enroute to Winnipeg to join 25 fellow Scotsmen, said they were fed up with bagpipes and long-winded speches.

One Scotsman wailed last night "Every place we go people are trying to overpower us with kindness. We appreciate it but do they always have to have bagpipes and in unmercifully small rooms?"

However, they didn't get this treatment here in the nickel belt, and said they were happy. They were taken on a tour before a luncheon and then moved to three local rinks, Copper Cliff, Sudbury Granite Club and Sudbury Curling Club.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

"Hellcats" is quite a monicker for basketballers, ordinarily not too rough a sport, but that's the tag on the Merritton senior cagers who play Marines "A" squad at 8.15 tonight in the Collegiate gym. They're former Canadian senior champs and yanked out a close win here a year ago. Al Clark's cagers hope to get revenge this game, and it ought to be a swell scrap. The game is preceded by a Lakeshore fixture between Lindsay and Gord McIntyre's local Marines "B" band. Latter has Jim Thorburn back in action once more, and he should help plenty. PCVS teams and four Girls' Loop squads saw action last p.m., and results should be in elsewhere.

A couple of entry blanks have arrived advertising Canada's greatest indoor track meet. It's an international affair put on by the 91st Highlanders athletic association in the Hamilton Armouries on March 12. Sanctioned by the AAU of C, with eliminations held in the afternoon and finals at night. Lots of events carded and prizes for first, second and third in each. Entries close on Feb. 26 and local harriers interested can get further info from us. It won't be long till Peterborough track and field athletes will be lining up their spring program.

Church Puck Loop

With some two dozen games postponed due to mild January weather, the Church Hockey League had to revise its schedules and now hopes to get in all remaining games. Secretary Glen has the new schedules in tonight. They open Monday on these fronts: St. George's vs. All Saints' peewees at seven in King Edward, followed by St. George's and S.A. No. 2 peewees; the bantam St. George's vs. Mark St. at Riverside at seven; Mark St. midgets vs. St. George's at eight in Riverside; All Saints vs. St. John's juves at nine at Riverside; and St. James seniors vs. St. Alban's at nine in King Edward. Two peewee tilts this aft in Keene, St. James vs. Keene at 2.30, and Murray St. vs. Keene at 3.30.

Petes are playing Toronto Meteors at nine tonight in Lindsay, an OHA senior "B" tussle. They're idle then till next Friday unless a postponed game can be worked in. That'll give Coach Red Creighton a chance to drill his puckists hard and try to work out a winning combination. A few changes here and there and they should prove plenty potent by playoff time. They're in process of re-organization now with a mixture of veterans and youngsters, including several newcomers. They've made mistakes in the past by not carrying enough younger players, but that's over and done with, and they're confident Meteors and Legion will not head them in playoffs.

* * * * * *

Old Fighting Spirit

It's the old fighting Petes' spirit and, knowing those experienced and scrappy veterans so well — guys like Ray Harding, Red Creighton, Honey Tompkins, Bun Kingdon, Drake Jopling (if he comes out again), Jerry Creighton, and the younger ones, too — we look for a decided upswing shortly in the fortunes of this club. They gave the strong Legionaires two tough games so far and aren't still at their season's peak. They and their officers aren't letting a few early setbacks get 'em down, not a bit of it. The Petes rate credit for their efforts so far and lots of support from their followers from here on in.

Whitby and the Oddfellows tangle Monday at 8.30 p.m. in Civic Arena, an OHA junior "B" scheduled encounter. On good ice, this should prove another fast and exciting junior joust as these peppery young players hustle like all getout. We believe these two teams are quite evenly matched, which should result in a dandy tilt. Coach Archie Weir has added John Berwick to his lineup, and he announces that Monday will be "Young Peterborough Night" at the rink. Kids accompanied by parents or other adults will be admitted free, a nice gesture and no doubt a flock of young ones will take advantage of it on Monday in the gloaming.

* * * * * *

Wrong Kind Of Luck

With any kind of luck at all — except really tough luck — the IOOF-ers would have beaten Oshawa here last eve. And quite a few of the fair-sized crowd of fans who saw the junior "B" joust will agree. It ended up 5-3 for the classy Motor Citizens but we figure the locals had a good edge in the 2-2 second period and easily held their own in the third, though outscored 1-0. Main thing is the boys are improving right along and should be plenty hot comes playoff time. The first line looked good all the way last night and both the other lines weren't far behind. They were hustling and they weren't drawing needless penalties, but still scrapping throughout. 'Twas a speedy, lively fray and we enjoyed it.

HITHER AND YAWN: Bond's and CGE were cage colleen winners last twilight . . . PCVS senior and bantam basketeers won in Cobourg but the junior PCI-ers lost there . . . East City juveniles beat the northenders 4-2 in PMHA play . . . Lakefield juves blanked Oakwood 13-0 last night . . . Must have been a rousing old struggle in the TVL last evening when Norwood yanked out a 4-2 win o'er Lakefield . . . Games Monday: Warkworth at Hastings, Tweed at Lakefield, Madoc at Frankford and Norwood at Marmora . . . Lakefield, Marmora and Campbellford have all entered in the OHA for intermediate "B" byes . . . Hastings has an OHA junior "C" affiliation . . . Some of the Lakefield puckists feel they rated a dinner, too, after the game there Thursday night . . . CGE shop hockeyists have been in action a week now . . . We're fresh out of PMHA schedule . . . Harriers have an open meeting of club members and anyone else interested at 7.30 p.m. Monday in the "Y" . . . Let us bow out here.

Trojans Victors Over St. Peter's

Thursday night at Civic Arena the Legion Trojans defeated St. Peters Juvenile's 8-0. It was a better game than the score indicated, and was played on fast ice. The Trojans took an early lead in the first frame 3-0. In the second period the Trojans were really clicking as they chalked up four more, to end the period 7-0. In the last period St. Peter's played good hockey, as they held their rivals to one goal.

For the winners B. Robinson shone with three goals, followed by Bus Jenson with two and G. Jones, Garry Robinson, Ab Buckton getting one. Roy Armstrong and Don Bigford played air tight defence, as R. Batley and R. Fowler played well in goal.

For the losers Joe Hickson stood out, as Bacon and Alberico played well.

NOT SO BAD—This looks like attempted murder on skates, but isn't. Left, Norman Dussault of Canadiens has dropped his stick in a flurry around the Ranger nets in their recent game in Montreal. Right, Dunc Fisher (12) of Rangers, looks like he is going to chop off Dussault's head. He didn't.

CITY CARPETBALL

The Fighting Parsons made a bid for a firmer grip on the top rung of the ladder when they met the Bell Ringers this week and sure played a sweet tune on the clarion, beating the Ringers two straight, 23-6, 14-8.

King Billie and his Orange Squeezers went to work on the Glengarrys, getting all the juice they could, running the Glens dry for point by chalking up a double score 10-0 and 13-0, but games being lost in the last frames, one with a five end.

The Orange Squeezers were not so lucky with the Bonnerworth gang who used that fleecy stuff to advantage, pulling the wool over King Billie for three out of four, taking the first 13-9 and just giving a tie in the second 12-12.

In the local derby at the Legion the Thistles and Bouncers split points 14-9 and 6-18.

We understand that the Treasurers entertained Garside's Spark Plugs and got all the cash they could but no card has been received from same.

The game between LOL No. 4 and Woollens No. 8 must be played during the coming week or points defaulted.

Scheduled: LOL No. 4 vs Woollens No. 8; Woollens No. 8 vs Glens No. 7; LOL No. 4 vs LOL No. 3; BESL No. 8 vs Treasurers No. 1; Glens No. 7 vs BESL No. 5; BESL No. 9 vs Woollens No. 8; Glens No. 7 vs SOE No. 2; BESL No. 6 vs LOL No. 3; BESL No. 5 vs LOL No. 4.

Standings:

Team	W	L	D	Pts	Avg
2	14	6	0	28	59
5	10	7	1	21	56
4	8	7	1	17	51
6	8	9	1	17	48
1	8	8	0	16	45
7	8	8	0	16	45
3	6	7	3	15	45
9	5	11	0	10	41
8	3	9	2	8	46

The draw was made last evening for the President's Cup games as follows: SOE No. 2 vs Treasurer No. 1 for the elimination game the winners to play BESL No. 9 in the first round proper. Balance of first round: LOL No. 4 vs OL No. 3; BESL No. 6 vs BESL No. 5; Woollens No. 8 vs Glens No. 7. All above games to be played on neutral ground at arrangements of the skips concerned and to be played as soon as possible before Feb. 12, referees only if desired.

The draw was also made for the Bill Gracie doubles with the elimination round as follows: G. Palmer and J. Cridland vs W. Morley and W. McMahon; O. Varty and J. Wilson vs J. Douglas and H. Doleman; S. Cummings and A. Sims vs G. Self and W. Gracie; R. Hocking and A. Malby vs H. Lowes and E. Stadman; G. Fulford and W. Wilson vs D. Bartley and T. Nice; H. Lundy and H. Harrison vs A. Robinson and R. Ralston.

All doubles to be played at Legion Hall, teams to arrange time and day, should be played before Feb. 19.

REMATCHED—Brock Arena, Manager Jim Laidlaw announced today that he has signed both Earl McCready and Fred Atkins, the Australian Champion, shown above, to a rematch here Wednesday night. The Atkins-McCready battle this week was just about the hardest wrestling match ever seen here but the decision on the last fall to Atkins left McCready raging. Fans rated the match as the best of wrestling and hard body-battering combined.

Six Goals In Three Minutes Gives Kroehlers Edge On Irish

By The Canadian Press

Little dark-haired Tommy Shea must have figured he had his first shutout of the season last night and then—six goals in three minutes and 38 seconds passed him.

The agile Toronto St. Michael's College netminder frustrated the Stratford Kroehlers for 50 minutes of play and then the lid blew off. Not only did he lose his shutout but he lost the game.

The Kroehlers spotted the Majors five goals in the 2½ periods of play and then came back to win their Junior A Hockey Association game 6-5.

Bibber O'Hearn led Stratford scorers with three goals. Pierre Cadieux, Dinny Flanagan and Joe Beda got the others. Bud Marshall got two for Toronto while Roy Corcoran, Tim Horton and Con Bonhomme got one apiece.

In other Junior A games last night, St. Catharines Teepees bested Toronto Mariboros 3-1 and Galt Rockets fought to a 4-4 overtime draw against Barrie Flyers.

Dutchmen Edge Tigers

In the Senior A loop, Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen defeated Hamilton Tigers 9-2 and Toronto Mariboros battled to a 4-4 overtime tie with Owen Sound Mercurys.

The Flyers came within one point of overtaking the leading Windsor Spitfires as they forged into a 2-0 lead in the first period, came out of the second on the long end of a 4-3 count and then fell back in the third period.

Gord Pennell, Sid McNabney, Don Ashbee and Paul Meger scored for the Flyers. Pete Tkachuk, Ab Kilby, Ernie Keefe and Bronco Horvath accounted for Galt goals.

The Teepees snapped the Dukes four-game winning streak as they strengthened their hold on third place. Tom Buck sent St. Catharines ahead early in the first period and Bud Evans made it 2-0 minutes later. George Armstrong put the Dukes in the running when he scored with three minutes left in the first period.

Miss Good Chances

A second-period goal by Evans put the Teepees up 3-1. Both teams missed good chances in the third period.

The Dutchmen drove into a first-place tie with the Mariboros as they grabbed a 3-1 lead in the first period, increased it to 6-2 in the second and scored three unanswered markers in the last period when Tigers were shorthanded.

Mike Dzuika paced the winners with three egoals. Billy Curick got two and Mickey Roth, Billy Dinning, Don Bauer and Ted Grasser got one apiece. Murray Comfort and Clare Shillington scored for Hamilton.

The Dukes staged a terrific comeback as they tallied three goals in the third period to gain their deadlock against the Indians. The tie gave Toronto 44 points.

Owen Sound went up 2-0 in the first period when Freddie Smith and Doug Gillespie scored. Then they went went u pto 4-0 in the second on goals by Harry Kasarian and Shaguck, Blair, Johnny McCormack and Scotty Mair counted for Toronto.

Hawks And Leafs Can't Afford To Lose Game

By BERT ALLEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

This is a big week-end for the three bottom clubs in the National Hockey League. Chicago, Toronto and New York, running neck-and-neck in the battle for fourth place, can't afford to lose too many games.

Toronto, who have blown hot-and-cold all season, face the toughest task.

The Maple Leafs, only two points ahead of the cellar-dwelling New York Rangers, clash twice with the league-leading Detroit Red Wings in a home-and-home series. On past performances, the Leafs will be doing well if they can earn a split, and a clean sweep would surprise even their most rabid rooters.

In other week-end contests, the Chicago Black Hawks entertain New York Sunday night, while Boston and Montreal Canadiens play a double date, opening in Montreal Saturday night and resuming in Boston Sunday.

The Ranger-Black Hawk clash is all-important for both clubs. The Hawks are only a point ahead of Toronto, and have played one more game than the Leafs and Rangers.

The Canadien-Boston series may also affect the standing. A pair of victories would shoot the Habitants into second place ahead of the Bruins.

To Shuffle Lines

Word from the Ranger camp is that Coach Lynn Patrick intends to shuffle his lines in an effort to find added fire power for his low-scoring Blueshirts.

The New York mentor said he will put Buddy O'Connor at centre between Don Raleigh and Penti Lund for his No. 1 attacking unit. The other lines will have big Nick Mickoski pivoting Jack Gordon and Dunc Fisher, while Edgar Laprade will centre a trio with Alex Kaleta and Tony Leswick on the flanks.

Two of Toronto's cripples will return to action against Detroit. Winger Vic Lynn, out for three weeks with a dislocated shoulder, will be on the firing line along with Captain Ted Kennedy, who missed the last game because of a back injury.

The Wings also got good news when it was announced that Gordie Howe, who had a knee operation six weeks ago, will dress for the Sunday game.

It is estimated that approximately 10 per cent of the hay crop of the United States is destroyed by fire every year.

Here and There in Sport

Quebec City Friday put final touches to plans for a rousing week-end welcome to more than 400 curlers who will go into action monday in the province's 36th International Bonspiel.

Eastern Canada's popular, week-long event has drawn 100 rinks representing six provinces from the Maritimes to far-away Birch Hills in Saskatchewan As usual, the Maritimes figure strongly with a 32-rink total.

The 'Spiel' international flavor is maintained with entries from five states of the Union south of the border. Heading this delegation is a foursome to be skipped by Darwin Curtis of Chicago internationally-known expert and writer on curling.

Edwin Lambert, stocky Indian game guardian from The Pas, Man., muskrat marshes, yesterday captured the 140-mile Canadian championship dog race at the Northern Manitoba Trapers' Festival.

University of Western Ontario Mustangs rallied in the final half last night to easily down McGill University Redmen 51-35 in the opening basketball game of the senior intercollegiate season at Moontreal.

Frank J. Shaughnessy, president of the International Basketball League, yesterday advised minor league clubs to demand a 10-year contract before permitting their baseball games to be televised.

"Baseball," he told the second annual conference of minor league executives in Columbus, O., "is being used to help sell television sets."

"Unless you protect yourself with long-term contracts or options you may find yourself off the programs when sufficient sets are sold."

McGill University defeated University of Toronto 6-2 in Toronto last night in a wide-open Intercollegiate hockey game in which 23 penalties were handed out, 15 to McGill and eight to Varsity. The win left the Montrealers two points behind the Toronto team.

Heavyweight champion Joe Louis said in Miami, Fla., yesterday as far as he is concerned there are only two candidates to meet him in a title match this June — Ezzard Charles and Lee Savold.

Louis in Miami for the first of six Florida exhibition matches, said he would fight the winner of a Savold-Charles match, but if there is no such match, he'll then go to Canada on an exhibition tour.

Denmark defeated England, 9-0 in Copenhagen, last night in the European zone finals of the Thomas Cup Badminton Tournament. The Danes will leave for London next month for the world finals.

Baseball's Bonus Law Begins To Hurt This Year

By JACK HAND.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP). — Baseball's bonus law begins to hurt this year when nine major league clubs approach the spring training with 16 "prospects" costing about $400,000 who cannot be farmed out.

Ready or not, these players must be kept in the big show. In each case the athlete received more than the legal maximum—$6,000 in the majors—for signing as a free agent.

Philadelphia Phils have the most—five — so Manager Eddie Sawyer has the biggest headache. He already has one-fifth of his roster of 25 all selected for him. There is not much he can do about it.

Most of the 16 bonus men appeared in the majors last season for at least a short stretch. The Phils had two regular pitchers, Curt Simmons and Robin Roberts, in that class. Charley Bicknell, used largely on relief in 1948, also is a Phil bonus man.

Jack Mayo, a .273 hitter at Utica last year, joined the Phils in late season for 12 games. Now he can't be sent out for seasoning. Neither can Stan Holimig, who hit .303 for Wilmington after receiving a big bonus.

Johnny Antonelli, sensational Rochester, NY., schoolboy who cost Boston Braves between $55,000 and $75,000 is slated to take a regular pitching turn for Manager Billy Southworth. He is the only Brave in the bonus category.

Boston Red Sox, desperate for pitching last year, have two bonus pitchers. One, Chuck Stobbs, was with the club all last season, and pitched but seven innings. Frank Quinn, the Yale flash who is reported to have received as much as $75,000, comes up after spending part of a season with Birmingham, Ala.

NHL Stars, Civic And Village Officials Commend Lakefield On Memorial Arena

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 22 (ENS) — Guests at the Lions Club dinner meeting Thursday evening were Turk Broda and Jimmy Thomson of the Toronto Maple Leafs Hockey, Reeve W. C. Grant of Lakefield, Alderman Pat Anglesey representing Mayor Max Swanston of Peterborough, Art Duncan of Batavia, president of the Trent Valley Hockey League and Garnet Samis, chief constable of Lakefield. President Ken Morris was chairman.

Turk Broda thanked the Lions of Lakefield for giving him the opportunity of helping them and the citizens of Lakefield by sending him an invitation for the evening.

Jimmy Thomson expressed his appreciation of having been invited to the official opening of the Memorial Rink and congratulated the villagers and the Club for having successfully carried on the project. This arena should go far in stamping out juvenile delinquency and assist the young people of Lakefield in growing to healthy citizens; healthy in body and in mind, he said.

Pat Anglesey congratulated the citizens of Lakefield for building such a fine memorial.

Art Duncan, president of the Trent Valley Hockey League, commented on the fine arena.

Chief Garnet Samis, one of the spark plugs of the Memorial drive thanked all for their co-operation in helping to bring about the realization of what seemed an impossible dream a year ago. He also predicted that this was only the start and that with the committee he was planning a sports park to provide year-round facilities for the sports activities of the younger generation.

Harry Stabler mentioned how successful the village hockey teams have been this year in their various leagues.

Frank Coyle of the rink committee executive expressed appreciation to everyone for their assistance.

Try To Re-write Pact On Wheat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (CP).—An attempt will be made here next week to rewrite the ill-fated international wheat agreement of 1948.

Sixty-one countries have been invited to send representatives for a series of negotiations starting Tuesday. The length of the conference will depend on the progress of the talks.

Canada, Australia and the United States, the exporting group which would have provided 500,000,000 bushels under the five-year plan drawn up last March, will be represented. So will most of the 33 would-be importing countries.

The new wheat conference grew out of the United Nations food and agriculture organization annual meeting here in November. President Truman addressed the final plenary session, urged Argentina and Russia to join the group and expressed confidence that a new pact would win United States Congressional approval.

Argentina has agreed to attend.

Prices are expected to be a big stumbling-block. With the world wheat picture brightened by abundant 1948 harvests, importing countries are believed certain to press for lower prices. A maximum of $1.80 a bushel and minimums ranging from $1.30 to 30 cents are expected to be the importers' bid.

The exporter trio, with Argentina perhaps joining forces, presumably will argue that increased production costs are one of the reasons for keeping the former price levels.

WMS Allocation Up

MARMORA, Jan. 22—(ENS)—The January meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. F. S. Sweet. Mrs. H. C. Barlow presided over a good attendance.

Mrs. E. C. Prentice had charge of the worship service, assisted by Mrs. T. Hannah and Mrs. E. Poste.

The allocation for 1949 was stated to be higher than last year by $25. Mrs. F. S. Sweet took the study period, "Doctors Old and New" from "West of the Gorges." Mrs. G. D. Young and Mrs. J. Sproul had parts in the dialogue. Rev. George D. Young later installed the officers for the year and offered the closing prayer.

Say Switch-over Costs Firms $400,000,000

By DAVID J. WILKIE.

DETROIT, Jan. 24. (AP)—The automotive industry in the United States made the heaviest investment in its history to change over to 1949 model production.

The switch-over is all but complete and the bill comes to more than $400,000,000. A sizeable part of it comes out of the industry's post-war profits to date; some of it must come from profits expected this year.

Included in the figures is the approximately $100,000,000 Ford spent last Spring and Summer to change the design and engineering of its several models. Also included are large investments by Chrysler, all the General Motors divisions, Nash and Studebaker.

Chrysler has disclosed its change-over cost in excess of $90,000,000. Chevrolet's new model planning and tooling are understood to have cost more than $50,000,000.

Engine Plant Expensive

What the other G.M. divisions spent has not been disclosed, but the new engine plant built by Oldsmobile alone cost about $10,000,000. There must also be added the millions spent by Cadillac, Buick, Pontiac, Nash, Studebaker, Hudson and Kaiser-Frazer.

All these car makers either have new models out or are about ready to put them in assembly line production.

Still to come is a new Packard line. It probably will be announced around mid-year and be described as the company's golden anniversary model line. Packard has built about 1,100,000 cars since 1899.

In the rush to get back into volume production after the war most car makers delayed new model change-overs. One result has been that the cost involved soared to record heights; another is that there probably will be few major design changes for another couple of years or more.

KEENE, Jan. 22—(ENS)—A one-ton pickup truck is to be purchased by Otonabee it was decided at the inaugural meeting of the council.

The truck will be used for road work. Councillors Stewart and McConkey proposed the purchase.

It was announced that employees of the township were to be given an increase in salary.

Mrs. Rennie, Mrs. Beare and Mrs. Walton representing a ladies club were present asking for better control of garbage disposal.

A bylaw appointing officers for the year was given its several readings and passed.

Another bylaw to borrow money was also passed.

Three bylaws to close road allowances were given first readings. Third reading has been delayed until council gets further information, as there has been some objection to the passing of one of them.

The Council and telephone commission met with Mr. T. J. Carley to further discuss the defence of the law suit brought by the Bell Telephone Company of Canada amounting to $1,260.

Local Farmers Want Assistant For F. Paterson

A group of local agriculturists, headed by G. A. Brethen of Norwood, on Thursday waited on the County Council to urge that an assistant be obtained for Frank Paterson, Ontario agriculture representative.

Mr. Brethen said the deputation was not finding fault with Mr. Paterson, but it felt that there was too much work for one man to do. He recalled that last summer an assistant proved of inestimable value.

"There isn't enough encouragement for young men to keep them on the farms," he stated. "They come to Peterborough where they work shorter hours and receve higher wages."

The solution, according to Mr. Brethen, was to stimulate interest in the rural communities by an extensive agricultural program.

"What is the district representative's program for Peterborough County?" he asked.

Several years ago he said a special committee of county councillors and other interested persons had been set up to interview Hon. T. [illegible] Kennedy, provincial minister of agriculture, to obtain an assistant. He stated he was unaware of anything achieved by this committee and charged that it had lain "dormant."

Rork Ferguson, reeve of Norwood, then moved that a special committee composed of James Humphries, reeve of Asphodel, Ross Barrons, reeve of Belmont-Methuen, Richard Stewart, deputy-reeve of Otonabee, Norman McConkey, Isaac Anderson and Mr. Brethen be set up to interview a member of the Department of Agriculture to have an assistant agricultural representative appointed.

Peter Mather, former reeve of Otonabee, also supported the idea of an assistant to Mr. Paterson, and stated that he believed there was no county in Ontario more important agriculturally.

Two other members of the deputation supported this contention. They were John Kitney, secretary of Federation of Agriculture, and Norman McConkey, Otonabee councillor.

Mr. Paterson, who sat in with the deputation at their invitation, said he agreed with most of what had been said. "We're trying to hire 15 OAC graduates this year, if the money is OK, and if they are the kind of men we want."

Melville Johnston, reeve of North Monaghan, said a committee went to Toronto three or four years ago on a similar mission and was assured of assistance as soon as possible. He claimed that agricultural work was well ahead in Peterborough County; for example, this county had the first demonstration farm in Ontario.

Before he sat down Mr. Brethen made two other recommendations. He complimented the deputation that had spoken in the morning on the Grasslands Day, and he advocated a Government bounty on foxes, effective in all the counties of Southern Ontario.

"Grass and hay are the primary crops for this part of the country," he stated.

And he claimed that the bounty of $3 paid on every fox, in the long run, would save $30-$40 for the people in the surrounding district. A united effort against foxes with the same bounty paid in each county of the Southern Ontario region would eliminate bootlegging, he contended.
